

Widow 145

Chapter 145

Mr. Beardsley shivered all over.

He felt that he was really unlucky today. He wanted to take the opportunity to build a relationship with Mr. Bowles, but now even Mrs. Bowles had to kneel on the ground and beg for Crystal's forgiveness...

"Mr. Beardsley." The principal said seriously, "You have been shielding Leland before, and today you slandered Bernard. I don't think your behavior is worthy of being a teacher. I will fire you."

Mr. Beardsley panicked and said, "Principal... I know I'm wrong..."

If he was fired, it would be difficult for him to find a proper job in the future. After all, this matter would definitely become a stain in his life. No parents were willing to accept a teacher who slandered students to teach their children.

"You don't have to say anything more." The principal said, "I have made up my mind." "..."

Crystal said, "Mr. Beardsley."

When Mr. Beardsley heard her words, his eyes lit up. Just as he was about to ask her for help, he heard Crystal say, "You've gone too far when you talked to Bernard earlier on. Please apologize to him."

For many children, the teacher was a very sacred existence. They respected the teacher more than their parents. What Mr. Beardsley said before was undoubtedly a blow to the child.

Mr. Beardsley froze.

teacher, to apologize to slightly and said in Beardsley trembled. He was so frightened by Harold that he almost burst into tears. Trembling, he said, "Bernard... I'm sorry. It was my fault. I shouldn't have and said, "Mr. Beardsley, I hope you don't lowered his head. "Because they will

a moment of Beardsley said with difficulty, "...

slender wrist and said, "We

a gesture of saying goodbye to

The principal was speechless.

Thank you for your forgiveness. Otherwise, I could not be suppressed. Some were this before. The people who used to looked at her as if they were looking at a had lost her value. Wasn't she just a pile of