

Widow 14

Chapter 14

"You are not my brother. You only care about Dora, your sister."

Crystal tried to get rid of the man's hand.

For some reason, Antony felt furious. "I'm not your brother? Why, do you think that you've married someone and now you are capable enough you don't need to recognize your own brother?"

He knew that being a widow right after marrying into the White family wasn't a good thing, but he was intrigued by Crystal's rude words.

"Do you want to draw a clear line with the Evans family?"

Dora felt that the situation wasn't right. Antony's temper was a little bad, but he always knew the limits. He wouldn't lose himself easily. She pulled him away. "Antony, don't be so mad." Antony snorted, coldly staring at Crystal. "Eva said that you are pitiful, but I can't see that." For some reason, Dora felt very uneasy when she saw Antony getting mad at Crystal. If he didn't care about Crystal, why would he be angry when she didn't want to call him her brother? Obviously, he cared about her a lot.
