

Wizard 258

Chapter 258: Flower Knight, Legendary Levi! (3)

Hard work and legal means of earning money could not compare to a high-risk way of earning money like robbery.

It felt great to get them for free, but it was too dangerous. Moreover, such an opportunity was rare.

If not for Ms. Marlene, Levi would not have dared to attack a wizard.

Even if it was a high-level apprentice wizard, if Levi did not pay attention, it was possible that he would fail.

There were too many types of spells, and there were all kinds of them. Therefore, the strength of each high-level apprentice wizard would differ greatly due to the different spells they mastered, the different experiences in casting spells, and the different equipment.

Levi's greatest harvest from these bags was naturally those spell models.

The sheepskin notebook contained a First-Ring Spell, Undead Summoning, that could summon the undead from hell.

This was the original spell of the Seal of Hell, so it was also known as Hell Summoning.

This First-Ring Spell was the most important spell in the early stages of the School of Death. It was the most important source of combat power for the School of Death wizards in the early stages.

The weak undead skeletons from hell and the powerful Hell Strongmen summoned by Green Ghost Carter were all summoned by the first-ring Undead Summoning spell.

Carter's greatest strength was the Hell Strongman he summoned, which was stronger than a legendary knight.

This Hell Strongman was impenetrable by blades and could ignore all spell attacks below the first ring. He was simply the best tank warrior, making Levi very envious.

Unfortunately, the First-Ring Spell was not something that Levi could get his hands on right now. He had to be at least at a high-level apprentice wizard's rank, and his spiritual power had to reach 15 points before he could construct a First-Ring Spell model.

If one wanted to cast a First-Ring Spell, one's spiritual force had to reach the peak of an apprentice's 20 points. Of course, it would be best if one's spiritual force advanced to an official wizard before casting it. It was very difficult to cast a First-Ring Spell as an apprentice wizard.

The three spell models recorded in the other spell book were also cantrips from the School of Death.

There was no need to say much about the Soul Fire. It was recorded on the staff.

As for the Withering Ray cantrip, Levi was quite interested in it. It could produce a ray of spiritual force that contained the power of death and withering to attack the enemy. After the enemy was hit, their spiritual force would be severely damaged, and the injured parts of their body would also wither and age. It was quite powerful.

The other Corpse Burst was to detonate the corpses within the range and rely on the impact and destructive power of the corpse explosion to deal damage to the enemy.

In Levi's opinion, this cantrip was suitable for large-scale battlefields. If it was a one-on-one fight, it would not be very useful and would be of little value.

Because there was no corpse to detonate.

The apprentice wizard only had ten spell slots in total.

Levi probably wouldn't waste any spell slots to learn this.

Soul Fire and Withering Ray were both very powerful offensive skills. In Levi's opinion, they were much stronger than the attack spell of the Ocean School of Thought. After all, the Ocean School of Thought was not good at attacking but focused on defense and control.

"Currently I have three spell slots. I need to leave two spell slots to learn the Ocean School of Thought's cantrip to cope with the future assessment. So I can temporarily choose a School of Death's cantrip."

"The wand already has Soul Fire. Although I can only cast one spell per day, the initial Soul Fire is at the level of a high-level apprentice, and that will be enough."

"So, I'll learn Withering Ray first. After I become a high-level apprentice wizard, I'll consider Soul Fire."

There was no need to elaborate on the Night Crow Meditation Art. This was the School of Death's Meditation Art at the apprentice stage, and Levi definitely had to learn it.

The School of Death was new, and it was different from the traditional Elementalist School, where spells and Meditation Art had to be matched.

Spells had to be the same as the Meditation Art. This was a limitation that only traditional schools had. For example, if one wanted to cast the first ring

Burning Palm, one would need the corresponding Burning School of Thought's Meditation Art. This was because different elemental schools' Meditation Arts would produce different spell power.

Levi's current Deep Sea Meditation Art was water-type, and it was perfectly compatible with the Ocean School of Thought's spells. However, such spell power could not be used to cast the Burning School of Thought's spells.

As for the School of Insects' Insect Controlling Technique and the School of Death's spell, they could be cast even with the current Deep Sea Meditation Art.

However, its power and effectiveness would be greatly reduced. In that case, Levi might as well use the Ocean School of Thought's attack spell.

Although Levi did not like the School of Death, he was quite fond of its attack spell.

Vicious, insidious, and strange. They were all killing spells.

This was the specialty of the School of Death's spells.

Levi felt that he could focus on the School of Death in the future. After all, the Burning School of Thought and the Lightning School of Thought had too high a requirement for elemental talent. As Children of Chaos, Levi's cultivation was slow. Even with the speed increase on the proficiency panel, it was still slow.

Of course, if there was enough time, he would also cultivate the Burning School of Thought and Lightning School of Thought.

Levi put away all his gains.

"Next, let's go to White Sail Alley to buy two cantrip spell models."

Levi left the ninth floor of the Gray Tower and came to the White Sail Alley.

At the same time, in the foggy sea region of the outer seas.

A layer of gray fog lingered around this place all year round. The fog did not dissipate, and the sun could not be seen.

The sea was calm, but the roars of sea beasts could be heard from the sea. From time to time, some huge shadows could be seen wandering under the sea..