

Wizard 110

Chapter 110: Advanced Waves! (2)

Due to the rarity of Pyroxene, he had not made much progress with the Seal of Protection. Levi had also been working hard to collect casting materials, but many things could not be done with hard work.

The last Seal of Dragon Might was Levi's eternal pain.

Although an evil spirit was entrenched in the Black Water River, and killing it had a high chance of obtaining Evil Spirit Dust, Levi did not dare to do so.

That thing had left a shadow on his childhood.

Most importantly, even the grand knight Magic Shark could only flee in fear when he saw it. Levi naturally did not dare to look for it now.

Fortunately, during this period, when Levi had ordered them not to go to the Black Water River, the evil spirit did not appear again.

Levi felt that this evil spirit did not attack everyone indiscriminately but targeted specific people as if it could only be seen by them.

Previously, many fishermen had stayed by the Black Water River. They needed the Black Water River to fish and bathe.

However, no one had heard of fishermen being attacked, nor had anyone seen this evil spirit.

Magic Shark stayed in the Black Water River for a while before the evil spirit appeared.

D*mn it; that was blatant targeting!

This evil spirit was a time bomb hidden in the Black Water River.

He would have to deal with it sooner or later, or rather, abandon the Black Water Valley completely.

Since Magic Shark could escape from the evil spirit, it meant that the evil spirit was not invincible. There was a high chance that the black gas could injure it.

Levi only needed to strengthen his black gas continuously. Perhaps he could finish the other party without the Seal of Dragon Might.

Of course, the requirements for this were too high. A grand Imight could only protect himself. Perhaps, it would require the strength of a top-tier grand knight to resolve it.

After he finished cultivating, his stomach grumbled. Levi knew that the energy reserves in the whale sac had been used up.

Next was the monthly “Gluttony Time.”

He ordered the servants to bring food up, filling the long table. Levi wolfed down the food as if he was a ruthless eating machine.

He checked the recent situation reports of the territory.

Ever since the whale sac, the Gluttony Time every month was also the time for Levi to understand the situation in the outside world.

After reading the report, Levi had eaten sufficient food for a month. This food was quickly converted into energy reserves in the whale sac.

Everything was fine in the territory, and there were no uninvited guests. There was nothing else besides that Abraham, the rascal, came to look for Levi again a while ago.

Levi did not take it to heart. Abraham had never given up on buying Black Water Valley from Levi.

However, under Levi’s “passionate attack,” the rascal’s attitude was much better.

On this day, Levi came out to get some fresh air while cultivating in the shelter.

Harris, his snow eagle hovering in the sky, let out a high-pitched cry. This was a warning sound.

Levi stood on top of the city tower. Not long after, two figures appeared on the small road in the territory.

"Why are you here again?" Levi looked at Abraham and Knight Glimmer, who had suddenly appeared and frowned.

He had just given this year's tax to the rascal some time ago.

It seemed that he had indeed come to find him three days ago for something. Levi had Magic Shark hide next to the council hall while he went to the castle to welcome them.

"Priest Abraham, what brings a busy man like you here?" Levi smiled kindly, like a normal nineteen-year-old boy.

Priest Abraham also revealed his signature hypocritical smile. "Baron Levi, it's been a while since we last met. I missed you a lot. I visited you a few days ago, but you were busy, so I left temporarily."

Abraham was much older, and Levi noticed his energy was not as good as before.

His heart tightened.

"Not good; he wouldn't die of old age before I get my revenge, right?" Levi thought.

"This won't do. I have to hurry up and take revenge. If I don't, my enemies will

Be old!"

"Don't let waiting become a regret!"

Levi decided that after some time, he would bring along the White Wolf Mask and kill Abraham. At the same time, he would take back all the "savings" he gave to the rascal.

"Baron Levi, thank you for your selfless help to the church and me during this period. Oh, Heavenly Father, having such a kind noble like you is the kingdom's pride. However, I still have something to discuss with you. This matter is of great importance. Let's go in and talk," Abraham said.

Levi smiled, "Alright, Priest Abraham."

Knight Glimmer stood beside Abraham in the meeting hall, his head held high and his chest puffing out. As a priest, he had advanced from a mid-level to a high-level knight over the years.

He did not know if it was his imagination, but Baron Levi had given him a very scary feeling after not seeing him for some time.

This feeling was like facing the seven grand Radiant Knights.

He could tell Baron Levi must have practised breathing techniques and was probably an official knight. However, he did not feel like an ordinary knight.

Knight Glimmer suppressed his doubts and muttered, "Perhaps I've put my fear for his father into his shoes. It's probably just an illusion."

The former Black Snake grand knight had shocked and terrified too many people.

"Priest Abraham, if you have any questions, just ask. I'll try my best to satisfy them," Levi said with a smile.

"So, I might be leaving Icewind Valley next year and returning to the headquarters of the Royal Church. I've been here for so long, and I'm very grateful to Baron Levi for supporting my work. The Abraham Church is also thriving, and the benevolent Heavenly Father has redeemed more souls of original sin that need to be freed.

"The new Priest Zaroff will take over my position after I leave. Within the church, Priest Zaroff is known as the "Shameless Priest" by some people. He often used evil means to achieve his goals, and his temper was unpredictable.

"At that time, if you become Zaroff's neighbour, life might not be easy for you...

"Seeing that we have a good relationship, Baron Levi, I'll give you a way out. Sell Black Water Valley to me. I'm willing to offer twice the previous price because it has been built well over the years.

"After you get this money, find a place and live a quiet life. It'll be much better than now. I heard that the Serpent Vulture Knight died in an accident some time ago. Baron Levi, it must be difficult for you to manage this territory alone."

Abraham looked at Levi. He was about to leave this area. Although he was unwilling to let the church that he had worked so hard to run for so many years benefit the next generation, this was the rule of the higher-ups. He had no choice.

However, the treasure of the Mellon family in the Black Water Valley had always been in Abraham's heart. Now that he was about to leave, he could not waste time with Levi. If Levi refused, Abraham might have to learn from the shameless Priest Zaraf and do something evil.

"Priest Abraham, this matter is of great importance. Please give me another seven days, and I will give you a satisfactory answer," Levi said seriously.

"Alright, I hope Baron Levi will consider it carefully. I won't disturb you any further."

Then, Abraham left the territory with Knight Glimmer.

Levi looked at the distant Priest Abraham. He did not know why this rascal insisted on buying his land. Was something special about his territory?

However, he did not care anymore. He had been dormant for so many years. It was time to collect the interest.

Three days later, the moon was dark in the Frost Wind Territory, and the wind was cold.

In Abraham's church, a soundless black shadow was lying on the dome of the Church. His body shrunk, and he wore the White Wolf Mask. It was Levi.

Abraham was flipping through the church's account books in his bedroom. "What a pity, what a pity. I wouldn't want to return if it weren't for the headquarters," Abraham sighed.

"But as long as we can find the Mellon family's treasure before Zaroff arrives, it will be fine," he muttered.

This was a secret that belonged to him alone. It was also why he was so obsessed with Black Water Valley.

A figure appeared behind Abraham, silent.

He was holding Knight Glimmer's head in his hand. The head was still emitting a cold aura and was covered in a frost layer.

The next moment, Abraham's head was grabbed by a large hand. With a gentle twist, Levi took it off like he was plucking a watermelon.

"B*astard, take care!"

Levi silently mourned in his heart..