

Wizard 428

Chapter 428: Three Calamities, Pandora Matriarch, Civilization War! (5)

Looking at them, Levi could not help but think of how he was when he first entered the Wizard World. Time passed, and he was no longer a mortal rookie who had just arrived. He could barely be called a fledgling wizard.

"Not bad. This time, we found another potential wizard with fire and water double affinity. Lord Claur will surely be very happy." An official Wizard glanced at the unfamiliar Wizard Levi who had just boarded the ship, then retracted his gaze and said with a smile.

"That's right, with double affinity, if nothing goes wrong, he can become a second-circle wizard smoothly, and it may even be possible for him to become a third-circle wizard," Another official wizard said.

When Levi heard them talking about the young potential wizard with water and fire double affinity, he couldn't help but think of Jagri from Whale Song Island. He wondered if that kid had died during the disaster on Whale Song Island.

Ever since that incident, Whale Song Island had closed itself off from the outside world and kept a low profile. It no longer caused any trouble or contacted the outside world. Therefore, Levi knew very little about the situation on Whale Song Island.

On this ship, the potential wizard with double affinity was a silver-haired girl named Sheely. Like Levi, she was also from the Emerald Kingdom. To a certain extent, they were from the same hometown. Sheely looked like she was only in her teens. Her eyes fluttered nervously, and she looked out of place among the official wizards.

Levi closed his eyes and sank into his thoughts. He did not care about these things that had nothing to do with him and was simply waiting for the ship to dock.

"Sir, you don't look familiar. You're not from Hot Wind Harbor, are you?" An official wizard suddenly came to Levi's side and said with a smile.

Levi opened his eyes. This official wizard's spiritual force fluctuations were similar to his, which was at the standard level of an ordinary first-circle wizard.

"That's right. I'm here to get certified as a pharmacist," Levi said. There was nothing to hide.

"I see. I was wondering why you looked so unfamiliar. So you're a pharmacist from afar," The first-circle wizard said enthusiastically when he heard that

Levi was a pharmacist. "My name is Doug, a first-circle wizard from Hot Wind Harbor. I'm also a first-circle weapon craftsman."

Levi glanced at Doge. This was the first time he had met a weapon craftsman. He had heard that Hot Wind Harbor was similar to the Black Fire Island in the sense that it had many areas of underground fire.

The underground fire was suitable for making medicine and refining weapons, so many pharmacists and weapon craftsmen from the nearby districts gathered here. This was also why Hot Wind Harbor rose rapidly in the past two hundred years and formed a powerful third-circle wizard alliance.

After Levi left Area 9, he realized that even in the Outer Circle region, Area 9 was still relatively backward. Whether in terms of high-end combat power or low-end combat power, they were inferior.

Since Doug had nothing to do, he chatted with Levi on the ship. He even invited him to become Claur's subordinate, saying that an organization like the Gray Tower had no future.

Levi was quite speechless. He declined Doug's invitation. Fortunately, the latter did not get angry about it. In fact, most wizards had good tempers. In this world, it was easier to survive if one was more amicable.

After chatting with Doug for a while, they became a little more familiar with each other. After arriving at the port, Doug enthusiastically told Levi the location of the Pharmacist Association before leaving with the apprentices.

Levi stood still and looked at the seaside port city. Here, mortals and wizards lived together, similar to the Yellow Earth Continent. On higher grounds were two tall wizard towers. One was charred black and carved with fire patterns, like a volcano that was about to erupt. It was the wizard tower of Master of Flames Claur, Tower of Flames.

The other tower opposite the black tower was a white steeple covered in all kinds of vines. The green steeple was hidden in the mountains. This was Levi's destination, the Lush Forest Tower.

"I hope everything goes well." With his previous experience of being certified as a pharmacist by Ms. Marlene, Levi maintained his vigilance as he quickly headed toward the Lush Forest Tower.

Lush Forest Tower.

Levi arrived travel-worn. He looked at the two guards outside the tower and could not help but stop.

The two guards were tall. One had four furry, white-haired arms and held a mithril greatsword. The other had the upper body of a human and the lower body of a giant snake. His tail coiled on the ground.

Levi almost thought that he had come to the cave of the snake demon in the Calabash Brothers.

"Bloodline modification wizards... Isn't this too ugly? They're not even as good-looking as me." Levi refuted in his heart.

Judging from the other party's spiritual force fluctuations, it seemed that these two guards were first-circle wizards from the Life School of Thought. To think they were only guards here... It was evident how powerful the Lush Forest Witch was.

"What brings you here, sir?" The bloodline modification wizard with the human face and snake body asked coldly when he saw Levi.

"I'm Levi, an official wizard of Area 9's Gray Tower," Levi quickly said. "I'm here to register for the pharmacist certification. Please inform the president." After saying that, he took out 20 Aether Stones and gave them 10 each.

The two guards looked at each other, and then discreetly accepted the Aether Stones.

"Follow me," The wizard with the human face and snake body said.

Levi quickly thanked him and followed.

"Bloodline modification wizards are even less human than me. To think they changed their legs..." Levi thought to himself.

Not long after, he arrived inside the Lush Forest Tower..
