Chapter 216: Levi's First Spell! (1)

Saint Insect Defending Technique.

It was indeed not simple.

This was a genuine wizard book.

This was what Levi felt when he studied the secret technique these days.

The author of this manual was unknown, but there was no doubt that the author was the Master of the School of Insects that Tuten mentioned.

The contents of this manual were profound. To Levi, it was even more difficult to comprehend than breathing technique inheritance diagrams.

Many of the terms were incomprehensible to those not senior researchers of the School of Insects.

From Levi's perspective, this book was meant for professional wizards.

It was not something that a half-wizard like him could comprehend quickly.

"I picked up a treasure."

Levi was overjoyed.

As for the other contents, Levi was still unable to comprehend them.

However, there was no problem with the Saint Scorpions.

After all, if the Scorpion Family could understand it, he would have no problem with it.

According to the classification of all the different insects in the multi-dimensional planes, the insects in the world could be divided into three classes.

High -grade insects often come from multi-dimensional planes. They were powerful, and wizards did not dare to provoke them easily. If too many of these insects existed, it would be the most terrifying insect plague in the world.

Even wizards had to avoid them.

Middle-grade insects were also relatively rare. Many of them were hybrids of the visitors from the multi-dimensional planes and the insects of this world.

As for the low-grade insects, they were some ancient insects of this world, such as Saint Scorpions.

It was a relatively famous poisonous insect.

The Saint Scorpions itself was a highly poisonous creature in the world.

The Man-Faced Spider Tears that Levi had refined required the poison of the Saint Scorpions.

However, the Saint Scorpions's most vital point was that its shell was tough and impenetrable. It could even bite the black gas and even devour souls.

If these poisonous insects devoured souls, there was a slight chance they would evolve their life level.

It was possible to evolve from a low-grade insect to a medium-grade or even a high-grade insect.

Of course, this required a long nurturing process.

Generally speaking, no wizard would do such an extra thing.

This was because a single Saint Scorpions's strength was limited.

A large group of Saint Scorpions was required to form considerable power.

If he wanted to nurture a large group of evolved Saint Scorpions, the time, energy, material, and financial resources needed were unimaginable.

Therefore, the School of Insects wizards preferred to cultivate high-grade insects directly.

"It doesn't matter. I'm patient anyway."

After Levi saw it, he felt that this Saint Insect Defending Technique was not simple.

It was also very suitable for him.

If one day, he could use the proficiency panel to nurture thousands of evolved Saint Scorpions, then with a wave of his hand, the army of scorpions would cover the sky and devour everything.

This would be a living natural disaster.

"Not bad."

Levi was comprehending the Saint Insect Defending Technique.

The bag used to store the Saint Scorpions was called: Bug House.

To a certain extent, the Bug House was also a Wizard Tool.

Moreover, it was a spatial magic tool similar to the Bag of Gluttony. However, the Bag of Gluttony was a creation of the School of Death.

The Bug House was a creation of the School of Insects.

This kind of Wizard Tool only had one use.

To become the little pets of the wizards of the School of Insects.

Of course, the Bug House was of a higher grade than the Bag of Gluttony.

This was because the Bug House could also be used to store other things, as long as one did not worry about the items being eaten by the bugs.

"Interesting. It's like I have two storage items. No matter what, the Bug House is more reliable than the Bag of Gluttony. I can put my important things in the Bug House. I must ensure that the poisonous bugs I put in won't devour the things in the bag," Levi was delighted.

Currently, there were more than a hundred Saint Scorpions in the Bug House.

The opening of the Bug House required a mantra, and Levi had already memorized it.

Levi placed his essential things in the Bug House, such as hammers and a large amount of gold.

Saint Scorpions ate flesh and souls, not metals, so they would not be eaten.

At the same time, Levi took a Saint Scorpion from the Bug House and placed it in his palm.

He used black gas to grab the Saint Scorpion, and it kept struggling in his hand.

It also used its sharp mouth to gnaw at Levi's black gas defense.

"So powerful. What is this mouth made of? A knife can't cut my black scales, but this mouthpart can bite. Although it can only bite a little, it will be very terrifying if it bites a lot."

Levi looked at the poisonous insects curiously.

He planned to try the Saint Insect Defending Technique's method of controlling the Saint Scorpions.

There were two ways to control Saint Scorpions.

The first method was the Blood Defense Technique. Simply put, it was to continuously feed his blood to the Saint Scorpions once a day. The advantage of this method was that it would take effect faster, but the disadvantage was that it would harm the body. Moreover, as the number of Saint Scorpions increased, it was evident that feeding them with his blood was impossible every day. In any case, Levi would not do this. Over time, it would harm his body, and the gains would not compensate for the losses.

Scorpion Family used this simple method to control the Saint Scorpions.

Levi planned to use the second method, Divine Obstruction.

As the name suggested, it was a technique that used one's spiritual force to control the Saint Scorpions.

This was the most authentic way to control it. After all, wizards cultivated spiritual power, the most suitable way to control it..
