

Wizard 2791

Chapter 2791: Visualization Map, All Battle Card, Cosmic Light Dragon, The New Era of Knights!

"Did you save me?"

"Gah gah gah."

"Thank you, my name is Nasha."

"Gah gah gah gah."

"You want me to go with you?" Ayak nodded.

"Alright, the outside world is too dangerous, I almost lost my life. It's fortunate I met you. You'll protect me, right?" The icy blue little bird's eyelashes trembled, asking with an incredibly pitiful look.

Ayak patted its chest confidently with its wings.

"Gah gah gah gah!"

Below level 9, it is unbeatable. .

The little bird, a fledgling new to the world, was completely fooled by Ayak and decided to travel with Ayak without thinking much.

The world is so vast, it is very lonely.

Coincidentally, Ayak feels the same.

...

Nora.

Ancient Dragon Continent, Destruction Heaven among Six Holy Heavens.

Upon the crimson throne, Levi's expression was serious, studying something.

The key to constructing the knight card lies within the Six Holy Heavens.

It stands above all knights, similar to the dimension of the Origin Holy Emperor, or the Barbarian Ancestor Hall where Heavenly Will resides.

The Holy Emperor can transform into a path classic and through this dimension influence other Energy Sect practitioners. Levi believes the same is true for Six Holy Heavens.

This is the ultimate destination for knights, the sacred land!

He is the Heavenly Master, commanding the six heavens and all the myriad sights within them.

He intends to create six "Knight Gods" within the Six Holy Heavens for transforming his own power, then connect every knight practicing this method into a complex network akin to the barbarian totem system of faith, eventually aggregating in the Six Holy Heavens.

That is to say, knight cards differ from Wanxiang Magic Cards, being more open-source! Every practitioner of the knight card can draw upon Levi's power and that of other stronger knights, such as the 18 Twilight Cavalry.

In the past lifetime, this would be called "inviting gods".

Through this system, Levi can establish a closer connection with all knights, truly taking a God's Eye View, overlooking everyone like Heavenly Will... He is not a God, but better than Gods.

Creating a "knight god" akin to a totem is also meticulous work.

By consulting Heavenly Will and other legendary wizards, coupled with Levi's extensive collection of astral world data and knowledge verification.

He summarized the following steps:

First.

He needs to compile a scripture of knight faith.

Every Church has its doctrines, often particularly strict, all serving the orthodox god. However, Levi's scripture does not need to be like this.

Essentially, he doesn't require the knights' faith for cultivation or self-sustenance. He wants knights to draw upon external power to fight.

Thus, the doctrine merely needs knights to sincerely believe in the gods Levi created, the rest is free.

Heavenly Will wove an "Ancestral God Song", a tune flowing like genes in the blood of all barbarian tribes.

From Levi's three years of field research, on the Heaven Continent, from three-year-old toddlers to Soldier Lords. Everyone chants this rhyme.

Barbarian parents soothe their children, barbarian warriors go to battle... Even barbarian men and women in romance often chant this rhyme.

Essentially, in all scenarios, all people use it.

Even the Winged Tiger Barbarian King among the tribe within Dark Ancient Tower, isolated for hundreds of thousands of years, instinctively awakened the "Ancestral God Rhyme" to summon the Barbarian Ancestor's projection.

Levi truly admires Heavenly Will, who, over countless years, completely shaped itself into the Barbarian Ancestor, Barbarian God, and even the heavens for the barbarian tribes!

It's simple to make knights believe in something.

There is something, to some extent, in the Doomsday Era, that serves as mental sustenance for knight families. That is their clan emblem, represented by the breathing technique of the Blood Tribulation Master. It's ready-made, and Levi needs to compile the Masters of Ten Thousand Tribulations into a comprehensive scripture.

Then, categorize by the six dimensions, selecting a representative from each. Let the representative be the general outline, oversee the whole, and belief in any of its imagery means belief in the representative.

This establishes a layer-by-layer faith relationship similar to the barbarian totem path, connecting the power channels from top to bottom. Clearly, this representative is the Six Emperor's Dragon within Levi.

As for the scripture's form, Levi plans to make it more convenient, simple, and efficient... a Visualization Map!

Second.

Select the "God" to be believed in, get the scripture ready. Next, it requires the actual creation of a "Divine Body" for collecting the power of faith.

The Divine Body can be a specific life form, such as a saint from a Church, essentially the divine body cultivated by Gods in the human realm for collecting faith, for descending incarnations.

The Divine Body can also be a dead object. Many Church idols or statues serve not just symbolic purposes, during believers' devout worship. Their power of faith is already stored within, for Gods to collect and enjoy.

Yet cultivating a Divine Body requires divine objects.

Fortunately, Levi has them, Heavenly Will mentioned that angels' Divine Crystals are top-grade for fashioning Divine Bodies. Of course, the most premium would be the Divine Crystals left behind by the death of Gods. Obviously, Levi can't obtain that right now.

During his travels through ancient towers and the Multidimensional Plane, Levi amassed several Divine Crystals, despite exchanging some batch away. The remainder is still sufficient for him to create six "bodies".

He plans to use top-grade materials to cast six Emperor Dragon statues, display them in the Twilight Temple plaza, this is the Divine Body.

Chapter 2792: Visualization Map, All Battle Card, Cosmic Light Dragon, The New Era of Knights!

Wizard: Starting With the Knights Breathing Method

After completing these two major steps, the next task is to gradually transform the knights of the Dusk Holy Temple, spreading the path of Six Emperor's faith.

...

Time flies, and in the blink of an eye, it's been 17 years.

Nora Calendar 1577, Blood Battle 1465.

With the gradual victories on the Nora battlefield, the demons remaining in the restricted area are visibly decreasing, and the Abyss no longer wastes military forces on pointless attacks but plans to amass a more formidable force to crush Nora in one go.

This prompts many wizards striving for war merit to open up a second battlefield. Subsequently, the Nora Council indicates that wizards and all clans heading to Hell for demon hunting will also be counted in the war merit system. This move has stirred up Hell.

The greatest beneficiaries of this move are the Purgatory Demon Sword and many wizards of the School of Death, for Hell is like a second home to them.

A mighty army, led by the battle group, invades the world of undead creatures and devils. Restrained by the Underworld, Hell naturally behaves obediently. Wizards hunt demons while gathering resources from Hell.

At the same time.

The terrifying demonic aura resulting from nearly fifteen hundred years of blood battle has doubled the overall richness of elemental power through the transformation by oasis creatures. It should be known, Nora's size is continually expanding. In some areas, it has increased several folds.

The factors affecting the speed of wizard cultivation are twofold:

One is intrinsic factors related to the individual, such as talent, effort, etc.

The other is extrinsic factors, including the environment and resources.

The richness of elemental power affects the civilization's overall advancement speed. Two thousand years ago, a Child of Chaos becoming an official wizard from some remote area would have been a sensational event.

But now, as long as one possesses wizarding talent, even a Child of Chaos, unless extremely unlucky or lacking effort, can at least achieve first-ring cultivation. Some Liver Emperors, or those with small opportunities, would have no problem advancing to the second-circle.

For those with triple affinity, with some effort, reaching the third-circle to become a mid-level wizard is commonplace. If even the lowest-level Earth oddity is utilized to enhance talent, the difficulty in advancing to the fourth and fifth-circle can be significantly reduced, with some even advancing to primordial soul.

As for dual-class affinity, before the blood battle, it would have been a rare talent among the wizard community, a one-in-a-hundred gem. Over the past two thousand years, such talent becoming primordial souls has become quite common.

Of course, for advancing to primordial soul, besides the improvement in elemental power, the reduction in costs and prices of various medicines due to technological breakthroughs and war benefits is also crucial.

As for Children of the Elements and those top-level talents above them, they have always been absolute geniuses, with the Nora new era continually raising their upper limit. Originally achieving sixth-circle was their ceiling, but now a seventh-circle or even eighth-circle is within reach!

In this era, oasis creatures are only the tip of the iceberg. Thanks to the efforts of the Nora Council and countless talented individuals, especially from the "foreign aid" of demons, the number of wizards steadily rises despite the wear of war.

Meanwhile, knight practitioners are no longer limited to the Ancient Dragon Continent. With the Dusk Holy Temple as their sacred land and headquarters, temples have sprung up like mushrooms after rain in the New World and the Land of the Four Seas. The number of knights far exceeds the past. What was once a niche cultivation method has become relatively mainstream.

Initially, many questioned the knights, fearing that methods relying on bloodline essence or even bloodline crystals would lead to a decline in transcendent creatures. Eventually, knights would fall into a vicious cycle unable to develop. But today, the Dusk Holy Temple has responded to all doubts with its achievements.

As the will of Heaven states, [bloodline] is not constant; it can evolve by absorbing external energy through generations of reproduction. Sometimes, the bloodline seems diluted layer by layer, but from God's Eye View, the total amount is indeed growing.

Hence, the Ancient Dragon Continent established the Giant Beast Paradise, built breeding bases in over a hundred New Worlds, and cooperated with the School of Spiritualism to artificially accelerate bloodline division and multiplication. This forms a perfect cooperation between knights and bloodlines, a harmonious coexistence between humans and nature, sustainability is the essence!

On this day.

Knights from all corners come rushing in, gathering on the Ancient Dragon Continent.

Today marks the two-thousandth birthday of the Dusk Palace Master, also the most important day for knights, as recently Extreme Knight Levi announced the card system related to knights is complete, with a conference set for today.

Dusk Holy Temple Square is bustling with people.

The Eighteen Riders, who were traveling outside, have all returned, surrounding the Sky Dome, exuding a strong aura, their gaze firm and steady.

Behind them, silent shadows of eighteen mythical legends-like giant beasts stand, like ancient Gods in eternal watch.

The most dazzling is undoubtedly the Fire Dragon Knight with a true form towering a thousand feet. Over the years, the influence from the bloodline of the Fire Giant King has become more evident.

Today, the Fire Dragon Knight, not yet two thousand years old, has recently broken through, becoming the second Level 8 knight after Levi!

"So strong, are these the fathers of the two supernovas?"

"Terrifying, feels like they could crush an eighth-circle demon with a slap."

In the crowd, a devil muscle man-like absolute strongman stands; he too is a hundred feet tall, now at Level 6 Middle Stage Cultivation, yet possessing the strength to slay Level 6 Late Stage demons. It is none other Giant Spirit God Witch Sun Chasing Knight Abel.

Chapter 2793: Visualization Map, All Battle Card, Cosmic Light Dragon, A New Era for Knights!

Within him flows three powerful bloodlines: the Sun Chasing Dragon, the Fire Giant King, and the Nine Dragons Emperor, along with a double affinity for earth and fire elements and a body refinement physique [Overlord's Shouldering]. Hence, he cultivated various techniques like the "Nine-Headed Hell Snake Body Tempering Technique," the "Thousand-Eyed Titan Body Tempering Technique," and the "Purple Crystal Body Refining Technique."

He plans to integrate these to create his own body refining technique. Gandaph also imparted the "Dragon and Snake Prison Suppressing Divine Skill" to him for reference.

Not long after.

Another towering figure approached, stopping beside Abel and asked:

"Brother, is it starting soon?"

"Almost. Just thinking about the fact that I can use cards soon makes me excited; I've been envious for a long time now." Abel said with a smile.

The person was none other than Wind and Fire Dragon Witch, Dragon Flame Knight, Lei Long. He was over three hundred years younger than Abel and currently not yet three hundred years old, also having advanced to the sixth-circle wizard realm, and is dual-faction with wind and fire.

His knight status is a level 5 peak realm, not because he lacks the ability to break through, but because Lei Long has great ambitions and wants to move further from the mythical level.

For this, both the Fire Dragon Knight and Louise naturally support him. Lei Long was precocious since childhood, managing without others worrying, handling everything systematically, extremely reliable. Since he made such a decision, he must be confident.

Soon, the descendants of the eighteen riders arrived one after another.

An elegant figure wearing silver light armor, the Wind Chasing Witch, Jade Phoenix Knight, Safa, embracing the Jade Qilin bloodline and Wind Element Child talent, aged over 650 years, already a dual-cultivation level 6 mid-stage knight and wizard, also a supernova.

The son of Ash Knight, Hod, possessing the Star Butterfly Dragon bloodline, level 6 mid-stage. Also a top talent on the Demon Slaying List, due to his top-notch healing ability, now leads an independent [Star Dragon Rescue Team], responsible for logistics.

Daughter of Golden Lion Knight, Peacock Knight Lea, bearing her mother's Peacock bloodline, at barely over 1100 years old, already at a level 6 peak realm, currently preparing evolution materials to fulfill her mother's regret by creating a new mythical level bloodline, truly surpassing the master.

And her brother, Raid, with double affinity plus a unique talent from the Frost Faction, he is now a Sixth-Circle Perfection professor in the School of Frost and also a genius. Behind Raid follows a timid-looking small knight. His name is Regi, eight years old. Bearing the mythical [Zouwu] bloodline, he has practiced the breathing technique for two and a half years...

If the old Golden Lion were watching with divine spirit, seeing the Golden Lion Family thriving like this, surely he would be at peace even in the nine springs.

From the Dark Moon Knight Family, Moon Knight Pulade, along with the Shadow Hunter Witch, Phantom Knight Morana arrived; these siblings inherited the early Dark Moon bloodline and now also hold level 6 mid-stage power. The latter is a disciple of Shadow Queen Aya and is also a senior sixth-circle witch; both have a bright future.

They have a younger brother, Void Knight Filp, who inherited the mythical level [Heavenly Dog Bloodline], yet in a crucial breakthrough moment, has not come.

There are many more, not to enumerate one by one.

With the changing times, as the elders of the Dusk Holy Temple gradually retire, this new blood steps onto center stage following the tide of the era.

They are more excellent, unsatisfied with the established order of their ancestors, rather advancing courageously. For the honor and revival of the family and organization, they strive relentlessly.

Many among them dual cultivate as wizards and knights, or knights and Energy Sect, and some even aim for triple cultivation. Regardless of future achievements, the courage to attempt such is commendable.

Fourteen mythical bloodlines are merely the starting point.

The stars suspended over all beings during the Ancient Era, those ancient Star Gods, are now continuing their existence in new ways, flourishing vitality.

"The fire passing from one to another, bloodlines unending." Eventually, knights will return like ancestors, pulling down high entities from the altar, heralding dusk. When day breaks, new stars will illuminate the Land of Darkness.

This is the Dusk Holy Temple!

This is the Twilight Knights!

As more people gather, countless vigorous figures amass on the Ancient Dragon Continent. In the sky, a streak of light flashes across, descending with the presence of a senior ninth-circle aura, exuding grandeur, wearing golden armor, very handsome.

Who else but Duke Rumon?

He seems in high spirits, smoking a cigar, behind a faintly emerged giant beast shadow made entirely of light, resembling both dragon and insect, enveloped by halo-like spots. After over four hundred years, the Halo Knight finally reached level 6.

With the resources and conveniences brought by his great wizard status from a legendary reincarnation, such speed naturally does not seem fast.

No choice, advancing once more from the mythical level is challenging. He never considered cultivating the path of a knight before. Hence during legendary times, no preparations were made; otherwise, surely a mythical crystal would be prepped.

Thus, he had to gather several assorted legendary bloodline crystals, using the quantity to win, recently evolving successfully. He even named this beyond mythical bloodline [Cosmic Light Dragon].

Cosmic Light Dragon triumphs with speed, barely concealing a power to control time, with immense potential. Even with Duke Rumon formerly being a Legendary Wizard in a past life, he was somewhat excited upon discovering this bloodline.

Confident of retracing steps to becoming a Legendary Wizard, yet somewhat uncertain about advancing further. But with the [Cosmic Light Dragon] bloodline, some hope is born. In this life, he also provided himself double insurance.

Chapter 2794: Visualization Map, All Battle Card, Cosmic Light Dragon, A New Era for Knights!

So now his attitude towards the knight's practice has transformed from previously being laid-back to now being a daily must-do, with the level of importance being no less than the wizard's cultivation. Especially after witnessing Levi's awesomeness, he anticipates eagerly in his heart.

"Soon I'll be able to use the knight cards. I'll join in the fun."

He mingled in the crowd, waiting for the conference to start.

Time passed by minute by minute.

Before long, anomalies appeared in the sky dome above. A virtual shadow of six overlapping worlds manifested, the Six Holy Heavens descended.

Afterward, from each world flew out a giant dragon figure radiating supreme power, causing Duke Rumon to glance sideways. It's known that he had to nearly bankrupt himself to acquire a Cosmic Light Dragon, consuming quite a bit of legendary resources.

Yet Levi has six!

Truly a freak!

Duke Rumon felt ashamed.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

At the Dusk Holy Temple Square, dragon figures landed in the center, forming a circle. Upon closer inspection, they were vividly realistic giant dragon statues.

Each statue emitted radiant treasure light, exuded immense dignity, and even the dragon pupils could move. A figure leisurely descended on the head of the Crimson Emperor Dragon statue—it was Levi.

He proclaimed aloud:

"Today I create knight cards, to be used by the Dusk Holy Temple and knights worldwide. I hope everyone continues to uphold knightly virtues, strive in practice, be brave and fearless, protect the Ancient Dragon Continent, protect Nora!

These are the Six Emperor Statues: Crimson Emperor, Golden Emperor, Black Emperor, White Emperor, Green Emperor, Nightmare Emperor! They represent our knight's six dimensions and are the core of the knight card practice path. To master cards, one must first observe the statues, comprehend their divine charm, store it in the mind, constantly reinforce it to succeed."

He waved his hand, enchanting lights flew out from the statues, landing in the palms of all knights present, condensing into clusters of misty light spots. Duke Rumon crushed one with his hand, feeling information pour into his mind, and then murmured:

""Ten Thousand Beasts Visualization Map", "Six Emperors Visualization Map", "Ten Thousand Beasts Card Making Encyclopedia", "All Battle Card Making Guide", "Six Emperors Card Making Guide"...

So that's it, relying on the path of faith to establish a transmission system, thereby connecting to the source of power to stimulate and utilize card power. Not bad, not bad; after creating the Wizard Fourth Art, my commander now creates the Knight's Second Art."

The first knight art is Beast Taming. It is already widespread in the Dusk Holy Temple, and to qualify as a knight, one must be a Master Beast Tamer. Thus, one can independently nurture knight mounts and bloodline essence, the two essential items.

The second art is card making.

No need for Levi to say more, once he informed the knights of the principles and cultivation of card making through the statues, everyone understood what needed to be done. All were incredibly excited, marveling at the dawn of the knight's new era.

"Thanks to the commander for the teachings!"

"Thank the Hall Master!"

"Six Emperor Dragons above!"

After expressing gratitude to Levi, the eagerly awaiting crowd sincerely began to bow and worship the Six Emperor Dragon statues, revering them!

"Sorren Daily", "Blood Battle Daily", "Nora Daily" and other media outlets covered this event of epochal significance to knights.

In the coming days, phrases like "Visualization Map", "All Battle Card", "Emperor Dragon God" became buzzwords among the people.

A month later.

Duke Rumon's Mansion.

Thanks to his wisdom and talent, he had already largely grasped the card-making knowledge. He closed his eyes in contemplation, quietly pondering the mysteries of card-making.

The knight card system is divided into "Three Realms, Four Layers, Six Paths".

Three Realms: Ten Thousand Beasts, All Battle, Six Emperors.

Four Layers: Non-Legendary, Legendary, Mythical, Supreme.

Six Paths: Strength, Speed, Physical Defense, Perception, Endurance, Physique.

Similar in difference of sects with the wizard's Wanxiang Magic Card system, so far, each path knight can only visualize and create cards of their own path, unable to cross paths in card making. After all, Levi himself hasn't resolved the issue of six-path fusion.

Ten Thousand Beasts, representing all Blood Tribulation Masters of existing knight breathing techniques; they are governed under the Six Emperor Dragons of the Six Holy Heavens.

Therefore, visualizing Ten Thousand Beasts and Six Emperors, in essence, is the same. Ultimately, they all converge in the Six Holy Heavens. Yet the Six Emperors level is too high for ordinary knights to visualize, hence Levi recommended knights below level 6 to visualize Ten Thousand Beasts.

Visualizing the Ten Thousand Beasts Map allows the creation of diverse [bloodline cards], which can specifically be categorized into [Divine Power Card], [Dharma Image Card], [Divine Weapon Card], [True Armor Card], etc. Divine Power refers to spell-like abilities, innate talents.

Taking "Blue Bird Visualization Map" as an example, each time a visualization map is comprehended, it's equivalent to establishing a faith link with the possessor of the Blue Bird Breathing Skill, [Green Bird Knight]. Subsequently, through transformation by the Six Holy Heavens, and the Green Bird Knight's approval, a small portion of their power can be used to activate cards related to [Qing Niao].

Essentially, this is a shared system. Levi relies on the Six Holy Heavens and Six Emperor Dragons residing behind the curtain to manage this system. Every knight he pulls into the shared network can become a co-sharer.

This is the strength of the Six Holy Heavens!

And the uniqueness of the Bloodline Path!

In the future, as more knights reach level 9 and join the "Six Holy Heavens", this system, akin to the divine systems of the past life, the "Heavenly Court", will become more complete. From the head of the Heavenly Court, down to the Six Ding Six Jia, heavenly troops and generals, it can all be established.

Chapter 2795: Visualization Map, All Battle Card, Cosmic Light Dragon, The New Era of Knights!

And the Ten Thousand Battle Card is the vassal of the Ten Thousand Beast Card, a [Combat Skill Card], an add-on, similar in principle to the former, there's no need to say more.

After understanding this, Duke Rumon was very surprised.

This is definitely an extremely significant invention, if it can be used in the wizard system, its impact on the advancement of Nora Civilization would be enormous.

Unfortunately, everything else is fine.

Compared to knights, wizards lack the critical [Six Holy Heavens].

This is the core and brain of the card, the power of faith is just a transmission channel, substituting other forms is also feasible.

Duke Rumon recalls that during his travels in a previous life, he saw a subversive idea in the notes of a spell caster from an unknown civilization:

Spiritual Network! Or perhaps... Demon Net!

Using the world as a canvas, each spell caster living within it as a node, and some treasure or powerful entity capable of carrying endless knowledge and spells as the core, building a giant web for everyone to share knowledge, spells, and even energy.

Spell casters can connect via the internet, leveraging their own cultivation, paying a corresponding price to borrow the might of others.

Theoretically, with sufficient payment, a First-Circle Wizard could use the Spiritual Network to cast legendary spells.

This idea is extremely crazy. However, Levi's knight card system made Rumon feel like he's seeing a possibility.

A while later, Duke Rumon created his first card.

[Card Name: Black Emperor's Descent]

[Card Level: Supreme Level]

[Card Quality: Excellent]

[Card Rank: Level 6]

[Card Effect: You can summon a Black Emperor Dragon of early Stage to peak Level 6 to fight for you for ten minutes.

Note: The specific realm of the Black Emperor Dragon depends on the card's quality.]

This card, capable of fully summoning the projection of the Six Emperor Dragons, is currently the most expensive in the card system because it doesn't just use a single ability. Thus, the materials required for its creation also come at a hefty price.

Firstly, it requires 1000 grams of Level 6 dimension-speed creatures, preferably bloodline essence from the Dragon Clan to outline "imagery" and draw "card art."

Bloodline essence isn't blood, 1000 grams is the cultivation amount of a Level 6 knight after years. The Dragon Clan's bloodline also matters; the higher the quality, the greater the power. Using Level 6 Legendary Dragon Clan blood and sub-dragon blood isn't the same.

Secondly, it requires several Level 6 materials from the negative energy sect to create the "card stock": shadow, darkness, blood, poison... At the root, the composition of the Black Emperor Dragon is too complex; if it were merely a fire element Dragon Clan, fire alone would suffice.

No need to elaborate on the other aspects.

In short, the greater the power, the higher the price.

Better materials, better technique, higher card quality.

Duke Rumon muttered:

"This card is enough to trade for a sixth-ring top-grade Wizard Tool."

He is so extravagant, using such a method for experiments. For most Level 6 knights, simply making a Divine Power Card related to the Black Emperor Dragon would guarantee unparalleled strength in the same realm, without such lavish waste.

For example, making a [Black Emperor's Enslavement] card, as long as they defeat the enemy, they can activate this card, and after successful activation, obtain a loyal servant for a period.

Of course, unlike the original Black Emperor's Enslavement, the card version's enslavement lasts no more than a day, depending on the card's quality.

Duke Rumon chanted and tossed the card.

"Ancient and Modern Invisible, Eight-direction Traceless! Go!"

Bang!

Accompanied by a deafening explosion, the card burned and emitted billowing black smoke, from which came a ferocious ancient roar, cold vertical pupils appeared, and then a giant dragon with a wingspan of thousands of meters, entirely black, emerged from the shadows.

[I am the Black Emperor! Why have you summoned me!]

Duke Rumon smiled.

"I want you to spar with me."

Black Emperor Dragon: "..."

It nodded silently without speaking. Because in the Six Holy Heavens, Levi set the program for the Black Emperor Dragon with just the previous line.

But regardless, it followed the command, transforming into a black light, rushing toward Duke Rumon with unimaginable speed, sweeping various negative energy storms.

"Hahaha, coming well!" .

"Cosmic Light Dragon, transform!"

Duke Rumon shouted impassionedly, transforming into that holy light giant beast resembling both insect and dragon, standing upright, its tail like a giant laser blade, its hands wielding light swords, as if able to cut the universe.

With its sword swings, webs of light woven towards the Black Emperor Dragon. Amidst chaos, signs of temporal distortion emerged.

Bang!

The two supreme beasts collided loudly.

One positive, one negative, one light, one dark, like the two poles of the universe. Where their battle took place, an area spanning tens of miles transformed into a black-and-white world, forming harmony like a Yin Yang Fish.

In terms of attributes, the Cosmic Light Dragon slightly suppressed the Black Emperor Dragon, so at the beginning, they were evenly matched. But as time passed, the Black Emperor Dragon began to gain the upper hand. Because Duke Rumon had just made a breakthrough, he was inferior in realm.

Time passed second by second.

After holding out for ten minutes, before Duke Rumon was pinned to the ground by the Black Emperor Dragon, the card's effect time ended, energy exhausted, the Black Emperor Dragon transformed into a black smoke, slowly dissipating, in the smoke emerged a very gratified smiling face, it was Levi.

"Not bad, you actually successfully evolved beyond mythical."

"Hahaha, how's that, surprised?"

"Surprised. By the way, what's the name of this breathing technique?"

"Cosmic Light Dragon!"

"Good! This is the first supreme bloodline apart from me in the Dusk Holy Temple, and also the fifteenth above mythical level bloodline."

"Commander, can I challenge the 18 Twilight Cavalry?"

"Certainly, but you can only use knight techniques."

"Understood, I've been looking forward to this day for a long time."

Within the elusive Six Holy Heavens.

In front of the six grand palaces, those statues of the Six Emperor Dragons that had been present all along had come to life, their eyes glowing with Divine Light. With the constant infusion of power of faith and the long-term incense, there will come a day when they might be resurrected as "Divine Bodies", swirling above the Six Holy Heavens, becoming legitimate "Divine Dragons."

Having finally completed a task, Levi leaned against the Golden Throne and fell into a deep sleep. Decades of intense research had exhausted him mentally. The [Black Emperor's Descent] card is the first knight card to take effect, proving the success of his path.

From now on, the Knight New Era has begun!

Chapter 2796: The Way of Spiritual Treasures, the Fate of Nightmares!

Wizard: Starting With the Knights Breathing Method

A month later.

Levi awoke from the Golden Throne.

He returned to the Emperor's Palace, and Elena, dressed mysteriously in a black low-cut evening gown, arrived in his room. After a long sleep, Levi was full of energy and couldn't help but celebrate once more seeing her like this.

"Be gentle..."

Day after day, for dozens of days.

Elena leaned languidly against Levi's chest during his Wise Time, while Levi was pondering the Ninth-Circle Spell in the dream sequence.

His thought was that the higher the circle, the deeper the layer of the dream. Layer upon layer of dreams would drive the enemy completely insane, losing their rationality, not knowing whether they were in a dream or reality.

Just like the past movie "Inception". Therefore, for the Ninth-Circle Spell, he planned to set nine-layered dreams. The structure of this spell was extremely complex, and even he would need a long time for research and experimentation.

"By the way, did you forget something?"

Snapping out of it, Elena looked up and asked.

"What?"

"The birthday gift, the one I prepared for you."

"What is it?"

"You definitely wouldn't have guessed."

Elena opened her palm, and three rays of light circled around Levi. He looked closely and showed a hint of surprise.

They were three beads, black, blue, and gold.

Inside the black bead was a miniature winding river, like the Yellow River, with sand and silt flowing, torrents surging, with an imposing aura. The blue bead portrayed a scene of a frigid snowfield, with a thousand miles of ice and snow drifting for ten thousand miles. The golden bead showed a scene of desolate decay like a rusted wasteland, barren and decaying.

"Water Disaster Pearl, Frost Disaster Pearl, Golden Disaster Pearl... You didn't expect this, did you?"

Elena had a triumphant look.

Levi nodded and said:

"Indeed, I didn't expect it."

"I knew you liked to collect things, and seeing that you were lacking these three beads, I secretly helped you search for them and actually found them.

But I also have to thank the Zion Witch from the Fire Dragon Sky Work, who provided me with some of Doster Collin's clues."

"You've been considerate."

To be honest, Levi indeed couldn't stop thinking about the remaining beads from this wizard, knowing that even if he collected them, they wouldn't be of much use to him. But it was that obsessive compulsion and collection habit that made him feel incomplete.

Now, this wish was fulfilled.

He excitedly embraced Elena back onto the bed, pressing down on her with a sinister chuckle: "I have to reward you well once again."

"You... you're repaying kindness with enmity!"

A month later, Elena left the Emperor's Palace, expressing that she would go into seclusion to seek Eight Ring Perfection, and by the way, to advance the Energy Sect and Knight to level eight as soon as possible. It seemed she was too exhausted during this time and needed cultivation to alleviate it.

Levi, on the other hand, put away all seven differently colored beads.

"Not bad, gathering the Seven Dragon Balls can realize a wish."

His broad hand played with the Seven Disasters Pearl, which were seven exotic treasures, some level 6, some level 7, their function being to release various elemental disasters.

He subconsciously infused all his Chaotic Power into these treasures, activating them completely, and suddenly, the Seven Disasters Pearls started to buzz and tremble.

Levi's expression slightly changed.

"Damn, did Doster Collin really leave something like the Seven Dragon Balls feature in these? These Seven Disasters Pearls are not simple."

In an instant, the Seven Disasters Pearls began to dissolve, turning into seven streams of liquid in different colors, then merging as one, and finally fusing into a Seven-Colored Bead. Faintly, some sort of script emerged on the bead.

"Colin's Treasure Refining Notes."

A burst of information surged into Levi's mind, but he temporarily ignored the notes and examined the Seven-Colored Bead, which unexpectedly turned into a level 8 peak exotic treasure.

He infused Chaotic Power into it, and then seven forces akin to the calamity power of a Ninth-Circle Wizard's flood, fire disaster, thunderstorm, landslide, and other sects shot forth, forming a continuously rotating Seven-Colored Domain.

With such power, within the Eight-Circle, there should be no one who could rival him, and Levi believed that even a Ninth-Circle Wizard could only withstand it for a moment.

And this, was only a Level 8 Peak Exotic Treasure.

"Doster was Duke Rumon's apprentice in his past life, and I remember the duke said he had died young before advancing to Ninth-Circle, probably fallen in the Eight Environments. To create such an exotic treasure, his talent for treasure refining truly was outstanding!

If he had advanced to Legendary, with his treasure refining talent, he would surely be no less than Master Bao Long, the strongest weapon craftsman, in this era!"

The Full Body Seven Disasters Pearl was truly powerful.

However, for Levi, it was still of no use.

With his current strength, even ordinary Nine-Level Treasures were useless to him. Having them would only collect dust, let alone these Level 8 ones. However, after he finished reading "Colin's Treasure Refining Notes", his face shook, revealing a look of surprise.

"I see, he actually created a unique method of refining exotic treasures, taking an unconventional path, and researched what is called 'Spiritual Treasure'."

As everyone knows.

Wizard exotic treasures belong to ancient weapon refinement methods, bearing traces of many alien and other civilizations' ancient weapon refinement techniques, possessing two major drawbacks:

One, once refined, their level is fixed and cannot be upgraded.

Two, costly to produce, consuming a great deal of resources.

These two points lead exotic treasures to be phased out as a wizard's level increases, and coupled with already scarce resources, the wizard civilization subsequently evolved to develop more efficient methods of refining Wizard Tools that could advance, becoming one of the Three Arts of Wizardry.

Chapter 2797: The Art of Spiritual Treasures, Nightmare's Fate!

Doster's teacher, including his ancestors, all came from refining rare treasures. He was intent on researching a new type of rare treasure, one that could evolve as its owner improved. This was to change the gradual decline of rare treasures.

To this end, he visited many ancient Blacksmith Masters and embarked on long journeys across planes, seeking advice from the strongest weapon craftsman of alien races.

From the notes, it seems that Colin even visited a disciple of Master Bao Long and received guidance from Master Bao Long himself, which benefited him greatly.

Subsequently, he painstakingly researched and finally had some results, initially developing the so-called [Primordial Soul Treasure Refining Method].

This method utilized the power of the primordial soul to refine rare treasures, nurturing, harmonizing, and bonding with the soul, eventually achieving a mystical connection, allowing the treasure to be instilled with nascent spirituality.

This thread of spirituality emerged from the long-term fusion of the refiner's soul with the treasure, akin to a Soul Artifact. The growth of this spirituality gives the rare treasure the potential for advancement, thus breaking the limitation of a rare treasure's inability to advance.

Reading this, Levi was reminded of the [Blood Battle Armor] and its [Blood Battle Spirit], which seemed to have a similar magic. The Blood Battle Armor was also an upgradeable level-10 supreme treasure, with the Blood Battle Spirit being the key.

In general, this method had little significance for the modern civilization of Nora, where the path of the wizard had become widespread.

This is because Soul Artifacts themselves are upgradeable and are part of a wizard's life Dual Cultivation. The greatest value of the [Primordial Soul Treasure Refining Method] is to reasonably utilize existing rare treasures, providing them with room for growth, avoiding waste and dust.

However, this cultivation method was incomplete, as Doster had yet to finish it before perishing in an accident, leaving it only a half-finished method.

"No matter, next we shall leave it to the Holy Infant and Fire Dragon Sky Work for further research, and invite Duke Rumon to work together, which should perfect it."

Zion of the Fire Dragon Sky Work had already gained part of Doster's rare treasure-making heritage and was now the organization's leading expert in rare treasures. If they could advance the Seven Disasters Pearl to a nine-level rare treasure, its power would undoubtedly be remarkable.

Especially the Seven-Colored Domain that was somewhat similar to the [Three Calamities and Four Disasters] encountered by a wizard during Tribulation, which was the strongest function of the Seven Disasters Pearl, known as:

[Seven Disasters Domain]!

In summary, this treasure went well with his Chaotic Power. It could fully leverage Levi's specialties in multi-sect cultivation, making it worthwhile to pursue. Someday, it might even become his second supreme treasure!

Afterward, he assigned this task for follow-up and consulted with Duke Rumon, explaining the situation of the Seven Disasters Pearl. Upon hearing that it was an unfinished treasure refining method by his former student, he readily agreed.

Duke Rumon himself had a [Star Smoke Armor], which was a proud creation of his past life, a top-grade among nine-level items.

Not having forged a supreme treasure of his own was his greatest regret in his past life. Now with the opportunity to make amends, he was eager to seize it.

In fact, the majority of Legendary Wizards and Level 10 Strongmen did not possess the ability to independently forge a supreme treasure. Most of the supreme treasures used by the Nora Council were forged by Sauron or jointly by legendary wizards of various generations.

The supreme treasure-level communication network project led by Edmund also involved multiple wizards and strongmen skilled in weapon-making and forging, working together.

Therefore, the number of Multi-Plane supreme treasures is far fewer than Level 10 Strongmen. Ordinary level 10s like the Blue Dream Star Lord used nine-level rare treasures.

The average combat power of Legendary Wizards in the Pan-Plane is almost higher than all other civilized races, except the Amethyst Race. Considering the Amethyst Race has only ever produced one Amethyst Saint at Level 10, its reference value is low. Hence, calling Legendary Wizards the strongest group in terms of average combat power in the Pan-Plane makes sense.

The key lies in the fact that while Legendary Wizards may not all possess supreme treasures, each has a "Legendary Wizard Tool" with power comparable to a supreme treasure.

...

Three years later.

Nora 1580, Blood Battle 1468.

Six Holy Heavens.

In past years, as the power of faith surged in like a tide, all six Emperor Dragon statues became enveloped in a thin layer of Divine Light.

Levi had already infused a large amount of the Power of Six Emperor Dragons into the statues, and given the difficulty of creating the [Six Emperor Card], it would suffice for the Dusk Holy Temple for a long time.

These supreme-level cards, after all, were luxuries. According to statistics from Six Holy Heavens, the [Ten Thousand Beast Card] was used over ten million times in three years. These were the mainstream. They were of good quality and low cost, suitable for most scenarios.

Now, the [Dusk Card Factory] affiliated with the Dusk Holy Temple had also been put into use, and a group of knights specializing in card-making began to emerge.

Following the successful precedent of the [Wanxiang Magic Card], they created card packs to circulate among the Knight Group. Cards were widely used in sparring, exploring secret realms, cross-dimensional travel, and military battlefields.

In a New World.

An area dominated by demons. A team of fully armed knights, wearing Red Dragon Armor, descended from Star Castle. The thousand-foot-tall Fire Dragon Knight wielded a greatsword capable of piercing the Sky Dome to subdue the demons.

According to intelligence, at least three Level 8 Demons were hiding here, causing havoc all around.

Before long, the Fire Dragon Mission engaged in fierce conflict with the demons. Machines roared, cannons continuously fired, chainsaws raced rapidly.

Suddenly, four Level 8 Flame Demons charged from the Earth's core magma, surrounding the Fire Dragon Knight, with the leader already at a Level 8 Late Stage Realm.

"Die, Supernova!"

Terrifying demonic aura swept in. Seeing this, the Fire Dragon Knight grinned, his figure soared to ten thousand feet, greatsword sweeping across like a bursting red sun. Furthermore, he tore a card emitting Divine Light, depicting a Red Giant Dragon.

Chapter 2798: The Way of Spiritual Treasures, Fate of the Nightmare!

[By gazing directly at me, you shall see destruction! Fight!]

Level 8 Supreme Summoning Card[Red Emperor's Descent], and it's of epic quality! As of now, the highest level card used in public!

Subsequently, a Crimson Emperor Dragon exuding the aura of Level 8 Late Stage tore through the heavens and earth, descending with a boom. With just one slap of its dragon claw, it shattered a Level 8 Flame Demon into dust, then its dragon tail swept across, severing another Flame Demon in half.

Finally, the Crimson Emperor Dragon, like the sun, enveloped in a solar wind covering hundreds of miles, charged into the battlefield of the demon army, slaughtering recklessly.

When the ten-minute duration was up, the living demons were almost wiped out. Soon, the Fire Dragon Knight eradicated them, reaping considerable war merit.

He turned to the vice commander:

"Did you record all of that just now?"

"Recorded it, this is the best knight recruitment advertisement."

"So cool! These Level 8 Demons are all trash!"

"With just a sliver of the summoner's power, exhibiting such divine might, I can't fathom what strength he possesses now."

"Indeed, this projection is sure to cause a sensation!"

Soon after, the Fire Dragon Mission wiped out a demon main force from the New World in ten minutes with the unbeatable knight card projection, spreading rapidly on the Blood Battle channel!

Knights and wizards forwarded it to their friends, attracting countless gazes simultaneously.

"So fierce!"

"Yeah, what kind of power is this?"

"Being a knight is so thrilling, it makes me want to undergo bloodline transplant transformation."

"I don't have the time and energy to practice another path, might as well find a knight partner and have a knight descendant, then it's a knight family. Unfortunately, all the 18 Twilight Cavalry are taken, those people really hit the jackpot."

For a while, knights, already popular, reappeared with a stylish demeanor, drawing more people's admiration. The knights of the Dusk Holy Temple became highly sought after in the partner market.

Essentially, transcendent beings in this world only recognize power. Whatever is formidable, they pursue accordingly.

Not to mention, knights have hereditary traits in their bloodline, making them more stable for those wishing to establish a transcendent family.

As for the priceless[Red Emperor's Descent]card, it was naturally funded by Levi to create the Fire Dragon Knight for recruitment advertisement.

Anyway.

At the end of the second millennium of Nora, the knights' development speed steadily increased, becoming a top-ranking transcendent system in Nora's overall strength.

Levi continued to update and iterate on[Wanxiang Magic Card], aiming for wizard cards to transform in quality like knights.

Recently, Duke Rumon shared and exchanged ideas about[Spiritual Network]and[Demon Net]with Levi.

Levi found it a great idea because the influence of sword and magic culture in the previous life made him naturally contemplate Demon Net.

But the path of the wizard is inherently different from the Bloodline Path. If a Demon Net could be established, Sauron should have built it long ago. This project may need to wait until he reaches legendary status or beyond to launch.

...

Ten years later.

Nora 1590.

The sky split like a shattered mirror, revealing a deeper, more lofty golden world as Levi strode through the void, enveloped by the layered Fourfold Vajra Holy Realm, adorned with a gold-plated sacred indestructible to Vajra garment.

Unknowingly, the Golden Emperor Dragon Breathing Technique has reached Level 9 Middle Stage. Even the peak Level 9 Blood Battle Spirit couldn't tear through his physical defense in a short time.

Previously, Levi had mastered the Fivefold Destruction Holy Domain, and the Crimson Emperor Dragon Breathing Technique had also advanced, with strength surging.

The other four breathing techniques also showed various improvements.

Levi decided it was time to prepare for a new expedition.

The motivation for this expedition wasn't merely to seek resources and treasures but, after communicating with the Heavenly Will, he wanted more understanding of the world, uncovering more truths buried in Darkness.

Know your enemy, know yourself, and you'll never be defeated.

Regarding the Four Great Giants worlds, he still knew little.

Of course, there's no rush for this journey. He plans to wait until the upcoming ancient tower adventure concludes before starting, making thorough preparations.

Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

The [Three Realms Plan] is nearing its end.

Heavenly Realm, Earth Realm, Human World.

The three realms coexist without conflict, yet interact with each other.

Many level 6 and above Dragon Clan and transcendent creatures have settled on the islands floating in the sky; at dawn, the chorus of beasts is spectacular.

On one of the islands, there's a sudden elemental power fluctuation, three calamities and four disasters form shape, a yellow earth giant a thousand feet tall wielding a spiked club engraved with spell runes, innate spells in succession, eventually passing through the tribulation.

Levi slightly surprised said:

"I didn't expect Bo Gang to become a primordial soul, quite unexpected. He should be currently the last primordial soul on the Ancient Dragon Continent... Being a longevity giant is indeed advantageous, but Bo Gang's elemental affinity talent is also decent; it's just that his comprehension in spell research drags him down."

Bo Gang, panting, came stepping on clouds, saluting in front of Levi: "Thank you, Master, I didn't expect to have a day of primordial soul myself."

"No need to thank me, this is due to your own efforts. By the way, Bo Gang, do you have family or tribesmen outside?" Levi asked.

After thinking and recalling, Bo Gang said:

"Master, when I was very young, I was captured by Dark Pirates and sold to the black market, later bought back by wizards to become a slave and transformed into a sacrificial soldier, so I have no impression of my tribe."

Chapter 2799: The Law of the Spiritual Treasure, Nightmare's Fate!

"Alright, then."

"However, when I was imprisoned in the black market, I met an elder from the Mountain Giant clan who might know something."

Now that Bo Gang has made a name for itself, it hasn't forgotten its tribe. It wants to bring them all over to settle on the Ancient Dragon Continent. It believes the master will not reject the Giants.

"Alright, let's hear it."

And so, from Bo Gang, Levi learned about a giant elder named [Barbarian King]. It was a Level 6 Giant from over two thousand years ago, residing in the [Land of Oblivion]. This place is quite far from Nora, extremely remote, with no worlds or civilizations nearby, reportedly a gathering place for clans abandoned by time.

Levi plans to visit when he travels far. On the Ancient Dragon Continent, most classic tribes of sword and magic have arrived, except for the giants.

Of course, hoarding is just one aspect. The main reason is the high potential of the Giants. After all, their ancestor was also a powerful Star God, with a Level 11 powerhouse like the Frost Giant Ancestor.

If they could integrate into the Dusk Holy Temple, they could cultivate a specialized [Giant Soldier Knights], with everyone being a low-cost version of the Fire Dragon Knight!

In addition, the remaining three-colored Scales Clan also needs collection.

Returning to the Imperial Palace, Levi saw a message from Heim.

[Teacher, I am at the seventh circle.]

Levi's eyes flickered, sending a congratulatory thumbs-up emoji.

[Congratulations!]

This guy is only over eight hundred years old now. Such progress is indeed outrageous. This is the power of the Three Water Talents. Mind you, Heim has not consumed many Truth Oddities along his journey, and his foundation is very solid.

In addition, he has also dabbled in mastery of the pharmacist and array wizard arts.

According to Levi's eight hundred years of observation, he has basically confirmed that Heim is not a reincarnated Legendary Wizard, but a "natural" three-talented genius.

As for his serene personality, it is not because he possesses the memory of a Legendary Wizard and is overly sophisticated, but purely due to the "side effect" of the Three Water Talents.

The finest goodness is like water, so gentle!

With Duke Rumon's permission, Levi once tried to use the [Rebirth Stone] to view his past life, finding no images.

Minotaur Moss told Levi that the reincarnation of a Legendary Wizard cannot be viewed. This was part of the agreement between Sauron and the Underworld back then.

Yet, when Levi looked at Heim with the Rebirth Stone, he had no difficulty.

In his past life, he was a fish... and not some transcendent fish, just a common fish in the Endless Sea with a lifespan of seven years.

After this, Levi was even more expectant of Heim.

What height could an initially three-talented individual reach in this turbulent new era?

He does not hope for him to be as badass as the Grand Council Chairman. At the very least, he must become a Legendary Wizard to do justice to such talent.

As of now, Heim is very steady. Levi, as a teacher, need not worry; he will not cause trouble for Levi outside.

...

Half a year later.

Ancient Dragon Continent.

"Hungry, hungry, hungry... ah, canned food is tasty."

After sleeping for decades, Leon finally awoke.

Its size hasn't changed much, still a mini three-inch figure, clad in Netherworld King Armor, lying on the back of a skeletal warhorse, gobbling stored food.

Its belly visibly bulged, countless demonic souls twisted into strands of power flowing into it, countless wraiths rising around, culminating in a death energy cloud spanning a thousand miles in the high heavens.

Possibly because ninety percent of what Leon devoured were demonic souls, the cloud transformed into a wraith giant, possessing the destructive power of Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water with the aura of a Level 9 Early Stage.

Such disturbance alerted Levi, who hurriedly came over, looking at Leon still eating, gravely saying:

"Such a strong calamity power, this guy has no worries, right?"

The giant troll's claw tore open the Sky Dome, fiercely grabbing at Leon. It was formed by the grievances of countless demons, which even ordinary senior nine-ring wizards dare not withstand.

Leon had to put down the can, fiercely slapping the horse's rump, then a golden longsword appeared in its hand, as mini as an embroidery needle.

"Take the sword!"

It transformed into a golden light, deftly maneuvering through the death storm, the warhorse neighed, Leon swinging the sword was more like needle stabbing... seemingly powerless, yet causing the giant troll to howl repeatedly, its massive body continuously shrinking.

Ultimately, Leon opened its mouth and inhaled, devouring it. The calamity cloud dissipated, Leon's Level 9 might sweeping across, and Levi seeing this, sighed in relief.

The little guy darted over to Levi.

"Master, I'm out of canned food."

"Come on, follow me to the Hell Battlefield."

"Okay, from now on, master doesn't need the Rebirth Stone to view others' past lives, Leon can do that too, and see even more clearly."

...

Two years later.

Nora Calendar 1592, Blood Battle 1480.

Over this past time, Levi and Leon, as father and son, roamed at Hell, hunting down demons. Levi's Shadow Dragon Group spawned another Level 9 Flame Demon King, reaching a total of five. Monster Generals came to 72, temporarily forming the "Seventy-two Earth Evil Generals."

Leon also stabilized its ninth-level realm through extensive eating.

After ascending to Level 9, it possesses all the powers a conventional King of the Underworld holds, akin to the bull-headed, horse-faced, black and white impermanence figures of past lives.

Chapter 2800: The Way of Spiritual Treasures, Nightmare's Downfall!

Of course, the King of the Underworld doesn't have it, but it does.

First, it can unrestrictedly view past lives, needing only to consume the netherworld power within. Levi can save the remaining Rebirth Stones.

Second, it can summon the Mother River's descent, absorbing the power of the Mother River for healing, combat, escape, etc. This kid was definitely the Nether Emperor in a past life and is likely a direct offspring of the Mother River, not one who later sided with the Underworld.

Third, Leon can also form his own Underworld army, appointing the King of the Underworld and Netherworld Generals.

There are many other authorities belonging to the Nether Emperor.

The little one is gradually awakening and adapting to his abilities; in short, his combat power is already suppressing middle-level 9 demons, and his potential is significant.

...

Hell Seventh Layer

Dragon Fall Valley.

The former land of the Undead has now become a terrifying Demon Land.

Up in the sky, an Abyss Well slowly emerges, revealing a dignified mid-level 9 Sky Anger Demon figure.

Behind him are over a dozen level 8 Commanders with powerful auras, one among them, prominently Crow Feather Demon King Victor!

After completing the Snake Mother mission, he returned to the Abyss, reassembled his old forces, and made a triumphant return, vowing to carve out his own kingdom in this era of upheaval!

One day, the name of Crow Feather Demon King will resound throughout Hell!

Buzz!

A torrential Blood Sea sweeps in, accompanied by a blurred blood-red figure on the attack, the blood-colored greatsword chopping off half of Dragon Fall Valley, with countless blood-colored evil spirits rushing in to engulf everything like a whirlwind.

The Sky Anger Demon leader's face turns horrified.

"Damn, it's the Dusk Palace Master! I'll fight you!"

Rising in rage, yet sees the golden world pressing down, a figure atop a Golden Throne lifts its hand with a sword sound piercing the spirit.

Nine-Ring Magic Nine Sword!

The Sky Anger Demon falls powerless, its body sliced like noodles into scattered pieces of flesh and blood. After the Blood Sea calms down, only one solitary demon stands between heaven and earth, looking at the high black-armored swordsman figure.

The gaze from the throne lazily glances down, chuckling lightly:

"Crow Feather Demon King Victor?"

"How do you know my name?"

Victor is immobilized, terrified.

Given his commander status, logically, a big figure like the Dusk Palace Master shouldn't know him; in a demon camp teeming with powerhouses, what does he account for?

Looking at this demon, Levi shows slight regret; he didn't expect Victor to still be alive, surviving through three waves of large-scale wars, truly lucky.

"It's done now, you can go die."

A grip in the void, Victor explodes, his Demon Soul being collected by Leon. If existence could restart, he should never leave the Abyss again.

"Let's go, Leon, Hell is no longer safe." .

The Deep Red Eyes appear on Levi's brow, sensing a level-10 demon plotting against him, perhaps setting a trap. The time is not yet ripe; he doesn't want to face level-10 yet, in an endless battle where no one can kill each other, it's meaningless.

"Let's go."

...

Ancient Banyan Fairyland.

"Master, this is Victor's memory."

"Alright."

Levi takes a new disc from Leon, reads and views it. Victor is both a demon and a member of the Council of Ten Thousand Clans.

"Again with the Snake Mother... Earlier, the Green Ghost also mentioned this Ancient. It seems it's spreading problematic `Nine-Headed Hell Snake Body Tempering Technique`."

Temporarily shelving this matter, Levi continues his cultivation.

A month later, he opens the proficiency panel.

Levi-----

Nine Realms of Descent: Twenty-stage (1/20 million).

...

`Nine Realms of Descent`, a ninth-circle spell from the Nightmare Series, is Levi's culmination of knowledge on illusions and dreams. It consists of nine spiral-like dream spaces, after spellcasting, it taps into the Nightmare World's power to consolidate.

Once the target falls into the first dream space, they will find a wrong "exit" guided by various subconscious suggestions and illusions. Once they dive in, they enter a second realm of the dream space, a deeper sea of consciousness.

Realizing they haven't escaped, they will repeatedly search for a new "exit" and "way out". During this process, rationality gradually breaks down, will utterly collapses, finally reaching the desperate ninth layer of the dream space.

Here, at the bottom of consciousness, it is the lightless Deep Sea, where the trapped will remain forever, if unable to break free of the illusion, they will be stuck here for life, until death!

Having created this spell, Levi also gained basic understanding of how the Lost Monarch builds the `Nightmare Maze` within.

He feels that if he upgrades to legendary, he should be able to construct something similar, not for the sick humor of teasing others.

He wants to create a trial space of his own, where members can be trained in spirit, resolve, wisdom, and other aspects.

Next, Levi found the Flame King Dragon and experimented with the effects of `Nine Realms of Descent`, indeed as he thought, the silly dragon sunk deeper and deeper.

Not long after, it was trapped in the Ninth Realm, unable to extricate itself.

Others tried various means but couldn't awaken the Flame King Dragon; this is both an illusion spell and a curse, only Levi can solve it, or a stronger figure can break it by force. Eventually, this sequence of magic was uploaded to the congress's knowledge base.

...

Some time later.

Sorren Continent.

Sky City.

The Daydreamer accidentally came across `Nine Realms of Descent`, his eyes glowed. At a thought, his figure dissipated, arriving at the Ancient Dragon Continent.