

Window 1

Chapter 1

"Harold White is dead!"

"The White family wanted the engagement unchanged, but they aren't going to hold a wedding ceremony."

"I'll ask the driver to send you to the White family's residence. From now on, you'll be a member of the White clan."

Eva Miller said in a cold tone, "You should know well why the Evans family took you home."

Crystal Evans lowered her head. Of course, she knew it well.

The Evans family and the White family had a marriage promise, but now the groom was dead. The Evans family didn't want Dora Evans to become a widow. That was why they had brought her back from the countryside to take the girl's place.

When Crystal was fifteen years old, she knew she and Dora Evans had been swapped at the hospital. when they were just born!

She herself was the real daughter of the Evans family!

daughter was swapped at birth, the Evans family had already had a deep relationship with Dora. Afraid that the latter wouldn't be able to bear the fact, they had kept Crystal in

Evans family

was to make her marry

White family has

in a low voice, "Will my father and they don't

little impatient. "Today is Dora's began to urge her. "Well, get in the car quickly. We don't want a magnificent procession. Crystal got in one. of the cars and looked back at the Evans family's fifteen years, and from today on, it had everyone had left, Eva stopped smiling actually you don't have to see her off. She is an orphan sideway, "You know nothing. I'm the hostess of the Evans family, but I have no children. I must arrange things well, or else, people would rumor and laugh be likely in deadly danger.

