

Wizard 1051

Chapter 1051: Book of Cypher

[193 Cas]

Seeing this, Levi frowned.

“It doesn’t look like it’s going to work. Those buffs are mainly aimed at increasing the attributes of the basic six dimensions. Thus, the buffs are huge for sword skills like the Destruction Sword Qi which rely on attributes. It is far too inferior to a magic attack like the Twin Dragons Playing with Pearls.

“However, the power of this move is only second to the two great killing moves, [World Burning Flame Snake] and [Full State of Destruction Sword Qi]. It could be used as a supplementary killing move.

“It’s already very powerful for an area-of-effect attack to have such power. It’s equivalent to an ordinary fifth-circle area-of-effect attack spell.”

Levi used it again.

In the end, he realized that with his current power of the Death Ember Dragon, he would have to consume more than half of his blood qi to perform the Twin Dragons Playing with Pearls three times.

Then, he swung his sword again.

On the fourth strike, only the Crimson Emperor Dragon Flame was used. There was only a small spark left in the Black Flame Void, and it was quickly extinguished.

Levi looked at the pitch-black magic armor around him. The black flames that had been wrapped around it had all disappeared.

“The fire elemental energy contained in this is temporarily used up. It needs time to recover. I thought it could explode indefinitely. If that’s the case, even a fifth-circle wizard would be heavily injured if not killed by my ten or twenty rounds of Twin Dragons Playing with Pearls.”

Levi let out a breath and sat on the ground to rest. He kept the Indestructible Armor back into his body to nourish it.

The four divine weapons’ embryonic forms had been established. Now, only the Sky Dragon and the Nightmare Dragon did not have divine weapons.

“Nightmare Metal. I’ve never heard of it in the Wizard World except for the research notes in the Dreamland Steeple... The materials for the Nightmare Dragon’s divine weapon can only be obtained in the Nightmare World.”

“The materials for the Sky Dragon’s divine weapon, the elemental metals for storm and lightning, are also extremely rare. Relatively speaking, the fire elemental metal is already the easiest to find. If the Dark Ancient Tower doesn’t have it, then I’ll go to the Realm of Thunder and the Realm of Divine Wind to take a look after I return.”

Levi already had a preliminary plan in mind.

Forming the Nightmare Dragon's divine weapon wasn't urgent because the Nightmare Dragon's breathing technique had only reached the First Transformation of the Blood Source, so it couldn't fuse with the divine weapon.

Other than that, after all these years of cultivation, Levi's Crimson Emperor Dragon and Golden Snake were already at the Third Transformation of the Blood Source, level 15.

The Scarlet Dragon, Sky Dragon, and Death Ember Dragon were at the Second Transformation of the Blood Source, level 14.

Originally, Levi's progress in cultivating the Scarlet Dragon was slightly faster than the Sky Dragon and the Death Ember Dragon.

However, due to the Wind Thunder Winged Dragon's fourth-circle soul, the Sky Dragon surpassed the Scarlet Dragon after a few years of cultivation.

Therefore, the Sky Dragon was most likely at the Third Transformation of the Blood Source, followed by the Scarlet Dragon and the Death Ember Dragon.

"I don't know when the Crimson Netherworld Sparrow will advance... However, even if he has advanced, with his bloodline potential, fourth-circle should be the limit. How do I find a fifth-circle Undying Bird descendant?"

After so many years of research, Levi had discovered some rules for the advancement of transcendent creatures.

Basically, those who could get first-circle could also get second-circle if they worked hard.

After the intermediate stage, those who had third-circle had hopes of reaching fourth-circle in the future.

However, there was a huge threshold between four and five rings, let alone six.

Even among the dragons, only the sub-dragon species had the potential to advance to sixth-circle.

Among all the transcendent creatures he possessed, the only one with a chance of attaining fifth-circle was the Thunderstorm Winged Dragon Raja.

Other than that, the fourth-circle Ground-Drilling Earthworm, the Flame-Blood Rampage Dragon, and the Green Armored Fish Dragon, these three Ancient Beasts seemed to be the same as the Ancient Saints. Perhaps it was due to the limitations of their plane or bloodline, but in any case, the peak of level 4 seemed to be the upper limit.

For hundreds of thousands of years, many ancient saints and beasts had been born in the Ancient Saint plane, but the only one who had broken through the ceiling of level four and entered level five was the real 'Initial Ancient Saint'.

“Let nature take its course. I have a lot of time now, so there’s no need to be too anxious.”

After returning to the Emperor’s Palace, he renovated his secret room.

Levi took out the Book of Cypher that he had obtained from the Realm of Crimson and started reading.

There were two main fourth-circle arrays that Levi had mastered. One was the [Hell of the Seven Kings], and the other was the [Demon Cage].

He wanted to see if there were any other practical arrays in the Book of Cypher that he could learn from.

Time flew by quickly. Once one was engrossed in research and learning, time passed quickly.

In the blink of an eye, half a year had passed.

Year 1150 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar, Month of the Northern Wind.

In the Emperor’s Palace, Levi spent all his time comprehending the path of arrays.

In the past half year, after studying the Book of Cypher, even though Levi was a fourth-circle wizard, he had gained a lot.

“Cypher’s achievements in the path of arrays far exceed mine. He has already proposed many of my ideas and plans. Moreover, it seems that there are still some areas that can be improved on for the Hell of the Seven Kings array.”

Among the Three Arts of Wizardry, arrays were the most difficult, the most profound, and the least inherited.

Mastering arrays would allow one to understand weapon-making and alchemy by analogy.

In the past half a year, relying on books and continuous experiments, Levi’s proficiency in arrays had increased by quite a bit. It was even faster than when he had relied on refining arrays to strengthen his cultivation. This was the effect of knowledge.

“The Book of Cypher is in the hands of Fire Wolf. It’s really a pearl covered in dust. Such a good book is enough for me to become a fifth-circle wizard. I’ll avoid many detours and save ten to twenty years of time.”

In half a year, Levi created a new set of arrays.

This array was called the [Four-Sided Flame World], and it was also a four-circle array. In terms of power, it was even stronger than the Inferno Hell.

Chapter 1052: Wizard Red Bone

However, the Inferno Hell was only a part of the [Hell of the Seven Kings]. This was the complete array.

The Four-Sided Flame World was a pure fire-type defensive array. Levi refined this array because it was not easy to gather a second set of materials for the Seven Kings Hell in a short period of time.

Therefore, he refined a Four-Sided Flame World and placed it near the altar of the Ancient Saint plane. The Red Eye wizard was in charge of the array, and there were four Ancient Saints providing support.

As a result, both the human world and the Ancient Saint plane would have fourth-circle arrays to defend themselves.

Apart from that, Levi also learned some small practical arrays during this period of time, which would be helpful for his future trip to the Dark Ancient Tower.

In the following days, Levi once again lived a life of peace. Other than exchanging some information about the Wizard World with Rosa Witch, he did not leave his house.

He had also refined the fifth-circle Wizard Tool, [Secret Fire Sphere], which he had obtained from Eman.

In this way, he would have two fifth-circle Wizard Tools that he could use in battle. Even ordinary fifth-circle wizards would not be as luxurious as this.

Unfortunately, his spiritual force was only at 281 points, and his spell power was only at 14,000 points.

He had used up all of his spell power, but it was not enough to cast all the fifth-circle spells on these two Wizard Tools.

If he wanted to be able to use it freely, he would have to be at least in the fifth-circle realm. This was why intermediate wizards would mainly use their innate spells in their later battles.

Innate spells were fast to cast, consumed little energy, and had great power. They were the foundation of an intermediate wizard!

Any other means, be it Wizard Tools or ordinary spells, could only be used as a supplement.

Furthermore, the power of an innate spell would increase with the advancement of the wizard's realm.

If the owner of an innate spell was lucky enough to reach the Legendary Wizard realm, the innate spell could even be used as a legendary spell.

Time passed.

In the blink of an eye, another year had passed.

Year 1151 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar had arrived.

At the 50th round table meeting, Levi learned that the work on the Black Knight's side was progressing quite smoothly. They had already recruited a batch of potential knights in the Wizard World, and there were many grand knights among them.

Emperor Mu, Hogg, and the Black Knight were all at the level of a level 3 knight. Besides Hogg, the others were also at the level of an official wizard. On the border of the Earth Realm, as long as they were not too high-profile, there would not be any big problems. That was equivalent to the outer sea region of the Endless Sea, where third-circle wizards were big shots.

Seeing that the Midland Knights were able to operate independently, Levi was also very pleased. He continued his long journey of gaining experience. At this stage, his focus was on the Sky Dragon Breathing Technique.

Before entering the Dark Ancient Tower, he wanted all of his breathing techniques to reach the Third Transformation of the Blood Source realm.

...

In the human world.

Gaia Kingdom, White Sand Mountain.

In a certain valley, a black castle stood there.

Around the castle were some herbs and spellcasting materials commonly used by the Death Sect.

Some corpse puppet butlers and servants were taking care of this isolated place in an orderly manner.

As a dark cloud descended outside the courtyard, Wizard Wildbone walked out.

He looked a little nervous. After all, his eldest senior sister was not only powerful, but her personality was also very strange.

“Come in.”

A voice came from within the castle.

The black barrier slowly opened, revealing a pitch-black passageway.

Wizard Wildbone took a deep breath and walked to the end.

“Senior Sister.”

“What is it?” Mistress Cruel was refining a new corpse puppet.

As a Crafty Death Wizard, other than meditating every day, she was studying corpse puppets.

“I want to ask you for a favor...” said Wizard Wildbone.

“In exchange for?” asked Mistress Cruel.

Wildbone handed her a storage ring. She glanced at it and said, “Tell me about it.”

Wildbone explained the situation to Mistress Cruel.

“Are you still thinking about that Red Bone? Do you know that your Senior Sister Nala is dead?” Mistress Cruel sneered.

“What? Nala is dead? When was that? I’ve been in seclusion for quite a while, so I really don’t know.” Wildbone found it hard to believe.

Nala was a fifth-circle wizard, and there was still a long way to go before her lifespan reached its end.

“Forget it, it’s useless to tell you.” Mistress Cruel no longer had any hope of finding Barzan and Nala’s murderer.

Therefore, she lived in seclusion in this valley all day long, preparing for the Spirit Catcher Steeple’s branch in peace.

Teacher Painful Banshee was right. She had wasted too much time on meaningless worldly emotions. Otherwise, with her talent, she would have attained fifth-circle Perfection by now.

However, she could help Wizard Wildbone with this matter. She could easily obtain so many Aether Stones with just a simple move, so why not?

She was a lunatic, not a fool.

“Are you coming with me?” asked Mistress Cruel.

“I... I’m not going. She doesn’t want to see me.” In the eyes of many wizards in the Nether Capital, Wizard Wildbone was an extremely vicious wizard. However, at this moment, he was like a shy old boy.

“Then I’ll go by myself.” Mistress Cruel left immediately. She soared into the sky and left this place.

Wizard Wildbone sighed as he watched his senior sister leave.

In his hand, he held the blood-red bow.

“You should also be going to the Dark Ancient Tower, right...”

He solemnly put away the bow and left.

...

Several days later.

Realm of Crimson,

Red Pagoda Mountain.

In the wizard tower, Wizard Red Bone saw the legendary leader of the Painful Banshee’s Three Disciples, Mistress Cruel.

Chapter 1053: Same Murderer

Judging from the level of her spiritual force, it seemed to be inferior to his.

Of course, she had been cultivating for far longer than Mistress Cruel. In fact, Mistress Cruel was more talented than her.

“Wizard Wildbone sent me. Tell me, what do you need me to do?” asked Mistress Cruel.

“I need you to help me find a murderer,” said Red Bone.

“Take me to the place where the victim died.”

Red Bone brought Mistress Cruel all the way to the secret realm.

“In the secret realm?”

“Yes.”

The two of them entered and killed some blind black beasts before arriving at the mine hall.

“It should be here,” said Red Bone.

“I’ll try. I might not succeed. If I fail, don’t blame me.”

“No, just do your best. Wildbone should have paid for it, right?”

“Yes.”

Mistress Cruel released the Soul-Chasing Hound Corpse Puppet.

“This is a good thing. With it, many things become very convenient.” Red Bone’s eyes were filled with envy.

Mistress Cruel did not say a word. She gave the Soul-Chasing Hound an order.

The pitch-black hound drooled as it sniffed the ruins. Then, it turned into black smoke and disappeared underground.

“Let’s wait. This will take some time,” Mistress Cruel said expressionlessly.

Red Bone nodded.

Seven days later.

The Soul-Chasing Hound was at a loss, it looked doubtful as it appeared in front of Mistress Cruel.

Mistress Cruel's heart sank when she saw the Soul-Chasing Hound's reaction.

"What's wrong?" Red Bone had a bad feeling.

"The souls of these people have been forcefully intercepted by an unknown existence. These souls have completely disappeared. They can't enter the Underworld, enter reincarnation, or reincarnate. My hound can't follow their souls to find clues..." As Mistress Cruel spoke, her thoughts returned to a few years ago.

This scene was familiar.

"How is that possible? Whether it was the death of the physical body or the dissipation of the soul, the final destination would definitely be to reincarnate in the Underworld. Only then could the balance and order of the Multidimensional Plane be maintained. I've never heard of anyone disobeying this rule. Even primordial soul wizards can't do this often. If you offend the Order Guardians of the Underworld, you won't have a good ending." Red Bone found it hard to believe.

"I have no reason to lie to you. No matter what, Wildbone is still my junior brother, and he has already paid."

"Forget it, you can go back. Thank you."

Back to Red Pagoda Mountain.

Red Bone felt a little depressed.

“Could it be that the person was possessed by a primordial soul wizard... Had his strength not fully recovered? If that’s the case, I can’t continue investigating. If I anger him, I’m afraid I won’t be able to keep my life. I’ll let Raphael continue investigating.”

The next day.

“My Lord, are we moving?” The big-breasted twin sister asked.

“Yes.”

“Then we will follow you to the death!”

The elder sister quickly expressed her loyalty. They had offended Geralt. Without Red Bone’s protection, they might disappear from this world one day!

On this day, Red Pagoda Mountain completely disappeared from the map.

Wizard Red Bone took the Red Pagoda and left the Flaming Mountain overnight.

She wanted to find an unworldly place and wait for the Dark Ancient Tower to open.

In the Fire Bull family, Farrah was busy preparing for the war in the Dark Ancient Tower and had gradually forgotten about this matter.

On the other hand, in Fire Crocodile City, the Blood Demon Tower Master remembered the person called Levi and prepared to find an opportunity to search for him in the human world in the future. Perhaps he could even earn some 'extra money'. Wouldn't that be great?

And in the human world.

After Mistress Cruel returned, her heart, which had originally calmed down, gradually became turbulent again.

"The person Red Bone asked me to find is similar to the murderer who killed Naira and Balzan. Although I can't be completely sure, I can assume that it's the same person. That means that the murderer has been to the Realm of Crimson and should have registered in Fire Crocodile City. If I can see the registration list, I might be able to find the organization behind the murderer and find his whereabouts."

...

Time flew by.

In the blink of an eye, it was the end of the year 1151, the Month of Winter.

Outer sea region.

At the teleportation portal from the Endless Sea to the human world, a bright light shone.

After years of observation and discussion, Melina and a few other third-circle wizards finally decided to establish their organization in the human world.

Although the Starfire Wizard Academy was also very good, and especially so with a primordial soul wizard overseeing it, that way, they might walk the same path as before in the Realm of All Things. It was too troublesome to deal with so many wizards.

What Melina wanted to do was to pass on the psychic knowledge and nurturing knowledge she had learned from her father.

“Lord Melina, the elemental power in the human world is indeed not bad. It’s enough for us low-level wizards,” said an excited wizard.

Melina said, “I have come here many times to investigate. In the human world, we need to pay attention to the Church. If it is not necessary, avoid conflict with the Church. The other is some other secret organizations that have existed in the human world since ancient times. Although they keep a low profile, they also have the shadow of the gods behind them. As for wizard organizations, there are not many in the human world at present.”

“Then where should we choose this organization’s base? The Seven Kingdoms Continent?”

“With our strength, we shouldn’t go to the Seven Kingdoms Continent for the time being. There are too many forces there, and the good and the bad are mixed together. We’ll find a large island in this outer sea region and raise it in captivity to nurture our transcendent creatures.”

Chapter 1054: Advancing Sky Dragon Breathing Technique!

“Alright, everyone split up and search.”

A month later.

Melina and the others chose their base, which was located in the outer seas far away from the mainland.

Here, there was a rather large uninhabited island with mountains, streams, and primitive forests.

“Let’s do it here,” said Melina.

“Alright, then what should we name our organization?”

“Ten Thousand Beast Tower?”

“Spirit Control Tower.”

Everyone offered their suggestions. Melina suddenly said, “Why don’t we make it simple? Let’s call it ‘Paradise’. Our Paradise is also a Paradise for transcendent creatures.”

...

Time flew by.

In the blink of an eye, four years had passed.

Year 1155 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar, Month of the Beginning.

Levi ended his four-year-long seclusion.

Before his 165th birthday, he had successfully come out of seclusion.

He walked out of his seclusion and sighed, "As my lifespan increases, I seem to become more and more numb to the passage of time. For mortals, four years can change a lot... As for me, four years is just to make some breakthroughs in my cultivation."

In the past four years, Levi had been cultivating on the path of a wizard. His spiritual force had already reached 300 points, and his spell power had reached 15000 points! His spell cultivation had also improved a little. His idea for the fifth innate spell was from the Storm Faction.

On the path of knights, Levi focused on cultivating the Sky Dragon Breathing Technique.

A few months ago, his Sky Dragon Breathing Technique had reached the Maximum.

Similar to the Golden Snake Breathing Technique, there were also options for [Advancement] and [Evolution].

Levi still chose [Advancement]. He could gather the materials for evolution, but it would take Raja's life, so there was no need to. It would be better if the water flowed slowly.

Even if he had evolved, without Raja, Levi would not have any better ingredients to replace the secret medicine. His future cultivation would also be a problem.

Like the Golden Snake, the Sky Dragon's breathing technique had surpassed the legendary breathing technique, even though it was not as powerful as the Crimson Emperor Dragon.

Even if he didn't evolve, he would definitely become a level-nine knight in the future. It was even possible for him to become a level-ten knight.

Levi's idea was to focus on advancing at the moment and wait for the transcendent creature cultivation base to become bigger and stronger.

Or rather, if he encountered more transcendent creatures in the future, he would take advantage of the time before he developed feelings for them and directly harvest them as evolution materials.

After spending three months, Levi had completely absorbed all the advanced potions using the Blood Refinement Method.

Compared to the previous two times, this time was even smoother.

Now, his Sky Dragon Breathing Technique had advanced to level 15.

Levi-

[Sky Dragon Breathing Technique: Level 15 (1/700,000). Special Effect: Sky Dragon Pillar (Level 3). Wind Thunder Remnants, 3000 Fallen Feathers. Bloodline Dharma Idol: Wind and Thunder; Exclusive Weapon: None]

...

Sky Dragon at level 15 brought about two changes.

The first was the increase in his endurance attribute. In terms of endurance, Levi had become even more powerful. His physical strength had become more abundant. This increase could be reflected in his other five-dimensional breathing techniques.

The second was the birth of the Bloodline Dharma Idol.

In a flash, white Sky Dragon power overflowed from behind him, forming a white storm.

In the center of the storm, the shadow of a Sky Dragon covered in white feathers appeared.

Wind Thunder Power rolled on the surface of the Sky Dragon's body like clouds.

Accompanied by crackling explosions, violent winds, and thunderstorms condensed in the Sky Dragon phantom, and the momentum was terrifying.

The image of the Sky Dragon seemed to be able to mobilize the power of the world, and it gave off a wonderful sense of harmony!

This was the Sky Dragon Dharma Idol, which Levi named:

Wind and Thunder Surge!

It was the same as [Golden Snake Dance] and [Heaven Burning Crimson Emperor].

The first function of this Dharma Idol was still defense.

This meant that in theory, Levi could use the eleventh layer of defense at his limit.

Of course, in most cases, unless he was fighting against a fifth-circle opponent, Levi did not need to expend so much energy.

The defense of the Wind and Thunder Surge was average, at the level of an ordinary fourth-circle protective force field.

This was because the Sky Dragon's level was much lower than the Crimson Emperor Dragon. It was also understandable that it did not specialize in defense.

Wind and Thunder Surge could also release terrifying electric currents and hurricanes from the body through the power of the Sky Dragon to attack the enemy. Its power was similar to that of a fourth-circle spell.

All of the above were just side effects of the Wind and Thunder Surge.

It was a Dharma Idol born from an endurance-type breathing technique.

Its biggest function was naturally related to endurance.

After casting the Dharma Idol, Levi could feel the Wind Thunder Power surging into his body.

This power was not elemental power, but pure energy.

This reminded Levi of the child of the Sea God and the God of Earth in ancient Greek mythology:

Arion!

As long as this god stood on the ground, he would have endless power.

Levi's current situation was similar.

After the Dharma Idol was released, he could obtain power from the Wind Thunder Power born from the Dharma Idol. The wind that was blowing in the high sky brushed past the Dharma Idol, and tiny traces of energy surged into his body. It was a magical experience.

In order to verify his guess, Levi went to the sky and displayed his Dharma Idol.

"Raja!" Levi shouted.

The Wind Thunder Winged Dragon appeared in front of Levi.

"Use your power, be it wind or lightning, and attack me as much as you want."

Chapter 1055: Redefine Knight System

Raja was used to it.

It immediately began to cast its spell-like abilities, and a gale and thunderstorm swept toward Levi.

Levi activated the Wind and Thunder Surge Dharma Idol. Other than that, he did not have any other defensive measures.

With Raja's attacks, the Wind and Thunder Surge was enough.

Boom!

After the terrifying electric currents and gales entered the range of Levi's Sky Dragon Dharma Idol, the Wind Thunder Power on the Sky Dragon's body became even denser.

At the same time, Levi felt that there seemed to be an endless stream of energy flowing into his body.

"This feeling... It's like charging or generating electricity. I can stimulate my body through lightning, and it's as if I've been injected with hormones and taken a blue pill. The power of the wind is like wind power, constantly increasing the intensity of the lightning's stimulation."

All in all, when fighting against Raja's wind and lightning attacks, Levi felt that his strength was inexhaustible.

If he was fighting a wizard from the Lightning Faction or the Storm Faction, he would be able to defeat them.

This meant that as long as the opponent's attack could not kill Levi, it could make Levi stronger and more tenacious.

Because when he was being beaten up, he was also charging up!

At this moment, Levi's eleventh layer of his stacked armors was revealed.

As long as his opponent was not an experienced fifth-circle wizard, ordinary fifth-circle wizards from the Thunder or Storm Faction should not be able to kill or severely injure Levi.

In this way, Levi could rely on the Wind and Thunder Surge Dharma Idol to quickly recharge his batteries from their attacks.

Then, his various defensive fields would be more durable, and his attacks would become more and more fierce.

It formed a virtuous cycle and eventually exhausted the other party to death.

"In theory, it's feasible. In fact... Why would I let a fifth-circle wizard beat me up? However, if I meet Sorrett again, I might be able to fight him."

It was precisely because of this abnormal ability that Levi named the Dharma Idol 'Wind and Thunder Surge'.

To put it bluntly, it was the 'Wind Power Generation' Dharma Idol. This would let Levi continue practicing his green and sustainable development philosophy.

Now, inside Levi's body.

In the center was the Crimson Emperor Divine Palace, where the Crimson Emperor Dragon sat on top of the throne.

On the left was the golden and resplendent Golden Snake Divine Palace. Golden snakes coiled around the pillars.

Now, on the right, another white divine palace suddenly appeared. It was pure white and holy, filled with lightning.

This was the Sky Divine Palace!

The giant dragon of wind and lightning, which was covered in white feathers and represented the sky, floated above the Divine Palace.

The endurance dimension had officially entered the Third Transformation of the Blood Source, which was level 4 of the knight realm.

"The only flaw is that the Sky Dragon still lacks a divine weapon."

Levi sighed and left the Imperial Palace.

The Dusk Holy Temple.

Levi arrived quietly.

On the training ground, two grand knights were fighting.

One of them held a halberd in his hand. His arm was as thick as a bucket, and there was a tattoo on his arm that looked like a horned beetle.

This horned beetle was a creature called the Heavenly Halberd Beast. It had immense strength and could move mountains. Its horn could pierce the sky.

The other grand knight was also extremely strong. Black gas covered his upper body as if he was made of steel. There was also a tattoo of a Crocodile Armored Turtle on his arm. He held a shield in his left hand and a door sword in his right hand.

Levi stood high in the sky and watched the battle between the two grand knights with great interest.

Their battle had also attracted many ordinary knights.

“That’s Halberd Knight, a genius of the current generation of the One-Horned Beetle Clan. Although he only cultivates the excellent grade strength breathing technique, he’s very talented. He’s only thirty years old now, but he’s already at the level of a top-notch grand knight.

“The other is the Snapping Turtle Knight. He’s also has very good potential. Now that there’s an Advancement Potion, if nothing happens to them in the future, they have a chance to advance to legendary level.” Dinos appeared beside Levi and explained.

“It seems that the Talent Brand has progressed quite well after all I’ve gone into seclusion for a few years.” Levi smiled.

“Yes, after Andrew broke through the 0 to 1 dilemma, we started to draw inferences. Other than the Shield Brand, we also made breakthroughs in the Battle Sword Brand and Phantom Brand.

“But so far, it’s only limited to the cantrip level of branding. In order to compare it with the wizard civilization, Andrew and I call it [Level 0 Branding].”

After growing up in the Dusk Holy Temple for so many years, Dinos had become more mature and steady. His eyes were shining with wisdom.

“This is already an amazing achievement. Not bad.” Levi commented sincerely.

“So far, the grand knights who had three basic dimensions of defense, speed, and strength in the temple have already mastered their first Talent Brand. For ordinary knights, the level of their Bloodline Seed is too low, and their blood qi is too thin. They can’t support the consumption of the brand at all,” said Dinos.

Levi nodded and said, “If that’s the case, in order to connect with the wizard civilization and for the convenience of our own internal management, we might need to re-divide the traditional knight realm into a more reasonable division.”

Previously, the division of the knight’s realm was limited by the knight’s vision and the knowledge of mortals. It was too rough and simple, not as intuitive and systematic as the wizard civilization.

Now that the Dusk Holy Temple wanted to lead the knights on a new path, it was necessary to redefine the name of the knight combat system.

“That makes sense. Commander, do you have any ideas?” asked Dinos.

“The path of the wizard can currently be divided into three levels of apprentice, followed by the first to the third to the ninth circle. Above the ninth circle, they are known as legendary!”

Chapter 1056: The New Knight System and Improvements

“In terms of the path of knights, before becoming a true transcendent and becoming a first-class Blood Awakening Knight, the traditional division was:

“Knight Attendants, Official Knights, Grand Knights, Top-Notch Grand Knights... Below Official Knights, it was further divided into beginner, middle, advanced, and peak levels.

“In fact, all these realms are still within the scope of apprentice wizards.

“So, my idea is:

“A level one knight, which is below Blood Awakening, will be a trainee knight.

“Trainee knights are divided into three grades: low, intermediate, and high.

“The first tier allows one to grasp at least one Talent Brand, and grasp the same power as an apprentice wizard. Moreover, due to their own combat techniques and breathing techniques, their strength is not inferior to low-level apprentice wizards.

“The second and third grades are divided according to the number of Talent Brands you have mastered and the realm of the breathing technique. The specific details of the division need to be perfected in the following practice. What do you think?” asked Levi.

Dinos nodded and said, “I also agree with this. It’ll be more convenient for the temple to evaluate knights in the future. After everyone has mastered more brands, we will carry out experiments and evaluations. Finally, we will come up with the standards for beginner, intermediate, and advanced brands.”

Below them, the battle between the Halberd Knight and the Snapping Turtle Knight had reached its climax.

The two young knights released their talents.

A three-meter-long Heavenly Halberd Beast phantom charged forward like a charging knight, unstoppable!

On the other side, the Snapping Turtle Knight raised his left arm, and the brand instantly came alive. A ferocious crocodile-headed giant turtle appeared and roared towards the sky!

Boom!

The giant turtle was sent flying by the horn. The Halberd Knight was still stronger. He laughed heartily in a carefree manner.

The Snapping Turtle Knight was hit by the aftershock and flew out with a muffled grunt. In the next moment, his thick body was supported by a powerful hand so that he did not fall on his face.

After stabilizing himself, the Snapping Turtle Knight was shocked when he saw the owner of the big hand. The other knights also bowed.

That person had a determined expression and sharp features. He was wearing pitch-black magic armor and a scarlet cloak. He was tall and imposing, and his aura was heaven-devouring!

“Hello, Commander!”

A loud shout rang out in the training ground.

“You guys continue.” Levi said with a smile, waved his hand, and turned to leave.

He was just someone who was hiding at home with nowhere to show off and just wanted to show off his Indestructible Armor.

“I was actually saved by the commander. He was holding my back just now. I can’t wash this armor...”
The Snapping Turtle Knight muttered in his heart, unable to react. ~~He~~ ~~was~~ ~~not~~ ~~reacting~~

He was merely a grand knight. How could he be saved by the Supreme Knight, the supreme existence and leader of the Holy Temple, the Ancient Dragon Emperor, the unsurpassable knight on the path of knights?

Levi, on the other hand, went to Andrew’s research site and found that the young man had made great progress in both the path of knights and the path of wizards. His research results were also increasing, and Levi was very pleased!

He called for the 54th round table meeting of the Twilight Knights.

The Midland team had already recruited some knights with very good potential and planned to send them to the headquarters after a period of testing.

As for the Goddess Knight, she had advanced to the realm of a second-circle wizard. Her talent was not bad to begin with, and she had been in the Wizard World for a long time. Advancement was simply a matter of time.

The Dark Moon Knight was already at the peak of the Blood Awakening stage. He was now a member of the Phantom Brand Research Team.

The Blood Knight of the Forsaken Land of the Gods seemed to have his own fortuitous encounters. His strength had increased significantly, and he had also provided the holy temple with a lot of information about the other side.

The other knights had their own encounters.

During the years that Levi had been in seclusion, the holy temple and its members had been improving.

After the meeting ended, he left the Ancient Saint plane. He had been in seclusion for too long.

There were only ten years left until the opening of the Dark Ancient Tower. He planned to master the Storm School of Thought's innate spells in these ten years.

Along the way, the Thunder Dragon surrounded him and roared. Suddenly, the fluctuations of a battle of spells came from below.

Levi sent out Perception and discovered a group of ugly Cave Wizards in black robes.

They were attacking an island. There was a third-circle protective array on it that was constantly flickering. It was obvious that it could not hold on.

“Looks like another wizard organization has come to the human world.” Levi muttered to himself. Suddenly, his eyes moved.

The figure of a blue-robed witch in the array was somewhat familiar.

He couldn’t help but think back to 90 years ago when he was cultivating his spirit in the mortal world of the Yellow Earth Continent. At that time, he was still a rookie at the peak of the second-circle.

Chapter 1057: Giant Beast Paradise, Four-Circle Veteran! (1)

The mortal world, outer sea region, Paradise Island.

Five years ago, this was just an ordinary deserted island.

Melina and a group of young wizards from the School of Spiritualism arrived here and established the organization known as Paradise.

Subsequently, the entire island became a base for nurturing transcendent creatures.

However, now...

Melina gazed at the crumbling third-circle array, feeling desolate and hopeless.

She had thought that choosing this remote location in the outer sea region would be safer.

Indeed, it had been safe for a long time, a full five years without any disturbances.

During these five years, the infrastructure of Paradise had been mostly established, thriving.

The storms and upheavals on the Seven Kingdoms Continent had nothing to do with them.

However, not long ago, a group of cave wizards happened to pass by Paradise Island while wreaking havoc in the mortal world and discovered it.

Cave wizards were essentially the “dark wizards” of the mortal world.

Having lived in harsh environments for a long time, they, like locusts, plundered everything in sight to survive.

At this moment, a group of wicked and arrogant forces outside the array, comprising more than a dozen wizards, was fiercely attacking the array!

These people hailed from a level four cave on the outskirts of the Forsaken Land of the God.

The Cave Lord was a Fourth-Circle Wizard named Gargoyle Ur, a powerful figure!

Beside Ur were three third-circle wizards and more than ten low-level wizards.

Even in the outer sea region of the Endless Sea, this force was significant, let alone in the mortal world.

With a wave of a third-circle wizard's hand, a huge rock formed and hurled towards the array.

Boom!

The array trembled once again.

"Hehehe, surrender! Our leader is a Fourth-Circle Wizard... Even though you have a third-circle grand array, how long can you hold out against such intense attacks?" řǺNoǾĚŞ

On the side of Paradise, including Melina, there were also three third-circle wizards.

But they didn't have the strength of fourth-circle level.

That's why Melina felt so hopeless.

The fourth-circle wizard with grim features and iron-blue skin hadn't even made a move yet!

"Master, the enemy's attacks are too fierce, and the array consumes too much. We have to replenish the Aether Stones, and our reserves are running low..." A third-circle wizard named Frick, who was Melina's father's student and a master in nurturing transcendent creatures, asked.

"Master, should we deactivate the array? We still have those transcendent creatures to fight them off," Third-Circle Wizard Ray suggested.

Melina replied, "I have a fourth-circle spell scroll that my father left me. If used properly, it can kill that fourth-circle wizard."

Frick instantly understood. "Then Ray and I will distract the other third-circle wizards, giving you a chance. Focus on staying safe. If you can't kill him, then escape. With your father's legacy, as long as you're alive, Paradise can be rebuilt!"

Melina fell silent for a moment. "Let's give it a try."

In an instant, the third-circle array completely failed.

Frick and Ray, both third-circle wizards, summoned their respective Spiritual Beasts, a Level 3 Ghost Tiger Eagle and a Dark Terrifying Wolf!

Melina summoned her own Six-Winged Sky Sea Dragon!

This was a powerful mixed-blood dragon. The complete form was the Ten-Winged Sky Sea Dragon King, a fifth-level being.

With her talent, as long as she continued her training diligently, she could become as strong as her father. By then, she would be able to protect Paradise in the mortal world.

But now, the opportunity seemed slim!

"Ah, are you going all out now?" Ur's grim face twisted into a cruel smile.

With a wave of his hand, a fourth-circle Meteor Burst was unleashed!

Meteors fell from the sky, exploding with a terrifying shockwave.

The Six-Winged Sky Sea Dragon was blasted away.

“Hydra, hold him off for a while longer!” Melina commanded.

The already injured Hydra let out a roar and sent a terrifying water dragon towards Ur.

Ur sneered, clasping his hands together, and stone arms emerged from all directions, once again swatting away Hydra.

“This is the difference between fourth-circle and third-circle,” Ur sneered.

But in the next moment, his expression changed.

While he was busy dealing with Hydra, Melina tore open a scroll.

“Fourth-circle spell, Flame Fire Drill!”

The shadow of a Flame Dragon Centipede emerged and rushed towards Ur.

The Flame Dragon Centipede was her father's fifth-level Spiritual Beast. This was a lifesaving scroll her father had made for her. She even had a fifth-circle scroll before, but it was used up in the Endless Sea.

Ur's protective force field flickered as countless stone arms wrapped around him.

Boom!

"Boss!"

Other wizards exclaimed in shock.

In the firelight, Ur's figure emerged, battered but not critically injured.

The black body-refining runes on his body shone, making him look like a real stone statue!

"Do you know why I'm called the Gargoyle? Because I practice both spells and body-refining!" Ur sneered inwardly.

Body-refining wizards were not much different from ancient times to now.

There were fewer wizards walking this path, so progress was slow, and development stagnated.

In some aspects, modern body-refining techniques were even regressing compared to ancient times.

Ur practiced the “Gargoyle Body Refining Technique,” which could be cultivated to the realm of a fifth-circle wizard. It was created by ancient wizards based on the Gargoyle, this specific kind of devil in Hell.

Chapter 1058: Giant Beast Paradise, Four-Circle Veteran! (2)

Melina turned and fled at the sight of this.

Ur shot out like a cannonball, his demonic gargoyle wings unfurling.

On the other side, Frick, Ray, and the others panicked, wanting to help Melina but unable to.

“Why run? Be my servant, and I’ll spare your life,” Ur chuckled calmly.

Seeing their leader unharmed, the other cave wizards breathed a sigh of relief, their arrogance returning.

Melina's force field flickered incessantly as she desperately tried to escape, but Ur was getting closer.

Hydra, desperate to protect its master, emerged from the sea, only to be swatted away by Ur, heavily injured.

Melina, whose life was linked to Hydra's, suddenly felt weak, spitting out blood.

"Ahaha!"

Ur's ghostly claws reached out for Melina.

But in a split second, a ripple appeared in front of him, and serpent-like Hermit Runes vanished into thin air.

A burly man clad in black flame magic armor with a blood-red cloak draped over his shoulders stood there, arms crossed, his posture upright.

His appearance was so sudden, and Ur's speed so fast, that with a loud clang, Ur slammed into the man's chest.

The collision between Ur's gargoyle body and the man's armor occurred.

The man stood unmoved like a mountain. He hadn't even made a move, yet Ur was sent flying.

Cracks appeared on Ur's stone body, with black flames crawling like maggots on the surface.

Ur looked bewildered for a moment, then quickly reacted.

He turned and tried to run, only to find a majestic alchemical creature with blazing wings blocking his way.

"Who are you? Why do you block my path? I am Gargoyle Ur!" Ur said coldly.

"Ur? Never heard of you. Phoenix, let's beat him unconscious... leave him alive," Levi said casually.

"Blood Lady, kill the rest of the small fries."

The Blood-Armored Corpse Demon wielded the Moonlight Greatsword, charging into the enemy ranks, hacking wildly, blood and flesh flying!

Levi had been observing for a while. He only showed up now to avoid getting caught in a bigger vortex. After all, there were some powerful primordial soul-level forces among the cave wizards.

On the other hand, he had a plan.

Melina was from the School of Spiritualism, as were the other wizards on this island.

Spiritualist wizards were exactly the kind of talent Levi needed to establish a base for cultivating transcendent creatures!

So, he decided to find a way to recruit them.

And if he wanted to recruit them, he had to establish his authority!

At Melina's most desperate moment, a sudden surge of divine power left behind a tall, handsome figure, combined with the charm bonus from her Lover's Rune, recruiting him would be much easier!

Phoenix rode Tyrant IV, the Emperor of Flames roaring, the Thunder God thundering!

Phoenix fought hard, remembering the Black Light Master whenever he saw a Cave Wizard.

If it weren't for the Black Light Master, he wouldn't have been captured by Levi!

Ur's proud gargoyle body was covered in cracks and blood from the Flame Dragon Sword.

It didn't take much effort to subdue Ur.

On the other side, the Blood-Armored Corpse Demon had already slaughtered Ur's minions.

Ur was escorted to Levi's presence by Phoenix.

"Want to live? Or do you want to die?" Levi's question was straightforward.

"Live! I want to live! I'm willing to do anything!" Ur saw a glimmer of hope and quickly replied.

Having lived in the Forsaken Land of the God for hundreds of years, no one was more eager to live than him.

"Good choice, very wise."

Excalibur appeared, and Ur swore as required.

Levi didn't take Ur's worthless wizard tools and meager Aether Stones.

Instead, he took his knowledge of spells, most importantly, his book “Gargoyle Body Tempering Technique.”

“Such a good technique wasted on Ur, it should belong to me!”

This was a body tempering technique that could be practiced up to the fifth circle, on par with the Ice Body Tempering Technique.

It would be very useful for Levi to continue to explore body tempering techniques in the future!

“This is quite unexpected,” Levi said, in a good mood.

After enslaving Ur, Levi looked at Melina, who was expressionless.

A century of time, years of suffering had matured Melina, her gaze firmer than ever.

Levi felt the same. As Melina looked at the figure before her, memories of a distant past began to overlap.

Though they had only met briefly, it left a profound impression on her.

“Miss Melina, it’s been a while,” Levi smiled.

“Senior, are you from Mirror Lake... Levi?” Melina was shocked.

When they parted ways, Levi was just at the peak of the second circle, not much stronger than her. Now, in just a hundred years, she had barely reached the senior level of the third circle, mastering her second innate spell. Yet, Levi could effortlessly overpower Ur, a fourth-circle wizard.

It’s worth noting that Ur, despite being a cave wizard of an outdated version, was no weakling with his dual cultivation. Judging from Levi’s performance, his true strength was at least at the perfection of the fourth circle, if not the fifth.

“What has happened in this hundred years?” Melina couldn’t help but wonder.

“Long time no see. Why don’t we have a chat in this place?” Levi suggested with a smile.

Melina was pleasantly surprised by Levi’s courteous attitude, which made her feel even more that Levi was unfathomable.

“Senior, what about these cave wizards?”

“I can still make some use of Ur, so spare his life. As for the others, kill them all,” Levi chuckled.

“Understood, Senior. I’ll go and reassure my companions first, then catch up with you,” Melina said as she arrived at Paradise Island.

Chapter 1059: Giant Beast Paradise, Four-Circle Veteran! (3)

Although the recent battle was perilous, Levi’s timely appearance prevented significant casualties, with only some of the transcendent creatures being startled.

“Melina... who was that presence?” Frick hesitated.

The powerful figure in the sky effortlessly dealt with the Fourth-Circle Wizard, a strength that seemed out of place in the mortal realm, especially since Melina seemed to know them.

“An acquaintance from before. Everything’s fine now. You and Ray should take care of things here,” Melina smiled, gradually calming her emotions.

“Alright, you take care,” Ray said.

Melina tidied herself up and quickly flew into the sky.

“Melina has so many friends from outside. If not for that acquaintance, we would have perished here,” Frick said with lingering fear.

“It’s so hard to find a peaceful place nowadays,” Ray sighed.

High in the sky, Levi set up a soundproof barrier and learned from Melina about her recent experiences. He felt sympathy for her.

“What are your plans now?” Levi asked.

“I’ll continue to find a place to rebuild Paradise,” Melina said helplessly.

“And then? What if you encounter such enemies again?”

“I... I don’t know. Surely, I won’t be that unlucky again, right?” Melina’s gaze was lost in confusion.

She realized her strength was too weak to protect Paradise from harm.

“You know Sir Newt. I am a transcendent biologist as well,” Levi smiled.

Melina nodded.

“Your idea of Paradise is excellent. You have the ideas, and I have the power. I have a safe place where you can conduct your research on transcendent creatures undisturbed. The elemental power there is more concentrated than in the mortal realm.”

Levi's tone was confident. He and Melina were no longer living in the same world, seeing different landscapes.

"If you have any requirements, just let me know," Melina said after thinking for a moment.

"I can provide you with a base, even more transcendent creatures, and the necessary funds, but you and your organization must pledge allegiance to me. You must swear an oath on a treasure of mine. As long as you don't violate the oath, nothing will happen, but if you do, the price will be... your life. I won't interfere with your normal research, as long as it is related to transcendent creatures. What I want to do is establish a Giant Beast Paradise, filled with transcendent creatures." Levi stated bluntly.

"Senior, let me consider it, and I need to discuss it with my companions. I can't make decisions for everyone," Melina said after some thought.

She was torn inside. She didn't want to rely on major powers anymore, which is why she had refused the Starfire Wizard Academy's invitation. But now, this situation forced her to reconsider the future of Paradise.

"Very well, go ahead and give me an answer as soon as possible," Levi's gaze was serious as he looked at Melina.

Melina nodded and returned to Paradise Island.

Next, there was intense discussion among the people, and the differences were likely significant.

Levi closed his eyes in contemplation. If necessary, he would resort to force.

If it weren't for him, they would have died at the hands of the Cave Wizards long ago. The weak must have the resolve of the weak.

Before long, Melina approached Levi.

"Senior, we agree to join."

"All of you?"

"Yes, all of us!"

"Very well."

Levi ascended above Paradise Island, and the Sword of Oath materialized behind him, reaching into the sky.

"To receive my protection, you must swear under this sword according to my terms. Once sworn, you must not break your oath, or else face death!"

If their knowledge wasn't what Levi needed, he wouldn't bother with this level of commitment.

Melina and the members of Paradise organization all swore their oaths under the sword.

Levi had originally intended to go to the Seven Kingdoms Continent, but now he changed his plans on the spot.

"Don't resist. I'll take you to the base," Levi said.

With a wave of his hand, these people were sent into Alice's ring.

Levi was currently in seclusion in the mortal realm, so the transcendent creatures lived near the Emperor's Palace.

Inside Alice's ring, it was temporarily quiet.

"What a huge space... This must be a fourth-circle, or even fifth-circle, transcendent creature artifact," Ray exclaimed.

"It seems Senior is indeed a transcendent biologist," Melina felt relieved.

Before long, Levi arrived at the entrance to the Ancient Saint plane.

In the Inferno Hell, blood vampires and poison fire corpse demons held sway.

While in the Rolling Stone Hell, Mountain Giant Bo Gang presided.

“Bo Gang, you no longer need to oversee this place. Return to the Ancient Saint plane and focus on your cultivation. Ascend to the rank of Fourth-Circle Wizard as soon as possible,” Levi said.

“Master, who will guard the Rolling Stone Hell then?” Bo Gang asked.

“Let him.”

Levi released Ur.

Ur, like a startled bird, surveyed the giant array before him.

“Guard this array for me for a hundred years, then you can focus on your cultivation in my secret realm,” Levi said.

Ur's talent was quite remarkable; his ability to cultivate both body and magic in the resource-poor Forsaken Land of the God was proof enough. There was hope for him to advance to the fifth circle, making him valuable.

Ur heard this and calculated in his mind. Fourth-Circle Wizards typically lived for about seven hundred years, and he was currently four hundred years old. With retirement at five hundred, he still had two hundred years of freedom ahead of him.

Chapter 1060: Giant Beast Paradise, Four-Circle Veteran! (4)

He hadn't expected Levi to be so humane; it was like working for the wizard organization of his dreams!

"These are some of the latest spells from the Earth School of Thought. Study them while you guard the array, strengthen your abilities. As long as you remain loyal, you can also receive some cultivation resources from me each year," Levi said.

"Thank you, sir. I am deeply grateful," Ur said solemnly, stowing away the spells.

Despite being bound by Excalibur's oath before, he had still felt uneasy. But now, he truly felt like he had submitted.

As a dark wizard, his main goal had always been to seize resources for cultivation. By coming here to guard the gate, he had achieved his objective directly. Why wouldn't he seize this opportunity?

Levi departed with Bo Gang. Balancing benevolence and authority was crucial for effective management.

In Inferno Hell, the blood vampires watched Ur, a newcomer, and internally sighed with understanding, "Another one who took a shortcut instead of wandering for a hundred years. For nomadic wizards, the end of the road is always here at the gate!"

Ancient Saint plane.

Levi released Melina and the others from the ring.

"Senior, where are we?" Melina asked, looking at this world different from the mortal realm.

Mountains, plains, towering primeval forests, and the distant roar of beasts.

"This is my secret realm, you can call it the Ancient Saint Secret Realm."

The Ancient Saint plane was a small-scale plane. In terms of size, it wasn't much larger than the Nora plane's large-scale secret realms. However, those large-scale secret realms were all controlled by top-tier organizations.

"All the creatures in this secret realm are bred by me. There are even some fierce level 4 creatures inside, so don't wander around. They won't recognize you," Levi said.

"Yes, senior."

“I will arrange a base for you to breed transcendent creatures. You can build the Giant Beast Paradise here. In addition to the Giant Beast Paradise, there are two other organizations in this secret realm: the Dusk Holy Temple and the Ancient Dragon Empire. These two organizations are also under my control. I will inform them about you, and from now on, you will each be independent. Just remember to be responsible to me and not to kill each other. If you need help, Melina, you can go to the leaders of those two organizations,” Levi said calmly.

The members of Paradise were overwhelmed by this revelation..

“To possess such a vast secret realm, and even two formidable-sounding organizations, is this person so accomplished at such a young age? Even the son of the Tower Master of the Spiritualism Steeple wouldn’t be this wealthy!” Frick couldn’t believe it.

They had learned from Melina that Levi was about the same age as her, and among wizards at their level, they were considered young. In their eyes, Levi was now a real winner in life.

Next, Levi instructed the Senior State Assembly to liaise with Melina and carve out a piece of land from the Ancient Dragon Empire to begin construction of the Giant Beast Paradise.

Wizard towers, bloodline libraries, breeding grounds, feed planting areas, training grounds, wilderness areas... A series of basic infrastructure projects commenced. P

With the assistance of the Senior State Assembly, all these endeavors were completed in less than half a year.

In the Month of Flowers in the Holy Brilliance Calendar of the year 1155, the Giant Beast Paradise was officially established.

While Levi held the honorary title of headmaster, the actual management was overseen by the senior employee, Melina.

With expertise in their respective fields, after the establishment of the Paradise, Melina and other Paradise staff specialized in classifying and numbering the low-level transcendent creatures Levi had previously kept scattered. They began artificial breeding and even simulated their natural habitats using small arrays.

The Paradise also registered the long-single transcendent creatures and handed the list to Levi, who then passed it on to other members of the Knights, especially those from the Midland Squad, to find mates for these solitary beings.

The Midland Continent, relatively rich in resources, still retained many populations of transcendent creatures, making it a vast treasure trove.

With this arrangement, Levi could once again be hands-off.

As the leader of three organizations and the owner of the Ancient Saint plane, he only needed to oversee the big picture. Every detail was crucial, but cultivation remained his top priority.

...

Several months later, Levi emerged from seclusion.

“Chariot Rune, level 8, speed increased by 70%. Next, I need to prepare for the fifth innate spell.”

The Storm Faction, emphasizing speed and control, commonly used spells such as “Gale” and “Dragon Twister.”

Therefore, his second Fourth-Circle Talent naturally fell into three categories.

First, continue to develop long-distance escape skills like Thunder Dragon Flash, focusing on long-distance mobility.

Second, develop short-distance teleportation and movement auxiliary spells, such as “Shadow Step.”

Third, focus on control.

As for attack spells like Wind Blade and Air Cannon, they were not within his consideration.

After some thought, Levi decided to pursue the second direction.

In terms of speed, he already had Thunder Dragon Flash, Scarlet Shadow, and Scarlet Escape, which were sufficient.

Instead, he needed to develop a skill for short-range sudden assaults, maximizing his melee advantage and complementing his path of knights.

With his direction set, Levi left the Ancient Saint plane.

He found the teleportation portal leading to the Realm of Divine Wind and arrived at the Storm Faction's dojo.

Similar to the Endless Sea, the Realm of Divine Wind was located on a vast sea, albeit much smaller in size.

In this realm called the Sea of Wind, terrifying storms and violent winds raged year-round, making the howling of the winds the dominant melody here.
