Chapter 332: High-Level Apprentice Wizard! (2)

Leviathan split open the sea and rushed towards Levi like a speedboat. He pushed his hands forward and used the Solid State Black Scale to protect his body.

Boom!

The shockwave dispersed the nearby sea.

The first-circle transcendent creature that weighed dozens of tons slammed into Levi's palm with terrifying brute force.

Levi was sent flying.

He looked calm in the air. A part of the Leviathan's power flowed through his arms, his chest, and into the hump on his back.

That domineering power kept spinning and swimming in the camel's hump without stopping.

Then, Levi landed gently on the ground. He stepped on the seawater and shot out.

The force in his hump began to flow back.

He pushed out his right palm in an ordinary manner.

It collided with the Dragon King Whale Leviathan that was charging over again.

This round, at the same time, Levi's body was sent flying.

The Dragon King Whale Leviathan's body was also knocked out of the water.

Boom!

Leviathan wobbled on the surface of the water. It did not understand why its master's power had increased so much in such a short time.

Levi threw back his head and laughed.

This camel hump was too useful.

Not to mention the basic function of storing food and fat.

Just the two effects of shock absorption and recoil were enough to be called true supernatural organs.

This hump could absorb a portion of the force, which had the effect of reducing the force. At the same time, this force would circulate in the hump and eventually bounce back with Levi's body.

However, this hump could only absorb a portion of physical attacks and could not have any effect on some spell attacks.

But even so, this was already abnormal enough.

"This Hunchback Dragon Breathing Technique is very powerful. In the future, it can be my main endurance-type breathing technique. When I reach the maximum, I can integrate the Blood Whale into the breakthrough."

His Transcendent Endurance had been stagnant for a long time, and his battle

With official wizards was getting weaker and weaker.

This Hunchback Dragon Breathing Technique was a timely help to him.

It was not difficult to reach the maximum of the Hunchback Dragon Breathing Technique. He would be done in half a year.

He sparred with Leviathan.

He happily returned to Gray Tower.

During this period of time, in order to quickly increase his strength, Levi was very tense when dealing with possible dangers.

He relaxed slightly and went to Marlene's side to help refine the potion and rest.

His Pharmacy was about to reach Level 7.

After Level 7, he would be a true official pharmacist. He only needed to refine a first-circle potion under the notarization of the Pharmacist Association to obtain the official pharmacist status.

Moreover, he could sell his potions through the official legal channels to earn money. After he gradually made a name for himself, earning money was not too difficult for a First-Circle Pharmacist.

Moreover, with the help of the First-Circle Pharmacist's potions, Levi's wizard cultivation would be smoother.

Previously, Levi had even thought about whether he should create another weapon-making inheritance. After all, he had a foundation in Forging. However, after thinking about it, he decided to forget about it for the time being.

He had enough things to do now. Being a pharmacist was sufficient for a support profession.

There was no need for him to make everything himself. If he needed a Wizard Tool, he could just buy it.

Levi was naturally more at ease making potions himself.

The Tower Master was still studying his Alchemy Style. Levi felt that if the Tower Master could really figure it out, with this Alchemy Style, he might be able to become a Scholar of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council. By then, the status of the Gray Tower would definitely rise.

For a faction led by a Scholar, the other factions would think about it before causing trouble. Offending a Scholar was equivalent to offending the Pan-Plane Wizard Council. Was it worth it?

On the Pan-Plane Wizard Council's side, the treatment of scholars was completely different from that of ordinary official wizards. According to the law, the death of the lowest-level [Level 1 Scholar] was for a full ten years. It could be seen how much the Pan-Plane Wizard Council valued the Scholar.

Days passed in such a mundane routine.

Holy Brilliance Calendar Year 1022, Month of Germinal.

A full year had passed since Kane's death.

In the past year, other than the two Star Tower law enforcers who came to question Manla and Dora, no one else had come to the Gray Tower.

From Levi's point of view, he should have escaped the law of long arms. This made him heave a sigh of relief. It seemed that he did not need to escape back to the human world.

Unless it was absolutely necessary, Levi did not want to return to the human world. That would definitely drag down his wizard cultivation.

Moreover, the ticket to return to the human world was really expensive. It was enough to buy a few top-grade first-circle Wizard Tools. A ticket of 2,000 Aether Stones would cost 4,000 Aether Stones. For most ordinary wizards, even official wizards, who could afford this?

Therefore, Senior Sister Winnie told Levi from the beginning not to think about returning to the human world.

"Let's wait a little longer. In half a year, we'll go to the island where Kane is buried to take a look."

In his heart, he still wanted to turn Kane into a living dead and keep him as his trumD card.

A month later, on a dark and windy night, Levi and Emperor Mu held a team-building event on an uninhabited island on the first anniversary of the establishment of the Twilight Knights.

The content of the event was nothing more than exchanging the cultivation experiences and comprehensions of the legendary knights, drinking, and chatting. Both of them had learned a lot..
