

Widow 211

Chapter 211

When Crystal followed Bonnie back to the house of the White family, she was still a little confused.

Bonnie didn't make things difficult for her. She only said that Harold would be buried tonight. As his wife, she had to be present. Crystal had no reason to refuse and agreed to go back to the White family's old manor with her.

Crystal had thought that Bonnie would cause trouble, but Bonnie didn't say anything else along the way, as if Crystal wasn't present.

The house of the White family was still painted white, and there were white banners everywhere. The servants looked sad, and Crystal didn't know if they were really sad about Harold's death.

Crystal was taken to put on mourning and returned to the mourning hall she was familiar with.

Harold's portrait was still placed on the altar. Crystal glanced at it and kneeled down on the futon.

the nail

still alive and that there were only a few pieces of clothing in let her grandson get married after he passed away. However, Crystal didn't see any affection between them. The reason why Bonnie insisted on letting Harold get married was definitely not because of about it, Kimberly suddenly scolded, "Hurry up and pay your her senses and bowed three times to the altar. Then, she got up and walked to the front with the portrait in Crystal was followed by the people who were holding banners and carrying coffins. There were also people who were spreading paper money. It was the didn't know the truth might think that they had a good relationship out of breath. Not only did she not cry, but there

"That's outrageous!

go..."

Bonnie said coldly. "She thought of something and