

Wizard 1751

Chapter 1751: The Golden Dragon descends as Heaven falls, the Heavenly Father departs as the epoch ends!

Hundred Flowers said,

"Go then, go."

Now, Ancient Banyan Fairyland was no secret to Hundred Flowers.

Hundred Flowers had long been aware of Dragon King Li's Dragon Abomination avatar, leaving Levi speechless for a long time, as it turned out, Hundred Flowers had been cooperating with him in his act here...

Levi chuckled and kissed Hundred Flowers before vanishing.

Although he had acquired his primordial soul and had a wife now, he could not slacken in his cultivation.

In Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

Under the ancient banyan tree.

Mana sat on a branch, her face full of smiles as she looked at Levi.

"Look at the happiness brimming in the Dragon King's smile, has he almost forgotten about us in the fairyland?"

Martha also joked rarely,

"It's normal for newlyweds, young people, with good energy."

Levi gave a sheepish smile.

"Recently, I've been overwhelmed with organizational matters."

Under the banyan tree.

A majestic crow radiated blue flames all around it.

It had intelligent-looking eyes and was clearly highly wise.

It was the Green Fire Crow that Levi had snatched from Heavenly Mountain.

Upon seeing Levi arrive, the Green Fire Crow prostrated itself on the ground and said with its head lowered,

"Hello, benefactor."

Its voice was clear and loud, not crow-like at all, but rather sounded like an elder sister, apparently a female crow.

The real name of the Green Fire Crow was "Carol Yalin." Its strength was also close to the Level 6 Middle Stage, but it had been long suppressed and exploited by the Church, and now it was just entering Level 6.

Levi had tamed it without much effort, nor had he used Crimson Enslavement.

After being rescued by Levi from Heavenly Mountain, it immediately offered itself in gratitude, expressing a wish to remain by his side to serve him out of gratitude.

The Green Fire Crow was well aware that given its rarity, if it were mixed up in Nora, it would be either caught by the Church or by wizards.

Better to find a strong protector early and stick with it. And Levi was clearly a suitable choice.

After six months of recuperation, the strength of the Green Fire Crow had also partially recovered.

Levi was somewhat eager to extract its bloodline essence.

He took the Green Fire Crow aside and got straight to the point,

"I rescued you, but I had my own motives—I need your bloodline essence for cultivation... But don't worry, I won't overly affect your growth."

The Green Fire Crow understood and said,

"I understand."

After all, it was better than being destitute outside.

And seeing other members of the Dragon Palace, they all seemed to be living well.

Especially those retired employees, who spent their days in leisure and comfort.

She, too, hoped one day to retire and spend her remaining days in this fairyland.

Levi said,

"Thank you."

He gave the Green Fire Crow some precious Six-Ring Potions to nourish its body, as a form of consolation.

Several days later.

Levi had already prepared the Death Ember Dragon Advancement Potion.

Time flew swiftly.

In the blink of an eye.

Another year had passed.

Holy Brilliance Calendar 1415.

Year 2 of Nora.

The 17th Dragon Dao Conference was held successfully, a decade-long grand meeting of the Dragon Palace, which had been happening for nearly two hundred years.

The Faceless Infant Dragon had recently been busy with matters in the Nightmare World and cultivation, so it did not participate in the competition.

The eternal second place, the Thunderstorm Wolf Dragon, finally ascended to a high-level!

All three brothers had also advanced to the late stage of level 5.

Even the Dragon Turtle, known for its extremely slow cultivation, reached the mid-stage of level 5.

The reason was simple; Dragon King Li no longer used them to extract bloodline essence, so naturally, their progression sped up considerably.

Meanwhile, in the Ancient Dragon Continent, at Levi's place of seclusion.

On this day, the fire elemental power tumbled in the high skies, ash drifted, and feathers filled the sky.

A black giant dragon formed from ash emerged, radiating a high-temperature aura as it took shape.

Blood Desolation Master·Ash Dragon—a Legendary Creature!

At the same time,

an even more potent, 500 meters wingspan, red-flamed giant bird descended from the sky with an unparalleled momentum.

It resembled the Phoenix from Levi's past life, boasting gorgeous tail feathers.

With a flap of its wings, flames fell as its elongated neck tilted upwards to sing, emitting bursts of melodious chirps.

The true divine bird!

Undying Bird!

A Mythical Creature!

Even having seen the Mythical Red Lotus Dragon, Levi was still somewhat shaken.

"It truly lives up to the name of the Undying Bird, truly extraordinary."

His fighting spirit surged, his whole body's aura exploded, and the Indestructible Armor wrapped in black flames appeared.

Levi, bare-handed, did not prepare any weapons.

"Come on!"

He took the initiative to attack, facing two opponents alone!

The Undying Bird flapped its wings, sparking a sky full of fire that boomed and burned, forming two rivers of flame like a galaxy falling from the Nine Heavens, aiming at Levi.

Boom!

Levi's fist wind ravaged, tearing apart the flames, his invincible form dominating through the cataclysmic fire!

One man and two beasts, dragon fighting in the wilderness!

All three being of the physical type meant they each had an immortal body, making the battle exceedingly intense.

But ultimately, with Levi's overwhelming power, he easily transcended the catastrophe.

Not to mention the subsequent Dark Tribulation.

After the tribulation, Levi felt his physique becoming stronger.

And even more lively, brimming with vigor in his limbs and organs, each drop of blood, each cell, completely transformed from before.

He opened his proficiency panel.

Levi

Inferno Dragon Breathing Technique: Eighteenth-tier (1/5000000), Special Effect: Death Ember Dragon Body·Mythical (Level 6 Early Stage), Bloodline Dharma Idol: Nirvana Dragon; Blood Source Armor: Ash Dragon Armor; Exclusive Weapon: Indestructible Armor (Level 6)

...

[Death Ember Dragon Body·Mythical:

1. You possess the extreme physique of a Death Ember Dragon.
2. You possess excellent fire element affinity talents.
3. You possess innate abilities "Undying Body·Basic" and "Nirvana Life."

4. You comprehend the "Undying Divine Domain" with a diameter of six kilometers; upon activating the domain, Undying Divine Flame engulfs your body, and your physique and healing ability increase by 300%!

5. You have obtained the identity abilities "Ash Lord" and "Netherworld Walker."

6. You can transform into a Death Ember Dragon...]

Seeing the capabilities of the Death Ember Dragon at level 6, Levi gasped in amazement.

"It's really too powerful!"

"Although the Death Ember Dragon is still a Mythical Creature, it must be one of the best among them, especially since the Undying Bird is not just any Mythical Creature."

Most importantly, after advancing to level 6, each new ability displayed by the Death Ember Dragon was extremely fearsome.

Levi casually opened one.

[Undying Body·Basic:

Each drop of blood and every tiny part of your body possesses powerful liveliness and regeneration capabilities. Even if you were blasted into pieces, you could immediately reassemble and heal back to your original form. Your physical body has no fatal weakness, whether it's the brain, heart, or any ordinary organs, flesh, merely existing as a symbol. Your soul, consciousness, memory, etc., stored in every inch of flesh, as long as some flesh tissue remains, you can quickly grow into a new individual.]

"Isn't this the legendary... Blood Rebirth?"

Chapter 1752: True Immortal God like the gods and demons, Nirvana restarts the second life!

Blood Rebirth.

Levi had never transcended mortality, but he had longed countless times for this ability.

This skill is often the standard for certain undying antagonists and old monsters, which allows them to regenerate as long as a single drop of blood remains.

Now, this "Undying Body" could be considered a low-end version of Blood Rebirth.

From the skill description, he could at most regenerate from a chunk of flesh, not quite reaching the regeneration from a single drop of blood, but it was close.

Once a piece of flesh reshaped his form, the other pieces would simply disintegrate.

Moreover, this was only the Basic "Undying Body", as Levi progressed with his Death Ember Dragon, there would be Intermediate and Advanced levels of Undying Body. Achieving true Blood Rebirth in the future should not be a problem.

"Nirvana Life: To you, death is only a new beginning. After death, you will reincarnate with the soul and memories of this life into your current species. Current Nirvana rebirth count: 1"

"A simple introduction, but a heaven-defying ability! The legendary reincarnation and cultivation anew!"

Levi took a deep breath, his spirit shaken.

Without a doubt, this should be the Undying Bird's signature ability.

Such powerful beings do not truly die; even in death, they can be reborn.

This isn't the same as the Blood Clan's rebirth, who resurrect in the Blood River, but with no prior memories.

Essentially, it's the same as ordinary people who have their memories wiped in the Underworld Source River and reincarnate.

The Blood Clan can only ensure they remain the Blood Clan.

Whereas ordinary people's next life species is left to fate.

His "Nirvana Rebirth" ability was a true rebirth on every level.

In novels, it's enough to be a protagonist's trump card.

And, from the skill introduction, Levi's rebirth count could increase as he improved the Inferno Dragon Breathing Technique.

"Too overpowered, from now on, I, Levi, also have the means to defy fate and live a second life!"

Of course, even though he had an extra life for rejuvenation, it was still best not to trigger this ability.

Generally speaking, reincarnation would likely be faster than the first cultivation, but it would still take a considerable amount of time.

Most importantly, Levi wasn't sure if his Golden Finger proficiency panel would also reincarnate with him.

If not, wouldn't he suffer a tremendous loss?

"Undying Divine Domain" was also extremely powerful; once activated, it would increase physique and self-healing ability by 300%. Within the Domain, paired with Levi's "Undying Body" ability, he was almost the legendary "true immortal god".

"Ash Lord" was similar to "Nightmare Lord". The difference was that Nightmare Lord granted Levi a lord status in the Nightmare World, allowing him free entry.

The Ash Lord, however, granted him a lord status in the Ashen World.

The Ashen World was now a world in ruins, having already turned into the semblance of the Nightmare World. Apart from Unyielding Silver Seat, Owens, Levi hadn't seen any other living people.

Speaking of which, Owens had been cultivating hard over the years, preparing to advance to the sixth stage as the Gray Swordsman.

As the last hope of Windmill Village, and even the Ashen World, he must have some secrets.

"Netherworld Walker" was interesting.

"Netherworld Walker: With the Death Ember Dragon's Bloodline Breathing Technique, you can open the Tenth-level Underworld Gate of the legendary Hell, granting you the credentials to travel the Underworld."

Seeing Underworld, Levi gasped.

"This must be the Undying Bird's ability... The Underworld, a mighty world said to stand shoulder to shoulder with the astral world, is even more mysterious and unpredictable. Even wizards know very little about it."

At the very least, even ordinary wizards knew that the astral world was inhabited by Gods, like the Father, Holy Mother, the Lord of Chaos... these powerful beings live on the power of faith.

The Multidimensional Plane also had many powerful creatures, like the Swimming Dark Whale, Maya, etc., who were born with the freedom to come and go to the astral world.

But regarding the Underworld, Levi only knew it was a place for the dead to reincarnate—a place with an Underworld Source River that could erase past life memories and allow beings a chance at a new life. He knew nothing of the other powerful beings and its specific rules.

Low-profile yet extremely powerful was his first impression of the Underworld.

And now, he had gained the ability to travel there.

It was as if those guarding the Underworld Gate had given him a ticket to visit the Underworld.

Most likely, this was the Undying Bird's power, now inherited by the Death Ember Dragon.

The status of Ash Dragon was not high enough to receive such treatment.

Closing the proficiency panel, Levi felt an unparalleled sense of relief.

After the Death Ember Dragon ascended, his life-saving abilities, already freakishly formidable, had jumped up several levels.

It was conceivable that neither the Ash Dragon nor the Undying Bird had gone extinct.

Ash Dragon may be reborn from an egg, and the Undying Bird likely had a similar and more powerful ability.

Most likely, it still lived within the Multidimensional Plane, merely undiscovered by the Wizard World.

Such innately powerful beings, born free and outside the cycle of reincarnation, represented the life Levi had always dreamt of.

Levi closed the proficiency panel.

Now, only the Nightmare Dragon Breathing Technique had not reached the sixth stage.

The six major breathing techniques.

Golden Brilliance Dragon and Death Ember Dragon were Mythical Breathing Methods that could theoretically be cultivated to the Ten-level Realm.

Sky Dragon and Scarlet Dragon were leaders among the Legendary-level breathing techniques, likely able to be cultivated to level-9.

Crimson Emperor Dragon transcended Myth—should it manage to reach its limit, it might approach the realm once held by Sauron.

Chapter 1753: True Immortal God like Gods and Demons, Nirvana Rebirth for the Second Life!

As for the Nightmare Dragon, it was still unknown.

However, based on the previous breathing techniques that had been fused, it probably still hadn't broken out of the bounds of legend.

Therefore, if possible, the next step would be to evolve the Sky Dragon, Scarlet Dragon, and Nightmare Dragon again, striving to reach the Mythical level, and even beyond to the Super Mythical level.

Eventually, these Super Mythical level breathing techniques would be fused together.

Then the ultimate biological breathing technique that Levi once conceived should take shape.

When that realm was reached, wouldn't he be able to move unchallenged across the Multidimensional Plane?

Even the gods of the astral world would have to lower their heads in his presence.

In addition,

Levi found that his breathing techniques were also involved in many worlds.

Some allowed him to travel the Void and reach the astral world; some led to the Ashen World and the Underworld; there were also paths to the Nightmare World.

Among the super large planes, only the Abyss World had yet to be infiltrated by him.

"The next step in the evolution of the breathing techniques could perhaps start from the Abyss World. Sooner or later, all the worlds will be my backyard."

"Now that I have made a breakthrough in strength, it's a good time to celebrate with Flower Knight."

Thinking back, he seemed to have not cultivated together with Flower Knight for a year due to his seclusion for a breakthrough.

With this thought, Levi headed to the Flower Hall.

Just at that moment, the Divine Light Knight passed by and, seeing Levi, promptly greeted him.

She smiled and said,

"Commander, it's been a long time, have you progressed again?"

Levi laughed heartily.

"Indeed, you're not doing too bad yourself, Denise. You've reached the late-stage level 5, is level 6 still far away?"

Denise smiled and replied,

"With your blessings, Commander, I've just reached the late-stage level 5. To achieve level 6, I'll need at least several decades more to perfect it, then there's a possibility."

Levi said,

"Good things come to those who wait. I have something to discuss with Flower Knight, so I'll be off."

With a wave of his hand, he pushed the door open and entered.

The Divine Light Knight watched the commander's departing figure, reflecting inwardly,

"Indeed, one must have a proactive personality like Flower Knight to more easily capture their true love... If you just wait passively for fortune to come, you're destined to end up alone."

Compared to Flower Knight, her own personality wasn't as proactive.

Of course, it might also be because she was busy with her cultivation and had not yet found a suitable partner.

...

Several days later.

Flower Hall.

Levi lay on Flower Knight's bed, reading the latest Wizard World newspaper. Flower Knight had been sent away to study Pharmacy.

With the cultivation of Floral's Primordial Soul, returning to study Pharmacy, she caught on very quickly and was now an official pharmacist.

If Flower Knight wasn't given some tasks, a married man would find it hard to have his own independent space.

From his early days of weakness until now, Levi's tradition of reading the newspaper had never changed.

[Endless Sea Law and Order Daily: Progress has been made in the terror attack case of the Schubert Family. A spokesperson for the Law Enforcement Department, the Electric Eel Wizard, claimed they have preliminary clues about the suspects, and the case is under further investigation. The criminal behind this case is extremely cunning and treacherous! The wizard community is asked to be patient for the results; justice may be delayed, but it never fails to arrive!]

[Stars Weekly: Recently, the golden prince destroyed a stronghold of a mysterious organization in the Endless Sea, and as a reward for his outstanding contribution to the legal industry of the Endless Sea, Star Tower awarded him the "Star Medal". The golden prince has become the only Six-Circle Wizard to receive such honor in a hundred years. The Star Tower also gifted him a Sixth-level Sub-Dragon Species "Wind Dust Dragon" as a mount for encouragement!]

[Ocean Entertainment: Today, Snow Lotus Witch of Witch's Family has officially advanced to primordial soul and will be holding her primordial soul ceremony at Witch's Family two years from now. Let us congratulate this rising star, becoming known throughout the Endless Sea!]

[Obituary: Prince of Airstream Hades was unfortunately assassinated by a spy installed by a mysterious organization during his ascension to primordial soul. The ascension failed, and he died, with his funeral to take place six months later. "Son of Hurricane Van Dis," a primordial soul wizard, vowed to avenge his junior brother and declared a relentless battle against the mysterious organization!]

After finishing the newspaper, Levi had the expression of an older man scrolling through his phone on the subway.

"Did the Law Enforcement Department really find a criminal clue..."

He was seriously doubtful of that.

It was probably just an official statement from the Law Enforcement Department. Of course, necessary caution was still needed.

The golden prince, Levi had heard of him.

This man was the father of the Electric Eel Wizard, now probably around a thousand years old, like Flower Knight, both possessing Sixth Ring Perfect Cultivation, with a good chance of advancing to the seven-circle in the future.

Before the opening of the Dark Ancient Tower, Flower Knight had once fought over the key to the Dark Ancient Tower with him, ending in a draw.

However, later the key was snatched away by the Molten Gold Wizard King, the old bastard, taking advantage of his seniority to outwit the young.

It had to be said, the Molten Gold Wizard King did have some skills.

His son was a Six-Circle Perfect Wizard, and his grandson a Sixth Ring Senior Wizard.

The Electric Eel Wizard was still unmarried, but with his standard, his partner was surely a genius-level primordial soul wizard, and the talent of their future children was unlikely to be inferior.

It was said that, on some unofficial fan rankings, the Electric Eel Wizard consistently ranked as the "91st Most Popular Wizard" among fans, with the nickname "Mr. Eel No. 91".

The list comprised only young, attractive, exceptionally talented, and powerful wizards.

Worth mentioning was that Master Fire Dragon had also made the list, and even ranked higher than the Electric Eel Wizard, at 49th.

Speaking of which, Levi had heard from Triss that after the Electric Eel Wizard advanced to primordial soul, he had once shown interest in Flower Knight.

Afterwards, he was rebuffed by Flower Knight with a phrase like "Sorry, I'm not into pretty boys."

Chapter 1754: True Immortal God like Gods and Demons, Nirvana Rebirth for the Second Life!

Thinking about this, Levi looked contentedly at his muscular frame, oozing with a sense of safety and brimming with masculine charm.

He wasn't surprised that the Star Tower awarded the Star Medal to the Golden Prince; the Golden Prince's abilities were indeed impressive. Publicly, over the past few centuries, he had captured or killed more than five Six-Ring Black Wizards and members of mysterious organizations.

However, such achievements were still not sufficient to merit the Star Medal. There had to be some underhanded tricks.

As for the reward of a sixth-tier middle-stage sub-dragon species as a mount, it was clearly even more inappropriate.

"The promotion of the Snow Lotus Witch to primordial soul was expected, she reached the fifth circle around her two hundredth birthday, with the double buff of Water Element Child and Special Talent, along with having parents who are primordial soul wizards, and the strange encounters and gains inside the ancient tower, her eventual promotion having taken this path of internal energy shattering, surely promises limitless achievements in the future."

Levi couldn't help but think of Simon, whose grave grass must have grown into towering trees by now...

"Anya recently mastered the Ninth Talent as well. Persistence paid off, and she can finally be promoted to primordial soul... The lady needn't worry about her daughter any longer. Once Anya is a primordial soul, I'll gift a wizard tool as a token of gratitude for the lady's kindness."

Years had passed, and two hundred years later, many of the top talents of the ancient tower era were still alive and had been promoted to primordial soul. The Sky Dragon Wizard was even promoted before Levi.

However, there had been no news from Alexandra and Elsie, and it was unknown whether they had succeeded in their promotion.

But Levi never expected the Prince of Airstream to be set up during his own organization's promotion.

The Council of Ten Thousand Clans had long since infiltrated the Wizard World, caution was now imperative.

One year later.

Holy Brilliance Calendar 1416, Month of Northern Wind.

Year 3 of Nora.

Because Levi's spiritual force had risen too rapidly in previous years, his cultivation of the wizard meditation art these years was more about stabilization than advancement.

With his lifespan, there was no need for recklessness.

Thus, the level of his spiritual force hadn't changed much these years.

He opened his proficiency panel.

Levi

Golden Brilliance Dragon Breathing Technique: eighteenth-tier (1,600,000/5,000,000)...

Crimson Emperor Dragon Breathing Technique: eighteenth-tier (1,500,000/5,000,000)...

Qi Explosion Seal: level 3 (Maximum), Special Effect: Wind Rhythm.

Human King Seal: level 3 (Maximum), Special Effect: Sin of the Non-human.

...

Over these years, his cultivation of the Golden Brilliance Dragon and Crimson Emperor Dragon Breathing Techniques had nearly reached the two million proficiency required for the mid Stage 6.

Additionally, he had learned the Duncan Family's legacy seals and quickly cultivated them to their limits.

One was the "Qi Explosion Seal," where with a mantra and casting materials, he could compress the air in front of his palm to form an air cannon, attacking enemies.

This seal bore a special effect similar to the previous ones, augmenting his wind-element affinity. Of course, for Levi now, these augmentations were minimal.

The second was the "Human King Seal," burning a portion of his life energy to form a Human King Palm Seal for attacking enemies.

[Sin of the Non-human: You cause 10% more damage to non-human creatures and 20% more damage to dark creatures.]

A plainly-worded introduction, yet the effect was incredibly potent.

This ability was born for hunting monsters. No wonder it's from a Monster Hunter Family.

The Constantine Family's [Seal of Flame Flow]and [Seal of Hell]; Winchester Family's [Seal of Protection]and [Seal of Dragon Might]; Van Helsing Family's [Purification Seal]and [Slaughter Seal]. Along with the two great seals he had acquired now.

Thus far, from the moment Levi embarked on the path of learning seals, and now, after over four centuries, he had finally collected all the Four Great Family Seals, from start to finish, never forgetting his original intentions, this was the perseverance of an obsessive collector!

Four great families, eight seals, eight special effects.

The main seals' effects were affiliated with Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water.

The effects of the other seals varied greatly.

[Hell Apostle]increased affinity with hell creatures, [Dragon Affinity]enhanced Dragon Clan creature affinity. [Fear of the Blood Clan]provided damage bonuses against the Blood Clan. [Sin of the Non-human]enhanced damage against monsters.

"Perhaps, the ancestors of the Four Great Families never imagined someone would obsess over collecting all the seals and even manage to cultivate them, needing the respective family's bloodlines."

Inexplicably, Levi felt that the four major seals, representing Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water's affinity, could be fused. Maybe it was related to his Chaos Child talent.

However, with his current knowledge and realm, after attempting for a while, the panel showed no response.

"Forget it, I'll worry about that later. When my Golden Brilliance Dragon Breathing Technique progresses further and reaches mid Stage 6, I can consider heading to Hell."

Compared to the mysterious and unpredictable Underworld, wizards had a much better understanding of Hell and currently possessed many magical methods to access Hell.

Levi's journey to Hell was primarily to collect materials for advancing the Book of the Undead. In passing, he planned to acquire some rare resources from Hell's zero-cost market.

With his own 80% Luck Boost, the prospects should be good.

His main focus for now remained on finding and cultivating primordial soul spells.

Triss's primordial soul spell came from the Witch's Family behind her, but due to a confidentiality agreement, it couldn't be shared with Levi.

Hundred Flowers as well, except for her own created primordial soul spell [Mandala Umbrella], the other spells all originated from the Witch's Family.

Chapter 1755: True immortal god like gods and demons, Nirvana restarts the second life!

The Mandala Umbrella was a spell with a feminine orientation; although it wasn't exclusively for witches, both the casting actions and the effects of the spell were at odds with Levi's masculine style.

One year later.

In the year 1417 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar.

The fourth year of Nora.

The Endless Sea.

The Witch's Family.

On this day, it was the Snow Lotus Witch's primordial soul ceremony.

Since Hundred Flowers had also received an invitation, as her man, Levi naturally had to accompany her to attend.

That's the downside of being a married man—always having to carve out time to be with one's partner, whether to cultivate together or to shop and attend events together.

The bustling venue was full of erudite conversations, without a single ignorant soul amidst.

Dressed in her finest, the Snow Lotus Witch stood like a pure lotus, untainted by the mud, poised at the center of the stage.

Anya and Sierra had also been invited. The young couple, both at Fifth-Circle Perfection but not yet primordial souls, felt a sense of loss, akin to attending a reunion and finding others have achieved great success.

Levi, holding a wine glass, approached them and said,

"Anya, how goes your preparation for the advancement to primordial soul?"

Anya, looking startled, quickly said,

"It's almost ready. After attending this ceremony, I will retreat to the Nether Capital to close off from the world. Without becoming a primordial soul, I can't bear to call myself the peer of Sir Levi."

Levi patted his shoulder and said,

"Don't mind these small details, and pre-congratulations on reaching primordial soul. You are Madam Triss's pride, have confidence in yourself."

Hundred Flowers chuckled and said,

"That's right, even Levi spent a few hundred years to advance to primordial soul."

Anya nodded, feeling warmed by the reassurance of the two seniors.

Triss approached and said,

"Levi, is the Tower of Dawn in need of people?"

Levi replied,

"Yes, it is."

Triss suggested,

"How about after Anya becomes a primordial soul wizard, he goes to the Tower of Dawn? Could you find him a teaching position there?"

Levi responded,

"I suppose we should ask Anya for his opinion, right?"

Anya said,

"If you agree, Levi, I would be delighted to."

Levi smiled and said,

"Then it's settled."

Currently, the Tower of Dawn ostensibly had no primordial soul wizards. The Holy Infant was just a nominal Tower Master at the Fire Dragon Shop while Sorrett's identity was special. Anya was, indeed, a fine candidate. They could arrange for him to be a Deputy Tower Master and perhaps a professor for the Metal Faction, killing two birds with one stone.

Worth mentioning is that,

Tower Master Herman had already gone into seclusion ten years earlier.

He aimed to challenge the Sixth Realm of the Mechanical School, "Soul of the Burning Machine," to bring forth something akin to a primordial soul, the "machine soul."

With an undying machine soul, one could use any machine as their body, which was extremely powerful.

At that time, the level of black technology on the Ancient Dragon Continent would certainly go a level higher.

After Hundred Flowers and Levi appeared, a small commotion quickly stirred at the ceremony.

The Flower Witch was a rising star, a rare talent along with her stunning beauty and relatively high-profile personality. She was more famous than many seventh-circle wizards, let alone the sixth-circle ones.

Levi had a low profile; after all, most people who had witnessed his prowess were dead... Even with Sixth Ring Senior Cultivation, compared to the likes of Hundred Flowers' Sixth Circle Perfection, it seemed he still fell far short.

Moreover, Levi's rough style was somewhat out of place among the wizards, and together with Hundred Flowers, they presented a sort of "Beauty and the Beast" vibe.

But the people realized that Hundred Flowers seemed particularly close to that wizard.

Feeling the gazes around him, Levi felt helpless.

"I'm probably going to be on the news... These people's sense for gossip is too keen. Hundred Flowers doesn't even dare to hold my hand in public, and they still noticed something? Could it be we have a 'married couple's look'?"

The event was meant to be the Snow Lotus Witch's ceremony, yet it seemed that Hundred Flowers had become the focus.

Some of the media immediately went to capture this, planning to publish it in their newspapers to draw attention.

Levi had already thought of the headlines for them.

[Shocking! The Flower Witch's Partner Exposed, Merely with Sixth Ring Senior Cultivation!]

After the ceremony concluded.

The Snow Lotus Witch distributed small gifts to the guests, thanking them one by one.

When she came to Levi's area, she glanced at him and said politely,

"Thank you for attending my ceremony, Senior Hundred Flowers."

Hundred Flowers smiled faintly and responded,

"You're welcome. You are now a primordial soul as well, so there's no need for you to call me Senior anymore."

In the Wizard World, it was an established convention that without a gap of a major realm between them, they were considered peers.

The Snow Lotus Witch smiled and said,

"Alright, you must be Levi... I've often heard Anya talk about you. I didn't dare to greet you until now."

Levi said,

"Haha, you're too kind, Miss Snow Lotus. Congratulations on becoming a primordial soul. I've seen your performance in the ancient tower, and it was indeed impressive. I'm not in your league."

Triss and Hundred Flowers inwardly scorned; this fellow had started acting again.

After attending the ceremony, Levi went back to his own busy affairs.

Hundred Flowers, on the other hand, stayed in the Endless Sea, planning to keep the solitary Triss company for a while.

Of course, Hundred Flowers would still return to the human realm from time to time to cultivate with Levi.

Time flies.

And so, three years passed.

The year 1420 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar.

The seventh year of Nora.

With 11 years remaining until the ancient tower's second opening.

The Mortal World had seen vast changes.

The monasteries and churches left behind by the Heavenly Father had become the relics of an old era, for the later generations to visit.

The Mortal Wizard Association had grown even stronger, continuously injecting new blood into the Wizard World.

According to incomplete statistics from the congress, since the emergence of the first New World, a total of 56 New Worlds had appeared, scattered across the vast and boundless outer sea region.

Chapter 1756: True Immortal God like Gods and Demons, Nirvana Rebirth for the Second Life!

The smaller ones are not as large as the Ancient Dragon Continent, yet the larger ones, are comparable to the Seven Kingdoms Continent.

Moreover, the Forsaken Land of the God has also been claimed by the council, which has begun its transformation.

Led by a legendary wizard, many Grand Wizards and primordial soul wizards launched the vigorous "Mend the Heavens" project.

The project aims to repair the severely fractured crystal walls of the Forsaken Land of God and accelerate their healing.

As a result, the Forsaken Land of God would gradually, under Nora's ecological cycle, rid itself of the fatal corrosive powers, and become a paradise for wizards to live in.

Over these years, the Black Dragon Pirate Group occasionally launched guerilla attacks on the human realm's New World, plundering resources and causing plenty of trouble for the Mortal Wizard Association.

The Black Dragon Wizard is a dual-cultivation wizard of the eighth-circle and also a dragon descendant, whose strength far surpasses that of ordinary cave wizards, matching the eighth-circle powerhouses of the Wizard World. Therefore, when he employs guerilla tactics, even the Wizard Council finds him difficult to handle.

Wizard World.

Sleeping Dragon Realm.

Ice and Fire Island.

On this day,

Endless elemental power began to converge, forming large clouds of calamity on both sides of the island.

The powerhouses of the dragon descendant priory sensed the change and gathered to investigate.

Sir Golden Dragon and the Rust Dragon Wizard arrived to maintain order.

As time passed, the Rust Dragon Wizard had advanced to the senior realm of the sixth-circle, his aura increasingly formidable.

Rust mused,

"It has been arduous indeed; Alexandra and Elsie are advancing simultaneously. This internal energy crystal-shattering indeed requires much more effort than average."

Sir Golden Dragon said,

"With the ladies' abilities, they are very likely to overcome this trial. As long as they can shatter the crystals, there should be no problem. After this, the senior Lava Dragon can rest assured."

Not much later,

a blue and a red figure soared up from Ice and Fire Island.

They were surrounded by various top-quality, even exquisite, Fifth-Circle Wizard Tools.

Among them, the Lava Secret Sword and the secret ice sword were the most dazzling!

The Rust Dragon Wizard laughed,

"With Wizard Tools personally forged by Master Fire Dragon, even three calamities and four disasters would no longer be a problem."

Sir Golden Dragon nodded,

"Pity, Master Fire Dragon seems uninterested in women. Otherwise, with you playing matchmaker, Rust, our priory's witches would still have hope."

Rust laughed,

"Hahaha, Master Fire Dragon is swamped with affairs. He probably worries that having a partner would affect his cultivation and weapon-making."

Before long,

the two ladies safely passed through the calamitous clouds.

Other Wizard Tools shattered, leaving only their secret swords floating in the air.

Then, a mutual understanding emerged; their Soul Artifact and primordial soul became intertwined with full spirituality.

Alexandra and Elsie looked at each other with delight.

"Using our dual cultivation secret technique to pass the tribulation proved much more stable. Hahaha, we've ascended to immortality!"

Alexandra embraced Elsie, unable to resist giving her a kiss.

Elsie said with feigned annoyance,

"People are watching. Let's go back to consolidate our realms first and then head to the Endless Sea."

Alexandra said,

"Haha, okay! I just saw a message earlier. Master Fire Dragon has ascended to the primordial soul a long time before us. His wizard tool shop is growing bigger and even has the funds for lucky draws. With our luck, we must get the master to bleed a great deal!"

Elsie added,

"I saw that, too. And over the years, the Mysterious Organization has persistently attempted to assassinate Master Fire Dragon with no change of heart, even sending a sixth-level mid-stage alien. Fortunately, the master is powerful and has warded off these disasters."

After years of seclusion, the two women realized the world had vastly changed.

But fortunately, they also achieved their desire to advance to the primordial soul wizard realm with Perfection in nine talents and the internal energy crystal-shattering technique.

Although slower than the top-tier talents and older in age, they are late bloomers with promising futures.

Central Realm.

Thousand Mechanism Tower.

This is a spire populated entirely by strong individuals and an official institution under the Wizard Council.

The tower is responsible for compiling the various rankings within the Wizard World; previous lists like the Dark Ancient Tower rankings, as well as Wizard Forms, Soul Artifact Rankings, and others, are its masterpieces.

In the plaza in front of the tower, there were several stone steles that pierced the heavens and the earth.

It is said that these are relics from the Antiquity Age.

The steles were covered in dense numbers, akin to an Excel spreadsheet, from 1 to 1000.

In front of these numbers were the names of wizards, constantly moving up and down, updated in real-time.

On this day,

on the Wizards Ranking a purple light shot up from the 1000th place and halted only after reaching the 600th position.

In the scene, a ferocious purple Divine Dragon encircled the void, in a breath, Ice and Fire Double Heaven!

[Wizards Ranking 600th, Purple Extreme Holy Dragon, owner: Fire Dragon Master Ais, ordinary sixth-circle realm, founder of Fire Dragon Artifact.]

A group of wizards watching this could not help but be surprised.

"Hasn't Fire Dragon Master only advanced to the sixth-circle a few decades ago? An ordinary sixth-circle wizard claimed the 600th place directly?"

"That one is the top genius ranked first in the Ancient Tower. I even think the ranking is a bit low."

"Incredible, if Fire Dragon Master can advance to the seventh-circle, he might make it to the top 500, contending with those veterans... Terrifying."

"It looks like Master Fire Dragon has begun to enter the wizard tool industry on a large scale. It might be worth a visit when he has time."

Before these people could settle their emotions, another light soared into the sky on the Soul Artifact Rankings.

[Soul Artifact Ranking 663rd, Purgatory Nine Dragon Umbrella, owner: Fire Dragon Master Ais, ordinary sixth-circle cultivation, founder of Fire Dragon Artifact.]

Chapter 1757: True Immortal God like Gods and Demons, Nirvana Rebirth for the Second Life!

"My God, the Master's Soul Artifact has shot up to over six hundredth place? Usually, only a seven-circle wizard's Soul Artifact can rank there, right?"

"Qianji Pavilion doesn't just rank wizard forms and Soul Artifacts based on cultivation level. Combat effectiveness within the same realm and potential future power also influence the rankings... The Master Fire Dragon's Soul Artifact can be used both offensively and defensively, with boundless power, capable of suppressing those at the Level 6 Middle Stage. Plus, he is a six-circle weapon craftsman himself, and he's only bound to get stronger. Given this ranking, it's not surprising."

Master Fire Dragon's wizard tools and Soul Artifact both made the list, with quite impressive rankings at that. The corresponding news quickly spread throughout the Wizard World.

Ancient Dragon Continent.

Upon reading the newspaper report, Levi couldn't help but smile knowingly.

[Shocking! The rankings for the top wizard tools and Soul Artifacts are actually as follows...]

Some time ago, staff from the Thousand Mechanism Tower approached him to inquire if Master Fire Dragon was willing to publicize the names of his wizard forms and Soul Artifacts, and have them included in the rankings to be spread throughout the Wizard World.

The Holy Infant informed Levi of the request, and initially, Levi wanted to refuse.

Then, on a whim, he asked the Holy Infant to inquire whether they could add the name of the Fire Dragon Shop after the listing in the rankings.

The staff agreed.

Levi immediately had the Holy Infant accept the offer. Free large-scale advertising throughout the Wizard World was not to be missed.

It seemed to have paid off quite well.

Although doing so might expose the Holy Infant's strength, when weighing the overall benefits, the advantages far outweighed the disadvantages. Besides, as a well-known figure, the Holy Infant's every move was monitored; his strength was not exactly news.

A few days later.

Levi hastily came up with a name for Gandaph's wizard form.

In fact, Gandaph's wizard form was simply his Thousand-Handed Ancient God appearance, so Levi had never given it a name before.

Now, in order to promote Gandaph Pharmacy, he racked his brains and finally named it.

The name was [Demon Suppressing Ming King]!

This name aptly captured Gandaph's chivalrous nature and his determination to eradicate the Darkness!

A few days later, Gandaph took the initiative to go to the Thousand Mechanism Tower to register his wizard form and Soul Artifact.

Finally.

The Thousand Mechanism Tower ranked [Demon Suppressing Ming King] at 588th, even higher than the Holy Infant's [Purple Extreme Holy Dragon], while his Soul Artifact [Radiant King Armor] ranked at 821st, which was respectable.

Generally, the rankings for body-refining wizards' wizard forms and Soul Artifacts are quite low.

To be honest, Levi was surprised by how high Gandaph managed to rank.

As for Levi himself, he had no interest in entering the rankings; he didn't need to advertise to promote anything.

As time passed.

The rankings of these two popular wizards, Gandaph, and Master Fire Dragon, became widely known throughout the Wizard World.

All who saw it were shocked, envious, and deeply aware of the great disparity between individuals.

Fire Dragon Shop and Gandaph Pharmacy effectively had a steady, long-term exposure channel.

Going forward, the only thing needed was to maintain their rankings within the top 1000, the higher the better. Its function was similar to the monthly ticket rankings on a certain novel website Levi knew from his previous life, which was crucial for an author's exposure and livelihood.

One year later.

Year 1421 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar.

Year 8 of Nora.

In the Endless Sea,

on Azer Continent, at Fire Dragon Shop.

Two breathtakingly beautiful figures with an air of great strength descended like goddesses into the mortal world.

On the streets, passersby stopped to watch.

"Whoa, Queen Elsa and the Blue Dragon Lady have become primordial souls too. Truly worthy of being dragon descendant geniuses..."

"Looks like these two ladies are here to visit Master Fire Dragon again. The Master sure has good fortune with the ladies... I've gotten quite used to it over the years."

The Holy Infant, with a smile on his face, said,

"Congratulations to the two stunning ladies on your advancement to primordial soul and your renowned fame. Please, come in quickly."

Inside the Fire Dragon Shop.

Alexandra said with joy,

"Master, Elsie and I have missed you to death!"

She gave the Holy Infant a warm hug, pressing him tightly with her ample bosom, leaving him struggling for breath.

Elsie, her face flushing, chided,

"It's you who's missed the Master greatly, don't lump me in with you..."

Alexandra laughed and replied:

"You don't want to?"

Elsie was left speechless and choked up.

She changed the subject and said,

"Master, you really keep a low profile. It's only been a few decades since you advanced to the sixth-circle, and you're already well-known on both the Soul Artifact and wizard forms rankings."

Alexandra said enviously,

"Yeah, and with a pretty high ranking at that, even higher than a lot of seven-circle wizards. Both Elsie's and my wizard forms are ranked beyond 900..."

Holy Infant said with a laugh,

"It's all just empty fame, really. Maybe it's because I'm ranked first on the ancient tower leaderboard that I got some bonus... With my wizard form, how could I possibly compare with the seven-circle wizards."

Besides, your 'Flamboyant Dragon Queen' wizard form, Alexandra, is impressive too, ranked at 903.

Elsie, your 'Cold Dragon Lying River' is even at 878. Both are women who don't let men outshine them—I admire that."

Alexandra blushed and said with a shy smile,

"I'm far behind. Master, you alone drove away a sixth-level mid-stage alien, we all saw it, it was so cool... And your ability to come up with names for wizard forms, I can't match that. It's all tears. Now the outside world thinks I'm some licentious female Dragon."

Elsie couldn't help but laugh and cry.

"Who asked you to name it that way. I told you to just go with 'Flame Dragon', but you insisted on changing it to 'Flamboyant Dragon'..."

The two women and Holy Infant chatted for a long while, during which time they even shared insights on their cultivation, and everyone gained a lot from the conversation.

Alexandra said,

"Master, Elsie and I have yet to master a specialty, and we came today to ask for another favor..."

Holy Infant asked,

"Do you want to learn weapon-making?"

Elsie was nervous, unsure if the Master would agree.

Alexandra said,

"Indeed, that's the case. As for the tuition, we are willing to pay above the market rate."

After pondering for a moment, Holy Infant said,

"If you two are serious, that's fine. However, I have one condition, you both need to join the Fire Dragon Shop."

Elsie looked at Alexandra.

Alexandra, with eyes sparkling in excitement, laughed and trembled like a flower in the breeze,

"No problem, hehe, actually, we just wanted to hang around the shop to learn the craft."

Elsie revealed a slight hint of joy and, with restrained laughter, said,

"Thank you, Master."

Holy Infant said,

"So you two will be staying at the Endless Sea from now on?"

Alexandra joked,

"The rent in No.1 Witch City isn't cheap, you know. Does your place include food and lodging?"

Holy Infant thought to himself that with Alexandra's wealth, buying a whole street would not be a problem.

However, for the convenience of teaching and work, he still said,

"Of course, accommodations and meals are included. I'll arrange for you two now."

And just like that.

Before long, Alexandra and Elsie joined the Fire Dragon Shop and began their journey as Artifact Making Apprentices.

Meanwhile.

The news that two brilliantly talented dragon descendant witches had broken through to the primordial soul and joined the Fire Dragon Shop quickly made the headlines of the entertainment newspapers of the Endless Sea.

Law Enforcement Department.

Office.

The Electric Eel Wizard was getting things done with his female secretary.

The secretary was voluptuous and had an attractive face, her efficiency was first-rate.

Suddenly, the Electric Eel Wizard's expression froze as he read the news in the paper, his gaze turning icy.

"What virtues does this Fire Dragon Wizard possess to have taken both the Red Dragon Queen and Blue Dragon Lady as apprentices at the same time?"

Ever since the Electric Eel Wizard was rejected by Hundred Flowers, he had stopped believing in true love.

But the thought of those two top-grade dragon descendant primordial soul witches living with Master Fire Dragon, learning the art of weapon-making, and delighting in it...

He suddenly felt that his female secretary... lost her charm.

Chapter 1758: Since eels are born, why produce dragons? Three bodies fusion to fight demon god!

After a moment of thought, the Electric Eel Wizard left the Law Enforcement Department office and returned home.

He used his private communicator to contact a friend.

Not long after, a projection of a man in black with an obscured face and wearing a hood appeared.

The Electric Eel Wizard said,

"I remember you mentioned that you used to be a broker for the Death Brotherhood, right? Can you find me a reliable assassin? Do you have any resources?"

The man in black, with a hint of anger in his voice, said coldly,

"I've told you before, I've washed my hands of that business. I had no choice back then, but now... I just want to be a good person!"

The Electric Eel Wizard said with a smile,

"I'll add money. I can pay double the intermediary fee. You just need to use your contacts and say the word, and someone will deliver twenty million Aether Stones to our old place."

The man in black said,

"Fine... For you, I'll make an exception this once, but no more after this. Don't come to me with these kinds of jobs anymore. What are your requirements?"

The Electric Eel Wizard said,

"At the very least, Sixth Ring Perfect Cultivation, preferably a seventh-circle wizard, with many years of assassination experience, and at least one successful assassination of a Sixth Circle Senior Wizard. As for the target... I'll discuss it with the assassin myself."

The man in black said,

"I understand. I'll have someone get in touch with you."

He turned off the projection and erased the records.

The Electric Eel Wizard sat alone at the top of the wizard tower, gazing out at the vast expanse of the sea.

"It looks like the culprit isn't the Fire Dragon Wizard. It will be difficult to use my influence here to bring him down. This man has significant backing, so unconventional assassination methods are necessary."

Initially, he simply wanted to ruin the Fire Dragon Shop to secure his family's interests.

Now, he found that with his identity and status, he was actually a bit jealous of the Master Fire Dragon.

"If eels exist, why not dragons?"

He would not allow anyone in the Endless Sea to outshine him.

Several days later.

In the abandoned Nameless Secret Realm.

The Electric Eel Wizard was here to interview the assassin found by the man in black.

He wore a black robe and had changed his appearance, also wearing a mask to conceal his aura, clearly not wanting to reveal his identity.

Before long,

A figure arrived at the secret realm, with a somewhat hoarse and gloomy voice,

"Did you hire me?"

Upon perceiving him, the Electric Eel Wizard's expression subtly changed; this person's aura was unmistakably that of Sixth Circle Perfection.

Moreover, he bore an overwhelming murderous aura that he couldn't hide.

It was clear he had killed many; wraiths swirled around him, distorting the void, and he took no notice.

In front of him, the Electric Eel Wizard felt he could only flee; there was no chance of direct combat.

The Electric Eel Wizard gathered his courage and said,

"I haven't confirmed it's you yet, there's no talk of hiring... I need to verify your capabilities first."

This assassin had also used some method to hide his true face and aura, and with the Electric Eel Wizard's experience, he couldn't guess who this person was.

The Electric Eel Wizard said,

"You should at least show your wizard form, shouldn't you? Otherwise, how can I believe you're capable of completing the task?"

The assassin laughed heartily and said,

"Wizard form? I think, without showing my wizard form, I can still convince you!"

With a boom,

His Sixth Ring Perfect aura soared skywards, and his invisible aura tore the secret realm's sky apart, even ripping a hole in the crystal wall!

He stretched out his right hand towards the ground!

The veins on his arm bulged, and a black aura surged and wrapped around him, as if a demon king from the Abyss had descended!

Boom!

The Electric Eel Wizard's face turned pale, and he rapidly retreated, vanishing into the void and reappearing fifty miles away.

In the distance, the ground around the black-robed wizard formed a nine-kilometer radius of seismic waves!

Deep trenches hundreds of meters deep spread outward from the center, scarring the earth violently.

The shock wave swept through the small secret realm, threatening to shatter it.

The black-robed wizard plunged his hands into the ground layers and lifted fiercely. Countless tons of rock and soil burst into the air, shaking the earth and proving unmatched!

The black-robed wizard said with a laugh,

"Do I still need to be interviewed?"

The Electric Eel Wizard regained his composure and said with a smile,

"Good, very good, I need someone like you... If I'm not mistaken, you must be Eight-Armed Demon Witch-Glatios, right?"

The black-robed person, though his identity was exposed, did not panic. He smiled and said,

"How did you figure it out?"

The Electric Eel Wizard said,

"Body-refining wizard, able to cultivate to this realm, there aren't many in the Wizard World... Plus, your fully developed Demon God's Aura, with my knowledge, I can still make it out."

The black-robed person clapped his hands and then said with a smile,

"Not bad, not bad... Worthy of being the Electric Eel Wizard, I didn't expect you to uncover my identity so easily."

The Electric Eel Wizard's masked expression changed subtly as he calmly said,

"You must have mistaken someone else. I'm just an unknown person; how dare I impersonate such an exceptional character as the Electric Eel Wizard?"

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch laughed,

"Hahaha, interesting, boasting about yourself, worthy of being from the Letney Family... You hid yourself well when you vanished into the void just now, but unfortunately, my ancestor was the unbeatable Demon Shark Emperor among the Sea Aristocrats! Particularly when it comes to sensing aura and especially bloodlines, I have my own techniques."

The Electric Eel Wizard grew cautious inside, deeply aware of the terrifying strength of the Eight-Armed Demon Emperor.

No wonder his reward money was worth two hundred million Aether Stones and a Morning Star-level Truth Oddity.

Chapter 1759: Since eels are born, why produce dragons? Three bodies fusion to fight demon god!

Among the Six-Circle Perfection wizards, this individual must also be remarkable, possibly ascending to the seventh-circle within a century.

By then, the Righteous Wizards will face another formidable enemy.

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch spoke,

"Tell me, who do you need me to kill? Trust me, my professional ethics are way higher than those of you and the three generations of the Letney Family in the Law Enforcement Department combined."

The Electric Eel Wizard was humiliated at the moment but dared not lash out, considering the disparity in strength.

He said,

"Master Fire Dragon, a Sixth-Circle Ordinary Wizard... but his true strength, it should be no less than a Six Ring Senior Wizard. How confident are you in assassinating him?"

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch was intrigued and smiled.

"So, it's him. His strength is indeed good, almost like when I was younger. But confronting the me now, my confidence in assassinating him is seventy percent, the remaining thirty percent is because I worry that he has some trump cards given by his elders... If not, then my confidence is ninety percent."

Upon hearing this, the Electric Eel Wizard was already convinced.

This person was indeed not boasting.

He thought to himself that if he hadn't had a trump card, he wouldn't be standing here so calmly. After all, he was a Six Ring Senior Wizard and a top-level genius.

The Electric Eel Wizard said,

"Deal, I'll give you fifty million Aether Stone as a deposit first. After the successful assassination, I'll pay another one hundred and fifty million Aether Stone, totaling two hundred million."

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch said,

"That's not enough. I was paid 130 million for assassinating a rather ordinary Six-Circle Senior Wizard before. Master Fire Dragon is only worth 150 million? Do you think I am from your Star Tower, with such low reward money? Do you think I'm only worth two hundred million Aether Stones, a mere Morning Star-level oddity? Who are you looking down on?"

The Electric Eel Wizard replied coldly,

"Sir, don't get greedy. I know the market price. You can't deceive me."

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch said,

"Well then, just help me with a small favor, and I'll agree."

The Electric Eel Wizard paused and then said,

"Let's hear it."

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch replied,

"Master Fire Dragon has a good friend who, on the surface, is called Levi and appeared at Triss's birthday banquet. In fact, he has another title... Golden Dominator. I want you to use your authority to locate this person for me, it's that simple."

The Electric Eel Wizard said,

"What? You mean, the Levi who appeared with the Flower Witch recently is actually the Golden Dominator?"

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch confirmed,

"Exactly... Oh, I forgot, Electric Eel sir, you once openly expressed your affections towards the Flower Witch and were rejected. You didn't expect it, did you? The Flower Witch didn't fancy you, a distinguished scion of heaven, but instead took a liking to a nameless body-refining wizard who popped out from nowhere."

The Electric Eel Wizard spoke firmly,

"Deal! Now, according to your professional practice, is it time to take a Truth Oath, ensuring the customer's identity remains confidential?"

He did not want the fact that he was colluding with a dark wizard to be exposed.

That would not only ruin him but also bring his family down with him.

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch laughed,

"No problem."

...

Somewhere.

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch who made the deal with the Electric Eel Wizard contacted the Red Whale Ancestor Witch.

He said,

"I've asked the people of the Star Tower to help us check the information about Levi and the Golden Dominator. It seems he resides in the human realm, a place called the Ancient Dragon Continent."

Red Whale Ancestor Witch questioned,

"Ancient Dragon Continent? Is it the New World?"

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch answered,

"Indeed, it appears he has formed some kind of force there... Also, I've learned something, the Ancient Dragon Continent is the territory of a prominent figure; therefore, it hasn't been officially claimed by the congress to this day."

Red Whale Ancestor Witch expressed his concern,

"Just as I expected, the Golden Dominator is no ordinary figure; going against him now will be challenging... Damn, had I known this earlier, I wouldn't have taken on this mission. How should we explain it to the City Lord now? We can't just say we won't do it."

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch commented,

"I don't think we need to be so pessimistic. Just because he has a powerful figure backing him doesn't mean they will always look out for him. We can find an opportunity to lure him out of the Ancient Dragon Continent and capture him. We don't need to worry about the rest. Behind us in Immersed Ancient Castle, we also have powerful figures, don't we?"

Red Whale Ancestor Witch said,

"Indeed, but we must carefully plan this. We only have one chance, if it fails and alarms him, then there will be no more opportunities."

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch remarked,

"I understand, so we should act sooner rather than later... It's best to deal with him while he's still in the senior realm of the sixth-circle. If he ascends to Sixth Circle Perfection, even if you and I join forces, it might not be so easy to detain him, right? After all, his cultivation methods are unique, and he likely has some sort of trump card."

Red Whale Ancestor Witch said,

"I understand. Where are you headed then?" novel.com

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch replied,

"I've taken on an assassination job to hunt down Master Fire Dragon. Once this job is completed, and after dealing with the Golden Dominator, I'll secure a long retreat to prepare for ascending to the seventh-circle."

Red Whale Ancestor Witch frowned.

"You had better not complicate matters unnecessarily. With your talents, the organization's resources are guaranteed. Why take such a risky step? Master Fire Dragon is no ordinary person; we witnessed that in the last battle."

The Eight-Armed Demon Witch replied,

"You don't understand. I'm doing this not for money but for pleasure. Everyone should have some hobbies, right? If one day I do capsize in the gutter, I'll accept it, goodbye!"

Chapter 1760: Since eels are born, why produce dragons? Three bodies fusion to fight demon god!

...

Fire Dragon Shop.

Holy Infant sat cross-legged, exuding the demeanor of a teacher.

Red Dragon Queen and Blue Dragon Lady were practicing weapon-making.

Their tuition was one million a year, which added up to a hundred million over a hundred years.

Holy Infant only needed to provide occasional guidance beyond his refinement work, a truly profitable arrangement.

With the talents of both women and the realm of a primordial soul wizard, they could have learned weapon refinement on their own.

However, Alexandra was a fool with money to spare, not wishing to take unnecessary detours.

Hiring a master directly was convenient and reassuring.

Suddenly,

Mia said,

"Lord, a sixth-circle wizard wishes to see you; he says he wants to commission a Wizard Tool from you."

Holy Infant asked,

"What's his name?"

Mia replied,

"He claims to be Moore, a nomadic wizard."

Holy Infant said,

"Tell him to leave a deposit, the materials, and his requirements; after the agreement is signed, he can leave."

Mia hesitated, then said,

"He wishes to speak with you alone, claiming it's a big order."

Holy Infant replied,

"Practice on your own here; I'll be right back."

Alexandra cautioned,

"Master, be careful, and try to avoid contact with those of unknown identity, in case it's an assassin from the Mysterious Organization."

Holy Infant offered a wry smile,

"I understand."

Being number one on the ancient tower leaderboard was truly a double-edged sword.

It brought fame and fortune but also danger.

In the guest room,

Holy Infant met with Moore.

Moore said,

"I've long admired Lord Ace's reputation. Because the Wizard Tool I wish to be refined is of great importance, I wanted to discuss it personally with you to feel assured."

Holy Infant responded,

"I can understand that."

After talking for a long time, Holy Infant took on another big order.

He said,

"Refining a sixth-circle Wizard Tool is time-consuming and labor-intensive. To ensure quality, I handle it personally; therefore, I ask for your patience."

Moore laughed and replied,

"As long as it is crafted by the Master, I'm at ease; time is of no consequence."

He prepared the materials for the Crafting, adding,

"This includes a small piece of Achilles Fire Ore, which should be enough for the Wizard Tool I need."

Holy Infant couldn't help but exclaim in admiration.

"Achilles Fire Ore, it's the top-grade fire-element ore of the level 6 category. Do you have any extra? I'm willing to buy it at market price."

He had already crafted nine sixth-ring Wizard Tools.

Among them, there were top-quality pieces, but he still lacked a sixth-ring top-grade one.

He didn't want to waste this tenth guaranteed opportunity for a top-grade item, so he had been collecting rare materials recently.

He wanted to once again forge his "Purgatory Nine Dragon Umbrella" into a top-grade Soul Artifact.

By then, he would likely advance further in the Soul Artifact Ranking, increasing exposure for his shop.

Most importantly, owning a top-grade sixth-ring Wizard Tool would significantly enhance his combat abilities.

Moore shook his head.

Holy Infant sighed,

"Alright then."

Moore showed a hesitant expression before finally saying,

"Master, I'll be frank with you, I stumbled upon this ore on a newly discovered piece of the continent in the human realm, currently not under congress regulation... There's a mine there, likely an ancient relic of alien races, guarded by powerful creatures akin to alchemical puppets. Even as a sixth-circle wizard, I didn't dare to venture deep, picking up only a small piece before leaving. If you're interested, Master, we could partner up. We could harvest more, with a division of the ore six to four in my favor, and we split the creatures half-and-half."

Seeing Holy Infant's doubt, Moore said,

"If the Master doesn't trust me, let it be. I am willing to take a Truth Oath to assure there's no deception."

Holy Infant stated,

"Then make your oath, Moore. If it's true, perhaps we can indeed collaborate."

And Moore indeed took the Truth Oath.

Holy Infant was stirred.

Once bitten, twice shy.

He instinctively thought this man was another agent of the Mysterious Organization or part of the electric eel wizard sect, aiming to deceive and assassinate him.

Now, it appeared that what Moore said about the New World... was true, as a Truth Oath cannot be faked.

Still, he couldn't rule out the possibility that Moore intended him harm.

Holy Infant spoke with a smile,

"Moore, you're a straightforward person! Very well, I'll join you on this adventure to the New World. But let's make it clear, if we come upon danger, my life comes first."

Moore chuckled,

"Haha, only natural, isn't it? Let's not delay and set off sooner than later, before the authorities discover the place, or we won't even get a taste of the spoils."

Holy Infant suggested,

"Within a week then."

Moore extended his hand and shook hands with Holy Infant,

"It's settled then; I'm counting on this friendship, Master."

After Moore left,

Holy Infant pondered deeply.

"I wonder what power seeks to entrap me? Sigh, I only wanted to refine and craft; why do troubles always find me?"

In comparison, his true self was living much more comfortably.

He didn't believe in such generous people in this world who would share their fortunate discoveries with others.

Especially since the other party was a primordial soul wizard, he clearly had some hidden agenda.

In the human realm,

Within the outer sea region,

A Black Shark swam through the sea until, suddenly, it transformed into the Eight-Armed Demon Witch.

"Moore was successful. Indeed, even the top geniuses cannot escape the sin of greed. Tempted by the Achilles Fire Ore, he grew covetous... And indeed, what is more enticing to a Master of alchemy than precious ore material?"
