Chapter 2141: Capturing the Legendary Creature!

Besides the Truth Oddity, Levi also found a ten-thousand-year-old snow lotus in the Great Snow Mountain region.

This ten-thousand-year-old snow lotus is crucial for refining the Soul Suppressing Potion, so the more he has, the better.

Unfortunately, rare plants like the Ice Crystal Snow Pear Tree were not found this time.

The sixth layer is too vast, so he could only follow Jin to some random places. The treasures he obtained were just the tip of the iceberg.

There are still many places, or the underground world, hiding Truth Oddities or other rare resources.

But he can't collect them all. After all, these are the things Sauron prepared for the entire wizard civilization.

The most he could do is enrich himself first, then gradually influence others to become wealthy... though it's uncertain when that will happen.

...

The seventh floor.

Rune Land.

After a hundred years, the Rune Saints gathered together, eagerly awaiting.

"Will the Heavenly Venerate come again?"

"Not sure, but probably."

"Has your work been smooth these years?"

"Don't even mention it, those black beasts from the giant beast restricted area constantly harass us, it's unbearable."

"Yes, fortunately, the balancing power of the forces like the Flame Country makes life barely livable."

"It'd be great if the Heavenly Venerate could eliminate the restricted area."

"The master of the restricted area is an absolute powerhouse in this world, controlling countless powerful black beasts. Who can flatten the restricted area? Even those powerful foreigners can't do it."

"Alas, true... at this rate, when will our Human race ever have its day in the sun?"

"No need to be so pessimistic, the Heavenly Venerate granted us a complete wizard heritage, which is our opportunity to rise."

As they discussed, they didn't notice a figure had quietly descended on the Cloud Summit.

Levi coughed, and the Rune Saints' expressions changed, then they greeted Levi.

"Greetings, Heavenly Venerate."

Levi said:

"Report on your work during this period."

The Flame Wolf Saint said:

"Let me go first."

Levi closed his eyes in thought, listening to their reports.

Over the years, another saint was born in the Rune Land.

However, two saints also fell during the black beast disturbance.

The black beast disturbance was naturally caused by the Spider King working in the shadows.

Using the search for the black-armored swordsman as an excuse, it launched a massive invasion of Rune Land.

Fortunately, Jabba, the chess piece Levi left in Flame Country, played an important role.

It persuaded the Lord of Flame to send troops to encircle the black beasts, preventing the giant beast restricted area from monopolizing Rune Land.

Forces from the other Three Realms and Four Lands also demanded the withdrawal of the giant beast restricted area troops.

They claimed that Rune Land is jointly owned territory.

Because the Human race is still weak, the saints have mainly relied on the Three Realms and Four Lands for the past hundred years.

With their current strength, they are not yet able to confront any side head-on.

Although Levi is strong, he is still not at level 8, and he can't protect Rune Land indefinitely.

Therefore, the long-term plan is to produce level 8 powerhouses in Rune Land as soon as possible, then gradually control or eliminate the Three Realms and Four Lands after dividing them.

Levi doesn't want to eradicate these alien races, only to ensure that the Human race assumes the dominant position.

Just like in the Wizard World, where these alien races become vassals of the Humans.

Besides, the saints have also collected many wizard seedlings.

In a century, they've collected three Children of the Elements, and one of them is an exceptionally rare Ice Element Son.

With double affinity, there are more than a dozen Special Talents.

Although the Human race in the Seventh Layer has declined, its area far exceeds that of the Fifth Layer. Overall, the number of geniuses born is also greater.

This made Levi quite satisfied.

So many Special Talents and Children of the Elements are almost impossible to chance upon in the Wizard World.

Every year, major wizard organizations and congress officials expend vast resources to search for wizard seedlings in Human gathering places.

Children of the Elements are the benchmark for enrollment performances in top-level wizard organizations.

After all, as long as such a genius doesn't perish young, reaching the fifth-circle realm is guaranteed. With good luck and proper training, there's also considerable hope of advancing to the primordial soul.

As for the top-level talents with a combination of being a Child of the Elements and Special Talent, they are undeniably primordial soul seedlings, hard to come by. Levi has found only one such talent so far, Little Toby.

Most of the top talents who returned successfully from the ancient tower have reached the primordial soul and become the backbone of the Wizard World.

Levi said:

"Very good, keep up the good work. Everyone will be rewarded, and there will be extra prizes for those who discover talents."

The saints showed delight and couldn't keep their mouths closed after receiving their rewards from Levi.

He added:

"Continue focusing on development next; avoid conflict with the Three Realms and Four Lands. Flame Wolf Saint, your realm now is Seven Rings Perfection in the Wizard World, not far from the eighth-circle. Keep striving."

Flame Wolf Saint naturally had good talent, being a Child of the Fire Element and also a mixed blood of the Flame Clan.

This is a race with innately high fire element affinity, considered a special talent.

Therefore, advancing to the eighth-circle is still hopeful.

Flame Wolf said:

"Thank you for the guidance, Heavenly Venerate; I will certainly strive hard!"

Several days later.

Levi met with Jabba again.

It had also restored its strength to the Late Stage Level 7, and its status in the Flame Country had risen significantly.

It reported all the intelligence it had gathered about the Three Realms and Four Lands to Levi.

This included information on some transcendent creatures, rare plants, and clues about curiosities and oddities.

Chapter 2142: Capturing the Legendary Creature!

Levi said:

"I have some combat techniques here. See if you can cultivate and comprehend them. They might be useful to you."

The Flame Clan also has its combat techniques, but Levi feels they are quite crude.

They rely more on spell-like ability, wasting their somewhat powerful body and vitality.

In comparison, among the alien races Levi has seen, the barbarian tribes' development of combat techniques is absolutely top-level. They deserve their status as a major civilization.

Jabba almost wanted to kneel to Levi.

"Thank you, Lord!"

Levi said:

"Do good work for me, and the King of the Flame Country will soon be yours."

Jabba had already started fantasizing about unifying the Flame Country and sweeping across the world.

A hundred years unseen, the Lord's power has grown even more unfathomable.

The Lord's speed of advancement can only be described as terrifying.

Regarding this, Andreas is the most qualified to speak.

...

With the issues of Humans in Rune Land resolved, Levi relied on Absolute Luck and Jin to begin his treasure-hunting journey.

This time, he first needed to head to [Heart Sea], the domain ruled by the Merfolk Palace. f

According to Jabba's intelligence, fifty years ago, a significant event occurred in Heart Sea.

A powerful giant beast descended from beyond the sky, occupied the depths of Heart Sea, and devoured many strong Merfolk.

For this, the Merfolk Palace even dispatched four Level 7 Experts to track and besiege the giant beast.

Rumor has it that the beast resembles a giant ape, with a blue face and sharp fangs, standing several thousand meters tall, possessing immense strength and excellent water skills.

The Level 7 Experts who besieged it suffered two deaths and two injuries, fleeing in disgrace.

This giant beast astonishingly already possesses Level 7 Late Stage strength, and when underwater, its strength is nearly at Level 7 Peak. It's said that even the Merfolk King intervened but failed to capture the beast, allowing it to escape, although the Merfolk King vehemently denies the matter.

Upon hearing this, Levi felt slightly excited.

Judging from Jabba's description, this giant ape might be a Legendary Creature he has seen in ancient texts.

[Water Disaster Giant Ape].

This giant ape is remarkable.

It is a transcendent ape creature comparable to the Mu Emperor Family's clan emblem [Saint Ape].

However, it is a [Catastrophe Ape], a destruction ape that brings water disasters, while the Saint Ape is its holy counterpart.

The ape is already not far from Level 8, and moreover, ape creatures tend to grow faster, far surpassing the Dragon Clan.

Perhaps soon, it could reach Level 8.

However, rapid growth often means a shorter lifespan.

The Water Disaster Giant Ape lives at most two thousand years, only about half the average lifespan of a Legendary Dragon Race.

In any case, if it could be captured, it would significantly enhance Levi's strength.

Using it to safeguard the Ancient Dragon Continent would be excellent.

Additionally, the Legendary Ape's bloodline essence, without affecting its growth, can be extracted and placed in the Dusk Holy Temple for knights to exchange.

Like Emperor Mu and some ape knight Breathing Techniques, they would thus benefit.

"Let's first go to Heart Sea to evaluate the strength of the Catastrophe Ape. If this journey succeeds in capturing it, it'll be a gain."

...

Heart Sea.

This place is vast and boundless, stretching out over many thousand miles.

The Merfolk, resembling the Sea Clan in appearance, have similar living habits.

This is a convergence evolution in the civilization process.

The Merfolk Palace has a Level 8 powerhouse.

Apart from the Water Disaster Giant Ape, legend has it there are countless treasures in the palace.

Just like the Dragon Palace of the East Sea in Levi's previous life, known throughout the continent.

Yet, no one dares attempt to steal them.

In the sea, the Merfolk are absolute rulers.

Rumor has it that in the square before the Merfolk Palace, there's a pillar connecting heaven and earth.

This pillar was discovered by the first Merfolk King in Heart Sea and has stood there ever since!

The Merfolk King believed this place is a feng-shui treasure land, hence led the tribe to establish Merfolk Palace here.

Mysterious symbols are carved atop the pillar, described by the Merfolk King as the Divine Language!

Throughout history, no one has been able to decipher its meaning.

It's rumored among the Merfolk that those who can understand these mysterious symbols may instantly become Gods!

Levi heard Hundred Flowers also mention this topic, even the learned wizards cannot comprehend the meaning fully.

He plans first to admire the "Divine Symbol," then go capture the Water Disaster Giant Ape.

...

Merfolk Palace.

In the vast square, there stands a blue pillar so tall it pierces through Nine Heavens, reaching ten thousand meters high.

A circular area with a diameter of ten thousand meters surrounds the pillar, where many Merfolk warriors are cultivating.

They're either refining their body or honing combat techniques and physical techniques, clearly treating this place as a sacred land for cultivation.

Due to the mysterious pillar's influence, the gravity here becomes increasingly terrifying toward the center.

At the outer edge, gravity is tenfold, and reaching the core, it's unimaginable.

The seventh floor world is already huge, with strong gravity.

With such terrifying augmentation, even the Level 8 powerhouse like the Merfolk King dares not step inside.

The pillar presents a blue hue, with its surface adorned with beautiful texture.

The surrounding ground is paved with ancient blue stone bricks, exuding traces of time.

On every stone brick, countless spell runes are densely packed, extremely mysterious, evidently not the work of the Sea Clan.

A burly Merfolk blends into the crowd, gazing from afar at the towering pillar.

This Merfolk, naturally, is Levi.

With his stealth ability, merging in was very easy.

But now, Levi's expression is somewhat complex, internally remarking:

"Divine my foot, Divine Symbol, it's just Chinese characters."

On the blue pillar, written are four Dragon-soaring and Phoenix-dancing seal script characters.

Chapter 2143: Capturing the Legendary Creature!

[Ocean Stabilizing Pillar]!

Next to the seal script, there's a line of small text.

[Formed by the soaking of one-million-year-old Blue Star Wood, impervious to blades, impervious to water and fire, incredibly heavy. The core area is ten thousand times gravity, and only a person with the strength to pull mountains and overwhelm the world can dwell there.]

"Alas, I thought it was something mysterious. Turns out it's Sauron's wicked sense of humor. This fellow countryman of mine does have a way with jokes."

"Text from a completely different universe, even for a Legendary Wizard, the meanings are indecipherable. No wonder, up till now, no one has cracked it."

"In the vastness of the world, perhaps only I, Levi, and that unknown Sauron, can understand."

"However, the good news is, this is not just an ordinary stone pillar. It's formed from petrified Strange Wood, it's naturally Soaking Water Wood, it's the top-grade Strange Wood Gargamel spoke of. In comparison, the ten-thousand-year Thunder Pattern Wood of the Thunder Divine Hall is not worth mentioning... If this Strange Wood were used to create the main trunk of a wizard tower, its power would be unimaginable."

Levi even suspected that the most valuable thing on the seventh floor of the Dark Ancient Tower might just be this Ocean Stabilizing Pillar intentionally left by Sauron.

"Wait, this thing shouldn't be a pillar of the Dark Ancient Tower... It shouldn't be, or else Sauron wouldn't let the later generations try to pull it out. This statement is clearly waiting for someone to come and pull it out."

On the pillar, there were runes solidified that Levi could not understand at all. He could only vaguely feel that they were meant for a forbidden technique.

In other words, if you wanted to use a spell to pull out this wood, never mind a seven-circle wizard. Even a Grand Wizard, or a Legendary Wizard, would likely fail... Because, this was set personally by Sauron.

This approach is reminiscent of the Alien Emperor who had left the Sword of Victory.

But if one did not use spells and relied solely on brute force to extract this million-year-soaked Strange Wood, especially under ten thousand times gravity, it would be extraordinarily difficult.

Based on a reasonable estimate of his current strength, even Levi feared he would have to advance to a Level 8 Knight, unleash full power, and stack various states to succeed — it would be impossible for anyone else.

In terms of strength, Levi, who mastered the Crimson Emperor Dragon Breathing Technique, had absolute confidence.

As it stands.

Sauron left behind the Ancient Saint Experiment Ground, Sauron's Four Treasures, Ancient Tower Scepter, Dark Ancient Tower, and fellow clues, all increasingly proving that Sauron intended to create a powerful bloodline physical path using knights as the blueprint, outside the path of the wizard.

The Initial Ancient Saint of the Ancient Saint Experiment Ground might have been one of Sauron's experiments.

However, the Initial Ancient Saint failed.

The emergence of his fellow countryman from Sauron was likely not a coincidence, possibly actively brought about by Sauron. He might have left many backup plans to validate this path.

This Ocean Stabilizing Pillar was clearly intended to test later generation adventurers.

On the eighth and ninth layers, there might still be subsequent testing grounds.

But, all of these, Sauron never made clear, nor did he tell the wizards of future generations.

Keeping these thoughts temporarily suppressed, Levi left the Merfolk Palace.

Within the palace, a dense sense of danger emanated, indicating that there was a level 8 powerhouse present.

The Merfolk King's Treasure Vault and the Ocean Stabilizing Pillar were not urgent. It wouldn't be too late to acquire them once his strength increased.

...

In the seawater.

Levi searched for treasures while looking for the whereabouts of the Water Disaster Giant Ape.

The Heart Sea was also a massive intersection point, with plenty of good items.

This time with the opening of the ancient tower, he made exploring this area his primary focus, intending to finally explore the Land of Darkness, and probe the truth about the Spider King.

In the blink of an eye, half a year had passed.

One man and one mouse roamed the ocean.

With the help of Jin and Absolute Luck, Levi gained significant rewards.

He transplanted many rare plants and herbs.

He even captured three types of water-element mixed-blood dragon clan, all placed within the Dragon Palace.

Additionally, a level 6 speed-typed sub-dragon species from the water-elemental named Blue Flagfish Dragon.

It was a sub-dragon species of the Sword King Dragon, rumored to be a pure-blood dragon species its body shaped like a sword, its head like a blade.

It had incredibly fast burst speed over a short distance, relying on absolute speed, and combined with its sharp head, it could slice through anything.

This sub-dragon species was indeed rare. The three-eyed guy of the Seafood Sub-Dragon Species showed strong interest in it.

Unfortunately, the Blue Flagfish Dragon was also male.

Levi noticed that there seemed to be fewer female dragons among the Dragon Clan.

He suddenly understood why those Dragon descendant wizards always had fathers who were from the Dragon Clan but had never heard of mothers being from the Dragon Clan. This could be one of the reasons.

Another month passed.

North of the Heart Sea.

Following some subtle clues, Levi tracked down the vicinity of the Water Disaster Giant Ape's lair.

Ahead was a dark abyss, seemingly bottomless ocean trench.

A faint sense of danger rose from below.

Not too intense, but neither weak.

"It's not a big problem."

After setting up the Death Ember Divine Palace, Levi infiltrated the sea abyss with the flickering of the Hermit Runes.

In the Deep Sea, there was another realm.

Levi actually discovered an entrance to a secret realm.

He stepped in and disappeared without a trace.

...

Nameless Secret Realm.

Blue skies, white clouds, with sea breezes blowing.

The secret realm was not large. Levi had barely entered when he found his target.

There stood a giant ape nearly three thousand meters tall with its body covered in white fur, wielding a thousand-meter-long bone club, swinging it around.

By the looks of it, it was practicing combat techniques.

Levi was slightly taken aback.

"Worthy of being a Legendary level creature, it can actually use combat techniques."

Usually, combat techniques were used only by humanoid species.

Chapter 2144: Capturing the Legendary Creature!

Relative to this, humanoid creatures generally have less powerful physical bodies.

They need to use combat skills to push their own strength to the limit.

Powerful transcendent creatures basically rely on battle instinct, fighting without any rules.

As for using combat techniques, this was Levi's first time seeing it.

The secret realm wasn't large, and the giant ape's perception was quite keen; it sensed someone was watching.

Suddenly, it swung a club towards Levi's hiding place.

The wind from the club swept wide, splitting the vast ocean, the secret realm seemed to tremble, somewhat unstable.

Levi pretended to be defeated, hurriedly escaping the secret realm, returning by the same route.

Naturally, the giant ape followed out, its hiding place discovered, by any means, it had to deal with this person.

Returning to the Heart Sea, Levi came to the high heavens.

A water wall ascended from the sea, stretching hundreds of miles, towering ten thousand feet high.

Atop the water wall, the giant ape gripped a bone club, gaze fierce, tusks exposed, extremely ferocious.

Without a word, it rode the wind and waves, harnessing the force of the world, smashing a club towards Levi.

With this strike, Levi looked on in awe, there was already an unspeakable meaning within it.

The ocean parted, exploding thunderously!

Levi's form dissipated, and when it reappeared, it was behind the giant ape.

His form was small, but his presence did not retreat at all.

"Kunpeng Dao!"

What is Kunpeng Dao? When Sky Peng Dao and Sky Whale Dao merge into one, it becomes Kunpeng!

In this state, Levi's power and speed were particularly prominent, shorthand "power and speed double A."

The Doomsday Fist gleamed, blasting towards the giant ape.

The giant ape reacted quickly, blocking with its mountain-sized fist upfront.

Bang!!!

Two monsters' powers clashing, energy shock waves shattered ten thousand tons of seawater, creating a vacuum area dozens of miles round on the sea surface, a circular tsunami spreading outward!

The giant ape, although a Legendary Creature, was still juvenile, with only a level 7 late stage at present.

Faced with Levi, if purely comparing strength, it still fell short.

Its massive form, unsteady, flew backward towards the sea surface.

Since unexpectedly arriving in this world, aside from the Merfolk King chasing it, it had never lost in strength to others.

Levi was the second!

How could it not be astonished?

Out of instinct, the giant ape summoned great waves, supporting its form.

It roared loudly, with a twist of its body, the sea waves turned into armor, covering its entire body.

After exchanging a punch, Levi felt more confident.

He beckoned, laughing boldly:

"Big guy, let's continue!"

This giant ape, in terms of talent and growth potential, was no less than the dragon descendant giant.

Previously that giant Levi couldn't kill.

This big guy, he must subjugate it, as a long-term partner and combat technique sparring companion.

Of course, the giant ape was not resigned, what excellence does this human possess, that strength is above its own?

It engulfed millions of tons of seawater, relying on the force of surging waves to bolster itself.

And then, its bone club tore through the Sky Dome, leaving a pitch-black spatial rift.

Boom!

This strike sealed space, splitting Mount Hua, with indeed the majesty of Creation!

"Good coming!"

Levi's Extreme Dao Strategy was in full swing.

Sometimes a Kunpeng, sometimes a Dragon Whale, sometimes a Dragon Snake... infinite variations with a single thought.

Effortlessly, he caught the giant ape's fierce club method.

"Hahahahaha!"

Watching his Extreme Dao Strategy proficiency increase again, Levi was absolutely exhilarated.

The giant ape seemed to find an equal opponent, and not long after, it had already engaged Levi in hundreds of rounds.

Its endurance was less than Levi's, but relying on seawater, it was still sustained, as if drawing strength from it.

It was repeatedly sent flying by Levi, yet flew back again and again, defiantly.

Then, using its somewhat immature club methods, it opposed Levi's masterful combat skills.

No matter how it changed moves, Levi could calmly respond.

Levi too was fighting in high spirits, proclaiming satisfaction.

"Next, I will start to be serious!"

He drew out the greatsword, slashed forth a blade, chaotic sword energy like a white pillar, flew the giant ape's bone club, cracking its tiger mouth.

This bone club was also a crude rare treasure, presumably made from the bones of some level 8 creature, and was incredibly sturdy, not broken.

With a gesture from the giant ape, the bone club flew back, churning the seawater.

At this moment, within several hundred miles around, seawater and even space formed a vortex, the void stagnated.

Unable to dodge, Levi instantly felt extreme difficulty, as if about to be crushed by pressure.

Layer upon layer of defensive fields shattered, internal bones crackled, golden scales taut, seemingly about to burst open at any moment!

Obviously, as a Legendary-level creature, the spell-like abilities it grasped were naturally immensely powerful.

"Okay, I'll use magic too!"

Levi no longer held back, this battle was enough, after subjugating it, would slowly fight back at home.

Boom!!!

The sea surface was illuminated by nine-colored divine light, forming a nine-colored ocean!

The Thunder Emperor clad in nine-colored armor, wielding the Emperor's Sword, had a demeanor of authority.

The three-thousand-meter-high figure, like the Gods, was no less than the giant ape.

The giant ape, seeing this, guzzled the surrounding seawater like a whale, water dragons flew into its mouth.

Its already three-thousand-meter figure suddenly began to expand again.

Reaching four thousand meters, surpassing the Nine-colored Emperor in height, it pridefully looked at Levi.

"Interesting, but I wonder if you can withstand this move."

Even more powerful chaotic sword energy, swept grandly away!

On either side, innate spells like Fire Dragon Tribulation, Ice Dragon Prison paved the way!

Four water giant spiritual weapons leapt from the sea, each a thousand meters high.

Between heaven and earth, the sea wind formed Maya's Spirit.

The Red Emperor Domain opened, instantly evaporating the sea surface, the seabed turning to magma.

Stacking methods like the Undying Divine Domain dazzled the giant ape.

Levi's hand seal changed, chanting words.

Seven suns emitting destructive aura appeared above the giant ape.

"You, creature, can be proud, I haven't used this much power in a long time."

At this moment, the giant ape finally realized the seriousness of the problem.

This man, earlier was playing with it...

Boom!!!

Seven blue suns exploded, the surface armor of seawater on the giant ape shattered instantly, flesh charred, poison fire ravaged.

Amidst the flames, Levi's Doomsday Fist shone brilliantly, landing an Upper Hook Sky-splitting Fist on the giant ape's jaw.

The giant ape's massive form flew out.

The shock wave shredded the Wind Disaster Stratum, the giant ape crashed into the summit of the Dark Ancient Tower full of spell runes.

The Nine-colored Emperor manifested the void, pinning the giant ape against the wall, overpowering the strong.

Levi raised his right hand, Heaven and Earth Destruction Fist brewed again.

"Do you yield to me?"

Chapter 2145: Grand Battle Level 8!(Large - Request for Monthly Ticket and Subscription)

Feeling the real threat of death, the giant ape, silent for a long time, suddenly spoke:

"I am willing to submit to you, but with one condition: you must teach me your combat techniques and fighting skills, or else just kill me."

It has been proud all its life, and even when facing the threat of death, it doesn't want to plead easily.

As a legendary creature, it naturally has its pride and dignity.

The reason it submitted to Levi was that this person, with a realm lower than its own, defeated it on this vast sea, which was indeed extraordinary.

Moreover, it greatly admired Levi's combat techniques and was eager to learn them.

Levi pondered silently.

This giant ape, inherently arrogant, even if it submits to him now, is unreliable, yet it dares to negotiate conditions with him.

It is not from the Dragon Clan, and as a legendary creature, Levi's Dragon's Might has little effect on it, instead, it arouses its ferocity.

Simply using Crimson Enslavement to control it, to prevent future troubles.

Currently, he has 10 slots for enslavement, with two still vacant, which is sufficient.

He also considered using Excalibur, but given that it is a legendary creature, its methods are not comparable to ordinary wizards.

He extended his hand, the power of the Scarlet Dragon transformed into a long spear, coalescing and piercing towards the giant ape.

The giant ape struggled desperately, fully unleashing the Nine-colored Emperor state, firmly pinning it down.

The Emperor's Sword broke through everything, directly penetrating its scapula, nailing it into the void.

Once the Crimson Enslavement took effect, the giant ape stopped moving.

Its arms drooped, the arrogant aura of invincibility eventually dissipated.

"Master."

Levi stretched out his palm, the power of the Death Ember Dragon transformed into a river, pouring into the chest of the giant ape.

The blood gushing wound began to heal and repair in an instant.

After reaching Level 7, Levi's healing ability also improved significantly.

Previously, healing this Level 7 giant ape would have consumed a lot of energy and wouldn't have achieved the current effect.

Levi murmured inwardly.

"Indeed, Crimson Enslavement is most reassuring for me."

He asked:

"What is your true name?"

The giant ape replied:

"My true name is Lopez, my hometown is in Terranis World, a hundred years ago, my homeland suffered an Abyss invasion, in a month it completely fell, turned into a devil's den, I was pursued by several Level 8 demon lords, fled to the Land of Darkness, only then got out of trouble, drifted in the Land of Darkness for decades, and then was sucked into this mysterious ancient tower, landing in this realm, famished, I hid in this endless sea, feeding on small insects, and then was hunted by the Merfolk King leader, hiding in the secret realm to study combat techniques diligently, hoping to succeed soon, so I can seek revenge on the Merfolk King..."

This giant ape told Levi in detail about its experiences and abilities.

Hearing this, Levi thought, although the [Water Disaster Giant Ape] is an ominous beast, but this guy is indeed a pitiful creature.

"Forget it, when I have sufficient strength and confidence, and can suppress this arrogant giant ape, I might as well release the Crimson Enslavement and replace it with an ordinary contract method."

The Terranis World where the giant ape comes from, Levi had never heard of.

But being destroyed by demons in a month, it surely wasn't a large civilization, but it wouldn't be too weak either, probably around Level 9.

He asked:

"Who taught you your combat skills?"

Lopez replied:

"Master, my combat skills are self-taught."

Levi smiled slightly.

"If you want to learn combat techniques, I will teach you, today I will demonstrate the 'Ape King Battle Manual', which is most suitable for a giant ape like you, created by a friend of mine. After I bring you out of this place, you can seek his guidance."

This 'Ape King Battle Manual' was naturally created by Emperor Mu.

It was modified and comprehended by Emperor Mu based on the previous Barbarian King Battle Skill.

Lopez said joyfully:

"Thank you, Master."

Levi said:

"Once you master the 'Ape King Battle Manual', I will then pass on to you some more profound and mysterious combat techniques."

This Lopez, with immense strength and a wild and unruly personality, is most suitable for practicing the 'Warlord Catalog' of the Sky Badger Barbarian King.

The 'Warlord Catalog', Levi innovated and revised somewhat on the original basis. Compared to the previous version, it is even more powerful.

If Lopez can train to the Ninth Layer, with its foundation, it can easily rival the top geniuses among the seven-circle perfect wizards in the Wizard World.

After all, it doesn't possess the bloodline of any legendary creature, it is a true juvenile legendary creature.

In the future, it will be an existence on the same level as the Ash Dragon and Alexandra's father!

At that time, it will surely become the temple guardian beast of the Dusk Holy Temple, the first Guardian of the Ancient Dragon Continent!

"Thank you, Master! Lopez will definitely train diligently."

After Lopez's injuries mostly recovered, Levi sat on its shoulder.

Lopez is a water-god ape, similar to the mythical Wuzhiqi from the past life, especially adept at moving through the water.

It transformed into an elusive stream of water, enveloping Levi within, akin to the "Water Escape" from the past life. With a speed that even Levi marveled at, they entered a magical world.

In this world, it was pitch black, seemingly without any sense of direction. Raging rivers, oceans, creeks, and mountain springs formed a dense water network.

Lopez said:

"Master, this is the [Dark Water Dimension], I can freely enter and exit here, traveling smoothly, through these water systems, anywhere in the world, with incredible speed."

This [Dark Water Dimension] is similar to the [Shadow Dimension], [Scarlet Dark Dimension], and the Goddess Knight's [Aurora Dimension]. They are all special dimensions mastered by powerful creatures.

Chapter 2146: Battle at Level 8!

Levi said:

"Go south."

He needed to head to the Giant Beast Restricted Area and have a meeting with the Spider King.

He still had the pure-blood dragon corpse from the golden prince's storage ring on his mind.

Also, the Wind Dust Dragon, which had consumed the level 9 Wind Illusion Dragon bloodline crystal, must be brought back.

If this Wind Dust Dragon were successfully refined, its future would be limitless.

Even if it cannot transform into a Wind Illusion Dragon and return to the ninth level realm.

It can still become the strongest sub-dragon under level 9, like the Black Lotus Beast.

It would be quite useful for cultivating the Sky Dragon Breathing Technique.

...

Nora.

Human realm.

Outer sea region.

As time passed, the once desolate outer sea now had hundreds of continents.

The larger ones, with areas comparable to the Mortal Continent, perhaps even vaster.

The smaller ones, only spanning a few tens of thousands of miles, in comparison to the boundless ocean, could only be considered islands.

On this day, some tens of thousands of miles west of the Ancient Dragon Continent, an earth-shattering rumble suddenly sounded.

The sea level of the outer sea inexplicably rose by a significant amount.

Typically, the sea level's rise reflects the size of the new continent.

Most of the new continents only alter slightly, not so prominently.

Clearly, this newly descended continent is entirely different from the past.

The Ancient Dragon Continent's observation station, being closest, sensed the anomaly first.

Before long, Triss and Hundred Flowers appeared here.

Looking at the continent ahead, the sight of ravines and barrenness gave the illusion of being on the God-forsaken Continent.

From one of the rifts, a pitch-black, armored insect, tens of meters long, emerged, exuding a level 6 aura.

The creature, upon seeing Triss and her companion, showed no fear, buzzing as it charged towards them.

Triss manifested the Wizard's Hand, squeezing it tightly.

The creature viciously gnawed at the energy comprising the Wizard's Hand spell.

Triss scowled and killed it.

"This Zerg is so fierce. I have seen many Zerg, but rarely one so fierce."

Elena said:

"Sister, I seem to recall Levi mentioning this; it seems quite dangerous..."

She briefly described the terror bug situation to Triss.

Triss looked grave.

"This creature, could it be so terrifying?"

A mighty civilization with level 9 experts crumbling in an instant, it's hard to imagine.

Given the gravity, the two immediately reported the new continent's emergence to the Black Abyss Walker, mentioning the discovery of some kind of dangerous insectoid creature.

This plane landed right near the Ancient Dragon Continent; how could they not worry?

Black Abyss Tower.

The Black Abyss Walker, upon hearing this, also looked troubled.

At his realm, having such an expression attests to knowing the danger of such creatures.

After all, the culprit behind his mentor, the Deep Blue Sage's forced suicide, was tied to these creatures.

He promptly used his Great Councilman's authority to report the matter to the Supreme Council's legendary wizards.

Triss and Elena anxiously waited.

Not much later, a middle-aged wizard with a heroic stature, donning a Red Flame Witch Robe, appeared.

He stood there as if he was the world's center, even the scorching sun above paled in comparison.

Triss, taking a sharp breath, quickly said:

"Greetings, Grand Council Chairman!"

Elena was equally shaken inside. This matter actually alarmed the Grand Council Chairman, indicating its significance.

The middle-aged wizard had a smiling face, seeming approachable.

Yet beneath this amiability lay an undeniable, one-of-a-kind domineering dignity!

Edmund asked:

"Did you two discover this place first?"

Triss replied:

"Yes, we were nearby on the Ancient Dragon Continent, felt the sea's vibration, and arrived immediately."

Edmund said:

"Well done, but this place is dangerous; watch out for your Ancient Dragon Continent next and strengthen defenses."

Behind Edmund, the Survivor of the Vast Sea, Hand of Netherworld Prison, Hand of Creation, and other legendary wizards manifested.

They all looked solemnly at this continent.

Black Abyss Walker appeared and said to Triss:

"You two should leave now."

Knowing significant events were looming, Triss and Elena obediently departed.

Edmund said:

"These creatures from the new continent resemble the dark swarm specimens we've collected; I'm sure there's a connection. Now the dark swarm's leader is dueling with the Heavenly Father in the astral world, unable to attend to other matters. Do you think we should annihilate these creatures along with the new continent, or temporarily contain them for research?"

Survivor of the Vast Sea said:

"Judging from the Deep Blue Sage's final messages, the dark swarm is extremely terrifying, especially the mother nest's will, nearly omnipotent. Even if Sauron were alive, he might not handle it easily; at least it matches the Abyss Will's level of supreme existence. Keeping it might attract the mother nest's will and bring Wizard World an annihilation catastrophe. We've already struggled contending with only a portion of the Abyss's forces. Might as well completely annihilate this place."

Edmund turned to Hand of Creation Rowling and asked:

"Lady Rowling, what do you think? After all, your legendary profession concerns life, you might have some insights?"

Rowling replied:

Chapter 2147: Great Battle Against Level 8!

"I think we can keep it. For one, from the intelligence we have, even though the mother nest's will is strong, it is now besieged by the joint forces of the Heavenly Father, especially with the Lord of Chaos and the resurrected Ancient Star Gods. None of them are easy foes, so this battle might stretch on for millennia.

During this time, we can dissect and study these creatures, preparing our countermeasures in advance. We cannot place all our hopes on the Heavenly Father.

Given the traits of the Dark Insects, if we use a conventional war of attrition, we stand no chance against them. Only if we can research a virus medicine against these insects and engage in biochemical warfare will we have a sliver of hope. And this, is precisely my strength."

The Hand of Netherworld Prison said:

"I think both of you have valid points, but everyone must have sensed that beneath this New World, there seems to be the breath of civilization, and it is the Humans. The Humans in this New World have managed to survive under the onslaught of creatures, they must have some unique traits. If we study them, perhaps we might also discover something."

The projection of the Frost Witch quietly appeared; her true self was still engaged in a struggle with powerful Abyss beings, unable to find respite.

She said:

"Why not use the treasure left by Sauron to first isolate this place with the Pen of the Mortal World? With Sauron's means, the mother nest's will likely won't notice this side. But personally, I feel that eventually, we will face the Dark Insects. The present Nora is not what it used to be; it has become one of the centers of the Multidimensional Plane. In the Land of Darkness, it's like the most conspicuous bonfire smoke, hiding is not an option."

One by one, the Legendary Wizards expressed their opinions, and the decision to temporarily keep it prevailed with the majority.

The Black Abyss Walker sighed inwardly.

"Such calamity and hardship..."

Since the end of the Ancient Age, the wizard civilization has never faced such dark and despairing times.

The Council of Ten Thousand Clans, Abyss Demons, and the unknown outbreak of the Dark Insects—each one is like a heavy mountain looming overhead.

Edmund said:

"Alright, let's isolate this place for now. Next, Lady Rowling shall establish the Insect Affairs Department, recruit suitable personnel, and conduct targeted research on the insects. The task of pioneering this continent will also be handed over to Lady Rowling."

The area of this New World is the largest among the continents converged thus far, and it surely has great development value.

The Frost Witch said:

"The Ancient Dragon Continent is too close to this one, to prevent any unexpected outbreaks from affecting it, Black Abyss Walker, keep a closer eye on the Ancient Dragon Continent." .c

The Black Abyss Walker said:

"I understand."

After the leaders hurriedly convened their meeting, they began executing their plans intensively.

Days later.

Lady Rowling held a brush that exuded an ancient aura, reminiscent of the calligraphy brush from Levi's former world.

Just like the Eye of Sauron, this was one of the numerous treasures Sauron left before his disappearance, known as the Pen of the Mortal World.

After the ancient wars among the Heavenly Father ended, Nora was left scarred and darkly corroded.

Sauron founded the Wizard Council, reconciled with the Heavenly Father, and ventured into the sub-dimensional portal.

The ancestors of the Cave Wizards, a small faction of ancient wizards refusing Sauron's leadership, were unwilling to enter and obstructed the establishment of the Wizard Council.

Sauron used this pen, with Divine Power as ink, to encircle the current Mortal Continent, protecting it from dark corrosion and the Cave Wizards' pollution.

Thus, the group following Sauron and those staying on the God-forsaken Continent began developing like parallel lines.

Three hundred thousand years later, the gap between them became evident.

Now, the Legendary Wizards of the Supreme Council will use this pen to temporarily isolate the New World, making it one of the experimental grounds of the wizard civilization until a weapon against the Dark Insects is developed.

One by one, the legendary and grand wizards concentrated their Strength into the brush held by Lady Rowling.

She raised the brush with her delicate hands, and behind her, the illusion of an unimaginably vast giant tree appeared.

"Wielding my brush, I seal this realm!"

The tip of the brush drew a circle.

An invisible defensive field surfaced along the seas surrounding the New World, forming a massive shield that conceals it.

Rowling addressed her subordinates:

"From today onward, I will guard this place. Furthermore, we will publicly recruit wizard talents from various fields such as Life Science, Monster Studies, Spirit Communication Studies... Oh yes, and the School of Insects."

...

Days later.

As the recruitment information was disseminated to various schools and organizations, the wizards sensed an unusual undertone.

It seemed the council was preparing a major move again.

Some dispersed and inconspicuous insect school or small niche school wizards, scattered worldwide, were enticed by the generous recruitment terms and rushed to sign up.

The Ancient Dragon Continent.

The Tower of Dawn.

Though the Ice Phoenix perished, it left behind a spark of the School of Insects. These young wizards saw an opportunity, as the official stances seemed to support the development of the School of Insects. The organization urged these youths to seize their chance, grasping the favorable policy directions of the moment. Leveraging the official power might allow such a declining school to resurrect. Without it, relying solely on civilian power or the natural order of survival of the fittest would inevitably lead such niche schools to extinction.

Soon afterwards.

The council commenced pioneering the New World, with a battle group of wizards besieging or containing the creatures in the underground world. During this process, they discovered a profession called Bug Luminist. This group, surviving the lightless depths, would have faced extinction if not discovered by the council.

Chapter 2148: Battle at Level 8!

Subsequently, a series of new discoveries began.

The council discovered that the Bug Luminists, through long-lasting struggles, gradually explored a method of using creatures to fight other creatures.

They utilized the power of these creatures, treating it as a totem, through which they could strengthen their bodies, gain magical abilities, and further confront the creatures.

This method, compared to the School of Insects and the School of Spiritualism, has its pros and cons. If the advantages and disadvantages of the three methods can be complemented through research, it might be possible to find a path for the rise of the School of Spiritualism or the School of Insects. Utilizing the power of these creatures to quickly form an effective battle group to fight against the Abyss Demons is not a bad idea.

Moreover, in further research, the council also discovered the sealed-off relics of the Arcanists and learned that these Bug Luminists were indeed the descendants of another spellcasting profession, the Arcanists, although the Arcane civilization had already perished.

At this time, the council realized that the group of Arcanists rescued from the Land of Darkness by the Ancient Dragon Continent was the last spark.

Under the organization of the council and the Tower of Dawn, a batch of Arcanists from the Arcane Academy launched further archaeological investigations on the Aus Continent.

For the council, the most important discovery was an extremely important potion possessed by the Bug Luminists:

Purification Elixir!

This potion is even more powerful than the current stage purification elixir of the wizard civilization.

Research discovered that the Purification Elixir could also purify the corrosive power of the black beasts from the Land of Darkness.

The key lies in a miraculous fruit called [Saint Fruit].

The vast Land of Darkness is filled with endless black beasts.

If it can be developed and utilized, it would be of great use for the upcoming Blood Battle and the confrontation with the Council of Ten Thousand Clans.

Manufacturing Wizard Tools, arrays, and medicine could reduce a considerable amount of military spending and compensate for resource losses.

The Wizard Council specifically selected talents from various professions in several New Worlds to begin cultivating Saint Fruit.

Other than the Purification Elixir, much of the knowledge and experience in combating creatures possessed by the Bug Luminists is also invaluable.

Levi, in the Dark Ancient Tower, also learned of the emergence of the New World through the Hundred Flowers.

"That day has finally arrived; from now on, the black beasts of the Land of Darkness are likely to suffer..."

He murmured to himself.

For him, it's both a joy and a concern.

Previously, the black beasts belonged solely to his Blue Ocean.

He planned to make a secret profit for some time until his strength advanced further before submitting the Purification Elixir to the council to benefit the wizard civilization.

Now that the Aus Continent has been integrated into Nora, the Purification Elixir is obviously not a secret anymore.

However, Levi came to terms with it. He had almost completed his initial accumulation, and with civilization in a crisis, the bigger picture mattered most.

"With the power of the council intervening in the Aus Continent, it's only a matter of time before those terror bugs are eliminated. If a method to combat the insects can be developed, it would be a good thing."

He had witnessed firsthand the terror of the insects.

"The addition of the Bug Luminists might create a new transcendent system in the Wizard World, allowing more people to embark on the path of the transcendent and become a power against the Abyss."

"With the deepening process of the great plane convergence, the future Nora might become a flourishing scene dominated by wizard civilization coexisting with various transcendent systems, which is quite an expectation."

Levi no longer pondered these matters; he had now arrived at the Giant Beast Restricted Area.

"In this operation, I will play with the Dragon Form with that Spider King, to prevent it from causing trouble for the Humans in Rune Land."

From the memories of the golden prince, he also learned of the slumbering place of the Wind Dust Dragon.

He let Lopez temporarily hide in a large river within the restricted area.

After concealing himself, he first went to subdue the Wind Dust Dragon and then caused a ruckus in the restricted area to probe the strength of that Spider King.

Several days later.

In a barren desert.

Levi easily found the Wind Dust Dragon, which had been in slumber for a hundred years without showing any signs of awakening.

The Wind Dust Dragon had an elongated body resembling a Feathered Serpent with four legs, curled up within a massive blood-colored crystal.

Perhaps due to refining the bloodline crystal, there seemed to be faint traces of a Wind Illusion Dragon, with auspicious clouds swirling around its body, exuding immortal aura.

"This Wind Dust Dragon has not been discovered by the Spider King yet, which spares me a lot of trouble."

Levi, without a second thought, directly took the Wind Dust Dragon away, a significant gain yet again.

The Heavenly King Dragon Breathing Skill's cultivation has now found a direction.

Previously, he had been using the bloodline essence extracted from the deceased [Wind-shaped Dragon] and Wind Thunder Winged Dragon Raja.

Having resolved one matter of concern, Levi let Lopez rampage within the Giant Beast Restricted Area.

Meanwhile, he hid near Lopez, scavenging bodies and fishing for enforcement, observing how the Spider King would respond.

Lopez's strength was sufficient to escape from under the Merfolk King's hand, so self-preservation within the Giant Beast Restricted Area was assured.

Furthermore, in the past hundred years, Levi had also been researching the Spider King's duplication and had made some progress.

Even when facing the true form of the Spider King, he was confident in retreating safely with Lopez.

...

In the core of the restricted area.

The Star-devouring Spider King, through its spies, had already found that a giant beast had intruded into the restricted area, wreaking havoc everywhere.

"Such a formidable giant beast; this seems to be that giant ape that appeared in the Heart Sea decades ago, unmatched in strength below level 8. Why has it come to my Giant Beast Restricted Area? Could it be the Merfolk King diverting disaster eastward, trying to weaken my power?"

Chapter 2149: Level 8 Battle!

Among the giants of the Three Realms and Four Lands, there is cooperation, but more often there is overt competition and covert maneuvering.

Thus, they are all mutually wary, suspicious, and neighborly relations are not good.

The Spider King is different from the other giants; besides itself, it only has mindless puppets or black beasts, no strategist, no adviser, everything must be figured out by itself.

"Humph, no matter your intentions, I will test you."

The Spider King knew Lopez was formidable, and without hesitation sent out its duplication.

In a certain area of the Giant Beast Restricted Area, there's a black lake full of corpses, reeking of stench.

On this day, the lake water suddenly erupted, and in the mist, hundreds of ten-meter-long tentacles could be vaguely seen, with suction cups full of sharp teeth on the surface.

"Number Two, go tackle the giant ape, if I can make it into a duplication, my strength will advance further."

The Spider King's heart remained like ancient wells, never casually showing itself, always sending duplications, and anyone who had seen its true form was dead.

Number Two is one of its strongest trump cards, its body is the Centipede Giant Demon, a ruler among the Sirens, already at Level 8 Early Stage, with a trace of the Legendary Creature Black Sea Giant Demon's bloodline within.

The Black Sea Giant Demon is a giant beast wandering in the Land of Darkness, possessing countless tentacles that, when expanded, can encircle the world and stir up the heavens and the earth.

The Centipede Giant Demon, like a giant mountain, broke through the void, and all beasts fled, causing unrest in the restricted area.

...

Lopez wielded bone clubs, sweeping across armies, employing a bit of skin-deep knowledge of the "Lion King Battle Technique" just recently learned.

Levi realized he'd truly found a treasure. Lopez's combat skill talent was no less than the 18 Twilight Cavalry. With cultivation, he would surely become a mighty general on the battlefield.

Rumble! Rumble!

Suddenly, the sky and the earth cracked into countless fissures abruptly.

Thick tentacles surrounded from all directions, attacking Lopez.

Lopez had long been waiting and was utterly fearless. He shouted, surrounded by flowing water armor on the surface, wielded a bone club, and fiercely smashed!

He could feel the enemy's strength, but he was indeed a Legendary level creature! This Centipede Giant Demon merely had some legendary creature's bloodline.

"Here it comes, this fellow indeed possesses an eighth-level black beast duplication, and its ability is quite formidable, surprisingly part of the Siren clan."

Levi hid in the distance, not engaging yet, letting Lopez first test the strength of the Spider King's duplication.

The Level 6 Sea Demon Paul he caught on the Fourth Layer could only be seen as a little brother in front of this Centipede Sea Demon.

Centipede Giant Demon and Paul are two types of creatures, but both belong to the Siren clan.

Levi speculated internally, if he could subdue it, perhaps his Sea Demon Knight Order could advance further.

Currently, the Sea Demon Song Battle Group is limited by the Siren bloodline, at most rank five, previous knights attempting to break through to level six, failed.

"Excellent, the spider king here, all good stuff, I'm growing increasingly expectant."

Lopez and the Centipede Giant Demon had not fought many rounds before falling into the downside.

In the face of the dense attack of tentacles, he was truly unable to resist, not to mention the realm suppression was too great.

Suddenly, the wilderness began to tremble, and the land over a hundred miles cracked.

From the crevices, red light emerged, fire pillars shot to the sky, and magma flowed out.

Accompanied by terrifying roars, a Sea of Red Flames covering forty miles rose.

From the magma beneath the earth, strong red dragon claws extended.

"Roar!"

A giant dragon with a wing span of three kilometers, robust in form, stout in limbs, covered in menacing crimson scales, descended.

"Dare to disturb my slumber, you are seeking your own demise!"

The dragon appeared only at Level 7 Middle Stage, yet the vastness of its aura made heaven and earth change color.

A surging dragon breath shot out like the eruption of a doomsday volcano, instantly blasting into one of the giant demon's tentacles, explosion swept, tentacles instantly bloodied and almost scorched off. It hurriedly retracted, and at the same time, the void cracked, a lightning-fast tentacle crossed space, and struck the dragon's back!

Boom!

The dragon was struck heavily, fell to the earth, its scales torn, but recovered in an instant.

"This giant demon's power compared to that eighth-level thunder elemental spirit is still lacking greatly, mediocre in strength, lacks lethality, though its attack is very swift and difficult to dodge, but with my Level 7 Middle Stage Crimson Emperor Dragon Form, plus the Undying Body and other triangles attributes, it's not like I don't have the power to fight, especially with Lopez aiding by the side."

Levi was assured, reopened the Red Emperor Domain, Undying Divine Domain, and many other domains, and with flames, lightning, and other abilities, charged towards the giant demon.

Core area.

Watching Number One getting besieged again by the suddenly appeared giant dragon, the Spider King's heart was aghast.

"There is actually a Level 7 Giant Dragon under my restricted area? Moreover, it seems to be pure-blooded Dragon Clan! What's going on today, consecutively two legendary level creatures appear in my restricted area."

It couldn't comprehend despite thinking thoroughly, only able to watch the changes silently.

Besides Number Two, it still has one Level 8 duplication, but that duplication is currently at the crucial moment of a strength breakthrough and cannot be deployed.

"Even if both are legendary level creatures, so what, the realm gap is here, Number Two, swiftly take them down!"

On the other side.

The dragon and the giant ape one intertwined with thunder fire, the other overturning the seas, the energy unleashed from each move and gesture was unimaginable.

Chapter 2150: Battle at Level 8!

Where the battle passed, the earth shattered and mountains crumbled; all life perished, and the skies tore asunder.

Let alone ordinary black beasts, even the black beast lord wouldn't last long if caught in the battle, being torn to shreds by the terrifying onslaught. After advancing to the Level 7 Middle Stage, Levi can now transform into the Crimson Emperor Dragon for a much longer time, making half-day battles no problem. Fighting against an Eight-Level Giant Demon now, without the need to be cautious, he can fully unleash his strength, enjoying the battle thoroughly.

The giant ape's bone clubs swung mightily, stirring rivers, and each strike could carve a canyon stretching hundreds of miles in the earth. The battlefield spanned thousands of miles around.

Heavenly thunder, underground fire, floods raged, and tentacles danced wildly between heaven and earth, indeed a scene of apocalypse.

After hundreds of rounds.

The giant demon's tentacles were severely scarred, several even severed, still writhing on the ground.

The Crimson Emperor Dragon was also bloodied, but fortunately, after Levi's Death Ember Dragon reached Level 7, his self-healing ability became unimaginably monstrous, plus the endurance of the Sky King Dragon, keeping him in peak condition at all times.

In the Spider King's view, he saw the red giant dragon fearlessly attacking Number Two, exchanging injury for injury. The most absurd thing was that Number Two's injuries were real—missing limbs—while the red giant dragon could instantly heal from any grave wound and then leap back energetically... The Spider King, despite his vast experience, had never seen such a giant dragon. Even a Mythical-level dragon in its juvenile form couldn't be this freakish, could it?

"No, we have to pull back. If this continues, Number Two might get worn down to death—it would not be worth even if we take them both down."

The Spider King immediately ordered Number Two to retreat, intending to disengage.

On the battlefield.

Seeing the giant demon about to leave, Levi had already prepared Silver Mountain Skyfall and the Wind Illusion Realm to descend.

The giant demon released endless black ink, and in an instant, day turned to night, casting the land into chaos.

When clarity returned to the world, Levi noticed that his sealing barrier had a large hole in it. The giant demon had already made its escape.

After all, as a Level 8 powerhouse, it would be too difficult to stop it if it was determined to flee.

Levi looked at the scattered tentacles, collected them with delight, and sneaked underground. Lopez turned into water flow and dissipated into the world.

From that battle, Levi felt that working with Lopez, they were already able to contend with a Level 8 force directly.

For the sake of caution, they decided not to delve any deeper this time.

Next century, once he progresses further to Seven Rings Perfection, he plans to venture deep into the forbidden zone with Lopez to face the Spider King and flatten the area.

At the core of the forbidden zone.

The Spider King watched as one-third of the Centipede Giant Demon's tentacles were gone, his heart bleeding.

Though the tentacles could grow back, it would take a considerable amount of time.

"These giant dragon and giant ape are in cahoots, aiming to take me down. How could there be such coincidences in the world? Someone in the Three Realms and Four Lands must be pulling the strings."

After driving away the Level 8 black beast, Levi frequently transformed into the Crimson Emperor Dragon and, alongside Lopez, hunted black beasts on the outskirts of the Giant Beast Restricted Area, probing the Spider King.

Unexpectedly, after the previous setback, the Spider King seemed to have lowered his flag and stopped sending duplicates, choosing to let Levi have his way.

Levi was quite pleased with this, went on a spree of black beast slaughter, causing chaos on the outskirts of the forbidden zone.

One day.

A twelve-winged black beast centipede was pinned to the ground by a massive claw, unable to move.

Though it was a centipede, its body was covered in dragon scales, its head was dragon-shaped, exuding Dragon's Might, surrounded by black water, remarkably majestic.

"Not bad, another six-level sub-dragon."

This sub-dragon, scientifically named the Twelve-winged Black Water Dragon Centipede, although a centipede, carried the bloodline of a Legendary Dragon Race.

Moreover, this bloodline was the same as that within the Ten-Winged Sky Sea Dragon King.

Levi had an idea to extract the bloodline crystal within this dragon centipede to refine an evolution potion for spiritual beasts.

Giving Melina, the head of Giant Beast Paradise, a chance to advance to Level 6.

Melina had long been at Fifth-Circle Perfection, yet she rose through spiritual beasts and faltered by them as well.

The Ten-Winged Sky Sea Dragon King's potential had reached its limit; without further advancement, like the Ice Phoenix, she faced an imminent end for herself and her spiritual beast, facing demise together.

With no way to change her spiritual beast, she had but one path left—advance the Ten-Winged Sky Sea Dragon King!

Though Melina's cultivation was not high, she devoted herself wholeheartedly to Giant Beast Paradise, nurturing many talents and contributing significantly to the breeding of transcendent creatures on Ancient Dragon Continent. Within his capacity, Levi decided he would lend a hand.

A month later, after hunting many black beasts in the Giant Beast Restricted Area and gathering numerous resources, Levi and the giant ape decided to call it a day as the ancient tower was about to close, and they left leisurely.

...

Back in the Burning Rock World.

Levi established it as a stronghold, bringing along Lopez, Black Phoenix, Fire Breathing Dragon, and his Shadow Dragon Group to the Land of Darkness to hunt black beasts.

With Nine-leaf Blood Datura present, as long as he waited patiently, there would be a constant stream of black beast armies coming towards him.

He seized the opportunity to hone his combat techniques and spells, quickly improving himself.

Isolated from the world, far from the Land of Nora, Levi cultivated in silence, away from worldly concerns, only occasionally conversing with Hundred Flowers through the Twilight Round Table to learn about major events in the Wizard World.

Years passed, and all those black beasts around the Burning Rock World suffered terrible luck.

Levi, like a vengeful celestial body, became a ruthless slaughter machine, soon clearing the surrounding black beasts, living like nomadic tribes, moving along with the black beasts in the Land of Darkness.

In the blink of an eye, ten years had passed.

Year 427 in Nora.

The quality of the Shadow Dragon Group steadily improved, with more and more reaching Level 5 Shadow.

This development was like a snowball rolling, allowing them to kill even more black beasts.

Of course, there were some incidents during this time.

Once, the Nine-leaf Blood Datura attracted a Level 8 Middle Stage Black Beast King.

Fortunately, with Levi's danger perception, he fled hastily with Lopez.

The most perilous moment saw an appearance of a Level 8 Late Stage black beast—equivalent to the leader of a top organization.

No sorcerer activities were present here, the land was vast with few people, so both the density and quality of black beasts far surpassed those near the Nora World.

To Levi, it was like a Land of Peach Blossoms.

He hadn't encountered any Level 9 black beasts, though.

Legendary creatures in the Land of Darkness were like isolated islands, not easily encountered.

One day, Levi was chasing black beasts as usual.

He had gone far from the Burning Rock World, reaching the edge of an unknown medium-sized world.

He intended to browse around, seeking resources to acquire for free.

His eyes narrowed, outside the crystal wall, he saw a spaceship.

Standing on it were several members of the Amethyst Race.

They seemed to be transporting the natives of this world, engaged in some population-raiding activities.

"In the vast universe, what a small world it indeed is. To think I would run into my good brothers. Congratulations to me, Levi, on this serendipitous encounter."
