

Wizard 239

Chapter 239: Demigod and Legendary! (4)

Finally, they stopped at the entrance of a small house.

Because they had already informed him beforehand, Winnie dared to bring Levi to the seventh floor. Otherwise, the consequences of trespassing on the seventh floor's residence would be dire.

According to the rules of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council, every legal wizard organization registered in the Pan-Plane Wizard Council had the right to formulate their own rules within the scope of the constitution.

Therefore, in the Grey Tower, the Tower Master was the one who set all the rules in the tower.

The door of the tiny house was tightly shut. Levi's Advanced Vibrosensing

Could sense the person inside. It must be the Tower Master. On the lock of the wooden door, there was a carved Ouroboros.

The snake kept spinning.

After leaving the lock, the wooden door automatically opened.

A creaking sound echoed in the tower.

In the small house, an old man in a gray robe and a tall hat was reading a thick book.

Levi noticed the right arm under the old man's long sleeves was made of mithril.

The old man turned around and stared at Levi with eyes full of wisdom.

"Teacher Herman, this is Levi. He is one of the new batch of people sent in from outside. He is also a grand Imight," Winnie said like a lark.

"Hello, Lord Tower Master," Levi quickly greeted.

The Tower Master stared at Levi, and the alchemical body on his right arm suddenly extended, crossing a distance of three meters and gently coiling around Levi like a long snake.

Then, the cold metal palm gradually withdrew.

Winnie seemed to be used to this situation.

Although Levi felt a little uncomfortable, he could not say anything.

The Tower Master suddenly said, "Hmm, your spiritual power is not bad, almost reaching the level of an Intermediate Wizard. However, your spell power is a little weak. It seems that you practiced it blindly in the human world."

"Yes, Lord Tower Master, I fumbled alone," Levi said.

"It's not bad. With the Children of Chaos's talent, you could cultivate the Meditation Art to this level at this age. I can see that your temperament and perseverance are not bad. Moreover, you still have to cultivate the breathing technique, and the effort you put in is not comparable to that of the wizards in this Gray Tower. Many wizards look down on Children of Chaos. No matter your talent, as long as you have some shining points, you can be put in an important position."

The Tower Master did not seem dissatisfied with Levi's talent as a Children of Chaos. Instead, he affirmed Levi's talent.

"Thank you for your compliment, Tower Master," Levi said respectfully. Although the Tower Master looked strange, his personality was good.

The Town Master said, "Winnie, take your junior down. Bring him to meet the other wizards and familiarize him with the rules and environment of the tower. I still have to continue my research."

"Yes, Teacher." Winnie smiled and bowed to the Town Master. Then, she took Levi and rode the white snake Jorman Gund to the other wizard floors to meet the rest.

Among the other three wizards of the Grey Tower were two male wizards and one female wizard. Each of them was highly mysterious and powerful to Levi.

They were official wizards, even if they were only First-Circle Wizards.

In the nearby sea region, the status of a group member was extremely high.

Therefore, only the official wizard could apply for an island from the Star Tower and become the owner.

In fact, with Levi's talent as a Children of Chaos, the chances of becoming an official wizard were slim if he did not have the proficiency panel. About one in every ten Children of Chaos could become a wizard.

It would be much better if they had a three-element affinity. They could become a wizard in their lifetime.

Dual affinity meant that there was a chance for him to become an Intermediate Wizard.

As for the Children of the Elements, as long as they did not die prematurely, it would not be a problem for them to become high-level wizards.

Everyone believed only Children of the Elements hoped to become Grand or Legendary Wizards.

Ofcourse, there were always exceptions. In the current Pan-Plane Wizard Council, many powerful existences were still not Children of the Elements but had ordinary talents. However, they often had other aspects surpassing others, such as perseverance and luck.

In the end, Winnie brought Levi to meet every official wizard.

The two of them returned to the Gray Tower together.

The White Tower was the residence of an official wizard.

The Gray Tower was the residence of wizard apprentices.

At present, including Levi, the Gray Tower has a total of thirty wizards apprentices.

Apart from that, there were also many wizard apprentices outside of the Gray Tower on this island. They could not become official wizards, and there was no hope of breaking through. Therefore, they left the Gray Tower and worked in other organization departments to obtain cultivation resources.

Unlike the White Tower, the Gray Tower had 30 floors.

Therefore, it looked a little like the pigeon coop from his previous life.

However, the advantage was that every wizard could occupy a level, and each level was huge.

Levi was assigned to the ninth level.

The gray tower did not have an elevator like White Snake.

He had to walk upstairs.

Fortunately, Levi was a grand knight, so reaching nine floors in one go was easy.

Winnie handed the ninth-floor key to Levi.

The key was a bracelet with runes engraved on it. With this bracelet, one could simultaneously open the door by chanting the incantation for the ninth floor. It was very convenient.

"Junior, you should rest first. Today is your first day here, so you should recover your energy. Tomorrow, you will officially start your life in the Wizard Tower. In the future, keep in touch. You can go to the 24th floor and look for me."

Winnie waved goodbye to Levi..
