

Wizard 429

Chapter 429: Three Calamities, Pandora Matriarch, Civilization War! (6)

The moment Levi entered the Lush Green Tower, he felt as if he had entered a botanical garden. There were all kinds of colorful plants, flowers, birds, fish, and insects.

The apprentice wizards bustled about. Occasionally, strange creatures in transparent cubicles could be seen, either sleeping, roaring, or hitting the glass.

Levi even saw a three-meter-tall humanoid creature with a dog's head and long hair, wearing a mini skirt. When it saw Levi, it called out with a hoarse and strange smiling voice, "Big brother..."

"F*ck."

Levi was shocked and speechless. He looked straight ahead and followed the snake-bodied wizard to the top floor of the Lush Forest Tower in an elevator made of vines. From there, one could overlook the entire Hot Wind Harbor.

On the top floor, a tall and slender green-robed witch, who seemed to be at least two meters tall, with exquisite curves and an otherworldly aura, was standing by the window and looking into the distance.

"Lord Witch, this is Mr. Levi from the Gray Tower. He wants to be certified as a registered pharmacist." The snake-bodied person left after saying that.

"Greetings, Lord Witch," Levi said nervously.

In front of an unfamiliar third-circle wizard, he was naturally extremely nervous. Just the spiritual fluctuations that the other party unconsciously emitted made him feel as if he was in the middle of a boundless wave.

However, Levi did not expect that the Lush Forest Witch was not a human, but a genuine elf!

The sharp ears, tall figure, beautiful face, and green hair that cascaded behind her like willow leaves proved that she was a green elf of the elf race. Although Levi had never seen green elves before, he was very familiar with the potion named after their race.

He had been making the potion since he was an apprentice, and he was still using it as a wizard.

The potion was called the Green Elf's Tears and had the effect of increasing the upper limit of one's spell power.

It was one of the three basic potions for wizards. The other two were the Blood Elf's Wail and the Smurf's Leap.

Of course, the Green Elf's Tears was a general name for this series of potions. It included the low-level apprentice version and the first-circle wizard version. Levi simply referred to them as green potions.

Since elves were a long-lived species like the Blood Clan, Levi was not sure how long this young, beautiful, and tall witch had lived. It was possible that even the first Tower Master Salman had to call her grandma...

"I've already heard about your situation from little Marlene. Wait for three days in Hot Wind Harbor. The other two first-circle pharmacists who are participating in the certification haven't arrived yet. When they've arrived, the certification assessment will be commenced," The Lush Forest Witch said calmly. Her gaze was deep, and Levi could see the traces of time.

"Yes, Lord Lola."

Levi nodded and left the Lush Forest Tower, planning to find a place to stay for three days.

After leaving, he found a small hotel and settled down, finally heaving a sigh of relief.

The other party was a true expert, and the pressure she gave Levi was not small.

The Lush Forest Witch should be much stronger than the Tower Master, who had just become a third-circle wizard. Of course, it was also possible that the Tower Master's appearance was too comical, which weakened his prestige and pressure as a third-circle wizard.

Other than the fact that it was extremely difficult for the elves to reproduce and that their numbers were extremely scarce, they far surpassed humans in other aspects.

Their longevity was three times that of humans, so even if they had Children of Chaos talent, they could rely on time to accumulate and basically all of them could become official wizards. The most infuriating thing was that elves were often more talented than humans, and there were quite a few who had triple or double affinities. The blue elves even steadily produced a “Child of the Elements” who had water element affinity every 100 years. The same was true for the other two races.

According to the wizards’ General Education course about elves’ history, elves were not the natives of the wizard world. They were similar to the Blood Clan such that they were visitors when a Multidimensional Plane intersected with this world’s celestial sphere a long time ago.

Their hometown was called the Pandora Plane. It was a water world similar to the Endless Sea. There were three major races, the blue elves, the green elves, and the blood elves. These three major races believed in a common existence called the Pandora Matriarch, which was a towering tree that looked like the World Tree. According to the elves, it was the fruit of the Pandora Tree that bred the first elf sages, who then created the prosperous Pandora Empire.

When the Pandora Empire was at its peak, it was not inferior to the early wizard civilization. Although they were few in number, they were all elites and had their own spell-casting system. Being arrogant and conceited, they tried to invade the wizard civilization. This caused a large-scale war between the wizards and elves. The war was called the Elf-Wizard War.

In the end, the wizards won the war, Even the Pandora Tree was cut in half by Sauron, the first Legendary Wizard of the wizard civilization. If not for Sauron’s kindness and his reluctance to sever the inheritance of the elven civilization, the elven civilization might have been uprooted.

Later, after Sauron established the Pan-Plane Wizard Council, he returned the Pandora Tree to the elven civilization and solidified a legendary spell he created on the Pandora Tree: the Pandora’s Eternal Covenant!

This cut off the elven civilization's path to reaching the legendary level and made it a subsidiary civilization of the wizard civilization from the roots. The two civilizations thus became allies and stopped invading each other.

At this point, the large-scale civilization war ended with the complete victory of the wizard civilization.

This was the first large-scale war victory that the wizard civilization had achieved since it emerged.

At the same time, the other planes also learned about the terrifying wizards.

"Sauron, the Knight of Wisdom among the Seven Knights of the Sky, the ancestor of the wizards!" The first time Levi had heard of this person was in the Church's legends of the Seven Knights of the Sky.

The ancestor of wizards, Sauron, was demonized by the Church of Holy Light.

He had many titles, such as the first Legendary Wizard, the founder of the Pan-Plane Wizard Council, the eternal Grand Council Chairman, and many more.

Even a low-level weakling like Levi knew a lot about him.

It was a pity that Sauron left the council later. No one knew where he went. It was possible that he was wandering in other Multidimensional Planes. Some even said that he might have entered the astral world and become a... God..