

Wizard 2271

Chapter 2271: Looking Back, a Millennium Has Passed!

Ancient Dragon Continent.

Northeast Coastline.

The Fire Dragon Knight led the Apostle Group to besiege a Level 7 Fish Demon.

Someone was already injured, yet no one retreated.

Relying on the combat array, the Fire Dragon Knight, who had advanced to Level 6 Peak, skillfully pressured the demon in battle.

The Extreme Battle Armor roared, and hundreds of Power Flying Axes repeatedly slashed across the battlefield.

Many demons had their heads chopped off.

An additional portion was directly entangled by the "Oasis OneSeaweed" planted beneath the sea surface.

From within the forest, strange and peculiar attacks occasionally flew out Ice Peas, Flame Seeds, Poisonous Berries...

All also stemmed from Oasis One, vividly reminiscent of a Plants vs. Zombies scene.

Lady Rowling's optimized Oasis One had a short growth cycle, strong adaptability, and powerful effects.

It has been planted in many places across the Ancient Dragon Continent, producing numerous miraculous effects.

"Fire Dragon Sword!"

The Fire Dragon Knight revealed the true form of a Flame Giant, transforming into a thousand-meter-tall giant.

A flame Sword Qi that connected heaven and earth appeared, tearing the Demon Camp apart, slicing the Level 7 Demon in two.

With the battle merits accounted for, the Fire Dragon Knight's expression subtly changed.

"Top ten on the Seventh-level Demon Slaying List... Apart from the commander, I'm the only other knight to reach the top ten."

A while ago, he exchanged his battle merits for a real Fire Giant Heart.

And using the organization's transplant technology, he installed a second heart for himself.

With this, he could better utilize his Fire Giant King Bloodline.

The development of Giant Power advanced further.

One giant heart, one giant dragon heart.

The combination of both gave him the confidence to fiercely battle that Level 7 Demon even without the aid of the battle group.

This was the confidence and pride he held as a supernova!

Having dealt with the enemy, he was just about to leave.

Suddenly, at the center of the Ancient Dragon Continent, a brilliant blue light soared!

Instantly, throughout the Ancient Dragon Continent, the power of elemental magnetism began to boil.

The Fire Dragon Knight felt the buzz of his Extreme Battle Armor.

And it wasn't just him; the armors of the others were the same.

"All mechanisms resonate, Mechanical Soul Unity... Herman has advanced to Level 7."

...

Tower of Dawn.

Retreating for decades.

Herman finally stepped into the Level 7 realm of the Mechanical Dao.

In his mind, endless mechanical knowledge seemed to surge forth.

Countless sparks of inspiration flashed, and many mechanical puzzles that troubled him suddenly had answers at this moment.

"Mechanical Soul Unity, so that's it..."

At this moment, Herman entered an incredibly mystical realm.

Without needing instruments or a control center.

By utilizing the elemental magnetic force in the world, he could manipulate the mechanisms on the Ancient Dragon Continent with a single thought.

"In the southern part of the continent, there is a demon lord in Gathering Place No.9!"

A voice came from the brain's communication device.

Herman closed his eyes, and with a thought.

An invisible wave of elemental magnetism spread outward with him at the center.

Contained within were various extremely complex commands, issued to all machinery.

From the Demon Extermination Shuttle base closest to the demon hazard, streams of silver light shot into the sky.

They seemed alive, cheerfully roaring, shattering the void.

Gathering Place No.9.

The earth-yellow array barrier flickered.

Several demon lords tore through the void to attack.

Each rode a Demon Mountain, with demonic aura filling the heavens and earth, the mountain crawling with a demon army.

Shadow demons, Flame Demons, Fish Demons... A complete array of soldier species, clearly well-prepared.

"Kill!"

"Hehehe!"

Low-level demons fell like raindrops, attacking the barrier and depleting its energy.

The knight family guarding this place mobilized entirely, countering the demon army.

"Self-defense team, gather!"

The knight families at each gathering place often practiced different dimensions of the Breathing Technique.

They were clearly organized and cooperated with each other.

Regarding demon invasions, they had done many emergency drills.

Hence, the scene was very orderly.

Some knights appeared already old and gray-haired, yet they were still vigorous.

Many of them belonged to the Dusk Holy Temple members, their lifespans nearing the end, with no hope of advancement.

For these veterans, the organization accorded special respect.

They could either remain with the legion or return to their families to retire in peace.

Unfortunately, in such times, the joys of old age were evidently hard to come by.

These veterans also had no complaints, unleashing divine weapons, their blood qi surging, charging into the fray.

The demons were somewhat startled. .

They didn't expect that this action, just attacking a mortal gathering place, would encounter so many obstacles.

They had originally thought it would be a breeze, but now it seemed some effort was needed.

Compared to many top wizard organizations.

The protection of mortals on the Ancient Dragon Continent was evidently more thorough.

In the Wizard World, the rulers liked to treat mortals as the "consumable" and "fuel" of the lower levels.

Like leeks, harvested batch after batch, after all, a mortal's memory was short.

Levi lived a lifetime as a mortal, and he also utilized these bottom layers.

But at the very least, he still gave them a considerable amount of attention and dignity.

So his policy toward mortals, in this world, was relatively the most compassionate.

"Boom!"

The earth cracked open.

A black light burst from the ground.

Two towering black giants, a hundred meters tall, appeared, one wielding a shield and the other a sword, striking down!

The surface of the giants was filled with a sci-fi sheen.

The obsidian-like shell glowed, with dense mechanical runes and magic array patterns inside.

Their eyes glowed red, and a mechanical voice rang out.

"Commencing execution of destruction commands!"

"Electromagnetic Storm!"

Buzz!

Buzz!

Two visible electromagnetic fields swept through, one red and one blue.

Chapter 2272: Looking Back, a Millennium Has Passed!

As red and blue intersected, the magnetic force field within a ten-mile radius became instantly volatile!

Crack, crack!

Hundreds of low-level demons were ground to pieces immediately.

Shields and demon claws clashed, power swords pierced into the body of the demon lord.

Shh.

A Level 6 Early Stage Flame Demon was split in half.

On the other side, a massive wave of demons charged forward.

However, a black giant hurled a giant shield.

The shield traced a beautiful arc, sweeping away the demons, then returned to its hand.

Two giants emerged out of nowhere, instantly clearing a large area of demons near the gathering place, incredibly violent.

This is the Mechanical School's current version of the strongest protection-type mechanical creation, codenamed [Black-armored Warrior].

Its main materials come from black beasts, demons, Nightmare Creatures, along with some relatively inexpensive elemental alloys.

Exceptionally powerful, it can take on demons from Level 6 Middle Stage to Late Stage head-on, killing low-level demons like slaughtering dogs.

Yet its production cost is only 200 million Aether Stones, similar to a sixth-ring top-grade Wizard Tool.

This is the benefit of sustaining war with war, exploring new worlds.

So indeed, the new era stands as the time for Biology and Material Science.

Traditional elemental metal alchemy is too costly.

The vast majority of metals require extremely long birth cycles, almost like non-renewable resources.

While biological materials on Ancient Dragon Continent can be said to be inexhaustible.

Not only usable in traditional weapon refinement but also in manufacturing Mechanical Creatures.

Before Herman went into seclusion, he and his colleagues refined a total of twelve [Black-armored Warriors].

Currently, there are six major human gathering places on Ancient Dragon Continent, each equipped with two units standing guard around the clock.

In addition, varying numbers of low-level, middle-level Mechanical Creatures assist.

Seeing the Black-armored Warriors display epic power, the knights were greatly encouraged.

They valiantly fought against the demons under the cover of the steel creations.

"Get out of the way, a bunch of trash, I still have to step in!"

Boom!

Boom!

After two muffled explosions, a thousand-meter Sky Anger Demon descended from the sky, blasting away the Black-armored Warriors.

"Damn it, there's a Level 7!"

"Retreat, everyone back into the barrier!"

The knights quickly withdrew.

Anger around the Sky Anger Demon materialized, forming a huge axe, sweeping across, splitting the sky dome!

Crash!

The barrier trembled with a rumble, already showing cracks.

"What to do? The Sky Anger Demon is the most adept at frontal combat among the main battle demons; this barrier may not hold for long."

"It's okay, the Sky Dome System has already responded, Nine Heavens and Ten Earths Demon-Slaying Divine Shuttle is on the way, we just need to hold out a bit longer."

Sure enough.

As soon as the words were spoken, light suddenly appeared in the distant mountains.

The void split, and a thousand silver flying shuttles blazing with Thunder Fire light appeared.

"Demon Extinguishing Thousand Cranes!"

Swish, swish, swish!

In an instant, the silver flying shuttle transformed into a majestic Thunder Fire Crane.

The crane's beak fired a laser, piercing through the chest of the Sky Anger Demon.

The Sky Anger Demon's expression darkened, huge axe blocking in front.

The Flying Crane's form disintegrated, reverting to blades, swirling around the demon like a tornado.

After the clash of metal, all that was left of the Sky Anger Demon was a skeleton...

"What's going on? It seems like the Demon Extermination Shuttle is much stronger than before?"

"Yeah, defeating a Level 7 Demon wasn't so easy before, could it be that [Gray-white MechanicHerman] broke through?"

"Could be, it's so powerful!"

After slaying the disastrous Sky Anger Demon, the Demon Extermination Shuttle dispersed into a thousand sword lights, shuttling through the battlefield.

They were terrifyingly accurate, as if they all had eyes.

Each divine shuttle subunit was equipped with the most advanced demonic aura sensing devices.

Capable of tracking and guiding the source of the demonic aura.

Soon, other departments arrived to support, and the demons, sensing the situation was dire, fled hearing the news.

A professional rescue team consisting of Life School of Thought and knights trained in physique breathing technique arrived.

There were even specialized medical Mechanical Creatures, a blend of magic and science, an eerie scene.

Demonic aura treatment, wounded care, comforting the deceased, battlefield cleanup...

Everything was handled in a procedural manner.

Tower of Dawn.

Herman's consciousness returned to his body.

"The next step is the realm of All Machines are One."

Killing a Level 7 Demon was just a common occurrence for him.

He had been able to do it even at Level 6.

What he just mobilized was only a part of the Demon Extermination Shuttle, forming the [Demon Extermination Thousand Cranes] form.

If he mobilized all Demon Extermination Shuttles on Ancient Dragon Continent, forming the most powerful [Demon Extinguishing Ten Thousand Swords] form.

Harnessing the power of all machines, the power would be unimaginable.

It's just that with his current computing power, doing so would be too extreme, risking overload.

The Tower Master was full of hope for the future of the mechanic's path.

Congratulations poured in from all sides.

The short promotion ceremony the next day.

The Wizard Council also sent emissaries.

As the strongest mechanic in Wizard World, Herman's promotion was significantly important.

It wasn't just about the organization producing a Level 7 Expert.

A person equivalent to an entire division, where could such a figure be found?

Before leaving, the Tower of Dawn also signed a new cooperation agreement with the military.

During future blood battles, apart from self-use on Ancient Dragon Continent, all other [Black-armored Warriors] would be supplied to the military.

The military paid part of the funding for preliminary research and to expand the production line.

This is also why the Mechanical School could develop rapidly.

Behind it was substantial official support.

Seeing that the Tower of Dawn had already birthed its own Level 7 Expert, the knights of the Dusk Holy Temple were in awe.

Chapter 2273: Looking Back, a Millennium Has Passed!

The heart is full of envy.

Nowadays, among the Eighteen Riders, apart from those who practice dual cultivation, most have gradually advanced to Level 6 Peak.

The Blood Knight has already decided to take the Evolution Route.

As an old partner of the Blood Knight, the Black Knight is not to be outdone.

The Blood Battle is the best era for the knights.

War has brought new vitality to the stagnant layers of the peaceful era.

Resources from the upper echelons have begun to flow down.

Preparing evolution materials is easier than ever before.

Especially with the emergence of Purification Elixir, more bloodline crystals have entered circulation.

The Ash Knight has also chosen the evolution route to test his limits.

The Divine Light Knight, after carefully considering his current abilities, has decided to advance cautiously.

Reaching Level 9 and becoming a quasi-demigod is indeed quite remarkable.

The Golden Lion Knight and the Saint Ape Knight haven't made up their minds yet.

Due to their dual cultivation, they still need some time to reach Level 6 Peak.

Nevertheless, they have started preparing evolution materials in advance.

It's best to be prepared and see then.

The Goddess Knight, despite her efforts, is still at the Level 6 Middle Stage realm.

She has struggled on her journey.

Reaching Level 6 required the aid of rare treasures, and evolving is even more difficult than the previous Level 6 advancement.

So she has no expectations for herself.

This isn't something that can be resolved with just secret medicine or resources.

We must admit that in any transcendent path, in every field, talent exists.

Effort determines the lower limit, talent determines the upper limit.

For the Goddess Knight, successfully reaching Level 7 is already her ultimate pursuit.

For the rest of her life, raising her husband and children, and cultivating Eddy into a versatile talent in the Witch Knight, is also great.

She feels some regret and helplessness about falling behind.

Neither Levi nor the other knights gave her any cold shoulder, providing her comfort instead.

With the ancient banyan tree Mansion, for someone like the Goddess Knight, as long as she wishes, Levi would cultivate her into a Heroic Spirit.

The knights of the middle generation, though still far from Level 7, have each made their own choices.

Among the new generation, the Fire Dragon Knight has long since decided to continue evolving.

As one of the two supernovas among the knights, apart from Levi, he holds himself to high standards.

He has experienced evolution once and successfully passed through it, relatively speaking, he has experience.

Moreover, with a unique giant aptitude and top-notch talent, he is determined to obtain the Mythical Bloodline.

The other knights are still at the early and middle stages of Level 6 and dare not draw conclusions yet.

After all, Level 7 is still a long way off.

This matter should still be approached based on one's capabilities.

It's worth mentioning that during these decades of settlement on the Ancient Dragon Continent by the White Feathered Black Feathered Pheasant.

The cultivation progress of the Pheasant Knight has indeed been remarkable, successfully reaching Level 6 Middle Stage.

And some low-level, mid-level knights practicing other pheasant or some bird breathing techniques.

Their cultivation has skyrocketed, as if they had a packet of experience.

In fact, the bloodline essence they used had already been a diluted and weakened version.

After all, they couldn't withstand Level 8 Bloodlines.

On the Ancient Dragon Continent side.

Level 6 experts also have differing opinions on evolution.

In just a thousand years, this group of Lizardmen has broken through from Level 4 to Level 6, achieving significant progress.

The same is true for other Knights' Battle Groups.

Overall, those who choose evolution and dare to evolve are a rarity of one in ten thousand.

This is the norm for the mortal world without shortcuts.

...

Nora Year 560.

Blood Battle Year 346.

After years of preparation, the Pan-plane Biological Resources Management Department was officially established at the Wizard Council.

Drawing lessons from previous unchecked growth, and to prevent the extinction of the black beast population in the Nora Pan-plane.

The management of biological resources in the Wizard World, and black beast resources, has begun a management trial.

Critically endangered biological materials shall not circulate through official channels and major markets.

Substitute materials are encouraged to be found through demons and black beasts.

For endangered black beasts in the Wizard World, listed in the Protection List, they shall not be hunted.

Encouraging their purification and artificial breeding.

Effective breeding will earn awards and subsidies from official channels.

Principally prohibited is the hunting of black beast younglings and mothers, unless they are a plague of a group.

Appropriate closed hunting and protection periods are set to allow black beast populations sufficient time to breed.

On the other hand, the support for the School of Spiritualism is vigorously promoted.

Officially allocating 13 small continents and 2 medium continents to establish dedicated transcendent creature breeding bases.

Taking the Spiritualism Steeple as the main, with support from the Life School of Thought.

Recruiting dragon academics and biological experts from the public to carry out the work.

The Giant Beast Paradise joined as the technical supporter, exchanging and sharing resources.

Following the Body Refining Academy, the Spirit Summoning Academy also announced its establishment this year.

...

Endless Sea.

Starfire Wizard Academy.

The legendary figures of old.

Black Pearl Boy Garcia, nearing the end of his life, miraculously advanced to Seven-Circle in his old age.

As a wizard with ordinary talent, who blossomed late, a primordial soul wizard.

He once again caused quite a stir in the Endless Sea's primordial soul circles.

Soon after the ceremony, Wizard Newt and the Rose Witch passed away peacefully in their sleep with smiles.

The funeral was presided over by a Fourth-Circle Wizard, with faint freckles and glasses, exuding a scholarly aura.

Chapter 2274: Looking Back, a Millennium Has Passed!

He is Newman, son of Newt, with double affinity, and the special talent "Heart of All Things".

This is the top-level special talent of the School of Spiritualism, unparalleled.

The Newt couple arranged for Newman to join the Giant Beast Paradise early on, making him a reliable aide to Melina.

The Newt couple were kind to others, had many friends, and people from various circles of the academy and society came to mourn.

The black-armored swordsman walked slowly, bringing Elena along.

"It's the Dusk Palace Master."

"Oh my God, he's attending Newman's funeral too."

"Alas, after I die, if such a person could come to visit me, it would be quite an honor."

Amidst everyone's attention, Levi presented a bouquet of roses before the tombstone.

He gently said:

"May the two of you be as beautiful as roses in the next life."

Newman's face was filled with emotion.

"Thank you, elder!"

Levi said:

"Stay strong, young Newman."

Newt and Rose lived to a ripe old age among the Fifth-Circle Wizards, much like Ms. Marlene.

These people had peaceful temperaments, were optimistic and open-minded, and always interacted with plants, flowers, and magical creatures.

As the saying goes, "Over-wisdom can lead to one's own downfall."

He once asked the couple if they wanted to become Undead.

They both declined, saying they had no regrets in this life.

"Long time no see, Sir Levi."

Garcia came with a full smile.

Levi chuckled and said:

"Congratulations on reaching the seventh-circle."

Twice in a row, breakthroughs just before their time was up.

This Garcia is indeed an Extraordinaire in the Wizard World.

Levi even began to suspect if he was the reincarnation of a Legendary Wizard, cultivating some "secret technique that only allows breakthroughs at the end".

Garcia sighed.

"In times like these, passing away of old age is already fortunate."

"Indeed."

Levi deeply agreed.

After exchanging pleasantries, Levi left again.

In the years after refining the Shadow Emblem.

He traversed the Endless Sea and the God-forsaken Continent hunting demons, and his points began to soar again.

Last year, he killed an eighth-circle early-stage Shadow Demon that attempted to assassinate him, earning 50 million war merits.

Shadow Demons are top-level assassins among demons, and ever since the Shadow Demon Queen joined the Blood Battle.

The visible increase in wizard losses has been significant.

Thus, Shadow Demons' war merits come second only to the likes of Mind Flayers and Formless Demons.

With the Shadow Demon Claw in hand, only the Void Treasure Pearl and Demon Dragon Grass remain in the breakthrough potion materials.

His total points have now reached 1.8 billion.

In two years, he accumulated another 150 million war merits.

Over the years, the Level 8 Demon Slaughter List has changed a lot.

Last year, Destruction Realm Thunder ascended to the eighth-circle with 900 million points.

This means he lost the qualification to exchange for the Glorious Sun-Grade oddity limited to the seven-circle.

Levi became more convinced that this person is a reincarnated Legendary Wizard.

Because he stayed at the Seven Rings Perfect Realm, not for the Sun Refining Artifact, but to brand more Witch Marks.

Once finished, he promptly ascended.

As a reincarnated Legendary Wizard, he must have prepared enough Truth Oddities for himself.

So there was no need to waste time exchanging.

In this way, the Sword of Light and Hand of Fire God, the perennial third and fourth, each moved up a rank.

They now hope that the Dusk Palace Master ascends to the eighth-circle soon and no longer competes with us mere mortals...

...

Spring came and went, and as the seasons changed.

Time in Reincarnation, 24 years flew by.

In the Nora Calendar year 584.

The 370th year of the Blood Battle.

The Dusk Palace Master reigns at the top of the Demon Slaying List, never changing.

His points increase every day.

Now it has reached 3 billion!

This is a speed that drives despair.

Hand of Fire God discovered in dismay.

Even if Levi exchanged for the Shadow Emblem first, giving him a head start... he still can't catch up with that freak!

It's simply mind-numbing.

The second place Sword of Light's points are less than a third of Levi's...

Mind you, Levi is perpetually three days of fishing and two days of drying the nets.

The Wizard World has become numb, and is entirely unaware of where this man's Maximum limit is?

This year, Levi also turned a thousand years old.

He led the Shadow Army, slaughtering everywhere, becoming a thorn in the demon's heart.

The number of Mo Family Generals, not more nor less, is exactly twenty-four.

Gathering all the major active demon soldier species in the Wizard World today.

Years of slaughter have resulted in the metamorphosis of the Black Shadow Army.

Among the ten thousand strong Shadow Dragon Group, some have begun to advance one after another.

However, at this stage, only minor realm improvements are the main focus.

Only some who were originally at the peak of Level 4 Shadow have advanced to Level 5.

As of now, the proportion of Level 5 Shadows has exceeded ninety percent.

As for Level 5 advancing to Level 6, and Level 6 to Level 7, it clearly requires time to settle.

These years, the Shadow Army resided within the Shadow Emblem.

Apart from normal battlefield attrition, there are no other losses.

The demon side seems to have sensed something wrong, probably planning a new action.

Even plans against Shadows failed.

That Dusk Palace Master is indeed very difficult to deal with.

Imagine.

A one-man army with exceptionally high mobility and survival abilities, capable of hunting down an eighth-circle spectre alone on the battlefield.

It's practically an unsolvable problem.

At this moment, aside from deploying a Level 9, it seems there's no other way to eliminate him.

Yet a Level 9 Demon must first get past Dragon Flame God.

If the Dusk Palace Master escapes, it equates to losing a Level 9 Expert in vain.

To the Abyss, this is no small loss either.

Although the Abyss currently lacks the resolve to utilize a Level 9 to kill Levi.

Levi himself is always prepared to face a Level 9.

Chapter 2275: Looking Back, a Millennium Has Passed!

Within the Ancient Banyan Fairyland, the Dragon Corpse Demon refining plan proceeds smoothly.

The Dragon Corpse Demon devours Levi's wealth and resources like a bottomless pit.

Levi's consumption is unimaginable for an ordinary eighth-circle wizard.

If it weren't for the Fire Dragon Sky Work and Gandalf Pharmacy as his money trees, such a plan wouldn't be sustainable at all.

On the other hand.

"Exile Light," "Absolute Ice Point," these spatial and temporal spells, have also been cultivated to the maximum.

Even facing level 9, coupled with "Absolute Luck" and "Luck Changing Coin," the success rate should not be low.

The 17 Seven-Ring Spells he originally mastered have all been cultivated to the maximum over the years.

So, over the years, he has learned 6 additional Seven-Ring Spells, covering various major schools.

"Dripping Water Realm," from the Ocean School of Thought, also involves spatial knowledge. After casting, it can temporarily seal the enemy in any drop of water in the surrounding environment.

This spell can also work on those of higher realms.

After the spell fails, it does not cause any harm to the target.

It's just a pure control spell.

"Sea as a Boat," Ocean School of Thought spell, to be more colloquial, is "Advanced Water Escape Technique".

Like "Fire Jump," it allows teleportation to appear anywhere within ten thousand miles.

This elemental escape technique is different from Void Travel and is not restricted by Void Lockdown.

Levi specifically learned it for convenient demon-hunting in the Endless Sea.

Previously, he was hunted down by a team led by a Level 8 Late Stage Demon.

The opponent came prepared, carrying rare treasures for Void Lockdown and Divination interference.

Levi went through great effort to escape.

After escaping, he immediately exchanged for this spell at the Blood Battle Store.

"Luo Sheng Illusion Realm," a School of Dreams spell.

This was obtained by a pioneering team in the Nightmare World from a Nightmare Lord.

That Nightmare Lord accidentally obtained some inheritance from the Dreamland Steeple.

After casting, it can trap the target in a pre-woven illusion.

Combined with Levi's Nightmare Dragon ability and The Nightmare Helmet, even wizards of relatively high realms could fall for it.

"Diya's Bright Holy Sun," a Burning and Light School spell.

This spell was created by an ancient legendary wizard named Diya.

He was a strong member of the Light School and once served as the Grand Council Chairman.

Levi couldn't find any other information.

This spell can condense a giant sun of light made of holy flames with a diameter of ten kilometers.

Generally, it's a collective spell performed by the military's battle group.

Casting it alone is extremely difficult and consumes a lot.

However, its power is also great.

An ordinary Seven-Circle Perfect Wizard cultivation limit can pose a significant threat to Level 8 Demons, let alone Levi?

For some reason, seeing this spell reminded Levi of "Emon's Eternal Blazing Sun."

He wondered if the legendary wizard of the Bright Faction and the current Grand Council Chairman had any connection.

He couldn't help but suspect that Emon was Diya's reincarnation.

Of course, these are just wild guesses, as there are many spells named in this format.

In fact, when many spells were initially created, they had the prefix "xx's."

The creator's name comes first, followed by a brief description of the spell.

But over time, people only remember the spell itself and gradually forget about its creator.

"Void Prison Room," a Space Series spell.

Casting this spell requires setting up a trap cage at a Void node in advance.

When the spell hits the target, the enemy will be transported into the Void trap.

The damage is not high, also prepared by Levi for survival.

The five spells above are all top-grade.

Either dual faction or involving space, all are highly difficult.

Training in them is time-consuming and laborious, and ordinary primordial soul wizards shy away from them.

However, their effects are outstanding and can generally be used against higher realms.

But in terms of difficulty, the last one is the most heaven-defying.

"Unreachable," a spatial spell, also involves a bit of time knowledge.

It's the most difficult because its full name is "Sauron's Unreachable."

After casting, a chaotic force field of time and space forms around oneself, lasting for a moment.

This spell doesn't need to be cast on others but on oneself, so it's a 100% hit.

The chaotic force field has a diameter of five kilometers, becoming more chaotic the closer it is to oneself.

When you enter it, it seems like you're flying forward but actually moving backward.

This is not an illusion or a mistake in perception but a strange chaotic ripple in space that pushes you back.

Sometimes, you're lucky and move forward a step, but don't rejoice too soon.

When you take the second step, you'll find yourself further away than before, by half.

And so on, endlessly.

The enemy is right in front of you, yet you can't reach them...

Aside from the enemy's body, almost all types of attacks, whether spells or physical, will encounter this when entering the chaotic force field.

Of course, some are unaffected, such as curse techniques.

However, under normal circumstances, no one would risk cursing face-to-face.

That's why this spell is named "Unreachable."

Levi can only marvel at how amazing Sauron is.

Previous spells, whether "Absolute Ice Point" or "Exile Light," couldn't be effective against level 10.

But this spell works on level 10 as well, though if the realm difference is too great, its effect is minuscule, almost nonexistent.

For instance, if Levi, at level 7, faces off against level 10, it will undoubtedly be useless.

Chapter 2276: Looking Back, a Millennium Has Passed!

But if he reaches level 9, it might come into effect, although the probability is still small.

...

Six years later.

Nora Year 590.

Blood Battle Year 376.

Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

A hundred miles around, red clouds fill the sky.

On the mountain peak, endless fire elemental power surges.

The Black Phoenix spreads its wings, feeling utterly comfortable.

Mana's figure emerges from the void.

"Congratulations, congratulations, you've ascended to level 8."

The Black Phoenix smiled and said:

"Thank you, sister."

Rumble!

A flash of lightning, and a handsome, semi-transparent purple figure descends from the sky.

It is the Thunder Crocodile, cultivating in human form at Thunderclap Mountain, sensing the changes in heaven and earth, it immediately flies over.

"Not bad, in this world, besides the Master, there's finally someone who can be compared to me, the Thunderbolt Destroyer."

The Thunder Crocodile looked arrogantly, only respecting Levi.

The Black Phoenix and Mana ignored it, chatting while holding hands as they left, leaving the Thunder Crocodile awkwardly behind.

Upon learning that the Black Phoenix ascended to level 8, Levi was overjoyed, resisting the urge to draw blood on the spot.

"Since you've just ascended, take time to recover and solidify yourself."

The Black Phoenix expressed gratitude:

"Thank you, Master."

Having witnessed Levi's power, even after Levi lifted the Crimson Enslavement, it felt no rebellion.

It also knew that in the outside Wizard World, countless people would like nothing more than to be associated with the Master.

Being part of this, in hindsight, is a blessing in disguise.

Levi continued,

"Mana, bring a bottle of 80-degree Immortal Flowing Liquid for Black Phoenix as a reward for ascending to level 8."

Due to the limited production of Immortal Flowing Liquid, usually the Dragon Palace members only consume diluted versions.

Ordinary mixed-blood dragon clan, with degrees similar to fruit beer.

Sub-dragons, similar to beer.

Those with great merit can drink spirits.

This 80-degree one is a secret stash.

Just hearing about Immortal Flowing Liquid made Black Phoenix's mouth water.

This miraculous potion is incredibly addictive for transcendent creatures like them.

A sip rivals living like an earthly deity.

After expressing gratitude multiple times, Black Phoenix took the Immortal Flowing Liquid up to the banyan tree to enjoy it slowly.

With the blessing of Immortal Flowing Liquid, Dragon Scale Fruit, Spring of Immortality, and other heavenly materials and earthly treasures, plus the rich elemental power of the Ancient Banyan Fairyland itself, Dragon Palace members all grow rapidly.

Although still less than the progress of wizards in the same realm, they far exceed the dragons in the wild.

The disciplined Black Lotus Beast has reached the level 6 peak, unmatched among the sixth-level dragon clan.

Every year's Dragon Dao Conference, it always ranks first in the same realm.

A few years ago, the Snake King Dragon ascended to level 7, reaching its complete body, stepping into the peak of its life.

Just like the Fire Breathing Dragon, it started a life of leisure.

Aside from laboring in the Nightmare World, its dragon life goals seem only left to reproduce.

Both the Bloodsucking Demon Dragon and the Faceless Infant Dragon ascended to the late stage of level 6 not long ago.

The new dragon who joined the Dragon Palace decades ago, the "Red Princess," also sighed that the Fire Breathing Dragon did not deceive it.

It was already at the level 6 peak, not far from level 7.

With the help of the Dragon Palace, it smoothly ascended to level 7 last year and entered its complete body.

It has many pursuers in the Dragon Palace and is currently looking for a suitable dragon match.

The Fire Breathing Dragon is most attentive, often gifting gold, silver, and jewels to it.

However, the Red Princess seems most interested in the strongest sub-dragon, the Black Lotus Beast.

But the Black Lotus Beast is among the few with a rather steel straight-man personality, uninterested in the business of reproduction.

Within the Dragon Palace, strange relationships were born.

After several repeated rejections, the Fire Breathing Dragon lowered its standards and decisively gave up on the Red Princess.

Moreover, it shamelessly reclaimed the gold, silver, and jewels it had given the Red Princess... unprecedented indeed.

It continued pursuing the Fierce Scale Dragon and unexpectedly succeeded.

Though the Fierce Scale Dragon had a violent temperament before, it improved considerably after the arrival of the Red Princess.

Perhaps competition among the same sex prompted it to change.

Anyway, the union of the two major fire dragons is a good thing for the Dragon Palace.

Over time, other members of the Dragon Palace, whether dragons or other transcendent creatures, have also progressed.

They have no worries about food or clothing, and they can hone their combat skills and satisfy their curiosity in the Nightmare World.

Compared to the dragons in the wild, they are immensely happier.

With so many level 6 and 7 sub-dragons, plus the level 8 Blood Slaughter Bat Dragon, the Dragon Palace is quickly approaching the scale of top wizard organizations.

And its history is less than a thousand years.

Indeed, it has proven to be an organization with infinite prospects and a bright future.

When the Ash Dragon and Lopez grow up, the Dragon Palace will become a major force in the Multidimensional Plane.

...

Four years later.

Nora Year 594.

Gondor City.

Accompanied by the surging power of earth and fire elements.

The tribulation clouds slowly dissipate, and a burly giant with a red beard, half-naked, holding a sledgehammer, stands imposing between heaven and earth.

Toby sits cross-legged in front, feeling the wondrous changes of ascending to the primordial soul.

This giant is his wizard form, called the "Red-bearded Divine Skill."

"After 520 years of cultivation, I've finally achieved the primordial soul, not letting down Teacher Ace's expectations."

Toby withdrew the wizard form and Soul Artifact, disappearing amidst countless envious gazes.

In the Nether Capital, people couldn't help but sigh.

"Fire Dragon Sky Work has gained another top-level talented six-circle powerhouse."

"And it's a dual faction, plus the weapon-making is exceptional."

"It's unfair, how come all the geniuses gather there."

"Isn't there a possibility that geniuses attract each other?"

Sensing his disciple's primordial soul, the Holy Infant temporarily ended the crafting of the Heavenly Star Sword Formation.

He came before Toby and solemnly handed over a set of weapon-making inheritance to him.

"This is a weapon-making inheritance entrusted to me by one of your great ancestors. Learn it, and it will benefit you for a lifetime. His name is the 'Fire God's Hammer'!"

Toby's expression changed, his eyes filled with shock.

"Teacher, what did you say? My ancestor was the Fire God's Hammer? The seven-circle Alchemy Master from six hundred years ago?"

He naturally had heard of the Fire God's Hammer's reputation in Gondor City.

The Holy Infant's face showed a look of reminiscence.

"Yes, never forget him, never... and when you have descendants, pass down his stories and inheritance forever."

After saying this, he turned and left.

Having finally fulfilled his benefactor's entrustment, he felt a sense of release as well as sentiment.

Toby's ascension to the primordial soul made him famous worldwide.

His talents surpassed even those of the Fire God's Hammer of old, with future achievements possibly beyond the seven-circle.

The benefactor may be gone, but his Will of Fire, like an eternal furnace, will never extinguish!

...

God-forsaken Continent.

Within a shelter, Levi opened the proficiency panel.

The Crimson Emperor Dragon and the Brilliant Golden Dragon had successively reached the level 7 peak.

Long ago, he had foreseen this, directing the organization members to prepare materials.

Plus the materials exchanged from the Blood Battle Temple, the preparations for the two breathing techniques to advance have been completed.

Once reaching the absolute maximum, they will ascend to level 8 in one go!

Chapter 2277: The Return of the Sub-Dimensional Portal, Great Nora!

In the blink of an eye.

Levi was already 1010 years old.

In a thousand years, both the paths of the wizard and the knight had reached the Level 7 peak.

Along the way, he met many people and saw many others off.

Soon, he would be able to step into the Level 8 realm, and Level 9 would no longer be far away.

Cultivation is akin to climbing a high peak.

He had already surpassed most practitioners throughout history and was about to witness the scenery from a high place.

Especially at this moment, he could not afford to slack off.

Dawn was close at hand; he must not perish in the dark night.

After reaching Level 7 peak with the Crimson Emperor Dragon and Brilliant Golden Dragon Armor, combined with the path of the wizard, Levi's attack and defense were no weaker than those of a Level 8 middle-stage powerhouse.

But most of the time, when he encountered such a demon, he chose to retreat.

It's not that he couldn't win, but there was no need.

Being embroiled in prolonged battles carried risks.

Before becoming the strongest in the world, he could not abandon the excellent tradition of caution and steadiness.

Less than twenty years remained until the next opening of the ancient tower.

After a brief rest, Levi began his final push in demon hunting.

With another ten billion in war merit, he could exchange it for the Flame Emperor's Sword.

Once he exchanged for this oddity, he could advance to the eighth-circle, bidding farewell to the seventh-level Demon Slaying List.

He would head to the ninth-level Demon Slaying List to contend with the strongest under the ninth-circle in the Wizard World.

Ms. Lucy was on that list... and ranked number one.

...

A month later.

The Black Dragon Wizard, returning from a business trip in the Land of Darkness, listened to his subordinates' intel on Gandaph.

"What? Gandaph has become a senior seventh-circle wizard?"

"We must resolve the matter of Gandaph soon. In a few hundred years, when he reaches seventh-circle perfection, even if I have a senior eighth-ring cultivation, I may not be able to take him down."

If he remembered correctly, Gandaph had only advanced to the seventh circle less than two hundred years ago.

A small realm in two hundred years; such speed was explosive even among top-tier talents.

Little did he know, the Gondor Three Heroes were not only extraordinarily gifted.

But also had Soul Stones, oddities, and other heavenly materials and earthly treasures to consume.

Even top-tier talents did not have such resources.

"Soraya, of the Mountain Giant Wizard Group, is suspected to be Gandaph's lover. Since Gandaph is holed up in the Body Refining Academy afraid to come out, we will force him out."

All these years, the Council of Ten Thousand Clans had lessened their interference with the Wizard World significantly.

It's not because they had a change of heart and turned over a new leaf.

Recently, several planes under the council's jurisdiction were also invaded by demons.

The organization was in chaos, preoccupied with matters.

Fortunately, the demon invasions on the council's planes were small in scale.

All were ultimately resolved, but they still caused considerable losses.

The Black Dragon Wizard had been called away to hunt demons.

With the issue resolved, he turned his thoughts back to Gandaph.

The bounty for this person's head was valued at the equivalent of one quasi-ninth-level treasure: the Netherworld King's Armor.

It could also be exchanged for two Bright Moon Artifacts.

It was quasi-ninth-level because the Netherworld King's Armor was originally ninth-level but was damaged due to an incident.

Even so, it remained extremely powerful.

Putting on this armor rendered one impervious to swords and spears.

With his cultivation, as long as he didn't act recklessly, he could stride freely beneath the ninth-circle.

For the Black Dragon Wizard's future tribulation crossing to become a Grand Wizard, it would also be of great assistance.

With this thought, the Black Dragon Wizard immediately sprang into action.

...

Half a year later.

In the strait between the Ancient Dragon Continent and Giant Beast Paradise.

On an uninhabited small island.

A black spire pierced into the clouds.

On the sea's surface, massive shadows flitted by intermittently.

That was the Centipede Sea Demon, nicknamed "Eight-legged Sea Demon."

Since it took up guard here, no demons had been spotted in this maritime region.

Several Level 7 demons had been strangled by its Tentacles.

Many wizards knew that an eighth-level giant demon was entrenched here and steered clear.

It even had not just one Level 8 Guardian.

The depth of the Ancient Dragon Continent surprised even those ancient top-level organizations.

Once the Centipede Giant Demon was stationed, the Snow Mountain Dragon King who previously protected Giant Beast Paradise retired.

It returned to the Ancient Banyan Fairyland and, with a group of Dragon Generals, invaded the Nightmare World.

Giant Beast Paradise itself had several sixth-level creatures and battle groups stationed.

A large Demon Extermination Shuttle base was also newly established in recent years, and safety was not an issue.

Suddenly, waves surged on the sea, with powerful water elemental forces pouring into the small island from all directions.

The Eight-legged Sea Demon surfaced.

"Madam Triss has broken through."

As a Guardian, it had to protect not only the organization. .

The master emphasized repeatedly the need to safeguard Triss.

A black-robed sorceress form with a majestic visage and dignified demeanor spanned heaven and earth.

Behind the girl coiled the shadow of a massive black serpent.

On either side stood two apparitions.

One was a knight in blue heavy armor, wielding a shield and a greatsword.

The other was a king in a golden royal robe, crowned, holding a trident.

"To reach seven rings perfection at over sixteen hundred years of age, and there's hope to advance to the eighth-circle before two thousand."

Triss mused on the many changes.

"The Sea Emperor's Tour truly lives up to being a Bright Moon-level artifact, directly increasing my spiritual force by nearly two hundred points."

"And the blessing of the Sea Emperor, this special talent, is also quite good."

She was innately a Water Elemental Child.

In recent years, she had also refined several Morning Stars and a Bright Moon Artifact.

Her talent surpassed most top-tier geniuses.

Furthermore, after the projection of the Black Queen and the accompanying spirit Blue Knight, she birthed another new accompanying spirit named the Sea King.

The Black Queen excelled in using the virulently noxious exotic species water known as the Black Queen's Water.

Chapter 2278: Return of the Sub-dimensional Portal, Great Nora!

Triss's innate spell and primordial soul spell set her apart from ordinary people.

The Blue Knight excels in defense, providing a sense of security.

This "Sea King," however, is a purely aggressive companion spirit.

It has a strong desire to attack, a violent temperament, like a Tyrant, though only towards outsiders.

"A Queen, a Knight, a King... my companion spirits can play chess now."

Triss murmured to herself.

Although she doesn't have a wizard tower, with these companion spirits, she can more than protect herself, beneath the eighth-circle level.

Buzz buzz buzz.

Space began to tremble.

Triss entered a battle stance, instinctively thinking it was a demon invasion.

Looking around, she saw no demons.

"Miss, did you feel the space tremor?"

The Eight-legged Sea Demon also looked around, puzzled.

Triss said:

"I felt it, it's an extremely powerful force, pulling at the space of this land."

The Eight-legged Sea Demon said nervously:

"Could it be a Level 9 Demon coming?"

Triss seemed to think of something and shook her head.

"No, this kind of power isn't related to individual might, it comes from Nora itself... the sub-dimensional portal is returning."

At this moment,

whether on the Ancient Dragon Continent or in the Endless Sea,

the land of Fanorla, the Supreme power shook this world.

...

In the barracks.

Lucy extended her palm, and the space in front of her seemed like a pane of glass.

Behind the invisible barrier was a magical dimension.

The sub-dimensional portal.

"It has begun, the true Nora is back."

...

Central Realm.

Supreme Council.

Edmund's gaze pierced through the sub-dimensional portal, looking towards the human realm.

There was no longer any barrier between the Wizard World and the human realm.

From now on, the great era predicted by Sauron officially begins.

...

Endless Sea.

On a battlefield full of demon corpses, Levi stood still.

"This vast sea is trembling... this is an immense power beyond ordinary imagination, coming from Nora's Will itself, filled with ambition, wanting bigger, stronger! It, like all beings in the Multidimensional Plane, also wants eternity, to transcend the Multidimensional Plane and exist, untouchable by calamity!"

...

The next day.

The announcement from the Supreme Council spread quickly throughout the Wizard World.

The sub-dimensional portal will gradually integrate with the human realm over the next century.

Endless Sea, Midland Continent, Realm of Crimson...

Dojo of all schools, none can be exempted.

By then, the terms "Wizard World" and "Human World" will become history.

From now on, whether a wizard, a mortal, or alien races,

they are all part of the "Nora World."

The term "Nora" signifies "abundance, prosperity."

During the integration, all beings of Nora need not worry, everything remains as usual.

With the return of the sub-dimensional portal, most wizard settlements will appear in the form of a New World.

And once the giant of the sub-dimensional portal, "Endless Sea" merges,

Nora's scale will be dozens of times larger than the current human realm.

In fact, this is Nora's original size, only folded by the sub-dimensional space.

After experiencing major events such as the Dark Wave Revival, the five realms expedition, plane convergence, the invasion of All Clans, and the Abyss Blood Battle,

Nora's wizards and mortals have built a high capacity of endurance.

Therefore, with this sub-dimensional return, the public remains mostly calm.

They live in a rapidly changing era, and even if the Heavenly Father descends tomorrow, it would be no surprise.

Seeing the announcement from the Supreme Council, Levi feels somewhat emotional.

"I really came at the right time, encountering each and every update of the Wizard World's versions..."

...

Nora Year 600.

Blood Battle Year 386.

Body Refining Academy.

Gandaph paused his research on body tempering technique.

He looked at the message from Soraya with a puzzled expression.

Soraya invited him.

Saying she wanted to meet.

Not even mentioning why.

"Soraya has been busy with demon-hunting, haven't contacted me for a long time, why suddenly invite me to meet?"

"Could it be a surprise for me?"

"Or is someone trying to harm me, targeting Soraya to use her against me?"

Gandaph pondered.

No matter the situation, he indeed needs to go.

...

Endless Sea.

"Still short by 700 million War Merits."

Levi looked at the total of 3.3 billion points.

On the battlefield, the Shadow Army was slaughtering everywhere, while Levi was idling.

Level 4 Shadow had become increasingly scarce, now less than one-sixth of them left.

A legion capable of sweeping a medium-sized civilization is indeed formidable.

He temporarily halted demon-hunting and headed towards the God-forsaken Continent.

He had similar thoughts to Gandaph, suspecting Soraya had issues.

"After a period of silence, it seems like the Council of Ten Thousand Clans is stirring again."

...

God-forsaken Continent.

Mountain Giant Wizard Group.

"Laplace, I need to return to Midland Continent, could you hold things here for a while?"

Soraya said to her cousin.

Laplace said:

"All right, you go. Be careful."

He looked at his cousin's departing figure, sighing repeatedly.

Recently, after Soraya's trip to Midland Continent, she seemed a bit different.

She became taciturn, always looking gloomy.

He estimated it was probably due to a small conflict with Gandaph.

He didn't pay much attention.

In such matters, as an outsider, he couldn't say much.

He knew Gandaph's character, a good person, just a bit careless.

Soraya had a delicate mind, occasional friction was normal.

Love is too complex, which is why Laplace has yet to settle down.

The seventh-circle isn't his limit, he still aspires to the eighth-circle.

Chapter 2279: The Return of the Sub-Dimensional Portal, Great Nora!

As his father was a Grand Wizard and managed a large wizard family, he was not the only offspring.

Therefore, there were not many expectations placed upon him.

...

Somewhere on the God-forsaken Continent.

"Are you sure Gandaph will come?"

"Not sure, do you have a good plan?"

"No..."

"Then that's settled."

"Is my Void God Crystal ready?"

"It's ready, just help me kill this person and it's yours."

"I have a question. Why do you humans talk about emotions? Isn't that a weakness for enemies? We, from the Void Spirit Clan, all procreate under the guidance of the Supreme Void Emperor, entering the Void Hall."

"Don't ask me, I don't understand either, only foolish mortals talk about love."

Two figures were hidden in the shadows, whispering.

One of them wore a black robe, had an ugly face, and a sturdy build; it was the Black Dragon Wizard.

The other had a blurred form, with multicolored lights swirling, and the surrounding space twisted like waves.

Its name was Void Abyss, a level 8 powerhouse of the Void Spirit Clan and a Venerable of the Council of Ten Thousand Clans.

On the mountain peak ahead, Soraya stood alone.

It was clear that she had been controlled by the Black Dragon Wizard using special means.

This was indeed a trap set for Gandaph.

Earlier, when Soraya went out alone, he and Void Abyss collaborated to capture her.

As an early stage level 8 Void Spirit, Void Abyss was skilled in void techniques, making it impossible for a seven-circle wizard to escape.

Combined with the Black Dragon Wizard, an eighth-circle senior wizard, the plan went smoothly.

The price for Void Abyss's help was the Void God Crystal.

The energy core for the wizard's virtualization ceremony, which was a supreme treasure for the Void Spirit Clan for cultivation.

Looking at Soraya's back, the Black Dragon Wizard felt uncertain.

"Will Gandaph come?"

Several days later.

When a figure in a white robe appeared.

He knew he had bet correctly.

"Void Abyss, remember to seal the void to prevent these two from escaping with rare treasures."

"No problem."

On the mountaintop.

Gandaph looked at Soraya, sensing the movements around.

"Soraya, is there anything you need?"

Soraya replied:

"No, I just wanted to see you."

Bang!

Suddenly, a sharp stone spike formed and shot toward Gandaph's forehead.

Gandaph sighed.

It seemed that Soraya was indeed controlled, and the Council of Ten Thousand Clans had acted against those around him.

Crack.

The stone spike struck Gandaph's forehead, as if piercing into asphalt.

Countless Dragon God Runes flickered, and Divine Light spread out, shattering the stone spike.

Soraya, seeing that the sneak attack couldn't break Gandaph's prepared defense, without hesitation, chanted an incantation.

Her face was unusually flushed.

Her primordial soul emerged, exuding a dangerous aura; she was about to self-destruct...

Bang!

Gandaph decisively shattered the protective force field with one palm, reaching into Soraya's left chest.

He grasped the scorching heart, where numerous creepy worms squirmed in and out...

Her heart had completely become a worm nest.

"This... this is?"

Gandaph crushed Soraya's heart, Divine Light eradicated the worms.

Soraya's body went limp, her self-destruction was interrupted, and she collapsed into his arms, her aura quickly weakening.

The control over her body was resolved, but Soraya's primordial soul was still under control.

The worms were directly controlling her soul, extremely vicious.

With no other choice, Gandaph grasped Soraya's primordial soul, setting down a spell restriction.

The body is easy to handle; for a wizard, it's just a vessel, the original can heal it with the Death Ember Dragon's power.

But the primordial soul seemed somewhat troublesome.

Gandaph reached out to tear the void, finding it already locked.

His expression remained calm, as he had clearly anticipated this.

"Roar!"

A fierce dragon's roar erupted into this world.

The ferocious, terrifying, and sinister ten-winged giant dragon carried with it an endless wind disaster, emerging in the sky.

"Destruction Domain!"

The Black Dragon Wizard raised a hand, and within a radius of 150 miles, black streams of energy destroying heaven and earth prevailed.

The Demon Suppressing Ming King protected Gandaph, Divine Light reflecting upon the world, holding up a safe space.

"Black Dragon Wizard, so it was you."

"Ming King Dragon Elephant Fist!"

The violent fist wind swept out, a total of twenty dragon elephant phantoms charging out.

The Destruction Domain was torn apart, the Black Dragon Wizard watching this scene in surprise.

"This is just a seven-circle senior, yet with such power, if he advances to the eighth-circle, how formidable could he be? This child must not be left alive, or he'll be the next Dusk Palace Master!"

He rode the Ten-winged Heavenly Dragon, roaring forward.

Black energy enveloped his entire body, forming armor.

A hurricane raged around his right arm, an intense black shockwave swept out.

Though he was a Cave Wizard, he cultivated the Ten-Winged Heavenly Dragon Body Tempering Technique, practicing both magic and physical cultivation together.

His true power was definitely not inferior to a regular eighth-circle senior wizard.

This strike, a seven-circle senior wizard wouldn't survive without serious wounds.

The fist wind tore apart the earth, unstoppable.

Gandaph activated the Dragon God Domain, overlapping storms and oceans.

His figure moved like a phantom, dodging the lethal strike.

Simultaneously, the Black Dragon Wizard felt the time around him still, affecting even himself.

Boom!

The twenty dragon elephants roared again, influenced by the Dragon God Domain, the Black Dragon Wizard couldn't dodge.

The protective force field cracked, body-refining runes flickered around him, blocking the aftershock.

Clearly, with his methods, Gandaph was unable to inflict substantial damage.

"This Gandaph actually mastered the means of the Path of Time?"

Chapter 2280: Sub-Dimensional Portal Returns, Great Nora!

The Black Dragon Wizard was suspicious and uncertain, but fortunately, he had already anticipated that Gandalf would be difficult to deal with, so he had invited experts.

Void Abyss made a move.

"A dignified Black Dragon Venerable, yet reduced to such a sorry state by a Senior Seven-Circle Wizard. Let me handle this." .

Gandalf's "Dragon God Domain" couldn't last for long.

Once it was over, he wouldn't be able to contend with the Black Dragon Wizard no matter what.

But he wasn't flustered.

He saw the constrained void seem to be struck by a heavy hammer, invisible cracks spread, and the space shattered like a mirrored surface.

"What? Another expert? Wasn't it said that Ace and Lord Victor were both in seclusion?"

The Black Dragon Wizard focused his gaze, startled.

"Dusk Palace Master?!"

The black-armored swordsman appeared in the void, the Red Emperor Domain unfolded, and golden gravity transformed into lightning dancing from sky to earth.

Generally speaking, Levi wouldn't actively hunt Level 8 Middle Stage powerhouses.

But since the other party dared to scheme against Gandalf, it had to be dealt with.

Void Abyss exclaimed.

"Dusk Palace Master? The plan has changed, collaboration is canceled!"

It transformed into a beam of light, instantly fleeing into the void, only to be brushed down by a dark light.

Rumble!

Lightning filled the area within a hundred miles, enveloping Void Abyss within.

A thunderous man stood in the void, his robes fluttered— it was the Thunder Crocodile.

"It's been a long time since I exercised, let's use you to test my moves."

Behind the Thunder Crocodile stood several imposing figures.

One stood on a wizard tower blooming with flowers; it was Elena.

One silhouette showed a black snake, a knight, and a king's shadow— Triss had also arrived.

There was also a woman clad in a black robe, with a pretty face, and black feathers swirling around her like secret swords.

The Black Phoenix was eager to try— after advancing to Level 8, she hadn't had the chance to showcase her skills.

Level 8 Thunder Element, Level 8 Black Robed Woman... and two women renowned in the Wizard World.

Yet that wasn't all; a stream of water flowed from the void and transformed into a towering giant ape, it was Lopez.

After two hundred years, drinking Immortal Flowing Liquid every day, he had also advanced to Level 7 Peak, just a step away from Level 8.

Seeing such a luxurious lineup descend like divine arms from the heavens, the Black Dragon Wizard decisively abandoned the plan and fled in panic.

A magnificent golden greatsword slashed down, unstoppable.

"Demon Dragon Roar!"

The Black Dragon Wizard struck with a palm, the black shockwave clashing with the greatsword, dispersing clouds within hundreds of miles.

Levi said:

"Kill them all, leave none!"

Levi planned to personally deal with the Black Dragon Wizard while the others surrounded that Void Spirit Clan.

He suspected the enemy might not be simple, so he brought Triss and Elena along.

As expected, there were two Level 8s, and one was a Eight-Ring Senior, the famous Black Dragon Wizard.

He needed the Void Treasure Pearl for alchemy— this Void Spirit Clan was indeed timely.

To prevent their escape, he even let Elena control the Chaotic Sky Demon Mirror.

The Black Dragon Wizard said:

"Dusk Palace Master, you and I have no enmity, I don't wish to oppose you, there's no need for a life-or-death struggle, right?"

Levi replied:

"You've defected to the Council of Ten Thousand Clans and dared come to the Wizard World. I ran into you, so you might as well kill yourself."

The Black Dragon Wizard cursed.

This is so obviously premeditated, how could it be just running into him?

What's the relationship between Gandalf and the Dusk Palace Master?

That they actually invited him.

Boom!

Another collision, the greatsword knocked the Black Dragon Wizard flying, the Emperor charged aggressively.

The Black Dragon Wizard was horrified; he was an Eight-Ring Senior body-refining wizard after all.

Practicing one of the Ancient Four— the body tempering technique.

Among wizards of the same realm, there were few opponents.

Had he not defected from the wizard civilization, the title King of Body Refining should have been his.

As powerful as he was, he actually lost in strength to this Dusk Palace Master.

Is the Knight Breathing Technique really that formidable?

Normal breathing techniques naturally wouldn't be so absurd to fight beyond their realm.

But the problem was Levi was the Crimson Emperor Dragon, mastery in extreme power.

With the Red Emperor Domain open, in terms of strength, under Level 9, he really feared no one.

The Hell Strength King, the Level 8 Demon Elephant, was suppressed by him.

Nevertheless, although at a disadvantage, the Black Dragon Wizard had a significant realm advantage.

For the time being, Levi couldn't subdue him.

He was simply waiting, as usual, for the moment when his opponent exhausted his strength.

After ascending to Level 7 Late Stage with the Heavenly King Dragon Breathing Skill, his endurance was extraordinary.

Rumble!

Black gaseous energy transformed into a fist, breaking through Levi's protective force field.

But was blocked by the golden armor on his body surface.

"Damn, a Level 8 Exotic Treasure?"

The Black Dragon Wizard cursed inwardly.

The Golden Wind Jade Armor, as the Clan Treasure, showcased its might.

Even Eight-Ring Senior attacks could be withstood for a period.

The Black Soul Demon Tower descended, the entire battlefield was engulfed in the sinister Death Storm Domain.

Two Level 7 Peak Dark Evil Souls emerged, their death scythes slashing toward the Black Dragon Wizard.

"Wizard Tower?"

The Black Dragon Wizard realized for the first time his impoverishment.

Aside from an Eight-Ring Soul Artifact "Wind Dragon Burial" armor and a Level 8 Exotic Treasure, he had nothing to boast about.

In contrast, the damn rich folks on the opposite side— the more he thought about it, the angrier he got!

"Wind Roc!"

With a thought, accompanied by a clear cry, a white giant eagle with a wingspan of three kilometers emerged.

This was his companion spiritual creature, obtained from refining the Bright Moon Artifact years ago, powerful in strength.

Levi remained calm.

"Competing with companion spiritual creatures? Si Lei, come out!"

Rumble!

The sky cracked open with a vortex, terrifying thunderbolts struck down from above.

The Black Dragon Wizard didn't dare to resist head-on, dodging frantically.

On the Cloud Summit, a group of companion spiritual creatures appeared, gathered before the human-headed, serpent-bodied Thunder God.
