

Widow 308

Chapter 308

Crystal opened her hand and saw that it was a wrinkled 20-dollar note. She didn't know whether to laugh or cry. "Sir, you don't have to give me money. It's just a small matter for me... By the way."

She frowned. "I just heard you say that these three hundred dollars are your life-saving money?" The old man's fingers trembled, and there were tears in his eyes. He said in a hoarse voice, "I am... farmer in the countryside. The village I stay in is remote, and I thought that I wouldn't come to such a big city even at the cost of my life..."

"I came here for my daughter." The old man choked with sobs. "I only have one daughter. She had been admitted to a university in the city, which was the pride of everyone in the village. I didn't dare to disturb her, so I worked hard to farm. I wanted to give her more money so that she wouldn't be laughed at by her classmates..."

Speaking of this, he burst into tears. "But my daughter was sensible. She never asked for my money. She worked to support herself, got a scholarship, and didn't let me worry about her. But two years ago, she suddenly disappeared. I called her school and was told that she went abroad... I thought it was good for her to go abroad since she could learn new things. But a few days ago, someone suddenly called me..." He couldn't even stand still. He squatted on the ground and cried like a child. "And told me that my daughter is dead. She died two years ago!"

Everyone was shocked.
