Chapter 85 Milk Bun Ming Han Doesn't Want to Go Hungry

“Stinky Hanhan, I didn’t say she is definitely pretending, I just said she might be pretending to be a good mother, hmph!” Cute Baby Weiwei, seeing her second brother didn’t cooperate with her, was so annoyed that she didn’t even want to deal with this Stinky Hanhan anymore!

“Vivi, do you really want to make the new mom sad?”

Milk Bun Ming Han was really worried; why does his sister choose to believe what those people outside are saying?

Stepmothers are wicked, no stepmother is good, stepmothers pretend to be nice but are actually not nice to children at all...

Thinking about some things he and his siblings had heard about stepmothers in the courtyard before their new mom arrived made Ming Han’s mind a mess.

He didn’t really believe those things, but his sister did, and his older brother didn’t care what she was planning; what should he do?

Cute Baby Vivi threatened fiercely, “Stinky Hanhan, do you want to go hungry like before?”

Milk Bun Ming Han instinctively shook his head, “No! I don’t want to go hungry!”

“If you don’t want to go hungry, then you’d better listen to me and do as I say!”

Thinking she had found her second brother’s weak spot, Cute Baby Vivi’s delicate brows and eyes showed a trace of smugness.

“Okay... I promise you!”

Being hungry is so uncomfortable; he wanted to eat his fill and grow taller so he would have the strength to protect his brother and sister.

Yes, and protect the new mom too!

Thinking this, Ming Han soon became conflicted again and called out in his mind, “Da Minghan! Da Minghan, are you there?”

“I am here.”

Da Minghan responded.

“Do you think I’m a bad kid?”

Milk Bun Ming Han felt a bit sad; he thought he shouldn't deliberately be mischievous or disobey the new mom, making her unhappy.

Da Minghan: "No. Vivi really doesn't have bad intentions; just listen to her. If your new mom really likes you and truly loves you, she won't mind if you are a bit naughty, but..."

Milk Bun Ming Han: "But what?"

Da Minghan: "But I can't guarantee that your new mom won't spank you." In his memory, his sister Vivi indeed had quite a few mischievous ideas, and the plan she was about to enact, in his view, was actually harmless.

Furthermore, he knew that Vivi's behavior was actually a manifestation of feeling unloved, just as he and his brother also felt unloved.

So they were afraid, afraid that what they now had was just an illusion, hence, it was not strange for Vivi to want to test the new mom.

The following morning.

Kang Li, with the help of her sister-in-law He Hui, prepared breakfast. After the meal, He Hui helped Kang Li clean up the kitchen, and then Kang Guosheng and his wife mentioned it was time to leave.

“Second brother and sister-in-law, I know you’re busy with work and can’t stay long in North City; hence, I won’t keep you any longer.” In the living room, Kang Li looked at Kang Guosheng and his wife, her eyes betraying her reluctance, but her words were considerate: “Have a safe trip, and remember to call me when you get home to let me know you’ve arrived safely. Here, this is my home phone number; second brother, please take it.”

Kang Guosheng: “Okay, I’ll call you as soon as we get off the train.” Taking the piece of paper with Kang Li’s home phone number on it, Kang Guosheng picked up his travel bag and walked towards the front door, He Hui following closely behind.

Kang Li: “Second brother, second sister-in-law, slow down, the kids and I will see you out.”

Kang Guosheng and his wife paused, turned back, and Kang Guosheng said, “No need.”

“It’s not far; we’ll just walk you to the courtyard gate. We can’t send you farther anyway, given all these kids I’m looking after,” Kang Li said with a smile, motioning for the three little ones to follow.

Seeing this, Kang Guosheng and his wife, albeit somewhat reluctantly, ended up carrying the twins, while Kang Li took Ming Rui Baby’s hand and walked toward the gate...
