Chapter 254: Red Lotus Form and Nine Swords Form vs an Official Wizard! (6)

He returned to the cabin and began to cultivate the breathing technique.

The next night, the sky was starry and bright, and the sea was calm.

The Azure Ship advanced slowly. Occasionally, some magical sea beasts would come out of the water to breathe.

Levi was cultivating the Red Lotus Breathing Technique in the cabin when the hair on his arm suddenly stood up.

Spider Sensing!

There was extreme danger!

It had been a long time since Levi sensed such danger.

The last time he had this feeling was when he faced the Fist of the Empire when he was still weak.

He prepared casting materials to cast seals and looked out of the window.

At some point in time, the ship had actually sailed into a fog.

The gray fog covered the sea, and the stars in the sky could not be seen clearly!

He could faintly see a green light flickering on the surface of the sea in the distance.

There were also some low and suppressed roars coming from the fog.

"Little Levi, come out quickly. There's an enemy attack."

Witch Marlene also sensed danger approaching.

At this moment, her entire body was flickering with an ocean-blue light.

This was the Zero-Ring Cantrip, Wave Layering.

Layers of blue light are stacked around Marlene like waves.

Levi opened the cabin door and woke up Oliver, who was still sleeping.

Oliver appeared with a dumbfounded expression.

"What's the situation?"

"Enemy attack," Levi said.

Oliver immediately cast a Wave Layering spell on himself with his wand.

This was the most classic defensive Zero-Ring Cantrip of the Ocean School of Thought.

Low-level wizards and apprentice wizards liked to use it, and basically everyone has one.

Levi did not use any cantrip. He had the Frost Giant Armor and the level 10 Black Snake. When stacked together, the defense was stronger than this cantrip.

Moreover, he could still use the Seal of Protection at the critical moment.

In the fog, the Azure Ship continued to move forward.

"It's the people from the Undead Ship. How did they know we were here? Angus did it?" Ms. Marlene looked at the green ghost fire in the distance with a solemn expression.

Levi immediately understood.

Someone on Whale Song Island must have leaked the news about Ms. Marlene.

President Angus and the other two First-Circle Pharmacists were all possible suspects.

Or rather, one of the four high-level pharmacy apprentices.

If it wasn't him, then it shouldn't be Oliver either. From Levi's observation of Oliver over the past few days, Oliver wouldn't betray the Gray Tower, but he probably didn't have the guts to do so.

No matter what, someone must have been the snitch.

That person leaked Ms. Marlene's whereabouts to the Undead Ship and the enemy forces of the Gray Tower.

Otherwise, there wouldn't be such a coincidence in the world!

"Damn it."

"I thought it would be safe to travel with an official wizard, but I didn't expect to fall into such a crisis."

The rapid self-healing of the Secondary Blood Clan also required energy consumption. In a short period, it was impossible to heal quickly many times.

At this moment, Levi was like a black-scaled man.

"I didn't expect you to reach such a realm as a knight." Ms. Marlene was a little shocked. "Protect yourself well. Since they're here to kill us, it means that they've sent at least two official wizards. I'll try my best to hold them back."

Find an opportunity to get close and see if you can break their defense. If you cant, jump into the sea and escape. I'll help you fight for a chance to escape."

"Alright." Levi activated his Advanced Vibrosensing. In such a foggy environment, Advanced Vibrosensing was even more useful.

Suddenly, there was a whistling sound.

A dark green ghost fire quickly cut through the night sky and headed toward Levi and the others.

Levi dodged and jumped into the sea.

"Little Levi, be careful," Ms. Marlene reminded.

She and Oliver would attract the enemy's firepower while Levi would think of a way to launch a sneak attack.

In the sea, Levi kept diving. With his current lung capacity and physical endurance, he could dive hundreds of meters deep without any spells.

He quickly swam forward and kept floating up until he saw the outline of a wooden boat on the water.

On the bow of the wooden boat, there was a skull with two horns tied to it, looking extremely ferocious.

Levi did not dare to get too close, afraid that the official wizard above would sense him.

He had to wait for the battle between Ms. Marlene and the other party to begin so that the official wizard would not have the time to care about the movements under the sea.

Then Levi could only get close to it.

On the surface of the sea, the wooden boat quickly approached the Azure Ship.

These wooden boats were not big, only 30 meters long. They looked simple and crude, but on the surface of the wooden boats, some spell runes were flickering.

These were the transportation boats belonging to the Undead Ship.

The Undead Ship was a special organization. They did not have an island. Their base camp was a giant ship that was thousands of meters long. It was said that it was the creation of a famous ancient dark wizard.

After becoming a dark wizard organization, the Undead Ship wandered the outer seas. It usually hid in dangerous waters to avoid the pursuit of the Wizard Tribunal. From time to time, it would send people out to rob the people on the Azure Ship on the public route.

These wooden boats were the means of transportation that they had developed. The arrays on them allowed the wooden boats to withstand the waves and ordinary sea beasts on the sea. At the same time, they could also quickly carry out guerrilla attacks on the sea.

On the Azure Ship, Ms. Marlene waved her wand and finished chanting a First-Ring Spell: Sailfish Arrow.

This was a first-ring offensive spell of the Ocean School of Thought.

The sea-blue water elemental power condensed into a three-meter-long sailfish.

It was completely transparent, and light swirled around it.

The sailfish wagged its tail and rode the wind and waves. Like a missile, it quickly attacked the people on the wooden boat..
