

Widow 359

Chapter 359

"Really?... I didn't even feel it." Anaya stood up, thanked the nurse, and said to Crystal, "Okay, let's go."

After taking two steps, she smiled helplessly. "If there's anything you want to ask, just ask. You look hesitant, and I feel anxious for you."

Crystal coughed and said, "That day, I heard Jared's sister talk about the thirty-five thousand dollars. What does that mean?"

"She asked me to lend her money." Anaya smiled sarcastically. "In the past six years, she had borrowed a lot of money from me. She didn't give me back a single penny."

"Then why did you still lend it to her?" Crystal was puzzled.

Anaya paused for a moment before continuing. "...Money is just a worldly possession. It doesn't matter anymore. I don't really care about this."

Crystal took her hand and said, "Anaya, it's wrong for you to have such an idea. It's yours. Whether you care or not, it's yours."

lips. She looked a little embarrassed as she turned her head away and said, "Crystal... don't be you're gentle and smart! If only you only had a few big brothers. Two of them wanted to strangle say something, but in the elevator. She was so scared that she shivered and quickly hid behind Anaya. "You can't see me. You can't see me..." There were few people on this floor. She and Anaya were standing in the corridor, facing the elevator. It was impossible for the person not to it was not her that had been called when she heard Crystal say in a low voice, "Anaya...

Crystal, "!"

Anaya, "?"

her gently and

me face Danny's anger alone.

there were people around so that Danny could not kill her here to vent his anger.

meet

liar and sneered.