

Widow 343

Chapter 343

At this moment, Jared seemed to have returned to the principal's office six years ago. At that time, he was crippled and criticized by countless people. Even if he knelt on the ground and prayed, the school still made him drop out.

He recalled the humiliation at this moment. Everyone around him was pointing at him and criticizing him.

Those ridicules, accusations, and curses, after a long time, poured into Jared's ears again.

Jared's fingertip sank into his palm, and there was a sharp pain. Sarita came to help him in a panic. "Jared... Jared, are you okay?"

Jared pursed his lips and did not speak. He stood up with Sarita's support and saw Anaya's indifferent face.

became more and more silent and cold. Her pride and vitality, which used to belong to her, disappeared like quicksand. No matter how hard she held it, she was

think that it was

would never love him, he would be entangled with this woman for a lifetime. He would not let go of her. with her.

mouth. "Are you just going to watch your

"It's you who wanted to hurt Crystal. I okay." Jared nodded and said softly, "Anaya, of course they are not wrong.

was wrong."

something was wrong-Jared was about to stay at home, but this time.

he take medicine these two days?" Anaya asked Sarita had a blank expression on her face. "Medicine? What medicine? I Anaya was also stunned.