I Will Never Be Yours By Melan pamp Chapter 52

Selena pov

Pulling Kian closer and answering the kiss while I snake my arms hard around his neck and deepening the kiss. He pushes his tongue inside my mouth and I answer it back and kiss him with the same passion. My mind is blank and all I can do right now is to give in to the bond.

His hand travel down my body and tingles play on my skin when he cups my breast before he starts twisting my nipple. I moan out into his mouth when I feel my core start to throb under his touch.

He let go of my lips and I have to catch my breath when I feel him place open-mouth kisses down my neck and stop on my shoulder where my mark would lay. When he reached the spot my legs it about to go out under me and I pant out his name.

He starts kissing and nibbling on the spot and arousal ripples through my body and my core starts to throb painfully. I have to grind my legs together.

Digging my nails into his shoulder to prevent myself from coming right now, every part of me is overly sensitive.

He pulls my body closer to his and I feel his hard cock dig into my stomach. I pant out just at the feel of him when he lets go of my shoulder and catches my lips again.

Devouring me like I'm his last meal!

His hand travels down my body and cups my pussy before I feel him press down on my sensitive bud and I moan out from the feeling.

My arousal spill out on my leg when he traces a finger down my wet folds and I can't stop him. I don't want to!

He stops at my entrance before he pushes a finger inside of me and I cry out into his mouth from the sudden intrusion. My walls clench around his fingers and I almost come undone right away.

He starts thrusting inside of me with his finger and I take my hand to his hard cock, wanting to touch him. Feel his hard cock in my hand!

I wrap my hand around him, he is huge and my heart takes an extra beat when I start stroking his length.

He thrust inside my hand one time and my heart is about to beat out of my chest! I haven't been this intimate with any man before.

He breaks the kiss and takes my hand away from him and places it over my head on the shower wall. He holds it in a firm grip while he pulls out his finger and adds another one before he thrust back inside of me.

I feel overfull and close my eyes and my orgasm builds up in my body with every thrust. My legs feel like jelly and I meet his thrusts, riding myself on his fingers.

"Look at me!" He says and I open my eyes to stare right into his. He takes in my whole face when he starts fucking me faster and drawing me closer to my orgasm.

Now come for me!" He says before he presses down on my bud. I look at him with hooded eyes when I let go and my walls clench around his fingers. My orgasm rippled through my body! Almost seeing stars when I come undone around him.

I pant and ride out my orgasm on his fingers, my legs start to shake and I breathe heavily when I slowly start to come down from my high and the bond starts to subside.

My mind clears up bit by bit when I feel him pull his fingers out of me and I just stare into his eyes. I get control of my thoughts again and a shiver course through my body. The truth hit me like a slap in my face what just happened and I understand what he has done to me.

Closing my eyes I lean my head back on the cold tiles and curse to myself before I put up a wall around my thoughts and emotions.

I gave into the bond and even wanted it! But I wouldn't have if I had realized what he had done before.

I can't believe how easily I gave into it at wanted him after everything. If I hadn't let my emotions cloud my mind this would never have happened in the first place!

He let go of my hand he held to the wall and cage me in with an arm on each side of my head.

He is breathing heavily and I guess he was as affected by the bond as I was. No one says a word for a moment and just lets the water wash over us.

I wasn't myself when you found me in the cemetery and I forced you out of my kingdom!" He says next to my ear and I sigh.

I don't want to have this discussion right now, I wasn't supposed to let him near me in the first place.

"But now you did!" I say and push him off me before I get out of the shower. I'm not staying inside the shower with him for another second.

Taking a towel and wrapping it around my body I feel defeated when I walk closer to the mirror and look at his mark. Trace it with my fingers I sigh and see him walk up behind me. He leans his hands to the sink and his face comes closer to my ear when he looks at me intensely through the mirror.

"I don't regret marking you! You would have been dead otherwise and I owe you that much" He says to my ear and a shiver runs down my spine when his hot breath touches my shoulder. Anger boil under my skin from his words.

I push his hand away and walk out of the bathroom before I lash out at him.

Hearing him sigh before coming after me over to my walk-in closet.

"Will you stop and talk to me!" He says when I grab some underwear and take them on me in a rush. I need to get out of this room and away from him.

He grabs my arm and swirls me around to face him. He stands close to me and his naked body almost touches mine.

"You want me to talk! Well, let me tell you something, my king!" I say and poke a finger into his muscular chest.

"You didn't want me all those years back! And you didn't want me when you found out I was one of your prisoners! And you certainly never searched for me before you found out I wasn't a weak mate and you saw that I have a white wolf!" I spit at him and he only keeps his intense gaze on me. Not saying a word!

You took your chance to mark me only to make yourself stronger! Not once have my will crossed your mind. Don't you dare come and say you did this for me when you don't even know if I would rather be dead than bonded to you!" His silence speaks numbers and I know everything I said is the truth!

"You came here with your men and try to take over when I have been running this pack for years and surviving on my own. The second you interfered with what we do it went to shit because you can't pull your head out of your ass and let me do what I have been doing. I gave you the order to stay inside the barrier for everyone's sake since you don't know half of it!" He just looks intense at me and I'm tired of this. Turning around I grab some clothes and walk by him out to my room again. Quickly taking them on when I see him put on his briefs and walk over to where I stand and blocking my way when I'm about to head out of the room.

"Not everything you said is the truth!" He says and I try to walk past him when he grabs my arm. I glance at him before snatching my arm away from him.

"My truth is that you forced me out of my home without even the opportunity to say goodbye to my family! I get it that you mourned her but I was left with nothing. Couldn't even keep my clothes I had on me when I shifted under your command. Scared and alone without a home to return to or ask someone for help I had to find a way out here to survive." I have to take a breath before I continue

"You didn't even have a bad conscience to come and look for me under all these years. To even see if I was still alive.

So whatever you think justifies that I'm not interested to hear. I don't have time to stand here and keep arguing with you! I have a pack to look after and make sure they are safe. You and your men are free to leave our grounds whenever you are ready!" I say before walking out of my room and leaving him inside.
