

Chapter 583 Cole Will Only Take You As His Wife

A quiet laugh escaped Ruben. "What I'm trying to say is that the Campbell family doesn't care about Wanda at all, and they would never make things difficult for you because of her. The only people targeting you are Eva and Wanda, and their doings have no ties to the Campbell family."

Elliana stayed silent, listening to every word. She had a faint idea of what Ruben meant, but since it concerned his daughter, she thought it best not to cut in.

Ruben continued, "As long as the Campbell family isn't involved, and there is no conflict between the Evans and Campbell families, I will be firmly on your side. Even though Eva is my daughter, I refuse to take her side over yours!"

"Eva wants me dead, Ruben. She's not even trying to hide it anymore," Elliana replied, her voice calm but sure.

Ruben let out an angry snort. "I cast Eva out of the Evans family twenty years ago. She lost her place with us long ago, while I still view you as my granddaughter-in-law. If she ever tries to hurt you again, I'll make sure she pays for it!"

Gratitude swelled within Elliana. It was clear to her now that if she ever went up against Eva, Ruben would firmly stand with her against Eva.

"Elliana, I will not fail you again. Return to Cole's side. I want to see you two find your way back to each other," Ruben remarked. "You cured Cole's Psychephrenia, so it should be you who brings back his memories and carries on your love story."

"I will, Ruben," Elliana replied.

Ruben's expression brightened with joy. "Truly? Elliana, you mean you carry no bitterness from the past, and you're willing to rekindle Cole's love and marry him again?"

Elliana answered firmly, "Yes, Ruben, I will never give up on Cole."

"That's truly wonderful, absolutely wonderful!" Ruben's joy was as pure as a child's. "Elliana, I give you my word. Cole will only take you as his wife, and I will never recognize anyone else in that place."

Elliana's lips curved in a gentle smile. "Thank you, Ruben."

Right then, Ruben faltered. "But Elliana, there is still something standing between you and Cole. I don't know how to handle it on my own, so I must talk it over with you."

Elliana already had a rough idea about what he was about to say, and her smile brightened. "Ruben, please go ahead."

Ruben quickly laid out the matter of the Campbell family's missing heiress and then spoke with unease. "Elliana, you need to figure this out. Cole swears he's found the Campbell heiress. If he doesn't regain his memory and insists on marrying her, it will be a disaster."

"Don't trouble yourself over it, Ruben. I know who the Campbell family's heiress is," Elliana replied with a hint of amusement.

Ruben froze. "Wait. You recognize her? Tell me who she is."

Elliana let out a quiet laugh. "It's me."

Hearing that, Ruben froze once more, left speechless for a long stretch. The revelation was overwhelming, for he had never imagined that Elliana herself was the missing heiress of the Campbell family. In that case, what was there to worry about? Cole and Elliana had unknowingly uncovered the bond that fate had prepared for them. Destiny certainly had its own way of drawing two people together!

After some time passed, Ruben let out a soft laugh. "Elliana, tell me, what is going on?"

"This is a long story, and it isn't the right time to give you every detail. All you need to understand is that I am the real heiress of the Campbell family, and for the time being, I ask you to keep that secret," Elliana said candidly. "When it comes to Cole, you have nothing to fear. I will stand by his side as the Campbell heiress and restore what we share. When the

< Chapter 563 Cole Will Only Take You As His ... +120 Points at most right moment comes to help him recover his memories, I will take care of it myself."

"Alright, I'll leave everything in your hands!" Ruben's face lit up all over again. "Elliana, it's like you were meant to be in Cole's life. Honestly, the Evans family couldn't have asked for anyone better. I mean it. Thank you."

Elliana gave a faint smile. "You don't need to thank me, Ruben. I'm doing all of this because of love."

In truth, she was no saint, and her devotion to Cole and the Evans family came from a single reason. Every part of her love was bound to Cole.

"Elliana, we'll follow your lead. I'll be waiting for you to come back to the Evans family," said Ruben, who understood her feelings yet still felt thankful. "I must hurry and tell Jarrett the good news. He has been unwell, weighed down by grief over your false death, and I fear it will take a toll on his health."

Elliana replied, "Alright, Ruben. Please give Jarrett my greetings and thank him for caring about me."

The discussion came to an end.

Elliana let out a slight smile, surprised by the day's unexpected turns.
She had uncovered her identity as the Campbell family's heiress and blown her cover before quite a few members of the people. The progress had moved far beyond what she'd originally planned. This was a good thing, for she no longer had to fear potential threats from the Campbell family. She could now move forward freely, choosing her own path.

At that moment, she wanted to head upstairs and enjoy a soothing hot bath.

But the moment she rose to her feet, her phone began to ring again.

Elliana released a sigh and sank back down into the sofa. The moment she came across Carlos's message on the dark web, her eyes widened with surprise.