

Wizard 294

Chapter 294: Shifting Shadows, Killing! (1)

Black Fog Realm.

Currently, most wizards are traveling in the outer regions.

As they went deeper, the fog became thicker and the light became dimmer. Although it was daytime, it was no different from night.

There was a faint rustling sound in the fog. It was unknown if it was a monster hidden in it or the wind.

In a dark forest, Shark Tiger Witch Bane finally met the Undead Ship people who snuck in.

The two wizards met in the dense forest, looking like they were hiding something.

That person revealed an old face full of scars, and his gaze was deep.

If Levi was here, he would have noticed that this person was Green Ghost Carter, whom he had met twice before.

"Where is that d*mned brat?" Green Ghost Carter immediately asked when he saw Bane.

Two times, a full two times!

Green Ghost Carter had actually suffered twice at the hands of a little ghost.

Other wizards might not believe it.

"I haven't found him yet, but don't worry. I've already sent people to guard the entrance. Once that kid appears at the entrance, I'll immediately go over and kill him with lightning speed," said Bane confidently.

"Heh, that brat isn't an easy target," said Green Ghost Carter.

"I know... However, I didn't expect the Gray Tower to only send one person," said Bane.

"Logically speaking, Herman, that old geezer, is about to break through and advance to third-circle. The resources in the Black Fog Realm should be very important to him. Now that he only sent one person, I don't understand what he wants," said Green Ghost Carter.

"Unless this kid has some trump card on him, such as a Wizard Tool that the old geezer gave him," Ben analyzed.

"Forget it, I don't care. Has there been any news from the apprentice guarding the entrance?" Green Ghost Carter asked.

"Not yet. Levi must have gone deep into the Shadow Realm," said Bane.

He had Deli's Spirit Stone in his possession. It was a special tool that could absorb Deli's mental strength. Once Deli died, the Spirit Stone would shatter.

So far, the Spirit Stone was safe and sound. Deli should still be guarding the exit, so Bane was not worried that Levi would escape.

As soon as he entered the realm, he used the Whale Song skill to scan the land within a ten-mile radius. He did not sense Levi's existence at all. He must have gone deeper.

Bane said, "Let's go, let's not waste any more time outside. There's nothing here. Green Ghost Carter, if we meet the wizard from other organizations later, the two of us can attack together. I believe that no one in this Shadow Realm will be a match for us. When your Undead Ship helps our Whale Song Island complete the next part of the plan, it will be easy to kill Herman."

Green Ghost Carter nodded, "No problem. "

Last time, he and Demon Harland were besieged by Herman and another law enforcer of the Star Tower, and they were heavily injured.

In the end, it was the Island Master of Whalesong Island, Morpheus, who saved him and the captain.

All this while, a portion of the loot from the Undead Ship's robbery was handed over to Whalesong Island.

Whale Song Island, the local tyrant, was secretly providing help to the Undead Ship in this sea area.

Island Master Morpheus had a good network in the Star Tower, so they could turn a blind eye to many things.

Otherwise, with how arrogant the Undead Ship was, it would have been destroyed long ago.

Recently, Whale Song Island had participated in the planning stage, which was extremely important to a dark wizard organization like the Undead Ship.

If this matter could succeed, then the dark wizards in this sea area, and even the dark wizard organizations in the entire Endless Sea, could benefit from it.

At that time, they would imitate the Pan- Plane Wizard Council and establish an unfettered "Free Wizard Plane Alliance".

The 'dark wizards' of the Pandimensional Plane had joined forces.

For freedom!

Together, they would resist the tyranny of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council!

As for the Undead Ship, it no longer had to be chased by the Star Tower's law-enforcement officers like a stray dog.

The Undead Ship had already joined hands with Whale Song Island.

It was all for the sake of things to proceed smoothly should they meet more obstacles.

Meanwhile, in the outer area of the Black Fog Realm, Levi found a safe place to check out the spoils of war from Deli and began to count them.

It was a Ghost Shark Staff of medium quality. There were two cantrips on it, [Water Arrow] and [Wave Layering].

Levi put it away. The quality of this wand was about the same as the Viper Wand, and it was worth more than ten Aether Stones.

A mosquito's flesh was still flesh, no matter how small it was. Besides, Levi had never learned the Wave Layering cantrip before. With this wand, it would be equivalent to having another apprentice cantrip's defense.

Basically, the mid-grade wands were all similar. They all had a defensive cantrip and an offensive cantrip on them. The Viper Wand that Levi had obtained previously was the same.

With Levi's current strength, these cantrips were of limited use to him. However, it was better than nothing.

And in Deli's storage pouch, there were less than 30 Aether Stones. Although he was a high-level apprentice wizard, the expenses were too high, and he simply could not save enough high stones.

Compared to a hoarder like Levi, he was just a pauper.

Other than the Aether Stones, the remaining Meditation Art was also a Meditation Art from the Ocean School of Thought, called the 'Stingray

Meditation Art'..
