

Widow 338

Chapter 338

"We've agreed six years ago that we won't mention it again," Anaya said.

"I'm just afraid that you'll forget. I'm just reminding you." Jared pulled out a smile. "After all, you've really made me worried recently."

"Jared," Anaya murmured, "You always say that you love me, but I have never felt any love from you. It's you who lied for too long. Do you even believe in yourself?"

Jared said, "It's just that you don't believe it."

Seeing that Anaya did not answer, he added, "Anaya, after that incident, I was the only one who stayed with you. When your reputation was ruined, I was the only one who wanted you. Although your reputation is still ruined now, I have never given up on you. Don't you feel the same love I've given you all this while?"

Anaya lowered her head and said nothing.

At this time, the waiter finally couldn't help but come over and ask, "Excuse me, have you ordered the dishes? If not, I can recommend them for you."

and said, "These are my

you.

waiter took the menu and said with a smile, "It's not her way. At this moment, she was holding a fork in her hand, and she

his eyebrows and asked,

I think Jared is trying to belittle

you want to meet him? Don't you want

"I'm afraid that Anaya will and sat next to Harold, saying, "I think there must be a misunderstanding between Anaya and Alan. Anaya obviously doesn't like Jared, but she has been with him for six years. According to Jared, it seems that something happened before, which concerned about other people's affairs?" Harold took a sip of water and his voice was a

like to meddle always feel that... Anaya is very desperate. If I am so