

Widow 226

Chapter 226

At half past eleven, Freud sat in the western restaurant in a well-dressed manner, waiting for Aletta. Aletta was dressed very elegantly today, which made people feel that she was an educated person. She put her bag on the chair and said softly, "Sorry, I'm late as there was some work to attend to." "It's okay."

To be honest, Freud was a little disappointed.

He thought that the lady was a cute little girl like Crystal, but his blind date was like that of his primary school teacher.

"I heard from Mrs. Duffy that Young Master Duffy rarely has a holiday." Aletta smiled and said, "Will it be a waste of your time to eat with me?"

Freud thought, "You're asking nonsense, aren't you?"

"No." Freud still gave the girl face and said, "It's boring for me to stay at home."

Aletta was very satisfied with Freud. He was handsome, and tall, and came from an extraordinary family. He was a perfect husband. She said in a very gentle voice, "Shall we go to the movie later? Marcus's new movie has been released recently. It is said that it has a good rating." "Marcus?" Freud and Antony were good brothers. Naturally, they had met Marcus before. He immediately said, "He didn't inform us when his new movie was released. I won't go with you. I'll book a cinema for my brothers and me to watch."

Aletta was speechless.

beginning of

from the military academy so like? I like reading books, listening all, I like fighting. Secondly, I

Aletta was speechless.

Aletta's smile gradually faded.

raised an

said, "I thought you would like musical

was even

here, she would immediately awkward meal. Aletta used all her skills, but she didn't attract the tough Aletta back to work. He was thinking that he would never to say that they should exchange their contact information when she suddenly saw Freud's eyes light

