

Widow 203

Chapter 203

Anaya was a very easy person to get along with. She did her best to introduce Mrs. Mcadams's preferences, her usual style of dressing, and her body data to Crystal.

Crystal looked at Mrs. Mcadams's photo. Mrs. Mcadams was a beauty, like a blooming peony. She was so beautiful that her plain clothes could not completely show her beauty.

"We'll embroider peonies." Crystal drew a rough shape on the paper and said, "What do you think?"

Anaya looked at it and saw that she had outlined the charm of the peony with just a few strokes. It was obvious that Crystal was skilled. She smiled and said, "I think it's very good."

Crystal nodded. Suddenly, she looked around and said, "Anaya, let me ask you a question."

"Hmm?"

Crystal said, "I read the news before that Master Bolton is the only successor of the Bolton Clan's embroidery technique?"

"Yes." Anaya said, "Bolton Clan's embroidery technique is very difficult. Aletta has been following Master Bolton for several years, but she has never learned it. Now everyone is worried that this kind of embroidery technique will be lost."
