Chapter 2341: The Witch Joins, A New Millennium, A New Ancient Dragon Continent!

"In the end, what it really comes down to is having enough raw strength."

Levi felt a heavy heart.

He retrieved the corpse of the Dragon Abomination he had slain earlier.

"The [Death Burial Dragon], a Dragon of Death that usually appears only in Hell or the Underworld, a sub-dragon of the [Nether Dragon]. I didn't expect to encounter it in the Abyss."

The Nether Dragon, the most famous Dragon of the Death Sect, is also known as the [Dragon of the Underworld] or [Herald of the Underworld].

"My Scarlet Dragon Breathing Technique is also nearing its Maximum. Next, I'll use it as material for the Evolution Potion."

Previously, he had obtained a bloodline crystal of the [Ghost Shadow Dragon] at an auction.

The combination of the two should allow the Scarlet Dragon to evolve into a Mythical Breathing Method.

Additionally, Levi gained a substantial war merit of 150 million, mainly from the Mind Flayers and this Dragon Abomination.

"Levi, I'm back."

Elena arrived, worn out by travel.

"I heard the situation in the Blood Battle has escalated again. I won't leave the Ancient Dragon Continent anymore."

Levi sighed.

"The upcoming Blood Battle will be even tougher. You are not far from achieving Seven Rings Perfection in your cultivation now. Push forward and rise to the eighth-circle for greater security."

Elena said:

"That's what I was thinking too."

At this stage, she had already exchanged for all the Sequence Artifacts in the [Water God Series] she could obtain.

The next use of her war merit would be to exchange for a random Sun Refining Artifact valued at 500 million.

On the other hand, she could also go back to collecting Sequence Artifacts of the Water King and Sea Emperor.

Although the effects of these artifacts might not match the Water God's, they're certainly better than nothing.

If she could gather them all, with her talent and these artifacts paving the way, along with her extended lifespan, the chances of her ascending to Grand Wizard would be significantly higher, almost a certainty, even if not absolutely guaranteed.

Now, with demon battlefields everywhere, one could hunt demons right at the doorstep, without needing to travel specifically to the God-forsaken Continent.

On this day,

Triss and the Old Witch arrived at the Ancient Dragon Continent.

"Many thanks to the Dusk Palace Master for the rescue, saving many lives of the Witch's Family."

The Old Witch spoke sincerely.

Levi said:

"No need for thanks, Witch. Witch's Family is extremely important to Elena; I couldn't just stand by and do nothing."

Elena smiled gently, feeling a small pride inside that her man had such strength and resolve.

The Old Witch hesitated for a moment, then spoke solemnly:

"Dusk Palace Master, I wish to lead the Witch's Family to join the Ancient Dragon Continent. What are your thoughts on this?"

Upon hearing this, both Levi and Elena felt a bit shaken.

Elena never thought that the Witch's Family would join the Ancient Dragon Continent, considering it's a top-level organization with a proud reputation, usually annexing other organizations.

Levi had considered it, but he didn't expect it to happen so soon.

It seems the recent demon attacks have put the Old Witch on edge.

The tide of the Blood Battle grows ever more intense.

The ship of Witch's Family is becoming more and more fragmented and unstable.

Conversely, the Ancient Dragon Continent has repeatedly proven with strength that it is truly a top-level organization, and still on the rise at that.

The Witch's Family has to plan for its future.

The closest choice is clearly the Ancient Dragon Continent.

At this moment, matters of pride and reputation hold no weight.

Winter is coming; only one word matters:

"Living"!

Triss looked at Levi, also hoping the Witch's Family would merge with the Ancient Dragon Continent.

The Old Witch was soon to enter a life-or-death seclusion; she would either rise to Grand Wizard, or perish and fade away.

In either scenario, she would leave the Witch's Family.

An eight-ring senior Wind Witch, plus a dragon, clearly wouldn't be enough to support this vast organization.

Levi said:

"Agreed, but joining the Ancient Dragon Continent means adhering to our organizational rules; no one gets special treatment."

The Old Witch replied:

"I understand."

They then discussed the detailed terms and implementation specifics of this merger plan.

...

Two years later.

Nora Calendar Year 714, Year 502 of the Blood Battle.

After making full preparations and smoothing out all relations and obstacles, the Witch's Family officially announced:

"Due to certain irresistible and objective factors, to ensure the continued operation of the organization and prevent the demise of the Witch's Family legacy, as of Nora Calendar Year 714, the Witch's Family is officially joining the Ancient Dragon Continent, becoming a subsidiary organization. The Witch's Family will retain its current organizational title and high-level leadership positions. The leader of the organization, Lady Vielana the Old Witch, is officially stepping down from her role in the Witch's Family. The Dusk Palace Master will assume the position of organizational leader. All debts, commercial contracts, and obligations of the Witch's Family will be assumed by the Ancient Dragon Continent."

This announcement, except for those already aware of it among the top ranks of the Sorren Continent, shocked other top-level organizations, high-level organizations, and even the nomadic wizard community.

That an ancient organization like the Witch's Family, with a history of tens of thousands of years, would merge into a barely millennia-old Ancient Dragon Continent?

Such a scene defies belief.

Although the Ancient Dragon Continent is in its heyday, an emaciated camel is still bigger than a horse. This situation was anticipated by no one.

Levi's communication device was on the verge of exploding.

"Hey, does the Ancient Dragon Continent need more people? I'm currently single. —Gatling"

"Congratulations, congratulations. —Light Divine Sword"

"Congratulations to the Ancient Dragon Continent for stepping further to become a truly top-level organization! —Harvis"

...

Numerous familiar friends and relatives came to offer congratulations. Gatling even joked about wanting to join the Ancient Dragon Continent.

For a time, the Ancient Dragon Continent stood at the forefront of the storm. Criticism and concerns began to surface as well.

Chapter 2342: The Witch Joins, A New Millennium, A New Ancient Dragon Continent!

[Star Cluster Legal Newspaper: Today, our newspaper interviewed the former Endless Sea Law Enforcement Department's head, Golden Walker Florio. The Golden Walker expressed some concerns about this acquisition: top wizard organizations are the confidence and backbone of many grassroots wizards and civilians. This move has two major risks: first, some emerging organizations that have not been historically tested are growing wildly, affecting the healthy landscape of organizational ecology, which does not align with the congress's anti-monopoly stance. Second, it further reduces the credibility and authority of top wizard organizations. It is suggested that the Wizard Council consider this move from a broader perspective, and if necessary, revoke the merger.]

[Witch Independent Daily: Throughout history, the Witch's Family has been renowned for its female characteristics, being a sacred land in the hearts of many Ocean School of Thought witches. With a new leader now, it is feared that it will lose this advantage and fade into obscurity.]

...

There are many similar comments.

Apart from the blood battle, there is finally something new. Bored wizards have seemingly found an outlet for their grievances.

Those in favor and against the merger have split into two factions, making opinions clear.

However, the Supreme Council, which holds the decision-making power in such matters, has remained silent.

Levi is not worried at all.

He took two years to announce the merger because he was seeking opinions.

For such a significant matter, he didn't dare to make decisions lightly.

He consulted the Black Abyss Sovereign, Frost Witch, and some respected Grand Wizard seniors.

The Old Witch also sought multiple connections, consulting on the feasibility of this matter.

Historically, top wizard organizations being acquired has never really happened. They're usually dissolved or directly annihilated.

Eventually, even the busy Grand Council Chairman Edmund issued a statement:

[The merger is feasible, but the details need to be handled well, and the affected personnel properly arranged to avoid potential negative impacts. The Black Abyss Sovereign will supervise the merger.]

This is the confidence behind the Ancient Dragon Continent's acquisition of the Witch's Family.

The highest position in the Wizard World agreed. What is that Golden Walker worth anyway?

Also, that Witch Independent Daily always advocates for maintaining the Witch's Family's characteristics, calling it a sacred land for witches.

But over the millennium, the enrollment quota of the Witch's Family has declined year after year, and this group hasn't supported the sacred land.

They sound like they're thinking for the witches, but behind the scenes, it's a business.

So Levi completely disregards these remarks.

He knows Golden Walker Florio is from the Letney Family, formerly titled as Divine Gold Wizard.

He once served as Clan Leader, later transferred to the Central Realm.

Recently, he was promoted to Grand Wizard, becoming one of the Great Councilmen, earning the title Golden Walker.

The Letney Family celebrated extensively, inviting many people to the feast, creating a great spectacle.

Their intention was to let everyone know the Golden Lightning family now has a Grand Wizard.

Then, the feast was ambushed by demons, causing significant casualties.

The congress immediately ordered that during the blood battle, no organization shall hold large-scale promotion ceremonies, disrupting the order of resistance.

Externally, the Witch's Family started a comprehensive relocation effort.

The previous location was somewhat far from the Ancient Dragon Continent, inconvenient for mutual support between organizations.

Additionally, the prior demon invasion caused substantial demonic aura pollution.

Although Oasis One was planted, it would take a long time to purify.

The Ancient Dragon Continent doesn't lack land now.

A circle of New World territories surrounding it has been acquired with a fortune, turned into satellite continents, forming a structure like stars clustering around the moon.

These New World territories are mostly within ten thousand miles of the Ancient Dragon Continent.

After Herman advanced to the seventh-circle, the upgraded Sky Dome Defense System's scanning range further increased.

Essentially, with the Ancient Dragon Continent at the center and these satellite continents, they can be included in the alert range.

Thus, if a demon catastrophe occurs anywhere, other places can respond swiftly.

Level 8 Guardians can use Void Travel and other means to reach and rescue within moments.

All members of the new Witch's Family must take the oath through Excalibur.

This is the prerequisite for joining the Ancient Dragon Continent.

Additionally, Levi conducted thorough inspections.

Every member, from primordial soul wizards to mortal rookies, underwent strict scrutiny.

In this process, many demonic spies, mainly Mind Flayers and Formless Demons, were discovered and eradicated.

The inspection method is simple.

Including relevant clauses in the oath achieves it.

As long as the demon's methods don't surpass this rare treasure, Excalibur, don't think about lying.

The Ancient Dragon Continent used this method to inspect and eliminate demon spies, proving effective.

After ensuring there are no issues.

The Witch's Family's own treasure vault, knowledge, teaching system, and organizations like the Tower of Dawn and Dusk Holy Temple gradually integrated.

From then on, students and teachers can attend lessons at any organization without barriers.

Resources and treasures from major organizations could be exchanged using the Ancient Dragon Continent's contribution points.

These points are termed Ancient Dragon Points.

As the organization leader, Levi instantly owned the knowledge base of a top wizard organization, feeling very pleased.

Besides, Eight-Circle Magic was no longer scarce; he could just pick and learn selectively.

Regarding the Witch's Family's treasure vault, he didn't interact with it much.

There were many good items inside, but those weren't particularly useful for someone at his level.

He'd rather leave them for the organization members to exchange.

Of course, while being the organization leader brings numerous rights and benefits, it also entails corresponding responsibilities.

In the future, excluding the mortals, thousands of mid to lower-level wizards, even apprentice wizards, within the Witch's Family would need his shelter.

This responsibility is a heavy burden.

That's why the overwhelmed Old Witch decided to withdraw.

Levi did attempt to retain her, but she seemed to have found a place in the Central Realm in advance.

Or maybe she's worried that her influence as the "old leader" at the Witch's Family might cause misunderstandings with Levi.

In any case, the Old Witch chose to leave.

Levi's first action upon taking over the Witch's Family was to abolish the outdated rule of accepting only female wizards.

From then on, all promising talents, regardless of gender or background, could qualify for selection interviews.

Initially, this move encountered substantial resistance, as the organization of witches has formed some inertia, which temporarily couldn't accept it.

Yet, he ignored it as if he never saw it, proceeding like a Great Dictator.

Gradually, people saw the Dusk Palace Master's firm decision and accepted this fact. Of course, more witches expressed support.

Firstly, they believed the Witch's Family needed new vitality. Secondly, without the Dusk Palace Master, they would have long become Demon Blood Food during the previous demon catastrophe.

Chapter 2343: Receiving the Immortal Banyan Dragon and the Five Beasts Health Care Method!

A year later.

Nora 715, Blood 503.

Inside the Magic Tree.

Wearing a palace-style long dress, the Immortal Banyan Dragon Lady, appearing as a young maiden, gazed at the black-armored swordsman in front of her.

"The five-hundred-year contract seems unnecessary now, for I am now the dragon of the Ancient Dragon Continent."

Levi smiled and said:

"Indeed, as the leader of the Witch's Family, I hereby announce the termination of your Guardian contract with the Witch's Family."

The Immortal Banyan Dragon asked:

"Terminate? What should I do next?"

Levi responded seriously:

"I wish to invite the lady to join an organization belonging solely to the Dragon Clan, one that holds infinite light and future."

The Immortal Banyan Dragon! From the day Levi met her, she was unforgettable.

After a thousand years, he finally justifiably possessed her!

His initial plan was to gain success and then find a way to escape with the Immortal Banyan Dragon.

Unexpectedly, he directly acquired both the dragon and the organization.

The maiden's gaze flickered.

"What organization?"

Levi spoke each word clearly.

"Dragon Palace!"

Levi planned to bring the Immortal Banyan Dragon to the Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

It's a pure-blooded Dragon Clan; if left outside, it might get captured by a demon one day or perish prematurely, leading to great loss.

The hope for the path of knights in Hundred Flowers lies with the Immortal Banyan Dragon.

The new Guardian of the Witch's Family was assigned to the Thunder Crocodile.

With Levi's current power, he's not worried about other organizations coveting the Thunder Crocodile.

He's already acquired top-tier organizations; besides the Grand Wizards of Sorren Continent, who else would dare to covet his possessions?

It's clear to everyone that his relationship with the Black Abyss Sovereign is quite good.

Triss from the Witch's Family is also a student of the Black Abyss Sovereign.

In terms of power and influence, Levi has already reached the pinnacle of the Wizard World.

He's a giant that others need to be wary of.

The Immortal Banyan Dragon thought for a moment and said:

"All right."

After pledging an oath, she followed Levi, appearing as a young girl as they arrived at the Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

Then, she saw the towering giant tree.

"Wait...is this Queen Banyan? Are you that Three-Headed Dragon Abomination?"

The Immortal Banyan Dragon was somewhat shocked.

Although her memory is not great, she has a profound impression of Queen Banyan.

And also that Three-Headed Dragon Abomination who snatched the Holy Grail...

She said with a complex expression:

"So you're indeed the Three-Headed Dragon Abomination. This unsolved mystery is finally unraveled, so you actually obtained the Holy Grail of Immortality long ago..."

Levi, with an apologetic smile, said:

"Sorry, I deceived the lady back then; the Grail is of great importance to me."

The Immortal Banyan Dragon, in the form of a maiden, exhibited expressions from astonishment to melancholy to sadness.

"Oh, Levi, I trusted you so much, and you deceived me... Wuwuwu, I really thought it was taken by the Three-Headed Dragon Abomination, and I could never retrieve it. I didn't expect someone looking so honest like you to be so deceitful."

It was evident that she was genuinely distressed.

"Tsk tsk tsk, Levi, you've done quite a mischief, deceiving an underage Immortal Banyan Dragon. I condemn you."

Mana, in a green robe and walking lightly, came over to watch, unfazed by the excitement.

Levi was left helpless.

Mana approached the maiden, holding her arm, and said:

"Don't be angry; from now on, we're one family."

The maiden sniffled with teary eyes.

"You don't know how much I trusted him; there's no point in mentioning it."

Having lived for a millennium, Levi has taken countless lives.

It's the first time he felt such a heavy sense of guilt.

He felt as if he had deceived an innocent girl.

The problem is, this Immortal Banyan Dragon is thousands of years old, seemingly quite mature.

It's unexpected to encounter such a situation today.

Levi immediately hinted for Mana to fetch a pile of Dragon Scale Fruits and a bottle of high-purity Immortal Flowing Liquid.

Mana tapped the maiden's back and said:

"I recall your name being Idrasala, right? Levi mentioned you to me. You must be younger than me, so I'll call you sister... Come on, eat and drink, these are Levi's most treasured items. Eat to your heart's content, and make him sleepless at night."

The Immortal Banyan Dragon sobbed a bit and initially refused to eat.

However, after Mana fed her a sip of Immortal Flowing Liquid, the situation changed.

The maiden licked her lips, craving more.

"So fragrant, so sweet!"

Previously, when trading with her, Levi used Dragon Scale Fruits.

Immortal Flowing Liquid, such strategic material, was never disclosed.

"Gulp gulp."

Seduced by the fragrance, the maiden soon finished a large bucket of Immortal Flowing Liquid.

In Levi's mind...

"That's enough to brew a year's worth of Flying Immortal Platform Wine..."

After drinking, the maiden stowed away the Dragon Scale Fruits, hiding them in her dress to savor slowly, then pouted and said:

"If you wanted the Holy Grail of Immortality, you could have just asked. To me, it's not essential; my curiosity was only piqued because it might involve the Immortal Banyan Dragon. Why be so guarded around me?"

Mana said:

"Exactly."

Levi was left without words.

"Well, from now on, we're all part of the Dragon Palace. I'll guide you through it."

The Immortal Banyan Dragon snorted softly and said:

"Okay."

Now that she's boarded the pirate ship, what else can be done?

Sky Fire Fortress.

The Black Lotus Beast said:

"Stop what you're doing, log off briefly; a new important dragon has arrived."

The Fire Breathing Dragon hurriedly asked:

"Is it a male or female?"

Feeling the Fierce Scale Dragon's unkind gaze, it explained:

"I'm mainly concerned about the propagation issues of our young dragons."

The Crimson Fire Dragon said:

"If it's someone Lord Dragon King values this much, I guess it's a Legendary Dragon Race."

The Wind Dust Dragon drew in a sharp breath.

"Our Dragon Palace is developing too fast. Not long ago, we recruited a Legendary Dragon Race, and now another arrives. With this addition, we have three Legendary Dragons."

Chapter 2344: Subduing the Immortal Banyan Dragon, [Five Beasts Health Care Method]!

The Little Ash Dragon, who sleeps all year round, also opened its sleepy eyes.

It now possesses peak level 5 power and is about to reach level 6.

It's uncertain whether it or the Dragon Turtle will advance first.

Soon, Levi brought the Immortal Banyan Dragon.

For easy recognition, it revealed its true form as a giant dragon, stretching over ten thousand meters, like a colossal snake encircling the dust world.

"What kind of dragon is that?"

"Never seen it before, such a beautiful she-dragon, hey... I'm just complimenting, what's the harm?"

The self-disciplined Black Lotus Beast was stunned.

"Such a graceful dragon clan, it possesses the unique aura of pure-blooded Dragon Clan."

Levi said:

"This is the Immortal Banyan Dragon Lady Idrasala. Usually, you can just refer to her as 'Lady.' Lady is new here, so make sure to arrange things well, show her around, and let her get familiar. Also, take her to see the Nightmare World."

The Fire Breathing Dragon replied:

"No problem."

The Immortal Banyan Dragon said:

"I want to sleep over at Mana's place."

Mana said:

"Sure."

Levi naturally had no objections. As the Immortal Banyan Dragon paired with the Queen Banyan, this divine tree, one could say they are a perfect match made in heaven.

His intention in bringing the Immortal Banyan Dragon here was precisely this.

According to studies from some proponents of the Dragon School of Thought, such an arrangement benefits the mutual growth of the Immortal Banyan Dragon and the divine tree.

As the saying goes, a fine bird chooses a fine tree to perch in, and the same principle applies to dragons.

Such a marvelous symbiotic relationship, if it exists, is naturally beneficial to both parties.

After properly settling the Immortal Banyan Dragon, Levi left.

The sub-dragons and mixed-blood dragons naturally showed warmth and respect towards the Immortal Banyan Dragon.

This bloodline hierarchy's majesty was truly terrifying.

The Fire Breathing Dragon, who originally had ideas about the female dragon, also wilted.

With their vastly different statuses, it really had no courage at all.

Anyway, it would be better to go back to its own female dragonfly to sleep.

The Immortal Banyan Dragon roamed the Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

It went from initial calm to later shock.

Thirty-six Cave Heavens, seventy-two Blessed Lands, densely packed with elemental power, each with a different environment.

Snow mountains, swamps, grasslands, forests... While small, they had everything they needed.

Among them were countless rare plants and medicinal herbs.

Moreover, two towering giant fir trees covered in Dragon Scale Flowers; soon, there would be another batch of Dragon Scale Fruit.

In the Ice Sea Secret Realm, the lovely Frost Elves worked joyfully.

In the ocean, Giant Whales sang, accompanied by numerous beasts.

In the Ancient Shell Palace, the beautiful Shell Demon Clan busily worked.

The Burning Rock Clan, along with other alien races, coexisted here in harmony.

There was even a dedicated ancient banyan tree Mansion, where the Undead naturally arose, in a cycle of life and death.

The content within far exceeded its expectations.

The resource secret realms of other top wizard organizations couldn't even compare.

Truly a paradise.

Sleeping here, there was no worry about being disturbed by demons.

Nor was there any concern for one's life, with no need to engage with other wizard powerhouses, a social anxiety dragon's blessing.

Most amazing was the Nightmare World.

It had heard of this mysterious and unpredictable place, but never experienced it.

After descending with the Dragon Palace People, it discovered that it was a vast region under Levi's control.

The two Level 8 Legendary Dragon Clan even had an epic meeting, becoming the left and right guardians of the Dragon Palace.

There was also Lopez, the legendary giant ape, leaving a deep impression.

After touring around, the Immortal Banyan Dragon's mindset completely changed from the beginning.

It was very certain that this was the place it wanted to stay.

As for Levi's deception, it chose to forgive him.

...

Time passed.

Levi continued to handle the aftermath tasks for the Witch's Family.

He had Herman, leading the Mechanical School, begin setting up new defense systems on the New World where the Witch's Family resided.

At the same time, he organized and integrated the existing battle group of the Witch's Family.

In this process, he did not encounter much resistance.

The Wind Witch, an eighth-circle senior wizard, was extremely cooperative with his work, despite not being familiar with him before.

Triss also returned to the Witch's Family accordingly.

She was also at Seven Rings Perfection; within the current organization, she was only second to the Wind Witch.

Levi appointed the two women as Deputy Tower Masters to handle the subsequent affairs of the Witch's Family.

Additionally, only nine primordial soul witches remained in the Witch's Family.

This included the Snow Lotus Witch and Anya's wife, the Phantom Witch.

In the beginning, Levi assumed that the Witch's Family had more primordial soul wizards in hiding as trump cards.

However, unexpectedly, this organization truly only had a mere handful of primordial soul witches left...

In retrospect, primordial soul wizards are the face and nuclear deterrent of any organization, with no need for concealment.

Most organizations strive to showcase their formidable strength.

This indicates that over the millennia, the Witch's Family's development has been severely deformed, resulting in a gap of young talents.

This is an unhealthy and irrational power pyramid structure.

Ultimately, it boils down to a lack of sufficient talent.

Primordial soul wizards either left for other opportunities or perished, continuously lost without fresh blood to replenish.

Otherwise, as a top wizard organization, they should have at least dozens of primordial soul wizards.

If the Witch's Family does not reform, they are doomed to extinction.

Cannot rest on past laurels.

In his view, the organization had far too many accumulated problems that required sweeping reforms.

Fortunately, as a top wizard organization, it still has its foundation intact.

Among the low-level and middle-level wizard groups, there are also many with special talents, even among the ranks of the Children of the Elements.

Levi included these individuals on his watch list.

Besides cultivating, he also observed their growth and cultivation trajectories.

Additionally, Levi used the Supreme Divine Talisman, a unique hallmark, to bolster the Witch's Family's appeal.

Chapter 2345: Subduing the Immortal Banyan Dragon, [Five Beasts Health Care Method]!

Anyone who joins the Ancient Dragon Continent has the opportunity to learn the "Wizard Fourth Art," an additional combat technique.

Finally, he vigorously strengthened various organizations such as the Dusk Holy Temple, Tower of Dawn, Witch's Family, including inter-species relations.

Fresh blood is required, one part through external search, another through self-generation.

The members of the Ancient Dragon Continent are all elite.

Relatively speaking, if parents have talent, the chance of offspring having talent far exceeds that of mortal rookies.

This is recognized universally in the Wizard World.

Additionally, although many wizards look down on alien races.

However, mixed-blood children with some humanoid alien races often have good cultivation aptitude.

The Sea Clan mixed-blood is an example, giving rise to the Ocean Abyss Alliance and the Immersed Ancient Castle, two top-level body-refining wizard organizations.

Therefore, those dwarves, halflings, and other alien races in the Ancient Dragon Continent can completely intermarry with humans.

Abandon those prejudices and restraints, and combine boldly.

During the blood war, nothing is more important than becoming stronger.

The noble dragon descendants, in essence, also borrow the powerful bloodline of the giant dragon.

Two years later.

The reforms targeting the Witch's Family have already shown significant progress.

The organization finally has some vitality.

Levi also temporarily set aside his work there.

He has already guided the organization in the right direction, and the rest is for the management to execute specifically.

...

Nora year 717.

Blood War year 505.

Hell's Eighth Layer.

"Big brother, congratulations on reaching the eighth-circle, your little brother is truly envious."

The Purgatory Demon Sword sensed Levi's vast presence with longing.

Next to him, the Three Witches and the Demon Fox Main Mother had equally indescribable feelings.

Each time they met the master, it felt like he soared higher like bamboo shoots.

This speed of cultivation is too magical.

The potential of humanity is truly unimaginable.

Especially the Desire Realm Witch, when she was in the Level 7 Realm, the master was still at level 6.

Now she's only mid-Level 7, having only advanced one realm.

Yet, the master broke through two major realm barriers.

Comparing oneself to others can truly be exasperating.

But remembering she is a devil, she felt much better.

At least she lives longer, which is some advantage.

Levi said:

"Second brother's cultivation progress is also good, already close to senior seventh ring level, you had a solid foundation before, keep it up, can't slack off. I've brought some oddities for you, although the quality is average, they are quite fitting for you, take them."

"This is the Wind King's Breath, a Morning Star Artifact, it can improve your cultivation aptitude, and this Flame Emblem is also a Morning Star Artifact, quite effective too."

The Purgatory Demon Sword looked startled.

"Big brother, this is too precious, I dare not accept it!"

These are two Morning Star Artifacts, which he knows are worth tens of billions of Aether Stones combined in the Wizard World.

Levi said earnestly:

"Take them, these oddities are of no use to me, and it's not convenient for you to collect oddities in Hell."

The Purgatory Demon Sword's eyes moistened.

"A man doesn't easily shed tears, but I truly can't hold back, big brother, you are indeed my rebirth parent, I'll accept these oddities."

Only then did Levi smile.

These two oddities have already been refined by the Three Avatars.

Later, during their demon-hunting, another opportunity allowed them to acquire them. .

Levi, borrowing flowers to offer to Buddha, gifted them to his second brother, paving the way for his legendary journey.

In retrospect, the second brother has not consumed many oddities in his cultivation so far. He still has ample room for growth.

The Purgatory Demon Sword said:

"I've heard that big brother purchased the Witch's Family, truly a bold move."

Levi laughed heartily.

"It's nothing, second brother, do well in Hell, there will be a place for you in the future."

The Demon Fox Main Mother said:

"Master, we've already tracked down the Black Prison Beast, that guy left the eighth layer long ago to the ninth layer, reportedly now serving under a significant figure in Hell, considered a decent position, finding a patron."

Levi asked:

"Which significant figure?"

The Demon Fox Main Mother said:

"Lady White Bone, who achieved level 9 with an Undead Body, listed among the Seventy-Two Pillars. By the way, Lady White Bone has a sister, the Death Demoness from the Dragon Fall Valley on the seventh layer, whom the master must have heard of, a level 8 powerhouse."

Levi pondered.

"I see."

Hell, in essence, is almost like the Wizard World.

Most of those level 8 powerhouses have their own backing.

This is a common occurrence in civilized societies.

Unless it's a group like black beasts, without civilization.

He recalled that when he intended to recruit the Death Demoness before, he felt a dangerous aura in the Dragon Fall Valley.

Perhaps it was related to Lady White Bone.

Fortunately, he didn't go, or he would have stirred up strong enemies, creating unnecessary trouble.

It's just like Journey to the West, appearing as monsters, but actually, they all have backing.

"Big brother, I'll set up a feast, let's drink and enjoy for a few days."

"Great, great."

Before leaving, Levi took 20 billion Joss Paper, more than thirty Soul Stones with him from the Demon Fox Tribe and the Ghost Elephant Department.

Apart from that, there were also some hell-specialty materials.

These materials are mainly for upgrading the Black Soul Demon Tower and the Book of the Undead.

...

The Nether River rolls, extending across the Sky Dome.

The centennial Netherworld Market opens.

As soon as Levi entered, he heard a surprised voice in his mind.

"Oh, you've advanced to the eighth ring so quickly? Congratulations!"

Levi looked carefully and saw an old acquaintance.

It was the black-armored man he met on his first visit to the Netherworld Market, named Diego Noan.

Chapter 2346: Subduing the Immortal Banyan Dragon, [Five Beasts Health Care Method]!

Levi laughed:

"Long time no see."

The Black-armored man sighed:

"Yeah, due to work reasons, I haven't been to Hell for many years. This time, thanks to my leadership's trust, I became a merchant on this eighth level of the Netherworld Market. I didn't expect to see you here."

Levi's heart was stirred.

It seems that even Netherworld Market merchants have different degrees, the lower you go, the more advanced.

When Levi was still weak, he couldn't accurately perceive the burly man's level.

Now it seems that the man is just at level 8 late stage cultivation.

He's still very strong, at the level of a top wizard organization's leader.

But he no longer feels oppressive, after all, Levi is also level 8.

The Black-armored man was truly shocked inside.

He and Levi had been apart for only a few hundred years.

For civil servants of the Underworld, who have control over life and death and a long lifespan, this is nothing.

In a daze, he seemed to see a figure like Sauron again.

"Sir, I'll go buy some things first, then we can chat later."

Levi was eager to shop. .

"Alright, you go ahead."

At the stall.

Levi's gaze quickly scanned.

Suddenly, his eyes moved.

"Dead Soil!"

He and another devil exuding level 8 aura simultaneously approached.

In the end, he was a bit faster and managed to grab it first.

Another pound of Dead Soil, valued at 1.3 billion Joss Paper.

"With this, the growth speed of the ancient banyan tree Mansion will be even faster, not bad at all."

A dissatisfied voice mumbled.

"Where did this Pig Demon come from, stealing my stuff?"

That level 8 devil was a tall and thin humanoid with a dog head and clad in scale armor, holding a long spear.

It was the same race as the dog-headed Underworld merchant Levi had encountered previously.

The Demon Hound Clan, a well-known major power on the eighth level.

This Devil Tribe has many level 8 powerhouses, and there is an ancestor among the Seventy-Two Pillars.

The Fourth Pillar, Nubios, Lord of the Underworld Hounds, hails from the Demon Hound Clan and is a level 10 devil.

Thus, the Demon Hound Clan runs rampant on the eighth level. This clan is also quite influential in the Underworld, and many strong ones work there.

Levi laughed:

"Sorry, I got it first."

The level 8 devil snorted coldly, not saying anything.

With its status and knowledge on the eighth level, it hadn't heard of any level 8 Pig Demon powerhouse.

Also, it didn't know which obscure place he came from.

In the Netherworld Market, fighting is prohibited, and it didn't dare to break the rule.

It wasn't afraid of the Black-armored man before him.

It was just worried about the Underworld punishing its clan, causing bigger losses for smaller gains.

Levi continued shopping.

"A small piece of level 8 Dark Soul Sacred Gold, worth 600 million, buy it."

This was the key material for the Book of the Undead's promotion, what good luck.

In the end, there was only 100 million Aether Stone left, not enough to buy other good items.

Levi took 100,000 blind boxes; he was so used to it that not drawing a prize felt uncomfortable.

After finishing things on this side, Levi sat cross-legged beside the Black-armored man, seemingly meditating, but in fact chatting with him.

The Black-armored man said:

"That person just now was named Artuste, the descendant of the Netherworld Dog Lord. Although his strength isn't much, his connections are quite strong. He had conflicts with Underworld merchants before and was taught a lesson and became more honest."

Levi said:

"No wonder, thank you for the reminder, sir."

He could feel the lingering hostility; Artuste was likely lurking outside waiting for him.

If not for the Black-armored man's reminder, he might have killed him.

If that happened, it would be troublesome to mingle in Hell in the future.

The Black-armored man said:

"Although Hell is a subordinate world of the Underworld, when one's strength reaches a certain level, like those of the Seventy-Two Pillars, even we officials dare not provoke them lightly."

Levi sighed:

"It seems you, as Underworld personnel, have your own dilemmas too, sir."

The Black-armored man showed a look of reminiscence.

"Indeed. Therefore, I hope the Undying Nether Emperor will return soon. The current Underworld is also fraught with difficulties, with deeply entrenched factions, and one careless move may cost a job. Before I worked in the Underworld, I was just an ordinary level 8, only luckily obtained Underworld identity and had a lifespan you ordinary people can't imagine, but this, after all, is gained through external means, easy to revert to original form... By the way, did you buy that Dead Soil for the Undead Cemetery?"

Levi nodded.

The Black-armored man said:

"This Dead Soil is not considered a rare item in the Underworld; it's just not allowed to be traded freely. If you need more, when the Netherworld Market opens next time, you can fix your place here, and within the allowed range, I can sell you some."

Levi was delighted but then calmed down.

"Sir, do you need me to do something? I've also searched through Wizard World's books and connections for information on the Undying Nether Emperor's whereabouts, but there's no clue. I've only heard in the Black Pheasant Clan's legend that before the Undying Bird's death, it allowed different beings to eat its body, giving birth to a group of First Generation Undying Seeds, but it's not necessarily true."

The Black-armored man heard this and laughed:

"I've heard that story too; it's likely half-true, half-false. A being like the Undying Nether Emperor, who has lived countless epochs, may have grown tired of the eternal life we pursue and occasionally wants some fun, that's understandable. Don't worry, I don't need you to do anything, I'm just optimistic about your future, just like the first time I met you. Establishing a good bond, forming a seemingly inconspicuous connection with someone like you, might even bring benefits in the future, hahahaha."

Chapter 2347: Subduing the Immortal Banyan Dragon, Five Beasts Health Care Method!

Levi was lost in thought.

"Thank you."

Those old fellows in the Underworld are really smooth. No matter how roundabout their words are, they still have their demands.

However, for Levi, gaining more Rest Soil is indeed a good thing at the moment.

In the future, when he really makes it, he won't forget the favor shown by them.

This time, the two chatted for a long time, and Levi learned some common knowledge about the Underworld.

As the Netherworld Market ended, the black-armored man smiled and said:

"Goodbye, maybe after a few more meetings, your realm will surpass mine; the young are formidable."

Levi waved goodbye.

He had a premonition that in the future, he would certainly have to go to the Underworld once again. The Hermit Rune flickered, and Levi left the eighth level right under Artuste's nose.

That guy squatted for a long time and didn't notice the pig demon just now, leaving sullenly. It didn't know it had thus escaped a calamity.

...

Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

Temporarily returning to the human realm, Levi immediately buried the Rest Soil under the [Tombstone of the Dead].

The Netherworld flowed gently, the aura of Death surrounded and permeated.

The fusion of new Rest Soil source with the old one made Levi clearly feel that the speed of Rest Soil multiplication had increased significantly.

Now, within a radius of ten miles, it had already become the [Undead Cemetery]. Amidst the miasma, ghosts, zombies, skeletons, and other low-level undead creatures were increasing in number, reaching thousands.

They might have been princes of some countries in life, or even primordial soul wizards. Now, they were just inconspicuous undead.

Meanwhile.

Levi summoned "Happy Sheep," activated [Absolute Luck], and opened all 100,000 blind boxes.

As soon as the first box was opened, it was "Golden Legend," which was a seventh-level combat technique named "Vortex Turtle Shield Skill."

"Nice, a great start."

Levi stored the combat technique in the Dusk Holy Temple's treasury for the [Snapping Turtle Knight] to cultivate and study.

Over the years, the knight combat techniques library already contained many high-level combat techniques that could be called "Sect's Ultimate Skill."

Levi's "Extreme Dao Strategy," the Ghost Elephant Department's "Mixed World Demon Image One Hundred and Eight Hammers," the Golden Pheasant Clan's "Dawn Battle Manual," and so on. Each knight, each style could find suitable combat techniques to learn.

All blind boxes were opened.

Levi also got an eight-circle spell, proving luck was with him.

Its name was "Leonardo's Sound Barrier." Although sound wave spells weren't rare, Levi encountered an eight-circle one for the first time.

It's a top-quality spell which, when refined to mastery, can form a super sound barrier with a diameter of up to a hundred kilometers around oneself, one of the largest range influencing eight-circle spells.

This sound barrier can mitigate massive damage from enemies, especially those area-effect attacks. It not only works on oneself but can also benefit all allies.

The sound barrier lasts ten seconds, during which it acts as a temporary shield for allies.

Although its defense among eight-circle spells is relatively weak, its wide coverage is advantageous.

"Nice, it's perfect for strengthening my [Shadow Army]. Before battles, everyone can get a shield, which can reduce shadow loss rate."

Levi temporarily put the spell away, intending to cultivate after returning from the ancient tower.

...

Dark Ancient Tower.

Fifth level.

"Heavenly Venerate, good news, we've found a top-level genius! Lisa, come here!"

Lisa was a beautiful little girl, with freckles on her face, looking quite timid.

Levi asked:

"How long have you been cultivating?"

Lisa replied:

"Lord, I'm thirteen years old, and I started meditating two and a half years ago."

Levi laughed:

"Nice, becoming an official wizard in two and a half years."

This speed was much faster than Levi back then. He became an official wizard only in middle age... Those early stages were really tough.

Lisa was a Wind Element Child, with the special talent [Daughter of Wind], known among wizards as a [top-level genius], a prized member of top organizations.

Hence the Supreme Archmage took extra care of her, and with abundant resources, her cultivation naturally progressed quickly.

Pollock said:

"Heavenly Venerate, there's also a Child of the Fire Element, and three special talented wizards."

Levi said:

"Well done, take this Sixth-Ring Top-Grade Wizard Tool for your use."

Pollock was overjoyed.

With this Sixth-Ring Top-Grade Wizard Tool, his combat prowess would jump up significantly.

"Thank you, Heavenly Venerate, I haven't done well enough; I will continue to strive!"

Other Supreme Archmages also came to report their work and received Levi's rewards.

Over the years.

Another Barbarian King was born among the barbarian tribes, a new demon king seemed to have appeared in the Million Mountains, the underground world showed traces of several black beast lords.

As time passed, those who had gone returned with the ancient tower's self-recovery...

The Kane humans had four Supreme Archmages with formidable strength, and the Six-Circle Alchemy Creature bestowed by him as cards, ensuring the humans' long-term peace and stability. Beyond that, he did not interfere much.

Leaving the fifth level, he directly jumped to the seventh floor.

This was the Saint Roland Continent, the year 200 of Tianqi for Humans in Rune Land.

The Three Realms and Four Lands bowed their heads in submission, behaving properly, so Levi didn't bother them.

Gray-White Academy.

In front of the round table of the meeting, Levi listened to the reports from the Saint Council.

"Heavenly Venerate, currently Gray-White Academy has over ten thousand teachers and students from all parts of the continent; recruitment is ongoing."

"The black beast harassment frequency in the giant beast restricted area has reduced, and recently we sent a special team for thorough cleaning along the restricted area's edge. We found two sub-dragons, fifteen mixed-blood dragon clan members, and 67 other rare creatures, all purified and housed in the [Sea Beast Park]."

Chapter 2348: Subduing the Immortal Banyan Dragon, Five Beasts Health Care Method!

"The laboratory for bloodline transplants has also been successfully established, and we're currently conducting bloodline transplants on some volunteers from Rune Land. We will soon begin experimenting with the knight breathing technique left by the Heavenly Venerate. Additionally, the Fifth Edition General Non-bloodline Breathing Technique: Five Beasts Health Care Method is being popularized among the mortal population."

"The Mechanical School is also in the process of being established. We, the old folks, are continuously learning to ensure a hundred flowers bloom."

...

Each of the saints reported on the work they were responsible for in appropriate detail, and everyone appeared full of enthusiasm and energy.

It is worth mentioning that the Fifth Edition General Non-bloodline Breathing Technique: Five Beasts Health Care Method was a special breathing technique that Levi previously developed to promote the development of Twilight Academy.

It integrates five shallow non-bloodline breathing techniques, simplifies them to capture their essence, and is more suitable for mortals without a bloodline to practice.

When practicing, special Five Beasts Secret Medicine is also required, representing the monkey, bear, deer, tiger, and eagle.

These Five Beasts Secret Medicines do not necessarily need to be transcendent creatures; ordinary mortal beasts are perfectly acceptable.

Practicing the Five Beasts Health Care Method has a low upper limit. Achieving even Level 1 is difficult, but those with talent and perseverance can become top-level strong individuals in the eyes of most mortals, much like the grand knights of the Doomsday Era.

This method is called a health care method, and its purpose is not to become transcendent but to strengthen the body and prolong life; anyone can practice it.

Based on the large human population, producing a large number of experts comparable to apprentice wizards would be beneficial.

Moreover, all five of these mortal beasts can be artificially bred with no technical difficulty, and the supply of secret medicine poses no issues.

On the Ancient Dragon Continent, this Five Beasts Health Care Method has already been popularized for a while, and its effects have been quite good.

There is also an accompanying combat technique called Five Beasts Transformation Fist.

Using this method, Levi has mass-produced many mortals with a certain degree of combat power, capable even of battling demonic creatures.

Every increase in the strength of mortals raises their chances of escaping when facing danger and alleviates some of the pressure on the transcendent organizations that shelter them.

Levi is very satisfied with the work of the saints.

Over two hundred years, the growth rate of the number of saints has noticeably increased, now exceeding twenty.

Some newly emerged saints have long admired the Ultimate Saint, and upon seeing him in person, they become extremely excited.

After making them swear an oath, Levi also rewarded them with some cultivation resources as a welcome gift.

The Flame Wolf Saint's cultivation has outpaced everyone, already a Level 7 Peak strong individual, with hopes of advancing to Level 8 within a few centuries. After which, the Rune Land will have a King's Right Saint to guard it.

The Water Dragon Saint has also made significant progress, nearing Level 7 Late Stage.

These individuals have achieved Level 7 in such challenging circumstances, showing they are quite extraordinary; with the right opportunity, their rise is not too difficult.

The previous scarcity of saints in Rune Land was mainly due to suppression by the Three Realms and Four Lands. Otherwise, given the size and resources of the Saint Roland Continent, Levi believes birthing hundreds of saints would not be a problem.

After the meeting.

The Flame Wolf Saint voluntarily offered a storage ring, and Levi glanced at it after receiving it.

"Not bad. If you have difficulty advancing to Level 8, you can let me know."

The Flame Wolf Saint quickly replied:

"Not for now. With my qualifications, I'm not sure if I can successfully advance; I can only try. Thank you for the Heavenly Venerate's kindness."

After conducting a covert investigation in Rune Land, Levi left.

Before leaving, he entrusted the golden scepter acquired from the Letney Family to be jointly held by the Saint Council. This Level 8 exotic treasure is quite powerful and can be used when facing formidable enemies.

The Saint Roland Human Clan is now on the right track, and his presence or absence doesn't much affect it.

From now on, he just needs to periodically collect some resources and apprentice wizards.

The ring given by the Flame Wolf Saint contains treasures from the Three Realms and Four Lands over the years, respecting the Ultimate Saint.

It holds 2 types of Level 8 elemental metals and 3 Morning Star Artifacts, as well as 8 Sky-level Artifacts.

Useful to Levi are the Sky-level Wind King Armor, the Morning Star-level Golden God's Crown, and Water King's Scepter.

The Wind King Armor is the last component in the Gandalf Wind King Series. After refining it, the series artifact will be complete.

The Golden God's Crown is an artifact in the Golden God Series. Lord Victor has only refined the Bright Moon-level Golden God's Chariot; completing this series is a distant goal.

The Water King Scepter is a core artifact of the Water King Series, which Elena can refine; having it is better than not.

There are also various materials and medicinal herbs that need no further mention.

Levi arrived at the Sea Beast Park, which he built to fully utilize the biological resources of the seventh floor of the Ancient Tower, akin to a low-budget version of Giant Beast Paradise.

There are 2 sub-dragons, namely the Bronze Armor Dragon and the Wind-Rushing Dragon.

The former is a female dragon at Level 6 Middle Stage.

The latter is a male dragon at Level 6 Late Stage.

The Bronze Armor Dragon is a rare metal faction dragon, its bloodline derived from the Molten Golden Dragon.

The Molten Golden Dragon is a formidable metal dragon. It is said that the Soul Artifact of the Molten Gold Wizard King was made with the scales of the Molten Golden Dragon, possessing considerable power and ranking high on the Soul Artifact Ranking.

Levi's current Dragon Palace lacks metal faction dragons, so he promptly included it, bestowing the title Sky Copper Dragon General.

The Wind-Rushing Dragon, of the wind attribute dragon race, is known for its speed. Levi granted it the title Sky Flying Dragon General and included it in the Dragon Palace.

These two sub-dragon species, once in complete form, both boast a Seventh Level standard and still have room for growth.

Counting them, Levi realized that the Sky Dragon General composition of the Dragon Palace is almost complete. As for the Seventy-two Earth Dragon Generals, they had long been filled. A new position needs to be created outside the Heaven and Earth Dragon Generals based on the results of the Dragon Dao Conference."

Years have passed by quickly.

Levi, along with Jin, wandered around the seventh floor of the Ancient Tower.

They found some more treasures and captured some creatures.

Besides 4 Sky-level and 2 Morning Star Artifacts, most were just oddities.

But Jin was not entirely accurate.

Decisively, he initiated the Level 8 Law Enforcement Trial. It was time to take it to the next level.

The trial target appeared in rows of characters as the Ancient Tower Scepter glowed.

Trial Objective: Uproot the Ocean Stabilizing Pillar of Heart Sea and slay the suppressed being.

Success Reward: Obtain the Divine Pillar left by Sauron as a trial for future generations. I wonder what is suppressed below? Now that I have the strength of a Level 8 Crimson Emperor Dragon, if I unleash all my power, I should be able to extract it. Just as well, I could take the pillar back and commence the refinement of the wizard tower."

Chapter 2349: Extreme Darkness Dragon! Eight-direction Traceless, Ancient and Modern Absolute Form! Swift!

Heart Sea.

Merfolk Palace.

The Merfolk King was comfortably enjoying a servant's massage.

Noises came from outside, and its expression changed, appearing in the square.

There, a black-armored figure had descended at some unknown time.

His gaze was calm, looking at the blue pillar that soared into the sky.

The Merfolk King's heart skipped a beat.

"Is the Ultimate Saint really going to pull out the divine pillar?"

With its nearly unrivaled strength in the Three Realms and Four Lands, it couldn't shake the pillar in the slightest.

Could it be that the Ultimate Saint can really pull it out?

It didn't believe it!

Levi chuckled:

"Please evacuate the clanspeople from here, I want to see if I can pull it out. As far as I know, a world-ending evil creature is suppressed beneath it. If you don't want the Merfolk Clan to be implicated, it's best to listen to me."

He inadvertently released a powerful Level 8 aura, causing the Merfolk King's expression to change.

"Okay, I'll do it immediately."

Not seen for a hundred years, the Ultimate Saint had grown even stronger and completely advanced to the Level 8 Realm.

At Level 7, he already crushed the old entities of the Three Realms and Four Lands.

Now at Level 8, the Merfolk King couldn't imagine how strong he had become.

Might he take just one move to finish off myself?

Damn it, can this Ultimate Saint really pull the pillar out?

The Merfolk King was unsure.

The adversary's strength had changed too much, it couldn't see through him at all.

The Merfolk King ordered:

"Everyone! Evacuate the Merfolk Palace!"

Levi sat cross-legged in silence, waiting quietly.

The Merfolk clan members secretly observed Levi, finding him unremarkable; how could he suppress the Three Realms and Four Lands?

Couldn't understand it.

Time passed.

A month later, the entire Merfolk clan had been evacuated.

A few gazes remained hidden, likely wanting to watch the scene.

In fact, the news that the Ultimate Saint wanted to pull out the Heart Sea's divine pillar had already spread far and wide amid the Merfolk clan's massive commotion.

The strong beings of the Three Realms and Four Lands all watched secretly.

From ancient times, countless brilliant talents couldn't move this divine pillar.

They didn't think the Ultimate Saint could pull it out.

But recalling the myths this man had created over the years, they felt it might be possible.

Saint Council.

"What? The Ultimate Saint wants to pull out the Heart Sea's divine pillar?"

The Saints also heard this shocking news.

"If the Saint can't pull it out, will it affect the prestige of us humans?"

"Uncertain, but we should believe in him, he never does anything unprepared."

"If he can indeed pull it out, that pillar must be an incredible treasure, and with it, the Saint's power will surely advance further."

The Saint Roland Continent's attention was all on the Heart Sea.

Levi ignored them, calmly adjusting his state.

After a month of regulating, his aura had reached its peak.

"Come on!"

He strode forward into the gravitational field.

Boom!

Invisible force pressed on his body, trying to make him fall.

Gravity that could make the Merfolk clan kneel was like a spring breeze to him.

"So strong! Can he really pull it out? It feels like the gravity around the divine pillar is nonexistent for him."

"Impossible, right? Even the king could only get close, unable to shake it."

"The king said that this is a pillar only a god can pull out; he surely can't be a god, right?"

The hidden Merfolk whispered, wanting to see this man make a fool of himself.

Levi strode boldly beneath the pillar.

All the Merfolk present held their breath.

Levi gazed up at the Ocean Stabilizing Pillar, the gravity a thousandfold indeed seemed exaggerated, his body making crackling sounds.

His bones, blood vessels, internal organs seemed to bear the weight of mountains.

He took a deep breath, and the Crimson Emperor Divine Palace within him roared, with divine runes radiating brilliantly.

He unleashed all his strength, his figure rapidly expanding, crimson flames burning fiercely.

Red Emperor Domain!

Strength Rune!

Holy Image Law!

...

Each state he activated raised his aura further.

Just the feeling of power with each breath twisted the void.

Muscles like coiled dragons twisted along his back, spewing white smoke.

The Heart Sea began to evaporate, revealing a vast clearing.

The hard slate began to melt, turning into magma.

In countless stupefied gazes, a towering figure exceeding the Merfolk Palace's height emerged.

Six awe-inspiring dragon shadows vaguely appeared around him.

Headed by the Crimson Emperor Dragon, the Brilliant Golden Dragon Armor, Sky King Dragon, Death Ember Dragon, Scarlet Dragon, and Nightmare Dragon all began to exert power!

Levi's burly arms embraced the divine pillar.

His muscles tensed, starting to pull the pillar.

As he exerted force, a terrifying dragon roar resounded through the Heart Sea!

The six dragon shadows spread their wings wide, soaring skyward, seemingly trying to lift the pillar.

"Hiss... Ultimate Saint, is he really human?"

"Does he look like it?"

"He claims to be human, but he doesn't seem like it at all; he's more like a dragon."

"Could he really take it away, and won't our Merfolk Palace be gone too?"

Now, those hidden gazes truly panicked, as such momentum was truly shocking.

"Buzz buzz buzz!"

With a vibrating sound, the divine pillar really started shaking.

"Is it an illusion, is it really going to come out?"

"No way, is he succeeding?"

"Don't panic, just because it shakes doesn't mean he can pull it out."

Rumble!

In everyone's stupefied gaze.

The divine pillar, which had been a landmark since ancient times, began to slowly separate. Metal clashed with stone, sparking endlessly.

The plaza of the Merfolk Palace started cracking. The palace shook continuously, at risk of collapsing at any moment.

Chapter 2350: Extreme Darkness Dragon! Eight-direction Traceless, Ancient and Modern Absolute Form! Swift!

Levi's veins bulged, and his figure soared as he completely pulled out the Divine Pillar.

"Something's wrong, could it be... he really is a god?"

The merfolk were stunned. Didn't the king say only a god could pull it out?

The Merfolk King was also dumbfounded.

"It's out? It really came out? How is this possible!"

Rumble!

The Merfolk Palace collapsed.

"Hahaha, I finally see the light of day again! Sauron! Surprised, aren't you? I'm still alive!"

A massive white serpent, imbued with the power of Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water, spanned tens of thousands of meters across the sky.

Levi's expression froze.

"Chaos Ancient Serpent? There's one here too?"

He knew there was a Chaos Ancient Serpent's remnant soul on the fifth level, disguised as the Supreme Archmage, which established the Kane Empire.

It was also a genius creation of the mage and talisman systems.

The white serpent before him exuded an aura of Level 8 Early Stage as its golden eyes gazed at the giant Levi holding the pillar.

"Human, or Dragon Clan?"

It sensed Levi's extraordinary aura and formidable strength, so it didn't make the first move.

Levi tossed the pillar aside, stepping forward, and unleashed a [Secret Word of Destruction] on the spot!

Rumble!

The white serpent's eyes shifted.

"So strong!"

It seemed to see a mighty Mythical Creature, the Red Lotus Dragon, charging fiercely toward it.

Although it was a Mythical Creature in its lifetime, possessing some Chaos Domain abilities.

Unfortunately, it had been suppressed for hundreds of thousands of years.

It was only a remnant soul now, with no real power to fight, merely an outward appearance.

Boom!

With just one strike, the remnant soul began to crumble and dissipate.

"Stop! Don't kill me, I am Chaos..."

Its words were cut short as it was engulfed by countless flame dragons.

Watching the remnant soul completely dissipate, Levi breathed a sigh of relief.

"Luckily, it seems I didn't even need to make a move. This Chaos Ancient Serpent's remnant soul couldn't last long anyway. The Ancient Tower Scepter's warning had me thinking I'd be up against some powerful demon king."

The light flickered as the Ancient Tower Scepter indicated that his task was complete, granting him level 8 authority.

Next time, he could directly explore the eighth level, feeling a bit excited.

Throughout history, few wizards had been able to reach the eighth level.

There must be many oddities or opportunities there.

"My palace!"

The Merfolk King watched Levi depart, his heart bleeding, daring not to speak out.

He was too strong.

The formidable white serpent's shadow gave the Merfolk King a deep sense of danger.

Yet it was swiftly resolved by the Ultimate Saint with ease...

His power must be terrifying beyond comprehension!

Fortunately, he had been cautious, sensing he was no match and obediently complied with the man.

Otherwise, he wouldn't even know how he died.

"Your Majesty, didn't you say that only those who decipher the Divine Language might be able to pull out this pillar? Could it be that the Ultimate Saint is truly a god?"

"Perhaps."

Not long after.

The news that the Ultimate Saint had pulled the Heart Sea Divine Pillar spread across the Three Realms and Four Lands.

Those formidable alien races who had signed contracts under Levi's daunting presence were shocked. This was truly the first time since the Creation of Heaven and Earth.

Saint Council.

The saints all breathed a sigh of relief, having worried that Levi wouldn't manage to pull it out, causing the aliens to secretly sneer and lower the Ultimate Saint's prestige.

Now it seemed they had been overthinking.

As everyone was still immersed in the matter of the Divine Pillar, Levi had already left the Dark Ancient Tower with the talents selected from Gray-White Academy. On this seventh floor, there was one Water Element Child and ten double affinity special talents.

...

Ancient Dragon Continent.

All the talents were arranged to enter the Witch's Family.

The Wind Witch rejoiced at seeing these excellent young wizards.

Levi said:

"Please, Lady Wendy, ensure they're properly settled. They will be the pillars of our Ancient Dragon Continent in the future."

The Wind Witch replied:

"Alright."

She looked at Lisa, unable to hide the joy in her eyes.

"Hall Master, may I take her as my student?"

Levi laughed:

"No problem. With your guidance, she will become another primordial soul wizard of the Storm Faction for our organization in the future."

Wendy nodded.

She was a top-level talent, confident in nurturing the little one into a sixth-circle wizard.

As for further advancements, rising to the seventh circle, eighth circle, or even the Grand Wizard, it would depend on her own fate.

"Little one, do you want to be my apprentice?"

Lisa said:

"Hello, Teacher Wendy!"

Wendy laughed heartily, leading this group of young people away, satisfied.

Feeling the Witch's Family's vitality and atmosphere vastly different from before, Wendy sighed inwardly.

"Indeed, only by making connections with the Dusk Palace Master can the Witch's Family be saved."

After becoming Wendy's apprentice, Lisa received the wizard title "Windwalker," becoming Wendy's youngest disciple.

It wasn't a time of peace, and because she was still young and weak in power, to prevent the Council of Ten Thousand Clans from targeting and assassinating them, these talented seedlings would be temporarily hidden until they grew up with self-defense capabilities.

Before Lisa, only Little Toby could barely be considered top-level talent on the Ancient Dragon Continent. He was both a Child of the Fire Element and held a special talent for the Earth Faction.

Most top-level talents are Children of the Elements within the same faction along with special talents, making the cultivation speed the fastest.

Of course, there were also rare prodigies, like Great Council President Edmund, whom Levi heard was originally a Child of the Fire Element combined with two top-level special fire elemental talents, said to be a rarity in ten thousand years.

Such individuals, even without Truth Oddities to defy the heavens and change fate, had a smooth path in cultivation. But the premise is being able to control the powerful side effects brought by the three fires. As for those with four initial talents, from the birth of wizards until now, there hasn't been any known, three is the maximum.
