Chapter 420: Legendary Giant, Each Wisp of Breath Turns into an Arrow! (2)

As for the alchemical creature, the Swordsman Mantis, because of its high price, which was comparable to a cheap first-circle Wizard Tool, the number of people who bought it was not as many as Levi had expected. So far, only two were sold.

Levi felt that the purchasing power of the wizard in this sea area was too low. Even official wizards might not have enough spare money to buy alchemical creatures. Even though an alchemical creature like the Swordsman Mantis was really useful, whether it was guarding the house or being his guard, it was definitely not inferior to a top-notch grand knight.

"No matter what, I still made some money. In the future, when I have free time, I'll occasionally make some and slowly sell them."

This was his first time doing business in the Wizard World, and Levi felt that it was a success. At least he did not fail, and he still made a profit.

Overall, the environment for starting a business in the Wizard World was much better than in Levi's previous life.

Days passed, and Levi's life was peaceful. The Black Fire Island was also safe and sound, and he did not encounter any dark wizards. In general, most wizards were law-abiding and well-behaved. There were not as many villains in this world as there were in the online novels of his previous life.

Tranquility and peace were the main themes during this period of time.

During the Month of the Northern Wind, there were only two months left before the gathering.

In the Black Fire Cave, Levi came out from his state of cultivating the breathing technique. His eyes shone brightly, and his body was covered in frost armor. It was as if he had turned into an ice sculpture, causing the originally hot cave to become a little colder.

Levi opened his mouth, and cold air gushed out from his mouth. It turned into a foot-long ice arrow and shot out like a bullet. In the blink of an eye, it had already pierced through a stone wall in front of him.

"Breath into an Arrow. Such power is comparable to the First-Ring Spell of the School of Ice, Ice Arrow," Levi felt the power of the ice arrow and was in a good mood.

Before he set off for Area 8, he had also trained another breathing technique to the peak of level 11, which was Levi's Giant Breathing Technique.

The spell-like ability just now came from the legendary organ of the Giant Breathing Technique.

The legendary organ of this breathing technique overlapped with the position of Levi's Black Whale Breathing Technique. They were both lungs.

Right now, it was as if there was a piece of ice that would not melt for thousands of years in Levi's lungs. It was also like two gates leading to the icy hell. The cold air spread in Levi's chest, forming a sharp contrast with the hot air beside his heart.

Through this frosty lung, Levi could shoot out indestructible ice arrows from his mouth like some ice-type extraordinary creatures, enough to pierce through steel and shatter ordinary first-circle magic defensive force fields.

"Now, my lungs can be called [Chilling Whale's Lungs]. It can store a large amount of air like the sea beasts, and it can also exhale cold air like the Frost Giants."

Levi was very satisfied with the legendary organs of the Giant Breathing Technique. The ability to spit out ice arrows was simply a lethal weapon. Who would have thought that a wizard could spit out ice arrows?

After all, Levi's ice arrows did not need to be cast or chanted like the wizards from the School of Ice. If he were to ambush the enemy, the enemy would most likely be hit.

Of course, with the current chill in Levi's lungs, he would need to rest for a long time after breathing out a breath of cold air. Similar to the Red Lotus Breath from the Furnace Heart, the cooldown time was relatively long. It was suitable to be used as a trump card and not as a regular attack method.

The Giant Breathing Technique was the same as the Black Snake Breathing Technique. They were both breathing techniques at the peak of level 9, but Levi had used the proficiency panel to strengthen them again and again until now.

Levi-

[Giant Breathing Technique: Rank 11 (Maximum), Special Effect: Frost Arm

(Solid State), Frost Blood. I

Other than the legendary organs, the Giant Breathing Technique had a second special effect after reaching the peak of level 11. This was also a pleasant surprise.

[Frost Blood: In the Jotunheim Plane known as the Giant Kingdom, there lived a group of Frost Giants known as the Frost Remnants. They were born powerful and possessed endless strength. They controlled frost and had bone-chilling Frost Blood flowing in their bodies. The owner of this Frost Blood comes from the ancestor who wielded the Frost Battle Axe and attacked the gods of the astral world. Now that the ancestor has fallen, his bloodline will not be severed. A trace of the power of Frost Blood has awakened in your body. Your affinity with the Frost Element is extraordinary. This special effect cannot be leveled up, but it can be slightly improved as the concentration of Frost Blood in your body increases.]

"Hmm? This time, the interface introduced a little too much," Levi could not help but complain.

The Frost Blood's ability was similar to the Four Elemental Affinity, giving Levi a passive halo. The effect of the halo was to increase the speed at which Levi could cast ice spells or meditation techniques.

However, Levi did not have any ice spells or meditation techniques on hand, so he did not know how effective it would be.

"Interesting. If I activate more abilities similar to the Frost Blood, will I become omnipotent? No matter what faction I belong to, I'll always be a little genius."

Levi removed the frost power from his body. He was now preparing to set off for Area 8 to get certified as a registered pharmacist. Before he left, he had also used a breathing technique, which made him more confident this time.

"The only one who hasn't reached the limit of the Strength Breathing Technique is Ostrich Mountain," Levi sighed in his heart..
