

Wizard 363

Chapter 363: Level 9 Black Whale, Whale Back, Whale Mountain! (3)

Levi was confused. In fact, Percival's father Vandro had once suffered a great loss under a female legendary knight. This female legendary knight was Flower Knight Elena!

After suffering a loss, Vandro couldn't forget about the Flower Knight, so he drew this portrait based on his memory and placed it in his bedroom to admire it every day.

This silly son of his was determined to avenge his father and take this portrait away. If he met the Flower Knight one day, he would clear the name of the Eight Blades Sect!

After that, he died at Levi's hands.

Originally, with his intelligence, he did not think that there was anyone in the Gray Tower other than the two Second-Circle Wizards who could defeat him.

Soldiers against soldiers, generals against generals. The Second-Circle Wizards would definitely guard against the powerhouses of the second circle on his side and would not dare to make a move rashly. Even if they did make a move, they might not be able to stop him.

However, he happened to bump into Levi, who had just reached the fourth level of the Black Devil Blade and his strength had increased greatly. With the combination of nine times to one and the nine golden swords, he instantly killed Percival.

Knowing that the Flower Knights might also be in the Realm of Azure Cloud, Levi was tempted. He wanted to recruit the Flower Knights into his Twilight Knights if he had the chance. This way, all the old masters' knights would have female knights.

In the following month, the second sea beast tide did not come, which gave the Gray Tower a chance to catch its breath.

Levi also took advantage of this period of time to cultivate crazily. Just like when he faced the Duke of Montenegro, he felt that pressure again. When Levi cultivated crazily, the outside world was already in chaos.

It was just the first wave of the sea beast tide, but in this sea area, two First-Circle Wizard organizations were flattened, and two more islands became ownerless. After the sea beast tide, they would be taken back by the Star Tower for auction.

Under normal circumstances, the Pan-Plane Wizard Council would not activate the investigation procedures for ordinary First-Circle Wizards who died during the sea beast tide. This was because there was no need. Many wizards would die during every sea beast tide, and this was all within the acceptable range of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council.

Although this was very cruel, to a certain extent, the Pan-Plane Wizard Council also treated the sea beast tide as a trial for all the wizards in the Endless Sea.

Survival of the fittest.

This primitive and violent elimination method was also the most effective. A huge organization also needed to be changed regularly. Otherwise, with the strength of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council, it was impossible for the Endless Sea to have the so-called sea beast tide.

But so far, the dozen or so second-circle organizations in this sea area had safely passed the first wave of the sea beast tide. Everyone was nervously waiting for the next wave to arrive.

On Whale Song Island, Morpheus' expression was cold. Just a month ago, the soul jade of their organization, Syrcus, shattered.

He specially sent people to Blacksail Island to take a look and saw that the Blacksail Enforcement Union had already been razed to the ground by an extremely violent force.

There were also traces of various sea beasts crawling on it.

As for Syrcus, he had already disappeared without a trace. It was obvious that he was dead. He had either been devoured by the sea beasts or his corpse had been destroyed.

Although Syrcus was not very strong, he was still an official wizard of Whale Song Island.

At its peak, Whale Song Island had 12 official wizards.

Now, there were only ten left!

They lost one person in the Shadow Realm exploration, and now, they lost another person in the sea beast tide.

Morpheus did not think that the sea beasts had killed Syrcus. After all, Syrcus was a First-Circle Wizard. In such a first wave of sea beast tide, it was enough to protect himself. Morpheus seriously suspected that it was the wizards of other organizations in this sea area who had killed Syrcus.

Among them, the most likely one was the Gray Tower. After all, the legendary knight of the Gray Tower had caused Whale Song Island to suffer a great loss in the Shadow Realm, and he was still at large.

Thinking of this, Morpheus sent a message to Harland. He could not let the legendary knight go during the attack on the Gray Tower. Regardless of whether he did it or not, he just had to kill him.

At the bottom of a dark sea, there was an ancient and strange underwater castle.

The castle was located in a hidden underwater canyon. Its entire body was chiseled from an underwater mountain peak. It stood towering and was very spectacular.

This was "Beech Castle", Baron Deep Sea's mansion. After the mobilization, Baron Deep Sea returned to his castle and sat high on his coral throne.

In front of him was a thin and tall Sea Clan member with eight tentacles. This was the Blade King, Vandro, one of the four generals of Beach Castle. He was a powerhouse of the mollusks clan and the father of Percival.

Baron Deep Sea had a total of four generals under his command. In addition to the mollusk, there was also the crustacean clan's Ghost Claw Butcher, Jin, the mollusk clan's Yellow Flash Bob, and the mollusk clan's Red Devil Parker.

These four generals were all Second-Circle Wizards. Three of them were commanding the Sea Clan and sea beasts to invade the wizard island.

Only Vandro stayed by Baron Deep Sea's side because of his status as a military counselor.

"Vandro, why are you looking for me?" Baron Deep Sea suddenly asked.

"Lord Baron, my good-for-nothing son, Percival, is dead. I want to personally lead a team to avenge him," said Vandro coldly with a gloomy expression.

Not long ago, he had sensed the news of his son's death through the Soul Jade left behind by his son. He did not expect his son to die on the battlefield at the front line so quickly..