Chapter 361: Level 9 Black Whale, Whale Back, Whale Mountain! (1)

When Levi and the rest returned to the Gray Tower, hundreds of sea beasts were attacking the barrier outside the protection of the blue sea.

On the ground, there were sea beasts' corpses everywhere. Blood flowed like a river. These sea beasts charged towards the barrier fearlessly.

Most of these sea beasts were controlled by the Sea Clan. The Sea Clan was born with the ability to communicate with sea beasts. They only needed to tarnish the dark and evil wizards before these simple-minded sea beasts. These sea beasts would become their weapons of war.

As for those who were not bewitched, because of the instincts of most sea beasts, they followed and attacked the territory of the wizards.

Many rare sea beasts could be seen in the sea beast tide.

From the looks of it, with the protection of the second-circle array, the Blue Ocean Shelter, and the protection of apprentice wizards, it was not a problem to resist the first wave of sea beast tide.

Not only that, but a total of nine alchemical creatures were also constantly attacking the sea beasts. These were the Alchemical Guards refined by the Tower Master. Basically, they all had the strength of high-level apprentice wizards and used Aether Stones as energy cores.

Levi, Marko, and the others could not help but heave a sigh of relief.

"Marko, you're back. How's the situation over there?" Marlene asked.

"There's a Sea Clan expert and four first-circle sea beasts," Marko said with a serious expression.

"What? The Sea Clan's experts came in the first wave?" Marlene was somewhat surprised.

Logically speaking, these Sea Clans were the last to appear. Now, there were already so many first-circle sea beasts and even Sea Clans in the first wave of warm-up. Marlene suspected that the Star Tower's calculation of the danger level of this sea beast tide was wrong. This wasn't level 3, but might be above level

"But Marlene, don't worry. Two of those first-circle sea beasts escaped and two were killed. The Sea Clan expert was also killed. We still have to thank your disciple," Mr. Tim said.

"Levi..." Marlene muttered.

Levi smiled and said, "It was only with the cooperation of the two teachers that I was able to kill the enemy."

Next, Levi and the two official wizards joined.

The remaining low-level sea beasts from the first wave of the sea beast tide.

Half a day later, they were all cleaned up.

In short, he relied on the protection of the array barrier.

As long as the barrier was not broken, the apprentices could use long-range spells to attack those sea beasts without any scruples. When they were tired, they could change to someone else to take over. They could go back and meditate to recover their spiritual force or drink red and blue mana potions.

Levi had killed dozens of sea beasts by himself. If he released his living dead, killing these sea beasts would be even easier. However, things related to the School of Death were more sensitive in the Gray Tower. Levi did not want to use them. After all, the Undead Ship belonged to the School of Death.

In the end, when the first wave of the sea beast tide retreated, the apprentices panted, and some even fainted from exhaustion due to their spiritual force.

In terms of endurance, these apprentices were far inferior to legendary knights like Levi. Even First-Circle Wizards were not as good as Levi.

Levi looked for some sea beast materials that he could use on the corpses of these sea beasts and collected them. He didn't want the other sea beast flesh and blood and handed them to the tower as a reserve for this period of time.

During the sea beast tide, there was no shortage of sea beast corpses. Levi's Sacred Insects were about to vomit from eating too much. Thousands of Sacred Insects were eating until they were round and unable to move on the ground. Levi was afraid that they would stuff themselves to death.

These insects were completely ruthless eating machines. They basically ate nonstop. Other than sleeping, they ate most of the time.

Although Levi did not deliberately choose to raise the Saint Scorpions, they were much better than when he first took over.

After all, these guys ate the worst sea beast meat and often devoured the flesh and souls of knights and wizards. Compared to the food they ate in the Scorpion Family, they ate much better.

Even high-level apprentice wizards would have a hard time dealing with these

1,000 Sacred Insects. The shells of the new generation of Sacred Armor Scorpions were too hard. Ordinary cantrips couldn't hurt them at all. Besides, they could bite those defensive spell fields, just like the black gas that bit the grand knights. There was almost nothing they couldn't bite.

Levi estimated that if this metamorphosis continued, even if there were more Saint Scorpions, such as tens of thousands of Saint Scorpions, even official wizards would be terrified and flee when they saw them. However, his Insect Controlling Technique was only at level 3, so he could not control so many Saint Scorpions. Therefore, he had been controlling the number of Saint Scorpions and did not dare to breed too many.

After he became an official wizard and learned the “Sacred Insect Touch”, he could officially embark on the path of the School of Insects’ insect control. At that time, a legend about the “Old Demon Insect” might have been born in this sea area.

After the first wave of sea beast tide ended, the wizards and apprentices did not dare to slack off. They hurriedly went out to clean up the battlefield and Cleaned up all the sea beast corpses. At the same time, they dealt with the second wave of sea beast tide that could arrive at any time.

Levi looked at the blue light screen and returned to his home to rest. After fighting for so long, Levi was a little tired and needed a good rest.

"However, the Blue Ocean Shelter is indeed useful. It's a pity that the inheritance of arrays is too rare. There are five official pharmacists in this sea area, but not a single array wizard." Levi sighed..
