

Wizard 346

Chapter 346: Legendary Blood Beast, Wings of Black Gas!(6)

"Come out and let me see what you are."

Levi muttered to himself.

Then, the blood intestine followed Levi's esophagus and kept moving forward until it reached Levi's throat. Blood mist surged and condensed into a blood-colored tentacle-like thing in Levi's mouth.

Then, the tentacle kept extending and drilled out of Levi's mouth. Levi's mouth was wide open. This scene was extremely strange.

A wet blood-colored tentacle stretched out from Levi's mouth and continued to extend...

In the end, the blood-colored tentacle actually extended for a full 20 meters before stopping, like a red thread worm dancing in a stream.

Then, the end of the tentacle slowly turned around and came in front of Levi.

Levi looked at him quietly.

The fissure on the tentacle suddenly opened up, just like the venom. It was filled with dense rows of teeth, which reminded Levi of the mouthpart of some terrifying fish he had seen in his previous life: lamprey...

"Did I give birth to a mutant?" Levi thought.

The tentacle tore through the air like a long whip, emitting crackling sounds. Not far away, a turtle swayed past, and then the tentacle seemed to have found its target.

He suddenly exerted strength and whooshed.

With a flash of blood, the end of the tentacle pierced through the turtle's hard shell and pierced into the turtle's heart, beginning to suck.

In the blink of an eye, only a dried corpse was left of the turtle.

Levi felt that his body, which had been exhausted from overusing the Blood Beast Seed, was beginning to recover some of its strength.

"Hmm? Absorbing blood to recover my strength?"

This reminded him of a famous spell in the Life School of Thought.

"Second-ring spell, Vampire Touch."

This was a spell that imitated the abilities of some Blood Clan. It could absorb the enemy's life force through spell attacks to recover one's injuries and physical strength.

His supernatural organ clearly had such an ability.

"In that case, I'll call this supernatural organ the Vampire Touch."

He felt that the Vampire Touch could not only absorb blood to recover energy.

With a thought, the Vampire Touch quickly retracted into his body and then lay dormant in the Blood Whale's sac.

He raised his palm and ordered the Blood Clan to come out. Then, the blood mist spread out from his palm and condensed into a lamprey mouthpiece filled with sharp teeth. It swayed and twisted in midair.

"It can come out from any part of my body, not just in my mouth. Because the Blood Clan touch is in my body, it can turn into mist at will. After coming out, it will turn into a physical body."

He tested it. As expected, no matter if it was his palm, fingers, stomach, back, or even some strange and tricky corners, the Blood Clan could crawl out.

"Now, let's test the hardness of the Vampire Touch. Although the turtle shell just now was hard, it was just an ordinary object. Next, let's see if it can penetrate the Scorpion-tailed Turtle's defense. If it can, then the Vampire Touch itself is an unexpected and extremely sinister method to deal with the enemy."

At the thought of this, Levi went to the sea further away and found a Scorpion-tailed Turtle. When he saw his target, he waved his hand and the Vampire Touch broke through the air like a long whip.

The Scorpion-tailed Turtle's shell, which could withstand most cantrips, was pierced by the Vampire Touch!

When Levi saw this, a smile appeared on his lips. Blood-colored tentacles twisted around his body, and his aberration-like mouth revealed a strange smile.

"The feeling of becoming stronger is really not bad.."