

Wizard 2121

Chapter 2121: Seven-Ring Body Refining, Thousand-Eyed Titan.

As a longevity dragon of the Earth Element Dragon Clan associated with the World Tree, the Immortal Banyan Dragon is renowned among the Legendary Dragon Race.

Comparable to it is the Single-Horned Dragon Turtle, whose lifespan far exceeds other sub-dragons.

Using the lifespan of those dragon descendant wizards as a reference, an ordinary dragon descendant gains ten percent more lifespan.

Levi, though he hadn't heard of any dragon descendants of the Immortal Banyan Dragon, assumed its proportion would be even higher.

As a level 6 Immortal Banyan Dragon Knight, the longevity of Hundred Flowers is undoubtedly greater than that of dragon descendant wizards at the same realm.

Levi estimated that if Hundred Flowers could advance to a seventh-level knight, her lifespan would probably exceed 3500 years.

Moreover, let's not forget that Hundred Flowers also practiced the path of the Energy Sect, which should offer some enhancement.

If Hundred Flowers accumulates enough war merit and refines the Bright Moon Artifact, her talent could improve further.

In this way, in the seven-ring and eight-circle realm, slightly more witch marks might just need to be added, and it seems feasible to fill them in now.

To expedite Hundred Flowers' cultivation in the path of knights, Levi decided to seek a deal with the Immortal Banyan Dragon Lady upon his return from the Land of Darkness.

The Immortal Banyan Dragon Lady has a good temperament; even though Levi didn't obtain the Holy Grail before, it never blamed him.

Thanks to the giant three-thousand-meter tree transplanted in the Dragon Ruins Mysterious Realm, the production of Dragon Scale Fruits has increased several times; some can be traded with this lady.

By slightly exchanging more bloodline essence without affecting the Immortal Banyan Dragon Lady's growth, there should be no problem.

The two chatted with laughter, talking for a long time, from starry night to dawn.

Hundred Flowers reminded again:

"Be sure to stay safe on your journey. Though your strength is formidable, the perils of the Land of Darkness are far beyond what the Wizard World can compare to. There aren't as many predecessors from the Wizard World to care for us there. If you encounter unsolvable danger, contact me through the round table, and I will seek Ms. Lucy."

Levi laughed and said:

"Don't you know my ability to preserve myself?"

After preparing for several days, Levi was ready to embark on the journey.

Suddenly, a message came through the communication device, and he looked towards the Tower of Dawn with a complex mood.

Just now, Melin left... This day had finally come.

The Gray Tower, the place where Wizard Levi's dream began.

Counting on his fingers, it had been exactly eight hundred years since he joined the Gray Tower.

He started as a novice in the Wizard World, full of aspirations, and walked step by step to where he was now.

Along the way, he bid farewell to Mr. Tim, Mr. Marko, the fat owner of the material shop, and the first Tower Master, Salman. Now, he finally had to say goodbye to Ms. Marlene.

Hundred Flowers also heard the news and immediately thought of Levi.

She knew that the group from the Gray Tower held a special meaning for Levi. In this emotionless cultivation robot's heart, the Gray Tower was like an anchor and harbor. With the sediment of years, it carried even more nostalgic filters.

"Let's go and take a look."

Hundred Flowers gently said, holding Levi's hand.

...

The Tower of Dawn.

Before Melin's remains.

Teachers and students who heard the news stood silently by the side.

Winnie's eyes were slightly red, her expression sorrowful.

Herman, who was overwhelmed with work, also came to the place. It's unclear if his mechanical heart could also feel sadness.

White Snake Jorman lay quietly on his shoulder, watching.

Levi's figure appeared, and everyone greeted him.

He nodded and came to Marlene's rocking chair.

It seemed she had laid there and quietly passed away.

Perhaps before her death, she was still looking at the scenery outside the window, reminiscing about her almost thousand-year life.

In her arms was a thick notebook.

"Melin's Pharmaceutical Manual."

Levi gently picked it up. On the cover was a simple, clear hand-drawn picture:

A cerulean sea, creamy white clouds, a serene island, and the towering Gray Twin Towers.

On the front page, the ink had yet to dry.

[Life truly is a long journey. — Melin Olivas.]

In the silence, only the rustling of Levi flipping through the pages was heard.

Inside were Marlene's nearly thousand-year insights and knowledge from her time at the Gray Tower as a pharmacist teacher.

Including teaching notes and some thoughts on medicines.

Of course, for Levi, most of the knowledge inside was already familiar to him.

He even noticed several omissions. However, he read with great seriousness.

He said:

"Next, I will personally revise this book and place it in the organization's knowledge base for teachers and students to access for free."

Winnie said:

"The teacher previously mentioned wanting to be buried on our island in Area 9 of the outer sea region, but after checking, the island was no longer there, probably sunk during the war. So, she finally wished to be cremated, with her ashes scattered in her private herb garden, to be reborn."

Herman said:

"Then let it be so."

At this moment, the one likely feeling the most pain was probably him.

His beloved teacher Salman and beloved apprentice Melin had both left him. Old acquaintances have departed, leaving only his cold mechanical body to linger in this world.

Stella sighed and said:

"Winnie, Leah, you must strive hard."

She didn't want to experience such things again.

Winnie and Leah smiled and said:

"We will strive hard."

In reality, their hearts were incredibly bitter.

After cultivating until now, they each had a sense of their potential.

In this lifetime, achieving the sixth-circle seemed almost impossible.

Chapter 2122: Seven-Ring Body Refining, Thousand-Eyed Titan.

Especially Winnie, after a hundred years, will most likely follow Ms. Marlene, but she has accepted it peacefully.

Winnie couldn't help but wonder, if not for the fate with Levi eight hundred years ago.

Her three affinity talents would not have much chance of reaching the fifth-circle realm.

She didn't have luck, nor was she as hard-working as Levi.

She was just an ordinary witch in the Wizard World.

Her greatest fortune was meeting the group from the Gray Tower.

"Everyone, disperse; when the time for the funeral comes, remember to attend."

Levi took the Hundred Flowers, carrying the notes, and disappeared into the Tower of Dawn.

A few days later.

He revised a new version of "Melin's Pharmaceutical Manual."

On the title page, he added his own words.

[Every journey has an end — Anonymous]

Then, he incorporated Melin's Pharmaceutical Manual, which carried her final efforts, into his own knowledge base.

At the same time, he made a copy and placed it in the Tower of Dawn's library.

A few days later, after attending Melin's funeral, he once again said farewell to the Hundred Flowers and set out on his journey to the Land of Darkness.

There are ten years until the ancient tower opens. According to Levi's estimation, with his speed of [Traveling the Void], he should be able to reach that distant plane within five years. After all, he'll need to replenish the power of the Sky King Dragon along the way and can't travel without rest.

After his exploration of the relics, it is uncertain if he can return to Nora within ten years. If time is insufficient, he will enter Hell and the Dark Ancient Tower there. However, doing so means that after returning from the Dark Ancient Tower, he will appear in that plane, and only then, will he leisurely return to Nora.

He also needs to find new fire-element sub-dragons in the Land of Darkness, which will also consume considerable time.

In short, he has already prepared for being away from home for many years.

To ensure the safety of the Ancient Dragon Continent, besides having the Hundred Flowers continue to guard here, he also left Danis, who possesses late-stage level 7 strength, in the Emperor's Palace as a trump card.

With Danis here, ordinary late-stage level 7 demons would be easy pickings.

He also informed Triss that if strong demons invade, she should lend a helping hand.

To reassure Levi, Triss temporarily moved to the Ancient Dragon Continent for residence.

Elena was overjoyed; this way, she could occasionally go to the God-forsaken Continent for demon hunting.

Moreover, there were Lord Victor and the Holy Infant, who seemed like ordinary seventh-circle but were actually senior seventh-circle battle power duplicates that could provide support at any time.

In addition to Guardians like the Giant Whale King, the Ghost Bone Dragon, the Snow Mountain Dragon King, and the Giant Elephant King, the Ancient Dragon Continent's level 7 experts were already numerous.

Moreover, with organizations like the Dusk Holy Temple and the Ancient Dragon Empire having combat groups of high standards, even without level 7s, they could use formations and other tactics to defeat stronger foes.

Levi's personality inclined towards a saturation defense strategy, always worrying about insufficient firepower and unexpected failures.

In fact, in the current Wizard World, apart from eighth-circle wizards, none of the top wizard organizations surpassed the Ancient Dragon Continent.

The present Ancient Dragon Continent was undoubtedly a dominant force in the Wizard World even without him. Among the hundreds of new continents in the human realm, its comprehensive strength was among the top. Those continents officially guarded by hand were, due to a lack of manpower, not as secure as the Ancient Dragon Continent.

...

Land of Darkness.

Levi transformed into a gust of wind and thunder, surrounded by the phantom of the Sky King Dragon, soaring to unfathomable heights.

"During this blood battle period, one must be cautious to avoid encountering level 9 or level 10 strong demons in the Land of Darkness. Despite having the ability to travel the Void, carelessness can't be afforded."

According to information from the succubus side, demons are currently using Nora as a center to continuously build Abyss Wells in the surrounding Dark Lands, preparing to use overwhelming numbers to form a siege around the Wizard World.

The Black Abyss Walker's injury was likely due to a battle with a strong demon in the Land of Darkness.

Although the Wizard Council primarily employs a strategy of defending Nora, they cannot allow the Abyss to continue surrounding them.

In the Star Realm Ruins Sea, stars twinkled in the dreamlike ocean. From time to time, grand and magnificent spectacles or powerful creatures leapt above the sea.

Of course, this appeared to be an ocean but was actually not water, rather a star-like illusion.

Similar to the Nightmare World, many rules of the astral world cannot be measured by the common sense of the Prime Material plane.

Levi, in the persona of an observer, traveled while documenting his journey's sights and experiences.

His knowledge base consisted of several important sections.

Namely, "Magical Creatures," "Dragon Clan Atlas," "Curiosities," and "Hundred Herb Garden."

Because of the Gods, the astral world is always cloaked in mystery.

He planned to gradually unveil it during this journey.

Before he knew it.

Half a year had passed.

Levi had traveled a distance that would take an ordinary seventh-circle wizard 15 years to traverse.

Along the way, he discovered a phenomenon of wonder.

The astral world, like the Wizard World, was shrouded in warfare smoke.

Along the journey, shattered stars and giant skeletal remains floating in the Sea of Ruins were frequently seen.

Based on his researched materials, the stars in the astral world are the residences or Divine Kingdoms of the Gods.

Within the Divine Kingdom resides the angels, saints, and the souls of fanatics accepted into the astral world.

The shattering of a star and the vanishing of a Divine Kingdom signifies the fall of a God.

Along his journey, of the shattered stars he personally witnessed, there were as many as three.

Chapter 2123: Seven-Ring Body Refining, Thousand-Eyed Titan.

This means that three Gods have fallen, and the culprit responsible for all this should be the corpse of the creature he saw earlier.

These creatures are somewhat similar to the totem insect [Golden Aberration Insect] that Levi sealed, but not the same.

Levi estimates that the culprits responsible for the destruction of the Otharian Empire, those terror bugs, and these creatures ought to be connected intricately.

"Insects?"

Levi murmured inwardly.

These creatures remind him of some interstellar insects from past games and movies; judging from the corpses, the bodies of these insects are highly specialized and distinctively divided.

There are even insect corpses, hundreds of miles long, clad in hard armor resembling some kind of giant War Fortress, emitting an aura comparable to demigods. Around such giant insect corpses are tens of thousands of other insects of varied forms.

"A civilization of insects capable of causing the mass downfall of Gods has never been recorded in Wizard World. It is likely to come from far beyond the Sauron Plane, not within the wizard's observation scope."

Levi preliminarily determines that the insect civilization is a super civilization that can match astral world, Abyss, Underworld, and Nightmare, with power surpassing the current wizard civilization.

"Luckily, the insect civilization is being restrained by the astral world. Given the astral world's strength, this war between the God Race and the insects is vast in scale and scope, and lengthy in duration, far surpassing the Blood Battle between wizard civilization and Abyss."

In the Blood Battle so far, the fallen level-6 and above experts from both wizard and Abyss sides are just the tip of the iceberg for either; here even level-10 Gods have died, more than one.

"The wizard civilization still needs to grow. Hopefully, after this grand convergence of planes, it can stand on equal footing with these super civilizations."

In the vast Sea of Ruins, Levi transformed into Wind Thunder Power is as small as dust, recording everything along the way like a traveler.

His knowledge and experience are continuously growing with the ongoing travel.

He wanders intermittently, resting in the Land of Darkness when tired, and three years pass in the blink of an eye.

Levi cautiously advances without encountering any danger.

A resonant eagle cry rings out, its sound waves stirring and spreading, causing the nearby Sea of Ruins to boil.

Unknown weak creatures fly up in flocks.

Levi looks in the direction of the sound.

In the boundless high sky, a golden eagle with a wingspan of nearly ninety thousand meters sweeps across the Sea of Ruins, leaving a golden rainbow that pierces the heavens behind.

Levi's heart can't help but be stirred.

"This is... Maya! King of Eagles, Sky Overlord, astral traveler!"

He has gained such ability thanks to Maya.

Levi discreetly records Maya's soaring image in the slate.

"Show it to the Blood Knight later, for a bit of cultivation motivation."

The Blood Knight also possesses a similar ability to travel the Void, but he's busy with work, lacking travel opportunities.

"Like the legendary Roc of the past, truly magical. Among level-9 beings, Maya should be a leader, its aura feels slightly stronger than Alexandra's father."

Maya's powerful and free gaze was sharp, its eyes glanced down at the Sea of Ruins below, seemingly penetrating different dimensions and seeing Levi who was traveling.

It surged its wings, transforming into a Hurricane, rushing into the Nine Heavens clouds.

A golden feather enveloped in a sky full of golden glow slowly floated down.

Levi's expression changed.

"A level-9 divine bird feather, what does this mean..."

He is currently just an observer of a different dimension, unable to truly interact with the Sea of Ruins. Similarly, those beings in the Sea of Ruins can't touch him either.

Levi continued his journey.

Even if he could reach this divine bird feather, he wouldn't dare to take it.

With such an existence's means, it might track him through the feather.

Maya looked at Levi, who continued his journey indifferently, with deep and unwavering eyes. It waved its wings and vanished into the world.

After witnessing Maya in person, Levi felt that this trip was already worthwhile.

At the very least, he knows that Maya has not gone extinct and is still living.

Generally speaking, such travel-loving creatures usually have gentle temperaments, and various civilizations rarely proactively attack them.

Maya, Wind Illusion Dragon, Swimming Dark Whale... all are like this.

Two years later.

After a long five-year journey, crossing countless mountains and seas, witnessing numerous magical creatures.

Levi finally saw the plane marked on the Dark Treasure Map.

With a thought, he vanished from the Sea of Ruins, returning to the Land of Darkness. Appearing before him was a plane radiating faint red light.

The traveling wizard called it: Burning Rock World.

...

Nora Year 409.

195th year of the Blood Battle.

Midland Continent.

Gondor City.

In the cultivation chamber that hasn't been opened for a long time, Gandaph opened his eyes, and a Divine Light shot out, vanishing into Void moments later.

"The Seven-Ring Realm is stabilized."

Compared to spell wizards, his advancement to seven-circle lacked earth-shattering anomalies, being a quiet breakthrough unknown to others.

He inwardly viewed his mindscape where a sturdy dark golden primordial soul sat cross-legged, with ten million spell runes shimmering on its surface.

Looking inside his body, his organs, blood vessels, and nerves were also coated with layers of dark bronze Ancient God Runes. These runes caused his blood to change to a faint dark golden color, akin to rebirth, like undergoing a full body blood transfusion.

"If spell wizards aim to spiritualize the body and become incarnations of absolute truth, then where should body-refining wizards tread?"

Chapter 2124: Seven-Ring Body Refining, Thousand-Eyed Titan.

Gandaph murmured to himself.

Throughout history, perhaps many body refinement wizards have pondered this question, but none have proposed a solution.

Because no Grand Wizard has been born among body refinement wizards, how could one speak of the legendary?

"This is destined to be a path for only a few, as the way forward is unknown, filled with thorns. However, it also makes it more challenging."

"Constantly condensing body-refining runes, eventually transforming the flesh and blood cells, like a knight's divine palace, into individual body-refining runes, using the primordial soul to govern these runes, forming a life entity composed of runes? Or will there be new changes after the ninth-circle?"

This, Gandaph does not know yet. Currently, he can only explore along the path of his predecessors, continually condensing body-refining runes to acquire a stronger body.

"As a body-refining wizard, I and the Purgatory Demon Sword are already among the top ten powerful entities in the entire Wizard World. Apart from the Ocean Abyss Alliance and a few hidden nomadic body refinement wizards, there are no fellow travelers."

"In the future, I can occasionally visit Hell and exchange insights with the Purgatory Demon Sword."

A trumpet-like sound was heard, and the White Elephant Spiritual Object appeared behind Gandaph.

As he advanced to the seven-circle, the power of this companion spirit has also increased significantly, now likely able to clash head-on with ordinary seven-circle wizards.

"The 'Ten-Winged Heavenly Dragon Body Tempering Technique' has also been cultivated to the sixth-circle perfection. Before I become a senior seven-circle, I should be able to integrate it with the 'Thousand-Handed Ancient God Body Refining Technique', allowing the Ancient God Body to advance further."

"From the current performance of the Ten-Winged Heavenly Dragon, the more powerful Thousand-Eyed Titan Body Refining Technique itself is very likely to lead directly to the ninth-circle, and should not be much inferior to the Thousand-Handed Ancient God. However, throughout history, no one has cultivated it to become a Grand Wizard."

Gandaph's speculation has some basis.

The Ancient Four Body Refining Techniques, after all, emulate some powerful creatures that once truly existed.

The Eight-Armed Demon God, in fact, was the most powerful Sea Aristocrat in ancient times, with Level 8 Peak power, infinitely close to the ninth-circle, second only to the Sea God.

The Nine-Headed Prison Snake is said to have once appeared in Hell, known as the "Hell Nine-Headed Snake", a Legendary Creature at level 9.

The Ten-Winged Heavenly Dragon, scientifically named "Sky Winged Dragon", is a Legendary level dragon race, at level 9.

Among these three creatures, the Sea Aristocrat is the weakest, with the power increasing successively.

But the last one, the "Thousand-Eyed Titan," according to the books Gandaph consulted, is a Mythical Creature.

Titan is what the Giant tribe calls their strongest beings, somewhat equivalent to gods of the Giant.

In the heyday of the Giant tribe, besides Frost Giants, Fire Giants, Mountain Giants, Sea Giants, Thunder Giants, Copper Giants, and other elemental giants, there were also some special Giant tribes, such as the "Multi-eyed Giants."

This tribe, extremely rare in number, is naturally powerful, more terrifying than most dragons.

The young stage of a multi-eyed giant is the weakest "One-eyed Giant", which is already a Level 7 expert at that stage, gradually becoming stronger as the number of eyes increases.

The "Ten-Eyed Giant" is level 8, the "Hundred-Eyed Giant" is level 9, and the "Thousand-Eyed Giant" is called the "Thousand-Eyed Titan", meaning "God of the Multi-eyed Giants", the supreme of this tribe.

Therefore, from the prototypes of these body refinement methods, one can see.

Although they are all called the Ancient Four, in reality, there are differences in these four body refinement methods.

However, limited by version, body refinement wizards have always been unable to break through the ninth-circle, which has led to these four body refinement techniques being indistinguishable in level, hence being called the "Four".

As is well known, some become Special Level Spellcasters because the highest level is Special.

Of course, just because the body refining methods originate from level 10 creatures doesn't necessarily mean the upper limit can reach level 10. This requires body refinement methods to break through the ninth-circle and for him to validate it himself.

Ultimately, body refinement methods are a wizard's restructuring using spell knowledge through body refining runes to emulate the cultivation methods of powerful creatures. This is essentially different from the Knight Bloodline Path.

Now, Gandaph feels that various body refining methods only provide a direction for wizards.

Initially emulating powerful existent forms, then gradually integrating in the later stages, carving out their own paths. Not confined to the prototypes, but directly reaching the essence, pursuing higher levels of power.

"After sitting for hundreds of years, with my buttocks getting numb, it's time to take a tour of the God-forsaken Continent."

Gandaph knows he is the last to advance to the seventh-circle.

"Women have hindered my cultivation."

He muttered as he arrived at the Fire Dragon Shop.

"Old stuff, congratulations on reaching the seventh-circle."

The Holy Infant smiled.

Finished, he handed a brand new piece of Witch Armor to Gandaph.

Gandaph asked:

"Is this the Snow Iron Dragon Armor?"

The Holy Infant replied:

"Yes, but I've included the carapace of that Level 7 Mid-Stage Famine Raider. The quality is even better than the simple dragon scales of the Snow Mountain Dragon King. It's a seven-circle top-quality piece that can be called 'Dragon Locust Armor.'"

Gandaph chuckled.

"Thanks."

This 'Dragon Locust Armor' shone with a deep black luster, and one glance told it was extraordinary. According to the Holy Infant, it could withstand a strike from a Seven-Circle Perfect Wizard.

The Holy Infant said:

"Your 'Purple Crystal Wand' and 'Radiant King Vajra Bracelet', I've also upgraded them for you. Though they are of ordinary seven-ring level, they'll do for now; you can forge them anew later. As for your Soul Artifact 'Radiant King Armor', that'll require some time to refine, being a Soul Artifact. Proper preparations must be made."

Chapter 2125: Seven-Ring Body Refining, Thousand-Eyed Titan.

Gandalf was moved to tears.

Since the Holy Infant's promotion to the seven-circle, he hasn't even had time to upgrade his own wizard tool, always busy with the original body and himself. He's truly wonderful, no wonder the original body is so fond of him.

As for the Soul Artifact, it's temporarily unavailable, but it doesn't affect Gandalf much.

After all, with a set of seven-circle witch artifacts and an invincible body, it's enough.

He said:

"I'll go to the God-forsaken Continent to hunt demons for a while, earn some war merit, and gather some materials for weapon refinement."

Gandalf had been in seclusion for too long, his skills itching for an opportunity to be unleashed.

"Go ahead. By the way, during your closed-door seclusion, Soraya came over once, but she didn't say what she came for."

...

God-forsaken Continent.

Gandalf opened his bracelet, and after advancing to the seven-circle, he also joined the level 8 Demon Slaughter List competition.

However, like the Holy Infant, he was ranked beyond the 200th mark, with only five to six million points.

Victor, on the other hand, pushed his way into the top 100 and now has 12 million points.

It seems Victor is going to be the first of the Gondor Three Heroes to exchange for the Bright Moon Artifact.

"Let the games begin, my fists crave demon blood!"

The eccentric old man did not rush into action but first contacted Soraya.

At the Mountain Giant Wizard Group station, Gandalf saw Soraya, and his expression changed.

She was lying in a specially-made vessel, her eyes closed, seemingly lifeless.

"Laplace, what's going on? What's happened to your cousin?"

Gandalf asked anxiously; she was fine before he went into seclusion.

Laplace said:

"She encountered a level 8 Sleep Demon during her mission and fell victim to the Deep Sleep Curse."

Gandalf's heart tightened.

The Deep Sleep Curse, a terrifying technique supposedly only powerful Sleep Demons can implement.

Those cursed fall into eternal slumber, akin to death.

Laplace said:

"You shouldn't worry too much. I've already asked my father to lift the curse for her; it just requires some time to recover."

His father's Grand Wizard status ensured resolving a level 8 Sleep Demon's curse wouldn't be a problem.

If it were a level 9 Sleep Demon, it would be troublesome.

Only the intervention of a Legendary Wizard, or the slaying of the level 9 Sleep Demon, could lift the curse.

Gandalf said:

"That's good. I heard she came looking for me before. Do you know the purpose of her visit?"

Laplace said:

"I don't know. She didn't say. Oh, and congrats on your promotion to the seven-circle, becoming a rare seven-circle body-refining wizard. In a while, the Wizard Council's [Body Refining Department] will have a reward policy for body-refining wizards you might want to pay attention to."

Gandalf asked:

"When was the Body Refining Department established?"

Laplace said:

"It's always been around, just with little presence and not many members. Normally disappearing by natural selection over a few thousand years is expected due to the flow-following nature of individuals. The better practice is chosen... Now, during this Blood Battle, the losses spell wizards suffered due to gargoyles and various aliens like those from the Amethyst Race appearing in the Council of Ten Thousand Clans. Conversely, knights from the Dusk Holy Temple performed exceptionally. Some old folk with ideas proposed that official entities could allocate resources to intervene slightly to prevent the body-refining wizard legacy from being completely severed. If fostered, it could play a role in Blood Battles and future Civil Wars... Of course, one direct reason is our intelligence revealing the Council of Ten Thousand Clans is scheming to assemble a special forces unit highly immune to spells targeting spellcasting professions. Though it sounds unreliable, if they manage it, it's quite troublesome. Therefore, while the Wizard Council promotes knights, it's also planning to reform the body-refining wizard path. Currently, a Legendary Wizard and a dozen Grand Wizards are leading research projects, focusing on talents like you... And I'm sharing this because of my sister, so don't spread it for now."

Gandalf assured:

"My lips are sealed, rest assured. It seems the Wizard Council is starting an arms race with the Council of Ten Thousand Clans, even willing to support the body-refining path."

Laplace said:

"Let's give it a try; it's better than doing nothing."

Gandalf said:

"Indeed, thanks for the heads-up. I'll stay here for a while to wait for Soraya's awakening before leaving. Also, send me the information on that level 8 Sleep Demon."

Laplace quickly said:

"Don't be reckless. My sister doesn't need you to avenge her. Even though you're a top-level talent, there's a major realm gap; it's not to be taken lightly."

Gandalf said:

"Relax, I just want to remember, I'll settle it later."

Only then did Laplace provide the Sleep Demon information to Gandalf.

Gandalf murmured:

"Sleep Demon Lady Sukhatala..."

Sleep Demons are fairly rare in the Abyss. However, among their species, there is no shortage of strong individuals. According to the original body's "Abyss Atlas", the formidable lord of the Abyss's 657th layer is a Sleep Demon.

Her name is [Eternal Slumber-Celestia].

The brain, heart, and crystal core of Sleep Demons are top-quality materials for Pharmacy, the raw ingredients of some advanced meditation potions.

"This debt must be settled, but there's no rush."

A month later.

Soraya finally awakened from her sleep. Her face was pale as if she had experienced a sort of nightmare. Upon seeing Gandalf at the bedside, she smiled.

Chapter 2126: Seven-Ring Body Refining, Thousand-Eyed Titan.

"You've reached the Seven Rings? Congratulations, old fellow."

Gandaph smiled and said:

"Yeah, I'm at the same realm as you now, feeling nervous?"

Soraya rolled her eyes at him.

"Why should I be nervous? I'm not competing with you, and besides, I'm about to reach Seven Rings Perfection, so you wanting to catch up with me—still a long ways off... By the way, what brings you here? You never come to see me unless there's something up."

Gandaph said:

"Do you believe me if I say I just wanted to show off my Seven-Ring Cultivation?"

Soraya said seriously:

"If it were Ace or Lord Victor, I wouldn't believe it... But with your thick skin, I do believe it."

Gandaph said:

"Hahaha, you know me well. By the way, what's up with you?"

Soraya stood up, holding onto Gandaph's arm. After drinking some potion, she regained her energy and strength.

She took out a somewhat ancient parchment and handed it to Gandaph.

After Gandaph finished reading, he was shocked internally and asked:

"Where did you get this?"

Soraya said:

"I accidentally discovered this after killing a Level 7 Sleep Demon, and because of it, I was ambushed by a Level 8 Sleep Demon. If my battle group companions hadn't driven the Demon away in time, I might've been buried on the God-forsaken Continent."

Gandaph patted Soraya's shoulder solemnly and said:

"I won't forget your kindness."

Soraya pouted.

"Hope you mean it... But this thing, you're not sure if it's real or not. Don't go unless you're completely prepared."

Gandaph nodded.

"Rest well and heal. I can help take on some of your battle group's tasks; I want to accumulate some war merit recently too."

Soraya said:

"You should find Laplace. I won't recover my strength for three to five years."

Gandaph promised confidently:

"I won't leave the God-forsaken Continent until you've recovered."

He turned and left.

The little note Soraya gave him was a map of the relics, marking an ancient relic left by an ancient wizard named Tyrone Stanley. He was also famously known as:

"The Titan Witch!"

The creator of the foremost of the Four Great Ancient Body Refining Techniques, the "Thousand-Eyed Titan Body Tempering Technique," was Tyrone!

This person is extremely ancient, having become a ninth-circle Grand Wizard and an eight-ring body-refining wizard in ancient times. His history predates even Sauron.

But Sauron later surpassed him to become the first Legendary Wizard and founded the Wizard Council to resist the Heavenly Father, thus achieving the greatest wizard merit and influence, earning the title "ancestor of wizards."

"That Soraya is quite considerate. I just casually mentioned wanting to witness the prowess of the 'Thousand-Eyed Titan Body Tempering Technique' once, and she really remembered it."

Gandaph muttered to himself.

Unfortunately, this Tyrone Relics is in an extremely dangerous place, a place Gandaph currently dares not venture.

The 53rd level of the Abyss!

He also didn't know why Tyrone would leave the relics in the Abyss World, but it's certainly troublesome.

The Abyss is extremely far from the Wizard World, and without the methods of a Grand Wizard or a Legendary Wizard, trying to get there would take a lifetime, and he still wouldn't make it. Of course, there is a shortcut by utilizing the Abyss Well crafted by Abyssal strongmen, but that would be as good as courting death...

His two undercover agents, the succubus is on the 13th level, and the Mind Flayer, now in the Wizard World, originally hails from the 27th level, which is closest to the 53rd level.

"No rush on this matter, first thoroughly master the Thousand-Handed Ancient God and the Ten-winged Sky Dragon. Without strength above the eight rings, sneaking into the 53rd level of the Abyss would be pointless."

Days later.

Gandaph arrived at a certain cave. According to Laplace's information, there was a Level 7 Demon entrenched here, who'd built a Demonized Creature Factory to continuously demonize Nora's creatures and even mortals as cannon fodder.

He casually grabbed a demon that frequently entered or exited the chasm and stared into its eyes, casting a mesmerizing glow into the demon's mind. This was "Ancient God Condensation," enough to destroy the enemy's willpower and throw them into chaos. After advancing to the Seven Rings, he could even temporarily control creatures.

He controlled the demon to scout out the cave thoroughly.

"One Level 7 Early Stage Blade Demon, and five Level 6 Demons... Let's use you guys for some practice!"

He stretched his muscles, with the roars of giant elephants and the cries of dragons echoing within him, his terrifying aura shooting straight to the sky!

Boom!

Gandaph activated Invincible Mode and began his infiltration.

Not long after, amidst the chaos of demons, a kilometer-tall demon with a head like a ghost blade abruptly swung down, shattering the void!

"Radiant King Dragon Elephant Fist!"

The thousand-meter-tall Demon Suppression Ming King Witch Image behind Gandaph abruptly rose, merging the White Elephant Spiritual Object and witch image into one, covering it with elephant armor. The King Kong Bracelets clattered as the Radiant King's thousand arms, like illusions, blasted out together!

He unleashed the most formidable Profound Meaning of the Radiant King Martial Way, with thousands of body-refining runes sparkling, transforming into ten rampaging heavenly dragons and colossal elephant phantoms, howling forward!

Roar!

The dragon and elephant's rampage led to many demons losing their heads, and two Level 6 Demons were crushed without resistance.

Boom!

The Blade Demon's assault was shattered, as the ten dragons and ten elephants collided with the Blade Demon's upper body.

With a cracking sound, the ghost blade head of the indestructible Blade Demon was directly broken off, falling to the Earth.

The headless body did not perish, charging at Gandaph, who lifted the Sun King's Sword and fired a shot!

The Holy Light passed through, causing countless demons to perish.

Gandaph just felt his bracelet persistently notifying him, sounding incessantly.

The Blade Demon's chest was blown through, finally ceasing to live.

"Earning war merit is not hard, watch me catch up to Victor!"

The Radiant King stood atop the clouds, slapping down at the scattered fleeing demons with his giant hands.

...

Burning Rock World.

Looking around, this place was scorched for miles, smoke billowing, with a strong smell of sulfur. According to the treasure map clues, this world had an indigenous civilization, but its strongest was only at level six.

"I didn't expect Gandaph to obtain a clue to the Thousand-Eyed Titan Body Tempering Technique, maybe I can send a demon spy to check it out in the future."

Levi's Hermit Runes flickered as he mused to himself.

Soon, he saw a ruined relic nestled among the mountains ahead.

Suddenly, his nose twitched, and then his eyes flashed with Divine Light.

With a wave, a red scale emitting intense heat flew from the stratum beneath.

"The Undying Bird hasn't been found yet, but I've caught a scent of the Dragon Clan."

Chapter 2127: Black Phoenix Parrot

After dealing with the Dragon Clan for a long time, Levi was familiar with the Dragon Clan's Aura.

Judging from the aura emitted by the scales, it should be a Sixth-level Dragon Clan.

Although it's not the Seventh-level Dragon Clan Levi needed the most, it could lighten the burden of the Black Lotus Beast, which is still good.

This world is not large, and Levi searched it at the fastest speed.

A few days later, he returned empty-handed and went back to the relic.

Only after inquiring with the local natives did he learn.

Hundreds of years ago, a powerful evil dragon named Flame Executioner Terrez invaded the Charred Rock Realm, intending to enslave the natives here to mine gold for it, but was driven away by the great hero Dick at the time. The place where he found the dragon scales was where Dick fought the evil dragon.

"What a pity."

Ann rejoiced for nothing. He forgot about it and looked at the relic ahead, his gaze solemn.

He muttered under his breath, flicking out a Fate Coin in his hand.

"The smile... According to the divination of the Destiny Coin, it should be not very dangerous, and it matches my Danger Perception, confirming the two together, it should be of no danger."

Despite saying this, just to be sure, Levi still hid a Death Ember Divine Palace underground outside the relic.

This has become his habit, like playing single-player games where you have to save every few steps.

In addition, although he knew it wouldn't be of much use, he still summoned "Happy Sheep," that lucky sheep, to sing the 'Good Luck' song of the baa-baa version for him and activate the Absolute Luck state.

The relic exudes the aura of time, and Levi used spells and instruments to take a bit of powder from the relic's building for a simple detection of its survival time.

"This relic should have been built twenty thousand years ago."

"At that time, even if there was a powerful array, it has probably aged naturally, and if there were any Guardians inside, most would have died of old age, unless there were descendants left behind or individuals with a very long lifespan. Overall, be careful, this exploration should be without hindrance."

Various protective force fields lit up on his body, and an array item appeared in his hand, carefully breaking those remaining arrays.

These arrays were no longer in operation, but to be cautious, it's still best to fully break them.

He easily passed through the outer area of the relic without encountering anything.

Before Levi appeared towering pillars, soaring into the sky, up to a thousand meters high. Levi counted, there were twenty-four of them.

The entirety of these pillars used the characteristic "charred stone" from the Charred Rock World, refined using special methods, extremely solid.

Even after twenty thousand years, they still looked as good as new.

The surface of the pillars was carved with flying patterns of divine birds like fire phoenixes.

This is the frequent image of the Undying Bird shown to the world.

"All these pillars are array items, collectively forming the Ten Thousand Flames Sealing Spirit Array."

The Ten Thousand Flames Sealing Spirit Array is an Eight-Circle Magic Array of the Burning Faction, generally used for suppression and sealing.

"The creator of this relic is suppressing some Level 8 existence beneath here?"

If it were Level 7, it certainly wouldn't need an Eight-level Magic Array, that's an overkill.

"The array seems basically intact; if there were sealed objects below, they probably haven't escaped."

Levi naturally wouldn't court death by removing these seals.

Although he now has the courage to contend with the eighth-circle, it doesn't mean he wants to face the eighth-circle directly.

"That treasure map says that every night, a divine bird phantom flies out from here, I'll see today."

Nightfall.

Levi hidden in the distance, his gaze fixed on the relic.

As the stones crack the sky with clear sound, a phantom of the divine bird flew out. Its form was like the fire phoenix sculpture, its wing span was ten thousand meters, soaring into the high sky, and then dissipated.

Rumble!

The twenty-four huge pillars trembled continuously, their surface's patterns blazed brightly, and spell runes lit up one by one.

"This is the suppressed object trying to break through the restraints of the Ten Thousand Flames Sealing Spirit Array. The wizard who built this relic should be an outstanding figure among the eighth-circle, not inferior to those top wizard leaders, quite a feat. Judging from the present, what's suppressed below is probably related to the Undying Bird."

This is definitely not a genuine Undying Bird, it should be a powerful creature with an extremely rich Undying Bird Bloodline, unlike the Green Fire Crow, Cold Flame Bird, or Crimson Netherworld Sparrow.

Levi rejoiced within; he didn't come here for nothing.

If he can find a way to subjugate what's below, that's all he needs.

The next day.

During daylight, the Ten Thousand Flames Sealing Spirit Array fell into deathly silence again.

It seems the existence below will only attempt to break the array at night.

Levi temporarily didn't bother with the array and flew towards the relic's center.

Not long after, he appeared before a collapsed wizard tower. Several tall, thin shadows, bright red like charred wood, moved within.

These were the natives of the Charred Rock Realm whom Levi referred to as the Burning Rock Clan. They were born with the ability to control flames, and during the days Levi toured here, he also secretly interacted with them through the Scarlet Contract, but didn't pay much attention as their strength was average.

He bypassed these alien races and continued onward. During this time, there were also traps and mechanisms enough to obliterate ordinary primordial soul wizards, all easily bypassed by him.

Ultimately, he arrived safely outside the entrance of an underground lab.

Danger Perception sounding warnings.

He then released his Nightmare Avatar, which turned to black smoke, passed through the array, and entered within.

Chapter 2128: Black Phoenix Parrot

The laboratory is enormous, with various research instruments covered in dust, and the array for dust removal has long stopped functioning.

Through the duplication's perspective, he saw the crystal container, three meters tall, in the center of the laboratory, with runes all over its surface.

Inside the container was Black Water, black as ink, emitting scorching heat and bubbling vigorously, with intricate black tubes crisscrossing.

"It looks a bit like an instrument for bloodline modification experiments."

Eventually, the duplication found some things resembling laboratory research logs.

After reading them, Levi pondered.

The owner of this relic, name unknown, was researching an Eight-Ring Life Extension Potion called [Thousand-Year Potion]. If successfully researched, it could extend one's lifespan by a thousand years after consumption.

This potion required the Undying Bird Bloodline, so he imprisoned a Level 8 Undying Bird, researching day and night.

However, after countless experiments, he still hadn't succeeded.

The final experiment was conducted just before his death. He took a desperate gamble and consumed an uncertain-effect potion, hoping to succeed, but ultimately failed.

He was still unwilling to accept defeat and planned to extend his life through bloodline modification. Clearly, he failed once more.

Soon after, the duplication found a skeleton in the laboratory, wearing an ancient wizard robe, distinctly an ordinary-quality eighth-circle.

Levi had the duplication strip off the robe. An Eight-Ring Wizarding Device, although old, remained usable and could fetch a price at auction. This trip had already netted him a starting sum of ten billion Aether Stones.

Additionally, there was a rustic ring on the skeleton's finger. Upon seeing the ring's style, Levi's heart was filled with joy.

"It's part of the same series as my trembling Snake Eye Demon Ring...looks like this fellow was also a collector of magic rings."

This ring, named [Laughing Magic Ring], is said to release [Big Laugh Skill], causing the affected wizard to dance uncontrollably, undoubtedly affecting spellcasting. However, it's only a probability and hardly effective against primordial soul wizards, possessing only collectible value.

The most important thing should be the contents inside, so he had the duplication store them away to inspect later.

However, up to now, nothing dangerous had appeared to threaten Levi, making him highly vigilant.

He ordered the duplication to gather all experimental diaries and instruments alike.

"Thousand-Year Potion, a nice idea, but alas, lifespan extension is the hardest challenge for wizards; otherwise, wizards would have unified the multiverse already."

According to Levi's knowledge, those capable of extending lifespan by a thousand-year level are typically ninth-circle potions or Heavenly Materials and Earthly Treasures.

Occasionally, there are some eight-circle life extension potions available on the market, extending life by about three hundred years, with incredibly high prices, even Levi wouldn't bear to buy them.

These life extension potions involve an astonishing diversity of Heavenly Materials and Earthly Treasures, and their refining techniques are even more complex than breakthrough potions.

Moreover, generally speaking, life extension potions can only be taken once.

"Nonetheless, this experimental diary holds reference value; I can ponder and research it next. If in the future, I'm truly able to refine an eight-circle potion with a thousand-year life extension, it would be of epoch-making significance. Hundred Flowers and Triss, if they could gain another thousand-year lifespan, both would have hopes to dash toward the Ninth-Circle Realm."

Moreover, if the production of such a potion can be slightly increased, many eighth-circle wizards in the Wizard World could benefit, advancing to the ninth-circle.

And Levi, as the potion's inventor, could also earn handsomely. novel.com

However, upon further reflection, it's unlikely due to the limitation being a lack of resources.

Only if wizards achieve a breakthrough in potion materials science, possibly replacing those Heavenly Materials and Earthly Treasures.

Otherwise, life extension potions remain the patent of very few individuals.

"Such a pity, this lab doesn't show any traces of Truth Oddity; it either hasn't been nurtured or has transformed into an oddity and gone somewhere unknown. Twenty thousand years is indeed very long."

Having searched through the laboratory without finding any other usable clues, Levi withdrew the duplication and turned to leave.

Just then, a sudden change occurred, as a black shadow fell at the entrance ahead, a black light shot out with unimaginable speed.

Bang!

Bang!

Bang!

The Earth Dragon Barrier and various protective force fields shattered one after another.

The black light collided with the [Snow Iron Dragon Armor], piercing a hole at the left chest position, an artifact of high-grade seven-circle quality.

However, after piercing the wizard tool, it was deflected by the Golden Scales on Levi's body, caught by his hand enveloped in Golden Gravity.

The palm felt immense power, trembling uncontrollably, as Levi focused his eyes, seeing a black feather.

The black shadow uttered a surprised sound, evidently not expecting to be unable to penetrate the enemy's armor.

Levi's eyes narrowed, exuding a dangerous aura.

The black shadow, seeing its attack miss, attempted to flee. Transforming into black light, it flew toward the relic's exit.

Startled to find that the entire relic was surrounded by a ring-shaped silver mountain range over twenty miles in radius, the sky filled with countless black Electric Snakes radiating destructive intent, along with a storm vortex reaching the heavens swirling outside the mountains, and mysterious creatures emerging from the storm heading its way.

A black armored figure, carrying a greatsword like a door plank in hand, was staring at it with a teasing gaze.

Chapter 2129: Black Phoenix Parrot

"Were you thinking you could escape after ambushing me?"

Appearing before Levi was a woman shrouded in a black veil.

She was slender, with a slim waist, her black dress billowing in the wind revealing long, fair legs, and bare feet.

The woman in black suddenly spoke in the common wizard language:

"Wait, if I tell you I mean no harm, would you believe me?"

Her voice was somewhat husky, even somewhat unpleasant, completely mismatched with her beautiful figure.

Levi suddenly moved, transforming into an eagle, soaring toward the Nine Heavens, a sharp Sword Qi had already slashed down!

"Stand still and let me strike you once with my sword, then I'll believe you."

The woman in black's expression drastically changed, she raised her palm, conjuring a giant black claw to clash with the Sword Qi.

Boom!

The Sword Qi dissipated, and her giant claw was torn apart.

She frowned and said:

"Though you have some peculiarities, my realm surpasses yours. Do not force me... Don't forget, you were the one who intruded into my territory first. Is this the way of humans, so domineering?"

The human before her, his aura was only at Level 7 Mid Stage, while she was at Level 7 Late Stage.

Levi remained unmoved, he activated the [Roc and Snake Path], with faint manifestations of the Heavenly Peng and Heavenly Snake accompanying him. Even with the keen sight of the woman in black, Levi seemed to transform into an elusive shadow, Sword Qi attacked from every direction, mixed with innate spells, a barrage of overwhelming assault.

The woman in black cursed under her breath:

"How unreasonable!"

With a wave of her hand, seven black lights appeared, seven black feathers buzzed and trembled like secret swords, tearing through the air, buzzing toward Levi.

Bam!

Bam!

Bam!

Levi held his shark-tooth-shaped sword, these black lights collided with its blade, causing pain in his hand.

"This creature is quite tough."

He simply put away the sword, Doomsday Fist emerged, entering [Limitless Path]state, becoming as if in a Freedom Extreme Intent.

His flesh like memory fluid alloy forming ripples, transforming into Golden Scale Shields that deflected the black lights.

Meanwhile, stretching out his hand, ten fingers transformed into Blood Nails, shooting rapidly.

The woman in black waved her hand, a pair of illusory black wings unfolded, enveloping her.

Crackling sounds came, some Blood Nails were deflected, others pierced through, entering her chest.

Black blood flowed, turning into Black Flame which dissolved the Blood Nails.

Boom!

Suddenly, wind and thunder clashed, a massive sense of danger arrived, only to see a giant of nine colors towering three thousand meters behind her, quietly emerging.

"Darn, is this a wizard form?"

Like embracing a tree, the giant embraced her, space compressed, nine-colored divine light filled the heavens, black thunder and blue fire erupted!

The woman in black's body exploded, turning into countless black lights, scattering in all directions, then reforming into a human shape, her face pale, devoid of blood, still shocked.

Before she even adjusted her state, a thick purple lightning pillar descended from the sky, striking her down.

"Ah!"

A human-shaped form fell from the sky, her black dress shattering, revealing her radiance, her face surprisingly pretty.

In the stormy vortex, Si Lei appeared human-headed and snake-bodied.

Levi's fist shone brilliantly, executing an Underhook Earth Shattering Fist, smashing the woman into the ground, her body shattered.

In the next instant, the flesh began to gather again, reforming into the silhouette of the woman in black.

"This one is pretty resistant to beatings."

The nine-colored emperor's hand came down, Levi casually released a [Heavenly Net Lightning] spell, entangling and controlling her.

The exhausted woman in black hurriedly said:

"Please... please don't kill me."

She had thought the man in Black Armor, although unique, would at most match her, after all, she surpassed him by a small realm, but now it seemed, this man's strength far exceeded hers.

Levi stated:

"I won't kill you."

His massive hand reached out, the power of Scarlet Dragon engulfed the woman, forming Crimson Enslavement. The woman in black's eyes went blank for a moment, then she said:

"Master."

Levi said:

"You should only be a duplication or something, the main body is beneath that sealing array."

The woman in black said:

"Yes."

Levi thought, indeed as expected.

The formidable immortality power of this woman was evidently related to the Undying Bird, Levi had suspected early on. If this woman was an Undying Bird bloodline creature, wouldn't she have lived for tens of thousands of years?

He asked:

"Tell me, in detail, about your situation, and the situation of the relic."

He found a place, quietly listening to her story.

Days passed.

Levi brought the woman to the Ten Thousand Flames Sealing Spirit Array.

Under this array, a tremendously powerful transcendent creature was sealed, named [Black Phoenix Parrot].

More than twenty thousand years ago, this Black Phoenix Parrot was captured by the relic's master, brought to Burning Rock World, suppressed by the Ten Thousand Flames Sealing Spirit Array.

Then the wizard sought to utilize the Undying Bird Bloodline within the Black Phoenix Parrot to develop a Thousand-Year Potion, aiming to extend his own lifespan.

This wizard was originally an Eight-Circle Perfect Wizard, exceptionally powerful, but only had two hundred years left of his lifespan.

Normally, he had no hope of breaking through to the ninth-circle, relying solely on the life-prolonging potions.

Regrettably, the wizard ultimately failed, his life ended.

Though he died, the Ten Thousand Flames Sealing Spirit Array continued operating thanks to the rich underground fire and Sky Fire Fortress of the Burning Rock World.

The Black Phoenix Parrot remained suppressed here, unable to escape, its power gradually dropping to Level 7 Realm over time.

Chapter 2130: Black Phoenix Parrot

Fifteen thousand years ago, the lifespan of the Black Phoenix Parrot was nearing its end.

Before its fall, it put its body into self-hibernation, and with the reincarnation divine ability unique to the Black Phoenix Parrot, chose to reincarnate. It woke up in a body it had prepared beforehand, thus becoming this black-skirted woman.

She appears human, but is actually the Black Phoenix Parrot utilizing its bloodline and secret techniques, combined with a body from a Multidimensional Plane called the Black Pheasant Clan. It's said this race was once the tribe of the Undying Bird in the Multidimensional Plane.

Over several thousand years, this black-skirted woman cultivated up to Level 7 Realm and thought of coming here to release the Black Phoenix Parrot's body and break the array's seal.

But she's not a wizard and doesn't understand arrays, so despite countless attempts, she couldn't shake the Eight-Ring Formation.

Every night, the apparition of the divine bird flying out is her effort in trying to awaken the body using bloodline power.

Thus, over the passage of time, she cultivated and grew stronger in the Burning Rock World, reaching the Level 7 Late Stage Realm.

Until one day, Levi arrived unexpectedly. She instinctively thought Levi was an accomplice or descendant of the relic owner.

Then she wanted to eliminate him to prevent interference with her plan to save the body.

Who would have thought she'd be caught off guard and easily subdued by Levi.

Although the Black Feather Clan's body is quite decent, it still pales compared to the Black Phoenix Parrot.

According to the Black Feather Clan's creation legend:

The Undying Bird, supreme and altruistic, before its death, let different transcendent creatures feast on its various body parts.

Then it led to the emergence of the ancestors of all kinds of Undying Bird bloodline creatures in this world, collectively known as "First Generation Undying Seed."

The ancestor of the Black Phoenix Parrot feasted on the tail feathers of the Undying Bird and thus obtained the most magnificent tail in the world.

Birds like the Cold Flame Bird, Black Flame Demonic Bird, Green Fire Crow are all hybrid bloodlines many generations later, far inferior to the Black Phoenix Parrot as a "First Generation Species," hence their growth potential is much lower.

The ancestor of the Black Phoenix Parrot was a Level 9 Legendary Creature named "Mystic Phoenix Parrot."

It's well-known that unless purebloods mate with purebloods, any extraordinary bloodline factors tend to get diluted through each generation's inheritance and propagation.

During dilution, various hybrid creatures are born, and by the generation of the Black Phoenix Parrot, it can only reach Level 8 standard.

Of course, while diluted, it still surpasses other hybrid creatures, and if fortunate in the future, there's hope of returning to the First Generation Undying Seed.

That's why the black-skirted woman is desperate to regain her body, as the potential of the Black Pheasant Clan is too low. Even after using the Black Phoenix Parrot bloodline and spending a fortune to modify it, it's difficult to ascend to Level 8, let alone rekindle ancestral glory and ascend to Level 9.

Only by reclaiming her body does she have the hope to advance further and start a new life.

Honestly, the Black Phoenix Parrot was quite miserable, being captured for pharmaceutical experiments until it died.

Even used its only reincarnation opportunity, a disaster of pure misfortune.

Since it's already under Crimson Enslavement, the Black Phoenix Parrot is considered an ally, he can also comfortably break the seal and rescue her body.

The Ten Thousand Flames Sealing Spirit Array is difficult to break relying solely on brute force or with his current Array Wizard level. It requires a combination, finding a weak point through array knowledge, and then exerting full power for hope.

Following this, he settled in the Burning Rock World, intending to research slowly while sorting through the relic owner's storage ring.

Inside the ring, there aren't as many things as Levi imagined.

There are only over a hundred million Aether Stones, not because the relic owner was poor. From his experimental diary, it seems he spent all his life savings on the set of experimental equipment, capturing the Black Phoenix Parrot, constructing the array, researching medicines, and more.

In the end, he was so broke that as an Eight-Circle Perfect Wizard, he only had one second-hand Eight-Ring Ordinary Witch Robe.

There are some ore materials, however, which are the Burning Rock World's specialty "Divine Rock Iron," level 7 ores of good quality, which Levi collected to use in Holy Infant Refining.

After searching more, Levi finally found what he wanted.

The Eight-Ring Formation blueprint of "Ten Thousand Flames Sealing Spirit Array," created by none other than that Gegewu Wizard.

Additionally, there is a Magic Array Inheritance Book.

The book's cover is blood-red with a mysterious eye blinking, staring at Levi.

Levi's eyes narrowed as he pulled two more books from the storage ring, both titled "Book of Cypher."

The first one was acquired as a young man when he killed the Second-Circle Wizard "Lost Wizard Pinoz," containing only low-level array blueprints, accompanying him for many years.

The second one was obtained from the Fire Wolf Wizard while exploring a secret realm during the Burning School of Thought, containing more comprehensive content, including low-level and middle-level array blueprints.

This one, after browsing, contains more extensive content, with over a thousand low-level and middle-level arrays, and even several high-level and ninth-circle arrays.

"This is the true Book of Cypher, a complete version held by this individual."

Undoubtedly, the creator of this book, Cypher, must have been an ancient Grand Wizard. The versions circulating outside are mostly abridged editions.

This situation is quite common; some wizards, when selling or teaching students, always keep some secrets to prevent themselves from being surpassed.
