Chapter 2461: Ayak's Treasure Pouch, Ice Emperor's Throne!

Ice Sea Witch said, "With his current realm, that cultivation method should still be beyond his grasp, right? The Elemental Proof is a legendary artifact, so I think there's no need to rush. It's entirely possible to start forging after he becomes a Grand Wizard."

Gullwig was silent for a moment, then said, "You're right, maybe I've set my expectations for him too high."

Ice Sea Witch sighed, "I understand, the pressure on you in this position is too great, so I strive to become legendary as soon as possible."

Gullwig showed a grateful expression, "Thank you for reincarnating into the Frost Blood."

"I'm not just doing it for you. In my past life, I was part of the Ocean Faction, and if I want dual cultivation, the Frost Blood is most suitable. Frankly, throughout history, legendary dual-faction figures are very rare. I'm uncertain in my heart, so I hope it can be successful."

Gullwig looked up at the sky:

"That was before, the era has changed."

...

Four years later.

Nora Calendar 910.

West Sea, Levi lay floating on the sea surface, resting, with arms pillowed behind his head, feeling very comfortable.

With the enhancements of the "Sound Barrier" and "Shadow Wind," the Black Shadow Army was massacring in all directions.

Soon enough, Levi's self-developed eight-circle shadow magic will also be released.

By then, the Shadows' power will be greatly enhanced.

In the span of four years, his points have increased to 4.6 billion.

Growing steadily at a rate of over a billion annually.

In his mind, Ayak cawed loudly.

Levi said, "Alright, go travel, just be safe on the road."

With a wave of his hand, the ice-blue crow flew out of his mind, broke through the void without looking back, heading for the Land of Darkness.

Who knows how long this travel will last.

Hopefully, it won't be until I've become a Grand Wizard before this guy returns home.

It wasn't long before the sea area calmed down, with all demons slaughtered to extinction.

The Shadows voluntarily returned to Levi's side.

A giant serpent phantom, spanning a thousand meters and with a hefty body, also appeared before Levi.

This was AShe, Levi's automated collection companion spirit.

Over the years, Leon has been asleep, so the responsibility of garbage collection has fallen to AShe.

"Ah? It's over so soon?"

Levi looked at the rapidly increasing war merit, waved his big hand, and gathered all the Shadows into the emblem's Shadow World.

"Let's go to the next place."

...

A year later.

Nora Calendar 911, the 700th year of the Blood Battle.

A Bottom-dwelling Fish Demon Commander, radiating the aura of a level 8 middle-stage demon, looked around warily.

Its body was covered in scorch marks from Thunder Fire, already severely wounded. .

"Come out, insect! Are you only capable of hiding?" it roared, masking its inner panic.

Buzz! It suddenly turned around, purple thunder elemental power gathered and transformed into Levi's figure.

The black-armored swordsman elegantly unsheathed the Crimson Dragon Slash, with a horizontal slice!

Shiiii.

A spatial rift spanning hundreds of miles abruptly appeared between heaven and earth.

The Fish Demon Commander's head and body separated in an instant.

Its robust physique allowed the headless torso to continue fighting, charging towards Levi.

The other side's head opened wide, devouring the heavens and earth.

"How naughty, why can't you just die obediently? I just wanted to leave you a whole corpse."

Bam! Levi again dispersed into thunder elemental power, disappearing without a trace.

The Fish Demon Commander lunged in vain, gritting its teeth in frustration. "Damn it! Dare you face me in battle?"

High above, endless thunder elements converged into a Thunder God Illusion towering through the heavens, tens of thousands of meters high.

It had antlers on its head, a stern expression, and a Thunder War Drum hung on its waist.

"Perish... "

Levi gently pointed a finger down.

The Thunder God Illusion also raised a finger, pressing down.

Amidst heaven and earth, it was as if a purple pillar appeared reaching the heavens.

Boom!

Accompanied by terrifying thunder explosions of light.

Electric snakes transformed the surrounding hundreds of miles of sea into a Lightning Pool.

The Fish Demon's hard scale armor burst open with crackling sound.

The magic tool shield it had summoned shattered.

Then, a battered, thunder-struck corpse, emitting black smoke, floated on the sea surface.

A demon soul flew out, Levi pointed a finger.

Seven-circle spell Death Finger!

A ghostly light shot into the demon soul's body.

Given his current realm, coupled with the Absolute Luck state.

This spell's success rate on level 8 demons is quite high.

Under mysterious power, the demon's true soul began to disintegrate, scattering of the soul.

Nowadays, while Leon is sleeping, the work of soul obliteration is all done by Levi himself.

Of course, he only deals with demons above level 6, leaving low-level and middle-level ones to reincarnate freely.

"What a pity, they're all Leon's canned food. When will that little guy wake up?"

Levi collected the corpse.

In all directions, Mo Family Generals led the Shadow Army in fierce combat with the Demon Army.

The leading Mo Family General had already reached level 8 early-stage strength, being the first Bottom-dwelling Fish Demon Commander Levi hunted.

Level 8 early-stage is its ultimate limit, further hunting cannot promote it.

The Shadows' strength can never surpass their lifetime.

Unless the Shadow Dragon Group's talent undergoes another metamorphosis.

But that is beyond what the Sun Refining Artifact can accomplish.

The current talent is already the strongest form before becoming legendary.

The second major metamorphosis requires advancing to legendary, solidifying into "Legendary Talent."

In past life's terms, it could be called "Wizard."

In short, other spells, including primordial soul spells, might gradually become secondary as the realm advances.

But innate spells will always be a staple throughout a wizard's career, forever the primary means of confronting an enemy.

Chapter 2462: Ayak's Treasure Pouch, Ice Emperor's Throne!

This is why Levi insisted on creating his own techniques from the start; talent is crucial.

After clearing the battlefield, Levi continued to rush to the next location.

He gradually regained the feeling of demon-hunting from the past.

Perhaps, within a century, he has hope of reclaiming the top spot.

...

A month later.

At sea, Levi was searching for traces of demons.

His spine tingled with cold, and Danger Perception began to warn him.

"Level 9?" .

In his mind, there was a faint shadow of an impending attack.

Levi did not expect the demons to target him so quickly.

Without saying a word, he used the Invisible Secret Word to flee into the distance.

Tens of thousands of miles away, Levi's figure emerged.

He muttered incantations until a twisted portal appeared behind him, pulling him in.

...

Aurora Star.

"Huh, Levi, why are you here?"

"Mr. Matthew, I've recently had some insights from practicing sword techniques and wanted to spar with you."

"Hahaha, great! Come! This time, I will battle with you for three days and nights!"

"Please, instruct me."

Three days later.

Matthew was defeated once again.

However, it did not feel despondent in the slightest.

The battle with Levi provided it with many insights.

It had a premonition that it was getting closer and closer to the pinnacle of the legendary sword skill.

One day, it would become the strongest Dragon Knight on the Multidimensional Plane!

Leaving Aurora Star, Levi was in good spirits.

Looking at it now, his escape techniques were quite seamless.

As long as a level-10 entity does not act, there should be no problem.

And the level 10 demons are all being monitored by corresponding Legendary Wizards.

"Continue demon-hunting, and one day, I will strike back!"

...

Sorren Continent.

Dragon Flame City.

This is the Sky City of Dragon Flame God Lehger.

Inside the wizard tower.

The Dragon Flame God sat cross-legged, eyes closed in meditation.

In front of him, a treasure resembling an eyeball floated, emitting a scorching aura.

This is the rare treasure "Nora's Eye," a replica of "Eye of Sauron," jointly refined by Edmund, Lehger, and several other Legendary Wizards.

Although the Eye of Sauron has a wide observation range, it has a problem; it does not monitor Nora.

And Nora's Eye, its primary function is to monitor usage within Nora.

It can detect those demonic aura-intensive level 9 demons by relying on this treasure.

The map-wide "Dragon Flames" strikes of the Dragon Flame God also depend on this item.

Edmund's projection suddenly appeared.

He said, "Lehger, during this period, please keep a watchful eye... we must not let level 9 demons enter within Nora."

The Dragon Flame God nodded: "I understand."

Edmund looked towards deep space: "The demons are researching treasures capable of interdimensional strikes, intending to launch level 9 and even level-10 strikes from the distant Land of Darkness deeply into Nora to deal with us. The Wind Demon Lord is more cunning than other demons and is a formidable adversary."

"If they do succeed, we will be in a more passive position. Do you have any countermeasures?"

"To be honest... no. I have not yet reached Sauron's level. The Blood Battle has been ongoing for seven hundred years, and we have always been on the defensive. I assume the demons think we dare not leave Nora. I plan to launch a surprise attack to disrupt their plans."

"Just you alone?"

"Just me."

"Isn't that a bit risky? There are already eight level 10 demons surrounding Nora. Half of them are formidable characters from beyond the four hundredth layer of the Abyss."

"The others all have important tasks, and taking them along might instead hinder me. The Wind Demon Lord will certainly not expect that someone in my position as the Grand Council Chairman would venture in the early stages of the Blood Battle."

"Alright, just be careful. It's a shame I have to sit here; otherwise, I would like to test the Wind Demon Lord's tactics as well."

"Haha, you remain as battle-hungry as ever."

Edmund's form dissipated, evidently going off to make preparations.

The Dragon Flame God had a heavy heart.

Currently, among the 14 Legendary Wizards, only Edmund is closest to level 11.

His importance is self-evident.

He never takes actions without confidence, and the Dragon Flame God chose to trust in him.

"Speaking of which, it seems there's no need for my watch; Levi also has the ability to shake off a level 9 pursuit."

A short while ago, he killed a level 9 shadow demon attempting to invade Nora from the Shadow Dimension to launch a sneak attack on the Dusk Palace Master.

This was the first time the demons deployed a level 9 existence, risking getting killed, to deal with a supernova.

The demons are not foolish; they also see Levi's potential and want to nip it in the bud.

Thus, a large part of the Dragon Flame God's attention was focused on Levi.

"To counter Levi, losing a level 9 General, the Shadow Demon Queen would also feel heartache."

...

Land of Darkness.

Within a gigantic Demon Mountain resembling a plane.

"Damn it! That fool Pilos not only lost the target but also got himself killed."

The sharp and furious roar of the Shadow Demon Queen Rickssa made the generals below shiver with fear.

"Please calm down, Your Majesty. Pilos was also working for our Abyss cause."

"Indeed, once we complete the 'Abyss Prism,' we can launch interdimensional strikes against Nora. As for that impudent Dusk Palace Master, no matter the cost, he shall be quickly slain!"

"Heh-heh, by then, the wizards of Nora will only be able to cower within the shelter crafted by Sauron, slowly dying."

Suddenly, a projection appeared before the Shadow Demon Queen.

"Rickssa! Come to me immediately; Edmund has arrived, and I cannot be distracted while refining the Prism. He intends to disrupt our plans!"

A low roar sounded, it was the Wind Demon Lord's voice.

The Shadow Demon Queen had never seen the Wind Demon Lord so flustered.

"This Edmund is truly audacious; it's the perfect opportunity to capture him and heavily damage the Wizard World!"

...

The next day.

At dawn.

Elena opened the window, stretching lazily.

"It's been so long since I slept; it felt truly comfortable."

She looked at the horizon, where a faint, never-before-seen sun seemed to be rising.

It was vast, blazing, and virile, illuminating in all directions.

Such a spectacle, she had never witnessed.

This was not celestial phenomena but the power of an individual.

In the Sauron Plane, perhaps only two existences could achieve this.

One might be the true "Sun" perhaps older than the wizard civilization itself.

The other was the wizards' own "Sun."

She opened the Communication Wizard Tool.

[Levi, look at the sky!]

...

Island of Nameless in the Land of the North Sea.

Levi put away the communication device; he, too, noticed the anomaly in the sky.

"So conspicuous, probably visible from within Nora."

He murmured to himself, his feelings complex.

"Edmund's Eternal Blazing Sun..."

He muttered, his thoughts jumbled.

It's crucial that the sun rises again tomorrow."

Chapter 2463: Supernovas Converge on the North Sea! Divine Image [Elemental Ruins]!

Dark Deep Space.

The Dark Demon Dragon coiled around the peak of the wizard tower, asleep.

Inside the tower, Black Sun organized his bookshelf.

"Edmund has acted, what are the demons doing? Is this a sign of total war?"

He pondered the meaning behind this matter.

A blurred human face projection appeared on the cover of the ancient book in Adam's hand.

His features were indistinct, looking extremely old.

Only the pair of eyes were deeply impressive.

The left eye shone with light, while the right eye was dark and lifeless.

"Be ready at any moment, the time may be coming. Someday, I will take back everything that once belonged to me."

After speaking, the projection on the cover slowly dissipated.

Adam placed the ancient book in a corner of the bookshelf.

"Alright."

This was a basic spell textbook from the Bright Faction.

Its name was the very common "Book of Light."

The author was Diya Rodriguez.

...

A few days later.

The Supreme Council.

A solitary figure descended from the sky.

Edmund removed the shattered red robe.

This Nameless Legendary Wizard Tool was covered in scars and broken.

Sinister and evil auras entangled it, like bone-boring parasites.

Suddenly, it seemed that some force emanated from the round table.

The entangled demon marks, along with this Legendary Wizard Tool, began to disintegrate and vanish inch by inch.

"Edmund! Just you wait, this Demon Lord will soon crush Nora!"

An angry voice echoed before the round table.

Edmund exhaled deeply and laughed lightly, "The so-called Wind Demon Lord is weaker than I imagined."

The voice roared:

"A dying insect's tough words, the so-called fourth of the Pan-Plane isn't as strong as I thought. You wizards keep claiming to pursue the truth, do you want to know what truth is?"

Eons ago, before you foolish insects and the astral pigs were born, we ruled the world, we are demons, we are also True Gods, we are the rightful meaning of all concepts, we are the beginning and end of all things, we are truth!"

"Are you done talking?"

"Humph! No, I have much more to say, but this trace of mine is about to be dissolved... When I one day tear off your head, I'll whisper it in your ear for ten thousand years!"

Bang! The last trace also disappeared without a trace.

Edmund closed his eyes, gasping while sitting at the round table.

He was so tired, he lay on the table and quickly fell asleep.

His fingers gently stroked the tabletop, softly murmuring, "Thank you."

At some unknown point.

The Frost Witch projection appeared.

She silently looked at the Grand Council Chairman sleeping on the table.

"Next time with something like this, you can call me too."

...

In the blink of an eye.

The Star Fortress project has been underway for nearly two hundred years.

In the underground mechanical factories of the Ancient Dragon Continent, a full four star fortresses are being constructed simultaneously.

The results achieved by the first star fortress were satisfying to the congress military.

So they also joined in, bringing more resources to invest in the Star Fortress project.

Currently, three star fortresses have been completed.

They are located underground where mortals gather.

Three are far from enough; with the current scale of the Ancient Dragon Continent, more are needed.

The military's involvement is undoubtedly the best catalyst.

In the near future, more military star fortresses will be born.

One to support the Blood Battle, striking at demons.

The second is responsible for heading to the Sauron Plane for plane travel.

On one hand, to actively explore and seek more resources.

Another consideration.

Is to save more civilizations under the abyss' bloody maw.

To grab people from the Council of Ten Thousand Clans!

Relying on the power of wizard civilization alone is not enough.

The Sauron Plane must unite.

The process of plane fusion needs to be accelerated!

Regardless of whether the merged planes and civilizations sincerely accept this grand fusion.

The Wizard Council does not care.

...

Ancient Dragon Continent.

Tower of Dawn.

At the Pharmaceutics School, a small-scale funeral was being held.

Honorary Dean Triss in a black long dress, with slender arms draped in tulle scarves.

Beside her, Elena also looked regretful, lamenting the passing of life.

Behind her was a group of teachers and students from the Alchemist College, including some short halflings and elves.

A green-haired sixth-circle cultivated elven witch stood silently beside Triss.

Recently, the Lush Forest Tower also joined the Witch's Family.

This green elf mistress brought her Life School of Thought disciples.

And some elven relatives, all came to join Triss.

At the same time, she changed her wizard title from "Lush Forest Witch" to "Forest Witch."

Representatives from the Starfire Wizard Academy also attended the funeral.

They were entrusted by the dean Garcia to pay respect to their most important pharmacy teacher, Huffman.

Huffman failed to ascend to the sixth circle, subsequently saved his life, but did not have much time, passing away naturally a few days ago.

As a leader and mentor of the halfling clan, Huffman's importance is self-evident.

Huffman politely declined Levi's offer to become a heroic spirit.

The halflings felt that normal death was the best conclusion.

The growing halfling community was an important part of the Alchemist College at Tower of Dawn.

Levi was on the battlefield, but still entrusted Triss and Elena to attend the funeral.

Seeing so many high-ranking officials attending, the halflings felt a heartfelt happiness for Mr. Huffman.

In their hearts, they felt more attached to the Ancient Dragon Continent.

Even though the Dusk Palace Master held such a high position, and conversed with Legendary Wizards cordially.

Chapter 2464: Supernovas Gather at the North Sea! Divine Image [Elemental Ruins]!

In his heart, he still thought of his old friend Huffman, that short halfling.

After seeing Huffman off, the teachers and students returned to their posts.

Triss was grateful to the representative of the Starfire Wizard Academy:

"Thank you all for coming from afar, may our friendship last forever."

The representative was a chubby man with a benevolent and kind expression.

He was Wizard Beckman, with Sixth Ring Senior Cultivation.

Over a thousand years ago.

Inside the ancient tower, he had made some deals with the Holy Infant on the fifth level, which made them acquaintances.

Beckman laughed, "Naturally, Huffman is my friend, and he taught many excellent pharmacists at our academy. It was necessary and reasonable for us to come."

After exchanging pleasantries, the representatives of the Starfire Wizard Academy hurriedly departed. Elena and Triss watched their backs calmly.

Established over a thousand years ago, this wizard academy founded by the Black Pearl Boy has also developed and grown.

Nowadays, there are already two Seventh Circle Wizards, Garcia and Jacob.

The number of Sixth Circle Wizards is higher than some old high-level wizard organizations.

The Starfire Wizard Academy mainly operates in the Land of the North Sea.

During the Blood Battle, the teachers and students of the academy rescued many mortals or nomadic wizard markets, establishing several shelters.

Garcia seems unremarkable.

Yet he has repeatedly advanced before his lifespan limit.

Although not a supernova, he is still a legendary figure.

"I'll be going back first, there's some progress on a medicine project recently."

Triss's figure dissipated, heading to the Witch's Family.

Elena's heart was filled with emotion, Levi had lost another important old friend, probably feeling quite uneasy.

She thought about herself, to the people and events of her youth, everything seemed a bit blurry.

Wizards need to experience a lot, study a lot.

Many unimportant memories tend to be selectively faded.

For her, the happiest thing is having the most important people by her side.

...

A month later.

Land of the North Sea.

On a deserted island, Levi was recovering his strength.

Huffman's demise marked the complete fading of his memories of the Riptide City era.

The people he knew at that time, only two were still alive.

The Blue Dragon Lady and Sorrett.

These adversaries.

Due to various chance encounters, both became important figures around Levi.

Demon-hunting life is dull and tedious.

In leisure moments.

Levi liked to tend to his flowers and plants in the Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

Then he would take a circle in the pool soaking the giant dragon's corpse, branding the corpse with runes.

"It has absorbed four-fifths already, quite good, it can be born within a hundred years."

The mysterious substance in the pool water gradually faded.

At the same time, the body of the Wind Illusion Dragon began to shine with strange hues.

Various rare materials' transcendent factors filled its flesh, like mercury-like dragon blood flowing within.

Even after death, the pure Dragon's Might was still enough to shatter the void, forming energy storms.

The early surrounding white flame clouds also turned black, becoming more and more eerie.

Elsewhere.

Through Levi's intermittent refining, the eight-layer wizard tower already had an embryonic form.

The [Snowflake Wood] obtained from the auction was also installed inside.

Soaking Water Wood, Rock Transformation Wood, Nightmare Wood, Thunder Pattern Wood, Cold Ice Wood.

These five strange woods, like five giant trees growing naturally, formed the skeleton of the wizard tower.

Under Levi's refining.

They were not lifeless objects but breathed elemental power or energy and automatically grew as pillars.

This made the wizard tower itself come alive, able to continually adapt to Levi's realm elevation.

In the future, with each upgrade, simply adding a new layer over the existing foundation would suffice.

Below, the foundation was already solid as Mount Tai.

Similarly, there were separate heavens and earth inside the wizard tower.

The four major elemental forces of water, earth, thunder, and ice intertwined within, forming a colorful space.

In addition, threads of negative energy force lingered.

This was the embryonic form of the "inner heaven and earth" of the wizard tower.

Many exceptional quality wizard towers would contain an "inner heaven and earth."

For example, the Black Soul Demon Tower, Tower of Summer Flowers, etc.

This inner heaven and earth could house living beings.

It was very practical for sheltering clans or transcendent creatures, or suppressing enemies.

Of course, these inner heavens and earth are inherently small.

For instance, the Black Soul Demon Tower's is just about a hundred miles in radius.

Moreover, the inner heavens and earth are incomplete.

The inner heaven and earth of the Fiery Flame Servant's wizard tower is just a hundred-mile-radius flame space.

The Black Soul Demon Tower's inner heaven and earth is a realm of death energy.

The energy within is not self-generated but relies on arrays to absorb external heaven and earth power.

The space of inner heavens and earth is difficult to automatically expand and mostly remains fixed.

This is the essential difference between the inner heavens and earth within wizard towers, rare treasures, and complete worlds like the Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

Refining treasures containing inner heaven and earth.

On one hand requires advanced spatial knowledge.

On the other hand requires rare materials with spatial attributes.

The former needs no further explanation, Levi himself is an eighth-circle wizard and has cultivated many spatial spells.

His knowledge base in this domain doesn't dare to claim supremacy, but it's more than enough for refining wizard towers.

The latter, however, is the hardest to acquire. This is the main reason why rare treasures that form their own world are so scarce.

Materials containing spatial energy are too rare.

Every time they appear at an auction, they are bound to be snapped up at high prices.

Fortunately.

The massive [Starfall Remains] Levi obtained through the treasure map precisely solved this problem.

That enormous blue meteorite.

After Mana refined the space passage to the [Black Swamp Secret Realm], it only consumed a small part.

Chapter 2465: Supernova Gathers at the North Sea! Divine Image [Elemental Ruins]!

The head has been taken by Levi to refine it into the wizard tower.

Three factors determine the size of the inner heaven and earth within the wizard tower:

First is the quality of the wizard tower.

Second is the space knowledge reserve of the refiner.

Third is the quality and size of the space materials.

Levi's [Eternal Star Abyss], has maximized these three factors to the best of his ability.

This allows his embryonic form of inner heaven and earth to far surpass the Black Soul Demon Tower.

According to his measurements.

This embryonic form of inner heaven and earth spans approximately a thousand miles.

Its diameter is ten times that of the Black Soul Demon Tower, likely surpassing some Grand Wizards' ninth-layer wizard towers.

Moreover, due to the use of various elemental magic woods.

The inner heaven and earth to be born next will no longer be a space of a single attribute.

It is a place infinitely close to a true world.

The giant dragon corpse demon and wizard tower are Levi's two ace cards against level 9 enemies.

The last one is [Eighteen Layers of Hell Array].

The design drawings, including some ideas and sketches, have all been handed over to Holy Infant and Victor.

Although they haven't reached eighth-circle yet, they can start learning in advance.

After reaching eighth-circle, they can assemble the forces of Fire Dragon Sky Work and the Dawn Tower. To refine this super array for Levi.

The refining of such an array cannot be achieved overnight.

It requires refining different modules separately, then assembling them together for debugging and operation.

These can be completed before he advances to ninth-circle.

By then, he will certainly show those pursuing Level 9 demons a taste of his abilities.

"Lord, it's born! The Red Princess has given birth!"

A tiny [Dragon Demon] flutters its bat wings, landing on Levi's shoulder to deliver the good news.

It looks like a Dragon Man, with a proud chest, covered in sparkling scales.

A succubus-like small tail sways behind it, with a mane of golden hair flowing down its back.

The Dragon Demon Mistress, Morgan.

Dragon Demons are also a type of little elf.

During their long evolution, they established a symbiotic relationship with Dragon Clan creatures.

They are responsible for collecting treasures, gathering intelligence, and keeping watch for giant dragons.

While giant dragons provide protection.

These little guys' inherent strength is too weak.

In the Ancient Banyan Fairyland, there's a small tribe made up of three hundred Dragon Demons.

It was purchased by the Tower of Dawn from a run-down high-level wizard organization ten years ago.

All organization members know that the Dusk Palace Master is passionate about magical creatures and Dragon Clan.

He appears fierce and ruthless but truly has a tender side.

At least... that's how many female members of the organization imagine Levi.

His thousand-year love with Madam Elena is proof. .

So, organization members put extra effort into Levi's hobby during their outings.

Occasionally bringing back magical creatures from the outside world.

Compared to ordinary fairies, Dragon Demons are more skilled at caring for Dragon Clan.

Therefore, every Heaven and Earth Dragon General is equipped with a Dragon Demon as a little assistant.

These masters live their lives in utter comfort.

Morgan, as the fairy Mistress, has the heavy responsibility of caring for pregnant dragons.

Levi's figure flashes and instantly appears in the Flame Mountain.

The Red Princess looks weak, hanging her head powerlessly.

A giant egg covered in crimson scales lies on the ground, radiating intense heat.

"Good, take the egg to the incubation room, and nourish the Red Princess."

Over these years, the birth rate in the Dragon Palace has risen sharply.

First, it was the Earthquake Dragon, then the Fire Breathing Dragon and Fierce Scale Dragon, and now the Male Fire Dragon and the Red Princess.

Each egg of sub-dragons represents the future hope of the Dragon Palace.

Although Dragons are longevity species, they too will age.

When they pass away, these newborn dragons can continuously provide blood.

Once pure-blooded Dragon Clan grows, they can also give birth to sub-dragons.

This creates a perfect cycle.

With the external Dragon Clan supplement, why should the Dragon Palace not flourish?

...

Nora Calendar 912.

Dusk Holy Temple.

The new Blood Vortex Knights have taken shape, named [Blood Vortex]

With technological advancement, the success rate of bloodline transplant experiments is rising, and the cost of failure is decreasing.

The number of volunteers willing to undergo transformation has been increasing annually.

However, to become a Blood Vortex Knight, one needs a certain talent, hence requiring selection.

Those adept in combat techniques in their mortal rookie phase, or those with good natural roots.

Are the ideal experimental subjects.

With secret medicine materials sourced from the bloodline, the development of Blood Vortex Knight is swift.

Currently, the Dusk Holy Temple boasts three special forces.

[Song of the Sirens], the speed knights group, proficient in transformation and assassination.

[Iron Crocodile's Teeth], the defense knights group, skilled in defense and protection.

[Blood Vortex] is the "Blood Bull" knights group, possessing extraordinary physique.

All three knight groups are absolutely obedient sacrificial soldiers.

They collaborate, executing tasks with high risk in Blood Battles.

...

By the Small Stone Pond, Levi opens the proficiency panel.

The Heavenly King Dragon Breathing Skill has reached the level 8 middle stage.

Endurance, stamina, and other attributes have significantly improved.

The speed of Traveling the Void has reached 60 times the conventional travel speed.

Other spell-like abilities have also advanced even further.

The Nightmare Dragon and Inferno Dragon Breathing Technique are drawing closer to the level 8 middle stage.

[Chariot Rune] has leveled up to the eighteenth-tier, with a speed increase of 300%.

The distance of the void travel for the horse carriage has been boosted by 5,000 miles in one go, reaching 20,000 miles.

Not counting the [Invisible Secret Word] and Elemental Escape Technique, these two special methods.

Chapter 2466: Supernovas Gather at the North Sea! Divine Image [Elemental Ruins]!

He has the Scarlet Divine Palace, Heavenly Pegasus Star Soul, plus his abilities in Void Travel.

Combining these three, he can travel nearly sixty thousand miles in one breath.

With one set of moves, he can swiftly run over a hundred thousand miles.

This is also why even Level 9 Experts are helpless against Levi.

With strong danger foreknowledge, coupled with unparalleled escape methods.

As long as Levi doesn't intentionally seek death, it's very hard to catch him alone.

[Lovers Rune] upgraded to Level 14, Luck Boost increased from 140% to 160%.

With Absolute Luck, the Luck Boost is 320% for a short time.

Other runes like [Fool Rune], [Magic Rune], [Hanging Rune] have also been upgraded.

Attribute boosts in the original foundation, each increased by 10%.

Five years remain until the ancient tower opens.

Levi's points have reached 4.9 billion.

He checks the War Merit Store every day.

[Ice Emperor's Throne] is still there, and no one has redeemed it.

The Ice Sea Witch's points also ceased to grow.

According to reports, this exceptionally talented witch has been in the Eight Environments for over a thousand years.

It seems now, she has gone into retreat.

This allows Levi to breathe a bit easier.

"Three billion more meritorious points, and I can claim it."

Leaving the fairyland, exiting the shelter.

Compared to the Eastern Sea,

The Land of the North Sea, without Sorren Continent's presence, suffers from severe demonic disasters.

The Mirror of Light appears before him, with a web of demonic aura crisscrossing.

He follows a relatively thick line within, starting to seek the demon's trace.

...

Starfire Island.

Deep within the Wizard Academy's retreat area, Garcia opened his eyes.

"Senior Seventh Circle now."

He senses the more vast spiritual force, sweeping in all directions.

"Garcia, you've broken through?" Jacob's old yet joyous voice came over.

As vice-principal, over a millennium, he and Garcia have also forged a deep and sincere friendship.

The two supported each other, pulling a group to become an unassailable force in the Wizard World.

Currently, the academy has over a hundred thousand teachers and students, sheltering four mortal gathering sites.

"Yes, but it's a pity the Eight Environments is very difficult." Garcia's eyes were a bit dim.

He had humble origins, and his talent wasn't considered outstanding.

But through his journey, he worked hard enough and also had sufficient luck.

Jacob consoled:

"Buddy, don't be so discouraged, your Water King Sequence Artifact is already collected, your talent isn't much worse than Children of the Elements."

Garcia sighed: "Hope so, Jacob how is your injury? Any improvement?"

Jacob smiled nonchalantly:

"Earlier, fighting that Level 7 Demon injured the primordial soul origin, and using a forbidden technique that cut short my life, now my days are numbered, seeing you break through again, I'm quite happy."

Garcia puzzled: "You're not planning to find a partner, leave descendants?"

Jacob laughed at himself:

"After death, everything fades, another thousand years, who in the family will remember this old thing? Instead, perhaps the academy's teachers and students will still remember me... By the way, your earlier suggestion to join Ancient Dragon Continent I also think is a good choice. We are progressing rapidly, but still can't keep up with the pace of Blood Battles. We've been dealing with the Dusk Palace Master for many years, he's trustworthy."

Garcia nodded.

"I understand, I sent someone to attend Huffman's funeral also for this reason. I believe, in the unseen, some great beings around them have what's called 'fortune'. They can make themselves better, and also make others better, make civilization better, Sorren is like this, Edmund is the same, the Dusk Palace Master might also be such a person."

Jacob's eyelids drooped, seeming a bit tired.

He stretched out his palm, there's a crystal clear blue heart.

The heart floated before Garcia, throbbing.

"Bright Moon Artifact [Naga Heart]... where did you get this?"

Jacob looked up:

"I previously saved a few tens of millions in War Merit, unused, now seems also useless, all cheaply for you now."

...

Half a year later.

Jacob fell in the academy.

The mourning Garcia buried him, leaning to Jacob's wishes, did not tell the teachers and students.

Only saying Jacob went on a long journey seeking opportunities.

Garcia had no time for grief, because the demons invaded.

Starfire Wizard Academy teachers and students courageously resisted the demons, thorns in the eyes of North Sea Demons.

Recently, an advanced Mind Flayer seized the opportunity, invaded a squad of teachers and students out on a mission.

And successfully found the coordinates of Starfire Wizard Academy.

As many as four Level 7 Demons, leading fifty thousand elite demon army, surrounded the academy.

Garcia immediately sought help from the authorities.

The authorities dispatched the nearest wizard group, meanwhile issuing task bounties.

Rumble! The demons are forcibly tearing open Starfire Island's protective barrier.

Garcia said: "Everyone do not panic, official support will soon arrive, we just need to hold on for a while, nothing will happen to anyone."

Beckman and other elders with primordial soul cultivation wore serious expressions: "Principal, all trap arrays have been set up, if the demons break in, they should also be detained for a while."

Garcia said: "Beckman, as previously rehearsed, if time runs out, you and other teachers shelter the students to escape, I will hold the demons, I have a trump card, enough to escape."

"Okay, hope things won't worsen to that extent."

Shortly after, Starfire Island's barrier was ripped open.

A bone-piercing demon covered in spikes barged in.

Buzz! Mountains of demons unfolded, more demons surged in.

Chapter 2467: Supernova Assembles at the North Sea! Divine Image [Elemental Ruins]!

Four demons, two at the mid-stage, two at the early stage.

This lineup truly overestimates the wizard academy.

Behind Garcia, the massive Black Pearl wizard form emerges.

On either side of the body, there are two phantoms of accompanying spirit creatures.

One resembles a giant toothed shark, ferocious beyond compare; .

The other has a human head and fish body, akin to a Naga.

The spells from the teachers and students shoot into the sky like colorful fireworks.

The demons fall to the ground like dumplings, scattering into demonic aura.

Under the cover of the primordial soul wizards, the teachers and students tear open gaps to escape far and wide.

Garcia and his accompanying spirit creatures fight two demons alone.

While one, as if entering an uninhabited realm, grins fiercely and chases the fleeing teachers and students.

Whoosh! Above the sky, an octagonal star formation coalesces.

"Magic ArraySword Falling Stars!"

A streak of invisible Sword Qi pierces the air, transforming into a figure.

He has a handsome face, wearing a splendid silver sword armor, treading on the void.

Eight consecutive sword qi fall in front of the seventh-level demon, sealing it.

"It's the Demon Tears Divine SwordLink!"

"Are we saved?"

"This is the supernova ranked first on the seventh-level Demon Slaying List, known for killing many seventh-level demons across levels."

In an instant, the teachers and students rekindle their hope.

In this age of despair, the word supernova is a beacon in the night!

"Supernova?" The trapped seventh-level demon's expression changes.

If it remembers correctly, Link was only at level 6 peak strength.

Could it be that he's already advanced to the seventh circle?

Of course, Link hasn't reached the seventh circle yet; he is still at the sixth-circle maximum level.

He is an unparalleled genius but branding 22 Witch Marks takes time.

That doesn't stop him from coming! As a sword cultivator, he just acts!

Under the octagonal star formation, a sword star composed of millions of Sword Qi, with a diameter of a thousand meters, falls.

The seventh-level early-stage demon resists stubbornly but is still shredded into minced flesh.

"Too strong! This is the power of a supernova."

The teachers and students cease to flee and join the battle instead.

Garcia transmits his voice: "Thank you, sir."

Link calmly replies: "You're welcome, I was just nearby, lending a hand."

The faces of the remaining three demons harden, and another mid-stage seventh-level demon flies out to hunt Link.

"Killing a supernova today makes a worthy death."

Link doesn't dare to be arrogant, brave but not foolish.

The mid-stage seventh-level is not something he can contend with.

His body transforms into Shattered Invisible Sword Qi, weaving through the pervasive Sword Qi.

His wizard and Qi Sect cultivation combined can instantly burst and kill an unguarded early-stage seventh-level demon.

But that's his only move, and then he's exhausted.

His next move is to help Garcia delay time and wait for more reinforcements.

Time flows.

More and more wizards join the battle.

Many of them are nearby civilian groups.

Hearing of the wizard academy's plight, they rush to come.

Among them are primordial soul wizards.

Buzzzz! In the void, a magnificent blue giant wheel breaks through the waves.

The words "Song of the Deep Sea" are carved on the bow.

"Garcia, go support other battlefields, we'll handle the seventh-level demons."

Song of the Deep Sea, ace battle group!

The leader is a seven-circle perfect wizard, Sea Singer Nante.

A top genius of the Ocean Faction, supernova, ranked third on the Level 8 Demon Slaughter List.

It's said that this person is also good at extraordinary music spells with diverse methods.

"Another supernova?"

Garcia's spirit lifts, he hastily expresses gratitude.

With Song of the Deep Sea joining,

The demons begin to fall in batches.

On the verge of victory, the sea surface erupts with huge waves, a spatial storm rises.

A bottom-dwelling Fish Demon, 3,000 meters in length, leaps up, countless tentacles surging, poisonous water soaring.

It exudes a level 8 mid-stage aura, intimidating everyone instantly upon appearance.

Not only that, as the void splits open, three more level 8 demons descend.

Leading them is an entity with a level 8 late-stage aura, shockingly the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable.

Its body bears some ghastly scars, like engravings branded upon it.

Vaguely discernible are the words "Destruction."

Previously, the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable relied on its formidable cultivation to withstand a blow from Levi's Secret Word of Destruction and survived.

After escaping, although its injuries healed, the scars wouldn't fade for a long time.

"Such liveliness, it seems I, the Great Venerable, have come just in time."

The Swallowing Sea Great Venerable strikes, clashing with the grand array of the Deep Sea Song battle group.

"Damn, why are there demon reinforcements?"

Garcia's expression shifts.

If it were just one level 8 demon, with this battle group's power, they could certainly hunt or drive it away.

But now, there are four, with even one at level 8 late-stage.

Such a luxurious lineup for just the Starfire Wizard Academy is unimaginable.

It's like using an anti-aircraft gun to kill a mosquito.

Unless... the demons have other schemes.

The battlefield situation is ever-changing.

A small-scale skirmish is hinting at turning into large-scale warfare.

The Swallowing Sea Great Venerable descends with an invincible aura.

With a single strike, it forces the Deep Sea Song to retreat.

Commander Nante's expression turns grave.

"Is this the demons' trap?"

This battle group is the only one nearby that can be deployed.

To counter such enemies, an ace battle group led by an eighth-circle wizard is needed, like Destruction Realm Thunder.

As for civilian wizards, they are too uncertain.

If luck is on their side, there might be an eighth-circle wizard nearby.

If not... who knows how many present today will escape.

What puzzles him is.

Before executing the task.

The war diviner, Blood Battle Commander Northern Abyss Walker, did not indicate such a great risk for this battle.

Chapter 2468: Supernova Assembles at the North Sea! Divine Image [Elemental Ruins]!

The astrology ability of the Northern Abyss Walker is exceptional even among Grand Wizards.

This is also the main reason for the high victory rate of the alliance army she commands.

It's impossible that she has been infiltrated by demons and become a traitor, right?

Buzz! The void trembles, and boundless red clouds spread coming from the horizon.

Fire descends from the sky, transforming into a human shape.

Then, a surging enormous fire fist forces back the tentacles of the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable!

"Swallowing Sea Great Venerable, it's been a while."

A wizard dressed in a red robe with short red hair descends with a smile.

"Gatling, you're here too?" .

Seeing this, Nante's face lit up.

No wonder the Northern Abyss Walker said this battle is no big deal; there are experts nearby demon-hunting.

However, relying on Gatling alone doesn't seem enough.

"Hand of the Fire God? Another supernova? So what? Merely an ordinary eighth-circle cultivation, even if the Dusk Hall Master comes personally, I am not afraid!"

The Swallowing Sea Great Venerable's heart is arrogant, it has escaped from the hands of the Dusk Hall Master!

There are three supernovas here and plenty of genius wizards from the Starfire Wizard Academy.

All of them killed, then this ambush is worth it.

Gatling stays calm.

He dodges the attack of the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable, shooting thousands upon thousands of fire bullets, raining fire around.

"Die!"

Boom! Four Demon Mountains enclose Gatling, shaking the sky and sea!

The breath of the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable instantly floods him.

"What kind of supernova, just like this."

Buzz! A wisp of flame surfaces in the void.

A crimson flame pillar rushes into the high heavens, transforming into a flaming face with a diameter of ten thousand meters.

"Do you know why I am called the Hand of the Fire God?"

The human face resembling Gatling looks down indifferently.

Then stretches out a giant flame hand, directly grabbing a level 8 early stage demon Commander. For more chapters visit Novel_Fire\(.\)netnet)

It screams in agony, turning into a fiercely burning ball of flames.

The Swallowing Sea Great Venerable sees it, tearing at the void with its tentacles towards the flaming face.

"Levi, stop watching, you don't really think I can fight four level 8 demons, do you? I was boasting, damn it!"

Gatling suddenly shouts.

Swallowing Sea Great Venerable shivers at once.

"What? There are enemies nearby? Wait, is it the Dusk Hall Master?"

A terrifying feeling rises in its heart.

Meanwhile, the teachers and students of the wizard academy and the wizards rushing to support are stunned.

How many supernovas are gathered in the North Sea?

Link, the Sea Singer, the Hand of the Fire God, and even the Dusk Hall Master are all here?

Is this a supernova gathering?

"Roar!"

Accompanied by an earth-shattering dragon roar.

A Thunder Dragon, stretching ten thousand meters, tears through the Sky Dome from miles away.

Its face vaguely resembles Levi.

The Thunder Dragon opens its mouth, spitting out a Dragon Ball.

The bead seems slow but appears in front of the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable in an instant.

Ten thousand pounds of thunder strike together!

The Swallowing Sea Great Venerable's chest is directly blasted with a large charred hole.

Then, the Thunder Dragon changes, the figure of a black-armored swordsman emerges.

This skill just used wasn't some powerful primordial soul spell.

It was Levi's innate spell [Thunder Dragon Flash].

Enhanced by the Thunder God's Head.

This spell, not only enhances escape abilities.

During execution, it can transform into a Thunder Dragon, which is quite impressive.

The Thunder Dragon is not only impressive; it's also very powerful.

The sudden strike just now directly pierced through the demon body of the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable.

But obviously, the latter won't die so easily.

The Swallowing Sea Great Venerable recovers itself, restoring the demon body.

Levi swings a sword, and Sword Qi rolls towards the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable.

"Gatling, you handle one, I'll handle three, alright?"

"Should I tie up the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable for you?"

"I'll handle this myself, we're friends, I don't want to put you at risk."

"Alright... you sure are loyal, damn it."

The fiery face opens its mouth, spitting out the Thunder God Projection.

Gatling single-handedly ties up a level 8 mid-stage demon.

A world-shaking battle breaks out.

Shadows fly out one by one, landing on the battlefield transforming into the Black Shadow Army.

Above Qingming, winds and clouds gather into the Level 8 Middle Stage Maia Spirit.

In the ocean, sections rise up forming four Level 8 Early Stage Spiritual Weapons.

High-level combat power changes in an instant.

The Swallowing Sea Great Venerable didn't expect to fish out the Hand of the Fire God and the Dusk Hall Master.

Heaven pity them.

They only intended to destroy this official battle group active nearby.

It's completely no match for Levi, and wants to flee.

But Levi is prepared this time, naturally not letting it escape.

[Absolute Ice Point] points out, locking it in ice.

Then [Silver Mountain Skyfall] and [Wind Illusion Realm] descend.

"If you do not fear me, why do you flee?"

Levi's words are calm; the Thunder God Projection behind him exudes a heavy pressure.

The Swallowing Sea Great Venerable knows it can't escape, and can only fight desperately, there is a glimmer of hope.

It releases the full momentum of its Level 8 Late Stage.

Rolls up endless water elemental power, forming dense water arrows.

Levi's Red Emperor Domain rises, evaporating all the water arrows into invisibility.

The Swallowing Sea Great Venerable opens its abyssal mouth.

"I am the demon master of water, the ocean is my domain!"

Then, its thousands of tentacles pierce the sea.

Simultaneously, the entire sea area where Starfire Island is located.

For thousands of miles, it seems to be trembling.

Gatling's facial expression changes slightly:

"This is a demon domain, this Swallowing Sea Great Venerable is no simple being, you need to stay cautious."

Levi has a thought.

If so, it's just the right time to test the new technique he just comprehended.

Behind him, the phantom of the Nine-colored Emperor appears.

It holds a sword with both hands facing downward, with brilliant light shining from behind.

Chapter 2469: Supernova Assembles at the North Sea! Divine Image [Elemental Ruins]!

Like a sword-wielding heavenly deity standing in the sea.

"Divine ImageChaos Ruins!"

Boom!

The Emperor's Sword pierced the seawater!

Then, a seven-colored shockwave spread out.

Where it passed, the seawater began to vanish.

It did not evaporate but transformed into endless water elemental particles, merging into the world.

Even more terrifying, sea winds, white clouds, and reef stones vanished as well.

Within the hundred-mile barrier radius, all matter began to disintegrate into basic elemental particles.

Except for the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable, who resisted the shockwave with powerful strength.

But it discovered that it seemed to be in an even more fearsome situation.

That is "Elemental Vacuum."

Annihilate all things, then extract all elemental particles within a certain range.

This is an ability only mastered by level 9 entities proficient in elemental techniques.

Yet this Dusk Palace Master, only level 8 mid-stage strength, how did he do it?

As a bottom-dwelling fish demon, its physical body is strong.

But more important is its spell-like ability and control over seawater.

At this moment, its ability in this aspect was infinitely weakened.

Because the surrounding world no longer has elemental power.

Except for absolute physical body practitioners, for any existence level 6 and above, this is deadly.

A feeling of weakness struck, the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable looked terrified.

Then saw the Nine-colored Emperor transform into a streak of lightning, flashing before the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable.

The fish demon extended all its tentacles, protecting its head.

The emperor struck with a palm, a round chaotic white sun appeared in the sky.

"Chaos Sun!"

Boom! The white sun collided with the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable.

Silently, the demon's body spanning five thousand meters began to disintegrate.

The elemental particles absorbed by Levi were suddenly released!

White light illuminated a thousand miles around, blinding everyone.

Then, a thunderous explosion was heard.

The wizards on-site seemed to see countless Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water anomalies of world creation appear.

The explosion dissipated.

Levi stood alone on the sea surface, holding a core of the Abyss in his hand.

Soon, there will be a monster of initial level 7 late-stage joining the group.

He looked around, his form transforming into a Thunder Dragon with a human head and dragon body, roaming the battlefield.

Wherever the Thunder Dragon flew, swathes of demons fell.

After Levi dealt with three level 8 demons, Gatling had not yet resolved his enemy.

"Need help?" Levi asked.

Just one Swallowing Sea Great Venerable contributed 1.2 billion in war merit, it was simply exhilarating.

Plus the other two level 8s, over two billion credited.

"No need, I can do it!" The Hand of Fire God said stubbornly.

Levi was indifferent.

He led the Shadow Army, cleaning up the battlefield's cannon fodder.

Half a day later, the world was quiet.

The Hand of Fire God also dealt with that level 8 mid-stage demon.

He refined the Fire Element Sun Refining Artifact[Vana God Face].

Had already gathered most of the Fire God series artifacts.

Wizard form and Soul Artifact were first-rate.

So the identity and strength of Supernova were beyond doubt.

On the battlefield, the cheers of the wizards rose and fell.

Link was also among the crowd, looking at the towering figure of his Palace Master, his spirit shaken.

So powerful!

What strength it takes to single-handedly annihilate a level 8 late-stage demon.

Compared to the commander, his road was still long.

Even the Deep Sea Song Battle Group members unfamiliar with the Dusk Palace Master were excited.

All along, they and Commander Nante regarded the Dusk Palace Master as an example.

Now seeing him in person, their feelings were beyond words.

Sadly, now was not the time for a group photo.

Nante briefly thanked Levi, Gatling, and others before hastily leading the team away.

Other places also needed their support.

After the battle, Gatling looked at the calm sea.

"That move of yours to eradicate the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable is somewhat fearsome."

He naturally knew what such means implied.

That is normal procedure only a Grand Wizard can employ.

Levi said with a smile: "Just a crude imitation of a Grand Wizard, not worth mentioning."

"Keep it up, when you have an Eight-Ring Body and hunt level 9 demons, when I talk to others, I will have boasting capital." He patted Levi's shoulder and left the place.

Levi looked at the battlefield littered with demon corpses, beginning to pick up trash.

"These are all money, don't these supernovas pick them up?"

He came to aid actually under Lucy's guidance.

She told him there might be a large amount of war merit here, so Levi came.

He met Gatling halfway.

The two hit it off, collaborating on demon hunting.

The affair developed just as Lucy predicted.

In astrology skill, the lady is too strong.

She seems to have some special talent.

As for dealing with the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable using [Chaos Ruins].

That is a special ability born after [Primordial Spirit] advancement.

This technique merges [wizard form] and [Primordial Spirit] techniques.

Executed by the metamorphosed Nine-colored Emperor.

Therefore, Levi dubbed it [Divine Image].

After activation, he can annihilate everything within a hundred-mile range into elemental particles.

He can even concentrate these elements within the divine image body, manifesting a white energy ball.

Levi called it [Chaos Sun].

This technique has destructive power that can annihilate everything.

Its power even exceeds [Secret Word of Destruction].

It's the strongest move combining wizard and knight techniques.

Even level 8 late-stage demons cannot withstand it.

Theoretically.

Chaos Sun can even inflict damage on Grand Wizards with [Elemental Holy Body].

This is an elemental attack; elementalization cannot prevent it.

Of course, whether it works requires practical combat testing.

Chapter 2470: Starlight Shines on Dawn, the Serpent Vulture Knight in This Life

North Sea.

Blood Battle Command Center.

Lucy gazed at the combat projection coming from the front lines.

"Elemental Vacuum... He actually mastered such a technique?"

Even Lucy was somewhat surprised.

She knew that the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable was not Levi's match.

She just didn't expect him to be annihilated using Elemental Vacuum.

This is the hallmark ability of a Grand Wizard.

Requiring both Elemental Holy Soul and Elemental Holy Body to perform.

She was even more eager to see Levi's next performance.

After Dual Cultivation of the knight and wizard.

This young man seems to be sprinting towards a realm beyond convention and comprehension.

...

Somewhere in the North Sea.

After Inventorying the spoils of battle.

Levi felt a bit regretful.

It was thrilling, and he put on quite a show.

The demon material from the Level 8 Late Stage, only left with a core of the Abyss.

The [Chaos Sun] caused the Swallowing Sea Great Venerable's body to disintegrate into Elemental Particles and dissipate.

Levi realized.

No matter how powerful, to be frugal and accumulate wealth.

One still has to honestly use the sword to cut.

...

On the other side.

Starfire Island.

After arranging for the casualties.

Looking at the devastated base and the surviving teachers and students.

Garcia recalled Jacob's previous words.

The situation of the Blood Battle changed too quickly.

If Starfire Island wanted to remain steady like Mount Tai in the next millennium.

No matter the willingness, it must lean on a top wizard organization's support.

This is a compromise to reality.

The official forces are limited and cannot wholly rely on the higher-ups.

In the eyes of the notable figures, it is the big picture, the interest of civilization as a whole.

They cannot always consider the feelings of everyone below.

Only being strong oneself can ensure survival.

Even the Witch's Family, such a top wizard organization.

For survival, they abandoned their old dignity and sought refuge in the Ancient Dragon Continent.

Starfire Wizard Academy, perhaps needs to change too.

His original intention for founding this organization.

Was to let more nomadic and ordinary wizards travel further on the path of truth.

This battle, he witnessed the power of the Dusk Palace Master.

Those incredible methods truly deserve the title of first among supernovas.

After consulting with other senior members, he picked up the communication device.

...

In demon-hunting, Levi halted his steps.

He let the Shadows continue, while he hid away somewhere.

"Starfire Wizard Academy wants to join?"

Levi was somewhat surprised.

Typically, those wanting to join the Ancient Dragon Continent.

Are mostly fallen organizations with no hope in sight.

In his view, Starfire Wizard Academy had great potential.

Over a thousand years, it established a decent high-level wizard organization.

Its development momentum is first-rate among emerging forces.

It seems the demon invasion this time gave Garcia too much pressure.

If not for timely official and civilian rescue.

It would have inevitably resulted in very serious casualties.

By then, it would again be just a few lines in the Blood Battle damage report.

This is Civil War.

Such situations are common.

Thinking it over, Levi informed the high-level of various organizations on the Ancient Dragon Continent of this matter.

Upon hearing the news, everyone immediately began discussions.

Eventually, everyone unanimously agreed to accept Starfire Wizard Academy.

Ancient Dragon Continent has cooperated with the Academy for a long time.

They are well aware of the Academy's situation, making it easy to take over.

Principal Garcia's character is renowned, with a good reputation.

Of course, such organizational mergers still require official approval.

With the precedent of the Witch's Family, the related procedures were quickly completed.

The Fire Dragon Knight and Ash Knight, leading their respective delegations, were responsible for transporting and safeguarding the teachers and students.

To be safe, they even deployed a war machine like Star Castle.

...

A month later.

Starfire Island.

The news of the organization's merger into the Ancient Dragon Continent had long spread.

The vast majority of teachers and students were supportive.

Many had witnessed Dusk Palace Master's might firsthand.

The Ancient Dragon Continent's achievements in fighting demons were beyond doubt.

Such an organization gave a great sense of security.

Only a very few felt it was inappropriate.

However, these voices were negligible.

Starfire Wizard Academy's restrictions were not as strict as those of top wizard organizations.

Garcia also stated.

If they didn't want to join the Ancient Dragon Continent.

They could leave on their own, and the Academy wouldn't pursue any responsibility.

Buzz! The Void ripped open, machinery roared like thunder.

A black star with a diameter of ten thousand meters hovered in mid-air, emanating blue flames.

The cabin doors opened, and two teams of fully armed troops descended like a divine weapon from the sky.

One team wore crimson armor decorated with the Sun Chasing Dragon.

The armor's surface emitted a cold, metallic texture.

Chain sword, Power Axe, Elemental Magnetic Shield, Elemental Bomb...

All sorts of advanced modules were orderly assembled upon it.

There was a beauty distinct from wizard creations. .

If the astral world had a Mechanical God, this might be the creation of God!

The other team wore Starlight Battle Armor decorated with the Star Butterfly Dragon.

These two teams were not numerous, with only about two hundred people in each.

But the formidable murderous aura they emitted caught the attention of the teachers and students.

All their cultivation was above rank five.

Such a team could potentially slay their way through the Academy's teachers and students.

Compared to these professional slaughter soldiers, honed in Nightmare and the corpse-filled Blood Sea in Blood Battle.

The teachers and students in the Ivory Tower still had a long way to go.

Now, the Extreme Warrior program had been operational for nine hundred years.

The Extreme Battle Armor had iterated to the tenth generation, called the "Ten Generation Machine".

With the progress of Material Science and Mechanical Knowledge.

The highest configuration of the ten generation machine's performance is five times that of the first generation machine.
