

Widow 196

Chapter 196

The next day, Crystal was woken up by the roar of Devil.

The tiger's voice was very penetrating. It was unknown if the other residents would report Harold's pet for disturbance.

Crystal went downstairs in a daze. When she opened the back door, she saw Harold and Luke standing by the cage with several doctors in white coats.

Harold's expression was cold. Frowning, he said, "If you keep making trouble, I'll have to get someone to inject you with an anesthetic."

His cold face was very scary. Even Devil shrank its tail, but it still resisted the doctor's approach. It sat in the corner of the cage, staring at several doctors with its eyes and giving them cold sweat.

"Well..." The leading old doctor wiped his sweat and said, "It seems that Devil is in a particularly bad mood today. Why don't we do it another day..."

He was the personal doctor of this white tiger. He had been in contact with it for a period of time, but he was still very afraid. The name of this snow tiger was Devil, and its character was really like that of a devil. It was unpredictable and moody...
