Chapter 1351: The Inferno of the Red Lotus (3)

Levi nodded, suspecting that there were likely some hidden secrets involved. But it didn't matter anymore—Aya was now under his protection. With his power, he could easily shelter her as she grew. The old events, long buried in the past, were just dust in the wind, soon to dissipate.

Aya looked at the sprouting buds on the banyan tree and curiously asked, "Island Master, I remember the goddess lived here. Are we back at the Youth Grassland?"

Levi shook his head. "The goddess had to go somewhere far away. You'll understand when she wakes up."

Aya nodded, then returned to her tree hollow to arrange her cozy little space before continuing her meditation and practice.

"This little one has it good; she started her journey in Rome, so to speak. Unlike me, who had to rely on myself and the panel, clawing my way up from the bottom," Levi mused, feeling a sense of satisfaction as he watched Aya's growth.

He left the fairyland and withdrew the Holy Grail into his mind.

Inside the Divine Ring Tower, the multicolored crystal grew a little larger.

Over the past two years, Levi's meditation efficiency had improved thanks to the support of the Death Soul Date and a better training environment, speeding up his progress compared to before.

His spiritual force had now reached 738 points.

However, without having developed his seventh innate spell, he still didn't qualify as a true senior fifth-circle wizard.

Yet, when it came to wizards, the only way to gauge a stranger's power was by measuring their spiritual force. The number of innate spells a wizard possessed was usually known only to the individual unless they chose to reveal it.

In his multicolored crystal, there were now three Maxima of the Soul.

The first one took Levi less than six months to condense. The next two, however, took over two years.

Moving forward, the time required would only increase, gradually compressing his training schedule.

But Levi wasn't in a hurry.

He had his lifespan to rely on.

At just 222 years old, even if he had only the lifespan of a wizard, he still had nearly 800 years ahead of him.

His Moon Rune had also been cultivated to level 3.

His lifespan extension had now reached 20%, and each additional level would grant another 10%.

Of course, the difficulty of training the Moon Rune was higher than that of the Chariot or Strength runes, so progress might slow in the future.

Currently, his lifespan was a minimum of 1,200 years—a number that 99% of fifth-circle wizards could only dream of.

So, in a way, he was only one-sixth of the way through his life.

“In a mortal’s life span, I’m still just a minor...”

With that thought, Levi bid farewell to Dragon Palace Island and flew toward the eastern region of the Io Continent.

...

Io Continent.

Eastern Region.

The chaos caused by the Black Lotus Beast had persisted for several years and showed no signs of abating. Not only that, but many wizards, mages, and even beings from other races had been indiscriminately slain by the creature. Among the wizards, there were even some who were dragon descendants.

On the shores of the Eastern Sea, in an uninhabited valley, the Black Lotus Beast stood like a mountain, its expression vacant as it faced an approaching fifth-level Dragon Abomination.

The beast opened its massive maw, releasing a jet-black, dragon-like breath that could obliterate everything in its path. Anything caught in the breath's trajectory was pulverized!

A hulking, grotesque Dragon Abomination, laughing maniacally, tore through the breath and charged at the Black Lotus Beast.

"Die!"

In the next moment, beams of light from various magic arrays descended from the sky, encircling the abomination. Simultaneously, the valley was bathed in golden light, and colossal golden-winged birds circled overhead.

“Subdue the dragon!”

Simon appeared in the sky like a god. Under the combined pressure of the array and his domain, the Dragon Abomination was suppressed, unable to move.

The shadow of an End Dragon Bird used its razor-sharp claws to effortlessly tear through the fifth-level Dragon Abomination’s impenetrable scales and hide. Its hooked beak struck, blinding the abomination and eliciting a pained roar.

A Fire God’s apparition descended from above, its world-ending greatsword falling from the heavens!

With a resounding crash, the Dragon Abomination’s head was severed, dropping to the ground. In its dying gaze, there was confusion and unwillingness: “The End Dragon Bird... wasn’t it extinct?”

Simon picked up the head, flames erupting from his palm, reducing the Dragon Abomination’s body to ash. He closed the creature’s unseeing eyes and stored its remains in his storage ring.

The past two years had not gone as smoothly as Simon had hoped. Whether it was the Sky Dragon Wizard of Storm City or the two dragon-descendant witches from the Sea of Stars, they spent their days in seclusion within their strongholds. Though powerful, Simon dared not attack the headquarters of these top-tier forces. He could only vent his frustration by killing lesser beings.

Luckily, today, a fifth-level peak Dragon Abomination had taken the bait, giving him a much-needed victory.

Suddenly, a terrifying noise echoed through the air.

Simon quickly retreated, disappearing from the valley. Using a treasure to cloak himself, he observed from the sky, his eyes fixed on the distant sea.

In the distance, a towering, majestic Blackstone palace emerged from the ocean, parting the waters as it slowly rose. Countless gallons of seawater cascaded down its sides, sending massive waves crashing toward the shore.

“What is this?” Simon’s heart raced with surprise.

Once again, it seemed he had stumbled upon something extraordinary. His enviable luck never ceased to amaze him.

He hid the Black Lotus Beast nearby, then stealthily flew toward the rising palace.

A quarter of an hour later, the massive Blackstone palace hovered in mid-air, unmoving. The air was thick with a primal, ancient aura.

Simon sent a level 4 alchemy bird from his storage ring to fly toward the palace. The bird reached the palace’s tightly shut doors without harm.

After what felt like an eternity, the grand doors of the palace slowly opened, releasing a wave of decaying, ancient air.

A massive, golden-veined hand shot out, gripping the alchemy bird tightly.

Chapter 1352: The Inferno of the Red Lotus (4)

With a gentle squeeze, the metallic body of the bird was crushed, twisting and deforming under the pressure.

A towering figure, standing about three meters tall, appeared. His entire body seemed to be sculpted from gold, his physique reminiscent of an ancient Greek statue. Strength and beauty, perfectly combined with golden proportions.

He furrowed his brow, gazing into the void ahead, and with a wave of his hand, a beam of golden light shot forth, causing the very fabric of space to tremble.

In the next moment, a muffled groan echoed from the void.

“Interesting, it managed to escape. But where exactly is this place?”

His name was Midor, a member of the Golden Absolutes. His homeland was the great Golden Sacred Realm, a kingdom ruled by various Sacred Kings.

The Golden Absolutes were people who loved to travel between planes and colonize them. They referred to any place outside the Golden Sacred Realm as the “Black Sea,” with countless “new worlds” scattered like stars across it.

Thousands of years ago, he and a group of his kin set sail into the Black Sea aboard the Blackstone, led by Captain Arixis, in search of resources and wealth in the new worlds.

After raiding several small worlds, they met with disaster—a maritime accident. They encountered a seventh-level “Black Sea Leviathan.” Though Captain Arixis was a powerful Soul Fighter, he was only at the sixth level. Even the unparalleled might of the Golden Absolutes was no match for a seventh-level sea monster.

Captain Arixis, gravely injured, was forced to activate the Blackstone Cannon of the Blackstone, heavily wounding the leviathan. However, the Blackstone exhausted its energy in the process, leaving it completely sealed. All the officers and crew entered “hibernation” within the golden chambers.

The Blackstone would automatically search for the nearest world and attempt a landing. What happened afterward remained a mystery.

Midor was the first to awaken, being the third officer on the ship and the fourth most powerful among them. The being that had been hiding in the distance, by the standards of their world, was only at the mid-fifth-level Prime Fighter realm.

Before his slumber, Midor had already reached the peak of the fifth level and was considered a genius among the Golden Absolutes. For the other to have withstood his attack and escaped so calmly, it was clear that the transcendent civilization of this world was far stronger than he had imagined.

He returned to the vast interior of the Blackstone, which was as spacious as a city. This grand palace was their ship: the Blackstone. The maritime industry of the Golden Sacred Realm was highly advanced.

From a young age, Golden Absolutes were taught to aspire to become captains, to sail the Black Sea in search of new worlds.

According to legend, the new worlds were filled with untold treasures and resources, so abundant that even the air was sweet. Typically, there were also uncivilized barbarians waiting to be enslaved. However, by decree, only powerful Soul Fighters were allowed to leave the Sacred Realm, recruit a crew, and sail the Black Sea.

Thus, every member of the Golden Absolutes took pride in becoming a fighter, with the ultimate goal of becoming a Soul Fighter. As for the even more powerful Star Fighters and Sacred Kings, they were beings beyond their wildest dreams.

In the hibernation chambers, which resembled an ancient tomb, golden liquid filled the metallic pods. Over a hundred other Golden Absolutes, similar to Midor, lay in slumber.

“The sacred energy of this world is decent,” Midor muttered, “but it’s far from enough to fully recharge the Blackstone. I’ll need to find other sources of energy.”

Midor gazed at the central giant hibernation pod.

Inside it lay a hulking figure, carved as if by blade and chisel, radiating a powerful aura. His body was covered in scars, black gas entwining around him, corroding his flesh.

“That seventh-level sea monster was too strong. The Captain’s wounds still haven’t healed... No matter, I’ll wake the others first, gather resources, and repair the Blackstone,” he muttered to himself.

...

On the shores of the Eastern Sea, in a secluded valley, Simon materialized, narrowing his eyes as he stared at the towering Blackstone structure in the distance.

“This must be a relic left by the creator of the ancient tower on the fifth level! However, the guardian of this relic is absurdly strong. I doubt I can get in on my own,” Simon thought.

With this in mind, Simon quickly sent a message to Lord Roman.

Not long after, he received a reply.

The Nine Cities Alliance would dispatch two fifth-circle perfect wizards, ten other fifth-circle wizards of varying experience, and over a hundred fourth-circle wizards to join him.

“That Sky Dragon Wizard can live a little longer. I’ll take care of him after I explore this relic,” Simon decided.

...

In the eastern part of Io, Storm City.

High in the sky, within the Wind Disaster Stratum, an old wizard with white hair and beard sat cross-legged, deep in meditation.

In front of him floated a crystal ball, resembling a globe, with swirling currents surrounding it.

This artifact, called the Heavenly Sphere, belonged to the Storm School of Thought. It was refined from the eye of a seventh-level Celestial Beast.

With this artifact, one could perceive distant, intense air currents, leading to the discovery of treasures or powerful enemies.

The old wizard opened his eyes, focusing on a chaotic area of the Heavenly Sphere, where the air currents were particularly turbulent.

“Such a disturbance must mean a large ancient relic has surfaced!”

Immediately, he sent a message to the upper echelons of Storm City, organizing a team to head overseas.

The emergence of the Blackstone structure had caused quite a stir, and news of the relic quickly spread.

However, many who went to investigate did not return.

A few fifth-circle wizards who barely escaped alive reported that a terrifying Black Lotus Beast was lurking in the deep sea surrounding the relic.

In a small wizard gathering, Levi, now disguised, had been following the trail of the Black Lotus Beast.

“From what I’ve seen, it’s indeed the Black Lotus Beast causing havoc. Could it have come from an ancient relic? And what if there are more sub-dragons inside?” he pondered.

Chapter 1353: The Inferno of the Red Lotus (5)

His thoughts wandered far and wide.

In the blink of an eye, a month had passed.

It was now the Year 1213 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar, the Month of Beginning.

After the 112th round table meeting, Levi showed the projection of the Blackstone Palace, which had been circulating in the outside world, to the Flower Knight. With her vast experience, perhaps she could glean some insight.

“This thing doesn’t seem to be a relic of a wizard. It’s likely from another civilization, though I can’t say for certain which one. The places the Dark Ancient Tower has traversed far exceed the bounds of the Pan-Plane. There’s nothing in this tower that would surprise me. If you’re planning to explore it, be cautious. The unknown is always the most terrifying,” the Flower Knight advised.

“Alright,” Levi responded, deep in thought.

Over the long years and countless journeys, who knows how many secrets were buried within the ancient tower?

After bidding farewell to the Flower Knight, Levi mused, “If only I could live inside the ancient tower... Decades are just too fleeting.”

...

The emergence of this unknown relic had spread even wider than the incident at Youth Grassland. After all, there was a sixth-level entity guarding that anomaly, and the treasure was just a single Holy Grail.

But within this relic, everything remained a mystery.

Wizards were particularly passionate about exploring such relics.

In the coastal valley, Simon, who had been hiding, grew anxious.

“D*mn it, others have found this place too!”

He had intended for the Nine Cities Alliance to claim it for themselves, but now that seemed impossible.

“Still, maybe this isn’t so bad. No one else knows just how powerful the guardian of this relic is. Let them go ahead and serve as cannon fodder. I’ll just have my people surround the relic from the shadows. When the time comes, whatever they take will be mine.

Besides, the emergence of this relic might attract more dragon descendant wizards. Cyrus, Alexandra, Elsie... The more I think about it, the more it seems to work in my favor.”

...

Sea of Stars, New Fire Dragon Island.

[Weapon-Making Proficiency +246]

The Holy Infant glanced at the panel, noting the increasing proficiency in his weapon-making skill.

During this time, he had reforged and upgraded the Gold Dividing Secret Sword.

After infusing it with amethyst, the secret sword had become even sturdier and more resilient.

Moreover, its appearance had completely transformed, now glowing with a faint purple light.

Even if the Holy Infant used it, no one would be able to discern its true nature.

“I’ll call you the Violet Flame Secret Sword,” he said, gripping the sword in his hand. With a single swing, a scorching violet beam slashed through the ground, cutting deep into the earth.

“Impressive power.”

With a thought, the Violet Flame Secret Sword returned to his pocket.

“Haha, top-grade equipment, plus one.”

After finishing his work, the Holy Infant made his way to Rust Island.

“Master Fire Dragon, are you planning to venture into the ancient ruins?” asked the Rust Dragon Wizard.

“Yes, I have to check it out. Who knows, I might gain some benefits,” the Holy Infant laughed.

“While you were in seclusion refining your weapons, both the Red Dragon and the Blue Dragon headed there as well. If you go, you’ll have some support... but be careful. I’ve heard that the Nine Cities Alliance has sent a lot of people. The commotion around these ruins seems like someone deliberately spread the word,” the Rust Dragon Wizard warned.

“Understood.”

After parting ways with the Rust Dragon Wizard, the Holy Infant set off eastward.

The Rust Dragon Wizard, on the other hand, headed into the depths of the Sea of Stars.

“Now that all the major organizations are focused on the ruins, and the Nine Cities Alliance is at war with the Tomb Clan, this is the perfect time for me to advance to the Primordial Soul stage. I, Mandros, have been cultivating for a thousand years, and I’ve been in the fifth-circle realm for over four hundred years. With a spiritual force limit of 1,060, nine talents perfected, the bloodline of the Ancient Rust Dragon, and seven top-grade wizard tools, I’ve put everything on the line for this gamble!”

If not for being stuck at the spiritual force limit, he could have advanced to the fifth-circle long ago.

One could say that he had waited nearly a thousand years for this moment.

“If I succeed, I’ll be renowned across the seas... and if I fail, I’ll die without regrets!”

...

West Coast.

Deep Blue Organization Headquarters.

During a meeting of the Deep Blue Sages, several fifth-circle powerhouses were discussing important matters.

“The opening of these ruins is extraordinary, and geniuses from various schools are flocking to it. Although the Eastern Sea isn’t our territory, we should still send some people. Even a small share of the spoils would be a victory.”

“Each major organization should send at least one fifth-circle wizard and ten fourth-circle wizards. Agreed?”

“Agreed. With such a grand event, I’m sure the Sky Dragon Wizard will show up as well,” said the Golden Light Wizard, rubbing his hands together in anticipation.

If he could defeat the Sky Dragon Wizard, his reputation in the Endless Sea would soar even higher.

It would also help his family secure a position for him in the enforcement division of the Star Tower.

“I’ll represent the Witch’s Family,” said the Snow Lotus Witch.

A burly wizard from the Ocean Abyss Alliance spoke up, his face filled with excitement:

“This is truly thrilling! After lying low in the ancient tower for over forty years, it’s time to stretch my muscles.”

He was Mangang, a Sea Aristocrat and the most talented body-tempering wizard of the younger generation in the Ocean Abyss Alliance. He was one of the few who had successfully practiced the Eight-Armed Demon God Body Tempering Technique.

“Since all of you are going, it wouldn’t be right for me, Hades, to stay behind... Haha, poor Van Dis just went into closed-door seclusion and missed out on this grand event,” Hades laughed, brimming with confidence.

At the Seven Waters Steeple, the geniuses of Lilith’s Cabin were also eager to participate.

The meeting buzzed with excitement.

The opening of these ancient ruins promised to be a grand stage.

Chapter 1354: The Inferno of the Red Lotus (6)

These top-tier geniuses had been lying low in their respective territories for decades. Though they had made some appearances, they hadn't yet encountered anyone truly formidable. Now, they were eager to find an opportunity to test the fruits of their cultivation.

“You may go, but remember: your lives come first, and treasures come second. You are not ordinary people; if you were to die, it would be a significant loss to the organization. With your strength and trump cards, as long as you don't act recklessly, you should be able to retreat safely unless a Primordial Soul intervenes.”

After the meeting, fully armed teams began flying toward the Eastern Sea.

Meanwhile, at the Divine Tower on Earth, Thunder Divine Hall, Frost Tower, and Death Valley...

Wizards, like wolves scenting prey, flew toward the ruins.

...

Eastern Sea.

Blackstone Palace.

In one of its chambers, several Fourth-Circle Wizards were imprisoned.

They were on the brink of death, their faces numb, as metallic tentacles hung from above, piercing their brains as if extracting something from them.

Images projected in the void above.

The wizards' faces were filled with terror as they struggled desperately, but it was all in vain.

A woman, resembling an Athena statue, from the Golden Absolutes Race, entered the room.

She was Cagalli, the second officer of the Blackstone, also a peak-level Prime Fighter.

"These beings called wizards seem to wield powerful transcendent spells. Unfortunately, when it comes to spells and cultivation, the Blackstone cannot read or translate them," Cagalli said.

"No matter," Midor replied. "Since the Golden Ancient Tree created the heavens and the earth, and the Sacred Kings passed down the Sacred Law, our Sacred Realm has expanded its borders, witnessing countless transcendent systems as numerous as the stars, yet all inferior to ours. Only our Sacred Law is the strongest in all the realms of the Black Sea! Learning from others would only lead us astray. However, when we return to the Golden Sacred Realm, we could have an expert decipher them; it might be of some reference to us."

Cagalli added, "Speaking of the Dark Ancient Tower, I recall an entry in the Sacred Realm's ancient texts about the Black Sea Tower... It's rumored to be one of the ten wonders of the Black Sea.

But to enter it, a specific key is required. Sadly, no one from our Golden Absolutes Race has ever obtained such a key. It's said that a Sacred King once tried to subdue the ancient tower but failed, and afterward, no one paid attention to it."

"So, leaving here might be more difficult than we thought," Midor said. "We might need to rely on these wizards, or we could be trapped in the tower until death."

Cagalli responded, "All the sailors have been awakened, and First Officer Goulet is about to wake up as well. Once the captain awakens, we can carry out our plan."

...

Holy Brilliance Calendar, 1213.

Month of Germinal.

The gates of the Blackstone Palace were tightly shut.

In the surrounding seas, countless wizards lay hidden, waiting for the right moment.

A powerful repulsive force surrounded the palace, preventing ordinary wizards from approaching.

In a seaside valley, inside a concealed array, Simon, Gomez, and Beske stood at the forefront of their group.

Behind them were over a hundred wizards from the Nine Cities Alliance.

As for the Black Lotus Beast, Simon had hidden it in the Deep Sea, intending it to be his trump card.

“All the major schools have arrived, with Storm City’s forces being the strongest and most numerous. Our numbers aren’t enough to confront them head-on. My suggestion is to wait. Someone is bound to lose patience and attack the palace. Once we’ve gauged the situation, we can make our move,” Beske suggested.

“Has the Sky Dragon Wizard arrived as well?” Simon asked.

“Yes.”

“Good.”

...

On the other side of the sea... After two years of seclusion, the spiritual force of the Red Dragon Queen and the Blue Dragon Lady had grown ever closer to perfection. Unlike the Rust Dragon Wizard, however, they were still far from ready to advance to the Primordial Soul stage.

Therefore, the opportunity to explore the relics was one they couldn't afford to miss. According to the Rust Dragon Wizard's message, Master Fire Dragon had also arrived. But the two of them had yet to locate him.

Their past collaborations with Master Fire Dragon had been nothing short of perfectly harmonious. They were confident that if the three of them joined forces, they could eliminate any enemy below the Primordial Soul level.

...

Above Blackstone Palace, within the Wind Disaster Stratum high in the sky, a Flying Scythe Beast hovered silently, unnoticed by anyone.

A thousand miles away from the palace, deep within the ocean, in a hidden array, Levi sat in quiet meditation. To keep a constant watch on the palace, he had specifically dispatched the closest Flying Scythe Beast to monitor it in real-time.

"The last time the Black Lotus Beast was spotted, it was here. But after searching everywhere, I haven't found it. Could it have left?"

Levi's main goal in coming here was to find the Black Lotus Beast. Nothing else mattered to him. His danger perception had gone into overdrive as soon as he approached Blackstone Palace, signaling the presence of a being inside that could pose a significant threat to him—likely a Sixth-Level powerhouse.

He had no intention of entering the palace. Once he found the Black Lotus Beast, he would leave immediately, avoiding any unnecessary trouble. No treasure was worth more than his life.

However, he planned to leave Holy Infant here, hoping to take advantage of the chaos and perhaps gain a share of the spoils.

...

Directly beneath Blackstone Palace, in an abyssal trench, a mountain-sized giant beast lay hidden in the endless darkness.

Its black scales had turned to stone, blending seamlessly with the surrounding environment. Even up close, it would be impossible to tell that this was a living creature. Simon had already placed the Black Lotus Beast here as his trump card.

The tides of war were stirring in the Eastern Sea. Never before had so many wizards, alien races, and various forces from the Io Continent gathered in one place on such a large scale.

What secrets did this seemingly extraordinary black palace hold? How much wealth was hidden within?

Finally, some could no longer hold back. They took to the sky, flying toward Blackstone Palace. Among them were many from the Amethyst Race, led by Gal, the Fifth-Level peak Amethyst who had appeared on the Youth Grassland.

Gal could no longer resist. He could sense that there were valuable treasures inside the palace. It might even contain high-level metal ores. To him, the mysterious Blackstone Palace itself was a delicacy.

Soon, other alien races and nomadic wizards followed.

Gal and the other powerful Amethysts exploded with a brilliant purple light.

“Sacred Skill: Star Crasher!”

Dozens of purple beams converged into a massive fist shadow that caused the expressions of everyone present to change dramatically.

With a thunderous explosion, the gate of Blackstone Palace trembled slightly but did not open.

More and more people gathered at the entrance, unleashing a barrage of attacks against the door.

Finally, after an indeterminate amount of time and amid a deafening warning siren, the Blackstone gate slowly opened, revealing a deep, dark passageway.

Chapter 1355: Blackstone Palace

Io Continent.

Eastern Sea.

In the Blackstone Palace.

As the door opened, figures rushed in.

The Amethyst Race was the first to bear the brunt.

Gal's face was fierce. He grabbed a non-human who was not afraid of death and hammered him to death.

"D*mn it, when the door was opening, all of them were hiding their heads and showing their tails. Now that the door is open, everyone is running faster than anyone else!" Gal was extremely unhappy.

In the passageway, a level 4 non-human rushed inside.

Suddenly, a black light shot out, and in an instant, he turned into a pile of fragments.

“I knew it. There must be a trap.”

A wizard who was following behind was still in a state of shock.

In the wizard relic, there were countless more array traps than this.

The space in the hall was very large. Just this passageway alone was endless.

Those who had barged in knew that it was definitely very dangerous.

However, wealth came from danger.

Without danger, where would there be opportunities?

Everyone was hoping that the person who would die might not be them.

After discovering that there was an incomparably sharp ray attack in the passageway, everyone displayed their magical powers to get through the passageway.

Those who could survive until now were not weak.

Someone must have made it through this long passage.

A fifth-circle wizard tried to break through the passage, but they found that it was a futile effort.

This Blackstone Palace was made entirely of an unknown black metal. It was extremely hard and there were complicated mysterious runes on it.

Purple light shone brightly on Gal's body.

His claw stabbed into the passageway and exerted force.

Gal actually lifted up a small piece of metal. He was indeed a peak level 5 Amethyst Race member.

Gal did not hesitate to send it into his stomach.

"As expected, this hall itself is a very delicious metal. Hahaha, my opportunity is here," Gal laughed maniacally.

He charged forward like a raging bull.

Regardless of whether it was the foreign races or the wizards, they all avoided Gal.

The hall was in chaos.

Outside the hall, the people from the top wizard organizations did not act rashly.

High in the sky, the Prince of Airstream looked at the chaotic scene below with a relaxed expression.

“Let these blind fools die first.”

In comparison, the Prince of Airstream looked forward to sparring with the hidden geniuses of the other organizations.

Levi was at the bottom of the sea a thousand miles away, quietly observing the situation.

“None of these big organizations entered the arena. They all want to play the game of the mantis stalking the cicada, unaware of the oriole behind.”

...

At the center of the Blackstone Palace.

In the hibernation cabin.

Midor, Cagalli, Goulet, the three deputies, and hundreds of sailors had all been awakened.

Only Araxis, the captain of the Blackstone, was still sleeping.

They could only mobilize a small portion of the authority of the Blackstone.

Moreover, the Blackstone had already run out of energy, so it was a little powerless against the sudden siege.

If Blackstone was at its peak, how could it be broken in by these mobs?

Goulet held his forehead and thought of a countermeasure.

He had a beard on both sides of his temples, a well-built body, and a well-proportioned body. He was half-naked and had a powerful aura.

Suddenly, Goulet's expression darkened.

"There are already intruders entering the sea monster's cage. Further ahead is the resource cabin. The resources we plundered from the small world are all there!"

Midor said, "It's too late. Let me lead a team and eliminate these intruders. The resource cabin cannot be lost."

Goulet thought for a moment and said, "Yes, you and Cagalli will each lead a team to resist the invaders and buy time. I'll lead a team and guard the hibernation cabin. I'll forcefully awaken the captain according to the sacred realm's laws. Otherwise, our strength alone won't be enough to fight against these intruders."

"This is the only way now. I hope Captain won't blame us when he wakes up."

As people from the Golden Sacred Realm, they had always robbed others on the Black Sea.

Now, the roles had been reversed.

Midor and Cagalli brought the sailors who had just woken up and left through a special secret passage.

On the other side, the wizards came to a wide corridor.

There were many doors on both sides of the corridor.

There were symbols written on it that the wizards could not understand at all.

“This is indeed not the relic of the wizard civilization...”

A fifth-circle wizard used a spell to shatter a door.

A rotten smell assaulted his senses.

Inside the room was a giant beast’s skeleton.

The other doors were also opened.

Most of them were the skeletons of giant beasts of various shapes and sizes, and there was no lack of human-like creatures.

“It feels like a laboratory of another civilization or a place where transcendent creatures were imprisoned?”

A wizard used a spell to blast open the door.

All of a sudden, there was a scream.

An octopus-like monster was hugging his face.

In the blink of an eye, it swallowed the wizard’s head, and the sound of chewing echoed in the corridor.

A fourth-circle wizard disappeared in the blink of an eye.

“There are still monsters alive!”

In the next moment, the octopus was flashing in the corridor, scurrying around, killing, and was only stopped when it met a fifth-circle senior wizard.

“D*mn it!”

With the lesson just now, the others did not dare to open the door recklessly.

The group of people quickly rushed forward.

After passing through the corridor, they passed through some traps.

The wizards came to a place that looked like a treasure trove.

On both sides of the treasury, there were two golden statues guarding it.

All kinds of colorful spells were thrown at the door of the treasure vault.

Rumble!

The door of the treasure vault was unusually hard.

There were so many people present, and many of them were fifth-circle senior wizards. It would take some time to open it.

Chapter 1356: Fighting the Bandits

Golden liquid quietly seeped out from the walls of the hall and descended from the sky, turning into Midor and the Gold Absolutes Race sailors.

“Intruders, you dare to trespass into our private sacred territory. None of you can escape today!” Midor roared.

However, none of the wizards and foreign races knew what Midor was talking about.

Because of the influence of the wizard civilization, most of the plane masters in Sauron Plane knew the common language of the wizards.

Combined with the unique style of the relic, everyone was basically convinced that these golden humans that looked like statues should have come from outside the Pan-Plane!

For a moment, the hearts of the wizards burned with passion.

An unknown civilization meant more treasures, wealth, and resources.

“I’ll show you the power of the sacred realm’s warriors!”

Midor saw that his threat was futile and charged into the crowd.

His arm turned into a long saber.

“Sacred Law, Blade Dancer!”

After spinning for a while.

Many fourth-circle wizards were killed on the spot as the blades danced in the air.

Of course, wizards weren't to be trifled with either.

Relying on their numbers advantage, they threw out their innate spells as these spells were free.

Under the bombardment, the Golden Absolutes Race members were soon beaten up.

In truth, the Golden Absolutes Race's strength wasn't limited to this.

Unfortunately, everyone had just woken up and had encountered such a change. Their strength had not fully recovered.

As more and more wizards and foreign races swarmed in, the pressure on the Golden Absolutes Race grew as more and more people died.

When the Golden Absolutes Race people died, their bodies remained motionless, turning into golden statues.

Golden leaves flew out of the corpse, passing through the Blackstone hall and floating to the endless sky.

The leaf seemed to be leaving this world. However, it eventually encountered some invisible barrier and drifted away like a fallen leaf.

Different leaves had different pictographic runes on them.

These symbols were of all shapes and sizes.

Swords, spears, swords, halberds, birds, fish, insects, ice, snow, fire, everything in the world existed.

High in the sky, the Blue Dragon Lady reached out and held one of the golden leaves with the shape of an arrow in her hand.

“What is this?”

In the Red Dragon Queen’s hand was a shield-shaped golden leaf.

On the other side, Holy Infant flew out and grabbed a golden leaf that looked like a knight's sword.

A fifth-circle ordinary wizard in front of him also discovered this item.

"This is mine!"

The wizard casually sent a water dragon tornado over.

What welcomed the wizard in return was a terrifying fire dragon that instantly vaporized the water dragon tornado and annihilated it.

After Holy Infant vaporized the water dragon tornado, the wizard knew that he wasn't a match for Holy Infant, so he quickly left.

Holy Infant successfully obtained the golden leaf.

The golden leaf seemed to have some kind of spirituality as it trembled slightly in Holy Infant's hand.

"I'll slowly study this thing after I return."

Holy Infant disappeared quietly and began to search for other golden leaves.

In the outside world, conflicts continued because of the arrival of the golden leaf.

Inside the treasure trove, Midor looked at the increasing number of intruders in despair.

He turned into a golden blade light and tore a hole in the encirclement. He merged into the wall and disappeared.

In front of the fierce wizard army, his power was not enough.

Boom!

The door to the treasure trove was finally opened by the wizards.

A dusty and ancient aura assaulted their senses.

After the smoke and dust, what appeared before their eyes was a mountain of ores, a variety of biological materials, and a wide variety of other resources and materials.

In fact, the wizards also saw seven ancient oil paintings with golden frames.

In the oil painting, there were Truth Oddities of various shapes and sizes sealed within.

Thunder Worm, Fire Snake, Ice Crow, Water Dragon, Broken Sword, Tombstone, and Dead Wood.

There were a total of seven Truth Wonders, and some of them were familiar to wizards, such as thunder worms and water dragons.

“It’s really a waste! These foreign races actually treat Truth Wonders as works of art?”

In an instant, the wizards were in a chaotic state.

Be it ores, materials, or Truth Oddities, they were all enough to drive the wizards crazy.

...

Inside the hibernation chamber.

Goulet's eyes were filled with rage.

"D*mn it, we've worked so hard to collect the Universe Sacred Relics. We were going to sacrifice them to the Sacred King!"

One of the important goals of the voyage was to find the Universe Sacred Relics and bring it back to the sacred realm.

These Universe Sacred Relics were sacrificed to the Sacred King through a special ritual.

They could exchange for the corresponding benefits from the Sacred King and increase their strength from there.

Goulet looked at the chaotic situation in the resource cabin through the projection. After hesitating for a moment, he gave the order.

"A bunch of bandits, go to hell!"

In the next moment, the Blackstone Palace started to tremble.

The resource cabin left the hall and flew out into the sky before detonating!

“Rumble!”

This was accompanied by a terrifying explosion!

The shockwave swept through everything.

Hundreds of foreign races and wizards were reduced to ashes in the explosion.

Countless ores were blasted away and scattered across the sky like rain.

The oil painting that sealed the seven Truth Oddities was also completely torn apart.

The seven rays of light flew in all directions instinctively and disappeared.

It was a shocking explosion.

The explosion attracted the attention of all the wizards and foreign races present.

A portion of the resources were destroyed in the explosion.

However, there were still quite a few who fell from the sky.

The scene was a mess.

The moment the Truth Oddities appeared, countless greedy gazes looked over.

Even Holy Infant could not help but breathe heavily.

Holy Infant was like a computer as he quickly analyzed the situation.

Out of the seven Truth Oddities, Levi already had two.

They were the Thunder Worm Chrysalis and Water Dragon's Song.

Chapter 1357: Sky-Grade Truth Oddities

Duplicated Truth Oddities could not be refined and those two were directly eliminated from Levi's list.

Moreover, the effects of these two oddities were average.

There were also two Earth-Grade Oddities.

They were the [Fire Swallowing Snake] and the [Ice Crow].

Although Levi didn't own these two, their effects were average judging from the illustrations.

The remaining three were a piece of dead wood, a broken sword, and a tombstone.

Holy Infant did not hesitate.

Holy Infant flew directly towards the broken sword that was relatively close to him.

These three Truth Oddities were most likely Sky-Grade.

And this broken sword must be the Metal Faction's Truth Oddity.

At the same time, in the sea near the gravestone, a burly Rock Demon Giant flashed with runes and flew toward the gravestone.

It was Levi's Bronze Statue body tempering technique, Rock Demon form!

On the other side, in the Deep Sea.

A Black Scale Dragon Abomination that emitted a violent aura leaped out of the sea and flew towards the withered wood-like Truth Oddity. It was Levi's original body.

Soldiers were trained for a thousand days and used for a moment.

The body-tempering clone, Holy Infant clone, and the knight himself were all mobilized!

Only a child had to choose among the remaining three oddities... But as an adult, Levi wanted everything!

As for the other rare materials, minerals, and resources.

There were too many people at the scene, and the resources were scattered by the shock wave.

Levi couldn't care less about it, nor could he snatch it away.

If he missed out on a Truth Oddity, it would be as difficult as ascending to the heavens to get it again.

As for the others, there would always be a chance.

Of course, the dead wood, broken sword, and gravestone were all extraordinary items. Any normal person could tell.

Furthermore, the wizards had already discovered the pattern.

Most of the low-level Earth oddities were in animal form. High-level oddity came in all shapes and sizes.

Therefore, most of the wizards went after the broken sword, the dead wood, and the gravestone.

For safety reasons, whether it was Levi's original body or the Holy Infant clone, they were both quite far away from the Blackstone Palace.

Before Holy Infant arrived, there were already many wizards nearby who were fighting here.

A fourth-circle wizard reached out to grab the broken sword.

The broken sword buzzed and sliced his palm off. His fourth-circle protective force field was torn apart.

This kind of power was undoubtedly a Sky-Grade Oddity.

“Get lost, all of you. I’m from the Metal Faction. What are you guys from other factions here for?”

A fifth-circle senior wizard with a helmet and armor descended.

Metal liquid flowed on the surface of his body, and sharp thorns that emitted a dim light appeared and shot out.

Some weak wizards and foreign races were instantly killed.

Seeing this scene, most of the ordinary wizards would stay away from them and chase after other low-level Truth Oddities or resources.

“Hahaha!”

The Metal School wizard did not have much time to be complacent.

Ripples appeared in the air.

An elegant red ribbon appeared, and Simon descended with a calm expression.

“This item belongs to me. Everyone, leave,” Simon said indifferently, and a powerful aura spread out, shocking everyone present.

In fact, Simon was quite far away from the location of the broken oddity.

In order to snatch the treasure, he directly used the Void Teleportation spell that came with the streamer.

For a fifth-circle top-grade Wizard Tool, the Void Teleportation function was basically a trump card that needed a long cooldown time. Most people would save it for escaping.

However, Simon was fearless. With his strength, it could be said that he was killing indiscriminately in such a chaotic situation.

Furthermore, there was a Black Lotus Beast hidden under the Blackstone hall.

The burly wizard had a solemn expression. He was very afraid of Simon.

However, when faced with a metal-type oddity like the broken sword, he naturally didn't want to give it up.

The burly wizard said in a deep voice, "Simon, you're from the Burning School of Thought. I have a top-grade fire element Wizard Tool here. Why don't we make an exchange? There's no need for us to fight to the death over it."

"Get lost!"

Simon was too lazy to explain anything.

This kind of treasure belonged to the capable.

It didn't matter if Simon didn't need it or not. He could exchange it anyway.

The burly wizard's expression hardened, and he said coldly, "I, Steel Thorn Sodek, shall fight you, the top genius of the Burning Faction."

Steel Thorn Sodek was also a reputable figure in his organization. At this time, he couldn't retreat.

Simon narrowed his eyes and sneered. Then, a red light burst out.

The Flame Beam that could cut through everything shot towards Sodek.

Sodek condensed a metal shield.

On the surface of the shield, hundreds of metal spikes shot out!

It was pierced.

The defense that Sodek was so proud of was split open by the flame.

His right arm was cut off.

Simon held the streamer in his hand and flung it out. The air exploded as the streamer extended and wrapped around Sodek.

After that, a scorching red flame followed the streamer and roasted it.

The metal armor began to melt, and the smell of roasted meat filled the air.

Sodek struggled and said with a trembling voice, "The oddity is yours. I don't want it anymore. Don't kill me, please!"

Simon sneered, "Why didn't you cherish the opportunity I gave you? You would only realize the seriousness of the problem before you die. Looks like I was too kind."

Amidst the raging flames.

Sodek turned into ashes and dissipated with the wind.

Simon pulled back the streamer and threw it again, entangling the short sword in the distance.

The Fire God's phantom appeared and grabbed the short sword with its big hand.

Simon's eyes were calm as he looked at the wizards around him. A smile appeared on his face.

The wizards maintained a safe distance and did not dare to go forward. Clearly, they were intimidated by his ferocity.

Even a fifth-circle wizard could not bear to go after witnessing this scene.

Chapter 1358: Ferocious Fight for the Oddity

The gap between them and Simon was too big.

Moreover, the army of the Nine Cities Alliance was rushing over from afar.

At that time, the wizards present would have even less hope.

In the crowd, Holy Infant muttered in his heart, "Simon again... Alright, I'll let you keep it. Otherwise, it will be stolen by other small fries and I won't be able to find it."

Holy Infant did not act rashly. Now was not the time.

Anyway, this guy would definitely continue to snatch other things.

On the other side, the body-tempering clone was quite lucky.

The direction the oddity flew in was right in his path.

The body-tempering clone's arm stretched endlessly until his limit reached nearly a thousand meters. From afar, he held onto the tombstone.

The tombstone was tightly wrapped in an asphalt-like substance.

No matter how it struggled, it was useless.

Bang!

He retracted his arm and fused it into the body of the body-tempering clone.

As Levi's spiritual force increased, the strength of this body-tempering clone had long reached the fifth-circle senior realm.

The other fifth-circle wizard who was about to succeed was dumbfounded. After he regained his composure, he hurriedly shouted, "Hand over the oddity!"

One after another, innate spells smashed towards the body-tempering clone.

In the form of a Rock Demon Giant, the body-tempering clone's magic resistance was extremely high.

Although these spells were powerful, it was difficult to cause fatal damage.

Coupled with the Rock Demon Giant's powerful healing and recovery abilities, the body-tempering clone easily withstand it.

The body-tempering clone disappeared into the sea.

A row of wizards chased after him.

“Don’t let him escape. How can a body-refining wizard defy the heavens?”

Boom!

Just as the body-tempering clone escaping...

A terrifying aura came from the sky ahead.

A tall, bald wizard with eight arms suddenly charged out, shocking everyone present.

“It’s the Sea Aristocrat, Mangang... The body-tempering genius of the Ocean Abyss Alliance!”

“It’s said that he can resist fifth-circle spells with his body. He’s simply inhuman.”

Mangang looked at the body-tempering clone.

“Interesting. There’s actually someone who has cultivated a body tempering technique to such a realm. Moreover, this fellow seems to be just a clone... I wonder where is the main body?”

Mangang stretched his muscles and bones, waving his eight arms.

The fist shadows that filled the sky smashed toward the body-tempering clone.

The body-tempering clone had no intention of fighting.

Suddenly, the Rock Demon’s form disintegrated and turned into a water ghost that was constantly gathering and dispersing. It withstood the attacks of the fist shadows and broke through Mangang’s blockade.

Mangang’s expression changed.

He didn’t expect that this body-tempering clone could work like this.

However, Mangang was a dual cultivator, so he quickly used his innate technique to sweep the sea within a radius of a mile to find the body-tempering clone.

At the same time, the fist wind swept out, and terrifying impacts exploded into hundreds and thousands of water waves.

“Come out!” Mangang roared, releasing his spiritual power to increase his Perception.

However, Mangang discovered that the body-tempering clone had already run far away.

Mangang was about to give chase when suddenly, high temperatures pervaded the air.

Mangang instinctively used his eight arms to protect his body. His protective force field and his Wizard Tools all flashed.

The World-Destroying Flame Sword struck and sent Mangang flying.

Mangang felt a sharp pain. He looked at his chest. A deep wound appeared, and noble purple blood flowed.

Purple body-refining runes flickered, healing his injuries.

“Simon!” Mangang roared. Under the effect of the spell runes, his body kept expanding.

The eight arms held the purple demonic axe and hacked down!

Before the huge axe even landed, the sea surface was split apart. It could be seen how fierce the attack was!

Simon was not afraid. Behind him, the Fire God's phantom split the sky and earth.

The Flame Sword collided with the demonic axe!

After one attack, the two were evenly matched.

Seeing this, Simon's figure shot out.

"Black Lotus Beast, stop him!"

Simon chased after the body-tempering clone at an even faster speed.

"F*ck, you want to run after ambushing me?"

Mangang was furious and wanted to chase after Simon.

In the next moment, danger struck him. Mangang hurriedly dodged.

The seawater was boiling.

A pitch-black breath spewed up from the abyss, destroying everything in its path!

The Black Lotus Beast had been lying low for a long time. Under Simon's command, it charged toward Mangang.

Mangang's expression changed drastically.

"The strongest sub-dragon species, Black Lotus Beast!"

He narrowly avoided the Black Lotus Beast's breath and only grazed it.

Mangang's powerful tempered body was actually injured.

He did not dare to be negligent and used all his skills to fight the Black Lotus Beast.

The battlefield was a mess.

All the forces were fighting for resources and oddities.

These resources were all obtained from the Blackstone after plundering a few small worlds. Naturally, they were very abundant.

Fire, thunder, sea, earth, undead spirits, ice...

The attacks of the various factions complemented each other.

Hiding in the Blackstone, the three captain deputies looked at the intruders who were engaged in a chaotic battle outside. They felt numb.

They had underestimated the power and ruthlessness of the wizard civilization.

Any resources would be devoured by the locust-like wizards.

Originally, the deputies did not care about it, but now, it seemed that the wizard civilization was not inferior to the sacred realm.

By throwing away the resource cabin, they could survive by cutting off their tails.

The remaining sailors finally cleared out the remaining enemies on the Blackstone.

Of course, the Amethyst Race was an exception.

This group of lunatics directly hugged Blackstone and gnawed on it, not participating in the chaotic battle outside at all.

Midor had once fought with Gal of the Amethyst Race but Midor was actually suppressed. Midor simply let them eat the spaceship and waited for the captain to wake up.

“When the captain wakes up, prepare to die, intruders!”

...

In the outside world.

Among the various factions, the most eye-catching ones were undoubtedly the top geniuses.

Chapter 1359: Attempting to Flee

Wherever the top geniuses passed, everyone retreated. It could be said that they had gained a lot.

Earth-Grade Truth Oddities were quickly taken away.

After that, there were resources and materials that filled the sky. They were still fighting for them.

Among all the oddities, the one that was the most difficult to catch and the one that caught the most people was that piece of dead wood.

The dead wood was like a dragon, roaming through the void.

Every time someone tried to catch it, sparks would flash around its body and it would directly escape into the void. When it reappeared, it was already dozens of miles away.

There was no doubt that the function of the dead wood was absolutely powerful.

It was suspected to be an extremely rare Morning Star-level oddity on the fifth floor!

Therefore, top-notch geniuses, nomadic wizards... A large group of fifth-circle wizards chased after the dead wood and flew all over the sky.

In comparison, there were far fewer people chasing after the broken sword and tombstone.

The dead wood flashed again in front of the pursuers.

The Sky Dragon Wizard's Wind Chains extended and grabbed at the dead wood.

Snow Lotus Witch, the Prince of Airstream, and other top geniuses of the other factions also used their own methods.

Sparks flew from the dead wood as if it was about to disappear again.

A scarlet wound appeared in the sky.

A golden divine palace descended!

The suppressive power erupted, and the Golden Snake Divine Palace shrank, sealing the dead wood within.

After chasing for a long time, Levi finally succeeded. Excited, he quickly fled.

"D*mned Dragon Abomination, leave behind the oddity!"

“Why is it you again? Shameless!”

One after another, innate spells and Wizard Tools were all aimed at him.

The six Dharma Idols and the Golden Snake Divine Palace collapsed in an instant.

Relying on his divine weapon and powerful body, he was barely able to block the aftershock of the attack.

Levi threw the dead wood into the Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

“The dead wood and the tombstone are in my hands. Only the broken sword was obtained by Simon.”

The power of the Golden Snake boiled, and the Brilliant Golden Dragon Armor materialized. Demonic flames surged into the sky.

Levi held the Crimson Dragon Slash in his right hand and swung his sword. The sword qi surged!

A fifth-circle wizard did not dodge. After the sword light, he vanished into thin air.

“It’s him?”

Sky Dragon Wizard who was about to chase after the Dragon Abomination stopped.

The familiar golden divine palace and the familiar Sword Qi.

It was precisely that Three-Headed Dragon Abomination that left him with lingering fear.

Sky Dragon Wizard hesitated for a moment, then quietly retreated behind everyone.

Only those who had personally fought would know how terrifying this monster was.

A fall into a pit, a gain in one’s wits.

Sky Dragon Wizard trailed behind the team from a distance and no longer rushed forward. He planned to adapt to the situation.

On the other side, the clone was being chased by Simon and Simon was closing the distance between them.

Suddenly, a fire dragon descended from the sky and killed the body-tempering clone!

The tombstone fell into the hands of Holy Infant who had been lying in ambush here for a long time.

The body-tempering clone completed its mission and completely collapsed, disappearing.

Holy Infant sneered, "This oddity belongs to me."

"Put down the oddity!"

Simon's expression turned cold. He didn't expect another person to come out of nowhere.

"Are you Fire Dragon Wizard?"

Simon suddenly remembered that this person was from the White Robe Wizard Association."

"So what if I am? Die!"

On the ancient umbrella, the nine divine dragons gathered and attacked Simon.

Simon's expression changed. The Fire God's phantom flew into the air and slashed down with his huge sword.

The streamers fluttered and brought Simon away quickly.

Seizing this opportunity, Holy Infant also used the Void Teleportation function of the Extreme Fire Wheel and fled hundreds of miles away in an instant!

Boom!

The terrifying explosion frightened countless wizards into retreating.

Simon's furious figure flew out of it.

"D*mn it! This man also has a top-grade Wizard Tool with Void Teleportation!"

Seeing that the tombstone could not be chased back for the time being, Simon's eyes were cold as he analyzed calmly.

Through the intelligence of the other wizards in the Nine Cities Alliance, Simon learned that of the seven great oddities, excluding Earth-Grade oddities, there were three Sky-Grade oddities.

Simon currently had one, and the Fire Dragon Wizard had one.

The remaining one was obtained by that Dragon Abomination.

Simon looked around the battlefield, his gaze like an eagle.

“Cyrus, Alexandra, Elsie... You’re all here. When I get the last oddity, it’ll be your death!”

Simon had the Black Lotus Beast give up on delaying Mangang and went to try and surround Dragon Abomination.

Simon turned into a flowing light and chased after Dragon Abomination.

“I originally thought that the Dragon Abominations have all been killed. I didn’t expect that there was still one alive. It’s really a group of cockroaches that can’t be killed... This time, you have nowhere to go. The one who will kill you must be me!”

...

In mid-air, Levi fled frantically.

As time passed, the sense of danger kept coming.

This wasn't from the other wizards present. Instead, it came from the Blackstone Hall.

He knew that there was definitely a level 6 existence in the depths of the hall.

Therefore, Levi had to leave this place as soon as possible and could not stay for long.

As for Holy Infant, he had already left the battlefield and found a place to hide by relying on the Extreme Fire Wheel.

There were too many enemies behind Levi's main body, and they were chasing him too closely. They were casting spells continuously.

Levi had many methods that he couldn't use.

Suddenly, the sea in front of him split into huge waves.

At the top of the sea wall, the Black Lotus Beast stood there like a ferocious beast that could destroy the world.

The Black Lotus Beast's scarlet and aggressive eyes stared at Levi.

Levi noticed that there seemed to be a Wizard Tool similar to the Spirit Binding Ring around the Black Lotus Beast's neck.

"As expected, this is man-made... From the beginning to the end, Dragon's Valley and the Black Lotus Beast were all part of someone's scheme."

The Black Lotus Beast could hold its own against ten thousand enemies. No wizard dared to approach it.

After all, it was invincible.

However...

In the sky, that Dragon Abomination didn't dodge, he flew towards the Black Lotus Beast.

Behind him was a large group of experts.

In the distance, Alexandra and Elsie looked at this scene in shock.

The clash between the auras of two ancient ferocious beasts was truly spectacular.

“Is this the strongest sub-dragon at the peak of level 5... Perhaps it isn’t too far away from level 6. Is this Dragon Abomination seeking death?”

Chapter 1360: Attack of the Golden Light Wizard!

The two women didn’t participate in the fight for the Truth Oddity.

Firstly, they were not compatible with the items, and secondly, it was too dangerous.

The two women mainly snatched some other resources and materials.

In the next moment.

Something unbelievable happened.

Dragon Abomination’s large hand tore, tearing open a hole in the void.

This scene caused the expressions of the people chasing behind to change drastically.

“Level 6 expert?”

“No, it should be some kind of treasure. I heard that this Dragon Abomination obtained a Holy Grail treasure in the Youth Grassland. This must be the function of the Holy Grail!”

“Such a spatial treasure was actually obtained by a Dragon Abomination? This is simply unacceptable!”

“This treasure is probably even more precious than the oddity!”

As the space void cracked, a huge suction force came.

The mountain-like Black Lotus Beast was sucked into it.

On the grassland.

Within the Eight Heavenly Dragons Prison, the Black Lotus Beast’s figure appeared. It looked confused and did not know what was going on.

The grand array was activated, completely trapping the Black Lotus Beast within.

At the location of the array core, many level 5 creatures presided over the grand array, and the Wind God model descended with Wind Thunder Power.

Endless tornadoes and thunderbolts charged toward the Black Lotus Beast.

Whether it was a transcendent creature or the Wind God model, there was only one goal.

Assist the Eight Heavenly Dragon Prison to trap the Black Lotus Beasts for a period of time and ensure their own safety.

As for killing the Black Lotus Beast, they couldn't do it.

The Eight Heavenly Dragon Prison was so powerful that even if the Black Lotus Beast was in the perfected fifth-circle realm, it would not be able to break through in a short period of time.

Levi had that much confidence in the Eight Heavenly Dragon Prison.

After putting away the Black Lotus Beast, Levi heaved a sigh of relief.

"Now, I can finally take a gamble without any worries."

He suddenly sped up and disappeared into the Scarlet Dark Dimension, shaking off another group of people.

However, the group of top-notch geniuses relied on their own methods to catch up.

Levi was also struck by some unknown Wizard Tool, and the Scarlet Dark Dimension was blasted out.

“How annoying. I only stole three Truth Oddities. Is there a need to do this?” cursed Levi.

Seeing Dragon Abomination being beaten out of the Scarlet Dark Dimension, the Golden Light Wizard was ecstatic.

He raised his hand, and hundreds of lightning chains fell from the sky and covered the sea.

“Leave behind treasures and oddity!”

Levi rushed into the hole, and lightning crackled and sparks flew everywhere.

The other fifth-circle wizards looked at this scene in horror.

“This is crazy.”

How powerful was the attack of the Golden Light Wizard? This Dragon Abomination was too arrogant.

Within one of the lightning chains, the Golden Light Wizard's figure appeared.

A golden door appeared behind him.

Golden longswords that were flashing with lightning shot out in unison.

Innate spell, King's Ten Thousand Swords!

This was the method that the Golden Light Wizard was proud of. He had killed countless people with this move.

Crack, crack, crack.

The terrifying attacks all landed on the Brilliant Golden Dragon Armor, and bloody holes appeared one after another.

"Dragon Abomination is mediocre after all."

The Golden Light Wizard was confident.

Dragon Abomination suffered such heavy injuries and did not even let out a muffled groan.

It remained silent and continued to charge forward, completely ignoring the Golden Light Wizard's attacks.

This made the Golden Light Wizard feel that he was being looked down upon.

Innate spell, King's Absolute Sword!

The Golden Light Wizard gripped the air.

Thunderclouds appeared in the sky, and a hundred-meter-long lightning greatsword slashed down!

Behind Dragon Abomination, the three thousand feather blades transformed into a greatsword of wind and lightning, colliding with the lightning greatsword.

The terrifying shockwaves of the explosion swept out, and the group of wizards retreated.

“The Golden Light Wizard is too strong. Even with the Dragon Abomination’s powerful physical body, the Dragon Abomination must have suffered heavy injuries.”

“Even a perfected fifth-circle wizard wouldn’t dare to take that sword attack head-on, right?”

On the battlefield, it had already become the stage for the Golden Light Wizard and Dragon Abomination.

Dragon Abomination did not seem to have any intention of fighting.

He just kept running forward, his body covered in injuries.

“You still want to run?”

The Golden Light Wizard took out a mirror-like Wizard Tool and disappeared.

With a flash, the Golden Light Wizard directly appeared in front of Dragon Abomination’s path. It could be said that the Golden Light Wizard was rather persistent.

“You can’t run. You’ll definitely die from this attack!”

The surging Golden Lightning formed a giant golden bird.

Seventh talent, Golden Thunder God's Wings!

Boom!

After a shocking collision, golden light filled the world.

Golden Light Wizard's forehead was covered in sweat as he panted heavily.

"You should be dead now..."

A brilliant golden light tore apart the giant golden bird and broke through all restraints!

This was the only light left in the Golden Light Wizard's vision.

As the golden light faded away.

The headless corpse fell to the ground with a loud bang and was put away by the fleeing Dragon Abomination.

“He’s really too noisy. Must he flash such bright light and give away his life like that?”

The Brilliant Golden Dragon Armor on Levi’s body slowly dissipated, revealing a body covered in scars and scabs.

Levi was indeed seriously injured. But what can a mere injury do to him?

His breathing was heavy, like a dragon’s roar.

After witnessing the energetic Golden Light Wizard being killed in an instant, many wizards stopped and did not dare to move forward.

Behind them, Mangang, the Snow Lotus Witch, the Prince of Airstream, and the other top geniuses were still feeling a little scared.

Although the Golden Light Wizard was proud, he was indeed the strongest in the Deep Blue Organization.

If it was them, their ending might be even worse.

Taking advantage of the time that the Golden Light Wizard was stalling for time, the wizards quietly surrounded Dragon Abomination.

Under the temptation of the dead wood, which was suspected to be a Morning Star-level oddity, they could not leave so easily.

At this moment, a cold voice sounded in the sky.

“All scam, Dragon Abomination is mine!”

One by one, the dragon heads descended from the sky.

In the dragon’s mouth, an array light shot into the sky, surrounding Dragon Abomination.

Simon descended from the sky, bathed in the flames. The streamers behind him fluttered like a god of fire.
