

Wizard 234

Chapter 234: Entering the Wizard World! The Ashen Tower! (7)

In the middle of the night, Wenster brought Levi and the rest out of the city and headed straight for the wilderness.

They arrived at a beautiful valley with beautiful lakes and mountains the following day.

They saw a dilapidated wooden house in the forest by the lake. On the shore, a middle-aged, tall, thin man dressed in ordinary noble clothes was fishing.

"Lord Ron, I've brought everyone here. There are a total of thirty-six wizard talents," Wenster said respectfully.

It was evident that Lord Ron was an official wizard, and he was also the one who brought Levi and the others into the Realm of the Unbelievers.

Levi was still on his guard. So far, there had been no hints from the Spider

Sensing. If this wizard wanted to harm him, he would immediately run away.

Wizard Ron nodded slightly, "Well done. There's someone with dual elements in this batch. You've worked hard."

Ron threw a small bag at Wenster. It was likely a bag of treats.

"Then I'll take my leave first. I hope everyone here can become an official wizard one day," Wenster finished his work and left in a hurry.

Ron glanced at Levi and the rest.

There were not many people he paid attention to.

Unlike the "geniuses" like Jagri, who had two or three elements, only Levi and the Fist of the Empire caught his attention among the Children of Chaos.

Ron's Detection spell could sense that these two were powerhouses among grand knights. The feeling they gave him was already infinitely close to that of legendary knights.

"Not bad."

Ron was delighted. Legendary knights were also very rare in Realm of the Unbelievers.

Some famous legendary knights had statuses that were not inferior to the official wizards.

To a wizard, having a legendary knight as an apprentice was not bad.

However, he frowned slightly because these two people had already cultivated the Meditation Art. Their spiritual power was different from ordinary people.

Ron did not think about this anymore. He looked at these young figures whose eyes were filled with confusion, anticipation, or determination. He could not help but think of when he embarked on the wizard journey a hundred years ago. He was in high spirits. Now, the cruelty of the wizarding world had smoothed the edges of time.

"My name is Ron, the guide of your wizard path, a member of the [Pan-Plane Wizard Council]. From today onwards, you will embark on a journey you have never imagined, pursuing the truth you can never reach. In this process, you may face many unimaginable dangers and strange things. Therefore, before entering the Realm of the Unbelievers, I want to tell you that the wizarding world is less beautiful than you think. You can live the rest of your life in the human world, but in our world, all the power and status you have now will start from scratch.

"Therefore, if you are not determined to become a wizard, think carefully before stepping in. Are you ready to become a wizard?"

"I will give you seven minutes to consider. After seven minutes, those still willing to follow me will stay, and those who are unwilling will leave. Turning back will be difficult once you set foot on this path."

Ron's expression was solemn as he spoke in the standard language of the Emerald Kingdom.

With a wave of his hand, the ordinary noble attire on his body changed into a black wizard robe with flame patterns.

These young people looked at the wizard and decided in their hearts.

Naturally, Levi did not hesitate.

He had already made this decision when he knew about the wizard's existence.

As time ticked by, some of the young nobles struggled.

In the end, six chose to turn around and leave, returning the way they came.

Only 30 people remained standing.

Perhaps the wizarding world was exciting, but to them, they were not ready to face that unknown world.

Wizard Ron was expressionless. He took a piece of parchment and spread it on the ground. There was something like a map drawn on it.

He muttered something as if he was reciting a spell.

Then, the parchment continued to expand, and the map grew. Levi stared at the map carefully.

The map had endless blue oceans, red deserts, ice fields, black mountain ranges, and green forests.

Levi felt this map was similar to the current map of the Seven Kingdoms, but it was not the same.

On these maps, Levi also saw some “doors.” These “doors” suddenly appeared on the flat map, shining brightly. It was very magical.

They probably used this tool to enter the Realm of the Unbelievers.

"Realm of Ice." "Realm of Azure Cloud."

"The Realm of Life."

"These are the names of Realm of the Unbelievers," Levi had some understanding of the wizarding world and muttered.

Then Ron looked at the nervous newcomers and said, "Next, stand at the door where I tell you to stand when I read the name. This map is the distribution map of all the schools under the Pan-Plane Wizard Council. Each school occupies a Realm of the Unbelievers. I will assign you to a school according to your elemental affinity. This map will send you directly to the receiver of the corresponding school. There, your teachers have already sent people to wait. They will contact you. In the future, you will follow your teachers and cultivate well. As long as you become an official wizard, you will automatically become a member of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council. You will also truly appreciate the wonders of the Wizard World..”