Chapter 2251: Across the Three Realms and Four Lands, None Can Rival Me!

When all the level six experts of the Thunder Marsh Clan swore before the Excalibur, the Great Prince suddenly felt emotional.

"The old era is over. From today, the glory of the Three Realms and Four Lands shall be no more."

"Humans rise from this point, the Saint Roland Continent welcomes a new epoch."

Levi arrived at the Thunder Marsh Temple.

The Thunder King reluctantly began ordering the demolition.

Levi felt a sense of satisfaction in his heart.

"With Ten Thousand Year Thunder Pattern Wood in hand, the wizard towers oddity materials have been collected, including [Thunder Pattern Wood], [Nightmare Wood], [Rock Transformation Wood]... When the Crimson Emperor Dragon Breathing Technique reaches level 8, Ill head to the Heart Sea to retrieve the [Soaking Water Wood] left by Sauron myself. Having these four Strange Woods, the main framework of the wizard tower can start being refined. The remaining oddities can be added slowly later."

The Ten Thousand Year Divine Wood, Levi plans to sell it when in urgent need of money.

Or perhaps keep it in the Tower of Dawn as an ancestral treasure.

Lastly, Levi, following custom, inspected the storage space of the clans experts and confiscated a portion.

Levi has been quite merciful to these alien races.

If he were a bit more ruthless, he could have exterminated them all or reduced them to slavery, seizing all resources.

The reason he keeps these alien races is mainly for sustainable development.

To let these alien races, generation after generation, gather resources within the ancient tower for him, and shelter the Rune Land Humans as they grow.

Additionally, during the Blood Battle, these alien races serve as a good source of military reinforcement.

This time, upon leaving, he plans to bring out a batch from each alien race to the Ancient Dragon Continent to breed and expand.

Whether its the Thunder Marsh Clan, the Feathered People, or the Flame Clan, they are inherently powerful groups.

Their drawback is the difficulty in reproduction, the population is hard to increase, but they can all become soldiers.

...

Ten Thousand Thunder Lake.

The Thunderbolt Destroyer, Spaton, was sleeping.

Inhaling and exhaling the endless elemental power of thunder with each breath.

As the absolute overlord of this area, its days are dull and boring.

The only blemish is being robbed of its accompanying oddity by a damn foreigner two hundred years ago.

This has made its growth slightly slower than before.

But the impact is minimal. This Thunder Lake can only support one level 8 thunder elemental spirit.

Coupled with the level restrictions of this world.

It doesn't expect to reach level 9 here. For the rest of its long lifespan, it can idly spend its days.

"Big guy, I'm back again."

The Thunderbolt Destroyer seemed to hear a familiar voice.

The figure from its memory appeared once more before it.

"Despicable foreigner!"

The Thunderbolt Destroyer immediately turned over, stirring the Thunder Lake for hundreds of miles into turmoil.

The black-armored swordsman stood with arms crossed, flanked by two other level eight presences.

One was its old neighbor, the Thunder King.

This guy had tried many times to subdue it, but every expedition to Thunder Lake ended in failure.

So he dispatched Thunder Marsh Clan experts to keep an eye on it.

The other was a golden birdman it hadn't seen before.

At this moment, they followed the foreigners' lead, respectfully trailing behind.

This left the Thunderbolt Destroyer somewhat shocked.

It felt that something was amiss.

Could they shamelessly be teaming up to attack it?

This would be highly unsporting of a knight!

The Thunder King gripped the warhammer and struck down abruptly, causing Thunder Lake to rise in ten-thousand-meter waves.

Endless lightning liquid surged forward.

The Great Prince drove a golden gale towards the Thunderbolt Destroyer.

Levi leisurely released the Nine-colored Emperor.

Three against one, the battle held no suspense.

The Thunderbolt Destroyer wanted to flee but was easily detained by Levi using the Chaotic Sky Demon Mirror.

The Thunderbolt Destroyer said:

"What do you want? I've already forgiven you for stealing my things!"

Levi said:

"Sign the Elemental Spirit Contract, acknowledge me as master, serve for a thousand years, and you can regain freedom, or be killed by me now."

The Thunderbolt Destroyer raged:

"What? Acknowledge you as master?"

Feeling Levis overwhelming killing intent.

It softened its tone, stammering:

"A thousand years, are you serious?"

Levi said:

"Why would I lie to you? I have many Elemental Lord friends. You can ask them when you return."

He referred to the former Flame Avenger Anvada, now Fire Phoenix Phoenix.

The Thunderbolt Destroyer pondered.

"A thousand years is nothing to me... With trees in place, fear no lack of wood."

As a level 8 fire element, it has a long lifespan.

Even with another thousand years gone by, it would still have nearly ten thousand years of carefree days.

It said:

"Ill agree to sign the Elemental Spirit Contract, hoping youll keep your word!"

Levi said:

"I never deceive."

He easily subdued the Thunderbolt Destroyer.

The Thunderbolt Destroyer inwardly vowed:

"As the saying goes sweet after bitterness, after several thousand years, after this foreigner dies of old age, Ill have plenty of time. By then, I must avenge todays humiliation!"

It didn't know that its small bit of hostility had long been sensed by Levi.

Levi acted as if unaware, having grown accustomed to such scenarios.

Phoenix thought similarly in the past.

And now?

Even if he let Phoenix go, it wouldn't want to leave the Ancient Dragon Continent.

A thousand years later, he wanted this thunder element to weep and beg to stay by his side.

Standing on the Thunderbolt Destroyers back, Levi felt elated.

This big guy had amassed some good things over the years, and he confiscated them all.

He continued to stroll around Thunder Lake, perhaps finding more gains.

In the blink of an eye, half a month had passed.

Chapter 2252: Across the Three Realms and Four Lands, None Can Rival Me!

Thunder Lake is filled with lightning, with nothing else besides some Thunder Element Ore.

Then there are some Thunder-related Oddities, ranging from Earth to Morning Star-level.

Among them is a Morning Star-level "Thunder God's Eye," exactly what Levi needs.

As for the Bright Moon, it hasn't been found. .

To be able to give birth to a Thunder God's Heart is already not easy.

After all, this is just the seventh floor, Levi didn't have high expectations to begin with.

In any case, this time's harvest is greater than all his previous ancient tower explorations combined.

After all, he's taken quite a few good items from the Three Realms and Four Lands.

Just the number of Truth Oddities alone has reached a terrifying number.

...

Time flies.

Soon, after the Flame Clan and the Feather Tribe, the Thunder Marsh Clan also announced.

The Thunder Marsh Clan withdrew indefinitely from Rune Land, promising not to interfere with its free development.

Moreover, any person in Rune Land who believes they have enough strength.

Can explore the Thunder Pool Secret Realm every hundred years.

As long as they don't infringe on the Thunder Marsh Clan's settlements and members. .

The Thunder Marsh Clan won't attack explorers, but explorers are responsible for their own lives and deaths.

The Thunder Marsh Clan is not responsible for any other crises encountered.

If Rune Land were to be invaded by external enemies, the Thunder Marsh Clan would send troops to support!

The Thunder Marsh Clan, Feathered People, and Flame Clan, the three major powers all made their positions known, marking that nearly half of the alien forces had been taken down by the Ultimate Saint.

The safety of Rune Land had been maximally guaranteed.

The remaining forces, without waiting for the Ultimate Saint to visit, all voluntarily declared.

No longer interfering with Rune Land affairs, they all presented their compensatory gifts to Rune Land, expressing sincerity.

Of course, there was one exception.

That is the only power in the Three Realms and Four Lands without an organized structure, the Giant Beast Restricted Area.

Other places have established civilized societies, which are still communicable.

But here, it's just a group of crazed black beasts.

Only the Spider King hides behind the scenes.

Using puppets to secretly manipulate these black beasts for its own use.

The Spider King is hidden deeply, and up till now, its true form has never appeared on the Saint Roland Continent.

No one knows where the Spider King is hidden, nor does anyone know how strong the Spider King truly is?

This is where the Spider King's confidence lies.

But recently, someone inadvertently discovered.

The Ultimate Saint ventured alone into the Giant Beast Restricted Area and was lost.

The major powers secretly turned their eyes towards the restricted area.

They want to know, could this legendary figure of the moment.

Flatten the restricted area? Find the ever-elusive Spider King and conquer it?

Although the Spider King is a loner, its strength is undeniable.

Anyone who takes it as just an ordinary level 8 extraordinary creature will suffer greatly.

The Ice Realm, Golden Ruins, and Merfolk Palace secretly breathed a sigh of relief.

If the Ultimate Saint and the Spider King ended up defeating each other, or if the Ultimate Saint were killed by the Spider King, that would be the best outcome.

Once the Ultimate Saint dies, the previously signed unequal treaties with various clans would automatically become null and void.

The Saint Roland Continent could once again return to the state of the alien races dividing the world.

Rune Land would suffer a terrifying counter-assault, completely annihilated.

The existence of humans could become history, reduced to a few lines in the annals of alien races.

Simply put, a civilization that rises relying on individual power is unstable.

Once this ceiling falls, it's hard to sustain.

Rune Land wants to develop its strength to withstand the alien races may take thousands, even tens of thousands of years.

The human lifespan is short; can the Ultimate Saint live that long?

But if the Spider King failed, then these alien races would abandon their last fantasies.

From then on, they would act humbly before the Ultimate Saint.

Until this deity-like figure grows old and dies!

...

Rune Land.

Saint Council.

All the saints showed smiles they hadn't shown for a long time.

The haze that once loomed over billions of human heads had thinned considerably.

The news of the Ultimate Saint going to the Giant Beast Restricted Area had spread between the city-states.

After seeing the major powers' drastic change of attitude, everyone believed that the Ultimate Saint would surely return crowned in triumph from this adventure.

He possesses the strength that surpasses an entire era!

The Water Dragon Saint gazed in the direction of the restricted area.

"Everyone, do you see? We are witnessing history!"

The Flame Wolf Saint exclaimed passionately:

"The era we are in, since the creation of the Saint Roland Continent, is the luckiest era for humanity!

Our ancestors endured countless dark cycles, repeatedly thrown into the abyss. Sometimes, they could climb above the abyss only to find seven great mountains pushing them mercilessly back down...

But now, the Ultimate Saint is attempting to change all this, those exalted alien races have lowered their noble heads, willing to negotiate with us, willing to forgo their interests.

Because, the Ultimate Saint's fist is the biggest, and his reasoning the strongest!"

The Water Dragon Saint raised the flag of Gray-White Academy high.

"But as the Ultimate Saint has said, we cannot pin our hopes on just one hero; heroes may change an era but cannot ensure the continuity of a civilization! We must grow strong ourselves, so that in millennia, tens of thousands of years later, Gray-White Academy will produce more and more powerful individuals, who will be the pillars and backbone of the Saint Roland human clan."

"These individuals will have the privilege to follow the Ultimate Saint, to battle in broader realms!"

"This is called the Multidimensional Plane, an endlessly exciting stage!"

With passionate and sincere speeches.

The atmosphere reached a climax.

"Gray-White Academy!"

"Ultimate Saint!"

A transcendent seed had been planted in the hearts of mortals.

And Rune Masters now had aspirations for broader horizons.

This year would be forever remembered by the people of Rune Land.

They named it: The First Year of Apocalypse.

From now on.

More and more people would embark on the transcendent paths, pursuing ultimate transcendence!

And Levi's vision has been realized.

Using the humans in the ancient tower, supporting the Ancient Dragon Continent, thus channeling more blood into the Wizard World.

To pour out all strength to get through the present blood battle.

Among them, some people will surely become one of the dazzling stars in the distant future!

Possibly even giving birth to Grand Wizards, Legendary Wizards, profoundly changing the historical process of the Wizard World.

...

"Law Enforcer's Manual" Article 1:

[Law enforcers must ensure that their actions contribute to the Nora Clan and the wizard civilization; must ensure to never stand on the opposing side of the Nora Clan and the wizard civilization in civil wars; while satisfied with the aforementioned basic criteria, law enforcers may modulate clauses within reasonable bounds and empathy; law enforcers are not gods and need not be the beacon of civilization, only to light the candle in hand.

Dark Tower Master, Sauron]

Chapter 2253: Overprotect Harvest, Phoenix Rests on the Parasol Tree!

Dark Ancient Tower.

The seventh floor.

Giant Beast Restricted Area.

The Star-devouring Spider King silently watched its duplication receive intelligence from the front.

"How has he advanced so quickly? Two hundred years ago, he could only flee in panic before me, and now, two hundred years later, he has made the Flame Clan, Feathered People, and the Thunder Marsh Clan bow down."

The growth path of the black-armored swordsman has already exceeded its understanding.

It knows that human wizards advance generally quickly because they are short-lived species and possess higher wisdom.

But for it to be this fast, it is still somewhat inexplicable.

"I understand now, it must be that the time flow of the outside world is different from this realm, two hundred years here equates to two thousand years outside... it must be this way."

"In this light, living in this cage is not necessarily a bad thing."

"I have Number One and Number Two, two Level 8 avatars. If the Ultimate Saint comes to trouble me, he'll ensure a one-way trip. Besides, I'm hidden in the Giant Beast Restricted Area, with spies everywhere he may not necessarily find me."

The Spider King does not plan to leave the Giant Beast Restricted Area.

In the vast land of Saint Roland, only here is the best place for its development.

Days pass by.

Levi rampaged in the Giant Beast Restricted Area, robbing black beasts.

The Spider King didn't dispatch a Level 7 avatar to throw away life, seemingly planning to play dead.

Levi seized this opportunity to search for members of the Dragon Clan, especially the females.

With his current strength, he doesn't need Crimson Enslavement and can forcibly suppress all these black beasts.

The sealing enters the Black Soul Demon Tower and then brings them back to the Ancient Dragon Continent for purification by the Giant Beast Paradise.

Due to the lack of interference from the Spider King, Levi harvested 6 species of mixed-blood dragon clan within half a month.

Totalling over ten, including three female dragons.

Today.

The Bottom-dwelling Fish Demon of the Mo Family Generals came flying, clutching a struggling earth-colored giant dragon.

This giant dragon has the prowess of Level 6 Late Stage, evidently being an Earthquake Dragon... and it's female!

No wonder the Bottom-dwelling Fish Demon is so happy. .

Levi's face lit with delight.

"Wonderful! The Ganwen Cui brothers have wives now!"

The three brothers have already grown to complete bodies.

As they enter adulthood, they will begin to gradually age until they die naturally.

Of course, with the lifespan of sub-dragons, they at least have two thousand years of leisure.

But now that they are adult dragons, Levi, as the head of the Dragon Palace family, must certainly arrange marriages.

He never expected to find female dragons of the same type, only hoping for ones that are closely related.

Unexpectedly, today's find is a pleasant surprise.

He set up a restriction and sent this female Earthquake Dragon into the Black Soul Demon Tower.

"Not bad, keep searching."

"No matter the level or quality of the Dragon Clan, do not kill them. Capture them alive."

With the Shadow Dragon Group, Levi is extremely convenient in whatever he does.

He took out the Spider King's duplication he obtained earlier; it had been injected with venom by Leon and was still unconscious.

"For others, finding this Spider King would indeed be difficult, but unfortunately for you, encountering me means a doomed fate."

Among the Three Realms and Four Lands, the Giant Beast Restricted Area imposes the greatest threat to the Rune Land.

Levi must eradicate the Spider King and clear the powerful black beasts within.

He summoned the [Vengeful Spirit Girl] from the Black Soul Demon Tower.

This is the only general under Levi's command who mastered the curse technique.

For this ancient tower expedition, Levi specifically brought her along.

The girl now has mid-stage Level 6 strength, much weaker compared to the Spider King.

Of course, Levi does not intend for her to curse the Spider King to death from afar.

He merely needs her to cast a spell to pinpoint the location of the original body through the duplication.

As far as he knows, the Curse Faction is most skilled at such tasks, so presumably the girl is similar.

"Can you deduce the approximate location of its original body based on its aura?"

"Master, let me try. There should be no problem unless the opponent is skilled at anti-divination, anti-curse, or if the realm differs too much, then the results might not be accurate."

"No problem, just the approximate location is enough."

After obtaining the spider duplication, the Vengeful Spirit Girl took out her doll puppet.

Her sharp nails drew a strand of white air from the duplication as she chanted a complex incantation.

The puppet doll came alive, staring with eerie big eyes and inhaled the white air into its belly.

The Vengeful Spirit Girl began casting spells, the process laborious due to the target being Level 8.

After half a day, she exhaled heavily.

"Master, I have a rough idea of its location."

...

In the boundless fog, a gigantic shadow cast over the Earth.

"Long time no see."

The seemingly friendly words of greeting startled the Spider King, busy refining duplications.

A green lantern glanced ahead, revealing the leisurely figure of the black-armored swordsman.

"How did you know I was here?"

"You refuse to tread the path to Heaven and insist on venturing into the doorless Hell; then die here!"

The Spider King reacted, hastily commanding Number One and Number Two towards the black-armored swordsman.

Puppet Number Two, Levi had already been forewarned, is a Centipede Giant Demon with early-stage Level 8 power.

But that Number One caused Levi's eyes to change slightly.

It was a black chicken, standing a thousand meters tall, with two white spots flowing towards the tail.

Two fluttering white tail feathers adorned the back, sharp beak emitting "cluck-cluck-cluck" sounds.

"What a big black chicken."

Although Levi is an expert of the Dragon School of Thought, not every transcendent creature was familiar to him.

This black chicken was one he hadn't encountered before.

He only felt that this black chicken could possess Level 8 power.

It certainly contains an extraordinarily dense Legendary Bloodline Factor, possibly Mythical level.

Chapter 2254: Bountiful Overprotect, The Phoenix Perches on the Parasol Tree!

The Blood Tribulation Master of the Pheasant Knight is a Legendary creature known as the "Red Pheasant."

This Black Chicken, if captured and purified.

Can not only guard the house but also promote the knight's practice of pheasant breathing techniques.

As long as the Spider King is subdued, these black beasts will all be his, a sure profit!

Faced with two level 8 giant beasts attacking together, Levi cannot withstand them head-on.

That Black Chicken is skilled at using sound wave attacks, singing loudly and forming strange sounds in circles.

Moreover, it's incredibly fast, like black lightning.

Its sharp wings and black claws have left the Nine-colored Emperor severely injured.

It must be said, in the Three Realms and Four Lands, the Spider King is the most troublesome to face alone.

After all, it has too many subordinates under its control.

Levi unleashed the Red Emperor Domain, pointing his longsword to the sky, sending Sword Qi straight to the heavens!

The Black Soul Demon Tower grew with the wind, and the Death Storm swept across hundreds of miles.

Simultaneously, three level 8 auras surfaced from within the tower.

Thunder Crocodile, Thunder King, Great Prince, all charged out.

With the ability to surround, Levi naturally wouldn't fight alone.

He had long contained these three level 8s within the tower, just waiting to gang up.

He was determined to get the Spider King!

He deliberately created the illusion of entering the restricted area alone, just to lull the Spider King into complacency.

To prevent the overly cautious Spider King from abandoning its nest and fleeing!

"Thunder King, what do you mean by this? Do you also want to be my enemy?"

The Spider King was caught by surprise, even its neighbor wanted to eradicate it completely.

The Thunder King said:

"Hmph, Spider King, you previously sent your duplications to intrude into my Lightning Pool Secret Realm without reason, killing my people. This time, I'm here to seek justice!"

Seeing the scene, the Spider King looked despairing.

It had no will to fight left, letting Number One and Number Two hold back Levi, as it transformed into black smoke, trying to escape.

The Thunder King, Great Prince, and others made their moves, their terrifying spell-like abilities stirred up hundreds of miles.

Levi's Chaotic Sky Demon Mirror merely swept once, and the Spider King remained behind.

He ordered the Thunder King and others to gang up on the Spider King while he remotely cast spells.

The Nine-colored Emperor alone managed to hold off both level 8 black beasts, Number One and Number Two, for a moment.

Before long, under an overwhelming advantage, the Spider King was defeated without suspense.

The fog that shrouded the center of the restricted area also disappeared, allowing Levi to see the true form of the Spider King.

Everyone, including Levi, was shocked.

The true form of the Spider King was only the size of a palm.

From the beginning, the shadow within the fog was nothing but a disguised illusion.

Used to seeing giant beasts spanning hundreds or thousands of meters.

Seeing the Spider King, Levi even found it somewhat cute.

The Thunder King scoffed:

"No wonder the Spider King is like a Divine Dragon, always hiding and never showing itself. Turns out it's a paper tiger, all its power is in puppets; the true form is so weak it's unbearable."

The Great Prince couldn't help but laugh:

"Who could have thought that the overlord of the Giant Beast Restricted Area is actually such a cute little spider."

The Spider King's watery big eyes glared angrily at Levi.

"Despicable outsider! If it were one-on-one, you would definitely not be my opponent... Master."

The large hand of the Nine-colored Emperor easily grasped the Spider King, and Levi used "Crimson Enslavement" to control it.

The Spider King submissively crouched at Levi's feet, having lost its former imposing manner.

This Spider King was indeed extraordinary, possessing extremely powerful control abilities, yet its true form's combat prowess was utterly ordinary.

Levi didn't know how it managed to control those level 8 black beasts.

One can only say that gains and losses coexist; the Creator understands balance in professions.

In the Multidimensional Plane, aside from cheaters, there's no absolutely perfect profession or creature.

Every life form has its shortcoming, and that is their weakness.

Otherwise, the ecological balance of the Land of Darkness would undoubtedly be broken.

The Thunder King and the Great Prince felt apprehensive seeing Levi use bizarre means to control the rebellious Spider King.

By comparison, having just sworn an oath is already a good deal for them.

At least they haven't completely lost their personality and autonomy.

Levi said:

"You all can go back now." .

The Thunder King and Great Prince hurriedly left to guard their own lairs.

Meanwhile, Number One and Number Two remained motionless where they were.

Levi looked at the small spider in his palm.

"Do you have a name?"

"Master, my name is Peter Pan."

Levi had the Spider King frankly reveal its experiences, abilities, and private stash to him.

It was truly an understanding of the mysterious transcendent creature, the Star-devouring Spider King.

At its peak, the Spider King had 2 level 8 puppets, 13 level 7 puppets, and 33 level 6 puppets.

As well as countless low-level and middle-level puppets.

These were all its duplications and eyes.

Of course, after encountering Levi, this disaster star, it lost many level 7 and level 6 puppets.

Now, there aren't as many as before.

Such a huge number of duplication puppets were accumulated slowly over a long time.

If lost, ordinary puppets can be replenished relatively easily.

Level 6 and above cannot be restored in the short term, which would greatly affect its strength.

These puppets, consisting of humans, black beasts, and alien races, are spread throughout the Three Realms and Four Lands.

Through these puppets, the Spider King established a powerful intelligence network.

At the same time, by controlling those black beast lords, it indirectly controlled countless black beast armies. .

In some respects, its ability to accommodate an entire army by itself is even stronger than Levi's.

However, the downside is sacrificing too much of its own body's power, relying entirely on external things.

Thus, the Spider King's true form must hide in places hard to discover.

Chapter 2255: Bountiful Overprotect, The Phoenix Perches on the Parasol Tree!

"Leaving the Spider King with this kind of ability in the Dark Ancient Tower is truly a waste of talent. His stage should be the vast and boundless Land of Darkness."

Levi decided to take the Spider King out.

Then in the Land of Darkness, he would find a place for the Spider King to establish its own powerful force.

Relying on the Spider King's ability, it could quickly assemble a large army of black beasts.

On one hand, it could help him find the Dragon Clan or other rare creatures.

On the other hand, it could also search for resources and enemies in the Land of Darkness.

When necessary, this army of black beasts could be used to fight against demons.

The black beasts are highly adaptable and have lived for generations in the dangerous Land of Darkness.

They are inherently full of various pollutants and corrosive elements that even wizards found tricky to handle before the Purification Elixir appeared.

Other civilizations hardly utilized them, and apart from themselves, they had no natural predators.

Over time, without interference, black beasts have become like pests in the Land of Darkness.

If demons are like termites living in nests, then the black beasts are like locusts scattered across the fields.

With the Spider King's ability, Levi could quietly accumulate a black beast army.

These black beasts don't need purification; they are merely cannon fodder in war.

In the final moments in the ancient tower, Levi had the Spider King summon back the puppets it had deployed outside.

These puppets needed to leave with the Spider King.

This journey to the ancient tower could be considered as having flattened the Giant Beast Restricted Area.

Though many black beasts survived, they could not form a unified command.

For Rune Land, they were just sources of experience.

Prior to this, Levi had already passed on the knowledge of the Purification Elixir and the Saint Fruit to them.

These humans would soon be able to harness the black beasts on a large scale to develop weapon-making, arrays, and pharmacy.

Looking at the Saint Roland Continent.

Among the Three Realms and Four Lands, only the Golden Ruins, Ice Realm, and Merfolk Palace remained unconquered.

But their influence was negligible.

With the constraints of the Flame Clan, Feathered People, and the Thunder Marsh Clan.

Those three forces no longer posed a significant threat to Rune Land.

Moreover, Levi did not plan to inform these natives about his departure.

Unaware of his leaving, they wouldn't dare to cause trouble.

With the solid foundation he laid.

If the humans of Rune Land couldn't develop further.

Then there was no need to cultivate them; it would be like helping a hopeless fool.

Compared to the oppression from the Three Realms and Four Lands.

The oppression of super civilizations like the Abyss and astral world on wizard civilization is much more intense.

Even with such hellish beginnings, wizard civilization managed to grow strong.

Rune Land would undoubtedly be fine.

...

A month later.

On the Ancient Dragon Continent.

Primordial soul wizards of the Tower of Dawn, along with teachers from various academies, gathered together.

They all looked at the young wizards behind Levi with expressions of shock.

The oldest was over two hundred years, and the youngest was still in swaddling clothes.

Totaling over a hundred, their cultivation levels varied from zero to the fourth-circle.

Most of them had a double affinity or higher-grade talent.

Among them were 5 Children of the Elements and 23 special talent holders from various sects.

This group of people had the potential to enter top wizard organizations for cultivation.

And Levi had somehow managed to find over a hundred of them at once.

It was like a dream.

Levi said:

"You all are the pillars of the Tower of Dawn. I entrust this group of young people to you, hoping you can cultivate more excellent talent like Ms. Marlene, spreading outstanding wizards across the world, engaging in blood battles, fighting for the Ancient Dragon Continent, for the wizard civilization!"

The majority of these seedlings came from Rune Land.

Since it was an underdeveloped blue ocean, the initial harvest was substantial.

Levi estimated that it might decrease in the future.

But bringing back a few Children of the Elements and some special talent holders every century was still possible.

Over time, in a millennium, the Tower of Dawn would surely produce more primordial soul wizards.

Additionally, Levi brought out a small number of Feathered People, Flame Clan, and Thunder Marsh Clan members.

They were all properly settled.

On one hand, to propagate their clans, and on the other, for the Tower of Dawn to study.

The Spider King and its puppet army were temporarily placed in the Ancient Banyan Fairyland by Levi.

He had already thought of a future development site for the Spider King.

It was located very far from the Wizard World, in a highly desolate area.

Apart from black beasts, there was nothing else.

Even demons were unwilling to go.

Thus, the smoke of blood battles hadn't reached there yet.

That place was... the Burning Rock World.

Nora Year 518.

Blood Battle Year 304.

In the past six months, Levi continued his cultivation while taking stock of his gains.

In the Ancient Banyan Fairyland, Levi was often seen smiling widely.

Marlene looked at the mountain of treasures and resources in front of Levi, her mouth slightly agape.

"Did you get all of these from the Dark Ancient Tower?"

"Yes." .

"Did you empty the tower?"

"How could that be? Ten of me couldn't empty the Dark Ancient Tower, a sea so vast, I've only taken a ladle."

Levi picked up the Wind Destruction Realm to show Marlene.

"There should be fragments of a medium-sized plane inside. If you refine it, what realm could you reach?"

Marlene said:

"I'm at Level 7 now, and to advance further requires an immense amount of energy. After all, I'm of the divine tree's body, not to be measured by common sense; I estimate at most Level 7 Middle Stage."

Levi appeared slightly helpless.

"Alright, it seems it's still not enough."

It truly is challenging to increase the realm of a divine tree.

Chapter 2256: Overprotect Harvest, Phoenix Rests on the Parasol Tree!

After Levi's inventory, his gains within the ancient tower can be described as "overprotective."

The gains are mainly divided into two parts.

One part is what he collected on his own while wandering around the ancient tower.

There are a total of 13 Truth Oddities, but they are all Earth and sky-level.

There are also several cultivation resources and materials, not worth mentioning.

The most important harvest still comes from the Three Realms and Four Lands.

These giants had already collected the resources for Levi, he just needed to take them.

On the side of the Feathered People, he obtained two Clan Treasures and two Level 7 Treasures.

Namely the level 8 [Golden Wind Jade Armor] and [Wind Destruction Realm]. .

Level 7 [Golden Silkworm Armor] and [Wind Killing Sword].

He had already handed the Golden Silkworm Armor over to Lord Victor for use, and the Wind Killing Sword was placed in the organization's treasury.

The Clan Treasures are naturally for Levi's own use.

With these two exotic treasures, hunting down Level 8 early-stage demons is even easier.

In addition, Levi also obtained a large amount of ore, medicinal herbs, and other resources from the Feathered People.

He sent all the ore to [Fire Dragon Sky Work], keeping only a piece of level 8 [Gale Holy Gold].

This item in the Wizard World is only produced in the dojo of the Storm School of Thought in small quantities.

They are all controlled by top wizard organizations.

Usually, just releasing a small piece could auction for billions at sky-high prices.

And Levi's piece is as large as a human head.

The auction would start at at least tens of billions, and it could make several conventional eight-ring wizarding devices.

He kept it to remold the divine weapon [Wind Thunder Wings].

As for the Feathered People's medicinal herbs, they were all sent to the Gandolf Pharmacy.

With the resources he provided, the business turnover of both industries should surge in the upcoming period.

Levi, as the major shareholder behind the scenes, naturally rakes in hefty profits.

As for the Flame Clan.

Levi did not take the Clan Treasure and left it for Jabba to rule the country. .

The Flame Dragon Battle Axe, also a rare top-quality among the Level 8 Exotic Treasures, has a powerful artifact spirit.

Its quality is no less inferior to Triss's Demon Dragon Whip.

But Levi doesn't really have any use for it.

Leaving it in the Flame Clan is a blessing for Jabba.

It could assist him in not perishing before Level 8, stabilizing his reign.

Levi also obtained at least enough seventh-level ore [Red Flame Star Gold] to refine 10 seven-ring witch artifacts.

He sent it to Ace, fulfilling Ace's weapon refinement desires.

With these top-quality ores, Ace's entire arsenal of wizard tools could be finely reforged.

Additionally, there's a piece of level 8 [Blazing Heart Holy Iron], a treasured item of the king.

Levi plans to use it to remold the divine weapon [Crimson Dragon Slash].

Other medicinal herbs and material resources, as well as sixth-level Treasures, need not be explained in detail as Levi has properly arranged everything.

Lastly, from the king's side, he obtained a rare treasure called [Prison Star Ring].

Its function is similar to the Wizard Tool [Spirit Binding Ring], which was the treasure used by the ancestors of the Flame Country to control the giant dragons.

After that dragon fell, they refined it into the Flame Dragon Battle Axe, turning it into an artifact spirit.

This Prison Star Ring can make up for Levi's shortage in Crimson Enslavement quotas.

Thunder Marsh Clan's spoils.

The most important thing is the ten-thousand-year Thunder Pattern Wood and three pieces of ten-thousand-year Thunder Pattern Wood, invaluable.

Levi also obtained five pieces of sixth-level Exotic Treasure and two pieces of seventh-level Exotic Treasure.

He put them all in the organization's treasury, available for members to rent and exchange with War Merit.

As the head of the organization, while enjoying benefits, he must also consider those beneath him.

If the organization's treasury does not have good things, it wouldn't attract the members.

There must be such treasures hanging in the treasury, making them envious, wanting to exchange but unable to.

This way, he can motivate them to constantly cultivate, earn money, and hunt demons to accumulate War Merits.

Moreover, in the old nest of the Thunder Crocodile, Levi was delighted to gain a large piece of level 8 [Thunder Saint Copper].

This is an eighth-level material that money cannot buy.

This resolves the remolding material issues of the divine weapons [Wind Thunder Wings] and [Crimson Dragon Slash].

The above are regular gains.

There are also some special gains, such as Truth Oddities.

After Levi counted, including what he collected himself.

This trip to the ancient tower resulted in a total of 90 Truth Oddities.

Among them, there are 56 Earth-Grade Oddities, 24 Sky-level Oddities, 8 Morning Star Oddities, and 2 Bright Moon Oddities.

That's right, he collected nearly a hundred oddities.

The strong ones from the three clans have been dominant on the continent for a long time, collecting quite a few oddities.

They do not understand the wizards' efficient Path of Refinement, they could only absorb them shallowly or directly devour them.

But some oddities, due to not matching their attributes, were kept in reserve.

Levi also knows that the oddities in the hands of these alien races are only a portion of the Saint Roland Continent.

There are many unexplored territories in deep forests, underground worlds, and the endless ocean.

Starting from the seventh floor, the resources within the ancient tower become increasingly abundant.

First, the worlds henceforth are more expansive, second, fewer wizards can visit.

Under such circumstances, the development and utilization efficiency is far less than the first six floors.

Levi's current mindset is to go with the flow and take as much as he can.

The rest is left for future generations.

Levi, according to the Illustrated Guide of Strange Items.

Selected 1 which could be categorized as a "Small Top-Grade" from the sky-level oddities.

It is called [Greedy Snake], a space series oddity.

This oddity's conventional function isn't much use to Levi.

But there's a probability of birthing a kind of special spiritual creature named [Na Snake].

As the name suggests, this spiritual creature has no combat power, but it can easily hide in the void.

Inside its body, a realm is formed on its own, and its volume is related to the spiritual force realm of its master.

Chapter 2257: Bountiful Overprotect, The Phoenix Perches on the Parasol Tree!

Levi needed this guy to share Leon's work and be responsible for picking up scraps on the battlefield.

Because of the Shadow Dragon Group, Leon had to gather souls and collect battle loot.

The little guy was so busy that he still tended to lose things.

Thus, if there was an opportunity to create companion spirit creatures, it was worth a try.

Other oddities.

Either were duplicates of what Levi had already refined,

Or were too ordinary, as companion spirit creatures were of little use to Levi now.

He let Hundred Flowers and the Three Avatars each choose a few to refine for fun based on their needs.

They could try their luck at drawing companion spirit creatures.

Most of the oddities, he sent to the organization's treasure vault.

The members of the Tower of Dawn were as excited as if they had taken a stimulant after seeing so many oddities freshly stocked.

For the vast number of low-level and middle-level wizards,

Not to mention Sky-level Artifacts, even Earth Oddities could excite them for a hundred years.

Perhaps it was just an Earth Oddity that Levi didn't think much of,

But inadvertently helped a wizard, who was just a hair away from advancing to the sixth-circle, see hope.

This is the greatest value of these oddities.

Among the 8 Morning Star-level oddities, Levi chose the Thunder God Series artifact obtained from Thunder Lake to enhance the [Thunder God Body].

There were also two sequence artifacts, namely [Wind King's Word] and [Water God's Qilin].

Levi had Gandaph and Hundred Flowers refine them.

The last 5 were kept as the Tower of Dawn's treasures, available for exchange by those with outstanding war merits.

Two Bright Moon oddities, one from the King of the Flame Clan.

This was an oddity shaped like a butterfly, only palm-sized.

It was sealed within a scroll, its antennae slightly twitching, its abdomen subtly wriggling.

Truth Runes formed its entire body of scales, as well as the beautiful patterns on its wings.

This type of oddity wasn't recorded in the Illustrated Guide of Strange Items, suggesting it was undiscovered.

It could only be judged as an Ocean Faction oddity from the surrounding water elemental power.

Levi was very interested in this, so he kept it for himself to refine.

The other was obtained from the King of Feather.

It was a longsword radiating the golden legend of the Golden Emperor's Sword from the Metal Faction.

Levi of course had Lord Victor refine it.

Thus, Lord Victor now owned both [Golden Emperor's Ring] and [Golden Emperor's Sword], the two major Bright Moon oddities.

He had already collected the most important artifacts of the Golden Emperor Series.

The rest were all Morning Star-level oddities.

Given Lord Victor's already outstanding talent, it was a case of making something even better.

The speed of his subsequent advancement was sure to increase significantly.

The final special gain came from the Spider King.

It hadn't intentionally collected resources, but during the opening of the ancient tower seven hundred years ago, it killed many primordial soul wizards.

In the storage rings of these wizards, besides some Truth Oddities,

There were also a large number of cultivation resources and spell knowledge.

Of course, the most valuable was the storage ring of the golden prince.

Inside, Levi saw an incredibly shocking sight.

An almost complete giant dragon corpse.

It was precisely the Legendary Dragon Race: Wind Illusion Dragon, he had discovered in the golden prince's memory. .

It had been dead for hundreds of years, yet its entire body was surrounded by a lingering, milky-white flame cloud of wind.

Most dragons above the legendary level had such characteristics.

Because their level of life was too high, even after death, they would retain some wondrous features.

Only with the passage of long years would these gradually dissipate.

Moreover, Levi found that,

Perhaps because the energy level of this corpse was too high,

Even the space of the golden prince's high-level storage ring was somewhat unstable.

Levi quickly took the Wind Illusion Dragon corpse out and placed it in the Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

Rumble!

The corpse, like a bottomless pit, automatically drew in the power of the wind element from a thousand miles around.

A hurricane vortex with a diameter of a thousand miles rapidly formed.

This shocking scene startled the Dragon Palace members and Mana.

They watched from afar, gazing at the pure white giant dragon corpse floating in the void, their minds dazed.

"This... this is a true giant dragon!"

"It's dead, it died."

"Such powerful majesty."

The Heavenly Leisure Dragon General sighed,

"I encountered this during my travels in the Land of Darkness. It likely died of old age."

Mana flew over, her beautiful eyes widened greatly.

"Levi, this... is this a level 9 giant dragon's corpse?"

Levi said,

"Yes, found it."

Mana:

"..."

Levi was worried as he looked at the dragon's corpse.

This corpse wasn't completely intact; its blood had already dried up.

At its eye area, there was a blood hole.

This was where the golden prince extracted blood to make a bloodline crystal.

"The entire body material is basically all ninth-level material. At the current realm of the Holy Infant, wanting to use this to refine weapons is still too early. Since the corpse is so complete, might as well make it into a [Dragon Corpse Demon]."

Dragon Corpse Demons are a type of corpse demon, extremely rare.

On one hand, superior dragon corpses are scarce.

On the other hand, such a massive body requires a huge amount of materials and resources.

But if this level 9 giant dragon's corpse was successfully made into one...

Levi would have essentially the strongest corpse demon with at least level 8 peak power. .

Even a short confrontation with a level 9 expert might not be difficult.

After all, this is a level 9 giant dragon's corpse. Even if it's not a defense type, it is sturdy enough.

For an eighth-circle wizard's spell, it would be neither painful nor itchy.

As Levi's status improved, so too did the strength of his enemies.

Facing the eighth-circle, he already had absolute confidence in keeping himself alive.

Chapter 2258: Bountiful Overprotect, The Phoenix Perches on the Parasol Tree!

But in the face of the ninth-circle, he still felt lacking in confidence.

Because it is the sky chasm between a high-level wizard and a Grand Wizard.

So, before he advances to the ninth-circle himself, he needs to enhance his cards as much as possible to escape in front of Level 9.

This Dragon Corpse Demon let him see hope.

Of course, such a powerful corpse requires at least a Level 8 Peak Undead to control.

Once Levi becomes a Grand Wizard, this corpse demon won't go to waste.

He can catch a Level 9 Undead from the Seventy-Two Pillars to fully unleash the Dragon Corpse Demon's power.

It can completely be used as Level 9 combat power.

Even if it's not needed later,

it can be stationed in the Ancient Dragon Continent for defense.

Or it can be dismantled for weapon refinement.

Simply perfect!

Action must follow thought, and refining a Legendary level Dragon Corpse Demon requires ample preparation.

Levi immediately brought out all his books on corpse demons from his knowledge library.

The "Book of Corpse Demons", "Corpse Refining Manual", "Dragon Witch Demon's Experiment Notebook"...

Besides that, he also arranged for the organization to seek insights from the School of Death.

With the mineral and material resources provided by the Three Realms and Four Lands, he is confident in being able to refine it.

Of course, this refinement process could take quite a while.

This is a real major project, far beyond any previous attempt.

But just thinking about having a quasi-ninth-level corpse demon bodyguard in the future fills him with motivation. .

...

Two years later.

Nora 520th year, Blood Battle 306th year.

Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

Thunderclap Mountain.

Due to the arrival of the Thunder Crocodile, the elemental power of thunder here has become denser.

Making it more suitable for the life of lightning creatures and the Dragon Clan.

After Levi brought back the Thunder Crocodile, he let it stay in the fairyland, specially building a large energy-gathering array for it.

At most, it would go to the Nightmare World for exploration.

He didn't let it appear in the Wizard World, for fear of it being coveted by those with ill intentions.

The top wizard organizations of the Lightning Faction may not have a Level 8 Thunder Elemental Spirit.

The Spider King was also excited beyond measure once it learned it was taken out of the Dark Ancient Tower.

After Levi finished his tasks, he assigned the Spider King to the Burning Rock World.

Recently, a new occupant arrived in the valley of the Earthquake Dragon brothers.

It was the [Heavenly Yin Dragon GeneralMister], simply called "Mei".

Nowadays, purification technology and efficiency in the Ancient Dragon Continent have improved significantly.

It was sent to the Ancient Banyan Fairyland right after being purified.

This Level 6 Late Stage mature female dragon was in its prime.

And the three brothers had just matured, with the strongest desires.

Due to their vigorous energy, the other transcendent creatures in the Ancient Banyan Fairyland also suffered damage previously.

But to ensure the purity of bloodlines, Levi had forbidden such chaotic actions.

Now, the arrival of Mei undoubtedly ignited "dry wood meeting blazing fire".

Just like a male college student meeting a middle-aged lady...

In the valley, the cannon fire was endless, and the three brothers took turns, still no match for Mei.

To this, Dragon King Li remarked they were too weak.

Many mixed-blood dragon clans also found their destined goddesses.

In the pool for refining Dragon Descendant Giants.

The corpse of Elephant Demon Aisenke also began its refinement.

...

Time flies swiftly, and years pass by.

Ancient Banyan tree Mansion.

Centuries around the Tombstone of the Dead are already part of the Rest Soil Domain.

Soft whispers came from the black soil.

Some bemused, confused green ghost fires wandered aimlessly.

These ghost fires were very weak, even weaker than mortal rookies.

But they also have strong evolutionary potential, akin to the Abyss Worm.

In the future, they might evolve into ghosts, Undead.

Some skeletons, tilting their heads like zombies, staggered around.

With Levi's command, those Undead will not attack these newborns.

They are the first inhabitants born in his ancient banyan tree Mansion, of great commemorative significance.

Mana, barefoot, stepped lightly on the soft Rest Soil. .

Like a curious child, she observed the ghost fires underground.

It was her innate nature as the World Tree, to create, to witness the birth of life, a joyful affair indeed.

She was very curious about how far the ancient banyan tree Mansion could grow in the future.

...

God-forsaken Continent.

On a certain battlefield.

The Tower of Summer Flowers grows taller in the wind, towering high.

Endless green leaves and vines obscure the sky, trapping a Level 7 Late Stage Flame Demon within.

A Star Ring composed of millions of petals descended from the sky, encircling this green world.

Flames swept, roaring continuously.

In the void, Elena clad in Blood Source Armor [Flower Fairy Armor] appeared.

She had both the elegance of a Flower Fairy and the valiant demeanor of a Valkyrie.

With a wave of her hand, the Amber Dragon in the form of a silver ribbon flew across the sky.

With an innate spell embodied by nine kinds of flowers, it struck fiercely, throwing the Flame Demon away.

Seeing this, Elena closed her eyes, and re-opened them.

"Twin Tree World! Suppress!"

The endless force of suppression thrust the Flame Demon underground.

It raised its head, veins bulging, resembling a demon in agony.

As the two giant tree shadows closed in, the Flame Demon was squeezed as if crushed between two cliffs.

Fierce flames exploded, and demon blood spewed into a blood fog, blasting in all directions!

Level 7 Late Stage Flame Demon. Overpowered and dead!

Elena emerged on top of the wizard tower covered in Flower Fairy Armor, exhaled fragrant air.

With the addition of millions of war merit points, Elena's rank advanced by one more position.

"With the three measures of the Wizard Tower, Flower Witch, and Primordial Spirit released collectively, a Level 7 Late Stage Demon can only meet its end here. Even a Level 7 Peak Demon is not guaranteed a victory... but to be on the safe side, it's better to stay cautious and retreat when encountered."

Clearly, Mana has also mastered the essence of Dragon King Li's tactical subtlety.

Two years ago, when Levi refined the precious [Water God's Scale] and gave it to her, she understood Levi's intentions.

He was worried she might not keep up with his pace and wanted to give her a helping hand.

She hunted demons desperately, earning war merit, making herself a little more excellent every day.

Chapter 2259: A Battle Upon Reunion, Ending Old Grudges!

Body Refining Academy.

"Hahaha, the 'Purple Crystal Body Refining MethodLower Volume' is complete!"

Gandaph's hearty laughter echoed in the research room.

He extended his left arm, covered with a faint purple glow.

Sparse purple body-refining runes flickered within the flesh.

A thin layer of purple crystal precipitated, covering his whole body.

Gandaph clenched his fist and swung it towards the testing apparatus.

Looking at the numbers on the display, he sighed in relief.

"It worked, it really worked!"

Members of the research group, including Killing Whale Dominating Fist, the supreme fist wizard, Sea Wolf, couldn't help but applaud. .

"In the blink of an eye, a century has passed; indeed, research makes one forget the passage of time."

"Yes, starting is always the hardest; now that the lower volume is out, the middle and upper volumes will be easier."

"Thanks to Lord Gandaph's personal experiments, this body refining technique was completed so smoothly."

Gandaph smiled and said:

"It's the result of everyone's joint effort."

After working together for a century.

Gandaph used his formidable strength and charisma to win over the group of strong men from the Ocean Abyss Alliance.

Initially, they saw Gandaph as a rival and competed with him overtly and covertly.

However, after witnessing Gandaph's research and understanding of body refining techniques, they were completely convinced.

They gradually accepted the title of "King of Body Refining" in their hearts.

They even felt that the Ocean Abyss Alliance had lacked competition for too long, so it became complacent.

Yet unexpectedly, a new era ushered in such an extraordinary person.

"Hahaha, I heard the Purple Crystal Body Refinement Technique has been developed?"

The White Banker rushed over upon hearing the news.

Gandaph said:

"Thanks to you, Senior, for providing us with higher-level knowledge guidance, allowing such quick development."

The White Banker received the knowledge from the 'Purple Crystal Body Refining Method Lower Volume' and became immersed in it.

"Not bad, practicing to the Second Circle Perfect Realm, paired with specially researched body techniques, can have one-third the strength of a second-level Purple Crystal Clan... it's more than enough to deal with Gargoyles, low-level demons with high magic resistance, and in the future, dealing with the Council of Ten Thousand Clans group, it won't be a problem!"

"Next, arrange some experimental subjects for testing. Once confirmed, our Body Refining Academy can include it as a basic refining course, and then begin widespread promotion."

Gandaph said:

"No problem."

In the evening, the White Banker invited this research group to a high-level banquet.

Gandaph's performance received continuous praise from the upper echelons.

Recalling the century of research experience, it was Gandaph's first time creating a combat technique from scratch.

Although it was low-level, the sense of accomplishment and the gains were indescribable.

He had some ideas for the future integration and creation of body refining techniques.

After completing the phase results.

Gandaph returned to Gondor City with the newly acquired Body Refining Artifact [Great Sun Burning Dragon].

...

Fire Dragon Sky Work.

Weapon Refinement room.

The Holy Infant was refining a brand new secret sword.

Inside the Flame King Furnace.

A flame hammer, without any control, could strike the Wizard Tool within, hammering its shape.

The Holy Infant regulated his breath, cultivated, occasionally observing the refining progress inside the furnace.

"It's truly wonderful to have an intelligent semi-automated refining spiritual creature."

The Holy Infant had previously refined [Flame King's Arm].

Acquired the rare associated special spiritual creature [Flame King's Mobile Furnace].

The Flame King Furnace greatly enhanced his refinement efficiency and success rate.

Not long ago, after refining [Flame King's Hammer].

The Flame King Furnace underwent further metamorphosis, nurturing an illusory flame hammer within.

The Holy Infant felt that this was the truly complete body of the Flame King Furnace.

In order to further enhance automation efficiency,

The Holy Infant delved into countless books, consulted with alchemy masters from the Central Realm, and subsequently developed some auxiliary weapon refining arrays and Wizard Tools.

Nowadays, simple steps in the Wizard Tool refining process can be completely automated by the furnace.

The Holy Infant only needs to supervise slightly on the side, without hindering his cultivation or rest.

Of course, unique and complex procedures requiring a refiner's creativity still have to be done personally by him.

Such as solidifying mysterious runes and miniature arrays.

Even with this semi-automated refining procedure, it cannot achieve that.

Nonetheless, it greatly frees the Holy Infant's hands, proving immensely beneficial.

To date, he has refined all the main artifacts of the [Flame King Series].

Namely, [Flame King's Arm], [Heart of Flame King], [Flame King's Hammer], all Morning Star-level.

The remaining oddities are of simple sky quality, lacking them does not matter.

Of course, to make the Flame King Furnace even more perfect, the Holy Infant intends to find a way to collect them all.

He believes that the forces nurturing this [Flame King] series must be akin to divine craftsmen from various great civilizations, only thus could such a wondrous associated special spiritual creature as the furnace be born.

During rest, the Holy Infant introspected his mind.

Within his primordial soul, the momentum of Ice and Fire, under the principles of the Ace Balance Law, is stable like Mirror Lake, the yin and yang balance.

"With my current talent, wanting to advance further, ordinary Morning Star Artifacts won't suffice; it must be higher-level sequence artifacts to advance the [Ice and Fire Holy Body] further."

According to the Illustrated Guide of Strange Items, the Fire Element oddity sequence.

Mainstream ones are three types.

Namely, [Flame King], [Red Dragon], [Fire God].

Similar to them, there are:

The Frost Faction's [Cold King], [Winter Emperor], [Frost God].

The Thunder God Faction's [Thunder King], [Thunder Roc], [Thunder God].

...

The Elementalist School's sequence artifacts can generally be divided into three levels.

Chapter 2260: Duel at Reunion, Ending Grudges!

The highest level of sequence artifacts are similar and are all named with "God".

Take the Burning Faction as an example.

The upper limit of the Flame King Series is the Morning Star Artifact, composed of the sky and Morning Star.

The Red Dragon Series is Morning Star and Bright Moon; the Fire God Series includes Morning Star, Bright Moon, and Blazing Sun.

The quality of sequence artifacts is generally good.

Moreover, by collecting accessories, you can activate the "set effect".

For example, Levi's [Thunder God Body], Hundred Flowers' [Water God Body], and the [Ice and Fire Holy Body] fused by the Holy Infant.

This is the life-altering effect brought by these oddities.

A wizard's elemental affinity talents are predestined.

So far, besides the very few heaven-defying potions made from heavenly materials and earthly treasures.

Only oddities can significantly improve wizarding talents.

The Holy Infant's original talent wasn't lacking he was at a genius level.

After continuously refining oddities, he is already comparable to a "Child of the Ice and Fire Elements".

In the future, if he refines higher-sequence oddities, it will be a super elemental son-level talent.

It's just that the Wizard World doesn't have an accurate classification for such a talent.

Because there are too few such people, there's no need for a separate listing.

To most wizards, becoming a Child of the Elements is unreachable, the ceiling.

But for the Holy Infant, who mixes among geniuses. .

Being a Child of the Elements is just an entry point not something to be proud or complacent about.

The Wizard World has people with average initial talents who eventually achieved Grand Wizard or even Legendary Wizard status.

But such people, just like oneself.

Their initial talent has long evolved into higher talents due to luck and effort.

Many folk stories only see the "Children of Chaos" talent of those individuals.

And use them to propagate, even advocating the "talent is useless theory".

But they fail to see the dense talent buffs behind the Children of Chaos, along with other opportunities and efforts.

Effort and will determine the lower limit, talent and fortune determine the upper limit.

Only those who can achieve perfection in all factors can climb to the Supreme Legendary Realm.

Wizards are just that materialistic and realistic.

Returning to the point, sequence artifacts are mainstream, but it doesn't mean non-sequence artifacts are not powerful.

In fact, non-sequence artifacts can often give birth to many extraordinary top-grade functions.

For example, the [Flame Emperor's Sword].

In the War Merit Store's introduction, it is considered the foremost killing fire element Sun Refining Artifact.

In short, both kinds of artifacts have their pros and cons.

To the Holy Infant, higher-level sequence artifacts are essential to further enhance his aptitude.

With his current talent and foundation, advancing to Grand Wizard is not difficult.

But he has a heart for legends. .

So, it's not enough; he must become even stronger!

He looked at the War Merit Store, searching for keywords.

There were some Red Dragon and Fire God Series artifacts limited to seven-circle wizards.

But all Bright Moon Artifacts invariably required over a billion war merits.

Moreover, some were exchanged by top-ranked individuals on the leaderboard.

"I must quickly complete the Heavenly Star Sword Formation and then have Lord Victor take Gandaph and me flying."

If they have a complete Heavenly Star Sword Formation, they are confident to sprint into the top ten of the leaderboard!

...

A month later.

Dawn Tower.

Lord Victor took a deep breath.

"This Golden Emperor's Sword is amazing, increasing spiritual force by 180 points."

At a thought, [Golden Emperor] appeared.

This lady in golden divine attire, filled with celestial aura, held a golden sword in her hand.

The sword was three feet two inches long, covered with mysterious runes.

"The Golden Emperor has metamorphosed again, with this special spiritual creature, paired with my Heavenly Star Sword Formation, my combat tactics have almost reached perfection. I can use secret swords for long-range killing; with the Golden Emperor and sword formation in close combat, I can attack, defend, and control."

"With the Golden Emperor, Fleur can return to herself."

"My gold element affinity talent, blessed by a Bright Moon Artifact, coupled with the Mystic Sky Spirit Embryo, has surpassed the Children of the Elements by unknown margins. I aim to achieve Seven Rings Perfection within two hundred years."

As time goes by, Lord Victor has been at seven rings for more than two hundred years, with spiritual force approaching 9500 points.

Only 1500 points short of Seven Rings Perfection.

With Soul Stone, Heart-Cleansing Tea, heavenly materials and earthly treasures from the Ancient Banyan Fairyland, and enough meditation supplementary potions.

Attaining Seven Rings Perfection within two hundred years is still Lord Victor's conservative estimate.

...

Time flies like an arrow, the years slip by.

Six years later.

Year 526 of Nora, Year 312 of the Blood Battle.

Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

Levi was 940 years old.

He was like a retired old man, temporarily forgetting about demon-hunting.

Spending his days cultivating and researching beside the Small Stone Pond.

On the Level 8 Demon Slaughter List, he still topped the chart with 1.2 billion points.

The second, Destruction Realm Thunder, had 700 million points.

Light Divine Sword and Hand of Fire God followed closely with 620 million and 550 million respectively.

Recently, there has been quite an accurate whispering news.

The Fire God's HandGatling went to the War Merit Store, allegedly already exchanging for a random Sun Refining Artifact.

This made Levi even less pressured.

The Fire God's Hand is currently the number one in the Burning School of Thought and has been for over three hundred years, without anyone surpassing it.

Now he has spent 500 million war merits.

Even though there are currently many demons and earning points is easy, it would still take about a hundred years to accumulate again.

Would he use his head to fight Levi for the [Flame Emperor's Sword]?

Levi speculated that Gatling originally wanted to exchange for the Flame Emperor's Sword, constantly advising Levi to rest well and not overexert.

But seeing Levi's over-the-top prowess, and Levi most likely choosing the strongest Flame Emperor's Sword, he settled for the second-best option, choosing a random oddity.

As for the [Shadow Emblem], the number one of the Shadow School of Thought, it has only just reached 1.2 billion points.
