

Weak B 1431

Chapter 1431

Jiang Boya shook his head. "Not really. I just heard the kids say kindergarten is boring, that the other kids there are all so childish, so I thought I'd find some time to talk to you."

Kang Li: "And now? Dad, do you still have anything to say to me?"

"You're right, your dad has no objections." Jiang Boya smiled. "Bun and the others have learned a ton with their private tutors. Right now, they've already mastered three foreign languages. Also, Bun likes to listen to topics related to biology, Tangyuan is very interested in finance, investment, and IT, and as for Guoguo, I have a feeling she might go into medical research in the future."

"Dad! Aren't you exaggerating a bit?!"

Kang Li shook her head, helplessness in her eyes. "I can believe Bun and the other two have already mastered three foreign languages, but they're just Little Beans right now. How can you already be so sure about what paths they'll take in the future?"

"Would your dad lie to you? The private tutors your grandfather and I hired for the kids aren't just one or two, and they're definitely not mediocre people."

"I know, I know, all the people you hired are well-known and accomplished scholars in their fields, and you even formed an education team to teach Bun and the others. But kids are kids. Can we maybe not go overboard?"

"You're going to be the death of me! The learning ability and creativity of geniuses aren't something ordinary people can imagine. You yourself are very smart—don't you know that?"

Seeing Jiang Boya looking a bit sulky like a child, Kang Li cleared her throat and instantly put on a serious face. She said, "Fine, it's my fault. Whatever Dad says is right!"

"Perfunctory."

Jiang Boya snorted in a tsundere way.

"No, absolutely not." Kang Li waved her hand. "Dad, if you don't believe me, look into my eyes." Seeing Jiang Boya's gaze come over, Kang Li pointed at her eyes. "See? They're filled to the brim with sincerity!"

Jiang Boya was slightly stunned, then reacted, and her clowning made him burst out laughing.

"That's more like it. My dad looks the best when he's smiling, like a flower-boy. I can't even look away for a second." Kang Li said this while propping her chin in both hands, her bright eyes blinking, full of intoxicated admiration.

Hearing this, Jiang Boya glared. "You little brat, even your own dad you dare tease, you really don't know your place!" But inside he was overjoyed. Sure enough, as soon as he finished speaking, he couldn't help laughing again.

Kang Li, however, changed faces like Sichuan opera, straightening her expression. "As long as Dad is happy."

He was still laughing when, upon hearing Kang Li's words, the smile on Jiang Boya's face stalled for a second, then the laughter in his throat grew louder. "I've never seen a quirky girl like you!"

"Dad, you're wrong. I'm almost thirty already; I'm no little girl anymore."

To keep her bargain-dad happy, Kang Li still pretended to be solemn.

After laughing his fill, Jiang Boya cleared his throat and said, "How are you not a little girl? In your dad's eyes, my daughter will always be a little girl."

Although that woman Fang Sumei was really nothing to brag about, he had to admit one thing: she gave him a wonderful daughter, the best daughter in the world!

Smart, considerate, and understanding. Ever since he reunited with his daughter, he hadn't had a single bad day. She often made him laugh out loud.

It felt so carefree, as if all worries had disappeared.

Kang Li: "As long as Dad is happy."

"You girl..."

Jiang Boya was out of words. He was afraid that no matter what he said, his precious daughter would just reply, "As long as Dad is happy."

Unexpectedly, just as he decided not to say anything, Kang Li casually brought something up: "Dad, Ruirui and Hanhan and Vivi's biological mother's surname is Feng. She's Lady Fang's stepdaughter."

"..."

What a coincidence?

For a moment, Jiang Boya was stunned.

"I never told you, and I myself only found out after I came back to the country... Ruirui and his siblings' biological mother faked her death more than ten years ago, changed her name and identity, and ran off to live in another city..."

Just as Kang Li was about to go on, Jiang Boya suddenly cut her off. "Wait a second!" His brows were almost knotted together. "Faked her death? Luo Yanqing knows about this, right?"

"Yeah."

Kang Li nodded.

Jiang Boya: "He didn't tell you at first, did he?"

"He told me later."

Hearing this, Jiang Boya's expression cooled. "So that means, in all those years when that woman had already reappeared in public, Luo Yanqing never told you his ex-wife had faked her death." His tone was flat, stating a fact.

"Don't be mad. This is Luo Yanqing's private business. He had his reasons for not telling me. I'm only bringing her up with you now because I happened to think of her connection with Lady Fang and couldn't help mentioning it."

Chapter 1432 Father's Protection (Part 4)

Kang Li explained, wanting to prevent Jiang Boya from venting anger on Luo Yanqing.

Unexpectedly, Jiang Boya coldly snorted and said, "Just keep protecting that kid!"

Kang Li chuckled awkwardly, "It's not about protecting, it's... I feel bad for my family member, Professor Luo, after all, the other party, before childbirth, threatened Luo Yanqing with her own life and the lives of her two unborn children to agree to her fake death and departure. Lives are at stake, especially three lives, so Luo Yanqing had no choice but to agree to her unreasonable request."

Jiang Boya: "Did that woman cause you trouble?"

Kang Li: "No." Feng Lu really hadn't directly caused Kang Li trouble, at least not until now.

"Why fake death?"

Pregnant and facing childbirth, but orchestrating a fake death, abandoning husband and child—would any sane woman do this? Jiang Boya couldn't understand.

"Another pursuit, perhaps."

Kang Li is unaware that the woman tangling with Xiao Shen and nearly ruining him is indeed Feng Lu.

"Absurd!"

Jiang Boya sneered, "If she had another pursuit, why get married?"

"Dad, you have to think, if Luo Yanqing hadn't separated from that woman, would you have had such a good son-in-law?" Kang Li said with a smile.

"Are all the good men in the world dead? Him, a divorced man with three kids, if Dad were there back then, he would absolutely not agree to you marrying him!"

Jiang Boya didn't spare Luo Yanqing any pride, he stared at Kang Li for a while, then asked, "Luo Yanqing's ex-wife showed up, does that mean you and his marriage might be considered bigamy?"

"No. When Ruirui's biological mother faked her death years ago, her family had already gone to the police to cancel her household registration, legally, she's long been dead."

"Then her reappearance after years, is she regretting and wanting to ruin your family?"

"She has already remarried."

"Alright, I know about this now. If she dares to bother you, tell Dad immediately, and about your biological mother, if she doesn't bother you that's fine, but if upon learning you're the child she abandoned, she wants to reconnect, you should also tell Dad. In short, no matter what happens, don't be afraid, with Dad around, nobody can bully you."

He protects his daughter; if anyone dares to insult his precious child, they shouldn't be surprised by Jiang Boya's ferocity!

...

In the blink of an eye, it's school season, including Min Rui, Ming Han, and Ming Wei, all insisted on staying at their original school. In other words, the three siblings didn't want to transfer, finding the current teachers and classmates quite good. Most importantly, they were accustomed to the teaching style at this school, hence, they didn't want to switch to Shuimu University's affiliated school.

Regarding this, Kang Li adhered to Min Rui's trio's wishes, as previously stated to Luo Yanqing.

But after just over a week since school started, there were rumors in Ming Wei's and Ming Han's classes, and even throughout their grade, saying Ming Han was a bastard child, Ming Wei was a bastard daughter, and the siblings Jiang Boya slightly stunned, then reacted, her playful manner making them laugh aloud.

"That's more like it, my dad looks the best when he laughs, like a handsome flower boy, makes me unable to take my eyes off." Kang Li said, propping her chin with both hands, her bright and beautiful eyes all fluttering, filled with admiration inside.

Jiang Boya heard and squinted, "Naughty girl, even teasing your own father, you have no sense of decorum!" But deep down, he felt immeasurable joy, without a doubt, as he spoke, Jiang Boya burst into laughter.

Kang Li turned strict, like a Sichuan opera face-changing act, saying seriously: "As long as Dad is happy."

While laughing, Jiang Boya listened to Kang Li's words, his smile froze slightly, then his laughter grew louder from his throat: "I've never seen a girl as quirky as you!"

"Dad, you said wrong, I'm nearly thirty now, certainly not a young girl anymore."

To amuse her dear father, Kang Li still pretended to be serious.

Jiang Boya laughed enough, cleared his throat, saying: "How aren't you a young girl? In Dad's eyes, my daughter will always be a little girl."

Although Fang Sumei that woman really wasn't great, he had to admit, she gave him such a wonderful daughter, the best daughter in the world!

Intelligent, caring, understanding; since recognizing his daughter, he's never been unhappy, frequently amused into laughter by his daughter.

Feeling completely at ease, as if devoid of all troubles.

Kang Li: "As long as Dad is happy."

"This girl of yours..."

Jiang Boya had nothing more to say, fearing anything he said, his precious daughter would just respond, "As long as Dad is happy."

Unexpectedly, as he decided to stay silent, Kang Li mentioned casually: "Dad, the biological mother of Ruirui and the siblings Hanhan, Vivi is surnamed Feng, Fang Madame's stepdaughter."

"..."

Such coincidence?

Jiang Boya was momentarily stunned.

"I never told you, but I only learned after returning home... the biological mother of Ruirui and her siblings orchestrated a fake death over ten years ago, changed her name, and moved to another city..."

Kang Li intended to continue, but Jiang Boya suddenly interrupted: "Wait a minute!" His eyebrows nearly tied in a knot: "Fake death? This is something Luo Yanqing knows, right?"

"Mm."

Kang Li nodded.

Their biological mother not only didn't die but also cheated and had the two children...

"Another pursuit, perhaps."

Kang Li is unaware that the woman tangling with Xiao Shen and nearly ruining him is indeed Feng Lu.

"Absurd!"

Jiang Boya sneered, "If she had another pursuit, why get married?"

"Dad, you have to think, if Luo Yanqing hadn't separated from that woman, would you have had such a good son-in-law?" Kang Li said with a smile.

"Are all the good men in the world dead? Him, a divorced man with three kids, if Dad were there back then, he would absolutely not agree to you marrying him!"

Jiang Boya didn't spare Luo Yanqing any pride, he stared at Kang Li for a while, then asked, "Luo Yanqing's ex-wife showed up, does that mean you and his marriage might be considered bigamy?"

"No. When Ruirui's biological mother faked her death years ago, her family had already gone to the police to cancel her household registration, legally, she's long been dead."

"Then her reappearance after years, is she regretting and wanting to ruin your family?"

"She has already remarried."

"Alright, I know about this now. If she dares to bother you, tell Dad immediately, and about your biological mother, if she doesn't bother you that's fine, but if upon learning you're the child she abandoned, she wants to reconnect, you should also tell Dad. In short, no matter what happens, don't be afraid, with Dad around, nobody can bully you."

He protects his daughter; if anyone dares to insult his precious child, they shouldn't be surprised by Jiang Boya's ferocity!

...

"Alright, I know about this now. If she dares to bother you, tell Dad immediately, and about your biological mother, if she doesn't bother you that's fine, but if upon learning you're the child she abandoned, she wants to reconnect, you should also tell Dad. In short, no matter what happens, don't be afraid, with Dad around, nobody can bully you."

He protects his daughter; if anyone dares to insult his precious child, they shouldn't be surprised by Jiang Boya's ferocity!

...

Chapter 1433

"Uncle... Uncle Luo, I didn't mean to talk about Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei like that. It was Meng Qi who told me, and then I... I mentioned it to my classmates."

"Uncle Luo, Meng Qi told me as well."

"I'm sorry, Uncle. I... I didn't intend to defame Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei. It was Li Kexin from class three who told me. She said it sounded so convincing that I believed it. I'm sorry!"

...

A few girls flinched under Luo Yanqing's cold, indifferent gaze and involuntarily apologized to him.

Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei's father is so handsome that it can be described as unparalleled. Their mother must be blind to have children with another man.

Look at that skin, so fair, and those eyes, dark and dazzling, staring at them like cold stars, freezing them in place.

His nose is high and straight, lips beautifully shaped, facial contours sharp like they were carved with a knife, distinct yet not excessively hard, making him extremely good-looking.

Upon closer look, Luo Minghan and Luo Minghan's features somewhat resemble their father. Besides, even if they don't resemble him, what's the matter?

There's no rule that children must look like their parents, is there?

The girls apologizing to Luo Yanqing were full of remorse, feeling they shouldn't have listened to others' words, nor should they have spread rumors, hurting Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei.

There was even a hint of humiliating this Uncle Luo in front of them.

They are young, but at fourteen, they should understand quite a bit, like how some bright remarks they heard were undoubtedly suggesting that Luo Minghan's biological mother was cuckolding Uncle Luo.

But just by seeing him right now, isn't that utterly impossible?

A white shirt and black trousers, tall and upright, just standing there not moving was pleasing to the eye, as if he walked out of a painting. If he were dressed in the style of men from the Wei and Jin dynasties, they would be seeing a serene, ethereal celestial being untouched by the mundane world.

"Hello, Uncle Luo, I heard it from Li Kexin in class three, and then in our class, I heard Han Qian say that Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei were likely the illegitimate children of their father. So... So during recess, I carelessly mentioned it to other classmates."

This was a voice from a girl named Meng Qi, full of shame and helplessness. As she spoke, she bowed deeply to Luo Yanqing: "I know I was wrong, Uncle Luo. I will apologize to classmates Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei."

Emerging from the group of girls, she stood before Ming Han and Ming Wei and directly bowed to apologize: "Luo Minghan, Luo Mingwei, I'm sorry, I shouldn't have believed the rumors, much less spread them. It's wrong of me to hurt you, and I promise I won't make this mistake again."

Ming Han ignored her.

Ming Wei coldly looked at Meng Qi: "I accept your apology, but that doesn't mean I can forgive you."

"Thank you! Whether you forgive me or not is your choice, and it was my fault to begin with. It's only right if you don't forgive me." Meng Qi said, returning to her original spot, she lowered her head and instinctively stepped away from Han Qian nearby.

Now, only Han Qian remained among the girls, biting her lip and staying silent.

At this point, the sounds of those boys who had been beaten by Ming Han started to echo. They were also apologizing to Luo Yanqing.

"Uncle, it's my foul mouth, I shouldn't have disliked Luo Minghan and then believed the rumors, and spread rumors with other classmates. I'm sorry, I know I'm wrong."

"Me too, I shouldn't have listened and spread rumors, hurting Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei over a little grudge with Luo Minghan. I'm sorry, Uncle Luo, I will apologize to classmates Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei."

"Uncle, I'm sorry!"

"I'm sorry! I was wrong, I apologize..."

...

Several boys bowed to apologize to Luo Yanqing one after another, then one by one apologized to Ming Han and Ming Wei. Those girls who hadn't apologized to Ming Han and Ming Wei also hurriedly said sorry.

It appeared everyone had realized their mistakes.

During this period, all the summoned parents had arrived.

To be noted, Mother Han came from the Han family.

It wasn't that Mother Han wanted to come, but Teacher Yang called the Han family villa, and Auntie Li answered, saying she was the only nanny at home and would pass on the message to Feng Lu, the hostess.

As a result, Feng Lu heard from Auntie Li about what happened to Han Qian at school and was so angry that she immediately called Han Bin, asking him to go to school and clean up Han Qian's mess, saying she was too busy with work to leave.

Chapter 1434

Han Bin was discussing a cooperation deal when he learned that Han Qian had made guesses to attack Ming Han and Ming Wei about their background, even implicating him as their father in the rumors. Like Feng Lu, he was very angry, but since he couldn't leave, he called Mother Han and asked her to go to the school to handle the situation caused by Han Qian.

Understanding the trouble Han Qian caused, Mother Han grew increasingly unhappy with her granddaughter. Arriving at the school, she saw around thirteen or fourteen male and female classmates apologizing one by one to Luo Yanqing, Ming Han, and Ming Wei. Han Qian, however, stood still, silent, her mood increasingly gloomy.

"Rumors spread with one mouth, debunking them requires running tirelessly. You're all in the eighth grade now; don't you understand this principle?"

Teacher Yang glanced at her students solemnly, "Just because of some petty disagreements and your own little thoughts, you spread rumors to harm your classmates, affecting their parents negatively as well. Is this what the school teaches you?"

Scolded by the class teacher, the students standing together all bowed their heads, hardly daring to breathe.

"Comrade Luo, I sincerely apologize, it's because of my child's carelessness, causing harm to you and your children. I'm truly sorry, rest assured, I will properly educate my kid later!"

After Teacher Yang finished speaking, a parent of a male student sincerely apologized to Luo Yanqing. Subsequently, all the parents called in, including Mother Han, apologized to Luo Yanqing.

However, Luo Yanqing did not respond to them. He looked at Teacher Yang, "I want to go through each class of the eighth grade so that those students who spread rumors about my children know that my children are not illegitimate. They are my kids, and if anyone continues to spread rumors, I will resort to legal measures to protect the reputation of my children and myself. Is that feasible?"

"This..."

Teacher Yang was a bit embarrassed, understanding Luo Yanqing's feelings but needing to seek approval for his request. So she said, "I need to consult the school leadership, Comrade Luo, please wait a moment."

Luo Yanqing nodded: "Of course." Watching Teacher Yang walk away, Luo Yanqing looked towards the female students standing together: "Which one is Student Han Qian?"

Unexpectedly, Han Qian didn't respond or step forward.

The other female students consciously stepped away from Han Qian, clearly exposing her.

Quietly observing Han Qian, Luo Yanqing said, "Your stepmother is indeed Ming Han and Ming Wei's biological mother, but they are also my children. You don't need to worry about them intruding into your family or competing for anything. Do you understand what I'm saying now?"

Han Qian still didn't speak, looking down at the ground as if she hadn't heard Luo Yanqing at all.

"There's such a thing as one and two chances, but not three or four. Spreading rumors about Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei is the second instance. Considering your age, I won't hold you accountable this time as I did before, but if there's a next time, I won't hesitate to show you a father's wrath!"

As he continued, Luo Yanqing's clear voice inevitably intensified.

Han Qian felt threatened, suddenly lifting her head to glare at Luo Yanqing: "I didn't create the rumors! Saying that Luo Minghan resembles my dad, that was something I mentioned in kindergarten, saying that he's my dad's..."

"Bang!" A crisp sound interrupted Han Qian's words.

It was Mother Han who slapped Han Qian, her expression cold, reproving: "Both spreading rumors and starting them are legally accountable. Qianqian, you've greatly disappointed grandma! Your aunt may be your dad's later wife, but she's very good to you. Why do you insist on hurting your aunt's children and even fabricate rumors at school?"

"I didn't! The rumors circulating today weren't made by me; I heard them from other classmates before..." saying that Luo Minghan was my dad's illegitimate child. Yet, before Han Qian could articulate this, Mother Han slapped her again.

Mother Han seemed to sense what Han Qian might say next, worried Han Qian would tarnish Han Bin's reputation.

"Grandma, you hit me? Why did you hit me?"

Han Qian cried incessantly. She was fourteen, but hit twice consecutively in front of so many classmates and their parents. Could this person really be her grandma?

Chapter 1435

"I'm not hitting you, does that mean I should let you continue spouting nonsense here?" Mother Han coldly reprimanded, "If it's not a rumor you made up, then who did?"

"Wuuu..."

Han Qian covered her face and squatted on the ground crying, feeling that she couldn't face anyone anymore.

"Comrade Luo, and Han Qian's grandmother, I have something to say to the both of you."

Teacher Yang, along with the junior middle school guidance director and grade director, walked over from a distance. It was Teacher Yang who spoke, and he called Luo Yanqing and Mother Han to stand under a big tree a little way from the other parents, and said to Mother Han:

"Our school has already investigated, and it was determined that the first one to spread the rumor in our school's eighth-grade was Li Kexin from class three, and Li Kexin heard it from a student named Wang Xiaojun in Eighteenth Middle School's eighth grade (5) class..."

In a steady pace, Teacher Yang explained the school's findings to Mother Han in detail.

Luo Yanqing, who was by the side, naturally heard everything clearly.

At this moment, not only was Mother Han astonished, but even Luo Yanqing, a researcher who usually wasn't concerned with mundane affairs, couldn't help but be surprised by the scheming of a little girl about ten years old.

It turned out that the source of the rumor was indeed Han Qian. Compared to last time, Han Qian had become smarter this time. Half a month before school started, she suddenly went to play with her elementary school classmate Wang Xiaojun. Within just half a month, she visited Wang Xiaojun four times, each time bringing delicious snacks, taking Wang Xiaojun shopping, and spending money to buy her various little gadgets. In short, it looked like she was treating Wang Xiaojun as a close friend.

During this time, they couldn't help but talk about their elementary school classmates and various things at their current schools as they idly chatted. Han Qian, seemingly casually, mentioned her troubles, saying her dad found her a stepmother, that her stepmother had been involved with her dad before, that she had given birth to a pair of twins, who were their elementary school classmates.

In front of Wang Xiaoju, Han Qian almost revealed everything about Ming Han and Ming Wei.

Upon hearing such a big gossip, Wang Xiaoju was very surprised. Being a big mouth and having a good relationship with Li Kexin, who lived in the same residential compound, she unhesitatingly told Li Kexin what she heard from Han Qian.

Similarly, Li Kexin couldn't keep it to herself; despite her efforts from last weekend to this Friday, she couldn't hold back and told her classmates about Ming Han and Ming Wei.

After all, Ming Han and Ming Wei were well-known in the entire junior middle school; they were good at studies, good-looking, and had good relationships with others.

With their gossip out, during breaks, classmates naturally gathered to eavesdrop.

Then it spread from one to two, and from two to three... In just a couple of class breaks, almost all the eighth-grade students knew about Ming Han and Ming Wei's matter.

It is necessary to emphasize that Li Kexin, Wang Xiaoju, and Meng Qi were all elementary school classmates of both Han Qian and Ming Han and Ming Wei, and they were in the same class.

However, Wang Xiaoju wasn't very good at studies, so she barely got into the ordinary middle school of Eighteenth Middle School.

When she told Li Kexin about the gossip concerning Ming Han and Ming Wei's background last weekend, to avoid being labeled a big mouth by Han Qian and losing her as a friend willing to spend money on her, she deliberately didn't mention Han Qian's name.

She said she casually heard it from the mouth of an elementary school classmate of theirs.

Therefore, when Li Kexin was called to the office by her class teacher for questioning, she naturally only mentioned she heard it from elementary school classmate Wang Xiaoju without implicating Han Qian.

After confirming that Li Kexin wasn't lying, the junior middle school guidance director contacted the guidance director of Eighteenth Middle School and through the director, probed Wang Xiaoju for the source of the rumor.

Frightened when the guidance director approached her, Wang Xiaoju spilled everything out like pouring beans from a bamboo tube.

Thus, the source was found out, revealing today's big incident was orchestrated by Han Qian.

After listening to Teacher Yang, Mother Han's expression was extremely complex.

"You are the grandmother of Han Qian, right?"

"Yes."

"Due to Han Qian repeatedly violating school rules and especially causing such a big incident today, the school suggests that Han Qian transfer. If you or Han Qian's parents have objections, our school will directly expel Han Qian. We hope you understand."

"Is there no room for negotiation?"

"Please understand, the nature of this incident is too egregious, causing serious impact on both Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei. If Han Qian continues at our school, there's no guarantee she won't cause more serious trouble. Furthermore, we must give an explanation to both Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei, and also to Comrade Luo."

Chapter 1436

"I understand."

Mother Han nodded.

Actually, even if Teacher Yang hadn't mentioned the school's decision, Mother Han was already considering discussing with her son Han Bin about transferring Han Qian to another school, to prevent Han Qian from continuing to act irrationally with Ming Han and Ming Wei at the same school.

To be honest, Mother Han was definitely surprised when she first saw Ming Han.

So similar! The teenage boy looked at least seventy to eighty percent like her son Han Bin when he was younger. Letting Han Qian stay at this school and continue studying, with what she knows of Han Qian's temperament, there's a big chance she'll go crazy.

Additionally, Mother Han felt a bit regretful, thinking that if Ming Han and Ming Wei were Han Bin's legitimate children, she as their grandmother would surely cherish both kids.

Not just their good looks, but most importantly, they seemed intelligent and obedient, unlike Han Qian, who was spoiled to the point of being somewhat annoying.

However, the Han Family doesn't need illegitimate children, so the birth of those two children determined they could not return to the Han Family and wouldn't be accepted by the Han Family.

And the father who raised the two children for over ten years clearly stated the children were his, so be it!

"Comrade Luo, the school leaders have agreed to your request, let's start with our first class." Hearing Teacher Yang's words, Luo Yanqing nodded slightly and followed Teacher Yang towards the eighth-grade class 1 classroom.

About eight to nine minutes later, Luo Yanqing walked out of the eighth-grade class 5 classroom.

The guidance counselor and grade coordinator, upon learning that Luo Yanqing was a researcher, were undoubtedly impressed and repeatedly apologized to Luo Yanqing, saying the school was at fault for failing to educate the students properly, which resulted in repeated troubles for students Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei at school, thereby affecting Luo Yanqing's normal work and holding back Luo Yanqing's work and even the country's development.

In fact, when the guidance counselor inadvertently heard about Luo Yanqing's workplace, he casually mentioned that he worked at a research institute.

He didn't mention the specific name of the institute or what exactly he did there.

But the guidance counselor, grade coordinator, and Teacher Yang were all educated people, and based on Luo Yanqing's demeanor and remarks, combined with his words about working at a research institute, they speculated on the nature of Luo Yanqing's work on their own.

They felt very guilty, thinking that researchers contribute greatly to the country and their work is extremely busy every day, but because the school failed in educating the students, it forced a researcher to come to the school time and again to solve problems with the students, wasn't this impeding the country's development?

However, Luo Yanqing knew that today's matter, and the previous one, although related to the school's education of students, the primary responsibility lay with Han Qian.

If Han Qian didn't cause trouble, other students naturally wouldn't gossip about Ming Wei or Ming Han, wouldn't spread rumors to hurt Ming Wei and Ming Han.

Alright, those so-called rumors weren't actually rumors, but with Luo Yanqing identifying Ming Han and Ming Wei as his children, then this was a rumor that wasn't really a rumor, with Luo Yanqing's involvement, it was only perceived as a rumor!

But would Han Qian stop here?

Most likely not.

Especially after getting slapped twice by Mother Han, Han Qian probably deepened her dissatisfaction, perhaps even resentment towards Ming Han and Ming Wei.

"You all stay busy, I'm just taking Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei away."

After a big incident, when Luo Yanqing walked out of the eighth-grade class 5 classroom, he granted Ming Han and Ming Wei a day off, facing Teacher Yang.

Teacher Yang had no objections and approved it directly.

Being slandered by fellow students, especially about their background, is undoubtedly a great blow to children around ten years old, although the situation had calmed down, the children would inevitably carry emotional scars, and they needed parental understanding and guidance.

Ensuring the children's psychological health so that it didn't affect their future studies.

As Luo Yanqing took Ming Han and Ming Wei away, the end of class bell rang.

"Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei from class 1's dad looks so young! And he's handsome, has great demeanor, just at a glance you can tell he's a knowledgeable person. With such a great dad, why aren't their mom always with their dad?"

"Adult matters are very complicated, not something we kids can understand. Besides, isn't Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei's current mom great? She was the Teacher Lizi we saw on TV when we were younger, and most importantly, Teacher Lizi was a famous athlete in our country, who won five gold medals in overseas competitions last year alone, five, not just one!"

Actually, even if Teacher Yang hadn't mentioned the school's decision, Mother Han was already considering discussing with her son Han Bin about transferring Han Qian to another school, to prevent Han Qian from continuing to act irrationally with Ming Han and Ming Wei at the same school.

To be honest, Mother Han was definitely surprised when she first saw Ming Han.

So similar! The teenage boy looked at least seventy to eighty percent like her son Han Bin when he was younger. Letting Han Qian stay at this school and continue studying, with what she knows of Han Qian's temperament, there's a big chance she'll go crazy.

Additionally, Mother Han felt a bit regretful, thinking that if Ming Han and Ming Wei were Han Bin's legitimate children, she as their grandmother would surely cherish both kids.

Not just their good looks, but most importantly, they seemed intelligent and obedient, unlike Han Qian, who was spoiled to the point of being somewhat annoying.

However, the Han Family doesn't need illegitimate children, so the birth of those two children determined they could not return to the Han Family and wouldn't be accepted by the Han Family.

And the father who raised the two children for over ten years clearly stated the children were his, so be it!

"Comrade Luo, the school leaders have agreed to your request, let's start with our first class." Hearing Teacher Yang's words, Luo Yanqing nodded slightly and followed Teacher Yang towards the eighth-grade class 1 classroom.

About eight to nine minutes later, Luo Yanqing walked out of the eighth-grade class 5 classroom.

The guidance counselor and grade coordinator, upon learning that Luo Yanqing was a researcher, were undoubtedly impressed and repeatedly apologized to Luo Yanqing, saying the school was at fault for failing to educate the students properly, which resulted in repeated troubles for students Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei at school, thereby affecting Luo Yanqing's normal work and holding back Luo Yanqing's work and even the country's development.

Being slandered by fellow students, especially about their background, is undoubtedly a great blow to children around ten years old, although the situation had calmed down, the children would inevitably carry emotional scars, and they needed parental understanding and guidance.

Ensuring the children's psychological health so that it didn't affect their future studies.

As Luo Yanqing took Ming Han and Ming Wei away, the end of class bell rang.

"Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei from class 1's dad looks so young! And he's handsome, has great demeanor, just at a glance you can tell he's a knowledgeable person. With such a great dad, why aren't their mom always with their dad?"

Chapter 1437

Luo Yanqing heard this, he was first taken aback, then shook his head: "No." Holding the steering wheel, eyes looking forward, Luo Yanqing casually asked, "Did you guys do anything wrong?"

"I don't know." Ming Wei pursed her lips slightly, her voice a bit shaky: "Dad, this is the second time I've hit a classmate since the last time, although there was a reason, both times I was the one who acted first."

Ming Han then said: "I don't think I did anything wrong."

"Mm." Luo Yanqing responded to Ming Han's words, then spoke about what Ming Wei had said: "Luo Mingwei, I asked if you did anything wrong, you said you didn't know, which means in your heart, you've already determined you did something wrong, right?"

Ming Wei was silent for a while, then said softly: "Mom said that when things happen, we shouldn't act impulsively, shouldn't hit others proactively."

"Then what are you struggling with?"

Luo Yanqing slightly furrowed his brow.

"I... I hit them because they were speaking too harshly, I couldn't hold it in." Saying this, Ming Wei felt her heart noticeably lighter. After hearing her words, Luo Yanqing controlled the steering wheel with his left hand, lightly tapped the wheel with the index finger of his right hand, and said: "In that case, what did you do wrong?"

"Dad..." Ming Wei's eyes lit up, she looked at Luo Yanqing with wide eyes: "Are you saying that hitting them wasn't wrong, right?"

Luo Yanqing didn't answer directly, he said lightly: "If it were me, I would have done the same." To be called a child born out of wedlock from an affair, if one could still endure that, in his opinion, it would be too pathetic.

Especially for a boy, not beating the other party up would certainly lack spirit!

However, Luo Minghan did well.

"But... but if mom knows about this today, she might get angry..."

Knowing that Luo Yanqing wasn't angry, of course Ming Wei felt happy, but thinking about her mother's attitude towards her actions today, Ming Wei felt a bit lost, she said: "I don't want mom to be unhappy."

"Do you understand your mom?"

Before Ming Wei could respond, Luo Yanqing continued: "Your mom has always been protective, and she discerns right from wrong. She told you not to hit others casually outside, but there are circumstances. If someone is already on your neck and you still endure the humiliation, in your mom's eyes, that would be a foolish move."

"Dad! When we see mom later, should we tell the truth?" Having gone through this today, Ming Han seemed to grow up in an instant, he no longer used repetitive names when addressing Luo Yanqing and Kang Li, and he appeared much more steady.

Luo Yanqing: "Look at each other, do you think you can hide it from your mom?" One with bright nail marks on the side of their face, another with a bruised corner of the mouth, one eye a panda-like black and blue, their clothes all wrinkled; anyone with a glance could tell there was a fight.

And with their little girl's eyesight and insight, the two in the backseat didn't have to say anything, she'd have guessed seven or eight out of ten of what happened.

In fact, it was just as Luo Yanqing thought at this moment.

As soon as the car drove into the yard, seeing Ming Han and Ming Wei get out of the car, Kang Li immediately frowned: "Fought with classmates again, was it that classmate named Han Qian being mouthy, so you couldn't hold back, and the brother and sister fought together with her?"

Ming Han and Ming Wei walked into the living room with heads lowered, standing side by side without speaking.

"Impressive, the two of you fought one and still got marked, did you become someone's defeated soldiers?" In fact, Kang Li said this deliberately, she was well aware of Ming Han and Ming Wei's abilities, or, to be precise, she knew her kids weren't ones to suffer losses, but seeing the two of them with marks now, she couldn't help expressing her anger.

"Mom! Luo Mingwei and I weren't two against one, I... I fought eight alone, Luo Mingwei fought six, I didn't lose, Luo Mingwei didn't lose either!"

Head raised, Ming Han met Kang Li's gaze, and huffed out a sentence.

"Should I applaud you then?"

Kang Li said, clapping her hands, "Pa, pa, pa," she said with a half-smile: "Amazing my child, you really made your mother proud, great job!"

Ming Wei detected that Kang Li's tone was off, she raised her eyes to look at her mother: "Mom, my second brother and I didn't want to fight classmates, but they really couldn't keep their mouths shut, if we endured and didn't act, we'd be cowards!"

Saying this, Ming Wei's eyes and nose started to turn sour, and unable to hold it back, big tears began falling.

Chapter 1438

Seeing this, Kang Li grew anxious and hurriedly asked, "Are you feeling wronged just because I said a couple of words?" Ming Wei shook her head, "No, I'm not feeling wronged because of what Mom said, I..." Unable to continue, the tears welled up in Ming Wei's eyes like a flood that couldn't be stopped.

Ming Han's eyes also started to redden, but stubbornly refused to let the tears fall. Kang Li's expression suddenly changed, and she looked coldly at Luo Yanqing and asked, "Professor Luo, what on earth happened with the two kids at school?" It was clear that he had returned from the institute but wasn't home; apparently, he had been called to the school by the teacher.

But couldn't this person explain things as soon as he walked in the door?

Luo Yanqing felt utterly wronged; it wasn't that he wouldn't speak, it was that his wife didn't give him a chance to speak! As soon as she saw the kids, she went off in a stream of complaints, and now she was glaring at him, as if it were snowing in June!

"Mom... this afternoon almost all the students in the second year were spreading rumors that Ming Wei and I are illegitimate children, saying we were born from an affair and that we're not Dad's kids... Han Qian even said I looked like her father's illegitimate child..."

As the words left his mouth, the grievance buried deep in Ming Han's heart surged up all at once, and he could no longer hold back his tears, letting them flow freely.

"They're talking nonsense!"

Kang Li was visibly agitated, "Your dad is such a good man, do you think your mom would betray him like that? Besides, there are lots of people in the world who look alike; does that mean they're all related?"

Ming Han: "I didn't believe those rumors, but they were really pushing it too far, so I couldn't help but hit them!"

"Good job! They asked for it with their loose tongues, so they deserved it!" Kang Li's expression softened somewhat, "Since you gave them a good beating, and we're not wrong, don't feel wronged. Otherwise, your mom will think you're being fussy."

"But I feel upset inside."

Ming Han still felt very wronged.

Kang Li walked over, embraced the teenager, ruffled his hair, and gently patted his back, "Alright, our Han Han won't feel wronged anymore. We'll treat those classmates' words like the wind passing by. Besides, with your dad going to the school, Mom believes he'll surely resolve this matter. Go wash your face; dinner's ready soon."

Releasing the teenager, Kang Li pulled Ming Wei into her arms, wiped away her daughter's tears, and comforted her, "In Mom's opinion, there's a ninety-percent chance that Han Qian spread that rumor,

Her goal is nothing but to ruin your and your brother's reputation, and the reason she's doing this is definitely because she was annoyed by your mom and felt the need to vent her frustration on you siblings. People like her, with a twisted mind, are bound to fall hard one day."

After a brief pause, Kang Li shifted her gaze to Luo Yanqing, "Has the school's decision been made?"

Luo Yanqing nodded, "Yes."

Kang Li: "Do the children know?"

"I didn't say anything on the way back."

Hearing this from Luo Yanqing, Kang Li couldn't help but give him a sideways glance, "Can you tell the kids now?"

"The school suggested that the girl named Han Qian transfer, and if her family disagrees, the school will directly expel her."

Luo Yanqing's clear voice spilled over his lips, "The students who spread the rumors about Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei in their classes have already apologized to them, and the parents of these students also apologized in front of me,

The school leaders apologized for what happened today, and accompanied me to every class in the second year. I personally confirmed in front of those students that Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei's surname is Luo, shattering the rumors, so that they wouldn't resurface someday."

Speaking of which, Luo Yanqing originally intended to take this opportunity to reveal Ming Han and Ming Wei's background to Kang Li today, of course, when Ming Han and Ming Wei weren't home. Who knew, Ming Han spoke up first, and his tone was filled with grievance, and he was sobbing uncontrollably. Adding to that, Kang Li's reaction after Ming Han spoke, made Luo Yanqing's recently made decision somewhat waver.

After listening to what Luo Yanqing said, Kang Li pondered for a while and then said, "In my opinion, why not directly transfer Han Han and Wei Wei to the affiliated junior high here."

Although the man's actions at the kids' school can make the rumors disappear, people usually love gossip. Who can guarantee that one day some classmate won't bring up the old stories again with a loose tongue?

Besides, is that so-called rumor really just a rumor?

If there was no basis, would the girl from the Han Family have been able to say those things?

Chapter 1439

—Ming Han looks like her dad's illegitimate child.

If she remembers correctly, the twins got into a fight with a girl from the Han Family in kindergarten because the girl said Ming Wei and Ming Han didn't look like twins, but she and Ming Han did.

To be fair, the girl from the Han Family does slightly resemble their Ming Han around the eyebrows, and Ming Wei's features don't really show much resemblance to her twin brother Ming Han.

But Ming Wei looks a lot like her biological mother.

As thoughts swirled, Kang Li abruptly stopped herself, thinking the more she dwelled on it, the more ridiculous it became; if she continued, someone would truly become a victim of a miscarriage of justice.

And if such an embarrassment and dignity-shattering matter turned out to be true, how would he react?

"You should also wash your face."

Sending Ming Han and Ming Wei away, Kang Li secretly observed Luo Yanqing, but after a while, she didn't notice anything unusual.

"What's up?"

Detecting her gaze, Luo Yanqing looked puzzled.

Caught, Kang Li feigned calmness and shook her head, "Nothing, I'll go to the kitchen to serve the food."

Luo Yanqing got up from the sofa and followed behind Kang Li, "Do you have something to say to me?"

"No."

Such a matter didn't lend itself to asking; if the twins' paternity was indeed questionable, and the man was aware, it would be his private matter, and it would be reasonable for him not to wish to discuss it with her, after all, it would be too embarrassing.

As a wife, she respects him!

Conversely, she doesn't need to say anything either, to prevent unnecessary troubles and avoid hurting Ming Han and Ming Wei.

Though initially she was their stepmother, raising the two children, over the years, including Min Rui, all three siblings have been treated as her own children, not stepchildren.

Given this, no matter their backgrounds, the children she has raised can only be hers!

Kang Li believes Luo Yanqing probably thinks the same.

Even if the twins' origins are uncertain, children raised for over a decade couldn't possibly have their familial ties erased just because they're not biologically related.

"Mom, I don't want to change schools."

Sitting down on the dining chair, Ming Wei picked up the chopsticks and said, "If my brother and I transfer, our classmates might think we're embarrassed." Yes, she knows that she and her brother aren't their father's biological children, but her father has said they will always bear the Luo surname, always be his kids; yet being called an illegitimate child by classmates does make her a bit uneasy, so considering this, not transferring seems better.

Ming Han: "Mom, I don't want to transfer either."

"..." Kang Li quietly watched the siblings, and after a moment, she asked, "Are you sure?"

"Mm."

Ming Han and Ming Wei nodded simultaneously, each expressing seriousness.

"Professor Luo, what do you think?"

Kang Li's gaze turned to Luo Yanqing.

"Let them decide."

Luo Yanqing's expression was indifferent: "Regarding any rumor, as long as you don't give it a thought, it can't touch you, do you understand?"

"Mm."

Ming Wei nodded.

Ming Han also nodded: "Dad, you're right, as long as I don't care, no amount of rumors will matter."

"Good to know." Luo Yanqing nodded, then turned his gaze to Kang Li: "If one's self-confidence isn't strong enough, no matter where one changes schools to, if others intend to spread rumors, they will find a way to do so, just like this time, Han Qian certainly put in quite a bit of effort."

Ming Wei: "Dad, tell us in detail."

Luo Yanqing saw Kang Li and Ming Han both looking at him, and couldn't help but recount what Teacher Yang had told him. After listening, Kang Li's expression was complex: "She really did put in quite a bit of effort, what was the point? Hanhan and Vivi bear the Luo surname, and didn't want to fight with the Han Family for anything, let alone repeatedly target our children?!"

"She's got issues!" Ming Wei looked displeased: "My brother and I have no connection with that Lady Feng at all. Why would we want to cling to someone else's family? She certainly has a lot on her mind, worrying we'll fight for her father's things—truly judging others by her own standards!"

"Wang Xiaoju is a big mouth."

This was Ming Han's voice.

"Li Kexin and Miss Wang were the same, notorious for gossiping in the class during elementary school; even a needle-sized issue could be turned into a widely spread rumor by them."

Ming Wei snorted: "Meng Qi too, always loves to parrot others."

"Alright then, enjoy your meal. Since your dad got you a day off from your homeroom teacher, spend the afternoon relaxing at home, and go to school in the morning."

Kang Li picked up the serving chopsticks and put a couple of chicken pieces in Ming Han and Ming Wei's bowls, then added some dishes and chicken pieces to Luo Yanqing's bowl. Seeing this, Luo Yanqing said: "They're grown up and not without hands, you eat, don't worry about them."

Chapter 1440

Not waiting for the sound to fall, Luo Yanqing took the public chopsticks from Kang Li's hand and helped his little girl by picking out vegetables and meat.

"Professor Luo, I have long arms!"

Kang Li's eyes were teasing, trying hard to hold back her laughter.

"I want to pick for you, eat." Luo Yanqing's cold and handsome face didn't show any strange expression as he picked up the chopsticks in front of him, eating the vegetables Kang Li put into his bowl.

Ming Wei and Ming Han exchanged a glance, Ming Wei stuck out her tongue and buried her head in eating rice quickly.

Kang Li looked at her son and daughter, then at Luo Yanqing, feeling amused and helpless. No matter their age, he is still so jealous of his own kids.

After the meal, Ming Han and Ming Wei cleaned up the tableware and went to the kitchen to wash them. When the siblings returned to the living room, Ming Wei said, "Mom, Han and I are going to pick up the younger siblings from school this afternoon."

Kang Li replied, "Mom will go with you."

"What about dad? Is he going to pick up the younger siblings?" Ming Wei looked at Luo Yanqing and saw him nodding, she couldn't help but say, "Then Han, mom, and I will wait at home for dad to finish his class and come back."

Luo Yanqing responded with an "Hmm."

"You go to the bedroom and rest for a while, I'll apply some medicine for Hanhan and Vivi." Kang Li picked up the iodine and anti-swelling ointment on the coffee table, glanced at Luo Yanqing, and called Ming Han and Ming Wei to sit beside her.

"Mom, this is not a big deal, no need to apply ointment."

Apart from the bluish corner of his mouth, Ming Han didn't have other injuries, he shook his head and didn't intend to treat his little wounds.

After a slight pause, Kang Li shifted her gaze to Luo Yanqing: "Has the school's decision been made?"

Luo Yanqing nodded: "Yes."

Kang Li: "Do the kids know?"

"I didn't talk on the way."

Upon hearing this from Luo Yanqing, Kang Li couldn't help but glare at the man: "Now can you tell the two kids?"

"The school suggested that the girl named Han Qian should transfer. If the other family disagrees, the school will directly expel her."

Luo Yanqing's cold voice flowed from his lips: "The classmates who spread rumors in Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei's class have all apologized to them. The parents of these classmates also apologized to me face-to-face."

The school leadership feels sorry for today's events, accompanied me to visit each class of the second year. In front of those students, I personally proved that Luo Minghan and Luo Mingwei have the surname Luo, shattering the rumors, lest they rise again one day."

Initially, Luo Yanqing wanted to use today's events to reveal the true status of Ming Han and Ming Wei to Kang Li, of course, with Ming Han and Ming Wei out of the house. However, Ming Han spoke up before him with a voice full of grievance, crying miserably, and combined with Kang Li's reaction after Ming Han's words, making Luo Yanqing's newly made decision somewhat wavering.

After listening to Luo Yanqing, Kang Li pondered for a while and said, "Why not transfer Hanhan and Vivi directly to the affiliated high school here."

Though the actions of the man at the children's school might have already defused the rumors, people often love gossiping, who can guarantee classmates won't one day raise the old topics again?

Besides, is that so-called rumor truly a rumor?

If there was no basis, could the girl from Han Family say such a thing?

——Ming Han looks like her father's illegitimate child.

If she remembers correctly, the twins had fought with the girl from Han Family when they were in kindergarten, the reason being the girl said Ming Wei and Ming Han didn't look like twins, she looked more like twins with Ming Han.

It's worth mentioning that the girl from Han Family indeed had some resemblance to her family's Ming Han in terms of the brows and eyes, while it was hard to find any similarity between Ming Wei and her brother Ming Han.

But Ming Wei did look a lot like her biological mother.

The thoughts revolving, Kang Li suddenly halted, feeling that the more she thought, the more absurd it became. She felt that thinking further, someone might truly become a big fool.

And if such a thing, which hurts a man's face and dignity, were true, what would he do?

"You go wash your face too."

Sending Ming Han and Ming Wei away, Kang Li secretly observed Luo Yanqing, not detecting any anomaly for quite a while.

"What's wrong?"

Noticing her gaze, Luo Yanqing's eyes showed doubt.

Caught off guard, Kang Li pretended to be calm, shaking her head: "Nothing, I'm going to the kitchen to serve the dishes."

Luo Yanqing stood up from the sofa and followed Kang Li: "Do you have something to say to me?"

"No."

Such a matter she couldn't ask, if the background of the twins truly had issues and the man was aware, it would equate to the other party's private matter. If he didn't want to share with her, it would be reasonable, as it was too damaging to his pride.

As a wife, she respects him!

On the contrary, she shouldn't say anything either, to avoid creating trouble and hurting Ming Han and Ming Wei.

Initially, she was raising the two kids as a stepmother, but over the years, including Min Rui, the three siblings had long been treated as her own children rather than any stepchildren.

Ming Han and Ming Wei nodded simultaneously, their expressions serious to an extreme.

"Professor Luo, what do you think?"

Kang Li shifted her gaze to Luo Yanqing.

"Let's listen to them."

Luo Yanqing's expression stayed indifferent: "Regarding any rumors, as long as you don't let it bother you, it won't affect you, do you understand?"

"Hmm."

Ming Wei nodded.

Ming Han also nodded: "Dad, you're right. As long as I don't care, any rumor is not a big deal."

"That's good to know." Luo Yanqing nodded, then turned his gaze to Kang Li: "If one's mentality isn't strong enough, it doesn't matter to which school you transfer. If the opponent wants to spread rumors, they will find a way, just like this time, that Han Qian put significant thought into it."

Ming Wei: "Dad, can you tell us more."

Luo Yanqing saw Kang Li and Ming Han both looking at him, so he narrated what Teacher Yang told him again, after hearing, Kang Li's expression became complicated: "She really put in a lot of thought, why bother?" Is it because Hanhan and Vivi have the surname Luo, never thought of competing with Han Family for anything, and yet targeting our kids repeatedly?!"

"She has a problem in her head!" Ming Wei face was full of displeasure: "My brother and I aren't close to that Lady Feng at all, why should we live under others' roof? She has so many ideas, fear us competing for her father's belongings, truly judging a noble person's intention with a vile heart!"

"Wang Xiaojun is a big mouth."

This was Ming Han's voice.

"Li Kexin and Miss Wang are the same. When they were in elementary school, they were known as big mouths in the class, anything small as a needle tip could be spread by them to everyone."

Ming Wei snorted coldly: "Meng Qi too, loves to follow the crowd."

"Alright, let's eat. Since your father got you a day's leave from the homeroom teacher, you can rest at home this afternoon and go back to school tomorrow morning."

Picking up the public chopsticks, Kang Li helped Ming Han and Ming Wei with two chicken pieces each in their bowls, then picked some vegetables and chicken pieces for Luo Yanqing's bowl. Seeing this, Luo Yanqing said: "They are old enough, it's not like they don't have long arms, you eat yours, don't worry about them."

Not waiting for the sound to fall, Luo Yanqing took the public chopsticks from Kang Li's hand and helped his little girl by picking out vegetables and meat.

"Professor Luo, I have long arms!"

Kang Li's eyes were teasing, trying hard to hold back her laughter.

"I want to pick for you, eat." Luo Yanqing's cold and handsome face didn't show any strange expression as he picked up the chopsticks in front of him, eating the vegetables Kang Li put into his bowl.