

Widow 581

Chapter 581

After holding it in for a while, Sadie couldn't help but ask, "... Is this Molly's fetish?"

An adult with a strong mind wouldn't go to drink toilet water, would she?

Danny was probably drunk, so he did not answer Sadie's question. Sadie felt a little strange as she was held in his arms.

He was wrapped in a bathrobe. Perhaps because of his action just now, the bathrobe on him was loose, revealing a little of his chest. Sadie was wearing thin pajamas. Their bodies were stuck together, and she could feel his body temperature, which made her have goosebumps on her back. Sadie moved a little and found that Danny did not respond, so she wanted to sit up. However, as soon as she was about to succeed, she was pressed back by Danny, and he hugged her even tighter.

"..." Sadie was still in a daze. Danny placed his hand on her head and rubbed her hair casually. He said in a low voice, "Molly, why is your hair so long?"

Sadie, "?"

Sadie started feeling that something was not quite right.

next second, Danny sat up and said, "I'll get scissors and trim it for you." Sadie subconsciously covered her head and did not even bother to put on the slippers on the ground. She ran back to her room

"Crash!" Thinking that Danny had taken the key, Sadie was nervous and her heart beat fast. She held the phone tightly, and her palms were covered with a thin layer of sweat.

With a click, the key was inserted into the keyhole. Sadie pursed her lips and saw the wardrobe next to her. She quickly hid in the innermost layer of the wardrobe and closed the sliding door.

It had to be said that Danny took good care of his fiancée. Even if Sadie said she didn't need it, he still asked Nigel to send a lot of clothes over, and the wardrobe was full.

Sadie squatted in a pile of soft clothes, holding her knees. She prayed in her heart that Danny would leave as soon as he failed to find Molly after he entered.

The locked door was pushed open. Through the gap of the wardrobe door, Sadie saw a long shadow coming in.

From the shadow, it could be seen that Danny was really holding a pair of scissors in his hand.

Sadie lay in Danny's arms and was a little confused.

She was a little hesitant to answer Danny's question. However, when she saw that Danny was still holding the scissors, she felt that he was really a liar. She simply shut up and pretended that she didn't know how to speak.

Danny carried Sadie out and looked around. Confused, he asked, "Where's your cage?"

Sadie looked like a good girl.

"Forget it." Danny took her straight back to his room, put her on the bed, and said, "You can sleep with me tonight."

Sadie, "!"

Danny rubbed the space between his eyebrows. While lying on the bed, he held Sadie's waist tightly and said, "Don't make trouble anymore. Go to sleep first. I'll give you some grass tomorrow." Sadie was speechless. "Thank you. I don't like grass."

She had planned to sneak away when Danny fell asleep. However, Danny was very persistent. Even when he was asleep, he would not let her go. Sadie could not stand it anymore and fell asleep in a daze.

Chapter 584

After the misunderstanding was resolved, the two of them washed up respectively. Sadie changed her clothes and came out. She saw that Danny was wearing a tie in front of the mirror. He looked serious, which was totally different from the way he looked when he was searching for her with scissors last night.

Seeing Sadie come out, Danny said, “What happened last night...”

“It’s fine.” Sadie said first, “I won’t take it to heart.”

Danny hummed in agreement. Just then, the doorbell rang. Sadie walked over and opened the door. It was Nigel, who was full of lies.

Nigel felt a little strange. He didn’t know why Miss Sadie, who used to be gentle, looked at him with some resentment in her eyes.

He coughed dryly and put the breakfast he bought on the table.

He bought two shares of breakfast. Danny and Sadie faced each other and ate silently. Nigel felt a little embarrassed and said, “President Evans, I have checked. Master White is not in City W these few days, so someone took the opportunity to seize power.”

The affairs of the Grecic Group had been in a mess in City W in recent days. It was said that several elders were not satisfied with Harold’s dictatorship. It was very likely that the internal forces were going to reshuffle.

Although Danny never got involved in the affairs of the Grecic family, he would still find out the inside news from time to time.

Crystal, a well-known figure in City W, was feeding chickens at the moment.

The Hays family had two nests of chickens, and they were all furry. Crystal squatted in the yard, holding a handful of rice in her hand, and slowly sprinkled it on the ground. The chickens were eating the rice with their yellow and red beaks.

Dan took out a bunch of bean seeds and dried them. He looked at her for a while and asked, "Crystal, when are you going back?"

Crystal turned his head. "Are you driving me away?"

"I'm not driving you away, Dan said, "This is not a place for you to stay."

He squatted beside Crystal, knocked on the cigarette pot, and said, "In the past few days, the people brought by the Grecic family have been wandering in the mountains."

Crystal exclaimed, "What's wrong?"

Dan frowned and said, "He came to our village for another purpose."

Chapter 586

The weather on this day was quite good. There was no sun or rain. Crystal pulled out a small basket made of vines and planned to take Harold to see their "burial place" in the future.

No one knew who planted the peach forest at the entrance of the village. The peach blossoms were gorgeous in the spring and fruitful in July and August.

The peaches were managed by the villagers, and the money they got from selling the peaches was distributed equally. But if someone wanted to pick up a few, no one would stop him.

The peach forest was more than ten minutes away from the Hays residence. Crystal held Harold's hand and walked all the way. Along the way, people from different families would poke their heads out to look at them, making Crystal feel like a monkey in a zoo.

She voiced out her thought to Harold, who raised his eyebrows and said, "If you are a monkey, you must be the most standard-looking monkey."

Crystal thought for a moment. "Then you should be the second most standard-looking monkey." Harold accepted it calmly.

Returning to her hometown, Crystal wanted to take Harold to have a look. She couldn't wait to introduce the little flowers and grass along the road to Harold.

Harold was silent for a while before he rubbed Crystal's head in amusement. "Why are you so unlucky? Does it hurt?"

The peach was not big and did not fall from a very high place. It did not hurt much, but Crystal felt very wronged. "Is this about my luck? If you had not insisted on making a fuss, I would not have been smashed by the peach. At the end of the day, this is your fault."

She was unreasonable. Harold paused and said, "Well, it's my fault."

He pushed Crystal's hair aside and looked at her scalp. It was a little red, but it was not serious. However, Crystal took the opportunity to moan. "Blow on it for me. It hurts."

Harold lowered his eyelashes and blew on her. Crystal continued, "Aren't you going to coax me? When other kids are injured, their parents would coax them."

She had never enjoyed this kind of treatment and had kept it in mind for many years.

Harold raised an eyebrow. "Am I your father or your mother?"

Crystal said, "You're my fiance. Hurry up and coax me."

Crystal stayed in Sunshine Village for six days and was ready to go back to City W.

Dan sent her to the village entrance. He insisted on sending Crystal to the town, but was rejected by Crystal.

He said, "Dad, you should go back now. You don't have to see me off."

Dan sighed softly and said, "I don't know when you will come back after you leave."

Crystal said, "I'll be back during the winter vacation. I'll take you to City W for the new year, okay?"

"This is my home. I won't go anywhere." Dan said, "Don't come back. This is not the place where you should stay."

He kept saying these words. Crystal was used to it and said, "Dad, I put two thousand dollars under your pillow. Remember to take it out when you're back."

Seeing that Crystal was here, Jarrod called out again, "Mrs. White."

Crystal nodded and Harold asked, "How is she now?"

Jarrod shook his head and said, "The situation is not good. We've asked the doctor to come over and were told that it's very likely that she can't make it through tonight."

Harold pursed his lips.

As the group of people walked inside, Harold suddenly stopped and said, "I'm going to Old Madam's yard. Take Mrs. White to have dinner. She didn't eat anything after getting off the plane."
