

Wizard 2821

Chapter 2821: The Collector of Oddities, Author Who Seals All Demons!

"Don't push me!"

The Poison Smoke Lady was entangled by three people and was desperately waiting for reinforcements. Its misty body began to compress, eventually transforming into a massive green star, covered in pockmarks like goosebumps, oozing poisonous fluid and green smoke.

It wanted to self-destruct!

The battle-hardened Death Knight unleashed the Overlord Secret Skill: Chaotic Sky, using a sword technique that disrupted space-time, holding the Poison Flame Lady in place for a moment.

Meanwhile, Gargamel's legendary spell was ready.

In a flash, a massive golden character condensed in the ancient book. Seeing this, Levi's eyes twitched—it was a Chinese character: [Seal]!

He understood that this was a character bestowed to Gargamel by Sauron through a letter. It wasn't just a simple Chinese character but a fusion of Sauron's knowledge and strength, a gift for wizards advancing to Legendary to fight for Nora.

He had seen the Dragon character from the Dragon Flame God Witch, and later, the Phoenix character from the Blazing Star God Witch, and now, again, the Seal character. If he advanced to Legendary, would Sauron give him a character in a letter too?

Legendary Magic Gargamel's Great Sealing Magic!

Subsequently, golden chains shot out from the ancient book, as if a heavenly punishment, all piercing into the green star body.

With a solemn expression, Gargamel muttered incantations, and a vast sea of spell power surged into the chains, causing them to spread and grow madly, enough to envelop an entire world. Finally, the golden star formed by the chains heavily crashed onto the field. Each chain carried mysterious sealing rune inscriptions.

Faintly, the cursing of the Poison Smoke Lady could be heard. Wisps of green poison gas that just emerged were instantly annihilated by the rune inscriptions on the chains.

At the same time, the green poison on Levi's Blood Battle Armor completely vanished, shocking him to the core. This had fundamentally sealed the Poison Smoke Lady, no matter how many tricks it had, it couldn't resurrect, Gargamel was just too powerful!

Upon reflection, he thought, if the demons also had such a thorough sealing method, he might also be doomed, so he needed to stay cautious.

For Gargamel, a newly minted legendary wizard, casting a legendary spell to seal a demon was very taxing. He looked pale as he quickly meditated to recover. After taking some potion to restore himself, he sighed with relief and said:

"It's fine now, I'll contain it first, let's find a safe place to eliminate it to prevent future troubles."

The Death Knight said:

"Hell is too chaotic right now, you two can return to Nora to suppress this demon, thank you for supporting the Hell Battlefield."

Gargamel said:

"This demon was subdued by the three of us working together, and you contributed the most, this level-10 demon is full of treasures, you should come along."

The Death Knight shook its head.

"I don't need it. Your help in demon hunting is already highly appreciated, I seek no reward."

Levi said: "Thank you, Death Knight, for rescuing me."

If it weren't for this level-10 undead intervening, Levi feared he would still be troubled by the pursuit of two demons. Now, not only did he escape, but he also managed to counter-kill one; although it wasn't a solo hunt, the sense of accomplishment was immense.

For the Death Knight, all it wished was to safely pass through the Hell Blood Battle and then reincarnate to cultivate anew. Of course, if it could foster a level-10 successor among the Hell's 72 Pillars before then, it would be even better.

After all, it had been an undead in this lifetime and felt somewhat attached to this race. It hoped that there would at least be a level-10, or else after the war, the undead creatures would be further oppressed by the devils to the point of extinction, without 'ghost rights.'

After the farewell, Levi and Gargamel chanted incantations, and the Gate of Hell slowly emerged, and the two returned to Nora, flying straight to the Sorren Continent.

Being Gargamel's first time sealing a level-10 demon, he feared any hiccups during the refining process. On the Sorren Continent, any issues would be dealt with by the Grand Council Chairman.

Feeling the new legendary aura, several legendary figures emerged from the sky to welcome them, and President Edmund couldn't hide the smile on his face.

"Excellent, excellent, Gargamel, you've become legendary."

Gargamel laughed:

"Thank you, Grand Council Chairman, for saving me. I reckon I've lived up to expectations; if it weren't for becoming legendary, you would've borne that curse for nothing."

"It's nothing to worry about, being legendary is wonderful, being legendary is wonderful indeed..."

Edmund murmured; every additional legendary lessened his pressure a bit. Moreover, he believed that with Gargamel's abilities, in the upcoming Blood Battle, he would surely shine brilliantly, contributing even more than ordinary legendary wizards.

"Congratulations, Gargamel!"

"Congratulations, congratulations."

Gullwig, the Lady of Thunder, and others came to extend their congratulations one by one.

"Hahaha, I remember you, Gargamel, originate from the Death Sect. Even though you later specialized in Sealing Science, calling you a Death Wizard isn't far off."

The Hand of Netherworld Prison was the happiest.

Throughout history, the School of Death had at most one legendary; this was the first time witnessing the spectacle of two legendary wizards. Going forward, the Death Sect would undoubtedly usher in a surge, rivaling the four traditional factions. The healthy competition between schools is also the driving force for the continuous progress of wizard civilization.

Gargamel laughed heartily:

"Indeed, I do consider myself from the Death Sect."

Such faction divisions mainly pertained to those before the ninth-circle.

In fact, at the realm of the Grand Wizard, many wizards began to dabble broadly and then specialize in a variant to advance to legendary status.

Chapter 2822: The Collector of Oddities, the Sealer of All Demons!

For example, the Black Abyss Sovereign belongs to the Ocean Faction, but his legendary profession is related to negative energies like the Power of Seven Sins.

For non-elementalist professions like Death and Life, there's not much strict distinction; anyone interested can try.

After advancing to Legendary Wizard, they focus on expanding and cultivating their respective legendary professions, often overlapping with other factions in what they learn.

Space, Astrology, every Legendary Wizard knows a bit.

As for Sauron's Great Disintegration Technique, Sauron's Star Travel, and Sauron's True Understanding of Wizarding, these are essential legendary forbidden spells.

"Everyone, I cooperated with Levi and the Death Knight in Hell to seal the Poison Smoke Lady of the 304th layer of the Abyss. I need to quickly refine her, and then I'll discuss the matters after becoming a legend with you all properly," said Gargamel.

"What? You sealed the Poison Smoke Lady?"

The Thousand Mountains Immortal was slightly surprised. As a Ten-Ring Senior Wizard, he had once encountered the Poison Smoke Lady during his travels and knew of her prowess.

"This guy, along with the Gluttonous Demon King, two Level-10 Demons, chased Levi from the Eighth Layer all the way to the Ninth Layer and still failed, hahaha. I had just recently advanced to legend in Hell. The three of us joined forces, drove away the Gluttonous Demon King, and sealed the Poison Smoke Lady, which was quite lucky."

Everyone's eyes turned to Levi.

Wow, Levi's been quite daring lately, actually being chased by two Level-10s. Truly, the courageous comes with high skills.

Edmund reminded:

"Before you reach Level-10, it's best not to go to large blood battlefields like Hell. Your current target is too big, all the demons want to hunt you."

The Frost Witch echoed:

"Yes, just because we've won three consecutive victories against demons in Nora doesn't mean it can be replicated elsewhere. That was a case of favorable conditions."

The Daydreamer laughed:

"Don't forget, the Nightmare World might be eyeing you too."

Everyone knew Levi was formidable, but the depth of the Abyss was too profound. Demons with various abilities emerged one after another. If it were in Nora, it would be hundreds of different professions of legendary wizards, quite terrifying to think about.

Levi, knowing the seniors were concerned about him, said:

"Indeed, what you seniors said is right, I've noted it all."

...

The next day.

The Supreme Council issued a major announcement.

[Hearty congratulations to Mr. Gargamel for advancing to the Legendary Realm, becoming the 26th seat of the Supreme Council, and the 17th seat Legendary Wizard.]

Gargamel, with the legendary title [Master of the Bizarre], has a legendary profession as [Sealing Demon Book Master], Legendary Demiplane [Bizarre Demon Realm], and legendary honorific as [The Collector of the Odd, Sealer of Ten Thousand Demons].

This announcement reassured the somewhat anxious Nora populace, signifying the birth of another pillar of the sky in Nora, making it more stable.

Unlike the uneven strength of the gods of the astral world and demons, every Legendary Wizard is undoubtedly a standout among Level 10s with high potential.

Legendary wizard forms, Legendary Wizard Tools, Legendary Demiplanes, special spiritual creatures...and many other means distinguish wizards from ordinary Level 10s.

Subsequently, the congress issued another announcement.

[Recently, the Master of the Bizarre and the Dusk Palace Master, alongside Hell ally Death Knight, in battle beheaded the Poison Smoke Lady of the 304th layer of the Abyss and repelled the Master of Eternal Hunger of the 380th layer. Another General was lost to the Abyss! Victory in the Blood Battle will be ours!]

This announcement caused an uproar across the world.

New and Old Continents, the Land of the Four Seas, Wizards, and alien races, all were astounded.

A newly ascended legendary wizard, a Level 9 Knight, together with the Death Knight, actually defeated a veteran powerhouse of the Abyss; the value of this achievement is extremely high.

The Poison Smoke Lady is not a pushover like Flame Demon Tyrant Casas.

When the news reached the Ancient Dragon Continent, the knights exclaimed "Awesome!" .

No wonder he was their commander; just yesterday, he turned an eight-level body into a Level 9 slayer. Now with a Level 9 body, he and his team killed a Level 10 demon. Regardless of the contribution, just being able to participate in a Level 10 battlefield is impressive.

Ordinary Level 9s wouldn't even dare to think about it.

This wave of publicity from the Supreme Council maxed out the knights' exposure; the communication devices in the admissions office were about to explode from all the applications. Among them were several Ninth-Circle Wizards who were tempted and contacted Levi wanting to be part-time knights.

He gladly agreed, thinking that, as long as one is confident and capable, dual cultivation is a good thing.

The Goddess Knight is an example: her knight talent was lacking, but she never gave up the wizarding path. Recently, she reached the Seven-Ring Realm as a wizard and seemed poised to surpass her knight progress because of her longer lifespan. With hope for Eight-Ring in this lifetime, and being outstanding in the same realm of combat strength.

Inside the Imperial Palace.

"Well, you dare to hunt Level 10 demons now," Elena teased, with eyes of concern and grievance.

"If there wasn't a Level 10 present, I would have run away long ago. I was just a small part, no life danger," Levi assured her to be at ease.

"Fine, I won't worry about you, as long as you're okay."

"How's your Energy Sect going? Since the ancestor's return, everyone's cultivation speed has taken a leap forward. Even Lord Victor is Level 8 now."

"Just like the knights, currently at Level 7 Mid Stage, but almost in Late Stage. I feel that when I reach Eight Ring Perfection, all three paths will be at Level 8. Hahaha, it won't be long before I am the strongest under the Ninth-Circle!"

Chapter 2823: The Collector of Oddities, the Sealer of All Demons!

Elena was full of confidence. As she advanced in both the Energy Sect and mid-level knight realms, her overall strength increased daily. Though she was currently an eighth-circle senior wizard, she had no problems killing Level 8 Late Stage demons or defeating Level 8 Peak demons.

She even fantasized about finding an opportunity to hunt a Level 9 with her Level 8 body after all three paths reached their peaks, but Levi had stopped her.

Such endeavors should not be attempted lightly without external support.

Of course, he believed that Elena, after reaching the peak of all three paths, would have no problem standing against Level 9 demons. However, without her own methods, killing them would be very difficult.

Levi advised:

"I'll be in the Dark Ancient Tower for the entire next year. Until I return, stay on the Ancient Dragon Continent. It's the safest place for you."

"You take care too."

After a brief celebration with Elena, Levi entered the ancient tower. Not even the threat of a nightmare invasion would prevent him from going.

...

Simultaneously.

The Land of Darkness.

"Commander, Flick from Hell is asking when we plan to confront the Nora war. They said the wizards are already interfering with the hell war, and it's starting to worsen what was a very favorable situation. By the way, the Poison Smoke Lady was just captured by the newly emerged legendary Gargamel and the Dusk Palace Master."

Hearing this report, Pazuzu's face darkened.

Flick is Lord of Prison Star of the 655th layer of the Abyss, known as the Chain Tyrant, an Iron Demon.

"We can't make a move on our end for now. Let the demons in Hell find their solutions. These guys are really useless, being lords of the 304th layer but captured by two juniors—it's a disgrace to the Abyss. If we have to lose people dealing with Edmund here, it's understandable. Does Hell have it any better?"

Pazuzu couldn't be bothered with his colleagues.

"Alright, I'll pass on the message."

"Also, that Death Knight is getting too bold. Have someone in Hell take it out and seize the Supreme Treasure Tyrant," Pazuzu said coldly.

"Understood."

"And one more thing... From what I know, the Eternal Sleep isn't even fighting against the Lost Monarch—it's just an excuse. Get it to Nora fast. We need its ability to guard against the Nightmare Monarchs."

...

Nightmare World.

As the Abyss battlefronts continued to shirk responsibility, more and more Overlords and Monarchs accepted the call and came to the Lost Domain. The Lost Monarch heard that the Spirit Monarch refused the call and said nothing.

The Nightmare World doesn't lack one like it.

Once the Nora matters are settled, reckoning with it in autumn will be due—a mere legendary dragon species from outside acting all grand.

"No movement from the Abyss yet?"

"None, though recently, the Dusk Palace Master appeared in Hell and together with the newly emerged legendary Gargamel, slew the lord of the 304th layer."

Hearing this, the Monarchs were slightly shocked.

"If he still isn't killed before Level 10, when he reaches Level 10, only the Supreme Will across the Multidimensional Plane will be able to intervene," said the Lost Monarch.

On hearing this, the Ghost Alley Monarch felt somewhat relieved, as if not capturing the Dusk Palace Master wasn't as humiliating.

"I've always said, this person is difficult to handle."

...

Sauron Continent.

Pharmacist Association.

The Super God One Potion, capable of enhancing spiritual force upper limits, has been released. .

Any wizard below the primordial soul realm who consumes it can increase their spiritual force upper limit by 10 points. It is equivalent to an Earth-Grade Oddity.

And its cost is much cheaper than oddities, affordable for low-level wizards with some effort. The next step is to promote and popularize it, starting with the spiritual force upper limit, to improve the breakthrough success rate for wizards.

Of course, the Super God One Potion has tolerances.

The first dose yields the best effect, the second dose halves the effect, and by the fourth dose, it becomes completely ineffective.

However, congress is already researching different types of Super God No.2 Potion. The aim is for all wizards to benefit from the increase in spiritual force upper limit.

Overall, this is prepared for the vast lower-tier wizards. For excellent wizards, the primary channel for increasing the spiritual force upper limit remains the Truth Oddity.

At the press conference.

The Thousand Mountains Immortal excitedly announced this as the third epoch-making potion, following the Wash Trace Potion and the Thousand-Year Potion.

He called these three potions the new epoch's "Nora's Three Divine Medicines," crediting Madam Triss as an indispensable participant in the entire research process. Every pharmacist participating in the research would receive significant war merit rewards.

Returning to the Ancient Dragon Continent, Triss finally accumulated enough war merit for exchanging a second Sun Refining Artifact, intending to choose the Tear of the Water God.

The Water God Series Artifact is most suitable for allowing wizards to solidify their foundations, improve talents, and gain a preliminary Water Element Holy Body in advance, further enhancing survival abilities. However, the exchange store currently has no stock, so she could only wait.

A month later.

She suddenly received a message from the Gondor City Lord.

"Madam, remember to refresh the store first thing at dawn tomorrow."

The message was vague, but considering the identity of the Gondor City Lord, Triss vaguely understood and felt a faint expectation in her heart.

The next day, upon refreshing the store, she saw new oddities listed.

Tear of the Water God!

...

Thousand Mountain Mansion.

Alexander looked at the disappearing oddities, his expression unchanged.

Chapter 2824: The Collector of Oddities, the Sealer of Myriad Demons!

"I can only help you this far."

Regarding Triss's talent and comprehension as a pharmacist, he was particularly satisfied. This legendary Medicine God had already started training Triss as the successor of the association.

But objectively speaking, with Triss's current talent, being a Grand Wizard wouldn't be a problem, but as for legendary, the hope isn't very high...

If she couldn't become legendary, it would be a huge loss for the pharmacist industry. So this old Medicine God couldn't help but give Triss some special attention.

Like Edmund, the Thousand Mountains Immortal was also an elder from the old era, with only a few thousand years left until the end of his lifespan. Before he reincarnates to cultivate again, he wants to cultivate more ninth-circle pharmacists and a "Medicine God" for Nora's new era.

"Strive for growth."

...

Dark Ancient Tower.

The eighth level, Valoran Continent.

This was the year 1100 of the Tianqi.

Because Levi was busy treasure hunting in the Ninth Layer, he rarely appeared in the Three Realms and Four Lands, making the Ultimate Saint a mythical figure among countless Humans. Levi listened to the work report of the Saint Council, nodding frequently.

When the number of Level 6 Saints or primordial soul wizards exceeded 40, their growth slowed and hit a bottleneck. The millennium's initial bonus was over, and what followed was constant accumulation of foundation, slowly grinding. No civilization can always grow explosively; it doesn't conform to the objective laws of historical development. Levi estimated that the upper limit for Humans in the Rune Land was about a hundred Level 6.

In other aspects, everything was as usual.

The Flame Wolf Saint had now advanced to Level 8 Late Stage, already a top-notch powerhouse within the Three Realms and Four Lands, only matched by a few venerable figures there.

He said:

"Saint, not long ago, a new intersection point appeared in the Heart Sea, followed by the emergence of a Level 8 Peak ferocious beast. It seems to be an ape, adept at lightning skills. Two Level 8 strongmen from the Merfolk Palace were easily repelled.

A person stood atop that ferocious beast's head, apparently also an outsider, the master of the ferocious beast. He is now attacking the Three Realms and Four Lands; shouldn't we deploy troops, since when the lips are gone, the teeth are cold? If the Three Realms and Four Lands fall, we'll be next."

Upon hearing this, Levi said gravely:

"I understand. I will take a trip. Make sure Rune Land is well-protected to prevent more outsiders."

"Okay."

The Dark Ancient Tower occasionally sucked in some unstable factors before, like the Golden Absolutes Race, and Levi didn't pay much attention to it.

Before leaving, he left behind the method and visualization map for making Knight Cards, allowing the few knight families here to learn.

...

Heart Sea.

The Merfolk King lay on the bed, surrounded by a group of female merfolk serving him.

"Ouch, lighter, it hurts... I don't know where this fierce person is from. The Three Realms and Four Lands are going to be in chaos again, hopefully not another fierce person like the Ultimate Saint."

The Merfolk King mumbled to himself.

"What's wrong with me?"

The sudden voice scared the Merfolk King to scramble up from the bed, reflexively saluting: "What wind brings you here?" .

He saw the familiar figure of the black-armored swordsman standing there, the maids shivering, not daring to look directly at his radiance.

"I heard a ferocious beast recently appeared in the Heart Sea?"

"Yes, that ferocious beast is manipulated by an outsider. I am no match for it, and I surrendered treasures collected over many years by the Merfolk Palace to save my life."

"Where is it now?"

"Reportedly attacking the Ice Realm."

...

Ice Realm.

Two Level 8 white bears, leading their clan, looked solemnly at the person and the beast ahead. The man wore purple armor, had a burly figure, a purple hand ring on his arm, while beneath him was a ten-thousand-meter-tall purple giant ape, enveloped in lightning.

"Hand over the treasures, I dislike slaughter." The man said in a not-so-fluent Saint Roland Continent common tongue, clearly learned after his arrival.

The White Bear Clan Leader said:

"Are you aware, the Three Realms and Four Lands are protected by the Ultimate Saint."

The man frowned.

"What Ultimate Saint, I've never heard of it."

But previously, the Merfolk King also tried to scare him with this person.

He was accidentally sucked into this realm, finding it isolated from the world, lacking strong men. With his Level 8 Peak cultivation, he could say he swept through. Thus, he searched for a way out while gathering resources.

Seeing the White Bear Clan unmoved, he lost patience.

"Oswald, take them down, just injure them slightly. Anyway, once we find the way out, we won't have interactions with these people anymore." He still didn't know he was sucked into the Dark Ancient Tower and held the illusion of getting out.

Below, the purple fierce ape wielded a spiked club condensed from mighty lightning, randomly sweeping, creating a torrent of the Thunder Sea, while the White Bear Clan's white Frost walls trembled, unsure how long they could hold.

Clan Leader White King looked anxious, occasionally gazing into the distance.

According to past patterns, the Ultimate Saint manifested once a century. It intuitively felt that if the Saint knew about this, he wouldn't sit idly by.

Half a day later, the White Bear Clan's protective barrier could no longer hold.

The purple fierce ape shattered the ice wall with the spiked club, roaring as it charged into the White Bear Clan's army, sending clansmen flying, simply sweeping through.

Suddenly, a ray of light struck.

No one saw clearly what happened, but the purple fierce ape howled in agony, collapsing with a thud, dust rising.

"What's wrong? Oswald?"

The man looked around, seeing no one. He was terrified until a powerful hand landed on his shoulder.

Chapter 2825: The Traveler Who Collects Oddities, the Penman Who Seals Ten Thousand Demons!

At this moment, he seemed to be carrying the weight of the Hundred Thousand Mountains!

Bang! He involuntarily prostrated on the ground, breathing heavily.

"Spare me, spare me... Are you the Ultimate Saint?"

His mind immediately thought of that legendary figure spoken of by these alien races.

Levi couldn't be bothered to waste words with him, directly enslaving him with the Black Emperor Dragon.

"Master, what are your orders?"

The man knelt on the ground, his face respectful.

This method left the White Bear Tribe in awe.

Especially the White King, a thousand years later, it was only at the Level 8 Middle Stage, while the Ultimate Saint had probably surpassed it by ten floors!

"Thank you, Saint!"

The White King led his tribe in kneeling, expressing their gratitude.

"It's okay, there were no casualties, right?"

"No."

"Alright, I'm heading back now."

"My Lord, how is my brother... is he well?"

"He's fine, already at the Level 8 Late Stage."

Levi comforted.

Watching the departing Saint, the White Bear Tribe couldn't calm down for a long time.

"Even if a True God existed, it wouldn't be more than this, right?"

"Indeed, this is truly a great figure from beyond."

...

The Ninth Layer.

Levi rode a White Tiger, having Jin and the Hound lead him on a treasure hunt, while having the man next to him report his situation truthfully.

This person's name was Ritter, a prodigy of a large civilization.

In terms of the wizard's cosmic view, that civilization was also outside the Pan-Plane, known as the Nelarayan Civilization... There were no complex spells, no dazzling combat techniques, only the Way of Beast Tamer developed to its peak!

From Level 1 to Level 10, and compared to wizards' low, middle, high, great, legendary, it could be divided into: Profession, Master, Epic, Legendary, Mythical.

Ritter was a Level 8 Peak Epic Beast Master, his beast was a Legendary level [Purple Lightning Heart Ape], so he had a high probability of advancing to Legendary Beastmaster. This reminded Levi of Newman from the Giant Beast Paradise, whose spiritual beast was also Legendary level.

The history of Nelarayan also originated from antiquity, similar to the start of the wizard civilization. After roughly listening to the introduction, Levi felt that the Nelarayan Civilization and the wizard's School of Spiritualism had subtle similarities.

But this civilization's research into the Way of Beast Tamer was more profound, because they had two Level-10 Mythical Beast Masters, namely:

Occupying the [Ryan Continent], the [Master of All BeastsHoly Master of LightGuardian of Earth and ForestsKing Rockel].

Occupying the [Sea of Nara], the [Mother of Sea KingDark EmpressGuardian of Rivers and Deep SeaQueen Olisa].

These two were the strongest in the Nelarayan civilization, and were a married couple who jointly protected this vast Beast Master civilization.

The former's Lifebound Guardian Beast was the [Ancient Holy Light Dragon] that Levi was familiar with, originally the Mythical Bloodline of Duke Rumon.

The latter's Lifebound Guardian Beast was the [Star Sea Giant Demon], an ancestor-level mythical creature of all Siren-type creatures, its true form being a super octopus residing in the Land of Darkness with over a billion tentacles, capable of picking stars and moon with ease.

Levi had always thought that these two mythical creatures had gone extinct, not expecting them to still exist in the distant Pan-Plane.

Besides these two Mythical Beast Masters, the Nelarayan civilization also had 24 Legendary Beastmasters, known as the [Sea and Land Twenty-Four Heavenly Kings]. .

Ritter, stuck at the Level 8 Peak, went out in search of opportunities to advance to Level 9 but was sucked into the ancient tower while collecting resources in a ruined world.

He assumed it was some mechanism relic he stumbled upon, but when he heard from Levi that it was the Dark Ancient Tower, his face became a bit complicated.

Their civilization also heard of the ancient tower's legend, with people having entered before, but unless it was the once in ten-thousand-year grand opening, entering meant having no hope of exiting.

After learning the coordinates of the Nelarayan civilization from Ritter, Levi was overjoyed, as this place shared a region with the Golden Sacred Realm.

The next time he travels afar, he could first visit the Nelarayan Empire. So many legendary creatures had already been collected. The next step was to find a way to draw this civilization to Nora, so that the Dusk Holy Temple could also get on the fast track of development.

However, given that there are two Level-10 strongmen, Levi's current strength is still far from enough, this matter needs careful planning and cannot be rushed.

Hearing Levi and Ritter constantly discussing Nelarayan matters, the long-dormant Twilight Round Table suddenly woke and said:

"I think I've heard of Nelarayan."

"Is this person also a fellow?"

"Yes, I remember it was Nelarayan sitting next to Osserrel at that time, who was also only a Level 9 Expert then, and every topic he exchanged with Sauron was related to beast taming."

Upon hearing this, Levi asked Ritter: "Is the Sea of Nara and Ryan Continent named after historical figures of your civilization?"

Ritter replied:

"Yes, combined, they form the name of the most important figure in our civilization... Nelarayan.

He was born 300,000 years ago, later integrating the knowledge system of beast taming, and traveled the Multidimensional Plane, collecting, breeding, and saving countless rare biological groups.

He also compiled the unprecedented "Beast Taming Holy Scripture" and "All Beast Atlas," and was the first to advance to Mythical level as a Beastmaster, revered by later generations as the [Tame Ancestor].

To commemorate the Tame Ancestor, later generations used his name split to name the continent and ocean. And the year of the Tame Ancestor's birth was set as the first year of Nelarayan.

After the Tame Ancestor's fall, Olanar quickly developed by relying on its legacy, at its peak simultaneously having four Mythical level Beastmasters, known as the "Four Saints of Earth, Fire, Wind and Water." But due to multiple demon invasions and the visits of Golden Sacred Realm colonists, many legendary and mythical bloodlines withered. Developing to this day, only two Mythical Beastmasters remain."

Talking about this, Ritter's eyes couldn't hide his desolation.

Levi could imagine that having four Level-10s at once was not much worse than the early Nora civilization.

But the Way of Beast Tamer is ultimately dependent on external objects, with large natural limitations, easily affected as the external environment becomes unstable.

The decline of Nelarayan is quite normal too.

But now it's okay.

The master of the Dragon Palace Ancient Dragon Zoo Director Pokemon Card Master Levi patted Ritter's shoulder, his gaze bright:

"Don't be discouraged, it is our duty to revive the glory of beast taming!"

Chapter 2826: Earth Mother Qi and Mortal Circle!

Nine floors of the ancient tower.

Levi doesn't plan to undo Ritter's Black Emperor's enslavement for now. This person isn't inherently bad; he just seeks fortune and hasn't harmed anyone.

If it were Levi, arriving in such an unknown, treasure-filled world, he would likely do the same, or even more ruthlessly.

However, in the future, Ritter is needed to act as a "guide party" when heading to the Nelarayan civilization, to prevent any unforeseen mishaps during this period, he has to be constrained for now.

Thinking about the Abyss's current massive invasion of the Multidimensional Plane, Levi felt a sense of urgency... He feared the Abyss might destroy Nelarayan before he could get there.

As for the Golden Sacred Realm, he is not worried for the moment. .

Before Earth Awakening left, this civilization had not yet encountered an Abyss invasion. And it's also very powerful, guarded by a Golden Will, a strong presence not weaker than the Heavenly Will, making it unlikely to be taken by the Abyss in a short time.

While treasure hunting, Levi also gained a deeper understanding of their Beast Tamer path through Ritter, and he has some ideas for improving the Spirit Summoning Faction.

As a former fellow of Sauron, he definitely won't treat the Nelarayan civilization the same way as handling the Golden Sacred Realm.

Upon returning from this ancient tower, he plans to discuss with the Supreme Council about taking a Legendary Wizard along for an on-site inspection of Nelarayan. This provides the negotiating qualification when facing those two Level 10 Strongmen.

As for the Golden Sacred Realm, its civilization is too aggressive, akin to the early savage expansion of Nora.

As the saying goes, "One mountain cannot accommodate two tigers." With the ambition of the Golden Will, integration into Nora is impossible...and could backfire at any moment.

Levi thinks it's best to eliminate them.

Of course, all the above are his excuses; essentially, this group of Golden Absolutes is walking Truth Oddities, and if digested properly, the Ancient Dragon Continent and Nora civilization can advance further.

Ultimately, it boils down to interest.

After comparing Beast Masters with Spiritual Wizards, Levi discovered the biggest difference is that the Beast Master's Lifebound Guardian Beast quota is not limited to just one.

The five realms of the Beast Master: Profession, Master, Epic, Legendary, Mythical.

The starting point of the Beast Master path is having 1 Lifebound Guardian Beast. Upon advancing to a Master Beast Tamer, they can have a second quota. After advancing to a Legendary Beastmaster, a third quota is unlocked.

That is to say, a Beast Master who reaches Level 9 can actually have three Lifebound Guardian Beasts.

Similar to the Extraordinary Realm, Beast Masters categorize their beasts' potential into: Ordinary, Elite, Epic, Legendary, Mythical levels.

In alignment with the Dragon Clan, the first two realms are for the mixed-blood dragon clan, then come the sub-dragons, followed by Legendary and Mythical Dragon Species.

For a Beast Master, at a weaker stage, having an elite beast that suffices for a smooth transition to around rank five is enough.

If they are lucky and well-off, before reaching their strength bottleneck, they might encounter an Epic or even Legendary level creature that's not yet in Complete Body form.

At this time, after unlocking the second Lifebound slot, the Beast Master can replace their beast with a higher potential one, thereby advancing to the next realm.

That's Ritter's case; his first beast is just an ordinary Mountain Giant Ape, with a potential upper limit of peak level 5. But after reaching level 5, he explored the largest legacy left by the Tame Ancestor to Nelarayan—the Mountain and Sea Secret Realm.

Once a Beast Master decides on a Lifebound Guardian Beast, for the rest of their life, except for the added slots, the chosen ones cannot be replaced.

Although a Beast Master gains strength through beasts, they cannot share its long lifespan. Hence, the modified beast path in Nelarayan allows Beast Masters to actively dissolve the contract by permanently losing one Lifebound slot and paying some cost. Transcendent creatures themselves won't perish.

This is extremely advantageous for transcendent creatures; they attach themselves to the Beast Master for faster growth speeds, and their expanded group breeds more, without the worry of being tied to the lifespan of short-lived species.

In this regard, they are more advanced than Spiritual Wizards.

As Levi knows, the School of Spiritualism Wizards strives for a connection with their Lifebound beast—sharing both honor and losses, their intentions intertwined.

They treat spiritual beasts completely as part of their bodies. The advantage is the unity of body and mind, making it easier to exert combat power. The downside is it's unfair to transcendent creatures, and many high-potential species naturally do not accept such Lifebound contracts. This is one reason why the School of Spiritualism has been slow to develop.

Before the Tame Ancestor's fall, he dissolved all his Lifebound Guardian Beast contracts and placed all his life's collected resources, along with the transcendent creatures, into an independent secret realm away from the Nelarayan World, blessing future generations.

This fellow of Sauron's should have reached the Level 10 Late Stage Realm, leaving behind an astonishing wealth. The vast secret realm is filled with countless exotic beasts, and Legendary Creatures occasionally appear.

Essentially, this is a low-budget Dark Ancient Tower.

To enter the Mountain and Sea Secret Realm, besides the once-a-century opening during the Mountain and Sea Festival, it all depends on personal luck at other times.

Levi's analysis suggests the Tame Ancestor must have left a filtering mechanism. It's unlikely that everyone could enter; it's probably something he learned from Sauron.

Throughout history, many ordinary Beast Masters have reached the pinnacle by relying on the Mountain and Sea Secret Realm, changing their destiny and becoming famous.

Chapter 2827: Earth Mother Qi and Mortal Circle!

In the present day, among the 24 Heavenly Kings, one-third have obtained their opportunities within the secret realm, while two-thirds rely on family support or adventures in the Multidimensional Plane.

Ritter is also favored by fortune; he first entered the secret realm after reaching rank five, and with one shot soul, he acquired the youngling of the legendary creature [Purple Lightning Heart Ape].

Since then, he has surged forward, unstoppable, advancing to the level 8 peak and becoming a strong candidate for the 25th Heavenly King.

If he successfully advances to a Legendary Beastmaster, he will unlock the third life position.

At this moment, he can begin to consider selecting his own mythical creature. Of course, the vast majority of Legendary Beastmasters will simply choose another legendary creature.

Because mythical creatures are exceedingly rare, and with the lifespan of a Beastmaster, the chance of encountering a youngling is almost zero, let alone mastering it.

But the three life positions are indeed a genius-like innovation.

Wizards have traditionally focused on self-cultivation, primarily studying Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water. The path relying on external objects has indeed seen little exploration.

Yet, in today's era, facing the more severe situations in the Multidimensional Plane, a diverse range of paths and systems are an inevitable choice.

If this fusion succeeds, the School of Spiritualism and School of Insects can undergo transformative development, escaping the ranks of lesser schools.

With Vicken's example before him, Levi, who initially had no intention of peeking into others' reincarnated lives, asked Leon to investigate [Nelarayan].

This individual was not a Legendary Wizard and supposedly incapable of reincarnation and re-cultivation. The final result showed that in this life, Nelarayan was merely a mortal, without any special traits. However, the civilization he left behind has been relatively prosperous and passed down to this day. To some extent, his will lives on eternally.

In the past, Sauron fell, and his fellows scattered. Now, after so many long years have passed, how many traces remain?

Along the way, Levi asked the round table for the names of some fellow companions he still remembered, having Leon investigate them all.

The reincarnation results were not very satisfying. If they did not leave behind a civilization legacy, it means unique paths disappeared in the dust. Who knows if Sauron left any contingency plans?

Sauron intends to use the Multidimensional Plane as his chessboard, with Nora as a chess piece, gathering the former failures and companions together to challenge the established Four Great Giants formed over ancient epochs, leaving a bold stroke.

"If fate allows, one day, the companions will appear in various forms in Nora; this is the only chance."

Levi thought about this as he continued his treasure hunting.

...

Half a year later.

The Gold Seeking Hound stopped, its nose sniffing carefully, not missing any place where rare metal ores might be buried.

Beside him, Jin's expression was tense.

Oh no, could this kid find another good thing again? Over the past half year, under its leadership, Levi has found 165 Truth Oddities!

Not enough! Completely not enough!

Such a small number of oddities don't interest the master at all!

His cold lips don't even show a hint of a smile.

Among the 165 oddities, there are 23 Morning Star-level, 5 Bright Moon-level, and 1 Glorious Sun-Grade. One-third are Sequence Artifacts.

Levi, the Gondor Three Heroes, and Elena cannot use them, but now that the organization's generation of new talents has grown, placing these oddities in the organization's treasury should solve Aya and Link's generation of supernova's urgent needs.

The Sun Refining Artifact is of the Metal Faction's non-Sequence Artifact [Bronze Holy Seat], with very good effects. Currently, Lord Victor is in the Eighth Ring Senior Realm, not far from Eight Ring Perfection. Refining this oddity should allow for advancement.

The Energy Sect places the greatest emphasis on mental cultivation; after reaching level 8, Lord Victor's mental state is very hardy, and there is no need to worry about instability in spiritual force.

Aside from oddities, other accrued finds are mainly rare plants and creatures, yet none have reached the legendary level, hence not worth mentioning.

Actually, Levi is very pleased with these finds, but he cannot show it, so as to motivate Jin's fighting spirit and improve treasure-hunting efficiency.

"Woof, woof, woof!"

The Gold Seeking Hound suddenly barked.

Levi's expression shifted, it should be something good.

He followed the hound down the pit, and along the way came across many light pink earth elemental metal ores, all below level 6. Taking along entire veins, he placed them in the Cave Heaven Blessed Land within the Ancient Banyan Fairyland to continue nurturing these metals.

He wasn't sure how long it took him to reach a place in the underground world, where the narrow and cramped environment suddenly opened up, revealing a startling sight. A tree towering at ninety thousand feet filled the space, barren and silent.

On the ground, there were sheets of light pink rock layers, the hound excitedly circling Levi, this was its discovery.

"This is some type of earth elemental metal above level 6, such a large area, I've hit the jackpot, though I've never seen this metal before, it's a bit strange."

Levi furrowed his brows, guessing that this ore might be caused by the death of a giant tree, its fallen leaves and branches accumulating over the years. This is the most common genesis for elemental metals, similar to coal in the past life.

He approached the base of the giant tree, feeling its rough surface, the air carrying a faint scent reminiscent of cherry blossoms from a previous life. As this thought occurred, he called out to Mana, who was playing mahjong, and asked:

"Is this a divine tree?"

Originally immersed in her hand, Mana started to see the giant tree, her pupils dilating, her eyes murmuring blankly:

Chapter 2828: Earth Mother Qi and Mortal Circle!

"Yes, this is the divine tree... Although I haven't seen it, I suspect it might also be a descendant of the Origin Divine Tree. It could be the remnants of the 'Cherry Blossom Divine Tree'.

"Sakura Ancestor..."

Levi remembered that the Heavenly Will once visited the 'Cherry Blossom Ancestor World'. Could it be that this underground world is formed by the intersection points of fragments from the former Cherry Blossom Ancestor World?

It seems Sakura Ancestor has been dead for countless tens or even hundreds of thousands of years, yet the divine tree body makes its nine-thousand-zhang corpse almost immortal.

Such a magnificent existence turned into a fossil, Levi sighs inexplicably and says, "Let's search around, you might also find something useful." .

"Okay, having been dead for so long, the Divine Tree Power must have already dissipated. But this corpse itself is a ten-level earth element Divine Artifact. Once you incorporate it into your tenth-circle wizard tower, its efficacy will surpass all the Strange Woods you have obtained. It is definitely top-quality among supreme treasures." Mana said.

After speaking, the two began their search in the underground world.

Levi called out the Rainbow Sword Master, "Use your Sword Qi to cut open all the veins within a thousand miles around the giant tree."

Rainbow Sword Master received the order and immediately set to work diligently.

After searching for a long time, Levi did not find anything useful. But Mana suddenly exclaimed:

"Levi, come quickly, there's something here."

When Levi arrived, Mana was confronting a deer-like creature about a zhang high, covered with cherry blossom-like patterns, entirely pink. And on the deer's head, two clusters resembling cherry blossom branches act as antlers, emanating vibrant life force as they exhibit an anomaly of blooming momentarily and the illusion of life and death.

Though the deer is not large, it exudes the aura of a level 8 late stage, it also has some sacred temperament, akin to the Mountain God from primitive religions.

"This... this is the Sakura Beast."

Levi recognized it.

One of the four materials needed for Elena's advancement in the Candle Dragon Bloodline includes the bloodline crystal containing Sakura Beast bloodline. Legend has it this creature loves running to places with the World Tree, and now it seems proven. Moreover, the aura emitted by those cherry blossom branch-like antlers is exactly the same as the dead Cherry Blossom Ancestor Tree.

Levi asked:

"Mana, do you think the Sakura Ancestor might not be dead?"

Mana replied:

"It should be dead, but indeed there is Divine Tree Power in those antlers. I suspect the Sakura Beast might have inadvertently absorbed the Original Root left behind by Sakura Ancestor, transferring this power... Some World Trees use this method for regeneration."

"What do you mean?"

"If this continues, one day the entire body of the Sakura Beast will become woodenized by the Divine Tree Power left by Sakura Ancestor. Then the new Cherry Blossom Divine Tree will burst through its body, using its flesh to reincarnate, accelerating the initial growth of the World Tree; it might start at level 8 or 9, unlike me who must grow slowly."

"Indeed... Mythical legends seem romantic and beautiful; reality is harsh. I thought the Sakura Beast and Cherry Blossom Divine Tree had some harmonious symbiotic relationship. But in the end, it is cruel parasitism and devouring, alas."

"Actually, mythical legends aren't entirely wrong, this Sakura Beast, likely a legendary creature, is probably a tribe created by the Cherry Blossom Divine Tree relying on its 'Creation' power... In other words, without the Cherry Blossom Divine Tree, there would be no Sakura Beast."

"I remember you said that you lack the 'Creation' power now, why don't we rescue this Sakura Beast and absorb the Divine Tree Power from its antlers?"

"Is that alright?"

"Isn't it... alright?"

Mana hesitated, after all, her nature was different from Levi. Although these years she has become quite 'evil' under Levi's subtle influence.

"Old things should give way to the new, instead of reincarnating with this effort, why not let you grow up? Always scattering power, how can it ever contend with the Giant World?!" Levi declared with righteousness, not forgetting to add: "Moreover, such a cute little deer, would you be heartless to let it die?"

Looking into the pure eyes of the Sakura Beast, Mana suddenly felt it made sense.

"Alright, I'll try to communicate with it, what if it doesn't want it."

The Sakura Beast does not speak human language, it is a specialized creature whose birth and reproduction mission might be to one day allow the Cherry Blossom Divine Tree to 'return from the dead' through its body.

While Mana communicated with the Sakura Beast, Levi absorbed all the giant tree along with the foundation, roots, and mineral veins below into the Eternal Star Abyss. After achieving legendary status, the advancement ingredient for Eternal Star Abyss is complete as well.

What a delight!

Truly the Ninth Layer, possessing divine artifacts of priceless value, equivalent to Legendary Artifacts, the profit from this venture is massive.

Thinking of this, Levi kept petting the hound.

"Not bad, not bad, deserving praise."

He could not conceal the smile at the corner of his mouth.

This made Jin feel a sense of crisis. If it can not find something comparable to this ten-level Divine Item, it will fall out of favor...

"Zee zee zee." (Squeaking sound)

Jin climbed onto Levi's shoulder, urging them to hurry, it has just warmed-up, there's still half a year left, enough to defeat the bad dog ahead!

On the other side, after Mana communicated with the Sakura Beast for a long time, Levi waited quietly, as the Sakura Beast has another use, as Elena's bloodline essence.

Thus, Elena simultaneously possesses two secret medicines of the Blood Tribulation Masters, surely enhancing her cultivation speed, reaching level 8 sooner.

"It's settled, let's take the little deer away."

Chapter 2829: Earth Mother Qi and the Mortal Circle!

Mana led the Cherry Blossom Beast to Levi's side.

"Alright, then go in and save it."

Levi was in a good mood. If he could absorb this Divine Tree Power from a level-10 existence, Mana would be at least Level 8 Late Stage, right? The growth speed after that should be able to be on par, reaching Level 9 sooner.

Then it's about smashing the Golden Sacred Realm and letting Mana strive to reach level-10 and stand shoulder to shoulder with Lady Pandora. As for how to reach Level 11, Levi wasn't sure. For the Divine Tree, level-10 is sufficient.

He's not even sure if he can live to see Mana reach Level 11.

...

Time passed day by day.

In the blink of an eye, it was the day the ancient tower concluded again.

Jin's later performance was quite good, and he found 60 Truth Oddities for Levi, though none were Glorious Sun-Grade, naturally not matching the Hound's harvest.

Throughout this journey, Levi was accompanied by Ritter, who continuously imparted knowledge and history from the Beast Taming civilization to prepare for the upcoming journey. He saw Ritter was also close to Level 9, thus asked about the conditions for promotion.

Ritter said if he wanted to advance to a Legendary Beastmaster, he needed to accomplish two things:

First, fully develop the Purple Lightning Heart Ape. He's currently looking for a supplementary ingredient to a Legendary Beast Taming potion called "Nine-leaf Red". With this item, it can refine the potion named "Nara's Heart", which can increase the success rate of the beast's tribulation and accelerate its development.

Second, find a Level 9 medicinal herb called "Unity Grass". It's the main ingredient for refining a potion necessary for promotion, called "Life Wheel Water". This potion can assist in opening the third contract slot.

Unity Grass only emerges in the "Mountain and Sea Secret Realm", while "Nine-leaf Red" is a new material discovered in recent years and currently has limited supply. Due to its ability to capture transcendent creatures, it is strictly controlled by officials.

Thus he can only travel between planes to seek it and then got captured by the ancient tower.

"Is the Nine-leaf Red you mentioned this item?"

Levi took out a stalk of Nine-leaf Blood Datura, a unique fragrance wafting, and the Purple Lightning Heart Ape showed a frantic expression of joy, while Ritter's eyes gleamed:

"Yes, it is indeed this item."

"Take it."

"Master, is this really for me?"

"Yes, do your work well, there's plenty of this thing."

"Thank you, Master!"

Nine-leaf Blood Datura is now produced in Nora widely. On one hand, it's used to allure and capture the Black Beast for purification; on the other, Lady Rowling discovered this herb can refine a potion promoting the development of transcendent creatures, helping the School of Spiritualism flourish.

As long as there's enough interest to drive it, relying on the execution power of the Nora Council, even the rarest plants can be cultivated for you.

On the way, Levi was flipping through the "All Beast Atlas".

"Do you guys have Winter Extreme Snow Ape?"

"Yes, now out of the 24 Heavenly Kings, the second life beast of the Extreme Cold King is the Winter Extreme Snow Ape, his signature Beast Taming creature."

"Is there any giant ape from the Metal Faction?"

"Never heard of it."

Levi initially thought he had already collected the Earth, Fire, Wind, and Water four apes. But once the Purple Lightning Heart Ape arrived, his OCD kicked in, wanting to collect all seven elements.

Moreover, when he exterminated that Level 9 Amethyst Race, Levi learned from its memory about a legendary giant ape called "Hidden Ghost Ape".

"Squeak, squeak, squeak."

As they walked, Jin ran to Levi. They arrived at a scorching desert, where the temperature was abnormally high, space distorting.

"Is the treasure here?"

"Squeak, squeak, squeak."

"Alright, lead the way!"

Crossing the desert, soon appeared a boundless Sea of Fire area, spanning thousands of miles. The edge area was equivalent to a level-6 flame, and the central area, Levi estimated to be level 9 standard.

"Interesting."

He strode in, with the Red Emperor Dragon ruling the realm, impervious to any flames. Not just level 9, even level-10 divine fire couldn't do him harm temporarily.

Reaching the center, an ancient ragged blanket hovered in the void, entirely crimson, with an imposing firebird painted on its surface.

"Is this a Nine-level Treasure?"

What the hell, strolling around could encounter a Nine-level Treasure, and it's unobstructed by any traps — clearly brought in accidentally by the ancient tower.

With a wave of his hand, he grabbed the blanket.

"Divine Fire Blanket, a Nine-level attack oddity, containing a ninth-level divine flame that incinerates everything, forged from Level 9 Flame King Dragon Skin, Fierce Sky Sparrow Feather, Flame Angel's Divine Corpse, Swallowing Star Flame Wolf Fur, and other rare materials...

An excellent oddity, absolutely top-quality, no less than Gandaph's Plow Star. It's a pity, of no use to me, but perfect for the Holy Infant clone, matching the wizard tower. After Eight Ring Perfection, it holds power even against Level 9.

Speaking of which, Gandaph and Holy Infant both have Nine-level oddities, can't favor one over the other. Must find a way to get Lord Victor one as well."

Levi stowed the oddity away, finally with a slight smile.

Jin's little eyes were somewhat discontent.

It always felt there was treasure hidden in this desert beyond that. Something even more valuable, certainly outdoing the Hound!

The Sea of Fire gradually vanished, absorbed by the magic carpet. Suddenly, a fiery red light rushed fiercely in front of Levi.

"Who are you? Why do you trespass in the territory of Fiery Flame Devourer Iros? Bold! Hurry and bring my father out!"

Chapter 2830: Earth Mother Qi and Mortal Circle!

It was a flame monster that looked like a dragon and a bird, with the wings of an angel but the head of a wolf. This was a Fire Element Lord, possessing late Level 8 strength.

"Where is your father?"

"You took him away."

"Seems like you were born from this rare treasure, huh?"

"Yes, but don't change the subject."

Then, Levi released endless majesty, the crimson world descended, and the shadow of the Crimson Emperor Dragon behind him pierced the sky, directly dispersing the mass of fire element.

The scattered sparks recombined into a gigantic shape.

"Don't... don't kill me."

It had grown up here from a young age and, reaching Level 8 Peak, was invincible in the world. Under its ignorance, where had it ever seen such terrifying power!

"Rest assured, I won't kill you. Sign the Elemental Spirit Contract, and I'll take you away from here."

"Alright, I'll sign."

And so, a buy-one-get-one-free deal.

Levi happily gained a new worker. Thinking back on his journey, the Fire Elemental Spirits had played crucial roles. .

Ace, Phoenix, Diya Bo, and now Ilos joined. Truly a family all together, this fire element was not far from Level 9, and Levi planned to find a fire element-rich land to help it advance to Elemental Dominator realm after leaving.

In a certain sense, the elemental spirits scattered across the Multidimensional Plane were also an invisible enormous force, with extremely high upper limits. The strongest should be the Fire Sovereign.

If this one could be pulled into the Nora camp, thus commanding all elemental spirits to assemble, then it would be an army sweeping across the Multidimensional Plane!

"Ilos, you're somewhat familiar with this place. Are there any obvious relics or temples here?" Levi asked.

"Yes, if you continue deeper into the desert, I once saw a temple from afar with terrifying aura. I didn't dare to approach and don't know what's inside."

Upon hearing this, Levi smiled, surely it was the temple left by Sauron. Jin was also excited, knowing there were good things deeper in the desert!

Urged by the little mouse's enthusiasm, Levi transformed into a rainbow and departed.

...

The endless sand, a brown temple towering.

Amidst the light, Levi appeared elegantly.

He gently pushed open the tightly closed temple door, greeted by the withered and decayed smell, followed by a thick stone column striking like an arrow.

With a gentle palm, the stone pillar turned into powder. With another flash, he arrived in front of the culprit, grabbing its throat.

It was a twelve-winged angel in female form, her features utterly beautiful and sacred, her cheeks adorned with two beautiful tear marks. Truly a heavenly Goddess, pitiful in her beauty.

"Who... who exactly are you? I am Angel Leader Mariana under the Holy Mother's command. Your dirty hands desecrate the divine body, do you know your sin?"

She was once a peak Level 9 strong entity, and even some weak gods in the Forest of Myriad Phenomena showed her some respect. Now her power had fallen to Level 9 Middle Stage, but still shouldn't have been caught with a single move by someone of the same level.

This kind of power, too startling and extraordinary!

"Mother of Earth, I just met her not long ago... I like using dirty hands to touch your noble, sacred, untouchable forbidden bodies."

Levi smiled as he twisted her neck.

The angel leader's eyes shed bloody tears, cursing the blasphemer in front of her. The Crimson Emperor Dragon Flames erupted, and soon the angel leader turned to ashes.

Golden light emerged, Levi's eyes showed surprise.

"Golden Legend? Sauron, you're giving me a big surprise, huh... just don't hit me with some nasty 'Golden Finger' trick."

He reached out to catch the golden light, discovering the earthy-yellow aura exuding rich creation life force.

[Earth Mother Qi (Golden Legend)]

[Level: Ten Level]

[Special Effect: Everlasting]

...

[Everlasting:

1. Earth Mother Qi can catalyze the growth of plants and animals, making them more lush and healthy, possessing the ability to seize heaven and earth's creation.

2. Earth Mother Qi can nurture life force and spirituality, thereby bringing new forms of life to barren places.

3. Being near Earth Mother Qi can heal injuries, with non-lethal injuries quickly recovering in a short time.

4. Earth Mother Qi can automatically draw earth elemental power from the vast void, sculpt land, extend the continent's boundaries, and accelerate world growth.

5. Earth Mother Qi is a natural legendary artifact, refining it can grant corresponding Legendary Profession.]

"Is it truly a ten-level divine item?"

Levi's eyes flashed with surprise, his heart filled with excitement.

This trip to the ancient tower actually yielded two divine items!

No need to mention the Sakura Ancestor's remains, whose value rivals that of supreme treasures.

This Earth Mother Qi, even more heaven-defying.

It not only has a multitude of effects related to the growth of all things but is itself a purely natural [Legendary Artifact].

This is Levi's second encounter with such innate artifacts, the previous [Light Candle] should have been artificially refined by Sauron.

The other innate artifact is the [Dusk Spear].

Of course, innate and acquired only distinguish the formation method of artifacts and do not represent the quality and strength of the artifact. If the price paid is high, then an acquired artifact's power naturally won't be weak, like [Light Candle].

"With so many legendary artifacts, how should I choose?"

Levi is unexpectedly a bit troubled.

"Forget it, when the carriage reaches the mountain, there is sure to be a road. I'll decide then. This Earth Mother Qi will not be refined temporarily, placed in the Ancient Banyan Fairyland to accelerate the fairyland's development. Mana, as the World Tree, can also benefit from it. If I eventually decide I don't need this item, I'll just give it to Mana to refine, helping her progress further."
