

Wizard 416

Chapter 416: Group Breaking Limit! (3)

"You've already advanced to an official wizard. You're no longer an apprentice wizard like before. An official wizard isn't the end of the path of a wizard. On the contrary, this is the starting point. If you don't change your mindset and improve your mental state and perseverance, you'll only be left further behind," Marlene criticized.

She called Levi over this time because she wanted to use Levi to attack Winnie indirectly and let Winnie know the importance of hard work.

Now, looking at Winnie's ashamed expression, she knew that she had almost achieved her goal.

Marlene stopped reprimanding Winnie and said to Levi, "Levi, your current pharmaceutical skills are considered to be very advanced among the first-circle pharmacists. When do you plan to get certified as a registered pharmacist?"

"Teacher, the Pharmacist Association in Area 8 is too far away. In the middle, we have to cross a dangerous sea area in the uninhabited area. I plan to cultivate for a while more before going there," Levi said honestly.

"Okay, don't forget about this. I know you don't like these empty titles, but only after becoming a registered pharmacist can you truly establish yourself in the pharmacist industry. In the future, you can get to know and make more connections with pharmacists," Marlene reminded him and told him about the benefits of becoming a registered pharmacist.

Levi knew about this, but he liked stability, so this matter had dragged on for a long time.

"Oh right, teacher, I just learned a simple zero-circle array some time ago. It can replace the apprentice to complete the watering work of the herb garden, and the effect is better. Do you want to install a mulch for the small garden?" Levi asked.

On the one hand, he wanted to repay Ms. Marlene's kindness. On the other hand, he wanted to use the funds in the tower to refine the array and increase his proficiency in the array. Although the proficiency given by the Cloud Mist array was very low now, it was still progress.

Marlene's eyes lit up when she heard that. She smiled and said, "Not bad, not bad. You can learn anything you want. I didn't expect you to be a magic circle wizard now. The tower master will be happy to know. Go and set it up. When the time comes, the money tower will reimburse you."

Levi nodded and left Marlene's residence happily. He heard that the Tower Master was in seclusion again, so he did not disturb him and returned to his residence on the fourth floor of the White Tower.

In the following period of time, he would set up a magic formation here, so he might not return to Black Fire Island for a few months. With the living dead and bone snakes that he had left behind to guard the Black Fire Island, nothing would happen.

Levi went to the small garden and measured it. He found that he needed to cover all the medicinal fields in the small garden. At least 20 sets of magic circles were needed. He asked Manla to prepare the materials while he prepared lessons, attended classes, and cultivated in the tower.

After Manla had prepared the materials, Levi immediately started to refine the Cloud Mist Array.

Now that he was at level 3, refining the simplest zero-circle array took a lot less time than before. The success rate was also especially high. Basically, he could refine a set in a week.

Although the proficiency points given by a set of arrays were very few now, there were still a few dozen points, which was very impressive. The reason why Levi stopped refining on Black Fire Island was purely because he had no money.

Now that the problem of money was the funds in the tower, Levi had no issue.

It was the year 1032 of the Holy Brilliance Calendar, the Month of Flowing Fire.

A total of twenty-two sets of Cloud Mist array were completed by Levi, and they were all set up in the small garden.

After the magic formation began to operate, the entire small garden area was shrouded in smoke, like a fairyland.

"It's too beautiful," Winnie said in surprise.

"The efficiency of watering with this magic circle is much higher than that of an apprentice's cantrip. The cost is not very high either. The wisdom of the ancient magic circle wizards is indeed unfathomable," Marlene looked at everything with satisfaction and could not help but praise.

Very soon, Marlene had also paid Levi the money he had spent on refining the array. Apart from that, she also gave Levi an additional 1,000 Aether Stones for his hard work.

This was a pleasant surprise for Levi. He happily accepted the Aether Stones and opened the proficiency panel.

"Not bad. I'm getting closer and closer to level 4."

He earned money and gained experience points. It was killing two birds with one stone.

After he was done with the matters in the tower, Levi did not disturb the old man because the tower master was still in seclusion. Just as Levi was about to leave the Gray Tower, Ms. Marlene came looking for him again.

On the third floor of the White Tower, "Levi, in half a year, the Star Tower will be holding the once-in-a-decade Haitian Wizard Festival in our 9th Division. Do you plan to participate?"

"This gathering should be the highest level and largest gathering in the Outer Circle Area. Only official wizards were qualified to participate."

"I plan to bring Winnie to broaden her horizons. If you go, come and gather in the tower. We'll set off together. It is said that there will be many beautiful and smart witches at the festival..." Marlene narrowed her eyes and smiled.

"Haitian Wizard Festival?" Levi said softly.

"That's right. It's a rare opportunity. In such a grand event, you can see many wizards from other regions of the Outer Ring. Even some Intermediate Wizards might come to participate. Wizards from all factions and professions will gather together to exchange their insights, sit down and discuss, compete in magic, and learn from each other. It will be a wonderful and unforgettable encounter..." Marlene said..
