

Wizard 362

Chapter 362: Level 9 Black Whale, Whale Back, Whale Mountain! (2)

Arrays were a comprehensive knowledge that integrated many subjects of wizardry. It was also the most difficult knowledge. The resources and time required to learn it were extremely high!

Not to mention this sea area, even in the entire Endless Sea, there might not be many array wizards who were proficient in arrays. Outstanding array wizards were usually nurtured at a special price by some large factions. The array wizards were also firmly controlled by these factions as strategic weapons.

Levi wanted to learn arrays, but even a clever woman could not cook without rice. He did not even have the inheritance knowledge of this array, so how could he learn?

If the array was used well, it would be very useful for him to build his own base on the island or build his own wizard tower.

Levi no longer fantasized about what he did not have. Instead, he took out the corpse of the Sea Clan swordsman from his storage bag.

This Sea Clan swordsman lay paralyzed on the ground like a huge octopus. On each of the eight tentacles of the octopus, there was a sharp bone knife. The bone knife was made from the bones of an unknown sea beast. Although the workmanship was crude and primitive, it was not damaged when it collided with Levi's Luminant gold trident. It even broke Wizard Marko's weapon.

This was Levi's first time meeting the Sea Clan, so he was naturally very curious. He went to the library of the White Tower and found an ancient book that had been covered in dust for a long time, "The Sea Kingdom Records". This book recorded a lot of knowledge about the Sea Clan.

Levi checked the books and found that this octopus man was a warrior of the Sea Clan called the "Eight-legged Sea Demon".

Only the experts of the Sea Clan could be called "warriors". Their strength was basically about the same as a First-Circle Wizard.

Above them were the Sea Clan Generals, the Sea Clan Barons, and so on. The social structure of the Sea Clan was similar to a kingdom in the human world. Small lords and big lords were divided into layers and eventually led by the so-called "Four Emperors of the Sea Clan".

In short, according to the description in the books, the Sea Clan should have been a very powerful race in the past, but they gradually withdrew from the stage of history because of the arrival of wizards. In the Endless Sea, there were four largest Sea Clan groups that occupied the four sea areas in the north, south, east, and west, and established four powerful Sea Clan empires. The rulers of these four empires were called the "Four Emperors of the Sea Clan". What shocked Levi was that the Four Emperors of the Sea Clan actually had the strength of a high-level wizard.

"Is the Sea Clan so strong?"

A high-level wizard was a realm that was extremely far away from Levi. In fact, even a Third-Circle Wizard was far away from Levi, let alone a high-level wizard in the six environments

High Priest of the Sea Clan. The High Priest's status was similar to the pope of the mortal world, and her followers were all the Sea Clans in the Endless Sea. The High Priest of the Sea Clan was the spiritual leader of all the Sea Clans in the Endless Sea. This was because, in this era, only the High Priest of the Sea Clan could receive the oracle of the Supreme Sea God.

"Sea God."

Levi frowned slightly. To be crowned as a "God" by such a powerful Sea Clan, this Sea God should be in the realm of a Ninth-Circle Wizard, which was also the so-called demigod.

However, Levi thought about it. If there was really a Sea God, he should not be worried.

Even if the sky collapsed, there would be a tall person to hold it up. This sea beast tide was the same as before, they would definitely be able to survive it. However, there would definitely be some sacrifices, as long as it was not him or the Gray Tower.

"Atlan Empire."

This was the Sea Clan Empire in charge of the southern region of the Endless

Sea, and the Gray Tower was in the outer ring of the southern sea region. The Atlan Emperor was a supreme expert of the mollusks clan, the Eight-Armed Demon Emperor. It seemed that he was similar to this Sea Clan swordsman. They were both Octopus people, but the Eight-Armed Demon Emperor was of the royal bloodline, while this Sea Clan swordsman was only an ordinary Sea Clan.

"Interesting. There are actually so many races in the Endless Sea." Levi sighed after reading the ancient book.

Then, he searched the body of the Sea Clan swordsman and finally found a storage bag that looked like a conch.

There were many shiny gold coins in this storage bag. It seemed that the Sea Clan also used gold to trade. On these gold coins was engraved an indomitable eight-armed giant that emitted monstrous demonic flames. The giant's head was covered in dense flesh tentacles, and there was a pair of fleshy wings that covered the sky. It must be one of the four sovereigns of the Sea Clan, the Eight-Armed Demon Emperor.

In addition to these gold coins, there were also thousands of Aether Stones. It was possible that this Sea Clan had snatched them from other wizards.

Suddenly, Levi found a portrait in the corner of his storage bag. It was a portrait of a valiant female knight wearing a gorgeous cloak and silver armor. She was holding a greatsword that did not look like a woman's and riding a White unicorn.

"Flower Knight?"

"Why does this Sea Clan have a portrait of the Flower Knight on them?" Levi was puzzled. This was completely unrelated.

Levi had heard of the Flower Knight in the human world. In the Shining

Tavern, there was also the “Hundred Flowers Wine” in the name of the Flower Knight. Levi thought that this legendary knight had died because the Flower Knight’s name seemed to have been passed down for hundreds of years.

But now, it seemed that the Flower Knight might not be dead. Perhaps she came to the Realm of Azure Cloud and became a wizard..
