

Wizard 237

Chapter 237: Demigod and Legendary! (2)

The sponsors were usually some Legendary Wizards and Grand Wizards.

In the world of wizards, only a Ninth-Circle Wizard could be called a Grand

Wizard.

Beyond that, they were Legendary Wizards.

According to Tuten, a Grand Wizard was a powerful existence comparable to some demigods of the Multidimensional Plane.

On the other hand, Legendary Wizards surpassed demigods and could be compared to gods in the Multidimensional Space.

That was why Tuten said the witch of the School of Ice, Witch Gullwig, was the closest woman to the Snow Goddess.

According to the first article of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council's Pan-Plane Wizard Constitution: No matter what sect you were from, no matter what region you were from, once you became an official wizard, you would be a member of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council. The Pan-Plane Wizard Council would protect your life rights, property rights, and intellectual property rights to original spells.

There were also some protective rules for wizards.

After all, the life of a wizard was also cherished.

Of course, most of the protection was in principle, but it was challenging to implement due to manpower and technical difficulties.

There were still many lawless fanatics in the wizarding world.

Levi listened to Winnie's explanation while matching the wizard he had heard from Tuten.

The findings were the same.

It seemed that these two people were not lying to him.

The ship sailed slowly until it reached a vast island.

Sighing sounds came from the sea breeze.

"This is the voice of the Sighing Banshee in the sea. This island is the Sighing Island, the territory of the Sighing Sea Breeze," Winnie pointed out the window and introduced.

Levi watched as the Fist of the Empire got off the ship under the lead of the high-level wizard. Then, they took a small boat and headed for the island.

Levi looked at the disappearing figure of the Fist of the Empire. This legendary figure had become a nobody in the wizard World.

"Will the Sighing Banshee attack the humans?" Levi asked.

Besides the monsters described in the Franken Wizard's Monster Manual, he knew nothing about the creatures in the Realm of the Unbelievers.

"No, they are afraid of people and hide far away when they see people.

However, many powerful sea beasts and extraordinary creatures exist in the Realm of Azure Cloud. They mastered spell-like abilities and were not friendly to humans. These extraordinary creatures are even a headache for wizards. Therefore, other than the fixed safe routes established by some wizards, don't run around," Winnie instructed.

Levi looked out the window and suddenly felt a little worried.

In this boundless sea, would he be able to concoct all the secret medicines for breathing techniques?

Although he had arranged for Andrew to continue searching for breathing technique inheritance diagrams and secret medicine in the human world, it seemed that it would be tough to send them over quickly.

Sigh, forget it.

If he could not find the secret medicine, he could slowly work on it as a wizard.

As long as he became an official wizard, his lifespan would be two hundred years.

It would be more than enough.

Levi had thought it through.

"Senior, what should I do if I want to return to the human world?" Levi asked.

"Return to the human world? It would be best to go to the Star Tower, where there is a sub-dimensional portal to the human world. However, using the sub-dimensional portal would cost a considerable price. Even if you were an official wizard, you would feel highly pained. Therefore, you should not go back if it is not an important matter. Why would you go back to the human world? That was not a place for wizards.

"If you need to contact your family and friends in the human world or mail something, you can go to the Star Sea to find Owlery. The Owlery is an organization under the Pan-Plane Wizard Council. They have ways to contact your family in the human world. You can pay the corresponding mailing fee and let their people pick up things from the human world or send something over. This cost is much lower than returning to the human world yourself. The kind of mail was limited to non-living objects and items allowed by the law.

Living objects or prohibited items could not be brought in without permission. This would be considered smuggling."

Levi nodded.

Before he became an official wizard, he might not have had the chance to return to the human world.

They chatted and laughed as the giant ship braved the wind and waves and finally arrived at a vast island.

The island was hidden in the fog in the sea. Two twin towers could be vaguely seen standing side by side in the mountains. Each building was nearly a hundred meters tall and stood in the sky.

"Junior, we're here."

Winnie patted Levi's shoulder gently.

Levi stood up and took his luggage.

Winnie looked at Levi's bow and smiled, "Junior has gained a lot in the human world."

Levi smiled and said, "They're all scrap metal. Senior, you wouldn't care about them."

Winnie covered her mouth and chuckled. The fog in front of her gradually dispersed, and a sea beast covered in brass armor and countless nails appeared before Levi, giving him a slight shock.

The size of the sea beast was similar to the killer whale in his previous life. A breathing hole was on its head, and a black chimney extended. White hot steam spewed out, making a loud sound.

"Junior Brother Levi, don't be afraid. This is the alchemical creature [White Tower No. 7] developed by our Tower Master. Besides being good at the Ocean School of Thought, our Tower Master is also quite proficient in the School of Alchemy and likes to study alchemical creatures. Therefore, if you occasionally see some strange iron-skinned monsters on the island, don't panic. These are all alchemical creatures.."