Chapter 273: Capture Dragon King Whale, Second-Ring Battle, Level Nine Red Lotus! (6)

This powerful First-Circle Wizard blocked Levi and the others' way out.

On White Tower No. 9, Levi looked at Noz, who had a calm expression.

"As expected, this guy is a mole. He used a voice transmission conch to inform the people on the Undead Ship."

However, all of this was within Levi's expectations. With the Tower Master overseeing the situation, there shouldn't be any problems with safety.

"Green Ghost Carter, are you trying to start a war between the Gray Tower and the Undead Ship?" Marko said coldly.

"Marko, hand over that legendary knight and you can leave. To be honest, the Undead Ship will definitely have a decisive battle with you one day. But not today. As long as we take that legendary knight away today, we will temporarily not pursue the matter of you killing our First-Circle Wizard.

"If all of your apprentices die, that old fellow Herman would probably be heartbroken, right?" Green Ghost Carter threatened.

He was one of the strongest wizards on the Undead ship. He had mastered ten Zero-Ring Cantrips, six First-Ring Spells, and one Second-Ring spell.

Last time, he was ambushed by a legendary knight, and that old woman Marlene used a second-ring spell without any regard for her life, forcing him to retreat.

This time, he had come prepared after being tipped off by the spy, Noz.

This time, no matter what, this legendary knight has to be taken away and tortured to death to vent the hatred in Green Ghost Carter's heart!

When Marko heard such an unreasonable request, he sneered, "You shouldn't be speaking so arrogantly by yourself. If I'm not wrong, your captain, Demon Harland, should be here as well. If that's the case, then there's no need to hide anymore. If you want to start the second Second -Circle Wizard war between our two organizations in advance, then go ahead."

As a spell teacher, Marko had advanced to the first circle not as long as Marlene and Green Ghost Carter, but his strength was not something that ordinary First-Circle Wizards could compare to.

Green Ghost Carter snorted coldly, "Why would the captain need to do anything to deal with a junior like you? Marko, you think too highly of yourself. Since you don't want to hand over that legendary knight, then prepare to die. Hehehe, killing so many Gray Tower's apprentices at once and cutting off your inheritance, isn't that beautiful?"

With a wave of his staff, two Hell Strongmen leaped into the air, their bodies covered in green flames, and gusts of cold wind blew as they charged toward Levi and the others.

At the same time, Noz, who had a calm expression on his face, suddenly cast an unknown spell on Winnie, who was caught off guard. Winnie, who was a high-level apprentice wizard, immediately fainted.

Noz picked up Winnie and lit up his protective shield, heading straight for the Undead Ship.

"Noz? You?" Marko's expression changed. He wanted to attack, but the Hell Strongman had already attacked. Facing an undead creature that was comparable to a legendary knight, Marko did not dare to be careless. He could only deal with the Hell Strongman first.

"The rest of you, protect the wounded and then work together to deal with the other Hell Strongman. Levi, go save Winnie," Marko said.

"Yes, Teacher."

The remaining apprentices chanted spells and waved their wands.

With the advantage of numbers, they blocked the first wave of attacks from the Hell Strongman.

However, it was obvious that the Hell Strongman was only one of Green Ghost Carter's summons.

As a veteran First-Circle Wizard of the School of Death, he did not only summon these few creatures.

More and more apprentice-level undead creatures charged toward White Tower No. 9. The Lantern Fire, skeleton soldiers, and archers' attacks became more and more concentrated.

Green Ghost Carter specialized in the School of Death's summoning.

Therefore, he focused all his strength on his summoned creatures. Now that he was prepared, all kinds of summoned creatures completely formed a situation of overwhelming numbers.

Levi's Blood Wings spread out and his speed skyrocketed. He stepped on the water and casually condensed a black gas blade in his hand, shooting it out.

Noz was scared out of his wits as he looked at Levi who was getting closer and closer to him.

"Lord Carter, save me!"

Noz shouted anxiously.

The moment the black gas hit Noz, it was devoured by a green flame.

The green flames did not slow down at all as they charged toward Levi.

Levi's expression was solemn.

He narrowly dodged the green flames.

Then, he opened his hands and the ten black gas blades flew out.

Dense black gas blades tore through the air and whistled out.

Noz barely blocked this wave of attack using all kinds of defensive spells.

One of the black gas blades stabbed into his waist. He could have dodged it, but in order to protect Winnie, he didn't dodge it.

"Good heavens, he isn't a bootlicker. This is love."

Levi cursed in his heart as he prepared for the next wave of attacks. Green Ghost Carter was fighting Marko while he commanded the undead creatures to attack Levi.

Just as these undead creatures surrounded them, White Tower No. 9 braved the wind and waves, and white gas surged into the sky.

At the same time, a red pillar of light spurted out from the bow of White Tower No. 9. Raging flames swept across the sea area dozens of meters ahead.

This was the powerful weapon that the Tower Master had installed for White Tower No. 9.

He named it “Crimson Flame’s Breath”.

The power of this shot was so great that even official wizards did not dare to take it head-on. However, the price of this shot was that it directly consumed 100 Aether Stones.

Those undead creatures vanished into thin air in front of the crimson pillar of light..
