

Wizard 2531

Chapter 2531: Legendary Sacred Medicine!

"Let's begin."

The Gold Seeking Dog sniffed around, then transformed into a stream of light and darted into the distance.

Levi hurried to keep up.

Before long, the Gold Seeking Hound stopped by a big lake, barking.

"Such efficiency?"

Levi was somewhat surprised.

Could it be another stroke of good luck like last time?

"Jin, are there any good things here?"

Levi prodded the small mouse on his shoulder.

Jin sniffed around, seemingly unsure, and finally pointed suspiciously at the bottom of the lake.

"Alright, let's see if you two can work well together today."

Levi set up the Death Ember Divine Palace far away, miles from the lake.

Then he plunged into the lake, disappearing without a trace.

The lake surface wasn't large, but it was very deep; he swam for a long time to reach the bottom.

The dark, sunless lakebed was littered with rubble and debris.

"Seems like ruins..."

Levi transformed into Thunder Element Particles and delved beneath the lakebed.

Until a mysterious force bounced him out, forming him back into human shape.

Levi's spiritual force tried to penetrate but was similarly blocked.

He hesitated for a moment and smashed a fist onto the invisible barrier.

Boom! Accompanied by a terrifying explosion, the shockwave made the entire lake tremble thrice.

Crack! Something shattered.

Levi's spiritual force extended inside, spreading out.

Finally, an outline of a group of buildings appeared in his mind.

"Indeed, there are ruins beneath the lake."

Levi donned several layers of protective force fields and cautiously started exploring.

The architectural style of the ruins clearly was from another civilization, estimated to be ten thousand years old.

Levi stood in a plaza made of ordinary white jade stone.

Nothing caught his eye...

No, there was an ancient stone arch that had collapsed in the plaza center.

It emitted a pale blue glow, shimmering brightly.

Levi's eyes narrowed, and his breath quickened.

"Such a large piece of Starfall Remains."

This material is the primary ingredient for crafting Space Treasure, wizard towers, and teleportation portals.

This was a teleportation portal, only it had been damaged.

As a true grandmaster in array and weapon refinement, Levi naturally had the capability to repair it.

The space technology used in this type of teleportation portal was not difficult in itself.

In comparison, the Continent Bridge and Star Gate of the Wizard Council were complex.

Especially the latter, which required long-distance, cross-world teleportation.

Each one consumed a vast amount of manpower, material resources, and financial assets to build.

A month later, Levi completed the repairs on the teleportation portal.

He activated the portal's switch, and a layer of blue light appeared within the arch.

Levi summoned a level 4 cannon fodder Shadow.

With constant upgrades, Shadows of this level were scarce commodities to him.

The Shadow reached its hand inside, causing ripples, and then disappeared.

Before Levi could see what was inside, the Shadow perished...

Without showing any visible reaction, he withdrew a bit and summoned Maya and the Spiritual Weapon, guarding them at his side.

He then replaced it with a sixth-level Shadow.

"This time, it should be clear."

The Shadow slipped inside, and Levi added the Sound Barrier Technique to it.

Through the Inspection Spell, Levi finally saw the scene inside.

It was a broken small world, filled with ruptured spaces.

Countless Gold Element Sword Qi, thin as cow hair, traversed within.

The Shadow didn't last long before the defensive field shattered.

Levi hurriedly controlled it to return; it was such a pity for a sixth-level Shadow to perish.

Though brief, Levi saw the source of the Sword Qi.

It was not a legendary Sword Cultivator nor a wizard, but a plant resembling grass, bamboo, and a sword.

Levi's heart was slightly startled.

The feeling that plant gave him was no less than that of a Level 8 Peak powerhouse.

Curiosity piqued, he decided to try it himself, since he had the Death Ember Divine Palace.

He recited the [Vajra Secret Word] and stepped inside.

Buzz! It was like stepping into a waterfall made of Sword Qi.

In an instant, countless Sword Qi descended from the sky, exploding around Levi.

However, breaking the Vajra Secret Word clearly couldn't be done in a short time.

This made Levi breathe a sigh of relief.

Levi stood tall amid the Sword Qi ocean, gazing at the ten-meter-tall golden plant.

It stood straight, like bamboo.

The bare trunk suddenly sprouted golden leaves like sharp swords.

Each leaf was three feet long.

Oddly, there were exactly 100 leaves.

Despite his vast knowledge, Levi had never seen such a magical plant.

The closer to the plant, the denser the Gold Element Sword Qi became.

After enduring tons of damage, the Vajra Secret Word began to shatter.

The other defensive fields also didn't last long.

In the end, Levi could only summon the giant dragon corpse demon.

"Mary, protect me."

At Levi's command, the giant dragon opened its mouth and enclosed Levi.

The Sword Qi struck the giant dragon, crackling and leaving marks.

Some even pierced the flesh, drawing black blood, showcasing its power.

With Levi's Undying Body, these Sword Qi couldn't kill him.

The issue was that there was no need to seek unnecessary suffering.

"What a terrifying plant..." The Bloody Queen couldn't help but exclaim.

The giant dragon carried Levi to the plant.

Levi's spiritual force just extended when he felt like it was being cut.

Enduring the pain, he carefully sensed.

It turned out that within the golden Sword Qi, there were threads of golden electricity, enough to harm the spirit.

"This plant is of both metal and lightning dual faction, no wonder it's so formidable."

Levi quickly finished inspecting this small world.

Besides the mysterious plant, nothing else was found.

Even if there were, it would likely have been eroded by Sword Qi.

"Since it's like this, let's see if it can be transplanted."

Chapter 2532: Legendary Sacred Medicine!

Levi came to the foot of the plant, using the dragon claw to dig up the surrounding land.

A sudden change occurred, and the plant started shaking.

In an instant, it seemed like a hundred sharp swords were attacking Levi.

The giant dragon's wings protected his body, blocking this wave of fierce attacks, but his figure couldn't help but retreat.

"Who's digging my foot?!" A crisp voice like a child's sounded.

It was a language Levi hadn't heard before, but he understood it as if through telepathy.

A three-inch tall golden doll appeared on the plant stem. .

It was somewhat adorably ugly, landing on the ground.

Its chubby foot aimed a kick at the giant dragon corpse demon that was tens of thousands of meters long!

"That's what you get for digging my foot!"

The little thing vented its dissatisfaction but found it couldn't shake the giant dragon even a bit.

The dragon gently blew a breath, sending the little thing flying tens of thousands of miles away.

"Ouch, it hurts."

Crying could be heard from afar, as the golden doll sat on the ground and began rubbing its eyes, crying.

Levi watched the creature, resembling a little elf, with interest.

Meanwhile, he noticed that there were only 99 leaves left on the tree trunk.

He thought, and some understanding dawned on him.

"Help, someone is bullying Little Hundred!"

The tree leaves rustled as one little doll after another jumped down.

In an instant, the plant was bare.

little dolls surrounded the giant dragon.

The first one also hopped over to join them.

"Brothers, it dug our foot! Hit it!"

"Hit it!"

"I'll bite!"

A hundred palm-sized dolls clung to the giant dragon, starting their attack.

Punching, kicking, and biting—they used everything.

Each one only exuded a Level 1 aura, lacking any combat capability.

"Oh my... so itchy."

Mary laughed charmingly, a gentle breeze emanating from her, blowing all the little dolls away.

They floated around the world like dandelions, landing sprawled on the ground.

Levi poked his head out from the dragon's mouth and asked, "Who's your leader?"

"I'm the leader!" A doll raised its hand.

"Why don't you let me dig?"

"Why do you want to dig?"

"Because I want to dig."

"No digging allowed! It's our body, if you kill it, we'll die too."

"What are you?"

"Yeah? What are we?" The leader was confused.

Since gaining consciousness, it seemed they hadn't thought about this question.

The dolls started clamoring.

"Old Three, what are we?"

"I don't know, Old Four, what are you?"

"I'm Old Four."

...

Levi understood.

These little things should be the consciousness born from this plant, similar to Mana.

However, it had split its spirit.

Each leaf had gained consciousness.

Plus, being isolated from the world for a long time, they had the mentality of children.

Communicating with them would be troublesome.

"Has anyone ever been here?"

"Yes."

"What happened to them?"

"They died."

Levi recalled the damaged teleportation portal outside.

Someone had already explored here before him.

But they probably died under the Gold Element Sword Qi, and their relics were also eroded by the Sword Qi.

"I'm a botanist, and I can take you away without harming you."

"Really?"

"Really."

"Then try, but stop when we tell you to stop."

The dolls were probably bored here for too long.

Levi easily coaxed them.

In no time, Levi dug up the entire plant.

At the same time, the Sword Qi filling the air instantly dissipated.

"Whoa, we're not dead."

"Yeah, we're not dead."

"Leader, can we leave here now?"

They observed each other, full of curiosity.

"Do you want to leave here? There's a bigger world outside, more exciting than this place."

Levi took the opportunity to ask.

"Yes."

"No."

"I do."

...

The dolls argued incessantly and started fighting.

The leader climbed onto the dragon's head, shouting with all its might:

"The minority obeys the majority! Raise your hand if you want to go out! I'll go first, I agree to go out!"

"Me too!"

The dolls spoke one after another.

The leader counted the numbers.

"76 want to go out, so it's decided, we'll leave here."

The leader turned and said, "Big one, take us away."

Levi thought they were really like children, easy to fool.

"Then you all have to listen to me, no running around, and don't misuse your powers."

"Okay."

"Agreed."

He took them into the Demonic Tower.

Levi went outside, destroyed the teleportation portal again.

"With so many Starfall Remains, this trip has already profited."

He checked around, finding a secondary level earth elemental metal vein under the plaza.

"The grade is too low, forget it."

Now with bio-metal, such low-level elemental metal wasn't worth mining.

It's better to let them mature further, there's room for advancement in the future.

Returning to the surface, Levi entered the Demonic Tower.

This golden plant should be planted where the gold element is rich, preferably with thunder elements.

He summoned Mana, who was playing mahjong.

"Mana, have you ever seen this plant? Is it a divine tree?"

Mana had divine tree inherited memories, maybe she knew something.

A hundred dolls stood behind Levi, curiously observing the world outside.

"A tree! Such a tall tree!" the leader exclaimed.

"This big one smells so good." Little Hundred ran to Mana's feet.

It curiously looked at her jade feet, sniffing, and was caught by Mana, who lifted it by the neck.

She poked the doll's belly and said:

"I haven't seen this thing, it's probably not a divine tree, I didn't sense any Divine Tree Power... this is just some high-quality magical plant that, by living long, accidentally gained consciousness, is this also found in the ancient tower?"

Chapter 2533: Legendary Sacred Medicine!

Levi nodded.

Mana laughed and said, "Then you've found a treasure. This is likely a legendary magical plant, or perhaps even mythical level."

"Big guy, it feels uncomfortable here," the dolls suddenly said.

The Black Soul Demon Tower was filled with death energy, unsuitable for their growth.

Levi said, "I'll find a comfortable place for you. You mustn't carelessly emit Sword Qi, it's not good to harm the plants and flowers here, understand?"

"Okay, we'll behave," said the leader.

Levi planted the plants near the Golden Light Cave.

The power of the golden element was the most intense here in the Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

"This place is comfortable, we like it, even better than before."

After planting, some dolls turned into golden leaves and went to sleep.

Some lively ones began to explore the surroundings.

"Big guy, where is this place?"

"It's my home."

"Oh, who was that big guy just now?"

"She's the boss here, you must listen to her from now on."

"Alright."

Levi looked at the chattering leaves, feeling troubled.

"How should these things be used?"

He intuitively felt that these leaves must be excellent materials to refine Wizard Tools.

Especially for refining secret swords, they were perfect.

These were natural sword molds.

One only needed to solidify the arrays and runes, and they would be ready for use, with impressive power.

However, Levi wasn't sure if refining them would lead to the death of the dolls.

After all, he had encouraged their existence, and he couldn't bear to cause their death.

So he could only temporarily settle them and research slowly.

If a refining method could be found, then Lord Victor would soar high.

All one hundred secret swords made into a sword array.

While God-slaying might be too ambitious, demigods shouldn't be an issue.

Eventually, Levi named this plant [Golden Electric Sword Grass].

He recorded it in his self-compiled "Magical Plant Atlas."

Dominated by metal element, it could cut through everything, extremely sharp.

It also contained a strange power of golden exotic thunder.

Not only could it harm the body, but also the spirit.

It was even stronger than the Letney Family's [Golden Lightning].

This was probably Levi's greatest find on the eighth level so far.

A Glorious Sun-Grade Oddity, eclipsing even the pure-blooded Dragon Clan.

Mana studied it and told Levi.

This Golden Electric Sword Grass could be over a hundred thousand years old, older than Mana herself.

...

In a blink of an eye.

Half a year passed.

Levi, relying on the Gold Seeking Hound and Jin, had fruitful gains inside the ancient tower.

He found three metal veins above level 6, and transferred them all to the Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

When he returned, the various organizations could gradually refine them.

Besides that, he also gained 16 Earth and Sky-level Artifacts.

Morning Star Artifacts, 1 Bright Moon Artifact.

Three are worth mentioning.

The first is the [Red Dragon's Horn], Morning Star-level.

As the name implies, it was a component of the Red Dragon Series.

The second is an earth element Morning Star-level Body Refining Artifact, not recorded in the "Illustrated Guide of Strange Items."

Its appearance was like a mountain-carrying beetle, Levi named it [Mountain Burrowing Beetle].

The last Bright Moon Artifact was the [Sea Emperor's Eye].

One of the major artifacts of the [Sea Emperor Series].

Previously, Triss had refined a [Sea Emperor's Tour], but that wasn't part of the Sea Emperor Series. It was just that wizards liked to use terms like Sea Emperor and Sea King to name things of the Ocean School of Thought.

With half a year left before the ancient tower closed, Levi continued searching.

If he could find another Glorious Sun-Grade Oddity before leaving, that would be perfect.

Time flies.

In the blink of an eye, it was almost time for the ancient tower to close.

Levi found some oddities consecutively, yet no signs of Glorious Sun Grade.

A year was still a short time.

Under Jin's lead, Levi arrived near the [Death Abyss].

This was also an abyssal rift with no bottom in sight.

Thick death energy spewed forth, darkening the sky.

Jin chirped excitedly.

Levi said helplessly, "I know there are good things here, but there's a demigod lurking inside."

Every time he approached the abyss, his Danger Perception warned him.

Though he had a giant dragon corpse demon, Levi still lacked the courage to face level 9.

Especially to deal with a demigod right away.

"Next time then..."

The wizard tower was about to be completed.

The materials for the Eighteen Layers of Hell Array and the preparations for refining were also done.

The Brilliant Golden Dragon was nearing level 8 late stage.

He still had a lot of room for improvement, no need to rush.

Most importantly, his progress made the Grand Wizard not too far off.

Cross-realm battles and such weren't necessary.

Holding Jin, Levi left the Sky Pool.

Not long after.

The death energy roiled and slowly coalesced into a massive skull over ten thousand meters in diameter.

The skull was surrounded by a ring of white bones forming a Star Ring, exuding divinity amidst its eeriness.

It emitted a hoarse and unpleasant voice, like a corpse dead for millennia speaking.

"Hehehe... truly a cautious one."

As an Angel of Death under the God of Death, it was trapped in this realm by Sauron using a secret technique.

Possessing a long lifespan, yet no freedom, and unable to suicide and resurrect in the astral world.

This kind of existence was too excruciating.

It longed for release, longed for true... death!

That guy earlier, in its impression.

Had already passed the Sky Pool three times without entering.

...

A month before the ancient tower closure.

All along the way, Levi continued to find quite a few treasures.

But the Golden Electric Sword Grass raised his threshold.

So that ordinary finds no longer stirred him.

One day, he arrived at a quiet valley shrouded in mist.

The cliffs around the valley showed severe signs of fracture.

Chapter 2534: Legendary Sacred Medicine!

Many areas have been leveled and cut away.

It seems there was a fierce battle here.

It should have formed tens of thousands of years ago.

Time has passed, and the scars on the earth are once again covered with plants.

Traces of demonic aura linger around, making Levi alert.

He then focused his gaze and approached a giant tree.

The trunk was already broken in half, yet it wasn't dead.

It resiliently sprouted new branches and leaves, its surface covered with tough dragon scales.

"A Dragon Scaled Giant Tree, looks like it's at least fifty thousand years old..."

His Ancient Banyan Fairyland has two Dragon Scaled Giant Trees.

One is less than ten thousand years old, the other only about twenty thousand.

The quality of the Dragon Scale Fruit is linked to the age of the tree.

The older it is, the better the quality.

This half-trunk giant tree here has a trunk diameter of five hundred meters, reaching ten thousand meters high.

The Dragon Scale Fruit on it is as large as a millstone.

"Such a good thing, who the hell ruined it like this."

Levi looked at the fallen half trunk on the ground, which had already withered and died.

He carefully used Perception, then waved his hand, blowing away the dead branches and leaves.

Purple light spread out, revealing a giant Purple Crystal lying here.

At the same time, a massive dragon corpse began to appear.

"Amethyst Race?"

Levi picked up the Purple Crystal, which was of level 8 quality.

This dragon's bones exude traces of demonic aura, it should be a Dragon Abomination.

The breath is infinitely close to level 9.

In Levi's mind, a scene unfolded: .

Long ago, the Amethyst Race and Dragon Abomination fought fiercely here, ultimately perishing together.

The aftermath of the battle destroyed the giant tree, but it resiliently survived.

Levi transplanted the Dragon Scaled Giant Tree and retrieved the dragon's corpse.

"Where a Dragon Abomination is buried, there are usually Demon Dragon Grass."

He carefully searched and indeed found a large amount of Demon Dragon Grass, a total of 24 stalks.

This made him extremely happy; he could now produce many Flame Demon Potions.

...

One month later.

On the eve of the ancient tower's closure.

In the sky full of yellow sand, a stream of earth-yellow light flew quickly.

A series of light beams from arrays soared into the sky, forming a huge barrier.

Light collided on the surface of the barrier, causing ripples.

"Caught you." Levi continually shrank the barrier.

Not long after, a magical object, resembling both a snake and an insect, surfaced in his hand, with green leaves growing on it.

It twisted incessantly, like an animal.

He sealed it using a spell and placed it into a prepared container, sealing it tight.

After isolating the earth elemental power, it stopped twisting and turned into a piece of withered yellow root.

Levi felt excited and somewhat unbelievable.

"A legendary level earth element Holy Grass, Snake Tail Root..."

Nine-Ring Medicinal Herb, generally referred to as sacred medicine.

Its value is comparable to a Sun Refining Artifact.

Any Holy Grass can be refined into a Grand Wizard breakthrough Holy Soul Potion.

At the tea party, Ms. Lucy mentioned this.

No matter which formula of the Holy Soul Potion.

Its main ingredient just needs to be a sacred medicine of the same sect as the wizard.

Only some supplementary potion materials are fixed.

That means this Snake Tail Root can refine any kind of earth-element Holy Soul Potion.

In order to break through to ninth-circle potions, its main ingredient must be of the same sect.

It's for the convenience of crafting their own Elemental Holy Soul and Elemental Holy Body.

This is unlike Flame Demon Potions and other breakthroughs before the ninth-circle.

No matter what sect the main ingredient is from, the potion can be applicable to all wizards.

Similarly, Dual Faction practitioners need to prepare two attributes of sacred medicine.

For someone like Levi with multiple factions, it's four types, namely Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water.

Because others are all derivatives of Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water.

Triss has a Holy Medicine Atlas.

It documents thousands of types of sacred medicine collected by the wizard civilization development until now.

Snake Tail Root is one of them.

In fact, Levi is not very worried about sacred medicine.

Occasionally, they flow out from the Blood Battle Store, valued similarly to Sun Refining Artifacts.

For a supernova like him, as long as he spends more time and effort, he can eventually get them.

Now obtaining it early saves him a lot of effort.

If he can get it for free, why spend money?

The next day, embraced by the dawn light, Levi disappeared into the Dark Ancient Tower.

...

Ancient Dragon Continent.

Nora Calendar, end of the year 1018, Levi returned from his journey.

The harvest from this trip was considerable.

It requires a lot of time to digest and absorb next.

During this time, he just needed to calmly practice demon-hunting in Nora.

He has provoked two Gods, probably already being targeted.

Early promotion to ninth-circle is the top priority.

Levi had the seedlings brought out from the ancient tower distributed among the Three Grand Wizards organizations.

Twins Yani and Yali were assigned to the Tower of Dawn.

The girls were excited to see the outside world for the first time.

Inside the ancient tower, Levi, feeling whimsical, used two Rebirth Stones.

Winnie and Leah, two deceased friends.

After several reincarnations, they surprisingly met again inside the ancient tower.

They were Yani and Yali.

In this life, they are fortunate to have the talent of Children of the Elements, still siblings.

They were found by Wizard Kane and brought to Levi.

Although their current life and past life are unrelated, in Levi's view,

In a sense, the Gray Tower has gathered again in another form.

He hopes these twin sisters can go far.

Deep Space Wanderer Jarvis was brought before Herman.

The two instantly bonded, chatting happily, lamenting meeting too late.

With the assistance of Jarvis, the Mechanical College's development will certainly be more Swift.

Six-Eared Elf Vera went to Gandalf Pharmacy.

Molten Dwarf Zuma went to Fire Dragon Sky Work.

Although they are alien races, they are top figures in their respective domains.

They can share some pressure with Holy Infant and Gandalf.

Other rescued alien races from Holy War Mountain also successfully reemployed in Ancient Dragon Continent.

The oddity Holy War Mountain is remodeled and upgraded by the Mechanical College, used as Star Castle.

Kane temporarily went to Dusk Holy Temple, serving as knights' sparring partner and instructor.

When Ash Knights return, he can lead Secret Mark Warriors to achieve great accomplishments.

Merfolk were also settled in the Sea Clan city.

Due to similar culture and habits, they quickly blended in.

...

Time flies, fourteen years have passed.

Soon after Levi's return, Golden Lion Knight went into seclusion.

Calculating, it's almost the day of Tribulation.

Nora Calendar 1032, the 820th year of the Blood Battle.

Emperor's Palace, Levi woke from meditation.

His spiritual force reached 23,000 points.

Elena's figure emerged.

She dressed gorgeously, in a white Hundred Flowers pleated skirt, with a radiant smile.

"You're awake, it's time to attend the auction!"

Chapter 2535: Eternal Star Abyss

"A century has passed again..."

Levi gazed at Elena.

Time had not left many marks on her.

Elena always had a youthful and cheerful mindset.

"How is your wizard cultivation progressing?"

"Now I have 18 Seven-Circle Witch Marks."

"Not bad, strive to advance to the eighth circle in this century."

"Before that, I want to first evolve the Mythical Breathing Method."

"That's good too. Once the defense increases, the fault tolerance against the three calamities and four disasters will also improve."

Levi got up and walked out of the Emperor's Palace with Elena.

Elena's cultivation was not slow.

She was now only over 1,600 years old and practiced three paths simultaneously.

Even with the Water God Body, it couldn't be accomplished overnight.

Unlike Triss, she didn't worry about lifespan.

No need to rush for advancement; slow work makes fine work.

When everything is ready, success will naturally follow.

The Bright Moon Artifact "Sea Emperor's Eye" that Levi brought out from the ancient tower had not yet been refined by her.

She decided to wait until after reaching the eighth circle to avoid wasting the opportunity to boost spiritual force.

After leaving the palace, they saw Triss and Wendy approaching together.

Triss had already stabilized in the Eight Environments realm.

Her current focus was researching the Thousand-Year Potion and the Nightmare Series Eight Ring Breakthrough Potion.

Now, her full attention was on research and potions, with no time for anything else.

Anya, her eldest son, had already been put aside.

Thankfully, Levi remembered his old friend Anya.

After Wendy and the Blood Knight reformed their family, she became more cheerful.

Not long ago, she advanced to the Eight-Ring Perfect Realm, boosting her power once again.

Her ranking on the Demon Slaying List also surged into the top fifty, rising spectacularly.

This made the Wizard World have to re-evaluate this top talent from the old generation who once stirred up storms.

On the Star List, she ranked in the top three among all nine-circle and below wizards in the Storm Faction.

Breaking into the top three of the four major factions, the name "Supernova" was well deserved.

The fact proved that as long as one grasped opportunities,

"The remnants of the old era" could also shine in the new era.

Currently, the only thing on Wendy's mind was her daughter and son-in-law who were wandering outside.

Fortunately, the Ash Knight would report safety to his "father-in-law" Blood Knight every year.

"Is Wendy also going to the auction?" Levi asked.

"Yes, preparing early to advance to the ninth circle," Wendy replied with a smile.

Undoubtedly, advancing to the ninth circle was more complex and required early preparation.

The four of them set out together to the Sorren Continent.

After more than eight hundred years of Blood Battle, Levi's friends now spanned across Nora.

Familiar wizards were everywhere, including many supernovas.

Everyone greeted each other with smiles.

This atmosphere made Levi somewhat emotional.

Blood Battle had its pros and cons; while it brought destruction, it also brought wizards closer.

Only in the face of a common enemy could people be so harmonious, even letting go of past enmity.

Of course, this was also related to the sudden influx of resources due to the grand convergence of planes.

In this era, as long as you are willing to work hard, you can always find your own opportunity.

Especially with the emergence of the Blood Battle Store, which allocated the gathered resources based on war merit.

The monopoly of the top organizations was gradually being broken.

Any wizard who desired progress had to step forward and fight.

Otherwise, they would be abandoned by the congress, by civilization, by the era!

It wasn't long before the auction started.

The first item was a Truth Oddity.

"Morning Star Artifact 'Fire God's Tooth,' starting bid 500 million Aether Stones..."

As an oddity of the Burning Faction, more than ten primordial soul wizards competed fiercely on site.

In the end, Levi bought it for 2 billion Aether Stones, exceeding the value of the Morning Star Artifact.

This was his limit; any higher, he wouldn't buy it and would rather try his luck in the ancient tower.

Right at the start, he spent lavishly.

Seeing it was Levi, everyone felt it was justified.

This was the "resident fixture" of the Blood Battle Auction.

The type that contributes billions of GDP to the congress on average each time.

With this latest oddity, the Holy Infant's Fire God Series was now four-sevenths complete.

Levi had also refined the Morning Star Artifact "Red Dragon's Horn" from the ancient tower.

It enhanced some spiritual force and fire element affinity talent; the rest was insignificant. .

So far, the Red Dragon Series was three-fifths complete, with no special spiritual creature born yet.

The auction lasted a day, and Levi turned into a relentless spending machine.

In the end, this auction broke records with a spending of 27 billion Aether Stones.

This left other wizards astounded.

The organizers were overjoyed, treating Levi with utmost care and attention.

The biggest expense this time was on a ten-thousand-year-old fossil of a strange wood called "Fire Scale Wood."

Levi competed with several eighth-circle wizards from the Burning Faction, raising the bid to 15 billion.

For Levi, strange wood was rarer than a Truth Oddity, a chance encounter.

No matter the cost, he had to obtain it.

Fire Scale Wood could be refined into "Charred Fire Wood" needed for the wizard tower.

Charred Fire Wood was a strange wood submerged in magma, formed by chance, similar in appearance to charcoal.

Notably, this strange wood came from the "Flame Mountain World."

Recently, this world also merged into Nora.

According to Levi's knowledge, except for a few remote Plane Confederations, like the "Myriad Machine Plane," all other planes had already returned to Nora, and the demons on them had been cleared by the Wizard Council.

Levi also spent 3 billion Aether Stones on a potion formula.

It was called "Thousand Mountain Potion," a Nine-Circle Breakthrough Potion with a 12% success rate.

The price of the Nine-Circle Potion formula was cheaper than Levi imagined.

In fact, the Pharmacist Association even provided free Nine-Circle Potion formulas.

Chapter 2536: Eternal Star Abyss

Anyone with hope of advancing to the ninth circle is a key cultivation target of the congress.

The congress does not want to create additional obstacles for wizards breaking through to the ninth circle due to a knowledge monopoly.

But the cost of obtaining a free formula is the requirement to take an oath.

The content is roughly about never betraying the congress, betraying wizard civilization, and so on.

The case of the traitor of civilization, the Dark Emperor Asta, is a precedent.

The congress exercises extremely strict control over the channels for advancing to Grand Wizard.

In principle, Levi would not betray wizard civilization.

But his top priority is always his own safety.

If faced with some irresistible force, he cannot guarantee that he would die for civilization.

Therefore, his principle is never to take those oaths that might dig a pit for himself.

Triss mentioned that the Old Witch advanced to Grand Wizard with formulas provided by the congress.

Even the sacred medicines were acquired with the help of the congress.

Therefore, the Old Witch signed a series of strict contracts.

The congress cannot cultivate an ingrate.

This practice, Levi feels, is very reasonable... but he does not accept it.

Because of his character, he does not wish to be constrained.

He can do good deeds, helping the congress and civilization.

All these are based on his own willingness.

So whether it's the formula or the sacred medicines, he will find a way to get them on his own.

For the ninth-circle breakthrough potion, a success rate exceeding 10% is first-rate.

12% is already top-level standard.

The main ingredient required for the "Thousand Mountain Potion" formula is any type of earth-elemental sacred medicine.

Levi's Snake Tail Grass can fully suffice.

Supplementary ingredients include nearly thirty primordial soul-level materials, ranging from the sixth to the ninth circle.

The involved refining procedures number in the dozens, with hundreds of incantations, quite complex.

Levi looked over it and found that two-thirds of the materials are those he already possesses.

The remaining materials do not seem very difficult to obtain.

Of course, due to Levi's multi-sect traits,

he also needs to additionally collect three types of sacred medicines.

With the Dark Ancient Tower, resolving these is just a matter of time.

He has only developed a small portion of the eighth level's resources now.

Every exploration brings many new discoveries.

Levi is full of confidence in this.

To advance to the ninth circle, three major preparations are needed to increase the success rate.

Firstly, preparing a breakthrough sacred medicine, which can assist in shaping the Elemental Holy Body and Holy Soul.

The success rate increase varies depending on the potion, but is generally around 10%.

Secondly, the use of the "Elemental Spirit Array" provides a fixed 5% success rate boost.

This eighth-circle array can also aid in the elementalization of the primordial soul and body.

The Witch's Family already has a ready array, so Levi does not need to prepare one.

Additionally, on Sorren Continent, one can also freely rent an official array.

Similarly, one needs to take similar oaths as when obtaining the formula.

Running this array requires a preparation of around 10 billion Aether Stones.

For Levi, this is not an issue either.

Thirdly, a "Star Spirit's Heart" and a large piece of "Starfall Remains" are needed.

The Starfall Remains need not be mentioned much, as they are relatively common; Levi already has a large piece.

The Star Spirit's Heart is a strange crystal formed after the death of a plane not emerging for over ten thousand years.

In other words, it is a spiritual substance formed after the tragic death of a "plane embryo."

Such items often contain the will of the plane spirit.

It can be understood that the Starfall Remains are the body of the plane, while the Star Spirit's Heart is the soul of the plane.

The two are refined by special methods and harmoniously fused within the body.

Then, it becomes possible to open up a "Demiplane Embryo" within a wizard.

Actually, the difference between a Legendary Wizard and a Plane Sovereign lies in.

The Plane Sovereign may seem to dominate the plane, but is in fact a vassal of the plane, subject to its limitations.

Whereas for Legendary Wizards, the plane is a vassal of the wizard.

During the Grand Wizard period, the demiplane embryo is just a chaotic embryo.

Only upon advancing to a Legendary Wizard can one "create heaven and earth," reshaping "Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water."

Thereby giving birth to what we commonly refer to as the Legendary Demiplane.

The third preparation also adds a fixed 5% success rate increase.

In other words, as long as the aforementioned three preparatory works are completed.

The success rate for advancing to the ninth circle rises by about 20%.

Of course, one can choose to forcibly advance without preparation.

In ancient times, many wizards passed this way, relying purely on luck.

The first two are still fine and do not have much effect.

If the third is not prepared, the price is having no "plane embryo" within.

In the Legendary period, there would be no demiplane, and battle strength would be one notch below others.'

The Star Spirit's Heart is something one can only come upon by chance.

Some Grand Wizards who are in a hurry do indeed advance without preparing the third one.

For example, the Old Witch did not prepare this item.

With her conditions, achieving Grand Wizard is already not easy; she does not expect to become legendary.

Aside from this, many factors decide the success rate of advancing to Grand Wizard.

The most important are as follows:

First: Wizarding talent.

Needless to say, wizarding talent is the foundation that comprehensively influences a wizard's lifelong cultivation.

Second: Wizard foundation.

The more innate spells mastered, the more primordial soul spells, the more Witch Marks imprinted, the richer the knowledge.

The stronger the wizard's foundation naturally is.

That being said, eighth-circle wizards almost all have nine talents by default.

Failing this, the probability of reaching the door of Grand Wizard is almost zero.

Third: Spiritual force upper limit.

At the same realm, higher spiritual force indicates more spell power and stronger strength.

The success rate of Crossing the Tribulation Nine Ring Calamity is naturally higher.

...

From all the above, it can be seen that advancing to Grand Wizard is a systematic process.

Chapter 2537: Eternal Star Abyss

Those who achieve perfection in every segment, every step, have a higher chance of success.

For Levi, what he needs to focus on preparing is the sacred medicines and the Star Spirit's Heart.

All other supplementary ingredients can be left to the organization members to complete.

Currently, there is no fixed exchange channel for the Star Spirit's Heart.

On one hand, he can only wait for a large auction; on the other hand, he has the Spider King searching in the Land of Darkness.

In fact, Levi has another method.

He could think of a way to incorporate the Ancient Banyan Fairyland into himself, using it as a Demiplane in the future.

However, there are still many difficulties and issues with the practical operation.

It's only a retreat option to use only if necessary.

Overall, Levi believes he will certainly be able to solve it.

Others can ascend to become a Grand Wizard, and with his conditions, wouldn't it be a natural outcome?

Also, the official is surely hoarding such materials.

Just some conditions are needed before they can be provided to wizards.

Thinking about it now, the congress has a very strong grip on the vast majority of Grand Wizards.

That's probably the reason.

Levi bought various medicinal herbs, ores, and other materials worth 40 billion.

Finally, he bought 5 Dark Treasure Maps.

Added to the ones acquired from the last auction, he now has a total of 9 maps.

He plans to accumulate more before taking the time to go treasure hunting.

As for spell knowledge, he didn't really buy any.

Right now, when it comes to knowledge, he's focusing on getting it for free.

The Memory Blind Box that occurs every hundred years, plus the various channels through which organization members acquire it, is already sufficient.

In the last Netherworld Market with 100,000 blind boxes, he had a stroke of great luck.

Directly drawing nine kinds of level 6 and above combat techniques and spells.

After bidding farewell to various friends from the auction.

Some people hurriedly returned to the Ancient Dragon Continent.

Having obtained the Charred Fire Wood, Levi needs to integrate it into the wizard tower immediately.

In this way, the Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water, the four Basic Forces within the tower, would only lack "Wind".

Elena also went into seclusion.

She had quite a good harvest at the Blood Battle Auction.

First, she acquired an eighth-circle Void Treasure Pearl for 2.3 billion.

Then she bid 2.9 billion on a Morning Star-level oddity, the Water God Bracelet.

Generally speaking, a Morning Star oddity is valued at only around a billion.

Under normal circumstances, Levi and his wife wouldn't splurge on it.

But this bracelet was the final piece of the Water God Series.

Elena gritted her teeth and bought it.

Adding the Water God's Ring Levi gave her.

The Water God Series is now complete. .

Of course, these two Morning Star oddities, Elena has not yet refined.

After the Eighth-Circle, she plans to refine them along with the Sea Emperor's Eye.

Some time later, Levi also prepared the potion for Elena's ascension to the eighth-circle.

His duplicates and close kin lack no top-grade breakthrough potions.

With everything ready, only the elevation remains.

Triss's main aim on this journey was to purchase some alchemy raw materials.

Spending a full 60 billion Aether Stone on them.

Deeply illustrating what it means to be a wealthy woman devoted to the pharmaceutical business.

Of course, once these raw materials are refined into medicines and sold.

They can bring Triss double the profit.

Additionally, Triss spent 46 billion Aether Stone on a Bright Moon Artifact.

This oddity looked like a toad, with bumps on its back and a red moon pattern on its neck.

During the auction, many people were unsure about what kind of oddity it was, thus hesitated to bid.

Levi didn't know either, as it wasn't recorded in the Illustrated Guide of Strange Items.

But based on his past experience, he told Triss.

The stranger the oddity, the better the effect upon refining.

And naming it by appearance, he called it the Red Moon Treasure Toad.

In this auction, Triss also spent a hundred billion Aether Stone.

The lavishness second only to Levi.

This made Elena deeply realize that knowledge truly enriches.

As for Wendy, she bid on a Bright Moon Artifact from the Wind God Series.

Mainly to complete her Wind God Body.

...

Dusk Holy Temple.

After a long retreat, the Golden Lion Knight is finally about to face tribulation.

The Bloodlines he used for this evolution include that of the Dragonhawk, Silver-horned Giant Beast, and Dark Giant Tiger.

There's no need to elaborate on the Dragonhawk as it's the Bloodline source for the Feather Knight.

Its appearance resembles an eagle, capable of battling pure-blooded dragons and possesses immense strength.

The Silver-horned Giant Beast is a giant beast similar to a water buffalo, adorned with beautiful silver double horns.

These horns contain an exceedingly rare trait: Star Devour.

Some level 10 strongmen like to cut off its original double horns to make weapons.

The Star Devour trait can damage the astral world's divine fire source, making it practically a divine treasure.

Divine fire is the core of the Gods; as long as it doesn't extinguish, the Gods remain undying.

When divine fire is damaged, the strength also diminishes.

Those strong Gods are fine, their divine fire roars like a furnace, with negligible impact.

Some Weak Gods, with divine fire weak as a campfire on a rainy night, simply can't withstand devastation.

Therefore, the astral world nearly wiped out all Silver-horned Giant Beasts.

And destroyed any weapons containing the Star Devour trait they had scavenged.

The Silver-horned Giant Beast eventually became extinct, not seen for a hundred thousand years.

The Golden Lion Knight acquired this thanks to a demon.

The mount of a demon lord was a level 7 Demon Bull.

The Divine Light Knight was ambushed by it during an outing but turned the tables in a delightful turn of events.

Then discovered the bloodline of the Silver-horned Giant Beast within it, perfect for her husband's evolution.

The Dark Giant Tiger, on the other hand, is a Legendary giant beast inhabiting the Land of Darkness.

Nowadays, it's quite active, often lying in ambush within the dark to kill passing strongmen.

On the breakthrough day for the Golden Lion Knight.

His already six-hundred-year-old second daughter, Raya, and youngest son, Raid, both arrived.

Raid has long been a Sixth-Circle Wizard, while Peacock Knight Raya is now a peak level 5 knight.

Their eldest daughter Lena perished in a Blood Battle years ago, passing at a young age.

Life and death separation can sometimes be so sudden.

Chapter 2538: Eternal Star Abyss

However, as transcendents of longevity, they were all mentally prepared.

So it didn't have any adverse effect on the cultivation of the Golden Lion Knight.

With methods like the Primordial Spirit and wizard forms at hand,

the "Lion King Divine Book" also reached its peak.

The Golden Lion Knight passed through the disaster unscathed.

A thousand-meter-long giant beast with a golden base and black spots, a maned neck, a tiger-like tail, and double horns on its head descended from the sky. It was scarred and gasping like an ox; it was exactly the mythical form of the Golden Lion Knight.

After resting well, the giant beast transformed into a humanoid form and came before Levi.

"Congratulations, Father," Raid and Raya congratulated.

The Divine Light Knight only smiled while looking at her husband, with unspeakable sentiment and comfort.

"I trouble the commander; fortunately, I didn't fail. I ask the commander to bestow a name."

Somehow, whenever a new breathing technique is created, it's become a convention for Levi to name it.

This made him rather stressed, like Alexander.

His reserve of names was almost depleted.

He gazed at the high sky, seemingly recalling, and then said:

"Zouwu."

The Golden Lion Knight murmured:

"Zouwu Breathing Technique? Commander, is there any special meaning to this?"

"It is a righteous beast, representing the enduring friendship of our Dusk Holy Temple, eternal and undying."

From afar, Emperor Mu, watching the battle, said: "Good name, not inferior to my Zhu Yan."

The Blood Knight said: "Qilin, Zouwu, Zhu Yan, Chasing Sun, Star Butterfly, Behemoth... Wonderful, more and more mythical creatures, the future of Nora World will be truly exciting."

Emperor Mu said: "Don't forget, the commander has six more..."

The Black Knight said: "We old folks are already considered perfect, having cultivated to this point without regret... What's next is up to the young ones."

The Thousand Illusion Knight looked forward with longing eyes, growing firmer in heart.

Other knights were also inspired.

Levi said: "Whether legendary or mythical bloodline, the cultivation journey thus far has been hard-earned; all of you must pass it down well. Even if our generation cannot succeed, as long as the fire is passed down and we keep progressing, one day, new mythical beings will surely stand between heaven and earth."

...

After a brief celebration, everyone went back to their respective tasks.

In cultivation, there is no concept of time.

Four years later.

Nora Calendar 1036, Blood Battle Year 824.

Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

In Levi's hands was a delicate small pagoda, resembling an eight-level pagoda.

Carved with dragons and phoenixes, it was ancient and grand.

Tens of thousands of runes adorned it like stars, constantly flickering.

If one immerses their consciousness within, they will discover another world.

Inside the pagoda, there was a self-contained world over a thousand miles across.

Mountains, underground fire, rivers, lakes, lightning, glaciers, mirages...

Various elemental powers and energy intertwined, resembling a new world.

The only shortcoming was the absence of wind power.

Six pillars supporting the sky stood at six positions, showcasing the efficacy of Strange Wood.

They were both the "spine" of the wizard tower and the "main beam" of this world.

"My wizard tower is initially completed; from preparing materials until now, it took over a thousand years and billions of Aether Stones... This doesn't even count the Ocean Stabilizing Pillar, whose value is immeasurable, enough to make a Grand Wizard envious."

In Gargamel's mind, the complete Eternal Star Abyss had ten layers, containing ten worlds.

Each world was a small realm.

The Star Abyss Tower Citizens residing within were all entities suppressed by the wizard tower.

There was a symbiotic relationship between the Tower Citizens and the wizard tower.

When Tower Master Levi was attacked, all potential energy could be transferred to the citizens to share the burden.

The inherent power of the Tower Citizens would also be partially drawn by the wizard tower and stored in the Supreme Archmage.

The wizard tower could initiate a gathering attack with the power of tens of thousands of people; transcending levels to battle was not a fantasy.

Of course, it was still far from its complete form.

Within the wizard tower, there existed merely a crude piece of sky.

Other functions had not yet been implemented.

But even so, simple suppression, defense, and attack functions were already complete.

It sufficed as his Soul Artifact.

Upon this thought, Levi released his primordial soul.

The eight-layer Divine Ring Tower's phantom also floated out slowly.

The spiritual force tower and the physical wizard tower merged seamlessly.

Then, Levi's primordial soul origin power began to nurture the wizard tower slowly.

In this manner, another year passed.

During this period, Levi continually harmonized with the wizard tower.

The previously lifeless wizard tower began to develop spirituality.

Subsequently, an ethereal projection with a face identical to Levi's started to condense within the tower.

This was the Supreme Archmage of the Eternal Star Abyss.

He was actually an illusion conjured by Levi's Divine Ring Tower.

The Divine Ring Tower was the bridge linking the wizard tower and Levi.

It allowed Levi and the wizard tower to become one.

Ultimately achieving the seamless effect of acting at will, like a single entity.

As a Soul Artifact, the wizard tower's use became like an innate spell.

In a single thought, various commands could be executed through the wizard tower.

During the refining process, one "star" after another started to illuminate the sky dome of the wizard tower.

These stars were the unlocked "sealing positions," also known as "sealing stars."

The eight-layered tower held eight thousand sealing stars.

Each sealing star could imprison an entity whose strength did not exceed Levi's.

Meaning, theoretically, Levi could imprison eight thousand level 8 powerhouses within at this stage.

After reaching level-10, it could have ten thousand sealing stars, capable of sealing ten thousand True Gods... of course, in reality, that's impossible.

There are three reasons:

First,

Maintaining each sealing star requires consuming a certain amount of spiritual force memory.

The stronger the strength, the higher the consumption, exceeding Levi's spiritual force endurance would lead to backlash.

Chapter 2539: Eternal Star Abyss

Second,

Even a skillful housewife cannot cook a meal without rice, and the astral world simply does not have ten thousand True Gods.

It's a simple logic.

If there were so many Gods in the astral world, the Underworld and the Abyss would have been flattened long ago.

And there would be nothing left for the Wizard World.

According to the congress's compiled "Star Realm Atlas."

As of now, the Wizard Civilization has observed and recorded only over eight hundred Gods.

Including those not yet observed, there might be a thousand and a few hundred.

Among them, the vast majority are Mixed Gods and Wild Gods who attained divine status by chance.

In terms of actual combat power, they are much weaker compared to a conventional Level 10 Strongman.

The significance of such Gods is to be slain across levels by some of the heaven-defying level 9 existences under the astral world.

Thus, leaving behind epic stories of "Mortal Body, Slaying Gods."

Within the Sauron Plane, nearly a hundred Level 10 Strongmen have had God Slaying events.

Some have slain more than one...

Third.

The wizard tower, due to limitations of materials and other reasons, also has a bearing Maximum.

Even the Dark Ancient Tower refined by Sauron cannot possibly seal all Star Realm True Gods.

Therefore, these ten thousand Sealing Stars need to be reasonably allocated based on actual circumstances.

Being able to seal dozens of strongmen of the same realm as Levi is already strong enough.

Eight thousand star dots adorned, the shadow emblem transformed into a beam of light, branding on the tower wall.

From now on, the wizard tower is the home of the Shadow Army.

Levi carefully selected the strongest eight thousand shadows and bound them with the Sealing Stars.

In the future, when enemies attack him, these shadows can help share a massive amount of damage.

After the wizard tower fused, Levi arrived at the ancient banyan tree Mansion.

The Bloody Queen focused intensely on writing her manuscript.

"Girl Ajie," at the beginning of the story, Ajie's wizarding talent was not ideal. So she chose to sell her charms, seducing the Guardian Giant Dragon to rise within the organization...

Levi sighed, the Queen truly has a soft spot for giant dragons.

"Oh, boss, what's up." The Bloody Queen put down her pen.

"Once you're done, come spar with me."

Nightmare World.

Dragon King Li held [Eternal Star Abyss] in his left hand and grasped [Crimson Dragon Slash] in his right!

Ahead, the dragon corpse demon's breath spewed a Hurricane, becoming ever more powerful.

Over the years, Mary's handling skills have become increasingly proficient.

In sparring with the Tyrant of Horror, she wins nine out of ten times.

"Come on!"

"Be careful, master."

The giant dragon, carrying nearly a thousand miles of swirling wind, charged with unstoppable momentum.

Eternal Star Abyss released and in moments transformed to 20,000 meters high.

Around the wizard tower, countless runes shimmered, transforming into starlight.

The starlight formed ring after ring of Star Rings, rotating endlessly.

Invisible Ripples spread forth.

Where it passed, everything within a few hundred miles turned to dust.

This is the wizard tower's own defensive field, named [Star Abyss Domain].

The Hurricane was shredded, the dragon breath blocked.

The dragon's claw was shaken off, its body retreating.

"What an amazing Treasure," Mary timely flattered.

"Come on, continue." Levi made his move as well.

Instantaneously appearing atop the wizard tower, the powerful suppressive force dragged the dragon into the mire.

The dragon's tail swept in, Levi didn't dodge but took it head-on.

In the past, he'd definitely be sent flying.

But this time, he merely slipped back a bit, stabilizing himself, with a delighted expression.

"This Level 9 Power of the Body, I completely withstood it."

The force of that strike was at least half absorbed by the wizard tower.

Subsequently, based on strength level, the damage was proportionally distributed to eight thousand shadows.

The stronger ones bore more, and the weaker ones less.

Since all eight thousand shadows were elite, there were no casualties.

If they were level 4 or level 5 shadows.

Even if the damage was distributed, most would still suffer deaths and injuries.

Having recognized the power of the wizard tower, Levi's confidence greatly increased.

After tens of thousands of rounds, he relied on the wizard tower to defeat the dragon corpse demon.

"Master, you're too strong, I could last several tens of thousands of rounds before."

"Stop with the flattery, go back and write your novel."

"Alright, hehe."

Back to the real world.

Levi was contemplating internally.

He now had four means to counter level 9.

First, Elemental Ruins.

Second, the dragon corpse demon.

Third, Eternal Star Abyss.

Fourth, Thunder Element Formless.

Elemental Ruins is essential for wounding level 9.

The corpse demon has both offense and defense.

Star Abyss focuses on control and survival.

Thunder Element Formless is also for survival.

With his power swelling to this extent, Levi inevitably felt eager to try.

Unfortunately, there are no suitable and safe opponents.

The weak Overlords in the Nightmare World all have strong backing.

The strong Overlords, Levi going would be asking for trouble.

"Just one more Eighteen Layers of Hell Array, and it'll be perfect."

Levi's idea was to install the array inside the Eternal Star Abyss.

With the dual suppression of the array and the wizard tower, to minimize the gap in competency.

...

Witch's Family.

Triss finished refining the [Red Moon Treasure Toad].

This oddity increased her spiritual force by 200 points, proving to be a top-grade among Bright Moon Artifacts.

Besides that, it also gave birth to a special water-element talent.

Due to the inclusivity of the [Sea God] talent, it has been absorbed.

Triss's overall talent further improved.

Furthermore, the Red Moon Treasure Toad also produced a projection.

A red toad, as large as a mountain, with a reputation as mighty as an ox.

Not only that, an Exotic Species Water also emerged.

It's a red water containing poisonous negative energy.

These seem familiar.

That's because Triss had earlier refined the [Black Queen Snake].

The two are remarkably similar.

Both produced Exotic Species Water and energy projections.

Chapter 2540: Eternal Star Abyss

Triss understood that this was highly likely another sequence artifact.

Toad, Black Snake, all these are images of poisons.

This sequence is possibly related to poisons.

She shared this discovery with Levi.

Levi was also greatly shocked.

Could it really be like this?

Regardless of whether it's a sequence artifact or not.

He must especially pay attention to those oddities symbolizing toxins in the future.

Scorpions, centipedes, spiders, and the like are all possible.

...

Three years later.

Nora Calendar 1040, Blood Battle Year 828.

Levi spent most of his time cultivating, relaxing by going demon-hunting during his leisure.

During demon hunting, Levi did not reveal his wizard tower and giant dragon corpse demon, his two trump cards.

They were "surprises" left for the level 9 demon.

The Golden Brilliance Dragon Breath Technique unknowingly advanced to level 8 late stage.

Whether it's the Vajra Secret Word or basic physical defense, both have significantly improved.

The diameter of the Primordial Magnetic Field also increased to 150 kilometers.

After years of battles, his Extreme Dao Strategy has reached the level 8 limit.

Just waiting to consolidate soldier species after reaching level 9.

He estimated that the soldier species he consolidates would not be a single kind.

But a mixed soldier species that masters eighteen kinds of weapons.

To him, any weapon comes easily to hand.

Sword skill, spear skill, whip technique, etc., are just different forms of expression.

In essence, all roads lead to the same destination.

The Lovers Rune at level 15 increased the luck boost from 160% to 180%.

The Hanging Rune rose to level 9, with an amplification force reaching 80%.

Over on the Nora Continent, his three avatars had all entered the final stage of the eighth-circle sprint.

None of them stepped outside, focusing entirely on body tempering cultivation or imprinting witch marks.

Gandaph refined the Morning Star Refining Body Artifact, the Mountain Burrowing Beetle.

It slightly increased his spiritual force and slightly improved the Dragon Elephant Holy Body.

The high-level project of the Purple Crystal Body Refining Technique was nearing an end.

He and his research group members were making the final push.

Such a quiet cultivation life in Gondor City could not last long.

Small invasions by demons were constant, with a major war every few decades.

Many familiar faces inside the city quietly disappeared over time.

...

Land of Darkness.

Roar! Along with the terrifying roar of a giant dragon shook the world.

In a small plane, all beings awakened in alarm.

They rushed to find places to hide.

Countless mortals trembled as they gazed at the sky-covering red flames giant dragon.

It was clad in heavy armor bristling with steel spikes, leaving a path of destruction wherever it went.

"Hahaha, Ogg, you've finally reached level 9."

Emperor Dagon was exuberant, exuding an aura of unmatched confidence.

This day, it had waited for thousands of years!

From now on, in the Multidimensional Plane, it, too, was a notable powerhouse.

Without a level 10, level 9 reigns supreme!

Even if it relied on external aids, what matter?

With the Wings of Destruction, the Giant Dragon Secret Armor in hand, it could control the Flame King Dragon!

The giant dragon turned into a burst of firelight, flying towards the massive world ahead.

That was Nora!

Next, Dagon planned to hide near Gondor City in the Land of Darkness.

Then bide its time and capture Master Fire Dragon while out for demon hunting.

Dragon Flame God's full-map attack only targeted demons above level 9.

So there was no worry of being targeted by the legendary ones.

Over the years, it had already figured out Master Fire Dragon's patterns.

One could say, no one understood Master Fire Dragon better than it.

The opponent hadn't ascended to eighth-circle, with Ogg's strength, failure was not an option.

"After this battle, the Wizard World will surely spread Dagon's mighty name!"

...

A nameless small world deep in space.

Surgard's Sword of World Destruction pierced the Earth Core.

As a steady stream of energy poured in.

Its broken left arm slowly regained some of its form.

This Sword of World Destruction was refined by the Abyss using many rare materials, one of which was an adult Star Ring-tailed Snake.

Previously, in a great battle with the Dusk Sun God, Surgard was ultimately defeated and had to retreat.

Even though it once approached a level 11 presence, it remained only a level 9 now.

If not for the robust Sword of World Destruction, it would be difficult to harm the Dusk Sun God.

Of course, the latter did not fare well either, as the divine body was contaminated by the demonic sword.

To fully recover, considerable divine power would need to be consumed.

In the short term, it was unlikely to descend to the lower realm to bother him again.

As for angels? No matter how many came, Surgard would kill them all.

Suddenly, Surgard's expression changed.

"Found you."

A shadow seemed to stretch across the endless void towards him.

It wore golden armor and wielded a trident, emanating a soaring battle spirit.

"Secret Skill: One Spear Breaking Nine Stars!"

Buzz! Buzz! Throughout the boundless world, as the spear fell, the light of nine stars extinguished.

Connecting the nine stars, transforming into an indescribable ultimate radiance!

Surgard blocked with the Sword of World Destruction.

"Holy War Monarch, you dare trouble me, Surgard?"

"Heh, no matter how brilliant your past, now you're only level 9."

After clashing with the spear, Surgard grunted and sneered:

"I remember your true form can't leave the Holy War World, this tackle from afar is just so-so... I'm not playing along today, after I reach level 10, I'll definitely pay a visit. Blood Fire Dominator's earthly body won't stand a chance." ŘANÓŹĘŚ

It unleashed a gigantic demon mountain that exploded with a thunderous boom.

Using it as cover, it slipped into the Abyss Well, disappearing without a trace.

The Holy War Army Master stood silent, the projection slowly faded.

The All Realm Destroyer truly lived up to its reputation.

With the Abyss dispatching it, surely they aimed to accelerate Surgard's growth through rampant world destruction.

Once it returned to its peak, in the Pan-Plane, those who could match it were scarce as a handful.

With the mighty gone, the aftermath of the great battle subsided.

The small world welcomed its twilight doom.

Faintly, the world's lament seemed audible.

Who knows how much time passed.

A towering, giant-like figure descended.

He wore a lion king helmet and rusted dark gold heavy armor.

On his back hung a giant shield and heavy hammer capable of crushing stars.

He gazed at the world nearing its demise, eyes filled with complexity.

"What a pity, just before forming any civilization, it's coming to an end..."

"I wonder how Solomon Empire is faring now, should go back and see."

"Those fortunate souls I once taught, have they accomplished anything?"

"Nora is undergoing an unprecedented planar confluence, worth visiting."

His solitary, melancholic silhouette muttered to himself.

Suddenly, his eyes sharpened.

Amid the fragmented ruins of the fading world appeared a translucent crystal.

It exuded a vitality and spirituality, like a beating heart.

Resentment, anger, grievance... an invisible obsession brewed within.

Even the tongue-less new world longed to exist.

"Is this? Star Spirit's Heart! Such an artifact has emerged?"

Surprised, he stored the Star Spirit's Heart, quietly leaving.

This journey to Nora, this item might prove useful.
