Chapter 99 Kang Li: The Variables in Luo Yanqing's Life

"Xiao Su is pregnant?"

Mrs. Qi murmured softly, "How come I haven't heard of this."

Kang Li: "Perhaps the pregnancy is still in the early stages, and she is waiting for the pregnancy to stabilize before spreading the good news."

Mrs. Qi: "Let's go back to the living room and sit."

Kang Li naturally had no objections.

The two returned to the living room and sat down again. Mrs. Qi said, "The family living to the right of your house is Comrade Wen Siyuan's, his wife is called Su Man, and she is about your age."

Kang Li: "Are Comrade Wen and Comrade Su also on their second marriage?" It was a rhetorical question, but Kang Li certainly couldn't disclose to Mrs. Qi the secret that she came from another world, or that this world was built from the pages of a historical novel.

Mrs. Qi nodded, "Comrade Wen Siyuan is divorced, and the children were left by his ex-wife. Xiao Su, after marrying Comrade Wen Siyuan, is said to treat the three children very well."

"I have seen her outside the compound a couple of times, and she seems to be a gentle and compassionate woman." Such a white lotus, using tricks on even a child, is really despicable!

"Yes, just from her demeanor alone, it isn't hard to see that Xiao Su is a good-tempered woman, always approaching conversations with a smile." Although Mrs. Qi said this, she had, from this day forward, begun to question Su Man's character.

Kang Li listened quietly, without responding.

"Xiao Kang..."

"Hmm?"

Their eyes met.

"Becoming Luo Yanqing's partner, I... I know this is somewhat unfair to you."

Mrs. Qi didn't specify what the unfairness was, but both Kang Li and she herself knew. It was nothing other than Luo Yanqing being on his second marriage, with three children, while Kang Li was a perfectly beautiful young lady who had just turned eighteen.

“But please trust Auntie Qi, Little Luo is a good kid. Of course, I won’t hide from you that Little Luo, concerning matters outside his work... is a bit indifferent, or in other words, he is quite detached in matters of the heart. But in my view, this isn’t absolute, do you understand what I mean?”

Kang Li was slightly taken aback, but before she could say anything, Mrs. Qi took her hand, and continued, “Xiao Kang, you are a smart girl. Once you meet Little Luo, Auntie Qi believes that through your interactions, Little Luo might change for you. I mentioned these things today because I hope that you two can live happily together, and have a good life.”

Mrs. Qi gently patted Kang Li’s hand and showed her a kindly smile.

“Auntie Qi, you forgot to mention our three Little Babies. But rest assured, I will live a good life with Luo Yanqing, and together we will care for and raise our three Little Babies.”

This was Kang Li’s way of making a promise to Mrs. Qi. Well, truth be told, what she said was also what she wished for. After all, agreeing to become Luo Yanqing’s partner, although it was the original owner of the body who had agreed before her death, if she were unwilling, she could have called off the engagement the day she woke up, even though they were already registered and had their marriage certificate,

But she didn’t do that, which was proof enough that she wasn’t averse to the engagement accepted by the original owner before her death. And in fact, she was quite happy to fulfill this unexpected marriage.

Therefore, she would take care of this marriage with all her heart.

Of course, marriage isn't a one-person affair. For the happiness and fulfillment of this family, she wouldn't let a certain man stay out of it, treating their home merely as a responsibility, thinking providing financial support was sufficient.

A smile curled the corners of Kang Li's lips: Luo Yanqing, emotionally detached, huh? Indifferent to everything but work, well, meeting her would be the variable in his life!

"You're right, we must not forget Ruirui and the other two little ones."
