

Wizard 418

Chapter 418: Group Breaking Limit! (5)

Levi did not expect such a good thing to happen. It made sense. As an official wizard, he was also an influential figure in this sea area. Being able to open a shop in this small market benefited him. The market manager would definitely be happy. After all, with the influence of an official wizard, he would definitely be able to bring more influence to the market and attract more people.

"Thank you, sir," Levi took advantage of the fact that there was no one around and quietly gave 50 Aether Stones to Elimon. Then, he said telepathically, "I'll have to trouble you to take care of me in the future."

"We're all the masters of the Blacksail Wizard Market," Elimon said happily as he happily put away the 50 Aether stones.

Levi knew very well that in the future, he would have to deal with the Blacksail Enforcement Union. He could also see that Elimon was a person who was good at doing things. If he had a good relationship with him, he would be able to avoid a lot of trouble in the future.

In the end, Levi found a small room near the White Sail Store. After tidying it up, a simple small shop was formed. The small room was not big, but it was used to sell potions. Later, the pharmacist who forged the medicine was arrested and imprisoned, and the shop was closed down.

Levi wrote the name of the store on the sign outside the house:

"Warhammer Joint."

"Business scope: Arrays, Alchemy."

Unlike potions, arrays and alchemy did not need to be registered with the association. After all, even if these two were fake, they would not harm people. At most, they would be useless.

When Levi became a registered pharmacist in the future, he would add potions as well.

On such an ordinary afternoon, Levi's first small shop in the Wizard World opened smoothly.

As it had just opened, the shop was empty, so there were not many customers.

Levi returned to Black Fire Island and spent a month refining two sets of [Cloud Mist] and two sets of [Spider Web Alert]. He also refined an alchemical creature, the Swordsman Mantis.

Among them, the cost of the Cloud Mist array was 100 Aether Stones, while the cost of the Spider Web Defense was 150 Aether Stones. The cost of the Swordsman Mantis was the highest, at 200 Aether Stones each. Therefore, Levi only made one to see how the market reacted. It would be a waste if he made too many and could not sell them. The cost of this batch of goods was 700 Aether Stones, which made Levi's reserve of Aether Stones even more stretched. If he could not sell them this time, he would suffer a huge loss.

Levi placed all the arrays on the shelf. He planned to buy a set of Cloud Mist array for 299 Aether stones, Spider Web Defense for 399 Aether stones, and Swordsman Mantis for 499 Aether stones.

Because there were no merchants selling these things in the Blacksail Wizard Market, Levi did not know the market price. He blindly marked the price based on the time cost and material cost.

Just like that, Levi's first batch of goods was put on the shelves.

On the first day, there were very few customers. Basically, no one came. Levi did not hold any grand opening ceremony or anything, but just quietly opened the shop for business.

Levi was not in a hurry. While waiting for customers, he would stay in his shop and cultivate, not wasting any time.

The next day, the president of the Blacksail Enforcement Union, Elimon, came to Levi's shop after learning that he was open for business.

"Mr. Levi, I heard that your shop has opened. Why didn't you tell me? I would have sent someone to congratulate you on your opening ceremony," Elimon smiled with his old eyes, looking like an old fox.

"I didn't expect Sir Elimon to visit my store despite his busy schedule. Come in and have a seat," Levi smiled.

After entering, Elimon looked at the array on the shelf and could not help but be shocked.

"Sir, you are actually an array wizard?" asked Elimon.

"I know a little. I can only make some simple zero-circle arrays," Levi said.

Then, Elimon looked at the Cloud Mist array and said, "How is the effect of this formation? Can it replace the Flower Fairy's Dew?"

Originally, Elimon had wanted to get close to Levi and build a relationship with him, but he did not expect to encounter something he was interested in here.

"Of course, there's no problem. Our Grey Tower uses such an array," Levi said.

Elimon looked at the other set of arrays and found that it was also what he needed. He chuckled and said, "Since it's your first time opening a shop, I have to support you. How about this, give me both of these arrays."

"You're welcome. Thank you for your support." Levi did not expect that this smart guy would actually be willing to spend money to buy it.

In the end, Elimon spent 600 Aether stones and left with the array while humming a song.

With the "friendly support" of Elimon, Levi had earned the first bucket of gold from the store, earning a net profit of 350 Aether Stones. This kind of profit rate was not bad.

Over the next few days, more people came to Levi's store. To Levi's surprise, after a week, the first batch of goods was sold out, earning him a net profit of 1000 Aether Stones.

Later, Levi found out that it was Elimon who had introduced some customers to him.

Elimon was very smart, which made Levi feel that the 50 Aether Stones he had spent at the beginning were not wasted..