Chapter 175: Level 3 Flame Stream, Black Snake Returns!

(2)

However, Levi had seen many breathing technique inheritance diagrams, but none were as oppressive as this two-legged beast. Even his own Black Snake seemed to be inferior.

"A strength-type breathing technique with a total of 101 miniature human figures. I can cultivate it to level 10 of the perfect Bloodline Breathing Technique!"

"Even the Giant Breathing Technique paled compared to this breathing technique."

"In the future, my main strength-type breathing technique will become the

Red Lotus Breathing Technique. I'll use the Giant Breathing Technique and the Giant Rhinoceros Breathing Technique to break through the limits."

The Red Lotus Breathing Technique should represent the highest level of the knight's breathing technique.

After all, the legendary breathing technique itself was a false concept. A breathing technique that had given birth to a legend could be called a legendary breathing technique.

"The main ingredient of the Red Lotus' secret medicine is the Earth Dragon Blood..."

"Earthly Dragon Beasts again."

Levi could not help but mourn for the Earthly Dragon Beast.

"However, the Earthly Dragon Beast's blood is much easier to obtain than ambergris."

This was good news for Levi. He was afraid of encountering something like the Turbellarian Egg. If that happened, it would be troublesome to cultivate the Red Lotus Breathing Technique.

Putting away the Red Lotus Breathing Technique, Levi looked at the other four breathing techniques.

They were the Elephant Turtle Breathing Technique, the Thunder Wolf Breathing Technique, the Saint Ant Breathing Technique, and the Heavenly Bull Breathing Technique.

The Saint Ant Breathing Technique and the Heavenly Bull Breathing Technique were strength-based.

Levi took a look. One could cultivate to the peak of level 7, while the other could grow to level 8.

It was far inferior to Red Lotus.

As Levi did not lack a strength-type breathing technique for the time being, he decided to put it aside for now and choose whether to cultivate it in the future.

He looked at the Elephant Turtle Breathing Technique.

This breathing technique was a rare defensive breathing technique.

There were a total of sixty-eight miniature human figures.

It should be able to cultivate to the limit of level 9.

It was on the same level as the Black Snake Breathing Technique.

On the inheritance diagram, a giant elephant with thick limbs and a tortoiseshell-covered body stood in the wilderness like a mountain.

"This is a good thing. I have to cultivate it. It can be used to break the limit of the Black Snake Breathing Technique."

Levi thought to himself that it was just right.

This peak-level defensive breathing technique could be exchanged for 6 limit breaking points.

In addition, Levi had obtained another basic defensive breathing technique.

The limit breaking points added up were enough for the Black Snake to break through.

Therefore, this breathing technique was a must.

As for the secret medicine required for the Elephant Turtle Breathing Technique, the main ingredient was the Armored Mammoth Levi had tamed some time ago!

"I knew it. Fortunately, I was prepared and brought the Armored Mammoth back in advance!"

Levi could not help but sigh.

After learning so many breathing techniques, he completely understood the routines of these breathing techniques.

The secret medicines required were similar to the giant beasts on the inheritance diagram.

The last breathing technique was the Thunder Wolf Breathing Technique, a speed-type technique.

It could be cultivated to the limit of level 7.

The secret medicine was the flesh and blood of the Blue Wolf.

Blue Wolves were a relatively common type of wild beast, so it was not difficult to deal with them.

"This way, there's no problem with the Siren Breathing Technique breaking through the limit."

"This is a wave of spirit removal and blood earning."

After Levi finished organizing his gains, he brought his three living dead companions and left Icewind City overnight.

He wanted to go to the South.

It was not very sensible for him to go to Montenegro Mountain City.

Of course, he would gather information about him before seeking revenge from the Duke of Montenegro. Only by getting to the bottom of it would he be able to ensure his success.

Levi had also thought of a suitable candidate.

The two Earl of Blood and Earl of Silversilk were doing well in the South.

With Levi's speed, it would not take him more than a few days to travel from Montenegro Province to Lush Forest Province.

In the past few days, he had been moving forward in the uninhabited wilderness and would practice the Seal of Dragon Might when he had nothing to do.

The Evil Spirit Dust he obtained after killing the Soulstealing Nun was enough for him to upgrade the Seal of Dragon's Might to level 2.

The Duke of Montenegro seemed to have mastered the trump card to control evil spirits. Levi might have to face the Duke of Montenegro and the evil spirits he held.

Therefore, Levi had to prepare his most powerful weapon against evil spirits.

This time, Levi went straight to Flower City in Tulip Hill.

This was a city that belonged to him.

Although it was the Month of the Northern Wind, the South was not too cold.

On Tulip Hill, there were still lush flowers and trees.

After Levi set foot on this land, the memories that belonged to the body's original owner seemed to have started to surface slowly.

Soon, he arrived at Flower City.

From afar, he could see this giant city.

The resident population was much more than that of Icewind City.

All kinds of flowers were planted around the city. The flowering period of these flowers was staggered to ensure that the city was in full bloom all year round.

Along the way, he could see some troops leaving Flower City. It was likely that they were heading to the front line.

Levi looked at the giant city, his heart as calm as an ancient well.

"It's been ten years. I'm back."

Flower City's entrance and exit checks were rigorous during the war.

It was a pity that Levi did not need to take the right path to enter.

After entering the city, Levi was not in a hurry to find the Earl of Blood.

He found a place to stay and temporarily arranged for his three companions to settle down.

Then, he went to the Shining Tavern and sat the entire afternoon, listening to the customers' conversations through his Advanced Vibrosensing.

According to the information he had received, the Duke of Montenegro had set up a new base in Storm City by the sea, the territory previously controlled by the Earl of Silversilk..
