

Widow 257

Chapter 257

Crystal slowly moved the muzzle away and said, "I didn't do it on purpose." Corey asked, "Do you think I believe you?"

He reached for the gun and said, "Look, this is how you should hold it."

Although Crystal was not very interested, she still studied seriously. She could score 704 in the college entrance examination, so her academic background was naturally strong. It only took her a while to get into the role.

Corey raised his hand to press down on her shoulder and said, "Lower your shoulder a little and gather the strength on your arm. Otherwise, you won't be able to control the recoil."

Crystal replied with an "oh" and did as he said. Corey leaned behind her, lifted her hand, and said, "Pull the trigger."

Crystal took a deep breath. With a push of her fingers, the bullet shot out of the gun barrel. The high-speed friction caused the gun barrel to heat up. The force of the recoil made her hand shake and she staggered backward. She almost bumped into Corey. Fortunately, he was kind enough to help her up.

"I guessed that you were a good-for-nothing, but I didn't expect you to be so useless." Corey looked down at Crystal. "If you were to fight on the battlefield, you would have already fallen before the opponent makes a move."

Crystal curled her lips, stood up straight, and said, "Why should I go to the battlefield?"

She put the gun aside, looked at her red palm, and blew it.

beside her and said, "Don't

"I don't want to talk to you

raised his eyebrows and looked at the target.

which was naturally not was her first time experiencing shooting, and she could achieve such a result. Obviously, she However...

hand-this talent was

this, yet you

"I didn't arms and said, "You've just learned how to shoot. It's good enough to

I was accurate."

the

the gun tightly in her hand, looked at the fixed

Her eyes reflected the center of the flew out and went straight to the